BNP Paribas' Securities Services Business Adopts Broadridge's Global Class Action Solution to Maximize its Clients' Global Asset Recovery Opportunities

2025-02-19

Broadridge's solution provides comprehensive global class action coverage, maximizes claims and increases investor participation in settlement recoveries

NEW YORK and LONDON and PARIS, Feb. 19, 2025 /PRNewswire/ -- BNP Paribas' Securities Services business, a leading global custodian with USD 13.7 trillion under custody, has partnered with global Fintech leader, Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. (NYSE:BR) to expand its global custody services, appointing Broadridge as service provider for its global securities class action services.

"As the Securities Services business of BNP Paribas, we are committed to delivering innovative and differentiating products and services to our clients. Broadridge brings advanced technology, market-leading information security and deep industry expertise that align with our goals, enhancing our clients' experience and supporting their business," said Christian Houillon, Head of Custody Product for Securities Services at BNP Paribas. "We will be able to harness Broadridge's proprietary technology to identify, file and recover investment losses, alongside their extensive industry expertise."

Broadridge provides a comprehensive, proprietary technology solution for global class action services that will help clients identify and act on asset recovery opportunities. This includes a seamless process for identifying, filing, and recovering investment losses, backed by Broadridge's industry expertise.

"As the volume of securities class actions continues to rise, it's crucial for the clients of BNP Paribas' Securities Services business and other global financial institutions to leverage all available asset recovery opportunities," said Steve Cirami, Vice President, Head of Corporate Actions & Class Actions at Broadridge. "Broadridge's solutions will enable the clients of BNP Paribas' Securities Services business to obtain all required information to support their decisions on claim recoveries, facilitate investor participation in settlements and support key business functions, delivering a seamless and impactful client experience."

Investors have more recovery opportunities than ever before as the class action landscape continues to expand globally with more than 35 jurisdictions around the world adopting collective redress mechanisms for shareholders. In 2024 alone, there were more than 125 recovery opportunities and $5.2 billion in settlements. The ability to monitor all opportunities globally requires leading edge technology and expertise, particularly in jurisdictions where considerations of litigation can be complex to navigate.

Broadridge's dedicated global class action services team comprises deeply knowledgeable and experienced securities litigators, claims administrators, claims auditors and data specialists, equipped to provide clients with unmatched end-to-end services, portfolio monitoring and claims filing and registering processes in global jurisdictions.
