Risk Factors Summary

The following is a summary of the principal risks that could adversely affect the Company's business, operations and financial results. Please refer to Part I – Item 1A: Risk Factors of this Form 10-K for additional discussion of the risks summarized in this Risk Factors Summary. These risk factors are not necessarily in the order of importance or probability of occurrence.

Risks Relating to Resource Development

The Company's business strategy depends in substantial part on developing Thacker Pass into a commercially viable mine and chemical manufacturing facility. Risk factors that could impact the development of Thacker Pass include:

- Commercial viability of the Thacker Pass Project depends on numerous uncontrollable factors such as permitting and financing that could negatively affect business and financial conditions.
- The Company's ability to draw on the DOE Loan is contingent on meeting specific conditions and covenants, and failure to do so could lead to loan termination or other significant adverse effects.
- The Company's ability to maintain and amend permits is uncertain and subject to regulatory, administrative and litigation challenges, which could delay development timelines.
- The expected capital and operating costs for Thacker Pass are based on various assumptions that may prove inaccurate, and any discrepancies could lead to increased costs and the need for additional funding to complete Phase 1 and meet working capital requirements.
- The Company's lack of history of completing mining and chemical processing projects or conducting such operations makes it difficult to evaluate its prospects, increasing the uncertainty of its future success.
- Inherent risks in establishing new mining and chemical-processing operations, including unexpected costs, problems and delays, could impact the profitability of operations at Thacker Pass.
- The Company's U.S. operations, coupled with its domicile in British Columbia, and the evolving political landscape, including increased geopolitical tensions and industrial policies, could impact its ability to fund the project.
- Changes in government laws and regulations, including those related to taxation, environmental compliance and permitting, may affect development.
- The Company's ability to develop Thacker Pass is governed by the U.S. Mining Act and other laws, with no assurance of title or permit stability, and any contest or regulatory changes could delay development.

- Mineral resource and reserve estimates are inherently uncertain and may be inaccurate.
- Opposition could lead to delays or prevent the project from proceeding, impacting development.

Risks Relating to Lithium Production and Operations

The Company has provided estimates relating to future production and other operational targets and expectations. Risks factors that could impact future production at Thacker Pass include:

- The mineral exploration and development business has inherent health and safety risks, and non-compliance with related laws could lead to penalties and civil liability.
- Failure to achieve production estimates for Thacker Pass, due to inaccuracies in assumptions or lower quality ore, could materially and adversely affect cash flows and profitability.
- The novel process for producing lithium carbonate from Thacker Pass has not been demonstrated at commercial scale, posing risks of inefficiencies, unforeseen costs and delays.
- Development of Thacker Pass is highly dependent on the projected demand for lithium-based products, and any failure in market growth or shifts in policies could negatively impact commercial viability.
- The success of operations will be affected by the fluctuating market price of lithium products, and failure to meet battery-grade quality or customer specifications could reduce the prices the Company is able to realize for its products and its customer base.
- Actual costs and production may vary due to factors such as resource availability and inflation.
- Operational risks such as equipment failures, natural disasters and regulatory compliance could lead to disruptions and financial impacts despite comprehensive health and safety measures.
- Negative cash flow from operations are expected until achievement of profitable production, so the Company is relying on generating profits or raising capital to meet obligations and liabilities.
- Thacker Pass is the Company's sole material mining project, meaning failure to develop and operate it successfully could have a significant adverse impact on its business.
- Any non-compliance with stringent environmental regulations could delay or increase the costs.
- Increased focus on ESG matters could lead to higher costs, reduced profits and litigation risks.
- The lithium production industry is highly competitive, requiring significant capital and resources, and the Company may face challenges in securing financing, personnel and equipment.
- Global economic and political uncertainties, including the Russian war in Ukraine, Middle East conflicts, inflation and changes in government policies, may adversely affect business.
- Climate change may impact water availability, which could increase litigation, regulatory compliance costs and physical climate risks could further affect operations and safety.
- Insurance may not protect against all risks associated with environmental and other incidents the Company may experience

Risks Related to the Company's Business and Securities

Risk factors that could impact the Company's business and securities include:

- GM's share ownership and rights may influence corporate actions and diverge from other shareholders' interests, potentially affecting liquidity and market price, amount other areas.
- GM has significant influence over Thacker Pass's development due to investor rights, its rights as a JV Partner and board representation at both the Company and Lithium Nevada Ventures, which may affect other securityholders and the Company's actions, including the determination to make a FID in respect of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass.

- Upon conversion of the Orion Note, if issued, Orion may hold a significant equity interest in the LAC's business through conversion of the Orion Note and may thereafter exercise influence over the Company.
- The Company's debt agreements, including the DOE Loan and the Orion Note, if issued, contain restrictions that limit its flexibility in operating its business.
- The Company's share price may fluctuate due to factors beyond its control and may not reflect its operating performance, with no guarantee of a liquid market for reselling shares.
- Future financings may dilute current shareholders' interests by issuing more shares or equity securities, reducing ownership percentages and potentially lowering share prices.
- Financing through capital markets could dilute shareholders' interests and impose restrictions.
- The Company cannot generate earnings or pay dividends while Thacker Pass is in development, posing a risk to investors who may not see returns for the foreseeable future.
- Challenges in securing intellectual property protection could leave the company vulnerable to competition, potentially diminishing the commercial potential of its proprietary technologies.
- The Company's growth and operations rely heavily on retaining and attracting key personnel in a competitive market, and failure to do so could affect its business.
- Relying on consultants for mineral exploration expertise carries the risk of delays or increased costs if their work is found to be incorrect or inadequate.
- Compliance with regulatory requirements and potential litigation resulting therefrom could be costly, time-consuming and have a significant adverse impact on business and financial condition.
- Increased reliance on digital technologies and new information systems to support the growing business could increase costs and cybersecurity related threats.
- Incorporation in a jurisdiction outside the U.S. may make it difficult or impossible for U.S. investors to serve process for civil liabilities in the U.S.
- Loss of FPI status requires increased regulatory reporting requirements and associated costs.
- If certain Canadian Tax requirements are not met, the Company and Lithium Argentina could be subject to substantial tax liabilities resulting from the Separation.
- Shareholders may face significant tax liabilities, impacting the intended tax-free status of the Common Shares received pursuant to the Arrangement.
- The Company faces restrictions for three years to maintain tax-free status for shareholders, limiting its ability to pursue certain strategic transactions.
- Changes in U.S. and Canadian tax laws could increase the Company's tax liabilities.
- Any indemnification claims may have a material adverse effect upon the Company.
- If classified as a PFIC, U.S. shareholders may face greater tax liabilities, interest charges and additional reporting obligations, impacting their overall tax situation.

