Frequently Asked Questions

What is a Political Action Committee (PAC)?

Political Action Committees (PACs) formed by individuals, groups or companies allow individual contributions to be pooled and used to support candidates and incumbents whose views are consistent with the mission of the group or organization. Many different constituencies, including business groups, trade associations, labor unions, and elected officials establish PACs. PACs are a transparent way for citizens to meaningfully engage in the political process.

The Hartford PACs

The Hartford Insurance Group, Inc. (The Hartford) has two PACs, The Hartford Advocates Fund and The Hartford Advocates Federal Fund (collectively the Funds). They are solely funded through voluntary contributions from eligible employees in management level roles and the directors of The Hartford Insurance Group, Inc. The Funds support candidates for federal and state office who are interested in understanding public policy issues facing the insurance industry.

Purpose

At The Hartford, we believe in underwriting human achievement. Members of the Funds help to amplify the voice of our company, customers, and shareholders by reinforcing our commitment through education and advocacy. We want to be a leader within our industry by driving long-term and sustainable public policy outcomes. The Funds are a crucial advocacy tool to help amplify The Hartford's exceptional voice with public officials and lawmakers across the nation. The Funds create opportunities to support candidate campaigns and facilitate education opportunities on key issues facing the insurance industry.

Why is participation important?

The Hartford's voice is best amplified in Washington, D.C. and across state capitols when we help elect thoughtful lawmakers. As a part of our Code of Ethics and Business Conduct, The Hartford does not make corporate contributions to political candidates or parties, even where allowed by law. Through employees' voluntary contributions, The Funds provide us the ability to engage with and reelect thoughtful candidates and lawmakers.

Governance

The Funds are governed by a Board of Directors, their by-laws, federal law (Federal Election Campaign Act) and various state laws. Every contribution is reviewed to ensure it is consistent with applicable federal and state laws, our giving guidelines, and is subject to final approval by the President of the Funds. To comply with the SEC's pay-to-play rule, employees of The Hartford who are considered "covered associates" make contributions to the Federal Fund, which supports federal candidates only. Transparency of the Funds' activities is provided through monthly public reporting of receipts and disbursements to the Federal Election Commission (this is public on www.fec.gov) and to state campaign finance departments as required by state law.

Our Strategy

While the overall strategy of political giving for The Hartford Advocates Fund (HAFPAC) may not be readily apparent from simply perusing the list of candidates we've supported, a lot goes into our decision to support a particular candidate. Generally, HAFPAC enables us to efficiently connect with lawmakers across the nation on key public policy issues facing the insurance industry. The following sections breakdown the key considerations of our holistic evaluation.

By the numbers and letter of the law

State and federal election laws place restrictions on how much HAFPAC can contribute within each election cycle. For example, for U.S. House of Representatives, the maximum contribution over a two-year election cycle is $5,000 for the primary election and $5,000 for the general election. For U.S. Senators, the same monetary limits apply but over a six-year election cycle. Federal leadership, trade association and caucus PACs can receive up to $5,000 annually. For state candidates, the limits differ depending on each state. Political giving is less restrictive in states like New York and California, whereas there are significant limitations in Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Missouri where our giving tends to be limited to trade associations or state parties.

Education and enrichment

HAFPAC has always used engagement with policymakers to educate them on issues important to The Hartford and how they relate to our business strategy. We also meet regularly with The Hartford's employees to share details of our advocacy efforts. We have arranged meetings between The Hartford's executives and employees with state and federal policymakers to share experience about our business and the need for bipartisan public policy solutions. Meeting lawmakers where they are and sharing the priorities of our company is an essential component of HAFPAC's mission.

Evaluating candidates

When evaluating candidates, one of the primary considerations is the committees on which they serve and relevant leadership positions. Insurance is primarily a state regulated industry. Nevertheless, federal Congressional committees do exercise broad jurisdiction over matters that affect our industry. Insurance is a highly regulated industry, and we work with leaders across the political spectrum to highlight potential implications from policy proposals and ensure that the insurance industry, our employees, and our customers are represented fairly.

Commitment to continuous improvement and enhanced transparency

HAFPAC is committed to reviewing governance practices, evaluating candidates, and making changes as appropriate to ensure we are representing The Hartford, our employees, and all stakeholders at the highest standard. As the political landscape evolves, so should our engagement and strategy. We have created feedback opportunities for HAFPAC members to share their thoughts through member surveys, and HAFPAC hosted webinars and educational sessions. Additionally, The Hartford was recognized as a top tier company and trendsetter in the 2024 CPA-Zicklin Index of Corporate Political Disclosure and Accountability for our clear disclosure of political spending, the policies in place and our oversight and governance of these policies. In 2024, The Hartford was a member of the Corporate Political Responsibility Taskforce (CPRT) which was founded to explore ways in which businesses can take a principled approach to engaging responsibly in civic and political affairs.

