Dear Shareholders,

Perhaps more than any other time in Starbucks history, I write to you feeling extremely proud of what Starbucks has accomplished not just in these past 12 months but also in the past three years.

We began our transformation journey in 2008 when I returned as CEO. In 2009, the seeds of that transformation took root. Fiscal 2010 marked the transformation's defining year as we delivered record financial results.

During this past fiscal year, revenues increased to a record $10.7 billion. Operating income increased by $857 million from fiscal 2009 to $1.4 billion. Our full-year operating margin of 13.3 percent represented the highest full-year consolidated operating margin in our history. We ended 2010 with the highest full-year comparable store sales growth that we have seen in the recent past, while our earnings per share also grew significantly from fiscal 2009, more than double on a comparable 52-week basis. I am thrilled that we were able to further share our success with a first-ever dividend for shareholders and, for our partners, maintaining health care coverage while renewing our focus on elevating the partner experience through recent enhancements to our broad-based equity plan and our 401(k) program. We were also able to offer a special cash award to eligible partners in recognition of their contribution to Starbucks strong performance in 2010.

For these reasons and more, we begin 2011 healthier than we have ever been and with the capabilities, talent, resources and passion to continue our momentum. The internal obstacles we overcame, while simultaneously navigating the ongoing economic challenges and staying true to our values, have made us a stronger company.

Today our operational foundation—coupled with a heightened level of innovation and customer relevance—presents us with an opportunity not just to grow but also to build a different kind of organization. Not a new Starbucks, but one that will leverage and extend our core strengths both inside and outside our stores.

A Strong Foundation

Momentous positive changes inside the organization drove our success this past year. In fiscal 2010, we built upon the nearly $600 million of cost savings in fiscal 2009 while driving many of our key financial metrics to record levels. We have improved the efficiency and effectiveness of our supply chain toward world-class levels. In our U.S. business, revenues and operating income are growing again, with our store partners working passionately to elevate the Starbucks Experience. We had broad-based revenue growth in our Global Consumer Products Group (CPG) and we are also well on our way to building a world-class sales organization and back-of-the-house infrastructure to support profitable CPG growth, which will enable us to present one brand voice for Starbucks entire portfolio.

Internationally, the foundation of our brand remains strong, and the work we did in 2010 brought more discipline, ideas and leadership to local markets and helped deliver record financial performance in fiscal 2010, setting the International business up to be a profitable growth engine going forward. Specifically, after a decade in China, Starbucks is being embraced by customers as a welcome third place between home and work in major, secondary and even tertiary cities. We continue to stay true to our brand while finding fresh ways to be locally relevant in a market that we expect to be Starbucks second largest after North America.

In customer-facing initiatives, we are enriching our connections on many fronts. The My Starbucks Rewards loyalty program continues to have significant traction, driving incremental transactions to our stores. Using social and digital media, we are further expanding how we engage our customers. Our more than 27 million fans around the world have made us a top brand on Facebook. And with the October unveiling of the Starbucks Digital Network, we tapped into the value of our vast Wi-Fi network to bring customers in our stores free premium content, from daily news in The Wall Street Journal to music downloads from Apple's iTunes®. During the first two months after its launch, the Starbucks Digital Network received nearly 8 million visitors and overwhelmingly positive customer feedback.

Innovation remains a cornerstone of our growth. With the launch of Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew and its current platform of products—Iced, Flavored, Christmas Blend—we have already created a business with system-wide sales of approximately $180 million in fiscal 2010 with more than 50,000 points of distribution, bringing new customers and new occasions to the marketplace as well as growing Starbucks share of the premium single-cup coffee category. In addition, based in part on the positive response to Starbucks VIA® and its early success in Canada, the United Kingdom, Japan and the Philippines, we continue to believe that the global opportunity for Starbucks VIA® is significant and yet to be fully tapped. Stay tuned for more Starbucks VIA® developments in the coming year.

Also in our stores, the adoption of new technology platforms and Lean principles are helping to improve the partner and customer experience. Customer satisfaction scores for partner friendliness, speed of service and taste of beverage continue to increase.

The one-on-one connections that we make with the more than 50 million visitors around the world who come into our stores each week define our heritage, and are critical to creating the future we envision.

A New Blueprint for Growth

Going forward, we will be combining the company's unique strengths in ways that will allow us to go to market in a way that only Starbucks can.

We believe we have the potential to build a portfolio of $1 billion brands inside and outside our stores using a unique strategy. Sourcing, roasting and serving high-quality coffee will remain our core, but we are also pursuing sustainable, profitable growth with a more diversified, multi-channel and multi-brand business model. In the near term, we are focusing on Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew, Frappuccino® beverages—which is already a $2 billion platform—and the Tazo® tea brand. In addition we have also made significant progress with Seattle's Best Coffee.® After unleashing its exciting new brand identity and expansion strategy, a freshly brewed cup of Seattle's Best Coffee® is now offered in more than 40,000 locations, up tenfold since 2009.

Our new go-to-market strategy leverages Starbucks unique business structure: our global footprint of retail stores; our distribution network and presence in grocery stores; and the authentic emotional connections we establish with our customers in stores, with our loyalty programs and through digital media. Each of these points of connection complements the other, encouraging our customers to try new products, adopt new rituals and make more frequent purchases. We saw this model play out extremely well with Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew, and we are tremendously optimistic about its potential to drive growth with our other brands.

Starbucks 40th Anniversary

It is hard to believe, but March 2011 marks Starbucks 40th year in business since we opened our first store in Pike Place Market in Seattle. This is a major milestone, and we will be celebrating in a variety of ways that honor our past and reflect where we are headed.

One of the most relevant ways to celebrate our anniversary is by giving back to our neighborhoods. Community involvement is central to Starbucks mission, and soon our partners and customers around the world will more actively initiate and participate in a new array of local community-service projects that we believe will result in longer-term community support. Personally, I can think of no better way to celebrate and I hope you will all join us in these efforts.

This year, we will roll out our elegant new brand identity with an evolved logo that embraces our history while granting us more freedom and flexibility to think beyond coffee and even beyond our stores. A great deal of thought went into creating the new design, and we believe it sets the stage for our next chapter. Finally, because anniversaries are also a time to reflect on the past, a book documenting our transformation will be published in late March. In Onward: How Starbucks Fought for Its Life without Losing Its Soul, I candidly share our journey, both the highs and the lows, because understanding and better appreciating how we transformed will, I feel, enhance our future.

This is a very exciting time for Starbucks, yet we have emerged from our past humbled, refusing to take anything for granted, and determined to grow with as intense a level of discipline and innovation as we have ever demonstrated. As a global consumer brand with almost 17,000 stores and growing businesses outside of our stores, we believe that we are in a rare position to internally offset external pressures from what will likely continue to be a very challenging global economy in the near term.

At every stage of our journey, we have been fortunate to receive the support of our partners, our customers, our shareholders, business partners, farmers and suppliers. Thank you all for standing by us, and for continuing to believe in what Starbucks stands for and in our ability to deliver.

Warm regards,

PART I

Item 1. Business

General

Starbucks is the premier roaster and retailer of specialty coffee in the world, operating in more than 50 countries. Starbucks Corporation was formed in 1985 and its common stock trades on the NASDAQ Global Select Market (“NASDAQ”) under the symbol “SBUX.” Starbucks purchases and roasts high-quality whole bean coffees and sells them, along with handcrafted coffee and tea beverages and a variety of fresh food items, through company-operated retail stores. We also sell coffee and tea products and license our trademarks through other channels such as licensed retail stores and, through certain of our licensees and equity investees, we produce and sell a variety of ready-to-drink beverages. All channels outside the company-operated retail stores are collectively known as specialty operations. In addition to our flagship Starbucks brand, our portfolio includes brands such as Tazo® Tea, Seattle’s Best Coffee®, and Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew.

Our objective is to maintain Starbucks standing as one of the most recognized and respected brands in the world. To achieve this goal, we plan to continue disciplined expansion of our retail and licensed store base, primarily focused on growth in countries outside of the US. In addition, by leveraging the experience gained through our traditional store model, we are offering consumers new coffee products in multiple forms, across new categories, and through diverse channels. Starbucks Global Responsibility strategy and commitments related to coffee and the communities we do business in, as well as our focus on being an employer of choice, are also key complements to our business strategies.

In this Annual Report on Form 10-K (“10-K” or “Report”) for the fiscal year ended October 3, 2010 (“fiscal 2010”) Starbucks Corporation (together with its subsidiaries) is referred to as “Starbucks,” the “Company,” “we,” “us” or “our”.

Segment Financial Information

Starbucks has three reportable operating segments: United States (“US”), International, and Global Consumer Products Group (“CPG”). In the fourth fiscal quarter of 2010, we changed the composition of our reportable segments by creating a Seattle’s Best Coffee operating segment and reporting it with our unallocated corporate expenses and Digital Ventures in “Other”. Financial information for Seattle’s Best Coffee was previously reported within the US, International, and CPG segments. This change reflects the culmination of internal management and reporting realignments and the expected development of the Seattle’s Best Coffee business. Segment information for all prior periods presented has been revised to reflect this change. Each of the segments provided the following percentage of total net revenues for fiscal year fiscal 2010: US (71%), International (21%), CPG (7%) and Other (1%).

The US and International segments both include company-operated retail stores and certain components of specialty operations. Specialty operations within the US include licensed retail stores. International specialty operations include retail store licensing operations in nearly 40 countries and foodservice accounts primarily in Canada and the United Kingdom (“UK”). Our International segment’s largest markets, based on number of company-operated and licensed retail stores, are Canada, Japan and the UK. The CPG segment includes packaged coffee and tea, Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew and other branded products sold worldwide through channels such as grocery stores, warehouse clubs and convenience stores, and US foodservice accounts. CPG operates a significant portion of its business through licensing arrangements and a joint venture with a large consumer products business partner. This operating model leverages the business partners’ existing infrastructures and, as a result, our CPG segment reflects relatively lower revenues, a modest cost structure, and a resulting higher operating margin, compared to Starbucks US and International reporting segments, which consist primarily of retail stores.

Financial information about Starbucks segments is included in Note 19 to the consolidated financial statements included in Item 8 of this 10-K.

Revenue Components

We generate our revenues through company-operated retail stores and our specialty operations. Specialty operations include retail stores licensed by local business partners, packaged coffee and tea sold through licensees in grocery and warehouse club stores, license arrangements with business partners to use our brands on various products, and arrangements with foodservice companies that service a variety of locations outside our retail store footprint.

Company-operated and Licensed Retail Store Summary as of October 3, 2010

	US	As a % of Total US Stores	International	As a % of Total International Stores	Total	As a % of Total Stores
Company-operated stores	6,707	60%	2,126	37%	8,833	52%
Licensed stores	4,424	40%	3,601	63%	8,025	48%
Total	11,131	100%	5,727	100%	16,858	100%

The mix of company-operated versus licensed stores in a given market will vary based on several factors, including the ability to access desirable local retail space, the complexity and expected ultimate size of the market for Starbucks, and the ability to leverage the support infrastructure in an existing geographic region.

Company-operated Retail Stores

Revenue from company-operated retail stores accounted for 84% of total net revenues during fiscal 2010. Our retail objective is to be the leading retailer and brand of coffee in each of our target markets by selling the finest quality coffee and related products, and by providing each customer a unique Starbucks Experience. The Starbucks Experience is built upon superior customer service as well as clean and well-maintained company-operated retail stores that reflect the personalities of the communities in which they operate, thereby building a high degree of customer loyalty.

Our strategy for expanding our global retail business is to increase our market share in a disciplined manner, by selectively opening additional stores in existing markets, opening stores in new markets, and increasing sales in existing stores, to support our long term strategic objectives. Store growth in specific existing markets will vary due to many factors, including the maturity of the market.

The following is a summary of total company-operated retail store data for the periods indicated:

	Net Stores Opened (Closed) During the Fiscal Year Ended ⁽¹⁾		Stores Open as of

Internationally, 97 and 167 company-operated stores were opened during 2010 and 2009, respectively, and 112 and 64 stores were closed during 2010 and 2009, respectively. As described in more detail in Management's Discussion and Analysis in this 10-K, we took a number of actions in fiscal 2008 and 2009 to rationalize the size of our global company-operated store portfolio. Nearly all of the stores related to these actions have been closed as of the end of fiscal 2010.

- (2) Store data has been adjusted for the fiscal 2010 acquisition of the France and Brazil operations by reclassifying historical information from licensed stores to company-operated stores.

Starbucks retail stores are typically located in high-traffic, high-visibility locations. Our ability to vary the size and format of our stores allows us to locate them in or near a variety of settings, including downtown and suburban retail centers, office buildings, university campuses, and in select rural and off-highway locations. To provide a greater degree of access and convenience for non-pedestrian customers, we continue to selectively expand development of drive-thru retail stores.

Starbucks stores offer a choice of regular and decaffeinated coffee beverages, a broad selection of Italian-style espresso beverages, cold blended beverages, iced shaken refreshment beverages, a selection of premium teas, distinctively packaged roasted whole bean coffees, and a variety of Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew soluble coffees. Starbucks stores also offer a variety of fresh food items, including selections focusing on high-quality ingredients, nutritional value and great flavor. Food items include pastries, prepared breakfast and lunch sandwiches, oatmeal and salads, as well as juices, sodas, and bottled water. We continue to expand the food warming program in the US and Canada, with close to 90 % of the stores in these markets providing warm food items as of the end of fiscal 2010. A focused selection of beverage-making equipment and accessories are also sold in the stores. Each Starbucks store varies its product mix depending upon the size of the store and its location. In company-operated Starbucks stores in the US, we provide customers free access to wireless internet.

Starbucks Card

The Starbucks Card program is designed to increase customer loyalty and the frequency of store visits by cardholders. Since January 2010, Starbucks customers in the US have earned free beverages through the My Starbucks Rewards program. Gold Level members earn a free drink after fifteen purchases at participating Starbucks stores. Members also receive free select syrups, milk options and refills on tea or brewed coffee during a store visit. Starbucks Cards are accepted at all company-operated and most licensed stores in North America. The cards are also accepted at a number of international locations.

Specialty Operations

During fiscal 2010, specialty revenues accounted for 16% of total net revenues. Our specialty operations strive to develop Starbucks brands outside the company-operated retail store environment through a number of channels. Starbucks strategy to reach customers where they work, travel, shop and dine includes establishing and maintaining relationships with prominent third parties that share our values and commitment to quality. These relationships take various forms, including licensing arrangements, foodservice accounts and other initiatives related to our core businesses. In certain situations, Starbucks has an equity ownership interest in licensee operations.

Licensing — Retail stores

Product sales to and royalty and license fee revenues from US and International licensed retail stores accounted for 50% of specialty revenues in fiscal 2010. In our licensed retail store operations, we leverage the expertise of our local partners and share our operating and store development experience. Licensee partners provide improved, and at times the only, access to desirable retail space. Most licensees are prominent retailers with in-depth market knowledge and access. As part of these arrangements, we receive royalties and license fees and sell coffee, tea and related products for resale in licensed locations. Employees working in licensed retail locations are required to follow our detailed store operating procedures and attend training classes similar to those given to employees in company-operated stores. For our Seattle's Best Coffee brand, we use various forms of licensing, including traditional franchising.

Starbucks total licensed retail stores by region and country at fiscal year end 2010 are as follows:

Asia Pacific		Europe/Middle East/Africa		Americas

In the US, 166 and 286 licensed stores were opened during 2010 and 2009, respectively, and 106 and 251 stores were closed during 2010 and 2009, respectively. Internationally, 335 and 375 licensed stores were opened during 2010 and 2009, respectively, and 100 and 84 stores were closed during 2010 and 2009, respectively.

Licensing — Packaged coffee and tea

Revenues from licensed sales of packaged coffee and tea comprised 23% of specialty revenues in fiscal 2010. For over ten years through licensing relationships with Kraft Foods Global, Inc., we have sold a selection of Starbucks and Seattle's Best Coffee branded packaged coffees and Tazo® teas in grocery and warehouse club stores throughout the US and to grocery stores in Canada, the UK and other European countries. Kraft has managed the distribution, marketing, advertising and promotion of these products.

We also sell packaged coffee and tea internationally directly to warehouse club stores, such as Costco Wholesale Corporation.

In the first quarter of fiscal 2011, Starbucks notified Kraft that we are discontinuing our licensing relationships. We intend to work closely with Kraft to ensure an orderly transition.