Organizational History and Recent Developments

On January 23, 2023, the Company was incorporated under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) (the "BCBCA") for the sole purpose of acquiring ownership of the North American business assets and investments ("LAC North America") of Lithium Americas Corp. ("Old LAC"), which is now named Lithium Argentina AG (formerly Lithium Americas (Argentina) Corp.) ("Lithium Argentina") pursuant to a separation transaction (the "Separation") that was undertaken on October 3, 2023. Upon consummation of the Separation, the Company was re-named Lithium Americas Corp.

The Separation was implemented by way of a plan of arrangement (the "Arrangement") under the laws of British Columbia pursuant to an arrangement agreement between the Company and Old LAC. Upon completion of the Separation, Old LAC contributed to the Company, among other assets and liabilities, its interest in Thacker Pass, its investments in GT1 and Ascend Elements, certain intellectual property rights, its loan to 1339480 B.C. Ltd., and cash.

On March 12, 2024, LN received a Conditional Commitment from the U.S. Department of Energy's ("DOE") Advanced Technology Vehicles Manufacturing ("ATVM") Loan Program (the "DOE Loan") for financing the construction of the processing facilities at Thacker Pass for Phase 1. On October 28, 2024, the Company announced the closing of the DOE Loan for a total of $2.26 billion, including $1.97 billion in aggregate principal to fund eligible construction costs of Thacker Pass plus interest to be accrued during construction, which is estimated to be $289.6 million over a three-year period. The DOE loan has a 24-year maturity with interest rates fixed from the date of each monthly advance for the term of the loan at applicable U.S. Treasury rates without any additional credit spread. The Company currently expects to make the first draw on the DOE Loan sometime in the third quarter of 2025 ("Q3 2025"). Remaining conditions precedent to first draw, as of date of this Form 10-K, include a project finance model bring down.

On April 22, 2024, the Company completed an underwritten public offering (the "Offering") of 55 million Common Shares at a price of $5.00 per Common Share (the "Issue Price") for aggregate gross proceeds to the Company of $275 million. The net proceeds from the Offering of approximately $262 million are intended to fund the advancement of construction and development of Thacker Pass.

In August 2024, the Company received approval for a $11.8 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense to support an upgrade of the local power infrastructure and to help build a transloading facility.

On October 16, 2024, the Company announced that it entered into an investment agreement (the "Investment Agreement") with GM to establish a JV with GM for the purpose of funding, developing, constructing and operating the Thacker Pass Project (the "JV Transaction"). On December 23, 2024, the Company announced the closing of the JV Transaction. In connection with the JV Transaction, the Company also closed an amendment to the DOE Loan to accommodate changes relating to the JV Transaction.

Following the closing of the JV Transaction, the Company now holds a 62% interest in Thacker Pass and will manage the Project, with GM having acquired a 38% interest in the Thacker Pass Project for $625 million in total committed cash and letters of credit, comprised of a $430 million commitment of direct cash funding to the JV to support the construction of Phase 1 of the Thacker Pass Project and a $195 million letter of credit facility ("LC Facility") that can be used as collateral to support reserve account requirements under the DOE Loan. The LC Facility will have no interest and a maturity consistent with the DOE Loan that will be withdrawn once replaced with cash that is generated by Thacker Pass.

As part of the closing of the JV Transaction, GM has funded $330 million of cash into the JV alongside $138 million of cash funding from the Company. The remaining $100 million cash contribution from GM, and Lithium Americas' $192 million contribution, is to be contributed when the final investment decision ("FID") for Phase 1 is declared.GM will post the LC Facility prior to first advance on the DOE Loan, which is expected to occur sometime in Q3 2025.

In connection with the JV Transaction, the Company and GM agreed to terminate the prior investment agreement between the parties, which involved a contemplated second tranche $330 million common equity investment in the Company from GM.

On January 7, 2025, the Company announced an increased mineral resource and mineral reserve estimate for Thacker Pass, including the release of an independent National Instrument 43-101 ("NI 43-101") technical report ("Thacker Pass TR") entitled "NI 43-101 Technical Report on the Thacker Pass Project Humboldt County, Nevada, USA," and an independent S-K 1300 technical report (the "S-K 1300 Technical Report") entitled "S-K 1300 Technical Report on the Thacker Pass Project Humboldt County, Nevada, USA," both dated effective December 31, 2024 (together with the Thacker Pass TR, collectively referred to herein as the "Reports"). The statements of mineral reserves and mineral resources for the Thacker Pass Project as of December 31, 2024 are presented in the tables below in Part I – Item 2: Properties – Mineral Resource and Mineral Reserve Estimate.

On March 6, 2025, the Company announced a strategic investment of $250 million from fund entities managed by Orion Resource Partners LP (collectively, "Orion"), for the development and construction of Phase 1 of the Thacker Pass ("Orion Investment"). Orion has committed to purchase senior unsecured convertible notes in the aggregate principal amount of $195 million (the "Orion Note") and enter into a Production Payment Agreement ("PPA") whereby Orion will pay LAC $25 million in exchange for payments corresponding to the minerals processed and gross revenue generated by Thacker Pass. Orion has committed, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent, to purchase an additional $30 million in aggregate principal amount Notes within two years (the "Delayed Draw Notes") upon request by the Company. For more information on the Orion Investment, refer to the Sources of Liquidity section of the Management's Discussion and Analysis ("MD&A") for the year ended December 31, 2024 ("FY 2024") in this Form 10-K.

Together with the DOE Loan and the investments from both GM and Orion, LAC expects to achieve fully funded status at the project and corporate level for the development and construction of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass for the duration of construction. Completion of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass is targeted for late 2027.

Thacker Pass, located in Humboldt County in northern Nevada, is a sedimentary clay resource and the largest lithium Measured and Indicated Resource in the world. See Part I – Item 2: Properties – Mineral Reserve and Mineral Resource Estimates below for more information.

Thacker Pass is approximately 100 kilometers ("km") north-northwest of Winnemucca, Nevada, approximately 33 km west-northwest of Orovada, Nevada, and 33 km due south of the Oregon border. Access to Thacker Pass is via the paved US Highway 95 and paved State Route 293; travel north on US-95 from Winnemucca, Nevada, for approximately 70 km to Orovada, Nevada and then travel west-northwest on State Route 293 for 33 km toward Thacker Pass to the Thacker Pass site entrance. Driving time is approximately one hour from Winnemucca, and 3.5 hours from Reno.

The Thacker Pass area encompasses approximately 7,900 hectares ("ha") and lies within and is surrounded by public lands administered by the Bureau of Land Management. The area is sparsely populated and used primarily for ranching and farming.

Thacker Pass is expected to be developed initially in Phases 1 and 2, with further expansion possibility for an additional three phases. Lithium carbonate production from Phases 1 through 4 is designed for a nominal 40,000 t/y Li_2CO_3 capacity per phase. Phase 5 expansion will be introduced at the time of Phase 4 expansion when mined ore grade decreases resulting in available capacity in the lithium carbonate crystallization circuits constructed during the initial four phases. Total possible nominal capacity of Phases 1 through 5 would be 160,000 t/y Li_2CO_3. The process plant is expected to operate 24 hours/day, 365 days/year with an overall availability of 88% and a possible mine life of 85 years. The total amount of ore processed from the development of Phases1 through 5 would be 1,057 million metric tonnes ("Mt") (dry).

