NEWS RELEASE

ZIM to add a second Asia-Pacific North West string

2/22/2017

ZIM is pleased to announce that starting April 2017 (subject to FMC approval) an additional Asia-PNW service will join the ZIM's Asia - Pacific North West service, which was previously announced. The new service will be named Zim Pacific North (ZPN).

The new ZPN rotation:

Hong Kong – Yantian – Kaohsiung – Shanghai - Pusan – Tacoma - Vancouver – Pusan – Kwangyang – Kaohsiung - Hong Kong

The new service is widening ZIM's ports scope on the PNW trade, offering smooth gateways to US and Canada inland destinations and direct calls in Kaohsiung, KwangYang & Tacoma; ZPN is planned to call Shanghai Waigaoqiao terminal, and will offer fast transit time and additional advantages for customers, as part of ZIM's ongoing focus on better products and customer service.

As mentioned above, ZPN service is joining the Asia – Pacific North West service that was announced last month, fully operated by ZIM vessels, with the following Rotation:

Port Kelang - Cai Mep - Da Chan Bay – Yantian – Xiamen - Ningbo – Shanghai – Pusan – Vancouver – Pusan – Qingdao – Shanghai – Ningbo - Da Chan Bay - Port Kelang
