Currently, our country is still in the fight against the COVID-19 pandemic and many Peruvians, faced with a positive diagnosis, are uncertain and anxious about appropriate treatments due to the lack of scientifically validated information and problems in accessing medical consultations. As part of its purpose, Laboratorios Auna in Peru has launched a service that provides comprehensive telemonitoring and teleconsulting to those who test positive to COVID-19 tests. This proactive accompaniment will be carried out by a management service that includes two teleconsultations with a specialist from Clínicas Auna, in addition to up to 14 days of telemonitoring carried out by health management nurses who will guide and monitor vital signs and symptoms to be able to recommend medications, tests with inflammatory markers and images that allow a pertinent treatment in the event of possible complications of the infection.

"At Laboratorios Auna we are committed to taking care of our patients, and now also accompanying them with this new medical service that aims to provide greater well-being to infected people. This will allow us to carry out adequate monitoring for their peace of mind, prompt recovery and timely follow up of health indicators so that quick decisions can be made in the event of complications. We are the first to adopt these kind of comprehensive measures that demonstrate our commitment to caring for families. " said Marcelo Escobar, Regional Manager of Laboratorios Auna.

In addition to the general monitoring, Laboratorios Auna offers, through telemonitoring, control of health indicators and the possibility of receiving drug prescriptions according to the case and scheduling complementary tests or images to monitor the health status of the person.

At Auna we will continue to offer new services and integrated health programs to fulfill our purpose of taking care of people's lives, always.