Phase 1 commenced construction in February 2023, following the receipt of all key state-level environmental permits and a federal Record of Decision ("ROD"). Lithium Americas is working with Bechtel Infrastructure and Power Corporation ("Bechtel") who is responsible for the engineering, procurement and construction management ("EPCM") of Phase 1. Throughout 2023 and 2024, site preparation and early construction was ongoing, including:

- Completed the first phase of major earthworks including site clearing and plant pad excavation;
- Stockpiled all growth media for future reclamation;
- Commissioned a water supply system consisting of a 6.6-mile pipeline, pumps and ponds;
- Improved State Route 293 with acceleration and deceleration lanes, conforming to Nevada Department of Transportation specifications to improve safety and traffic flow for vehicles entering and exiting Thacker Pass; and

- Completed site infrastructure including erection of temporary offices, fencing, security gates and systems.

In the fourth quarter of 2024, the Company provided Bechtel and other major contractors with limited full notice to proceed ("FNTP") to de-risk the construction schedule and continue to target completion in late 2027. Declaring FNTP allowed engagement of additional contractors to advance the earthworks at an increased pace. Following a three-year construction period, completion is targeted for late 2027, Thacker Pass is expected to produce battery-quality lithium carbonate for the North American markets. The Company anticipates achieving full capacity production in 2028.

Current activity at Thacker Pass, as of March 28, 2025, has been focused on preparing the site for major construction, which will start with permanent concrete placement targeted to start in May 2025.

- Detailed engineering is currently over 55% design complete and targeted to increase to over 90% design complete by year end 2025.
- Earthworks in the processing plant area to prepare for first concrete placement is over 90% completed. The Company continues to award additional contracts and mobilize contractors to support first major concrete placement. Manufacturing of all long lead equipment awarded in Q4 2024 is advancing and the Company continues to procure other major equipment in line with the project schedule.
- First steel installation is targeted to commence in September 2025.

Lithium Technical Development Center

The Company's Lithium Technical Development Center ("LiTDC" or "Tech Center") in Reno, Nevada consists of chemical laboratories and a fully integrated pilot plant-scale model of the processing plants that will be built at Thacker Pass. Since July 2022, the Tech Center has produced battery-quality lithium carbonate samples from Thacker Pass ore for potential customers and suppliers. The Tech Center has been awarded the ISO 9001:2015 Quality Management System certification, which is a globally recognized standard for quality management. Implementation of ISO 9001:2015 demonstrates the Company's commitment to quality in the development of lithium products. The Tech Center continues to operate the integrated pilot facility focusing on data to support continuous improvement, equipment design and further reducing risks associated with the transition from mechanical completion to operations.

Transloading Terminal

The Company has leased a parcel of land adjacent to the mainline railroad from the City of Winnemucca and purchased an adjacent property with access to State Route 796, approximately 60 miles from Thacker Pass, for the development of a transloading terminal ("TLT").

The TLT has been planned to provide direct access to the railroad for shipping of reagents during operations of Phases 1 through 3. Phase 4 expansion would contemplate the addition of rail to Thacker Pass. Expected benefits of direct access to the mainline railroad during operations include reduced transportation costs for reagents, such as liquid sulfur and soda ash, and minimizing Scope 3 emissions by utilizing lower carbon intensity transportation methods.

On October 28, 2024, the Company awarded Iron Horse Terminals ("IHT") the contract to design, build, own and operate the TLT. IHT will provide multiple services at the TLT site including unloading rail cars, loading trucks, coordinating rail activities, truck transportation, railcar/truck repairs and facility maintenance. EPCM and operation of the TLT during Phase 1 is expected to generate approximately 100 jobs during construction and approximately 50 jobs during operations. The TLT is expected to be completed in 2027. The TLT design has been advanced to approximately 20% design complete.

On August 5, 2024, the Company received approval for a $11.8 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense to support an upgrade of local power infrastructure and to help build a transloading facility.

GM Offtake

Prior to the Separation, on January 30, 2023, Old LAC had entered into a purchase agreement with GM, pursuant to which GM agreed to make a $650 million equity investment (the "2023 Transaction"), the proceeds of which were to be used for the construction and development of Thacker Pass. The 2023 Transaction was comprised of two tranches, a first tranche investment of $320 million ("Tranche 1 Investment") a second tranche investment of up to $330 million (the "Tranche 2 Investment"). Tranche 1 closed and the Phase 1 offtake agreement for GM to purchase up to 100% of Phase 1 production for ten years, subject to a five-year extension at GM's option and other limited extensions, plus a right of first offer on Thacker Pass Phase 2 production was executed on February 16, 2023 (the "Offtake Agreement"). As part of the Arrangement, the Offtake Agreement was assigned by Old LAC to the Company.

Concurrently with closing of the DOE Loan, the Phase 1 Offtake Agreement was extended to 20 years. As part of the JV Transaction, GM also entered into an additional 20-year offtake agreement for up to 38% of production volumes from Phase 2 of Thacker Pass and will retain its right of first offer on the remaining balance of Phase 2 volumes ("Phase 2 Offtake").

Market Demand and Competitive Conditions

According to Benchmark Mineral Intelligence's Q3 2024 estimates, global electric vehicle ("EV") adoption is driving lithium demand, with total demand for lithium expected to more than double by 2030. While EV sales are growing at a slower than anticipated pace, EV sales are up 10% in the U.S. and sales are projected to increase by 26% globally in 2024. In the long-term, EV penetration is forecasted to grow from 20% in 2024 to 59% in 2034. To meet this demand, Thacker Pass is expected to help secure North America's lithium battery supply chain and reduce dependence on foreign countries for supply. With a strategic investment, joint venture partnership and long-term offtake agreement with General Motors, production from Thacker Pass Phase 1 is estimated to support lithium needs for up to 800,000 electric vehicles annually (assuming lithium carbonate equivalent ("LCE") intensity of 850 tonnes ("t") of lithium carbonate equivalent per gigawatt hour (LCE/GWh) (gigawatt hour)).

Resources Material to the Company's Business

Raw Materials

All of the raw materials that the Company requires to carry on its business are available through normal supply or business contracting channels. The following raw materials, also known as reagents, are required for processing the ore from Thacker Pass into battery-grade lithium carbonate. As Thacker Pass is in the construction stage, the Company is currently working on securing suppliers for these reagents for the production stage. Following is the name and description of each reagent and its purpose.