Licensing — Branded products

The revenues from licensed branded products accounted for 4% of specialty revenues in fiscal 2010. We license the rights to produce and market Starbucks and Seattle's Best Coffee branded products through several partnerships both domestically and internationally. Significant licensing agreements include:

- The North American Coffee Partnership, a joint venture with the Pepsi-Cola Company in which Starbucks is a 50% equity investor, manufactures and markets ready-to-drink beverages, including bottled Frappuccino® beverages, Starbucks DoubleShot®, and Seattle's Best Coffee® ready-to-drink espresso beverages in the US and Canada;

- licensing agreements for the manufacturing, marketing and distribution of Starbucks Discoveries®, a ready-to-drink chilled cup coffee beverage, in Japan and South Korea;
- a licensing agreement with a partnership formed by Unilever and Pepsi-Cola Company for the manufacturing, marketing and distribution of Starbucks super-premium Tazo® Tea ready-to-drink beverages in the US; and
- a licensing agreement with Unilever for the manufacturing, marketing and distribution of Starbucks® super-premium ice cream products in the US.

Foodservice

Revenues from foodservice accounts comprised 23% of total specialty revenues in fiscal 2010. We sell whole bean and ground coffees, including the Starbucks and Seattle's Best Coffee brands, as well as a selection of premium Tazo® teas, Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew and other related products, to institutional foodservice companies that service business and industry, education, healthcare, office coffee distributors, hotels, restaurants, airlines and other retailers. We also sell our Seattle's Best Coffee® through arrangements with national accounts. The majority of the sales in this channel come through national broadline distribution networks with SYSCO Corporation, US Foodservice™, and other distributors.

Product Supply

Starbucks is committed to selling only the finest whole bean coffees and coffee beverages. To ensure compliance with our rigorous coffee standards, we control coffee purchasing, roasting and packaging, and the global distribution of coffee used in our operations. We purchase green coffee beans from multiple coffee-producing regions around the world and custom roast them to our exacting standards, for our many blends and single origin coffees.

The price of coffee is subject to significant volatility. Although most coffee trades in the commodity market, high-altitude arabica coffee of the quality sought by Starbucks tends to trade on a negotiated basis at a substantial premium above commodity coffee prices. Both the premium and the "C" coffee commodity price depend upon the supply and demand at the time of purchase. Supply and price can be affected by multiple factors in the producing countries, including weather, political and economic conditions. Price is also impacted by trading activities in the arabica coffee futures market, including hedge funds and commodity index funds. In addition, green coffee prices have been affected in the past, and may be affected in the future, by the actions of certain organizations and associations that have historically attempted to influence prices of green coffee through agreements establishing export quotas or by restricting coffee supplies.

To help ensure sustainability and future supply of high-quality green coffees and to reinforce our leadership role in the coffee industry, Starbucks operates Farmer Support Centers in Costa Rica and Rwanda. The Farmer Support Centers are staffed with agronomists and sustainability experts who work with coffee farming communities to promote best practices in coffee production designed to improve both coffee quality and yields.

We buy coffee using fixed-price and price-to-be-fixed purchase commitments, depending on market conditions, to secure an adequate supply of quality green coffee. Price-to-be-fixed contracts are purchase commitments whereby the quality, quantity, delivery period, and other negotiated terms are agreed upon, but the date at which the base "C" coffee commodity price component will be fixed has not yet been established. For these types of contracts, either Starbucks or the seller has the option to select a date on which to "fix" the base "C" coffee commodity price prior to the delivery date. Until prices are fixed, we estimate the total cost of these purchase commitments. As of October 3, 2010, we had a total of $557 million in purchase commitments, of which $401 million represented the estimated cost of price-to-be-fixed contracts. All price-to-be-fixed contracts as of October 3, 2010 were at the Company's option to fix the base "C" coffee commodity price component. Total purchase commitments, together with existing inventory, are expected to provide an adequate supply of green coffee through fiscal 2011.

We depend upon our relationships with coffee producers, outside trading companies and exporters for our supply of green coffee. We believe, based on relationships established with our suppliers, the risk of non-delivery on such purchase commitments is remote.

In addition to coffee, we also purchase significant amounts of dairy products, particularly fluid milk, to support the needs of our company-operated retail stores. Starbucks highest volumes of dairy purchases are in the US, Canada and the UK. For these markets, we purchase substantially all of our fluid milk requirements from six dairy suppliers. We believe, based on relationships established with these suppliers, that the risk of non-delivery of sufficient fluid milk to support these retail businesses is remote.

Products other than whole bean coffees and coffee beverages sold in Starbucks retail stores are obtained through a number of different channels. Beverage ingredients other than coffee and milk, including leaf teas as well as our selection of ready-to-drink beverages, are purchased from several specialty suppliers, usually under long-term supply contracts. Food products, such as fresh pastries, breakfast sandwiches and lunch items, are purchased from national, regional and local sources. We also purchase a broad range of paper and plastic products, such as cups and cutlery, from several companies to support the needs of our retail stores as well as our manufacturing and distribution operations. We believe, based on relationships established with these suppliers and manufacturers, that the risk of non-delivery is remote.

Competition

Our primary competitors for coffee beverage sales are quick-service restaurants and specialty coffee shops. In almost all markets in which we do business, there are numerous competitors in the specialty coffee beverage business. We believe that our customers choose among specialty coffee retailers primarily on the basis of product quality, service and convenience, as well as price. We continue to experience direct competition from large competitors in the US quick-service restaurant sector and continue to face competition from well-established companies in many international markets and in the US ready-to-drink coffee beverage market.

Our whole bean coffees, ground packaged coffees, Tazo® teas, and Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew compete directly against specialty coffees and teas sold through supermarkets, club stores and specialty retailers. Our whole bean coffees, coffee beverages, and Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew compete indirectly against all other coffees on the market. Starbucks specialty operations face significant competition from established wholesale and mail order suppliers, some of whom have greater financial and marketing resources than we do.

Starbucks also faces competition from both restaurants and other specialty retailers for prime retail locations and qualified personnel to operate both new and existing stores.

Patents, Trademarks, Copyrights and Domain Names

Starbucks owns and has applied to register numerous trademarks and service marks in the US and in many additional countries throughout the world. Some of our trademarks, including Starbucks®, the Starbucks® logo, Seattle's Best Coffee®, Frappuccino®, Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew and Tazo® are of material importance. The duration of trademark registrations varies from country to country. However, trademarks are generally valid and may be renewed indefinitely as long as they are in use and/or their registrations are properly maintained.

We own numerous copyrights for items such as product packaging, promotional materials, in-store graphics and training materials. We also hold patents on certain products, systems and designs. In addition, Starbucks has registered and maintains numerous Internet domain names, including "Starbucks.com", "Starbucks.net", and "Seattlesbest.com."

Research and Development

Our research and development teams are responsible for the technical development of food and beverage products and new equipment. We spent approximately $9 million, $7 million and $7 million during fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively, on technical research and development activities, in addition to customary product testing and product and process improvements in all areas of its business.

Seasonality and Quarterly Results

Our business is subject to seasonal fluctuations, including fluctuations resulting from the holiday season. Cash flows from operations are considerably higher in the first fiscal quarter than the remainder of the year. This is largely driven by cash received as Starbucks Cards are purchased and loaded during the holiday season. Since revenues from the Starbucks Cards are recognized upon redemption and not when purchased, seasonal fluctuations on the consolidated statements of earnings are much less pronounced. Quarterly results can be affected by the timing of the opening of new stores and the closing of existing stores. For these reasons, results for any quarter are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be achieved for the full fiscal year.

Employees

Starbucks employed approximately 137,000 people worldwide as of October 3, 2010. In the US, Starbucks employed approximately 107,000 people, with 101,000 in company-operated retail stores and the remainder in administrative and regional offices, and store development, roasting and warehousing operations. Approximately 30,000 employees were employed outside of the US, with 29,000 in company-operated retail stores and the remainder in regional support facilities and roasting and warehousing operations. The number of Starbucks employees represented by unions is not significant. We believe our current relations with our employees are good.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

You should carefully consider the risks described below. If any of the risks and uncertainties described in the cautionary factors described below actually occurs, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be materially and adversely affected. The risks and factors listed below, however, are not exhaustive. Other sections of this 10-K include additional factors that could materially and adversely impact our business, financial condition and results of operations. Moreover, we operate in a very competitive and rapidly changing environment. New factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible to predict the impact of all these factors on our business, financial condition or results of operation.

- Our financial condition and results of operations are sensitive to, and may be adversely affected by, a number of factors, many of which are largely outside our control.

Our operating results have been in the past and will continue to be subject to a number of factors, many of which are largely outside our control. Any one or more of the factors set forth below could adversely impact our business, financial condition and/or results of operations:

- lower customer traffic or average value per transaction, which negatively impacts comparable store sales, net revenues, operating income, operating margins and earnings per share, due to:
 - the impact of initiatives by competitors and increased competition generally;

- customers trading down to lower priced products within Starbucks, and/or shifting to competitors with lower priced products;
- lack of customer acceptance of new products or price increases necessary to cover costs of new products and/or higher input costs;
- unfavorable general economic conditions in the markets in which we operate that adversely affect consumer spending;
- declines in general consumer demand for specialty coffee products; or
- adverse impacts resulting from negative publicity regarding our business practices or the health effects of consuming our products;
- cost increases that are either wholly or partially beyond our control, such as:
 - commodity costs for commodities that can only be partially hedged, such as fluid milk, and high quality arabica coffee;
 - labor costs such as increased health care costs, general market wage levels and workers' compensation insurance costs;
 - litigation, particularly class action litigation; or
 - construction costs associated with new store openings;
- any material interruption in our supply chain beyond our control, such as material interruption of roasted coffee supply due to the casualty loss of any of our roasting plants or the failures of third-party suppliers, or interruptions in service by common carriers that ship goods within our distribution channels, or trade restrictions, such as increased tariffs or quotas, embargoes or customs restrictions;
- delays in store openings for reasons beyond our control, or a lack of desirable real estate locations available for lease at reasonable rates, either of which could keep us from meeting annual store opening targets and, in turn, negatively impact net revenues, operating income and earnings per share;
- the degree to which we enter into, maintain, develop, and are able to negotiate appropriate terms and conditions, and enforce, commercial and other agreements; and
- the impact on our business due to labor discord, war, terrorism (including incidents targeting us), political instability and natural disasters.
- Economic conditions in the US and certain International markets could adversely affect our business and financial results.

As a retailer that is dependent upon consumer discretionary spending, our results of operations are sensitive to changes in macro-economic conditions. Our customers may have less money for discretionary purchases as a result of job losses, foreclosures, bankruptcies, increased fuel and energy costs, higher interest rates, higher taxes, reduced access to credit and lower home prices. Any resulting decreases in customer traffic or average value per transaction will negatively impact our financial performance as reduced revenues result in sales de-leveraging which creates downward pressure on margins. There is also a risk that if negative economic conditions persist for a long period of time or worsen, consumers may make long-lasting changes to their discretionary purchasing behavior, including less frequent discretionary purchases on a more permanent basis.

- We may not be successful in implementing important strategic initiatives, which may have an adverse impact on our business and financial results.

There is no assurance that we will be able to implement important strategic initiatives in accordance with our expectations, which may result in an adverse impact on our business and financial results. These strategic initiatives are designed to improve our results of operations and drive long-term shareholder value, and include:

- successfully leveraging Starbucks brand outside the company-operated store base, including an increased focus on international licensed stores, Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew, and the Seattle's Best Coffee brand;
 - focusing on relevant product innovation and profitable new growth platforms;
 - accelerating the growth of our global consumer products business as we transition from our licensing relationships with Kraft Foods Global, Inc.;
 - balancing disciplined global store growth while meeting target store-level unit economics in a given market; and
 - executing a multi-channel advertising and marketing campaign to effectively communicate our message directly to Starbucks consumers and partners.
- We face intense competition in each of our channels and markets, which could lead to reduced profitability.

The specialty coffee market is intensely competitive, including with respect to product quality, service, convenience, and price, and we face significant competition in each of our channels and markets. In the US, the ongoing focus by large competitors in the quick-service restaurant sector on selling high-quality specialty coffee beverages could adversely affect our sales and results of operations. Similarly, continued competition from well-established competitors in our international markets could hinder growth and adversely affect our sales and results of operations in those markets. Increased competition in the US packaged coffee and tea and ready-to-drink coffee beverage markets could adversely affect the profitability of the CPG segment. (See also the discussion under "Competition" in Item 1).

- We are highly dependent on the financial performance of our US operating segment.

Our financial performance is highly dependent on our US operating segment, which comprised approximately three-quarters of consolidated total net revenues in fiscal 2010. Although the US segment's operating results have improved significantly, primarily due to our restructuring efforts (substantially completed in 2009) and to improved revenue trends, if the operational improvements are not sustained going forward and/or the revenue trends slow or decline, our business and financial results could be adversely affected.

- We are increasingly dependent on the success of our International operating segment in order to achieve our growth targets.

Our future growth increasingly depends on the growth and sustained profitability of the International operating segment. Some or all of our International market business units ("MBUs"), which we generally define by the countries or regions in which they operate, may not be successful in their operations or in achieving expected growth, which ultimately requires achieving consistent, stable net revenues and earnings. The performance of our International operating segment may be adversely affected by economic downturns in one or more of our large MBUs. In particular, our Canada, Japan and UK MBUs account for a significant portion of the net revenue and earnings of our International operating segment and a decline in the performance of any of these MBUs could have a material adverse impact on the results of operations of our International operating segment.

Additionally, some factors that will be critical to the success of International MBUs are different than those affecting our US stores and licensees. Tastes naturally vary by region, and consumers in new international markets into which we and our licensees expand may not embrace our products to the same extent as consumers in our existing markets. Occupancy costs and store operating expenses are also sometimes higher internationally than in the US due to higher rents for prime store locations or costs of compliance with country-specific regulatory requirements. Because many of our International operations are in an early phase of development, operating expenses as a percentage of related revenues are often higher compared to US operations.

Our International operations are also subject to additional inherent risks of conducting business abroad, such as:

- foreign currency exchange rate fluctuations;
- changes or uncertainties in economic, legal, regulatory, social and political conditions in our markets;
- interpretation and application of laws and regulations;
- restrictive actions of foreign or US governmental authorities affecting trade and foreign investment, including protective measures such as export and customs duties and tariffs, government intervention favoring local competitors, and restrictions on the level of foreign ownership;
- import or other business licensing requirements;
- the enforceability of intellectual property and contract rights;
- limitations on the repatriation of funds and foreign currency exchange restrictions;
- in developing economies, the growth rate in the portion of the population achieving targeted levels of disposable income may not be as fast as we forecast;
- difficulty in staffing, developing and managing foreign operations and supply chain logistics, including ensuring the consistency of product quality and service, due to distance, language and cultural differences;
- local laws that make it more expensive and complex to negotiate with, retain or terminate employees; and
- delays in store openings for reasons beyond our control, or a lack of desirable real estate locations available for lease at reasonable rates, either of which could keep us from meeting annual store opening targets and, in turn, negatively impact net revenues, operating income and earnings per share.

Moreover, many of the foregoing risks are particularly acute in developing countries, which are important to our long-term growth prospects.

- Increases in the cost of high-quality arabica coffee beans or other commodities or decreases in the availability of high quality arabica coffee beans or other commodities could have an adverse impact on our business and financial results.

We purchase, roast, and sell high-quality whole bean arabica coffee beans and related coffee products. The price of coffee is subject to significant volatility and, in fiscal 2010, the base “C” coffee commodity price increased markedly. The high-quality arabica coffee of the quality we seek tends to trade on a negotiated basis at a substantial premium above the “C” price. This premium depends upon the supply and demand at the time of purchase and the amount of the premium can vary significantly. Increases in the “C” coffee commodity price do increase the price of high-quality arabica coffee and also impact our ability to enter into fixed-price purchase commitments. The supply and price of coffee we purchase can also be affected by multiple factors in the producing countries, including weather, political and economic conditions, as well as the actions of certain organizations and associations that have historically attempted to influence prices of green coffee through agreements establishing export quotas or by restricting coffee supplies. Speculative trading in coffee commodities can also influence coffee prices. Because of the significance of coffee beans to our operations, combined with our ability to only partially mitigate future price risk through purchasing practices (see discussion of “Product Supply” in Item 1 above) and hedging activities, increases in the cost of high-quality arabica coffee beans could have an adverse impact on our profitability. In addition, if we are not able to purchase sufficient quantities of green coffee due to any of the above factors or to a worldwide or regional shortage, we may not be able to fulfill the demand for our coffee, which could have an adverse impact on our profitability.

In addition to coffee, we also purchase significant amounts of dairy products, particularly fluid milk, to support the needs of our company-operated retail stores. Although less material to our operations than coffee or dairy, other commodities including but not limited to those related to food inputs and energy, are important to our operations. Increases in the cost of dairy products and other commodities could have an adverse impact on our profitability.

