Texas Capital to Bring Corporate Listing Home to the Texas Stock Exchange

Full-service, Texas-founded and headquartered financial services firm deepens commitment to the state's growing capital markets

Parent company ticker symbol to change from TCBI to TXCP on November 9, 2026

DALLAS – September 14, 2026 – Texas Capital Bancshares, Inc. (NASDAQ: TCBI), the parent company of Texas Capital, today announced that it will transfer the primary listing of its common stock and its 5.75% non-cumulative perpetual preferred stock series B to the Texas Stock Exchange LLC ("TXSE") from the Nasdaq Stock Market LLC ("Nasdaq").

"After completing our successful transformation into the only full-service financial services firm founded and headquartered in Texas, bringing Texas Capital's corporate listing home to the Texas Stock Exchange is the logical next step as we concurrently expand access to the global capital markets in Texas and beyond," said Rob C. Holmes, Chairman, President & Chief Executive Officer of Texas Capital. "We are a proud early supporter of TXSE and view the launch of a world-class exchange in Texas as a landmark moment that further cements the state's position as a premier destination for innovation and investment. TXSE has a proven leadership team, state-of-the-art trade matching technology, an enviable investor base and a shared listings approach, which will, in effect, have the issuer in a net positive cash position with the exchange."

Texas Capital Bancshares, Inc. expects to commence trading as a TXSE-listed company upon market open on October 8, 2026, where its common and preferred stock will begin trading under the ticker symbol "TCBI" and "TCBI PRB", respectively. Shortly thereafter on November 9, 2026, the company expects to change its ticker symbols to "TXCP" and "TXCP PRB", respectively, marking another significant milestone in the firm's history. The company's common and preferred stock will continue trading on Nasdaq through market close on October 7, 2026. No action is required by stockholders in connection with the transfer.

"Texas Capital is the first home-grown, full-service financial services firm in the state of Texas, and we are proud to welcome their primary corporate listing home to the Texas Stock Exchange," said TXSE Chairman and CEO James H. Lee. "Texas Capital has been a leader in developing capital markets in the Lone Star State, so it is fitting that they will be listed on the only national securities exchange built, headquartered, and incorporated in Texas."

Today, Texas Capital combines deep Texas roots with a national reach, delivering a full suite of capabilities across Commercial Banking, Private Banking, Corporate Banking, Investment Banking and Treasury Solutions. The firm's decision to list on TXSE reflects the successful completion of its transformation and represents the natural next step for a Texas-founded, Texas-headquartered institution built to serve clients across the country.

Bell Ringing

To commemorate Texas Capital Bancshares, Inc.'s move to TXSE, a closing bell ceremony is planned to be held in Dallas on November 9, 2026.