Reagent Name	Description	Purpose
Sulfur	A readily available by-product of the oil and gas industry	Sulfuric acid for leaching
Limestone	A sedimentary rock mainly composed of calcium carbonate	Neutralizing agent
Quicklime	A common alkaline substance produced by heating or calcining limestone	Magnesium precipitation
Sodium Hydroxide	Also known as caustic soda or lye, a strong base	Off-gas scrubbing and ion exchange purification
Soda Ash	Sodium carbonate produced from naturally occurring trona	Lithium carbonate production and calcium precipitation
Flocculant	Chemical that facilitates the aggregation of particles	Thickening and settling
Carbon Dioxide	A colorless, odorless gas used in the carbonated beverage industry	Lithium carbonate purification
Ferric Sulfate	A chemical compound used in water treatment processes	Calcium precipitation
Hydrochloric Acid	A strong acid solution	Ion exchange purification

The Company's Vendor Code of Conduct requires the Company and its vendors and suppliers to avoid sourcing minerals from conflict affected and high-risk areas where there are heightened concerns that proceeds from minerals could be used to contribute to armed conflict or human rights abuses. These minerals may include certain tin, tungsten, tantalum, gold, mica and cobalt (3TG Minerals) that are extracted or processed in certain other countries and contribute to armed conflict in the Democratic Republic of Congo and its adjoining countries. The Company's goal is to source the majority of reagents from continental North America or domestic U.S. suppliers to limit carbon emissions and reduce transportation costs to benefit operating costs.

Patents

The Company owns U.S. Patent No. 12,188,107 B2 and Mexican Patent No. MX2021011625A, which relate to the economic concentration and extraction of lithium chemicals from sedimentary resources. The Company also has pending applications in the United States, Canada, Chile, China and Europe, including applications relating to the processing of lithium clays and cost-effective separation of magnesium from lithium in sulfate brines as a benign material.

Government Contracts

On October 28, 2024, the Company's subsidiary LN and DOE executed a loan agreement for an ATVM Loan for a construction facility with maximum borrowing of $1.97 billion plus up to $289.6 million of capitalized interest to fund eligible construction costs of Thacker Pass over the period from the first advance through no later than November 30, 2028. The DOE Loan has a 24-year maturity with interest rates fixed from the date of each monthly advance for the term of the loan at applicable U.S. Treasury rates without any additional credit spread.

The DOE Loan agreement was amended on December 20, 2024 to give effect to the formation of Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC, a JV with GM to own a 100% interest in LN, which owns Thacker Pass. Remaining conditions precedent to first draw, as of the filing date of this Form 10-K, include a project finance model bring down. As of this date, no amounts have been drawn under the DOE Loan. The Company currently expects to make the first draw on the DOE Loan sometime in Q3 2025.

The DOE Loan is funded by the Federal Financing Bank ("FFB") pursuant to a Note Purchase Agreement signed simultaneously with the DOE Loan. The DOE Loan and FFB Note Purchase Agreement are a firm contractual obligation of the DOE and FFB and cannot be unilaterally terminated by either the DOE or FFB except in the limited circumstances customary to this type of financing and outlined in the DOE Loan and FFB Note Purchase Agreement. Refer to Exhibit 10.18 for the FFB Note Purchase Agreement, dated October 28, 2024.

Periodic repayments of principal and interest commence January 20, 2029. The DOE Loan has a maturity date of October 20, 2048. The Company may prepay the loan at any time, subject to certain conditions, by paying principal plus accrued interest on outstanding advances.

Seasonality

The Thacker Pass project could be affected by seasonal factors affecting the business including but not limited to the availability of power resources and considerations relating to wildlife sensitivity, which could be influenced by seasonal variability due to stresses on those resources. The lithium chemicals business is also subject to commercial business cycles and commodity price cycles. If the global economy stalls and commodity prices decline, a continuing period of lower prices could significantly affect the economic potential of the Company's properties and result in it deciding to cease work on, or drop its interest in, its properties.

Government Regulations

The Company's exploration and future development activities are subject to various national, state, provincial and local laws and regulations in the U.S. and Canada, which govern prospecting, development, mining, production, exports, taxes, labor standards, occupational health, waste disposal, protection of the environment, mine safety, hazardous substances and other matters.

Mining and exploration activities at Thacker Pass are subject to various laws and regulations relating to the protection of the environment, which are discussed in Part I – Item 1A: Risk Factors in this Form 10-K. Although the Company intends to comply with all existing environmental and mining laws and regulations, no assurance can be given that the Company will be in compliance with all applicable regulations or that new rules and regulations will not be enacted or that existing rules and regulations will not be applied in a manner that could limit or curtail development of its properties. Amendments to current laws and regulations governing exploration and development or more stringent implementation thereof could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and cause increases in exploration expenses or require delays or abandonment in the development of mining properties. In addition, the Company is required to expend significant resources to comply with numerous corporate governance and disclosure regulations and requirements adopted by U.S. federal and Canadian federal and provincial governments. These additional compliance costs and related diversion of the attention of management and key personnel could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business.

On March 20, 2025, President Trump signed an Executive Order to effect immediate measures to increase the United States' mineral production. The Executive Order provides for a review of certain processes, policies and regulations currently in place that affect the mining, processing, refining and smelting of certain minerals, in an effort to facilitate increased domestic mineral production and reduce the United States' reliance on foreign nations' supply of such minerals. While these measures may prove beneficial to the success of mining and exploration activities at Thacker Pass, their ultimate effect on the Company's business or the mining industry in general is uncertain and cannot be predicted. To the extent such measures result in a material increase in the domestic supply of lithium, either through increased lithium production by the Company's competitors or the development of new mining projects, the prices the Company is able to realize for its products could be decreased and its business could be negatively impacted.

Except as described in this Form 10-K, the Company believes that it is in compliance, in all material respects, with applicable mining, health, safety and environmental statutes and regulations.

For a more detailed discussion of the various government laws and regulations in the U.S. applicable to the Company's operations and the potential negative effects of such laws and regulations, see Part I – Item 1A: Risk Factors in this Form 10-K.

Regulatory and Permitting

Thacker Pass is located on public lands administered by the U.S. Department of the Interior, Bureau of Land Management ("BLM"). Construction of Thacker Pass requires permits and approvals from various Federal, State and local government agencies. Thacker Pass is being considered in five phases, lasting 85 years.

All major federal, state and local permits and authorizations to commence Phase 1 operations have been achieved and there are no identified issues that would prevent the Company from achieving all permits and authorizations for Phase 1 and 2 of Thacker Pass, or that may affect access, title, or the right or ability to perform work on the property. In addition to the BLM-approved Plan of Operations, the Nevada Division of Environmental Protection ("NDEP") has issued a Water Pollution Control Permit ("WPCP") and Class II Air Quality Operating Permit. Over time, state permits are expected to be amended to accommodate later-stage Phase 1-2 activities, including air-quality permit updates relating to the Phase 2 plant and authorization under the WPCP to mine below the water table. Such permitting would be addressed with regulators well ahead of time to mitigate risk of mine-plan disruption.

Additional analysis would be needed to determine any potential Federal, State or local regulatory or permitting issues for Phases 3 through 5 of Thacker Pass. Future expansions are being planned as follows: Phase 2 – four years after completion of Phase 1; Phase 3 – four years after completion of Phase 2; and Phase 4 and 5 – four years after completion of Phase 3.

