2026 Q3 Investor Presentation

November 2026

Disclaimer

This presentation has been prepared solely for general informational purposes by Peoples Financial Services Corp. (the "Company," the "holding company," "we" or "our"), a bank holding company and owner of Peoples Security Bank and Trust Company (the "Bank"), a Pennsylvania state-chartered bank. No representation or warranty as to the accuracy, completeness, or fairness of such information is being made by the Company or any other person, and neither the Company, any of its affiliates nor any other person shall have any liability for any information contained herein or for any omissions from this presentation or any other written or oral information or communications transmitted or made available by the Company or its affiliates or any other person. This presentation may contain statistics and other data that in some cases have been obtained or compiled from information made available by third-party service providers. The Company makes no representation or warranty, express or implied, with respect to the accuracy, reasonableness or completeness of such information. Certain of the information contained herein may be derived from information provided by industry sources. The Company believes that such information is accurate and that the sources from which it has been obtained are reliable. The Company cannot guarantee the accuracy of such information, however, and has not independently verified such information. The Company is not making any implied or express representation or warranty as to the accuracy or completeness of such information or of the information summarized herein. The Company expressly disclaims any and all liability which may be based on such information, errors therein or omissions therefrom. In addition to financial measures presented in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP"), this presentation contains certain non-GAAP financial measures, including, without limitation, tangible common equity ("TCE"), tangible assets ("TA"), tangible book value per share ("TBVPS"), and return on average tangible common equity ("ROATCE"). These non-GAAP financial measures are not intended to be considered in isolation and should be considered only as supplemental to, and not as a substitute for or superior to, financial measures prepared in accordance with GAAP. See pages 24 and 25 for a reconciliation of non-GAAP measures.

Forward-Looking Statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, which are subject to risks and uncertainties. These statements are based on assumptions and may describe future plans, strategies and expectations of the Company and its subsidiaries that are subject to significant risks and uncertainties and are subject to change based on various factors (some of which are beyond our control). These forward-looking statements are generally identified by use of the words "believe," "expect," "intend," "anticipate," "estimate," "project" or similar expressions. All statements in this presentation, other than statements of historical facts, are forward-looking statements.

Our ability to predict results or the actual effect of future plans or strategies is inherently uncertain. Important factors that could cause our actual results to differ materially from those in the forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to: changes in interest rates, including their effect on our investment values; impairment charges relating to our investment portfolio; credit risks in connection with our lending activities; our exposure to commercial and industrial, construction, commercial real estate, and equipment finance loans; our ability to maintain an adequate allowance for credit losses; access to liquidity; the strength of our customer deposit levels; unrealized losses; reliance on our subsidiaries; accounting procedures, policies and requirements; changes in the value of goodwill; our ability to attract and retain key personnel; the strength of our disclosure controls and procedures and internal controls over financial reporting; potential for errors, omissions or fraud; environmental liabilities; reliance on third-party vendors and service providers; our ability to compete effectively in our industry and within our market area, including with respect to competition from financial technology companies and non-bank entities; the development and use of artificial intelligence ("AI") in business processes, services, and products, including emerging external focus among regulators and other officials related to risks in connection with the development and use of AI; our ability to prevent, detect and respond to cybersecurity threats and incidents; a failure of information technology, whether due to a breach, cybersecurity incident, or ability to keep pace with growth and developments; our ability to comply with privacy and data protection requirements; changes in U.S. or regional economic conditions; the soundness of other financial institutions; changes in laws and regulations; geopolitical instability, including wars and other conflicts; fiscal and monetary policies of the federal government and its agencies; a failure to meet minimum capital requirements; our ability to realize the anticipated benefits of future acquisitions or a change in control; and our ability to pay dividends. Additional factors that may affect our results are discussed in reports we file with the Securities and Exchange Commission from time to time.

These risks and uncertainties should be considered in evaluating forward-looking statements and undue reliance should not be placed on such statements. Except as required by applicable law or regulation, we do not undertake, and specifically disclaim any obligation, to release publicly the result of any revisions that may be made to any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of the statements or to reflect the occurrence of anticipated or unanticipated events.
