The information is an estimate based on the Company’s year-to-date activity. The tax status of distributions for a tax year depends on the Company’s total amount of taxable income for the year, therefore, the tax status cannot be confirmed until after the end of the tax year.

Accordingly, the Company’s distributions for the tax year may be recharacterized later based upon subsequent events. As applicable, the Company reports the actual tax character of its distributions for U.S. federal income tax purposes annually to shareholders on Internal Revenue Service Form 1099-DIV issued after the end of the year. The Company’s 2026 Form 10-K will also include information regarding the actual components and tax treatment of all the Company’s distributions for the fiscal year 2026. Because each shareholder’s tax status is unique, shareholders should consult their tax advisor regarding this distribution notice.

Distributions that are reinvested through the Company’s Dividend Reinvestment Plan are treated, for tax purposes, as if they had been paid in cash. Therefore, shareholders who participate in the Dividend Reinvestment Plan should also refer to the table above. This notice is being provided in accordance with federal law and regulation applicable to the Company, specifically Section 19(a) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 and rules thereunder, and is not intended to constitute tax, legal, investment, or other professional advice. This is general information and should not be relied upon for tax reporting purposes. Shareholders should consult their tax advisors for tax guidance pertinent to specific facts and circumstances.
