ZIM's Sustainability Report has been published

5/30/2019

The report covers the full spectrum of ZIM's sustainability and Corporate Governance achievements, in line with the company's vision and values

ZIM President & CEO, Eli Glickman: "ZIM has made it a top priority to strengthen its enduring commitment to the highest standards of sustainability and business ethics across all aspects of operation. ZIM will continue to be a frontrunner of sustainability."

ZIM published today its first Annual Sustainability Report for 2018, a comprehensive document with a detailed account of the company's ongoing sustainability activities and achievements.

The sustainability report is published for the benefit of partners, customers and the public, covering ZIM's ongoing efforts relating to Corporate Governance and Business Ethics, including Anti-Trust and Anti Bribery, as well as Corporate Social responsibility. Special attention is devoted to steps aimed at minimizing the carbon footprint of the organization through reduced emissions, both at sea and ashore, making ZIM a truly green company.

ZIM President & CEO, Eli Glickman: "Over recent years we have implemented new modes of operation, work procedures, training and guidelines to enhance sustainability and to uphold our Code of Ethics. ZIM has made it a top priority to strengthen its enduring commitment to the highest standards across all aspects of operation. ZIM will continue to be a front-runner of sustainability."