- Failure to meet market expectations for our financial performance will likely adversely affect the market price and volatility of our stock.

Failure to meet market expectations going forward, particularly with respect to operating margins, earnings per share, comparable store sales, and net revenues, will likely result in a decline and/or increased volatility in the market price of our stock. In addition, price and volume fluctuations in the stock market as a whole may affect the market price of our stock in ways that may be unrelated to our financial performance.

- A regional or global health pandemic could severely affect our business.

A health pandemic is a disease outbreak that spreads rapidly and widely by infection and affects many individuals in an area or population at the same time. If a regional or global health pandemic were to occur, depending upon its duration and severity, our business could be severely affected. Customers might avoid public gathering places, such as our stores, in the event of a health pandemic, and governments might limit or ban public gatherings to halt or delay the spread of disease. A regional or global health pandemic might also adversely impact our business by disrupting or delaying production and delivery of materials and products in the supply chain and by causing staffing shortages in our stores. The impact of a health pandemic on us might be disproportionately greater than on other companies that depend less on the gathering of people together for the sale, use or license of their products and services.

- Our success depends substantially on the value of our brands.

We believe we have built an excellent reputation globally for the quality of our products, for delivery of a consistently positive consumer experience and for our corporate social responsibility programs. The Starbucks brand has been highly rated in several global brand value studies. To be successful in the future, particularly outside of US, where the Starbucks brand and our other brands are less well-known, we believe we must preserve, grow and leverage the value of our brands across all sales channels. Brand value is based in part on consumer perceptions on a variety of subjective qualities. Even isolated business incidents that erode consumer trust, particularly if the incidents receive considerable publicity or result in litigation, can significantly reduce brand value. Consumer demand for our products and our brand equity could diminish significantly if we fail to preserve the quality of our products, are perceived to act in an unethical or socially irresponsible manner or fail to deliver a consistently positive consumer experience in each of our markets.

- Our business depends in large part on the success of our business partners and suppliers, and our brand and reputation may be harmed by actions taken by third parties that are outside of our control.

Our business strategy, including our plans for new stores, foodservice, branded products and other initiatives, relies significantly on a variety of business partners, and licensee and partnership relationships, particularly in our International markets. Licensees are often authorized to use our logos and provide branded beverages, food and other products directly to customers. We provide training and support to, and monitor the operations of, these business partners, but the product quality and service they deliver may be diminished by any number of factors beyond our control, including financial pressures. We believe customers expect the same quality of products and service from our licensees as they do from us and we strive to ensure customers have the same experience whether they visit a company-operated or licensed store. Any shortcoming of a Starbucks business partner, particularly an issue affecting the quality of the service experience or the safety of beverages or food, may be attributed by customers to us, thus damaging our reputation and brand value and potentially affecting our results of operations.

Our products and, in particular, our coffee and tea products, are sourced from a wide variety of domestic and international business partners in our supply chain operations. We rely on these suppliers and vendors to provide high quality products and to comply with applicable laws. Our ability to find qualified suppliers and vendors who meet our standards and supply products in a timely and efficient manner is a significant challenge, especially with respect to goods sourced from outside the US. A vendor or supplier's failure to meet our standards, provide products in a timely and efficient manner, and comply with applicable laws is beyond our control. These issues could negatively impact our business and profitability.

- The loss of key personnel or difficulties recruiting and retaining qualified personnel could adversely impact our business and financial results.

Much of our future success depends on the continued availability and service of senior management personnel. The loss of any of our executive officers or other key senior management personnel could harm our business. We must continue to recruit, retain and motivate management and other employees sufficient both to maintain our current business and to execute our strategic initiatives, some of which involve ongoing expansion in business channels outside of our traditional company-operated store model. Our success also depends substantially on the contributions and abilities of our retail store employees who we rely on to give customers a superior in-store experience. Accordingly, our performance depends on our ability to recruit and retain high quality employees to work in and manage our stores. If we are unable to recruit, retain and motivate employees sufficient to maintain our current business and support our projected growth, our business and financial performance may be adversely affected.

- Adverse public or medical opinions about the health effects of consuming our products, as well as reports of incidents involving food-borne illnesses or food tampering, whether or not accurate, could harm our business.

Some of our products contain caffeine, dairy products, sugar and other active compounds, the health effects of which are the subject of public scrutiny, including the suggestion that excessive consumption of caffeine, dairy products, sugar and other active compounds can lead to a variety of adverse health effects. Particularly in the US, there is increasing consumer awareness of health risks, including obesity, due in part to increased publicity and attention from health organizations, as well as increased consumer litigation based on alleged adverse health impacts of consumption of various food products. While we have a variety of beverage and food items, including items that are low in caffeine and calories, an unfavorable report on the health effects of caffeine or other compounds present in our products, or negative publicity or litigation arising from certain health risks could significantly reduce the demand for our beverages and food products.

Similarly, instances or reports, whether true or not, of unclean water supply, food-borne illnesses and food tampering have in the past severely injured the reputations of companies in the food processing, grocery and quick-service restaurant sectors and could in the future affect us as well. Any report linking us to the use of unclean water, food-borne illnesses or food tampering could damage our brand value and severely hurt sales of our beverages and food products, and possibly lead to product liability claims. Clean water is critical to the preparation of specialty coffee beverages and our ability to ensure a clean water supply to our stores can be limited, particularly in some international locations. If customers become ill from food-borne illnesses, we could also be forced to temporarily close some stores. In addition, instances of food-borne illnesses or food tampering, even those occurring solely at the restaurants or stores of competitors, could, by resulting in negative publicity about the foodservice industry, adversely affect our sales on a regional or global basis. A decrease in customer traffic as a result of these health concerns or negative publicity, or as a result of a temporary closure of any of our stores, could materially harm our business and results of operations.

- Effectively managing growth is challenging and places significant strain on our management and employees and our operational, financial, and other resources.

Effectively managing growth can be challenging, particularly as we continue to expand into new channels outside the retail store model, increase our focus on our global consumer products business, and expand into new markets internationally where we must balance the need for flexibility and a degree of autonomy for local management against the need for consistency with our goals, philosophy and standards. Growth can make it increasingly difficult to ensure a consistent supply of high quality raw materials, to locate and hire sufficient numbers of key employees to meet our financial targets, to maintain an effective system of internal controls for a globally dispersed enterprise and to train employees worldwide to deliver a consistently high quality product and customer experience.

- If we pursue strategic acquisitions, divestitures or joint ventures, we may not be able to successfully consummate favorable transactions or successfully integrate acquired businesses.

From time to time we may evaluate potential acquisitions, divestitures, or joint ventures with third parties. These transactions create risks such as:

- disruption of our ongoing business, including loss of management focus on existing businesses;
- problems retaining key personnel;
- operating losses and expenses of the businesses we acquire or in which we invest;
- the potential impairment of tangible assets, intangible assets and goodwill acquired in the acquisitions;
- the difficulty of incorporating an acquired business into our business and unanticipated expenses related to such integration; and
- potential unknown liabilities associated with a business we acquire or in which we invest

In the event of any future acquisitions, we might need to issue additional equity securities, spend our cash, incur debt, or take on contingent liabilities, any of which could reduce our profitability and harm our business.

- We rely heavily on information technology in our operations, and any material failure, inadequacy, interruption or security failure of that technology could harm our ability to effectively operate our business.

We rely heavily on information technology systems across our operations, including for management of our supply chain, point-of-sale processing in our stores, Starbucks Cards, online business and various other processes and transactions. Our ability to effectively manage our business and coordinate the production, distribution and sale of our products depends significantly on the reliability and capacity of these systems. The failure of these systems to operate effectively, problems with transitioning to upgraded or replacement systems, or a breach in security of these systems could cause delays in product sales and reduced efficiency of our operations, and significant capital investments could be required to remediate the problem.

- Failure to comply with applicable laws and regulations could harm our business and financial results.

Our policies and procedures are designed to comply with all applicable laws, accounting and reporting requirements, regulations and tax requirements, including those imposed by the SEC, NASDAQ, and foreign countries, as well as applicable labor laws. The complexity of the regulatory environment in which we operate and the related cost of compliance are both increasing due to additional legal and regulatory requirements, our ongoing expansion into new markets and new channels, together with the fact that foreign laws occasionally conflict with domestic laws. Failure to comply with the various laws and regulations as well as changes in laws and regulations or the manner in which they are interpreted or applied, may result in damage to our reputation, civil and criminal liability, fines and penalties, increased cost of regulatory compliance and restatements of our financial statements.

- Deterioration in operating performance could lead to increased leverage, which may harm our financial condition and results of operations.

Any reduction in cash flow relative to the level of our financial obligations would result in an increase in leverage. Any increase in leverage could lead to deterioration in our credit ratings, which could limit the availability of additional financing and increase the cost of obtaining financing. In addition, an increase in leverage could raise the likelihood of a financial covenant breach which in turn could limit our access to existing funding under our credit facility.

Our ability to satisfy our operating lease obligations and make payments of principal and interest on our indebtedness depends on our future performance. Should we experience deterioration in operating performance, we will have less cash flow available to meet these obligations. In addition, if such deterioration were to lead to the closure of underperforming stores, we would need to fund the costs of terminating store leases. If we are unable to generate sufficient cash flow from operations in the future to satisfy these financial obligations, we may be required to, among other things:

- seek additional financing in the debt or equity markets;
- refinance or restructure all or a portion of our indebtedness;
- sell selected assets;
- discontinue our common stock dividend; or
- reduce or delay planned capital or operating expenditures.

Such measures might not be sufficient to enable us to satisfy our financial obligations. In addition, any such financing, refinancing or sale of assets might not be available on economically favorable terms.

General

Starbucks Corporation's fiscal year ends on the Sunday closest to September 30. The fiscal year ended on October 3, 2010 included 53 weeks with the 53rd week falling in our fourth fiscal quarter. Fiscal years ended on September 27, 2009 and September 28, 2008 both included 52 weeks. Comparable store sales percentages below are calculated excluding the 53rd week. All references to store counts, including data for new store openings, are reported net of related store closures, unless otherwise noted.

Financial Highlights

- Consolidated operating income was $1.4 billion for fiscal 2010 compared to $562 million in fiscal 2009, and the operating margin increased to 13.3% compared to 5.7% in fiscal 2009. The operating margin expansion was driven by increased sales leverage and the continued benefits from operational efficiencies. Comparable store sales growth at company-operated stores was 7% in fiscal 2010 compared to a decline of 6% in fiscal 2009. Lower restructuring charges in fiscal 2010 compared to the prior year also contributed approximately 290 basis points of the increase in operating margin.
- EPS for fiscal 2010 was $1.24, compared to EPS of $0.52 reported in fiscal 2009, with the increase driven by the improved sales leverage and the continued benefits from operational efficiencies. Restructuring charges impacted EPS by approximately $0.04 per share in fiscal 2010 and approximately $0.28 in fiscal 2009.
- Cash flow from operations was $1.7 billion in fiscal 2010 compared to $1.4 billion in fiscal 2009, and capital expenditures were approximately $440 million in both fiscal years. Available operating cash flow after capital expenditures during fiscal 2010 was directed at returning approximately $460 million of cash to our shareholders via share repurchases and dividends, and investing in short term investment grade securities.

Overview

Starbucks results for fiscal 2010 demonstrate the ongoing success of our efforts over the last two years to improve the health of our core business and to position the Company for sustained, profitable growth into the future. Strong comparable stores sales growth of 7% for the year (US 7% and International 6%), combined with a more efficient operating structure drove increased sales leverage and resulted in higher operating margins and net earnings. The operational improvements implemented throughout fiscal 2009 in our supply chain and company-operated stores have driven reduced product costs and store waste as well as in-store labor savings, concurrent with improved customer satisfaction scores. These improvements were partially offset by higher performance based compensation expenses in fiscal 2010 and by higher marketing expenses to support the launch of Starbucks VIA[®] Ready Brew in the grocery channel and the introduction of our new customizable Frappuccino[®] blended beverage. In our US business we will continue to refine our store efficiency efforts while pursuing a consistently high level of customer satisfaction.

While the reinvigorated US business has been the primary driver of Starbucks improved consolidated financial results, the profitability of our international business continues to improve, driven primarily by increased sales leverage and supply chain efficiencies. Our management continues to focus on our international business by leveraging the valuable lessons learned in the US. We intend to capitalize on the large expansion opportunities that exist outside the US, including continued growth and scale in our more mature existing markets, and emphasis on expansion in key emerging markets like China and Brazil.

Our global consumer products group ("CPG") represents another important profitable growth opportunity for us as we accelerate both product innovation and distribution. We are aggressively pursuing the opportunities beyond our more traditional store experience to offer consumers new coffee products in multiple forms, across new categories, and through diverse channels, leveraging our strong brand and established retail store base. Examples include the ongoing expansion of our successful Starbucks VIA[®] Ready Brew product and the ongoing growth in points of distribution for Seattle's Best Coffee.

Starbucks continues to generate strong operating cash flows, which provide us the financial flexibility to continue disciplined investment and spending in both our core business and new growth platforms, while also returning cash to shareholders. We generated $1.7 billion of operating cash flow in fiscal 2010 and finished the year with $1.4 billion in cash and short-term investments and no short-term debt. In fiscal 2010 we returned approximately $460 million of cash to our shareholders via share repurchases and dividends.

Fiscal 2011 — The View Ahead

- For fiscal 2011, we expect revenues to grow in the mid-to-high single digits based on a 52-week comparable year, driven by low to mid single-digit comparable store sales growth. We plan to open approximately 500 net new stores globally in fiscal 2011; approximately 100 in the U.S. and approximately 400 internationally, the majority of which are expected to be licensed stores.
- We expect modest improvement in our consolidated operating margin in fiscal 2011 compared to the prior year, given our current revenue expectations, our anticipation of no restructuring charges in fiscal 2011, along with ongoing marketing spend for Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew and higher coffee commodity costs.
- We expect capital expenditures to be approximately $550 million to $600 million for the full year.

Operating Segment Overview

Starbucks has three reportable operating segments: US, International, and CPG. In the fourth fiscal quarter of 2010, we changed the composition of our reportable segments by creating a Seattle's Best Coffee operating segment and reporting it with our unallocated corporate expenses and Digital Ventures in Other. Financial information for Seattle's Best Coffee was previously reported within the US, International, and CPG segments.

The US and International segments both include company-operated retail stores and licensed retail stores. Licensed stores generally have a higher operating margin than company-operated stores. Under the licensed model, Starbucks receives a reduced share of the total store revenues, but this is more than offset by the reduction in its share of costs as these are primarily borne by the licensee. The International segment has a higher relative share of licensed stores versus company-operated compared to the US segment; however, the US segment has been operating significantly longer than the International segment and has developed deeper awareness of, and attachment to, the Starbucks brand and stores among its customer base. As a result, the more mature US segment has significantly more stores, and higher total revenues than the International segment. Average sales per store are also higher in the US due to various factors including length of time in market and local income levels. Further, certain market costs, particularly occupancy costs, are lower in the US segment compared to the average for the International segment, which comprises a more diverse group of operations. As a result of the relative strength of the brand in the US segment, the number of stores, the higher unit volumes, and the lower market costs, the US segment, despite its higher relative percentage of company-operated stores, has a higher operating margin, excluding restructuring costs, than the less-developed International segment.

Starbucks International store base continues to expand and as we continue to focus on achieving sustainable growth from established international markets while at the same time investing in emerging markets, such as China and Brazil. Newer international markets require a more extensive support organization, relative to the current levels of revenue and operating income.

The CPG segment includes packaged coffee and tea and other branded products operations worldwide, and the US foodservice business. For over ten years through licensing relationships with Kraft Foods Global, Inc., we have sold a selection of Starbucks and Seattle's Best Coffee branded packaged coffees and Tazo® teas in grocery and warehouse club stores throughout the US, and to grocery stores in Canada, the UK and other European countries. Kraft has managed the distribution, marketing, advertising and promotion of these products. In the first quarter of fiscal 2011, Starbucks notified Kraft that we are discontinuing our licensing relationships. We intend to work closely with Kraft to ensure an orderly transition. We also sell packaged coffee and tea internationally directly to warehouse club stores, such as Costco Wholesale Corporation.