The Company commenced construction at Thacker Pass for Phase 1 on February 28, 2023, following receipt of a notice to proceed from the BLM.

The most recent modified Reclamation Permit was issued by the Nevada Division of Environmental Protection-Bureau of Mining, Regulation and Reclamation ("NDEP-BMRR") in Q4 2024. The BLM will require the placement of a financial guarantee (reclamation bond) to ensure that all disturbances from the mine and process site are reclaimed once mining activities conclude.

In 2024, there were no material environmental-related matters (e.g. spills, contaminations, etc.) at Thacker Pass.

Permitting History

From 2008 to 2023, the Company performed extensive exploration activities at the Thacker Pass site under existing approved agency permits. LAC has all necessary federal and state permits and approvals to conduct mineral exploration activities within active target areas of the Thacker Pass site. Thacker Pass is approved by the BLM and NDEP-BMRR to conduct mineral exploration and construction activities at Thacker Pass in accordance with BLM Permit Nos. NVN98582 and NVN98586, and State permit 0415. Reclamation obligations are administered jointly by the BLM and the State of Nevada.

In Q3 2018, the Company submitted a conceptual Mine Plan of Operations ("MPO").

In Q3 2019, the Company submitted a Proposed MPO and Reclamation Plan Permit Application, which the BLM deemed technically complete.

In Q1 2020, the BLM published a notice of intent ("NOI") to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement ("EIS") in the Federal Register.

In January 2021, the BLM Record of Decision ("ROD") authorizing the Project was issued following the BLM's National Environmental Policy Act of 1969 ("NEPA") review process for Thacker Pass, which included the BLM's preparation of an EIS. The approved MPO contemplates production of battery-grade lithium hydroxide, lithium carbonate and lithium metal (estimating approximately 66,000 short tpa of lithium carbonate equivalent). Legal appeals that were brought in Federal court challenging aspects of the NEPA analysis and cultural review were dismissed by the Federal District Court. One appeal to the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the District Court's decision.

Separately, a new lawsuit was filed in U.S. District Court in February 2023 by the Reno Sparks Indian Colony, the Burns Paiute Tribe and the Summit Lake Paiute Tribe, concerning among other things, adequacy of consultation by the BLM for the issuance of the ROD. In March 2023, the U.S. District Court denied the plaintiffs' requests for a temporary restraining order and preliminary injunction. On November 11, 2023, the U.S. District Court dismissed all claims. After the plaintiffs did not seek to amend their complaint, the court issued a final order and judgment dismissing the case in December 2023 and that decision was not appealed.

In 2021, the BLM approved a reclamation cost estimate for the Thacker Pass plan of operations of $47.6 million. In February 2023, financial assurance in the amount of $13.7 million for the initial work plan was placed with the agency prior to initiating construction. The NDEP-BMRR approved the Plan of Operations and Reclamation Plan ("PoO") with the issuance of draft Reclamation Permit 0415. On February 25, 2022, the NDEP-BMRR then issued the final Reclamation Permit 0415. In December 2024, the State and BLM determined that financial assurance for full construction of Phase 1 would be $73 million, and the Project subsequently submitted a third-party reclamation bond in that amount to BLM in February 2025. Final approval of that surety is pending.

In February 2022, NDEP issued the final key state-level permits for Thacker Pass including the Water Pollution Control Permit, Mine Reclamation Permit and Class II Air Quality Operating Permit. The State approved Water Pollution Control Permit minor modifications in January 2024 and September 2024, and an Air Quality Operating Permit minor modification in June 2024. Additional permit modifications to reflect design updates are currently pending, and modifications to conform to any other design updates may be pursued as warranted.

In February 2023, the Company's application with the State of Nevada Division of Water Resources ("NDWR") for the transfer of certain water rights for Phase 1 of Thacker Pass was approved by the State Engineer. The State Engineer's Office issued the final water rights permits on June 30, 2023 and July 3, 2023, authorizing the Company to use its water production wells. In March 2023, the State Engineer's decision was appealed in state court by a local ranching company and the case is currently pending. The Company has commenced using the water rights for construction activities at Thacker Pass in accordance with the State Engineer's authorization.

On June 25, 2024, the BLM approved a modification to the PoO, which included an updated facility layout and the addition of the countercurrent decantation circuits. A modified Reclamation Permit was issued by NDEP-BMRR in Q4 2024. The BLM will require the placement of a financial guarantee (reclamation bond) to ensure that all disturbances from the mine and process site are reclaimed once mining concludes.

Environmental Stewardship

The Company is committed to safely and sustainably developing Thacker Pass and limiting the Project's adverse environmental impact. The Company looks for opportunities to reduce energy consumption, limit carbon emissions and environmental footprint, and sustainably manage waste and water resources. The Thacker Pass flowsheet is targeting a low-water and low-carbon operation. Additional information can be found in the S-K 1300 Report available as Exhibit 96.1, and the Company's 2023 ESG-Safety Report available on the Company's website.

Social Responsibility

The Company continues to work collaboratively with the Fort McDermitt Paiute and Shoshone Tribe (the "Tribe") and communities closest to Thacker Pass to increase transparency around project developments, and to identify and address various impacts from the Project.

Community Benefits Agreement with Fort McDermitt Tribe

A key commitment of the Community Benefits Agreement ("CBA") signed in October 2022 with the Tribe, located approximately 48 miles by road from Thacker Pass, is to build a new community center with on-site preschool, daycare, playground, cultural facility and communal greenhouse. Tribe leadership identified a building site location for the community center and approved conceptual building designs. The CBA also commits to training and employment opportunities for members of the Tribe; funding to support cultural education and preservation work by the Tribe; and business and contracting opportunities between the parties.

Skills Training and Job Opportunities

The Company is committed to hiring locally where possible and has been working with Great Basin College to develop and offer a Workforce Development Training program for local communities and the Tribe.

