OneMain Releases 2020 National Town Hall, Underscoring Commitment To Serving Communities During COVID-19

NEW YORK– Feb. 1, 2021– OneMain Financial, the country's largest installment lender to hardworking Americans with nonprime credit, today unveiled the company's first-ever National Town Hall, a video created to help Americans across the country improve their financial well-being and deal with the economic challenges caused by COVID-19. The Town Hall features OneMain Chairman and CEO Doug Shulman and several of the company's corporate philanthropy partners: Erica Greeley of Feeding America, Dr. Judy Monroe of the CDC Foundation, Maurice Jones of Local Initiatives Support Corporation (LISC) and Retired Marine Lieutenant Colonel Kevin Schmiegel of Operation Gratitude.

OneMain has taken a number of steps to help customers and communities during the pandemic, including hosting 16 live virtual town halls around the country with elected officials and community support groups to provide valuable resources and promote financial empowerment for individuals and families. Additionally, OneMain donated more than $1 million to nonprofit organizations in support of pandemic relief efforts.

"Helping our customers and communities during difficult times has always been one of OneMain's highest priorities," said Shulman. "I want to thank our partners for coming together to help individuals navigate the many challenges caused by the pandemic. We will continue to advance our philanthropy and community investment initiatives in 2021 to support hardworking Americans in dealing with these challenges."