Our CPG segment also includes ready-to-drink beverages which are manufactured and distributed through The North American Coffee Partnership, a joint venture with the Pepsi-Cola Company. In the CPG segment, most of the customer revenues from the packaged coffee and ready-to-drink products are recognized as revenues by the licensed or joint venture business partner. Royalties and payments from our licensing agreements are recorded under licensing revenue, and the proportionate share of the results of the joint venture are included, on a net basis, in income from equity investees on the consolidated statements of earnings. The US foodservice business sells coffee and other related products to institutional foodservice companies with the majority of its sales through national broadline distribution networks. The CPG segment reflects relatively lower revenues, a modest cost structure, and a resulting higher operating margin, compared to the other two reporting segments, which consist primarily of retail stores.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS — FISCAL 2010 COMPARED TO FISCAL 2009

Consolidated results of operations (in millions):

Fiscal Year Ended	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009	% Change	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009
				% of Total Net Revenues

Total net revenues	$10,707.4	$9,774.6	9.5%	100.0%	100.0%

Consolidated net revenues were $10.7 billion for fiscal 2010, an increase of 9.5% over fiscal 2009. The increase was primarily due to an increase in company-operated retail revenues driven by a 7% increase in global comparable stores sales (contributing approximately $551 million). The increase in comparable store sales was due to a 4% increase in number of transactions (contributing approximately $298 million) and a 3% increase in average value per transaction (contributing approximately $253 million). Also contributing to the increase in revenues was the extra week in fiscal 2010 (approximately $207 million), foreign currency translation resulting from the weakening of the US dollar primarily in relation to the Canadian dollar (approximately $101 million), and the effect of consolidating our previous joint venture in France (approximately $87 million). This increase was partially offset by a net decrease of 72 company-operated stores from fiscal 2009 (approximately $119 million).

Fiscal Year Ended	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009
			% of Total Net Revenues

Supplemental ratios as a % of related revenues:
Store operating expenses			39.6%	41.9%
Other operating expenses			16.8%	16.6%

Cost of sales including occupancy costs as a percentage of total revenues decreased 260 basis points. The decrease was primarily driven by supply chain efficiencies which contributed to lower food costs (approximately 70 basis points) and lower beverage and paper packaging product costs (approximately 50 basis points). Also contributing to the decrease were lower occupancy costs as a percentage of total net revenues (approximately 80 basis points) primarily due to sales leverage.

Store operating expenses as a percentage of company-operated retail revenues decreased 230 basis points primarily due to increased sales leverage from increased revenues.

Restructuring charges include lease exit and related costs associated with the actions to rationalize our global store portfolio and reduce the global cost structure in fiscal 2009 and 2008. The restructuring charges incurred in fiscal 2010 reflect charges incurred on the previously announced store closures. With the previously-announced store closures essentially complete, we do not expect to report any further restructuring costs related to these activities.

Partially offsetting these favorable fluctuations were increased advertising costs included primarily in other operating expenses and higher performance based compensation expenses, which drove the 70 basis point increase in general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues.

Net interest income and other increased $13 million over the prior period. The increase was driven by the impact of an accounting gain recorded in the first quarter of fiscal 2010 related to our acquisition of a controlling interest in our previous joint venture operations in France. In accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”), the carrying value of the previously held joint venture interest was adjusted to fair value upon the acquisition of the controlling interest. Also contributing to the increase were favorable fluctuations in unrealized holding gains on our trading securities portfolio of approximately $10 million. The trading securities approximate a portion of the Company’s liability under the Management Deferred Compensation Plan (“MDCP”). The MDCP liability also increases and decreases with changes in investment performance, with this offsetting impact recorded in general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of earnings. This favorability was partially offset by unfavorable foreign currency fluctuations (approximately $11 million), which relate primarily to the revaluation of certain trade payables and receivables.

Income taxes for the fiscal year ended 2010 resulted in an effective tax rate of 34.0% compared to 30.1% for fiscal 2009. The lower rate in fiscal 2009 was primarily due to the benefits recognized for retroactive tax credits and an audit settlement. The effective tax rate for fiscal 2011 is expected to be in the range of 34% to 35%.

US net revenues increased primarily due to an increase in company-operated retail revenues of 7%. This increase is primarily due to a 7% increase in comparable store sales (contributing approximately $452 million), comprised of a 3% increase in transactions (contributing approximately $222 million), and a 4% increase in average value per transaction (contributing approximately $230 million). Also contributing to the increase in total net revenues was the extra week in fiscal 2010 (approximately $143 million), partially offset by a net decrease of 57 company-operated stores from fiscal 2009 (approximately $125 million).

Cost of sales including occupancy costs as a percentage of total revenues decreased by 330 basis points over the prior year. The decrease was primarily driven by supply chain efficiencies which contributed to lower food costs (approximately 90 basis points) and lower beverage and paper packaging product costs (approximately 60 basis points). Also contributing to the decrease were lower occupancy costs as a percentage of total net revenues (approximately 100 basis points) primarily due to sales leverage.

Store operating expenses as a percent of related retail revenues decreased 250 basis points primarily due to increased sales leverage.

Restructuring charges include lease exit and related costs associated with the actions to rationalize our global store portfolio. Restructuring charges in fiscal 2010 decreased $219 million from 2009 due to the completion of our restructuring efforts in the US during the current year.

International net revenues increased due to foreign currency translation resulting from the weakening of the US dollar primarily in relation to the Canadian dollar (approximately $101 million), comparable store sales of 6% (contributing approximately $99 million), the effect of consolidating our previous joint venture in France (approximately $87 million), and the extra week in fiscal 2010 (approximately $45 million). The increase in comparable store sales was due to a 5% increase in transactions (contributing approximately $78 million), and a 1% increase in average value per transaction (contributing approximately $21 million).

Cost of sales including occupancy costs as a percentage of total revenues decreased by 310 basis points compared to the prior year. The decrease was primarily driven by lower costs for food and beverage components resulting from supply chain efficiencies (approximately 120 basis points). Also contributing to the decrease were lower occupancy costs as a percentage of total net revenues (approximately 120 basis points) primarily due to sales leverage.

Store operating expenses as a percent of related retail revenues decreased 70 basis points primarily due to reduced impairments in fiscal 2010 compared to fiscal 2009.

Restructuring charges include lease exit and related costs associated with the actions to rationalize our global store portfolio. Restructuring charges in fiscal 2010 decreased slightly from 2009 due to the completion of our restructuring efforts internationally by the end of the current year.

Substantially all of net revenues in Other are generated from the Seattle's Best Coffee operating segment. The increase in revenues for Seattle's Best Coffee was primarily due to sales to new national accounts (contributing approximately $13 million).

Operating expenses included in Other relate to Seattle's Best Coffee and Digital Ventures as well as expenses pertaining to corporate administrative functions that support our operating segments but are not specifically attributable to or managed by any segment and are not included in the reported financial results of the operating segments. Total operating expenses increased $40.5 million primarily as a result of increased general and administrative expenses ($80 million) primarily due to higher performance-based compensation in 2010. This increase was partially offset by a decrease of $58 million in restructuring charges due to the completion of our restructuring activities within the non-store support organization.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS — FISCAL 2009 COMPARED TO FISCAL 2008

Total net revenues	$9,774.6	$10,383.0	(5.9)%	100.0%	100.0%

Company-operated retail revenues decreased from fiscal 2008, primarily attributable to a 6% decline in comparable store sales, comprised of a 4% decline in transactions and a 2% decline in the average value per transaction. Foreign currency translation also contributed to the decline with the effects of a stronger US dollar relative to the British pound and Canadian dollar. The weakness in consolidated comparable store sales was driven by the US segment, with a comparable store sales decline of 6% for the year. The International segment experienced a 2% decline in comparable store sales.

Cost of sales including occupancy costs decreased as a percentage of revenues primarily due to the implementation of in-store operational efficiencies designed to reduce product waste, and due to lower dairy costs in the US, partially offset by higher coffee costs.

Store operating expenses as a percentage of company-operated retail revenues decreased primarily due to reduced headcount and spending in the regional support organization as a result of our restructuring efforts, and the effect of initiatives to improve store labor efficiencies.

Restructuring charges include lease exit and related costs associated with the actions to rationalize our global store portfolio and reduce the global cost structure.

Operating margin expansion was primarily due to the improved labor efficiency and reduced product waste in company-operated stores, partially offset by increased restructuring charges.

Net interest income and other increased due primarily to the impact of foreign currency fluctuations on certain balance sheet amounts. Also contributing to the increase were lower unrealized market value losses on our trading securities portfolio compared to fiscal 2008. Interest expense decreased due to a lower average balance of short term borrowings and lower average short term borrowing rates in fiscal 2009 compared to the prior year. At the end of fiscal 2009, we had no short term debt.

The relatively low 2009 effective tax rate was primarily due to a tax benefit recognized for retroactive tax credits and an income tax credit related to the settlement of an employment tax audit in fiscal 2009. As a result of the audit settlement, approximately $17 million of expense was recorded in store operating expenses, with an offsetting income tax credit and no impact to net earnings.

Company-operated retail revenues decreased year over year primarily due to a 6% decrease in comparable store sales, comprised of a 4% decrease in transactions, and a 2% decrease in average value per transaction.

Operating margin expanded primarily due to lower store operating expenses, lower cost of sales including occupancy costs, and lower other operating expenses as a percentage of total revenues. This improvement was primarily due to operational changes designed to improve labor efficiency and reduce product waste in company-operated stores, and to lower non-store support costs. Partially offsetting the favorability were higher restructuring charges during the year. We incurred higher lease exit and related costs due to the higher number of actual store closures compared to the prior year period.

Company-operated retail revenues decreased primarily due to unfavorable foreign currency exchange rates, particularly for the British pound and Canadian dollar. Partially offsetting the decrease were the net new store openings during the fiscal year.

Specialty revenues decreased primarily due to continued softness in the hospitality industry and unfavorable foreign currency exchange rates.

Operating margin decreased primarily due to higher restructuring charges and higher store operating expenses as a percentage of total revenues. Restructuring charges of $27.0 million recognized during the year had a 50 basis point impact on operating margin compared to the prior year, due to the previously announced store closures. Higher store operating expenses as of percentage of company-operated retail revenues were driven by an increase in store impairment charges and a decline in sales leverage impacting salaries and benefits. Partially offsetting the decrease in operating margin were lower other operating expenses due to headcount reductions in the non-store support functions.

FINANCIAL CONDITION, LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Starbucks cash and short-term investments were $1.4 billion and $666 million as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, respectively. We actively manage our cash and short-term investments in order to internally fund operating needs, make scheduled interest and principal payments on our borrowings, and return cash to shareholders through common stock dividend payments and share repurchases. Our short-term investments consisted predominantly of US Treasury and US Agency securities.

Our portfolio of long-term available for sale securities consists predominantly of high investment-grade corporate bonds, diversified among industries and individual issuers. We also have investments in auction rate securities (“ARS”), nearly all of which are classified as long-term. ARS totaling $41 million and $56 million were outstanding as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, respectively. The reduction in ARS was due to $12 million in redemptions during the fiscal year with all redemptions done at par. While the ongoing auction failures will limit the liquidity of these ARS investments for some period of time, we do not believe the auction failures will materially impact our ability to fund our working capital needs, capital expenditures, shareholder dividends or other business requirements.

Starbucks $1 billion unsecured credit facility (the “2005 credit facility”) was available for working capital, capital expenditures, and other corporate purposes. In November of 2010, subsequent to the end of the 2010 fiscal year, we replaced the 2005 credit facility, which was scheduled to mature in August 2011. The new credit facility is described in more detail below. The 2005 credit facility was paired with a commercial paper program whereby we could issue unsecured commercial paper notes, up to a maximum amount outstanding at any time of $1 billion. The commercial paper program was secured by the credit facility, and the combined borrowing limit was $1 billion for the commercial paper program and the credit facility. During fiscal 2010 and 2009, there were no borrowings under the 2005 credit facility or commercial paper program. As of October 3, 2010, a total of $15 million in letters of credit were outstanding under our revolving credit facility.

The 2005 credit facility contained provisions requiring us to maintain compliance with certain covenants, including a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, we were in compliance with each of these covenants. The $550 million of 10-year 6.25% Senior Notes also require us to maintain compliance with certain covenants, including limits on future liens and sale and leaseback transactions on certain material properties. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, we were in compliance with each of these covenants.

In November of 2010, subsequent to the end of the 2010 fiscal year, we replaced the 2005 credit facility with a $500 million unsecured credit facility (the “2010 credit facility”) with various banks, of which $100 million may be used for issuances of letters of credit. The 2010 credit facility is available for working capital, capital expenditures and other corporate purposes, including acquisitions and share repurchases. The new 2010 credit facility is currently set to mature in November 2014. The interest rate for any borrowings under the credit facility, based on Starbucks current ratings and fixed charge coverage ratio, is 1.50% over LIBOR. The specific spread over LIBOR will depend upon our long-term credit ratings assigned by Moody's and Standard & Poor's rating agencies and our fixed charge coverage ratio. The credit facility contains provisions requiring us to maintain compliance with certain covenants, including a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio which measures our ability to cover financing expenses. Starbucks has the option, subject to negotiation and agreement with the related banks, to increase the maximum commitment amount by an additional $500 million. Under Starbucks commercial paper program we may issue unsecured commercial paper notes, up to a maximum aggregate amount outstanding at any time of $500 million, with individual maturities that may vary, but not exceed 397 days from the date of issue. The program is backstopped by the 2010 credit facility, and the combined borrowing limit is $500 million for the commercial paper program and the credit facility. Starbucks may issue commercial paper from time to time, and the proceeds of the commercial paper financing will be used for working capital needs, capital expenditures and other corporate purposes, including acquisitions and share repurchases.

We expect to use our cash and short-term investments, including any potential future borrowings under the credit facility and commercial paper program, to invest in our core businesses, including new product innovations and related marketing support, as well as other new business opportunities related to our core businesses. We believe that cash flow generated from operations and existing cash and short-term investments should be sufficient to finance capital requirements for our core businesses as well as shareholder distributions for the foreseeable future. We may use our available cash resources to make proportionate capital contributions to our equity method and cost method investees. Any decisions to increase ownership interest in our equity method investees or licensed operations will be driven by valuation and fit with our ownership strategy. Significant new joint ventures, acquisitions and/or other new business opportunities may require additional outside funding.

Other than normal operating expenses, cash requirements for fiscal 2011 are expected to consist primarily of capital expenditures for remodeling and refurbishment of, and equipment upgrades for, existing company-operated retail stores; systems and technology investments in the stores and in the support infrastructure; and new company-operated retail stores. Total capital expenditures for fiscal 2011 are expected to range from $550 million to $600 million.

In March 2010, Starbucks declared its first ever cash dividend to shareholders at $0.10 per share. This quarterly dividend was paid on April 23, 2010. The third quarter dividend was raised to $0.13 per share and was paid on August 20, 2010, bringing the total cash dividend payout for fiscal 2010 to $171 million. On September 14, 2010, we declared a cash dividend of $0.13 per share to be paid on December 3, 2010 with an expected payout of $97 million. Starbucks repurchased 11 million shares of common stock ($286 million) during fiscal 2010 under share repurchase authorizations. The number of remaining shares authorized for repurchase at the end of the fiscal year totaled 10 million. Subsequent to year end, on November 15, 2010 we announced an additional share repurchase authorization made by the Board of Directors in the amount of up to 10 million shares in addition to the 10 million remaining under the previous authorization.

Cash provided by operating activities was $1.7 billion for fiscal 2010 as compared to $1.4 billion for fiscal 2009. The increase was primarily due to higher net earnings for the period.

Cash used by investing activities for fiscal 2010 totaled $790 million as compared to $421 million in fiscal 2009. The increase results primarily from the use of a portion of our available cash balances to purchase US Agency and investment grade bonds. Capital expenditures in fiscal 2010 totaled $441 million, primarily for remodeling and renovating existing company-operated retail stores, opening new retail stores, and investment in information technology systems.

Cash used by financing activities for fiscal 2010 totaled $346 million as compared to $642 million in fiscal 2009. The change primarily reflects net repayments of commercial paper and short-term borrowings under the credit facility totaling $713 million in fiscal 2009, offset by dividend payments of $171 million and common share repurchases of $286 million in fiscal 2010.

The following table summarizes our contractual obligations and borrowings as of October 3, 2010, and the timing and effect that such commitments are expected to have on our liquidity and capital requirements in future periods (in millions):

Contractual Obligations ⁽¹⁾	Payments Due by Period
	Total	Less than 1 Year	1 - 3 Years	3 - 5 Years	More than 5 Years
Operating lease obligations ⁽²⁾	$4,084.2	$ 718.4	$1,279.4	$1,006.6	$1,079.8

Total	$5,595.9	$1,311.3	$1,422.8	$1,089.1	$1,772.7

(1) Income tax liabilities for uncertain tax positions were excluded as we are not able to make a reasonably reliable estimate of the amount and period of related future payments. As of October 3, 2010, we had $68.4 million of gross unrecognized tax benefits for uncertain tax positions.