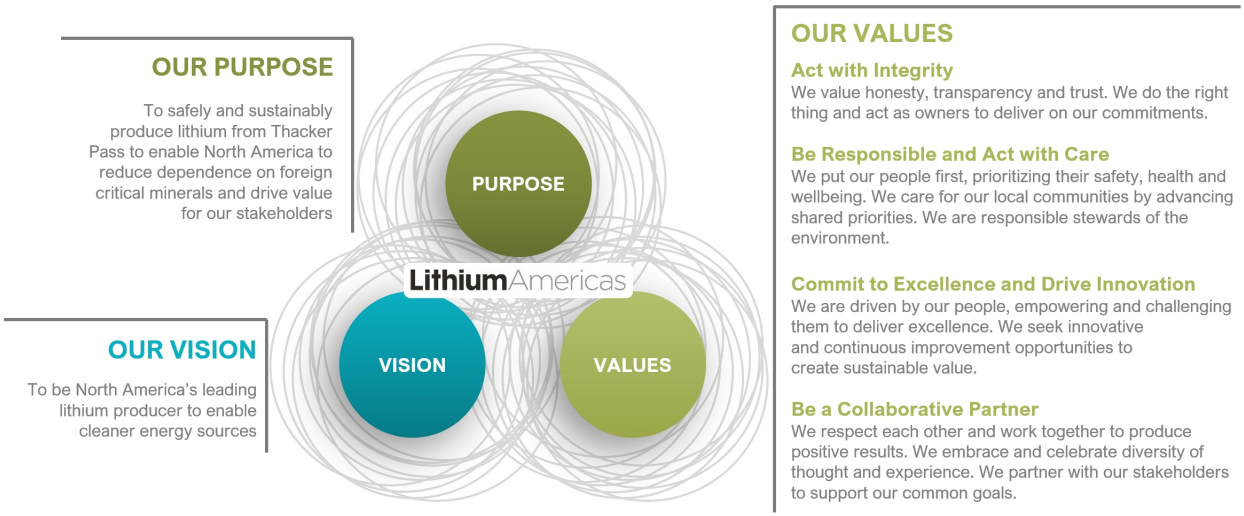
In Q3 2024, the Company worked closely with Great Basin College to develop customized workforce development training specific to Thacker Pass. Curriculum for process operator, emergency response as well as leadership training are being evaluated. In early 2024, a Fort McDermitt Tribe member and a McDermitt resident were among the first local people hired to help the geophysics team prepare for major construction.

Community Engagement

The communities of Orovada and Kings Valley are the closest communities to Thacker Pass, located approximately 18 and 5 miles from the site, respectively. The Company has met regularly with local community members for the purpose of identifying community concerns and developing ways to address them. As construction activities began, the Company increased its community outreach through open houses, one-on-one meetings and tours of the Tech Center. The Company collaborated with the Humboldt County School District and the BLM to finalize the conceptual design and location of a new K-8 school in Orovada. Construction of the new school is expected to be 100% funded by the Company. Detailed engineering and construction planning work is currently underway.

Human Capital

The Company's vision is to be North America's leading lithium producer to enable cleaner energy sources, and the Company's purpose is to safely and sustainability produce lithium from Thacker Pass to enable North America to reduce dependence on foreign critical minerals and drive value for its stakeholders. The Company's Values to Act with Integrity, Be Responsible and Act with Care, Commitment to Excellence and Drive Innovation and Be a Collaborative Partner guide employee's work and interactions, as well as build company culture.



Employees

As of December 31, 2024, Lithium Americas had 79 full-time employees across the Company, in the Vancouver, Reno and Winnemucca offices or remotely from their home offices.

Talent Attraction and Retention

The Company's aim is to attract, develop and retain the most talented people with diverse backgrounds, beliefs and perspectives to enhance innovation, creativity and employee engagement. The Company is actively recruiting talent and committed to promoting from within where possible to build and develop teams that drive the long-term success of the Company's business. There will be many new employment opportunities, as well as career advancement opportunities for existing employees as the Company grows from an exploration and development company to one that is in construction and, eventually, a producer.

The Company is committed to offering competitive wages, benefits and compensation to attract and retain skilled employees; partnering with local academic institutions, businesses and other organizations to design and offer workforce training opportunities to build a pool of local skilled candidates with diverse backgrounds; maintaining two-way communication and encourage a culture where employees' voices are heard and respected; conducting annual and semiannual performance reviews to support employee development and providing financial assistance towards continuing education expenses for employees.

The Company is committed to hiring locally wherever possible to magnify the benefits of its operations. In 2024, 100% of new hires at the Company's Winnemucca or Reno offices to support Thacker Pass were local to Nevada.

Project Labor Agreement

In 2023, together with its EPCM contractor, Bechtel, the Company entered into a National Construction Agreement (Project Labor Agreement) ("PLA") with North America's Building Trades Unions ("NABTU") for construction of Thacker Pass Phase 1, expected to create approximately 2,000 jobs, including 1,800 skilled labor contractors. The PLA creates new jobs for NABTU members as well as substantially de-risks skilled labor availability during construction. Commencement of hiring and ramp up of construction workers will align with the construction schedule. The first batch of Bechtel Craft Professionals Requisitions was sent out in early January 2025 with the first craft professionals starting in February 2025.

Additional jobs during construction and operations will be created through ancillary and support services, such as transportation, maintenance and supplies.

Workforce Hub

The Workforce Hub ("WFH") is being developed as a temporary full-service housing facility for construction craft professionals located in the nearby City of Winnemucca. The Company completed the purchase of land, and the housing modules are currently stored in-place to allow for staged erection.

Major earthworks and the first phase of foundations are completed, sewer and water pipe installation continues and the first modular housing units are being installed. The contract for the final installation and operations scope of work was awarded in February 2025 to Target Hospitality Corp., one of North America's largest providers of vertically integrated modular accommodations and value-added hospitality services in the U.S. First occupancy of the WFH is targeted for the second half of 2025.

Health and Safety

Health and safety ("H&S") excellence is one of the Company's core principles and essential to its business. The Company takes a proactive approach to safety and seeks to prevent, limit and manage H&S risks for its employees, contractors and the communities where it operates. The Company's goal is zero harm. In 2024, 195,573 workhours were completed at Thacker Pass without a serious injury or lost-time incident ("LTI").

H&S training is also an integral part of the Company's safety program. LAC use H&S training opportunities to build its safety culture by reinforcing the Company's safety philosophies, policies and procedures. The Company has implemented SafeStart, the most successful, advanced safety awareness and skills development program in the world. This is a behavior-based program that teaches employees safe working habits and corrects unsafe behavior. The training also reinforces team building and improves employee communication through safety awareness. In 2024, the Company completed 448 hours of employee H&S training.

Item 1A: Risk Factors

The following are risk factors that the Company's management believes are applicable to its business and the industry in which it operates. The risk factors set out below are not exhaustive and do not include risks the Company deems to be immaterial. If any of the events, risks or uncertainties described below actually occur, it or they may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, operating results, or future prospects (including with respect to the price of the Company's Common Shares). These risk factors are not necessarily in the order of importance or probability of occurrence.

Risk Relating to Resource Development

Commercial viability of the Thacker Pass Project depends on numerous uncontrollable factors such as permitting and financing that could negatively affect business and financial conditions

The Company's business strategy depends in substantial part on developing Thacker Pass into a commercially viable mine and chemical manufacturing facility. Whether a mineral deposit will be commercially viable depends on numerous factors, including but not limited to: the attributes of the deposit, such as size and grade; proximity to available infrastructure; economics for new infrastructure; market conditions for battery-grade lithium products; processing methods and costs; and government permitting and regulations.

There are many factors that could impact the development of Thacker Pass, including permitting, terms and availability of financing, including with respect to the closing of the Orion Investment, cost overruns, litigation or administrative appeals concerning the project, delays in development, and regulatory changes, among other factors. Thacker Pass is also subject to the development and operational risks described elsewhere in this Form 10-K. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Company will complete development of Thacker Pass as currently contemplated, or at all. If the Company is unable to develop Thacker Pass into a commercial operating mine, its business and financial condition would be materially adversely affected.

