SALT LAKE CITY, May 21, 2015 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) – [Overstock.com, Inc.](http://Overstock.com, Inc.) (Nasdaq:OSTK) has expanded its operations into China. The online retailer is now shipping product from a warehouse located just outside of Shanghai. Overstock.com worked with Web2Asia to assist with integration into the country, and partnered with China's second largest online retail store, JD.com, for the product launch.

"We are excited to enter the Chinese market. This is a great opportunity for Overstock and our partners," said Overstock.com founder and CEO Patrick M. Byrne. "A journey of a thousand begins with a single step."

Overstock.com will continue using its existing Shanghai office to handle all accounting, merchandising, operations, returns and sourcing. SF Express will handle domestic shipping for Overstock.com in the country.

"The domestic assets that we've set up in China will provide our new customers the same level of service and speed Overstock has built our reputation on for 15 years in the U.S., tailored to the Chinese customer," said Byrne.

Overstock.com currently ships from the U.S. to 180 countries and U.S. territories worldwide.