(2) Amounts include the direct lease obligations, excluding any taxes, insurance and other related expenses.

(3) Debt amounts include principal maturities and scheduled interest payments on our long-term debt.

(4) Purchase obligations include agreements to purchase goods or services that are enforceable and legally binding on Starbucks and that specify all significant terms. Purchase obligations relate primarily to green coffee, with these amounts comprising approximately 90% of the total of this item.

(5) Other obligations include other long-term liabilities primarily consisting of asset retirement obligations, capital lease obligations and hedging instruments.

Starbucks currently expects to fund these commitments with operating cash flows generated in the normal course of business.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangement

Off-balance sheet arrangements relate to certain guarantees and are detailed in Note 17 to the consolidated financial statements in this 10-K.

COMMODITY PRICES, AVAILABILITY AND GENERAL RISK CONDITIONS

Commodity price risk represents Starbucks primary market risk, generated by our purchases of green coffee and dairy products, among other things. We purchase, roast and sell high-quality whole bean arabica coffee and related products and risk arises from the price volatility of green coffee. In addition to coffee, we also purchases significant amounts of dairy products to support the needs of our company-operated retail stores. The price and availability of these commodities directly impacts our results of operations and can be expected to impact our future results of operations. For additional details see Product Supply in Item 1, as well as Risk Factors in Item 1A of this 10-K.

FINANCIAL RISK MANAGEMENT

Market risk is defined as the risk of losses due to changes in commodity prices, foreign currency exchange rates, equity security prices, and interest rates. We manage our exposure to various market-based risks according to an umbrella risk management policy. Under this policy, market-based risks are quantified and evaluated for potential mitigation strategies, such as entering into hedging transactions. The umbrella risk management policy governs the hedging instruments the business may use and limits the risk to net earnings. We also monitor and limit the amount of associated counterparty credit risk. Additionally, this policy restricts, among other things, the amount of market-based risk we will tolerate before implementing approved hedging strategies and prohibits speculative trading activity. In general, hedging instruments do not have maturities in excess of five years.

The sensitivity analyses disclosed below provide only a limited, point-in-time view of the market risk of the financial instruments discussed. The actual impact of the respective underlying rates and price changes on the financial instruments may differ significantly from those shown in the sensitivity analyses.

Commodity Price Risk

We purchase commodity inputs, including coffee, dairy products and diesel that are used in our operations and are subject to price fluctuations that impact our financial results. In addition to fixed-price and price-to-be-fixed contracts for coffee purchases, we have entered into commodity hedges to manage commodity price risk using financial derivative instruments. We performed a sensitivity analysis based on a 10% change in the underlying commodity prices of our commodity hedges, as of the end of fiscal 2010, and determined that such a change would not have a significant effect on the fair value of these instruments.

Foreign Currency Exchange Risk

The majority of our revenue, expense and capital purchasing activities are transacted in US dollars. However, because a portion of our operations consists of activities outside of the US, we have transactions in other currencies, primarily the Canadian dollar, British pound, euro, and Japanese yen. As a result, we may engage in transactions involving various derivative instruments to hedge revenues, inventory purchases, assets, and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies.

As of October 3, 2010, Starbucks had forward foreign exchange contracts that hedge portions of anticipated international revenue streams and inventory purchases. In addition, we had forward foreign exchange contracts that qualify as accounting hedges of our net investment in Starbucks Japan to minimize foreign currency exposure.

Starbucks also had forward foreign exchange contracts that are not designated as hedging instruments for accounting purposes (free standing derivatives), but which largely offset the financial impact of translating certain foreign currency denominated payables and receivables. Increases or decreases in the fair value of these hedges are generally offset by corresponding decreases or increases in the US dollar value of our foreign currency denominated payables and receivables (i.e. “hedged items”) that would occur within the hedging period.

The following table summarizes the potential impact to Starbucks future net earnings and other comprehensive income (“OCI”) from changes in the fair value of these derivative financial instruments due in turn to a change in the value of the US dollar as compared to the level of foreign exchange rates. The information provided below relates only to the hedging instruments and does not represent the corresponding changes in the underlying hedged items (in millions):

October 3, 2010

	Increase/(Decrease) to Net Earnings		Increase/(Decrease) to OCI
	10% Increase in Underlying Rate	10% Decrease in Underlying Rate	10% Increase in Underlying Rate	10% Decrease in Underlying Rate
Foreign currency hedges	$46	$(46)	$13	$(13)

Equity Security Price Risk

We have minimal exposure to price fluctuations on equity mutual funds and equity exchange-traded funds within our trading portfolio. The trading securities approximate a portion of our liability under the MDCP. A corresponding liability is included in accrued compensation and related costs on the consolidated balance sheets. These investments are recorded at fair value with unrealized gains and losses recognized in net interest income and other in the consolidated statements of earnings. The offsetting changes in the MDCP liability are recorded in general and administrative expenses. We performed a sensitivity analysis based on a 10% change in the underlying equity prices of our investments as of the end of fiscal 2010 and determined that such a change would not have a significant effect on the fair value of these instruments.

Interest Rate Risk

We utilize short-term and long-term financing and may use interest rate hedges to manage the effect of interest rate changes on our existing debt as well as the anticipated issuance of new debt. At the end of fiscal years 2010 and 2009, we did not have any interest rate hedge agreements outstanding.

The following table summarizes the impact of a change in interest rates on the fair value of Starbucks debt (in millions):

October 3, 2010

	Fair Value	Change in Fair Value
		100 Basis Point Increase in Underlying Rate	100 Basis Point Decrease in Underlying Rate
Debt	$637	$(36)	$36

Our available-for-sale securities comprise a diversified portfolio consisting mainly of fixed income instruments. The primary objectives of these investments are to preserve capital and liquidity. As of October 3, 2010, our long-term available-for-sale securities included ARS. Please see Note 3 for further information. Available-for-sale securities are recorded on the consolidated balance sheets at fair value with unrealized gains and losses reported as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income. We do not hedge the interest rate exposure on our available-for-sale securities. We performed a sensitivity analysis based on a 100 basis point change in the underlying interest rate of our available-for-sale securities as of the end of fiscal 2010, and determined that such a change would not have a significant effect on the fair value of these instruments.

APPLICATION OF CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Critical accounting policies are those that management believes are both most important to the portrayal of our financial condition and results and require the most difficult, subjective or complex judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain. Judgments and uncertainties affecting the application of those policies may result in materially different amounts being reported under different conditions or using different assumptions.

We consider our policies on asset impairment, goodwill, stock-based compensation, operating leases, self insurance reserves and income taxes to be the most critical in understanding the judgments that are involved in preparing our consolidated financial statements.

Asset Impairment

When facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying values of long-lived assets may not be recoverable, we evaluate long-lived assets for impairment. We first compare the carrying value of the asset to the asset's estimated future cash flows (undiscounted). If the estimated future cash flows are less than the carrying value of the asset, we calculate an impairment loss based on the asset's estimated fair value. For store assets, the fair value of the assets is estimated using a discounted cash flow model based on future store revenues and operating costs, using internal projections. For other assets, we use the valuation approach that is appropriate given the relevant facts and circumstances.

Our impairment loss calculations contain uncertainties because they require management to make assumptions and to apply judgment to estimate future cash flows and asset fair values, including forecasting asset useful lives. Further, our ability to realize undiscounted cash flows in excess of the carrying values of our assets is affected by factors such as the ongoing maintenance and improvement of the assets, changes in economic conditions, and changes in operating performance. As we periodically reassess estimated future cash flows and asset fair values, changes in our estimates and assumptions may cause us to realize material impairment charges in the future.

Goodwill Impairment

We test goodwill for impairment on an annual basis, or more frequently if circumstances, such as material deterioration in performance or a significant number of store closures, indicate reporting unit carrying values may exceed their fair values. If the carrying amount of goodwill exceeds the implied estimated fair value, an impairment charge to current operations is recorded to reduce the carrying value to the implied estimated fair value. We conduct our annual goodwill impairment test for consolidated entities in our third fiscal quarter.

Our impairment loss calculations contain uncertainties because they require management to make assumptions and to apply judgment to estimate the fair value of our reporting units, including estimating future cash flows, and if necessary, the fair value of a reporting units' assets and liabilities. Further, our ability to realize the future cash flows used in our fair value calculations is affected by factors such as changes in economic conditions, changes in our operating performance, and changes in our business strategies. As we periodically reassess our fair value calculations, including estimated future cash flows, changes in our estimates and assumptions may cause us to realize material impairment charges in the future.

As a part of Starbucks ongoing operations, we may close certain stores within a reporting unit containing goodwill due to underperformance of the store or inability to renew our lease, among other reasons. We abandon certain assets associated with a closed store including leasehold improvements and other non-transferrable assets. Under GAAP, when a portion of a reporting unit that constitutes a business is to be disposed of, goodwill associated with the business is included in the carrying amount of the business in determining any loss on disposal. Our evaluation of whether the portion of a reporting unit being disposed of constitutes a business occurs on the date of abandonment. Although an operating store meets the accounting definition of a business prior to abandonment, it does not constitute a business on the closure date because the remaining assets on that date do not constitute an integrated set of assets that are capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return to investors. As a result, when closing individual stores, we do not include goodwill in the calculation of any loss on disposal of the related assets. As noted above, if store closures are indicative of potential impairment of goodwill at the reporting unit level, we perform an evaluation of our reporting unit goodwill when such closures occur.

Stock-based Compensation

We measure the fair value of stock awards at the grant date based on the fair value of the award and recognize the expense over the related service period. For stock option awards we use the Black-Scholes-Merton option pricing model which requires the input of subjective assumptions. These assumptions include estimating the length of time employees will retain their stock options before exercising them ("expected term"), the estimated volatility of our common stock price over the expected term and the expected dividend yield. In addition, we are required to estimate the expected forfeiture rate and only recognize expense for those stock awards expected to vest. We estimate the forfeiture rate based on historical experience. Changes in our assumptions could materially affect the estimate of fair value of stock-based compensation; however, a 10% change in our critical assumptions including volatility and expected term would not have a material impact for fiscal year 2010.

Operating Leases

We lease retail stores, roasting and distribution facilities and office space under operating leases. We provide for an estimate of asset retirement obligation ("ARO") expense at the lease inception date for operating leases with requirements to remove leasehold improvements at the end of the lease term. Estimating AROs involves subjective assumptions regarding both the amount and timing of actual future retirement costs. Future actual costs could differ significantly from amounts initially estimated. In addition, the large number of operating leases and the significant number of international markets in which we have operating leases adds administrative complexity to the calculation of ARO expense, as well as to the other technical accounting requirements of operating leases such as contingent rent. Estimating the cost of certain lease exit costs involves subjective assumptions, including the time it would take to sublease the leased location and the related potential sublease income. The estimated accruals for these costs could be significantly affected if future experience differs from that used in the initial estimate.

Self Insurance Reserves

We use a combination of insurance and self-insurance mechanisms, including a wholly owned captive insurance entity and participation in a reinsurance treaty, to provide for the potential liabilities for certain risks, including workers' compensation, healthcare benefits, general liability, property insurance, and director and officers' liability insurance. Liabilities associated with the risks that are retained by Starbucks are not discounted and are estimated, in part, by considering historical claims experience, demographic factors, severity factors and other actuarial assumptions. The estimated accruals for these liabilities could be significantly affected if future occurrences and claims differ from these assumptions and historical trends.

Income Taxes

We recognize deferred tax assets and liabilities based on the differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the respective tax bases of our assets and liabilities. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using current enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years in which we expect the temporary differences to reverse. We routinely evaluate the likelihood of realizing the benefit of our deferred tax assets and may record a valuation allowance if, based on all available evidence, we determine that some portion of the tax benefit will not be realized.

In addition, our income tax returns are periodically audited by domestic and foreign tax authorities. These audits include questions regarding our tax filing positions, including the timing and amount of deductions taken and the allocation of income among various tax jurisdictions. We evaluate our exposures associated with our various tax filing positions and record a related liability. We adjust our liability for unrecognized tax benefits and income tax provision in the period in which an uncertain tax position is effectively settled, the statute of limitations expires for the relevant taxing authority to examine the tax position, or when more information becomes available.

Deferred tax asset valuation allowances and our liability for unrecognized tax benefits require significant management judgment regarding applicable statutes and their related interpretation, the status of various income tax audits, and our particular facts and circumstances. We believe that our estimates are reasonable; however, actual results could differ from these estimates.

STARBUCKS CORPORATION
NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Fiscal Years ended October 3, 2010, September 27, 2009 and September 28, 2008

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Description of Business

Starbucks purchases and roasts high-quality whole bean coffees and sells them, along with handcrafted coffee and tea beverages and a variety of fresh food items, through its company-operated retail stores. We also sell coffee and tea products and license our trademarks through other channels such as licensed stores, and through certain of our licensees and equity investees, we produce and sell a variety of ready-to-drink beverages. All channels outside the company-operated retail stores are collectively known as specialty operations. Additional details on the nature of our business are in Item 1 of this 10-K.

In this 10-K, Starbucks Corporation (together with its subsidiaries) is referred to as “Starbucks,” the “Company,” “we,” “us” or “our”.

We have three reportable operating segments: United States (“US”), International, and Global Consumer Products Group (“CPG”).

Principles of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements reflect the financial position and operating results of Starbucks, including wholly owned subsidiaries and investees controlled by us. Investments in entities that we do not control, but have the ability to exercise significant influence over operating and financial policies, are accounted for under the equity method. Investments in entities in which we do not have the ability to exercise significant influence are accounted for under the cost method. Intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

Fiscal Year End

Our fiscal year ends on the Sunday closest to September 30. Fiscal year 2010 included 53 weeks, with the 53rd week falling in the fourth fiscal quarter. Fiscal years 2009 and 2008 included 52 weeks.

Estimates and Assumptions

Preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (“GAAP”) requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, revenues and expenses. Examples include, but are not limited to, estimates for asset and goodwill impairments, stock-based compensation forfeiture rates, and future asset retirement obligations; assumptions underlying self-insurance reserves; and the potential outcome of future tax consequences of events that have been recognized in the financial statements. Actual results and outcomes may differ from these estimates and assumptions.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

We consider all highly liquid instruments with a maturity of three months or less at the time of purchase to be cash equivalents. We maintain cash and cash equivalent balances with financial institutions that exceed federally insured limits. We have not experienced any losses related to these balances, and management believes its credit risk to be minimal.

Cash Management

Our cash management system provides for the funding of all major bank disbursement accounts on a daily basis as checks are presented for payment. Under this system, outstanding checks are in excess of the cash balances at certain banks, which creates book overdrafts. Book overdrafts are presented as a current liability in accounts payable on the consolidated balance sheets.

Short-term and Long-term Investments

Our short-term and long-term investments consist primarily of investment grade debt securities, all of which are classified as available-for-sale. We have investments in auction rate securities within the long-term investment portfolio. Our trading portfolio is primarily comprised of equity mutual funds and equity exchange-traded funds. Trading securities are recorded at fair value with unrealized holding gains and losses included in net earnings. Available-for-sale securities are recorded at fair value, and unrealized holding gains and losses are recorded, net of tax, as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income. Available-for-sale securities with remaining maturities of less than one year and those identified by management at time of purchase for funding operations in less than one year are classified as short term, and all other available-for-sale securities are classified as long term. Unrealized losses are charged against net earnings when a decline in fair value is determined to be other than temporary. Management reviews several factors to determine whether a loss is other than temporary, such as the length and extent of the fair value decline, the financial condition and near term prospects of the issuer, and for equity investments, our intent and ability to hold the security for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in fair value. For debt securities, management also evaluates whether we have the intent to sell or will likely be required to sell before their anticipated recovery, which may be at maturity. Realized gains and losses are accounted for using the specific identification method. Purchases and sales are recorded on a trade date basis.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments and Equity and Cost Investments

The carrying value of cash and cash equivalents approximates fair value because of the short-term maturity of those instruments. The fair value of our investments in marketable debt and equity securities, equity mutual funds and equity exchange-traded funds is based upon the quoted market price on the last business day of the fiscal year. Where an observable quoted market price for a security does not exist, we estimate fair value using a variety of valuation methodologies, which include observable inputs for comparable instruments and unobservable inputs. The specific methodologies include comparing the security with securities of publicly traded companies in similar lines of business, applying revenue multiples to estimated future operating results and estimating discounted cash flows. The fair value of our long-term debt is estimated based on the quoted market prices for the same or similar issues or on the current rates offered to us for debt of the same remaining maturities.

We measure our equity and cost method investments at fair value on a nonrecurring basis when they are determined to be other-than temporarily impaired. Fair values are determined using available quoted market prices or standard valuation techniques, including discounted cash flows, comparable transactions, and comparable company analyses.