The Hartford Advocates Fund: state and federal contribution strategies

Federal giving in 2024 focused on building relationships with key lawmakers in Washington, as well as continued engagement with longstanding champions of our industry. It is our view that bipartisan legislation generally results in the most sustainable long-term policy, and with that outcome and a continued focus on civic engagement in mind, many of the individual policymakers that we supported through HAFPAC have demonstrated a willingness to work across the aisle to advance sound policy. Many of the members we contributed to serve on or work with the Congressional committees most focused on industry issues, such as the House Financial Services Committee, Senate Banking Committee, Ways & Means Committee, and Finance Committee. We also supported members in districts where The Hartford has significant employee presence. In addition, we partnered with our industry trade association PACs to amplify our support for candidates who are willing to understand our issues.

¹ Leadership PACs – As defined by the Federal Election Commission, Leadership PACs are nonconnected committees established by Members of Congress and other political leaders to “support candidates for federal and nonfederal offices.” The Hartford Advocates Fund requires leadership PACs to agree that their funds will only support candidates for U.S. Congress who are either incumbents or working in the private sector, and who are not state or municipal public officials.

² American Council of Life Insurers PAC – “...leading trade association driving public policy and advocacy on behalf of the life insurance industry.”

³ American Property Casualty Insurance Association PAC – “...primary national trade association for home, auto, and business insurers. APCIA promotes and protects the viability of private competition for the benefit of consumers and insurers.”

⁴ The Surety & Fidelity Association of America PAC – “...nonprofit, nonpartisan trade association that represents all segments of the surety and fidelity industry...[promoting] the value of surety and fidelity bonding...”

Disbursements continued

2024 giving across the states was focused on building relationships with many lawmakers who are new to insurance issues, as well as strengthening relationships with our industry advocates. Public policy issues continue to increase in complexity and include climate management and resiliency, artificial intelligence and data governance, legal system abuse reform, residual market expansion, affordability and availability and paid family medical leave. Contributions followed similar patterns from years past with much of the budget being directed toward California and New York. This trend is largely due to The Hartford's market positions in those states as well as various states' legal restrictions preventing The Hartford Advocates from contributing. Support was directed toward thoughtful lawmakers who have jurisdiction over the business of insurance, such as Senate or Assembly Insurance Committees, as well as Committees on Judiciary; Appropriations, Budget and Consumer Protection; Banking and Finance; Labor and Employment to name a few. Through HAFPAC, we have been able to engage directly with lawmakers who are willing to work across the aisle to advance long-term durable policy.

The Hartford Advocates Fund: state metrics

2024 State Contributions By Party¹²

¹¹ Historically, we have targeted a 50-50 split at the federal level representative of the balance of power between Democrats and Republicans in Congress. In 2024, a higher percentage of giving toward Republicans reflected the Republican majority in the House and the narrow minority in the Senate.

¹² At the state level, the split between Democrat versus Republican contribution reflects the fact that Democrats control the Governor's office and legislatures in many of those jurisdictions where we are legally allowed to contribute.

Public Policies and Practices

Political Compliance

Corporate Contributions for Political Purposes

As part of our Code of Ethics and Business Conduct, The Hartford does not make corporate contributions to political candidates or parties, even where allowed by law. Accordingly, we require that no portion of our dues paid to trade associations be used for political contributions.

Our Code of Ethics and Business Conduct permits the use of corporate resources for non-partisan political activity. Consistent with federal and state law, these activities include non-partisan voter education, including issue education, voter registration and grassroots lobbying to influence legislation or ballot referenda. These contributions may not be tied to the procurement of The Hartford's products and services and must comply with all applicable laws and regulations. In 2024, The Hartford used corporate resources aimed at influencing the public policies:

- Supported 'Defeat the Costly Tax on Sales' which was founded to oppose a ballot initiative that would have imposed a sales tax in the State of Oregon.

Any non-partisan political contributions are publicly reported, updated quarterly and approved in advance by the Chief Executive Officer, the General Counsel and the Chief Government Relations Officer. This activity is also reported annually to the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee of The Hartford's Board of Directors.

The Hartford Membership in Trade Associations and Coalitions

The Hartford is a member of state and federal trade associations and coalitions. These memberships further our public policy goals. The Hartford has requested information regarding state and federal lobbying expenses from trade associations and coalitions to which The Hartford pays $25,000 or more in annual dues. Based on the information we receive each quarter, the following dues or payments to trade associations and coalitions were used for lobbying in 2024:
