Vontier's Full Portfolio on Display at Upcoming NACS Show with Cutting Edge Mobility Innovations

2024-10-04

Vontier's industry giants Gilbarco Veeder-Root, Invenco by GVR and DRB will showcase latest tech and original research at the show

RALEIGH, N.C.--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Vontier Corporation (NYSE: VNT), a leading global provider of critical technologies and solutions to connect, manage and scale the mobility ecosystem, today shares a preview of the cutting-edge innovations it plans to showcase at the National Association of Convenience Stores (NACS) Conference October 7 – 10, 2024 in Las Vegas, Nevada. These innovations are helping global convenience store owners and operators solve their high-value challenges such as improving store traffic, productivity and customer experiences, and reducing operating expenses and complexity. Visit booth C6625 to learn more about the companies and four key presenting themes:

- Unified Payment : announcing and demonstrating the latest in Invenco by GVR's FlexPay® 6 payment terminals and their plug-and-play ability to be compatible with any dispenser, integrations with new technologies and car wash systems, single payment certifications and more
- Remote Management and Connectivity : cloud-based solutions that seamlessly integrate multiple devices into one unified platform, and use IoT and APIs for revolutionary over-air asset management
- Productivity: meeting customers where they are, enabling ordering at the pump, drive-thru, self-service, mobile ordering and more. Similarly, Invenco by GVR's Passport system can be deployed onto any competitive hardware, enabling productivity by providing greater uptime via over-air quick updates and immediate failover
- Energy Diversification: Gilbarco Veeder-Root's Konect™ is the ultimate turnkey EV charging solution. Konect enables seamless integration with existing fueling, payment, and service offerings. Konect is an EV Charging Ecosystem that makes it easy for drivers to stay mobile and effortless for charge point operators (CPOs) to focus on their core operations

Engaging Speakers and Sources

Throughout the show, the companies will be hosting an in-booth speaker series and formal and informal meetings. The in-booth speaker series will feature the following compelling topics, each followed by Q&A:

- Mobility Ecosystem 4.0
- Media: Maximizing Your Value with Retail Media
- Feast and Fortune: Convenience and Profit are the New Ingredients in Foodservice
- Payment: Uncovering the Hidden Costs: Managing the Growing Burden of Compliance
- EV: Futureproofing your forecourt - How to Lead with EV (featuring newly released data)
- Unlocking the Value of Remote Management

Original Data and Research

Vontier will also be releasing findings from its original research survey focused on customer loyalty and feedback within the convenience space. The research will reveal how customer feedback is collected, synthesized and addressed and the impact of these systems on business.

Gilbarco Veeder-Root will also announce original findings by their Konect turnkey EV charging solution, relating to futureproofing the forecourt and ensuring operators can meet customer needs.