Derivative Instruments

We manage our exposure to various risks within the consolidated financial statements according to an umbrella risk management policy. Under this policy, Starbucks may engage in transactions involving various derivative instruments, with maturities generally not longer than five years, to hedge interest rates, commodity prices and foreign currency denominated revenues, purchases, assets and liabilities.

We record all derivatives on the balance sheets at fair value. For a cash flow hedge, the effective portion of the derivative's gain or loss is initially reported as a component of other comprehensive income ("OCI") and subsequently reclassified into net earnings when the hedged exposure affects net earnings. For a net investment hedge, the effective portion of the derivative's gain or loss is reported as a component of OCI.

Cash flow hedges related to anticipated transactions are designated and documented at the inception of each hedge by matching the terms of the contract to the underlying transaction. We classify the cash flows from hedging transactions in the same categories as the cash flows from the respective hedged items. Once established, cash flow hedges are generally not removed until maturity unless an anticipated transaction is no longer likely to occur. For discontinued or dedesignated cash flow hedges, the related accumulated derivative gains or losses are recognized in net interest income and other on the consolidated statements of earnings.

Forward contract effectiveness for cash flow hedges is calculated by comparing the fair value of the contract to the change in value of the anticipated transaction using forward rates on a monthly basis. For net investment hedges, the spot-to-spot method is used to calculate effectiveness. Under this method, the change in fair value of the forward contract attributable to the changes in spot exchange rates (the effective portion) is reported as a component of OCI. The remaining change in fair value of the forward contract (the ineffective portion) is reclassified into net earnings. Any ineffectiveness is recognized immediately in net interest income and other on the consolidated statements of earnings.

We also enter into certain foreign currency forward contracts, commodity swap contracts, and futures contracts that are not designated as hedging instruments for accounting purposes. These contracts are recorded at fair value, with the changes in fair value recognized in net interest income and other on the consolidated statements of earnings.

Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Allowance for doubtful accounts is calculated based on historical experience, customer credit risk and application of the specific identification method. As of October 3, 2010, September 27, 2009, and September 28, 2008, the allowance for doubtful accounts was $3.3 million, $5.0 million and $4.5 million, respectively.

Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of cost (primarily moving average cost) or market. We record inventory reserves for obsolete and slow-moving items and for estimated shrinkage between physical inventory counts. Inventory reserves are based on inventory turnover trends, historical experience and application of the specific identification method. As of October 3, 2010, September 27, 2009, and September 28, 2008, inventory reserves were $18.1 million, $21.1 million, and $25.5 million, respectively.

Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation of property, plant and equipment, which includes assets under capital leases, is provided on the straight-line method over estimated useful lives, generally ranging from two to seven years for equipment and 30 to 40 years for buildings. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the shorter of their estimated useful lives or the related lease life, generally 10 years. For leases with renewal periods at our option, we generally use the original lease term, excluding renewal option periods, to determine estimated useful lives. If failure to exercise a renewal option imposes an economic penalty to us, we may determine at the inception of the lease that renewal is reasonably assured and include the renewal option period in the determination of appropriate estimated useful lives. The portion of depreciation expense related to production and distribution facilities is included in cost of sales including occupancy costs on the consolidated statements of earnings. The costs of repairs and maintenance are expensed when incurred, while expenditures for refurbishments and improvements that significantly add to the productive capacity or extend the useful life of an asset are capitalized. When assets are retired or sold, the asset cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated with any remaining gain or loss reflected in net earnings.

Goodwill

We test goodwill for impairment on an annual basis, or more frequently if circumstances, such as material deterioration in performance or a significant number of store closures, indicate reporting unit carrying values may exceed their fair values. If the carrying amount of goodwill exceeds the implied estimated fair value, an impairment charge to current operations is recorded to reduce the carrying value to the implied estimated fair value.

As a part of Starbucks ongoing operations, we may close certain stores within a reporting unit containing goodwill due to underperformance of the store or inability to renew our lease, among other reasons. We abandon certain assets associated with a closed store including leasehold improvements and other non-transferrable assets. Under GAAP, when a portion of a reporting unit that constitutes a business is to be disposed of, goodwill associated with the business is included in the carrying amount of the business in determining any loss on disposal. Our evaluation of whether the portion of a reporting unit being disposed of constitutes a business occurs on the date of abandonment. Although an operating store meets the accounting definition of a business prior to abandonment, it does not constitute a business on the closure date because the remaining assets on that date do not constitute an integrated set of assets that are capable of being conducted and managed for the purpose of providing a return to investors. As a result, when closing individual stores, we do not include goodwill in the calculation of any loss on disposal of the related assets. As noted above, if store closures are indicative of potential impairment of goodwill at the reporting unit level, we perform an evaluation of our reporting unit goodwill when such closures occur.

We conduct our annual goodwill impairment test for consolidated entities in our third fiscal quarter.

Other Intangible Assets

Other intangible assets consist primarily of trademarks with indefinite lives which are tested for impairment annually or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the asset might be impaired. Definite-lived intangible assets, which mainly consist of contract-based patents and copyrights, are amortized over their estimated useful lives, and are tested for impairment when facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying values may not be recoverable. Based on the impairment tests performed there was no impairment of other intangible assets in fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008.

Long-lived Assets

When facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying values of long-lived assets may not be recoverable, we evaluate long-lived assets for impairment. We first compare the carrying value of the asset to the asset's estimated future cash flows (undiscounted). If the estimated future cash flows are less than the carrying value of the asset, we calculate an impairment loss based on the asset's estimated fair value. The fair value of the assets is estimated using a discounted cash flow model based on future store revenues and operating costs, using internal projections. Property, plant and equipment assets are grouped at the lowest level for which there are identifiable cash flows when assessing impairment. Cash flows for retail assets are identified at the individual store level. Long-lived assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of their carrying amount, or fair value less estimated costs to sell.

We recognized net impairment and disposition losses of $67.7 million, $224.4 million and $325.0 million in fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively, primarily due to underperforming company-operated retail stores. The net losses in fiscal 2009 and 2008 include $129.2 million and $201.6 million, respectively, of asset impairments related primarily to the US and International store closures as part of Starbucks store portfolio rationalization which began in fiscal 2008. Depending on the underlying asset that is impaired, these losses may be recorded in any one of the operating expense lines on the consolidated statements of earnings: for retail operations, the net impairment and disposition losses are recorded in restructuring charges and store operating expenses; for specialty operations, these losses are recorded in restructuring charges and other operating expenses; and for all other operations, these losses are recorded in cost of sales including occupancy costs, general and administrative expenses, or restructuring charges.

Insurance Reserves

We use a combination of insurance and self-insurance mechanisms, including a wholly owned captive insurance entity and participation in a reinsurance treaty, to provide for the potential liabilities for certain risks, including workers' compensation, healthcare benefits, general liability, property insurance, and director and officers' liability insurance. Liabilities associated with the risks that are retained by us are not discounted and are estimated, in part, by considering historical claims experience, demographic factors, severity factors and other actuarial assumptions.

Revenue Recognition

Consolidated revenues are presented net of intercompany eliminations for wholly owned subsidiaries and investees controlled by us and for licensees accounted for under the equity method, based on our percentage ownership. Additionally, consolidated revenues are recognized net of any discounts, returns, allowances and sales incentives, including coupon redemptions and rebates.

Stored Value Cards

Revenues from our stored value cards, such as Starbucks Cards, are recognized when tendered for payment, or upon redemption. Outstanding customer balances are included in deferred revenue on the consolidated balance sheets. There are no expiration dates on our stored value cards, and we do not charge any service fees that cause a decrement to customer balances.

While we will continue to honor all stored value cards presented for payment, management may determine the likelihood of redemption to be remote for certain cards due to, among other things, long periods of inactivity. In these circumstances, if management also determines there is no requirement for remitting balances to government agencies under unclaimed property laws, card balances may then be recognized in the consolidated statements of earnings, in net interest income and other. For the fiscal years ended October 3, 2010, September 27, 2009 and September 28, 2008, income recognized on unredeemed stored value card balances was $31.2 million, $26.0 million and $13.6 million, respectively.

Customers in the US who register their Starbucks Card are automatically enrolled in the My Starbucks Reward program and earn points (“stars”) with each purchase. A free beverage coupon is issued to the customer once 15 points have been accumulated. The value of points earned by our program members is included in deferred revenue and recorded as a reduction in revenue at the time the points are earned, based on the value of points that are projected to be redeemed.

Retail Revenues

Company-operated retail store revenues are recognized when payment is tendered at the point of sale. We maintain a sales return allowance to reduce retail revenues for estimated future product returns based on historical patterns. Retail store revenues are reported net of sales, use or other transaction taxes that are collected from customers and remitted to taxing authorities.

Specialty Revenues

Specialty revenues consist primarily of product sales to customers other than through company-operated retail stores, as well as royalties and other fees generated from licensing operations. Sales of coffee, tea and related products are generally recognized upon shipment to customers, depending on contract terms. Shipping charges billed to customers are also recognized as revenue, and the related shipping costs are included in cost of sales including occupancy costs on the consolidated statements of earnings.

Specific to retail store licensing arrangements, initial nonrefundable development fees are recognized upon substantial performance of services for new market business development activities, such as initial business, real estate and store development planning, as well as providing operational materials and functional training courses for opening new licensed retail markets. Additional store licensing fees are recognized when new licensed stores are opened. Royalty revenues based upon a percentage of reported sales and other continuing fees, such as marketing and service fees, are recognized on a monthly basis when earned. For certain licensing arrangements, where we intend to acquire an ownership interest, the initial nonrefundable development fees are deferred to other long-term liabilities on the consolidated balance sheets until acquisition, at which point the fees are reflected as a reduction of our investment.

Other arrangements involving multiple elements and deliverables as well as upfront fees are individually evaluated for revenue recognition. Cash payments received in advance of product or service delivery are recorded in deferred revenue until earned.

Advertising

We expense most advertising costs as they are incurred, except for certain production costs that are expensed the first time the advertising campaign takes place.

Advertising expenses, recorded in store operating expenses, other operating expenses and general and administrative expenses on the consolidated statements of earnings, totaled $176.2 million, $126.3 million and $129.0 million in fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, $5.6 million and $7.2 million, respectively, of capitalized advertising costs were recorded on the consolidated balance sheets.

Store Preopening Expenses

Costs incurred in connection with the start-up and promotion of new store openings are expensed as incurred.

Operating Leases

We lease retail stores, roasting, distribution and warehouse facilities, and office space under operating leases. Most lease agreements contain tenant improvement allowances, rent holidays, lease premiums, rent escalation clauses and/or contingent rent provisions. For purposes of recognizing incentives, premiums and minimum rental expenses on a straight-line basis over the terms of the leases, we use the date of initial possession to begin amortization, which is generally when we enter the space and begin to make improvements in preparation of intended use.

For tenant improvement allowances and rent holidays, we record a deferred rent liability in accrued occupancy costs and other long-term liabilities on the consolidated balance sheets and amortize the deferred rent over the terms of the leases as reductions to rent expense on the consolidated statements of earnings.

For premiums paid upfront to enter a lease agreement, we record a deferred rent asset in prepaid expenses and other current assets and other assets on the consolidated balance sheets and then amortize the deferred rent over the terms of the leases as additional rent expense on the consolidated statements of earnings.

For scheduled rent escalation clauses during the lease terms or for rental payments commencing at a date other than the date of initial occupancy, we record minimum rental expenses on a straight-line basis over the terms of the leases on the consolidated statements of earnings.

Certain leases provide for contingent rents, which are determined as a percentage of gross sales in excess of specified levels. We record a contingent rent liability in accrued occupancy costs on the consolidated balance sheets and the corresponding rent expense when specified levels have been achieved or when we determine that achieving the specified levels during the fiscal year is probable.

When ceasing operations in company-operated stores under operating leases, in cases where the lease contract specifies a termination fee due to the landlord, we record such expense at the time written notice is given to the landlord. In cases where terms, including termination fees, are yet to be negotiated with the landlord, we will record the expense upon signing of an agreement with the landlord. In cases where the landlord does not allow us to prematurely exit the lease, but allows for subleasing, we estimate the fair value of any sublease income that can be generated from the location and expense the present value of the excess of remaining lease payments to the landlord over the projected sublease income at the cease-use date.

Asset Retirement Obligations

We recognize a liability for the fair value of required asset retirement obligations (“ARO”) when such obligations are incurred. Our AROs are primarily associated with leasehold improvements which, at the end of a lease, we are contractually obligated to remove in order to comply with the lease agreement. At the inception of a lease with such conditions, we record an ARO liability and a corresponding capital asset in an amount equal to the estimated fair value of the obligation. The liability is estimated based on a number of assumptions requiring management’s judgment, including store closing costs, cost inflation rates and discount rates, and is accreted to its projected future value over time. The capitalized asset is depreciated using the convention for depreciation of leasehold improvement assets. Upon satisfaction of the ARO conditions, any difference between the recorded ARO liability and the actual retirement costs incurred is recognized as an operating gain or loss in the consolidated statements of earnings. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, our net ARO asset included in property, plant and equipment was $13.7 million and $15.1 million, respectively, while our net ARO liability included in other long-term liabilities was $47.7 million and $43.4 million, as of the same respective dates.

Stock-based Compensation

Starbucks maintains several equity incentive plans under which we may grant non-qualified stock options, incentive stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units (“RSUs”) or stock appreciation rights to employees, non-employee directors and consultants. We also have employee stock purchase plans (“ESPP”). RSUs issued by us are equivalent to nonvested shares under the applicable accounting guidance.

Foreign Currency Translation

Our international operations generally use their local currency as their functional currency. Assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Income and expense accounts are translated at the average monthly exchange rates during the year. Resulting translation adjustments are recorded as a component of accumulated other comprehensive income on the consolidated balance sheets.

Income Taxes

We compute income taxes using the asset and liability method, under which deferred income taxes are provided for the temporary differences between the financial statement carrying amounts and the tax basis of our assets and liabilities. We will establish a valuation allowance for deferred tax assets if it is more likely than not that these items will either expire before Starbucks is able to realize their benefits, or that future deductibility is uncertain. Periodically, the valuation allowance is reviewed and adjusted based on management’s assessments of realizable deferred tax assets. We recognize the tax benefit from an uncertain tax position only if it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained on examination by the taxing authorities, based on the technical merits of the position. The tax benefits recognized in the financial statements from such a position are measured based on the largest benefit that has a greater than 50% likelihood of being realized upon ultimate settlement. Starbucks recognizes interest and penalties related to income tax matters in income tax expense.

Earnings per Share

Basic earnings per share is computed on the basis of the weighted average number of shares and common stock units that were outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per share includes the dilutive effect of common stock equivalents consisting of certain shares subject to stock options and RSUs, using the treasury stock method. Performance-based RSUs are considered dilutive when the related performance criterion has been met.

Common Stock Share Repurchases

We may repurchase shares of Starbucks common stock under a program authorized by our Board of Directors, including pursuant to a contract, instruction or written plan meeting the requirements of Rule 10b5-1(c)(1) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Under applicable Washington State law, shares repurchased are retired and not displayed separately as treasury stock on the financial statements. Instead, the par value of repurchased shares is deducted from common stock and the excess repurchase price over par value is deducted from additional paid-in capital and from retained earnings, once additional paid-in capital is depleted.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In 2007, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (“FASB”) issued authoritative guidance on accounting and reporting for noncontrolling interests in subsidiaries. The guidance clarifies that a noncontrolling interest in a subsidiary should be accounted for as a component of equity separate from the parent company’s equity. It also requires the presentation of both net earnings attributable to non-controlling interests and net earnings attributable to Starbucks on the face of the consolidated statement of earnings. We adopted the new guidance relating to noncontrolling interests beginning September 28, 2009 on a prospective basis, except for the presentation and disclosure requirements, which were applied retrospectively as follows:

- we reclassified minority interests previously reported on our consolidated statements of earnings as a component of net interest income and other to a separate line below net earnings including noncontrolling interests

- we reclassified minority interests previously reported on our consolidated balance sheets as a component of other long-term liabilities to noncontrolling interests and included it as a component of equity

In June 2009, the FASB issued authoritative guidance on the consolidation of variable interest entities (“VIE”), which will be effective for our first fiscal quarter of 2011. The new guidance requires a qualitative approach to identify a controlling financial interest in a VIE, and requires ongoing assessment of whether an entity is a VIE and whether an interest in a VIE makes the holder the primary beneficiary of the VIE. We believe the adoption of this new guidance will not have a material effect on our consolidated financial statements.