The Company's ability to draw on the DOE Loan is contingent on meeting specific conditions and covenants, and failure to do so could lead to loan termination or other significant adverse effects

The Company's ability to draw down on the DOE Loan and to utilize such funds towards the construction and development of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass is dependent on the satisfaction of the conditions set out in the DOE Loan documents, including the announcing of FID, which conditions may be amended pursuant to the terms of the DOE Loan documents. There can be no assurance as to the satisfaction of these conditions or as to the outcome of any amended requirements, if any.

The DOE Loan agreement also includes representations, warranties and covenants of the Company customary for financings of a similar nature by the U.S. Government or other public lending institutions, including relating to repayment obligations. The failure of the Company to comply with or satisfy any or all of the conditions and requirements or to remain in compliance with the covenant regime under the DOE Loan could result in a reduction of the size of the DOE Loan made available to the Company and/or an event of default under the DOE Loan, which could result in the termination of the DOE Loan and/or cause any amounts outstanding under the DOE Loan to become immediately due and payable, any of which would have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

The terms of the DOE Loan agreement also contain a number of significant restrictions and covenants that limit the Company's ability under the DOE Loan agreement to, among other things: operate business outside of the ordinary course and enter into certain material contracts relating to the Thacker Pass Project without the prior consent of the DOE; incur liens and indebtedness or provide guarantees in respect of obligations of any other person; make loans and other investments and certain capital expenditures; issue equity securities for the Company's subsidiaries; engage in mergers, consolidations and asset dispositions; and engage in affiliate transactions.

If the Company were to default on the aforementioned restrictive covenants for any reason, its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected. In addition, complying with these covenants may also cause the Company to take actions that are not favorable to securityholders and may make it more difficult to successfully execute the Company's business strategy and compete against companies who are not subject to such restrictions.

On January 20, 2025, President Trump signed an Executive Order which paused the disbursement of funds appropriated through the Inflation Reduction Act or the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act. The pause provides for a review of the processes, policies and issuances of various grants, loans, contracts or financial disbursements of appropriated funds. The Company's DOE Loan is closed and will be funded by the Federal Financing Bank. However, any impact on the Company's ability to amend the DOE Loan as a result of this Executive Order could adversely and materially impact its business to include increased costs, timeline delays and its ability to proceed with the development and construction of Phase I.

There can be no assurances when or if the Orion Investment will be completed

Although the Company expects to complete the Orion Investment early in the second quarter of 2025, there can be no assurances as to the exact timing of the closing of the Orion Investment or whether the Orion Investment will be completed at all. The closing of the Orion Investment is subject to numerous conditions, including announcement of FID by the JV Partners, and there can be no assurance that the conditions required to complete the Orion Investment, some of which are beyond our control, will be satisfied or waived on the anticipated schedule, or at all.

Although the Company has obtained all key environmental permits for Thacker Pass for an initial stage of construction, there can be no certainty that current permits will be maintained, permitting changes such as changes to the mine plan or increases to planned capacity will be approved, or additional local, state or federal permits or approvals required to carry out development and production at Thacker Pass will be obtained, projected timelines for permitting decisions to be made will be met, or the projected costs of permitting will be accurate.

Moreover, future phases of Thacker Pass will likely require additional environmental analysis and permit approvals by state and federal agencies, including BLM. Such environmental analysis would likely require the preparation of supplemental NEPA analysis and other required consultations with various federal and state agencies, such as the United States Fish and Wildlife Service and the State of Nevada Department of Wildlife. Future phases of Thacker Pass would also require the submission of new or supplemental mine plans. There is no guarantee that the Company will obtain the necessary permits required or that any such approval of permits will not be delayed.

In addition, there is the risk that existing permits will be subject to challenges of regulatory administrative processes, and similar litigation and appeal processes. Litigation and regulatory review processes can result in lengthy delays, with uncertain outcomes. In the U.S., changes in the presidential administration may result in the suspension, revocation, or modification of certain regulations that the Company is subject to, thereby creating additional uncertainty. For example, President Trump's recent signing of various Executive Orders on January 20, 2025 resulted in the temporary suspension of agency approvals of some projects and forecast upcoming changes in the regulatory framework for federal environmental reviews under NEPA, which may result in permitting delays and additional uncertainty, as the process for agencies to update their NEPA regulations may be time-intensive, result in additional changes to the process that the Company does not anticipate, and result in increased litigation. Such issues as these could impact the expected development timelines of Thacker Pass and consequently have a material adverse effect on the Company's prospects and business.

The expected capital and operating costs for Thacker Pass are based on various assumptions that may prove inaccurate, and any discrepancies could lead to increased costs and the need for additional funding to complete Phase 1 and meet working capital requirements

The expected capital and operating costs for Thacker Pass are based on the interpretation of geological and metallurgical data, feasibility studies, economic factors and other factors that may prove to be inaccurate. New tariffs imposed on certain metals used in the development of the Project could lead to an increase in commodity prices, causing construction to be delayed or to require greater capital investment. Therefore, the Reports may prove to be unreliable if the assumptions or estimates do not reflect actual facts and events. The following events, among other events and uncertainties described in the Reports, could affect the ultimate accuracy of such estimates: uncertainties in the interpreted geological data based on the representativeness of drill holes, in particular, unrecognized faults or basaltic units that could require changes to the mine plan or increased mine dilution or mine losses; unrecognized geotechnical conditions; unanticipated changes to the process flowsheet; increase in capital costs for any reason; and adverse weather conditions that could reduce mine equipment performance or require project-design changes.

As described elsewhere throughout this Form 10-K, the funding from the DOE Loan, the US$430 million of direct cash funding to the JV from GM expected as part of the JV Transaction, the Company's existing cash and cash equivalents and the net proceeds expected from the initial closing of the Orion Investment are collectively expected to result in the estimated remaining capital expenditures for construction of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass and the estimated working capital requirements to fund the Company's activities from the start of 2025 through expected initial production being fully funded. For the reasons set forth above and due to other factors, estimates relating to the cost of construction of Phase 1 and estimates relating to working capital requirements for such period may prove to be inaccurate, and currently unforeseen incremental funding may be required to complete Phase 1 in full and/or to fund such working capital requirements.

The Company's lack of history of completing mining and chemical processing projects or conducting such operations makes it difficult to evaluate its prospects, increasing the uncertainty of its future success

The Company has no prior history of completing the development of a mining or chemical processing project or conducting such operations. The future development of properties found to be economically feasible will require the construction and operation of mines, processing plants and related infrastructure. While certain members of management and employees have mining development, chemical industry and operational experience, the Company does not have vast experience as a collective organization. As a result of these factors, it is difficult to evaluate the Company's prospects, and the Company's future success is more uncertain than if it had a proven history.

