

HealthSouth And Mountain States Health Alliance Finalize Joint Venture To Operate Quillen Rehabilitation Hospital In Johnson City, Tennessee

PR Newswire

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. and JOHNSON CITY, Tenn.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. and JOHNSON CITY, Tenn., Nov. 5, 2014 /PRNewswire/ -- HealthSouth Corporation (NYSE: HLS) and Mountain States Health Alliance today announced they have finalized a joint venture to own and operate the James H. & Cecile C. Quillen Rehabilitation Hospital in Johnson City, Tennessee. The freestanding 26-bed inpatient rehabilitation hospital will provide comprehensive physical rehabilitation to patients who have experienced stroke, trauma, brain and orthopedic injuries or other major illnesses or injuries.

"Combining the exceptional reputation of Mountain States Health Alliance with the experience of HealthSouth will provide the residents of Johnson City and the surrounding area with greater access to high-quality and cost-effective inpatient rehabilitative services," said HealthSouth Central Region President Barbara Jacobsmeyer. "We are pleased to partner with Mountain States Health Alliance and look forward to working together."

"This joint venture is part of our commitment to enhancing post-acute care services for northeast Tennessee and Southwest Virginia," said Alan Levine, president and CEO of Mountain States. "We look forward to continuing to provide the best post-acute care services in the region."

The comprehensive inpatient rehabilitation hospital will continue to provide critical clinical services that produce the highest possible levels of recovery for patients in Johnson City and the surrounding areas and will remain in the current location at 2511 Wesley St. in Johnson City.