Note 2: Restructuring Charges

The restructuring efforts we began in fiscal 2008 to rationalize our store portfolio and the non-retail support organization were essentially completed in fiscal 2010. No material future costs related to these efforts are expected. On a cumulative basis we closed 918 stores on a global basis as part of this effort.

Available-for-sale securities

Proceeds from sales of available-for-sale securities were $1.1 million, $5.0 million and $75.9 million in fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. For fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, realized gains and losses on sales and maturities were immaterial.

As of October 3, 2010, long-term available-for-sale securities of $191.8 million included $41.3 million invested in auction rate securities (“ARS”). As of September 27, 2009, long-term available-for-sale securities of $71.2 million included $55.7 million invested in ARS. ARS have long-dated maturities but provide liquidity through a Dutch auction process that resets the applicable interest rate at pre-determined calendar intervals. Due to the auction failures that began in 2008, these securities became illiquid and were classified as long-term investments. The investment principal associated with the failed auctions will not be accessible until:

- successful auctions resume;

- an active secondary market for these securities develops;
- the issuers replace these securities with another form of financing; or
- final payments are made according to the contractual maturities of the debt issues which range from 20 to 35 years.

We do not intend to sell the ARS, nor is it likely we will be required to sell the ARS before their anticipated recovery, which may be at maturity. In fiscal 2010, two ARS were fully called at par value of $6.1 million and three ARS were partially called at par value of $6.0 million.

The gross unrealized holding losses on our state and local government obligations as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009 are all related to our ARS investments. Our ARS are collateralized by portfolios of student loans, substantially all of which are guaranteed by the United States Department of Education.

Long-term investments (except for ARS) generally mature within three years.

Trading securities

Trading securities are comprised of marketable equity mutual funds and equity exchange-traded funds that approximate a portion of the liability under the Management Deferred Compensation Plan (“MDCP”), a defined contribution plan. The corresponding deferred compensation liability of $82.7 million and $68.3 million as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, respectively, is included in accrued compensation and related costs on the consolidated balance sheets. The changes in net unrealized holding gains/losses in the trading portfolio included in earnings for fiscal years 2010 and 2009 were a net gain of $4.1 million and a net loss of $4.9 million, respectively.

Note 4: Derivative Financial Instruments

Cash Flow Hedges

Starbucks and certain subsidiaries enter into cash flow derivative instruments to hedge portions of anticipated revenue streams and inventory purchases in currencies other than the entity’s functional currency. Outstanding forward contracts, which comprise the majority of our derivative instruments, hedge monthly forecasted revenue transactions denominated in Japanese yen and Canadian dollars, as well as forecasted inventory purchases denominated in US dollars for foreign operations.

Net Investment Hedges

Net investment derivative instruments are used to hedge our equity method investment in Starbucks Coffee Japan, Ltd. (“Starbucks Japan”) as well as our net investments in our Canada, UK and China subsidiaries, to minimize foreign currency exposure.

Other Derivatives

To mitigate the translation risk of certain balance sheet items, we enter into certain foreign currency forward contracts that are not designated as hedging instruments. These contracts are recorded at fair value, with the changes in fair value recognized in net interest income and other on the consolidated statements of earnings. Gains and losses from these instruments are largely offset by the financial impact of translating foreign currency denominated payables and receivables, which are also recognized in net interest income and other.

We also enter into certain swap and futures contracts that are not designated as hedging instruments to mitigate the price uncertainty of a portion of our future purchases of dairy products and diesel fuel. These contracts are recorded at fair value, with the changes in fair value recognized in net interest income and other on the consolidated statement of earnings.

Note 5: Fair Value Measurements

Fair value accounting guidance defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value under GAAP and expands disclosures about fair value measurements, for both financial and non-financial assets. It also establishes a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs used to measure fair value.

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis (in millions):

	Balance at Oct 3, 2010	Fair Value Measurements at Reporting Date Using
		Quoted Prices in Active Markets for Identical Assets (Level 1)	Significant Other Observable Inputs (Level 2)	Significant Unobservable Inputs (Level 3)

Trading securities include equity mutual funds and exchange-traded funds. For these securities, we use quoted prices in active markets for identical assets to determine their fair value, thus they are considered to be Level 1 instruments.

Available-for-sale securities include government treasury securities, corporate and agency bonds and ARS. For government treasury securities, we use quoted prices in active markets for identical assets to determine their fair value, thus they are considered to be Level 1 instruments. We use observable direct and indirect inputs for corporate and agency bonds, which are considered Level 2 instruments. Level 3 instruments are comprised solely of ARS, all of which are considered to be illiquid due to the auction failures that began in 2008. We value ARS using an internally developed valuation model, using inputs that include interest rate curves, credit and liquidity spreads, and effective maturity.

Derivative assets and liabilities include foreign currency forward contracts, commodity swaps and futures contracts. Where applicable, we use quoted prices in an active market for identical derivative assets and liabilities that are traded on exchanges. Derivative assets and liabilities included in Level 2 are over-the-counter currency forward contracts and commodity swaps whose fair values are estimated using industry-standard valuation models. Such models project future cash flows and discount the future amounts to a present value using market-based observable inputs, including interest rate curves and forward and spot prices for currencies and commodities.

Changes in Level 3 Instruments Measured at Fair Value on a Recurring Basis (in millions):

Transfers in (out) of Level 3	(0.7)	0.0
Ending balance of ARS	$ 41.3	$55.7

Assets and Liabilities Measured at Fair Value on a Nonrecurring Basis

Effective September 28, 2009, we adopted new fair value measurement guidance for all nonfinancial assets and liabilities recognized or disclosed at fair value in the financial statements on a nonrecurring basis. These assets and liabilities include items such as property, plant and equipment, goodwill and other intangible assets that are measured at fair value resulting from impairment, if determined to be necessary.

We measure certain financial assets, including equity and cost method investments, at fair value on a nonrecurring basis. These assets are recognized at fair value when they are determined to be other-than-temporarily impaired.

During fiscal 2010, we recognized fair market value adjustments with a charge to earnings to assets measured at fair value (Level 3) on a non-recurring basis, as follows:

	Carrying Value before adjustment	Fair value adjustment	Carrying value after adjustment
Property, plant and equipment ⁽¹⁾	$26.8	$(22.3)	$4.5

⁽¹⁾ The fair value was determined using a discounted cash flow model based on future store revenues and operating costs, using internal projections. The resulting impairment charge was included in store operating expenses.

Fair Value of Other Financial Instruments

The carrying value of cash and cash equivalents approximates fair value because of the short-term nature of those instruments. The estimated fair value of the $550 million of 6.25% Senior Notes based on the quoted market price was approximately $637 million and $591 million as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, respectively.

Total	$543.3	$664.9

Other merchandise held for sale includes, among other items, serveware and tea.

Levels of inventory vary due to seasonality driven primarily by the holiday season, commodity market supply and price variations, and changes in our use of fixed-price and price-to-be-fixed coffee contracts.

As of October 3, 2010, we had committed to purchasing green coffee totaling $156 million under fixed-price contracts and an estimated $401 million under price-to-be-fixed contracts. Price-to-be-fixed contracts are purchase commitments whereby the quality, quantity, delivery period, and other negotiated terms are agreed upon, but the date at which the base “C” coffee commodity price component will be fixed has not yet been established. For these types of contracts, either Starbucks or the seller has the option to “fix” the base “C” coffee commodity price prior to the delivery date. Until prices are fixed, we estimate the total cost of these purchase commitments. We believe, based on relationships established with our suppliers in the past, the risk of non-delivery on such purchase commitments is remote.

Equity Method Investments

As of October 3, 2010, we had a 50 percent ownership interest in each of the following international equity investees: Starbucks Coffee Korea Co., Ltd.; Starbucks Coffee Austria GmbH; Starbucks Coffee Switzerland AG;

President Starbucks Coffee Taiwan Ltd.; Shanghai President Coffee Co.; and Berjaya Starbucks Coffee Company Sdn. Bhd. (Malaysia). In addition, we had a 39.9 percent ownership interest in Starbucks Coffee Japan, Ltd. These international entities operate licensed Starbucks retail stores. We also have licensed the rights to produce and distribute Starbucks branded products to The North American Coffee Partnership with the Pepsi-Cola Company. We have a 50 percent ownership interest in The North America Coffee Partnership which develops and distributes bottled Frappuccino® beverages, Starbucks DoubleShot® espresso drinks, and Seattle's Best Coffee® ready-to-drink espresso beverages.

Our share of income and losses from our equity method investments is included in income from equity investees on the consolidated statements of earnings. Also included in this line item is our proportionate share of gross margin resulting from coffee and other product sales to, and royalty and license fee revenues generated from, equity investees. Revenues generated from these related parties, net of eliminations, were $125.7 million, $125.3 million and $128.1 million in fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. Related costs of sales, net of eliminations, were $65.3 million, $64.9 million and $66.2 million in fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, there were $31.4 million and $37.6 million of accounts receivable from equity investees, respectively, on our consolidated balance sheets, primarily related to product sales and store license fees.

As of October 3, 2010, the aggregate market value of our investment in Starbucks Japan was approximately $286 million, based on its available quoted market price, which exceeds its carrying value of $154 million.

Cost Method Investments

As of October 3, 2010, we had a $33.4 million investment of equity interests in entities that develop and operate Starbucks licensed retail stores in several global markets. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, management determined that the estimated fair values of each cost method investment exceeded the related carrying values. There were no significant impairments recorded during fiscal years 2010, 2009 or 2008.

We have the ability to acquire additional interests in some of these cost method investees at certain intervals. Depending on our total percentage of ownership interest and our ability to exercise significant influence over financial and operating policies, additional investments may require the retroactive application of the equity method of accounting.

Revolving Credit Facility and Commercial Paper Program

Our existing $1 billion unsecured credit facility was replaced in November 2010 with a new $500 million unsecured credit facility with various banks, of which $100 million may be used for issuances of letters of credit. As with the 2005 credit facility, the new 2010 credit facility is available for working capital, capital expenditures and other corporate purposes, including acquisitions and share repurchases. The 2010 credit facility is currently set to mature in November 2014. The interest rate for any borrowings under the 2010 credit facility, based on Starbucks current ratings and fixed charge coverage ratio, is 1.50% over LIBOR. The specific spread over LIBOR will depend upon our long-term credit ratings assigned by Moody's and Standard & Poor's rating agencies and our fixed charge coverage ratio. The 2010 credit facility contains provisions requiring us to maintain compliance with certain covenants, including a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio which measures our ability to cover financing expenses. Starbucks has the option, subject to negotiation and agreement with the related banks, to increase the maximum commitment amount by an additional $500 million.

Under our commercial paper program we may issue unsecured commercial paper notes, up to a maximum aggregate amount outstanding at any time of $500 million under the new credit facility, with individual maturities that may vary, but not exceed, 397 days from the date of issue. The program is backstopped by our new credit facility, and the combined borrowing limit is $500 million for the commercial paper program and the credit facility. We may issue commercial paper from time to time, and the proceeds of the commercial paper financing will be used for working capital needs, capital expenditures and other corporate purposes, including acquisitions and share repurchases.

As of October 3, 2010, we had $15 million in letters of credit outstanding under the old credit facility. As of September 27, 2009, letters of credit totaling $14 million were outstanding.

Long-term Debt

In August 2007, we issued $550 million of 6.25% Senior Notes (the “notes”) due in August 2017, in an underwritten registered public offering. Interest is payable semi-annually on February 15 and August 15 of each year. The notes require us to maintain compliance with certain covenants, which limit future liens and sale and leaseback transactions on certain material properties.

Interest Expense

Interest expense, net of interest capitalized, was $32.7 million, $39.1 million and $53.4 million in fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively. In fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008, $4.9 million, $2.9 million and $7.2 million, respectively, of interest was capitalized for new store and other asset construction projects, and included in net property, plant and equipment on the consolidated balance sheets.

We have subleases related to certain of our operating leases. During fiscal 2010, 2009 and 2008, we recognized sublease income of $10.9 million, $7.1 million and $3.5 million, respectively.

We had capital lease obligations of $2.6 million and $7.8 million as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, respectively. Capital lease obligations expire at various dates, with the latest maturity in 2014. The current portion of the total obligation is included in other accrued expenses and the remaining long-term portion is included in other long-term liabilities on the consolidated balance sheets. Assets held under capital leases are included in net property, plant and equipment on the consolidated balance sheets.

Note 13: Shareholders' Equity

In addition to 1.2 billion shares of authorized common stock with $0.001 par value per share, we have authorized 7.5 million shares of preferred stock, none of which was outstanding at October 3, 2010.

Share repurchase activity during fiscal 2010 (in millions, except for average price data):

There were no share repurchases during fiscal 2009. As of October 3, 2010, 10.1 million shares remained available for repurchase under the current authorization. Subsequent to year end, on November 15, 2010 we announced an additional share repurchase authorization made by the Board of Directors in the amount of up to 10 million shares in addition to the 10 million remaining under the previous programs.

During the second quarter of fiscal 2010, the Starbucks Board of Directors approved the initiation of a cash dividend to shareholders. Quarterly cash dividends of $0.10 and $0.13 per share were paid on April 23, 2010 and August 20, 2010, respectively. During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2010 the Starbucks Board of Directors approved a cash dividend of $0.13 per share which will be paid on December 3, 2010.

Comprehensive Income

Comprehensive income includes all changes in equity during the period, except those resulting from transactions with shareholders of the Company. It has two components: net earnings and other comprehensive income. Accumulated other comprehensive income reported on our consolidated balance sheets consists of foreign currency translation adjustments and the unrealized gains and losses, net of applicable taxes, on available-for-sale securities and on derivative instruments designated and qualifying as cash flow and net investment hedges.

Comprehensive income, net of related tax effects (in millions):

Fiscal Year Ended	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009	Sep 28, 2008
Net earnings attributable to Starbucks	$945.6	$390.8	$315.5
Unrealized holding gains/(losses) on available-for-sale securities, net of tax (provision)/benefit of $0.1, $(1.9) and $2.4, respectively	(0.2)	3.3	(4.0)
Unrealized holding gains/(losses) on cash flow hedging instruments, net of tax (provision)/benefit of $6.6, $(2.4) and $(0.4), respectively	(11.3)	4.0	0.7
Unrealized holding losses on net investment hedging instruments, net of tax benefit of $4.0, $4.0 and $0.6, respectively	(6.8)	(6.8)	(0.9)
Reclassification adjustment for net losses realized in net earnings for cash flow hedges, net of tax benefit of $0.8, $0.8 and $3.0, respectively	1.3	1.3	5.0
Net unrealized gain/(loss)	(17.0)	1.8	0.8

Total comprehensive income	$937.4	$407.8	$309.3

The favorable translation adjustment change during fiscal 2010 was primarily due to the weakening of the US dollar against several currencies including the Japanese yen and Canadian dollar, partially offset by the strengthening of the US dollar against the euro. The favorable translation adjustment change during fiscal 2009 was primarily due to the weakening of the US dollar against the Japanese yen, Australian dollar and the euro. The unfavorable translation adjustment change during fiscal 2008 was primarily due to the strengthening of the US dollar against several currencies including the Australian dollar, Korean won and Canadian dollar.

Components of accumulated other comprehensive income, net of tax (in millions):

Fiscal Year Ended	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009

Accumulated other comprehensive income	$ 57.2	$ 65.4

As of October 3, 2010, the translation adjustment was net of tax provisions of $4.2 million. As of September 27, 2009, the translation adjustment was net of tax provisions of $1.0 million.

Note 14: Employee Stock and Benefit Plans

We maintain several equity incentive plans under which we may grant non-qualified stock options, incentive stock options, restricted stock, RSUs, or stock appreciation rights to employees, non-employee directors and consultants. We issue new shares of common stock upon exercise of stock options and the vesting of RSUs. We also have employee stock purchase plans ("ESPP").

As of October 3, 2010, there were 27.9 million shares of common stock available for issuance pursuant to future equity-based compensation awards and 9.0 million shares available for issuance under our ESPP.

Stock Option Plans

Stock options to purchase our common stock are granted at the fair market value of the stock on the date of grant. The majority of options become exercisable in four equal installments beginning a year from the date of grant and generally expire 10 years from the date of grant. Options granted in the 2009 exchange program vest over two years and expire seven years from the date of grant. The 2009 exchange program allowed for a one-time stock option exchange designed to provide eligible employees the opportunity to exchange certain outstanding underwater stock options for a lesser amount of new options with lower exercise prices. Options granted to non-employee directors generally vest over one to three years. Nearly all outstanding stock options are non-qualified stock options.

