“Daniel’s breadth of experience, innate leadership ability, and unwavering commitment to our clients make him the ideal choice to lead the Arizona and Nevada office for Private Wealth Management,” said Mike Ott, president of Private Wealth Management. “He has taken on additional challenges in all of the roles that he’s assumed, and we are thrilled that he will bring that same work ethic and dedication to our clients in this market.”

In his new role, Wani will lead a team of wealth management professionals providing investment management, private banking, trust and estate services and wealth planning to high-net-worth clients in both states. He will report to Mary Martuscelli, west region president of Private Wealth Management.

“The states of Arizona and Nevada are an important market for us, and I am thrilled that we have someone of Daniel’s caliber to lead the team. Daniel’s leadership in both the office and community allows us to provide our clients with the level of trust and experience they expect. Daniel represents everything we are looking for in an ethical, client-focused, forward-thinking leader to lead this office,” Martuscelli said.

Wani is a member of the State Bar of Arizona and the New York State Bar. He belongs to the Central Arizona Estate Planning Council and the American Bar Association and the New York State Bar Association. He earned his master of laws degree in taxation from New York University School of Law, his juris doctorate from Boston University School of Law and his bachelor’s degree in psychology from Roger Williams University in Bristol, Rhode Island. He serves on the board of advisors for Serenity Star.