The fair value of each stock option granted is estimated on the grant date using the Black-Scholes-Merton (“BSM”) option valuation model. The assumptions used to calculate the fair value of options granted are evaluated and revised, as necessary, to reflect market conditions and our experience. Options granted are valued using the multiple option valuation approach, and the resulting expense is recognized over the requisite service period for each separately vesting portion of the award. Compensation expense is recognized only for those options expected to vest, with forfeitures estimated at the date of grant based on our historical experience and future expectations.

The fair value of stock option awards was estimated at the grant date with the following weighted average assumptions for fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008 (excludes options granted in the 2009 stock option exchange program described above):

Fiscal Year Ended	Employee Stock Options Granted During the Period
	2010	2009	2008
Expected term (in years)	4.7	4.9	4.7
Expected stock price volatility	43.0%	44.5%	29.3%
Risk-free interest rate	2.1%	2.2%	3.4%
Expected dividend yield	0.1%	0.0%	0.0%
Weighted average grant price	$22.28	$8.97	$22.11
Estimated fair value per option granted	$ 8.50	$3.61	$ 6.85

The expected term of the options represents the estimated period of time until exercise, and is based on historical experience of similar awards, giving consideration to the contractual terms, vesting schedules and expectations of future employee behavior. Expected stock price volatility is based on a combination of historical volatility of our stock and the one-year implied volatility of Starbucks traded options, for the related vesting periods. The risk-free interest rate is based on the implied yield available on US Treasury zero-coupon issues with an equivalent remaining term. The dividend yield assumption is based on the anticipated cash dividend payouts. We did not pay any cash dividends prior to fiscal 2010. The amounts shown above for the estimated fair value per option granted are before the estimated effect of forfeitures, which reduce the amount of expense recorded on the consolidated statement of earnings.

The BSM option valuation model was developed for use in estimating the fair value of traded options, which have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. Our employee stock options have characteristics significantly different from those of traded options, and changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect the fair value estimate. Because our stock options do not trade on a secondary exchange, employees do not derive a benefit from holding stock options unless there is an increase, above the grant price, in the market price of the our stock. Such an increase in stock price would benefit all shareholders commensurately.

The aggregate intrinsic value in the table above is the amount by which the market value of the underlying stock exceeded the exercise price of outstanding options, is before applicable income taxes and represents the amount optionees would have realized if all in-the-money options had been exercised on the last business day of the period indicated.

As of October 3, 2010, total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense, net of estimated forfeitures, related to nonvested stock options was approximately $70 million, before income taxes, and is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of approximately 2.7 years. The total intrinsic value of stock options exercised was $118 million, $44 million and $50 million during the three fiscal year period ended October 3, 2010. The total fair value of options vested was $108 million, $75 million and $99 million during fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

RSUs

We have both time-vested and performance-based RSUs. Time-vested RSUs are awarded to eligible employees and entitle the grantee to receive shares of common stock at the end of a vesting period, subject solely to the employee's continuing employment. Our performance-based RSUs are awarded to eligible employees and entitle the grantee to receive shares of common stock if we achieve specified performance goals for the full fiscal year in the year of award and the grantee remains employed during the subsequent vesting period. The fair value of RSUs is based on the closing price of Starbucks common stock on the award date. Expense for performance-based RSUs is recognized when it is probable the performance goal will be achieved.

As of October 3, 2010, total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to nonvested RSUs, net of estimated forfeitures, was approximately $44 million, before income taxes, and is expected to be recognized over a weighted average period of approximately 2.0 years.

ESPP

Our ESPP allows eligible employees to contribute up to 10% of their base earnings toward the quarterly purchase of our common stock, subject to an annual maximum dollar amount. The purchase price is 95% of the fair market value of the stock on the last business day of the quarterly offering period. The number of shares issued under our ESPP was 0.8 million in fiscal 2010.

Deferred Stock Plan

We have a deferred stock plan for certain non-employees that enables participants in the plan to defer receipt of ownership of common shares from the exercise of nonqualified stock options. The minimum deferral period is five years. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, 3.4 million shares were deferred under the terms of this plan. The rights to receive these shares, represented by common stock units, are included in the calculation of basic and diluted earnings per share as common stock equivalents. No new initial deferrals are permitted under this plan; the plan permits re-deferrals of previously deferred shares.

Defined Contribution Plans

We maintain voluntary defined contribution plans, both qualified and non-qualified, covering eligible employees as defined in the plan documents. Participating employees may elect to defer and contribute a portion of their eligible compensation to the plans up to limits stated in the plan documents, not to exceed the dollar amounts set by applicable laws.

Our matching contributions to all US and non-US plans were $23.5 million, $19.7 million and $25.3 million in fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

US income and foreign withholding taxes have not been provided on approximately $646 million of cumulative undistributed earnings of foreign subsidiaries and equity investees. We intend to reinvest these earnings for the foreseeable future. If these amounts were distributed to the US, in the form of dividends or otherwise, we would be subject to additional US income taxes. Determination of the amount of unrecognized deferred income tax liabilities on these earnings is not practicable because such liability, if any, is dependent on circumstances existing if and when remittance occurs.

We will establish a valuation allowance if either it is more likely than not that the deferred tax asset will expire before we are able to realize their benefits, or the future deductibility is uncertain. Periodically, the valuation allowance is reviewed and adjusted based on management's assessments of realizable deferred tax assets. The valuation allowance as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009 was related to net operating losses and other deferred tax assets of consolidated foreign subsidiaries. The net change in the total valuation allowance for the years ended October 3, 2010, and September 27, 2009, was an increase of $67.8 million and $0.3 million, respectively. During fiscal 2010, we recognized approximately $40 million of previously unrecognized deferred tax assets in certain foreign jurisdictions, with a corresponding increase to the valuation allowance due to the uncertainty of their realization.

As of October 3, 2010, Starbucks had foreign tax credit carryforwards of $26.1 million with expiration dates between fiscal years 2014 and 2019. As of the end of fiscal 2010, capital loss carryforwards were $15.4 million with expiration dates between fiscal years 2014 and 2015. As of October 3, 2010, Starbucks had foreign net operating losses of $145.6 million, the predominant amount having no expiration.

Taxes currently payable of $24.7 million and $57.2 million are included in accrued taxes on the consolidated balance sheets as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, respectively.

Uncertain Tax Positions

As of October 3, 2010, we had $68.4 million of gross unrecognized tax benefits of which $21.6 million, if recognized, would affect our effective tax rate. As of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, we had accrued interest and penalties of $16.8 million and $9.9 million, respectively, before benefit of federal tax deduction, recorded on our consolidated balance sheets.

The following table summarizes the activity related to our unrecognized tax benefits (in millions):

	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009	Sep 28, 2008
Beginning balance	$ 49.1	$ 52.6	$ 58.3

We are currently under routine audit by various jurisdictions outside the US as well as US state taxing jurisdictions for fiscal years 2003 through 2009. We are no longer subject to US federal or state examination for years before fiscal year 2006, with the exception of four states. We are subject to income tax in many jurisdictions outside the US. We are no longer subject to examination in any material international markets prior to 2003.

There is a reasonable possibility that approximately $9.5 million of the currently remaining unrecognized tax benefits, each of which is individually insignificant, may be recognized by the end of fiscal 2011 as the result of a lapse of the statute of limitations.

Note 16: Earnings per Share

Calculation of net earnings per common share ("EPS") — basic and diluted (in millions, except EPS):

Fiscal Year Ended	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009	Sep 28, 2008
Net earnings attributable to Starbucks	$945.6	$390.8	$315.5
Weighted average common shares and common stock units outstanding (for basic calculation)	744.4	738.7	731.5
Dilutive effect of outstanding common stock options and RSUs	19.8	7.2	10.2
Weighted average common and common equivalent shares outstanding (for diluted calculation)	764.2	745.9	741.7
EPS — basic	$ 1.27	$ 0.53	$ 0.43
EPS — diluted	$ 1.24	$ 0.52	$ 0.43

Potential dilutive shares consist of the incremental common shares issuable upon the exercise of outstanding stock options (both vested and non-vested) and unvested RSUs, using the treasury stock method. Potential dilutive shares are excluded from the computation of earnings per share if their effect is antidilutive. The number of antidilutive options totaled 20 million, 17 million and 40 million, in fiscal years 2010, 2009 and 2008, respectively.

Note 17: Commitments and Contingencies

Guarantees

We have unconditionally guaranteed the repayment of certain Japanese yen-denominated bank loans and related interest and fees of an unconsolidated equity investee, Starbucks Japan. The guarantees continue until the loans, including accrued interest and fees, have been paid in full. These guarantees expire in 2014. Our maximum exposure under this commitment as of October 3, 2010 is $2.6 million and is limited to the sum of unpaid principal and interest, as well as other related expenses. These amounts will vary based on fluctuations in the yen foreign exchange rate. Since there has been no modification of these loan guarantees subsequent to the adoption of accounting requirements for guarantees, we have applied the disclosure provisions only and have not recorded the guarantees on our consolidated balance sheets.

We have commitments under which we unconditionally guarantee our proportionate share of certain borrowings of unconsolidated equity investees. These guarantees have varying expiration dates. As of October 3, 2010, our maximum exposure under these commitments is $2.1 million, which excludes interest and other related costs. The fair value of these guarantees as of October 3, 2010 is $2.2 million and is recorded on our consolidated balance sheets.

Legal Proceedings

Starbucks is party to various legal proceedings arising in the ordinary course of business, but is not currently a party to any legal proceeding that management believes would have a material adverse effect on our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Note 18: Acquisitions

In the first quarter of fiscal 2010, we acquired 100% ownership of our business in France, converting it from a 50% joint venture with Sigla S.A. (Grupo Vips) of Spain to a company-operated market. We simultaneously sold our 50% ownership interests in the Spain and Portugal markets to Grupo Vips, converting them to licensed markets.

In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2010, we acquired 100% ownership of our business in Brazil, converting it from a 49% joint venture with Cafés Sereia do Brasil Participações S.A of Brazil to a company-operated market.

In the fourth quarter of fiscal 2010, we acquired 100% ownership of a previously consolidated 50% joint venture in the US with Johnson Coffee Corporation, Urban Coffee Opportunities (“UCO”). The following table shows the effects of the change in Starbucks ownership interest in UCO on Starbucks equity:

Fiscal Year Ended	Oct 3, 2010	Sep 27, 2009	Sep 28, 2008

Note 19: Segment Reporting

Segment information is prepared on the same basis that our management reviews financial information for operational decision making purposes. We have three reportable operating segments: US, International, and CPG. In the fourth fiscal quarter of 2010, we changed the composition of our operating segments, presenting Seattle’s Best Coffee as a separate operating segment that is now reported with Digital Ventures and unallocated corporate expenses within Other. Financial information for Seattle’s Best Coffee was previously reported within the US, International, and CPG segments. This change reflects the culmination of internal management and reporting realignments, and the expected development of the Seattle’s Best Coffee business. Segment information for all prior periods presented has been reclassified to reflect this change.

United States

US operations sell coffee and other beverages, complementary food, whole bean coffees, and a focused selection of merchandise primarily through company-operated retail stores. Specialty operations within the US include licensed retail stores.

International

International operations sell coffee and other beverages, complementary food, whole bean coffees, and a focused selection of merchandise through company-operated retail stores in Canada, the UK, and several other markets. Specialty operations in international markets primarily include retail store licensing operations in nearly 40 countries and foodservice accounts, primarily in the UK and Canada. Many of our international operations are in the early stages of development that require a more extensive support organization, relative to the current levels of revenue and operating income, than in the US.

Global Consumer Products Group

CPG operations sell a selection of whole bean and ground coffees as well as a selection of premium Tazo® teas through licensing arrangements in US and international markets. CPG operations also produce and sell ready-to-drink beverages which include, among others, bottled Frappuccino® beverages, Starbucks DoubleShot® espresso drinks, and Discoveries® chilled cup coffee. In addition, CPG operations produce and sell Starbucks VIA® Ready Brew, as well as Starbucks® super-premium ice creams through its marketing and distribution agreements and a joint venture. The US foodservice business sells coffee and other related products to institutional foodservice companies with the majority of its sales through national broadline distribution networks.

Other

Other includes Seattle's Best Coffee and Digital Ventures as well as expenses pertaining to corporate administrative functions that support the operating segments but are not specifically attributable to or managed by any segment, and are not included in the reported financial results of the operating segments.

Management evaluates the performance of its operating segments based on net revenues and operating income. The accounting policies of the operating segments are the same as those described in the summary of significant accounting policies in Note 1. Operating income represents earnings before net interest income and other, interest expense and income taxes. Management does not evaluate the performance of its operating segments using asset measures. The identifiable assets by segment disclosed in this note are those assets specifically identifiable within each segment and include net property, plant and equipment, equity and cost investments, goodwill, and other intangible assets. Corporate assets are primarily comprised of cash and investments, assets of the corporate headquarters and roasting facilities, and inventory.

Note 20: Subsequent Event

In the first quarter of fiscal 2011, Starbucks notified Kraft Foods Global, Inc. that we are discontinuing our licensing relationships. Through these relationships with Kraft, Starbucks sells a selection of Starbucks and Seattle's Best Coffee branded packaged coffees and Tazo® teas in grocery and warehouse club stores throughout the US, and to grocery stores in Canada, the UK and other European countries. Kraft manages the distribution, marketing, advertising and promotion of these products. Discussions between Starbucks and Kraft are ongoing as of the date of the filing of this 10-K and there is the possibility of a commercial dispute between the parties. At this time Starbucks is unable to estimate the range of possible outcomes with respect to this matter.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Starbucks Corporation
Seattle, Washington

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Starbucks Corporation and subsidiaries (the “Company”) as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, and the related consolidated statements of earnings, equity, and cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended October 3, 2010. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Starbucks Corporation and subsidiaries as of October 3, 2010 and September 27, 2009, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended October 3, 2010, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the Company’s internal control over financial reporting as of October 3, 2010, based on criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission and our report dated November 22, 2010 expressed an unqualified opinion on the Company’s internal control over financial reporting.

Item 9. Changes in and Disagreements with Accountants on Accounting and Financial Disclosure

Not applicable.

Item 9A. Controls and Procedures

Disclosure Controls and Procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures that are designed to ensure that material information required to be disclosed in our periodic reports filed or submitted under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC’s rules and forms. Our disclosure controls and procedures are also designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed in the reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive officer and principal financial officer as appropriate, to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2010, we carried out an evaluation, under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our chief executive officer and our chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures, as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Exchange Act. Based upon that evaluation, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective, as of the end of the period covered by this report (October 3, 2010).

During the fourth quarter of fiscal 2010, there were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15d-15(f) of the Exchange Act) that materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect internal control over financial reporting.

The certifications required by Section 302 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 are filed as exhibits 31.1 and 31.2, respectively, to this 10-K.

Report of Management on Internal Control over Financial Reporting

Our management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting. Internal control over financial reporting is a process to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of our financial reporting for external purposes in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Internal control over financial reporting includes maintaining records that in reasonable detail accurately and fairly reflect our transactions; providing reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary for preparation of our financial statements; providing reasonable assurance that receipts and expenditures are made in accordance with management authorization; and providing reasonable assurance that unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of company assets that could have a material effect our financial statements would be prevented or detected on a timely basis. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting is not intended to provide absolute assurance that a misstatement of our financial statements would be prevented or detected.

Management conducted an evaluation of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting based on the framework and criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework, issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. This evaluation included review of the documentation of controls, evaluation of the design effectiveness of controls, testing of the operating effectiveness of controls and a conclusion on this evaluation. Based on this evaluation, management concluded that our internal control over financial reporting was effective as of October 3, 2010.

Our internal control over financial reporting as of October 3, 2010, has been audited by Deloitte & Touche LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report which is included herein.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Starbucks Corporation
Seattle, Washington

We have audited the internal control over financial reporting of Starbucks Corporation and subsidiaries (the “Company”) as of October 3, 2010, based on criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. The Company’s management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting, included in the accompanying Report of Management on Internal Control over Financial Reporting. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company’s internal control over financial reporting based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. Our audit included obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk, and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

A company’s internal control over financial reporting is a process designed by, or under the supervision of, the company’s principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, and effected by the company’s board of directors, management, and other personnel to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company’s internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company’s assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of the inherent limitations of internal control over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may not be prevented or detected on a timely basis. Also, projections of any evaluation of the effectiveness of the internal control over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of October 3, 2010, based on the criteria established in Internal Control — Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission.

We have also audited, in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States), the consolidated financial statements as of and for the fiscal year ended October 3, 2010, of the Company and our report dated November 22, 2010 expressed an unqualified opinion on those financial statements.

As we look forward, this evolution is just one important step toward achieving our strategic goals and continuing to grow Starbucks. The best is yet to come.