Inherent risks in establishing new mining and chemical processing operations, including unexpected costs, problems and delays, could impact the profitability of operations at Thacker Pass

The Company is and will continue to be subject to all risks inherent with establishing new mining and chemical processing operations including: the time and costs of construction of mining and processing facilities and related infrastructure; the availability and costs of skilled labor and mining equipment and supplies; the need to obtain and maintain necessary environmental and other governmental approvals, licenses and permits, and the timing of their issuance; the availability of funds to finance construction and development activities; potential opposition from non-governmental organizations, indigenous peoples, environmental groups or local groups which may delay or prevent development activities; and potential increases in construction and operating costs due to various factors, including the imposition of new tariffs by the Trump administration, that could lead to changes in the costs of fuel, power, labor, contractors, materials, supplies and equipment.

It is common in new mining operations to experience unexpected costs, problems and delays during construction, commissioning and start-up of mining and processing operations. In addition, delays in the early stages of mineral production often occur. Accordingly, the Company cannot provide assurance that its activities will result in profitable mining operations at Thacker Pass and any other mineral properties the Company advances or acquires in the future.

The Company's U.S. operations, coupled with its domicile in British Columbia, and the evolving political landscape, including increased geopolitical tensions and industrial policies, could impact its ability to fund the project

The Company's business is international in scope, with its incorporating jurisdiction and head office located in Canada and its flagship asset, Thacker Pass located in the United States. Changes, if any, in mining, investment or other applicable policies or shifts in political attitude in any of the jurisdictions in which the Company operates, or towards such political jurisdictions, may adversely affect the Company's operations or profitability and may affect the Company's ability to fund its ongoing development expenditures at Thacker Pass. These political changes could also have a substantive impact on the Company that may prevent or restrict the development of Thacker Pass, including the financial results therefrom, regardless of the economic viability of Thacker Pass.

More specifically, as a result of increased concerns around global supply chains, the lithium industry has become subject to increasing political involvement, including in the United States and Canada. This reflects the critical role of lithium as an input in the development of batteries for the burgeoning transition to electric vehicles in the automotive industry, combined with worldwide supply constraints for lithium production and geopolitical tensions. Political involvement appears to be evolving into a form of industrial policy by governments, including in Canada and the United States, to encourage the development of domestic supply through tax incentives and low-interest loans to domestic and other politically aligned actors, as well as by those governments undertaking steps to discourage the involvement of participants from non-politically aligned countries such as by tariffs and restrictions on ownership, influence and investment. These factors are of particular relevance to the Company, with its Canadian incorporation, U.S.-based Thacker Pass and predominant connection to Canada and the United States through its stock exchange listings, shareholder base and board and management composition. This evolving industrial policy may benefit the Company through the prospect of tax incentives and project financing. For example, on January 20, 2025, President Trump signed a sweeping energy-related Executive Order which directed various heads of agencies to identify and revise or rescind any actions imposing undue burdens on domestic mining and processing of non-fuel minerals. However, the Company cannot predict what impacts this order may have on its operations, and there remains potential for delays in state approvals, permits and licenses notwithstanding this order. Moreover, notwithstanding such changes, there is the continued risk that policy approaches may shift over time, reducing or eliminating access to such benefits in the future. Increased government involvement may also present limitations on the extent to which the Company may undertake business operations with non-politically aligned parties, including limitations on ownership. The Company has and intends to continue to fully comply with legislation and policies in all jurisdictions where it operates. At this time, the Company cannot predict if any of these steps will result in a substantive adverse change to its business or operations, or the intended geographic focus of its business.

There is also currently significant uncertainty about the future relationship between the United States and various other countries, including changes arising as a result of the new administration, with respect to trade policies, treaties, tariffs, taxes and other limitations on cross-border operations. Changes in tariffs, trade barriers, price and exchange controls and other regulatory requirements could have an adverse effect on the Company's business, prospects, financial condition and operating results, the extent of which cannot be predicted with certainty at this time.

In 2025, the United States proposed to impose and enact tariffs on certain items. Potential new tariffs that could be imposed on certain metals used in development on the Project could cause input prices to increase, cause construction to be delayed or require greater capital investment. There have been ongoing discussions and activities regarding changes to other United States' trade policies and treaties. In response, a number of countries, including Canada, Mexico, and China have implemented or threatened to implement tariffs on United States goods or to take other measures in response to these United States actions. These developments could have a material adverse effect on global economic conditions and the stability of global financial markets, and they may significantly reduce global trade and, in particular, trade between each of Canada, the United States and other affected countries. Any of these factors could depress economic activity and have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition and results of operations. These actions are a recent development and are subject to a number of uncertainties as they are implemented, including future adjustments and changes in the countries excluded from such tariffs. The ultimate reaction of other countries, and businesses in those countries, and the impact of these tariffs or other actions on the United States and Canada, the global economy, the demand for lithium and market price of lithium-based products, the Company's business, operations or financial results therefrom, cannot be predicted at this time, nor can the Company predict the impact of any other developments with respect to global trade and related disputes. In addition, to the extent the Company's activities source products, materials, equipment, and services from countries other than the United States, the price and availability of those products, materials, equipment, and services could be impacted by the recently imposed tariffs and/or other penalties. Such cost increases could delay or cause the Company to incur significant expenditures that are not provided for in the Company's budgets, which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, operations, and the financial results therefrom, including the timing and development of Thacker Pass.

Changes in government laws and regulations, including those related to taxation, environmental compliance and permitting, may affect development

Changes to government laws and regulations may affect the development of Thacker Pass. Such changes could include laws relating to taxation, royalties, restrictions on production, export controls, tariffs, environmental, biodiversity and ecological compliance, mine development and operations, labor, mine safety, permitting and numerous other aspects of the Company's business. Many of these changes may result from a change in presidential administrations; for example, President Trump in a suite of Executive Orders, has directed the pause, modification or revocation of various previous Executive Orders and regulations that directly and indirectly affect the development of Thacker Pass, to include upcoming revisions to the approach federal agencies take in complying with environmental reviews and elimination of an electric vehicle "mandate" which may adversely affect demand for lithium.

The Company's ability to develop Thacker Pass is governed by the U.S. Mining Act and other laws, with no assurance of title or permit stability, and any contest or regulatory changes could delay development

The U.S. Mining Act and other federal and state laws govern the Company's ability to develop, mine and process the minerals on the unpatented mining claims and/or mill site claims that form Thacker Pass, which are locatable under the U.S. Mining Act. There can be no assurance of title to any of the Company's property interests, or that such title will ultimately be secured. The Company's property interests may also be subject to prior unregistered agreements or transfers or other land claims, and title may be affected by undetected defects and adverse laws and regulations.

The Company cannot guarantee that the validity of its unpatented mining claims will not be contested. A successful contest of the unpatented mining claims could result in the Company being unable to develop minerals on the contested unpatented mining claims or being unable to exercise its rights as the owner or locater of the unpatented mining claims.

The Company must apply for and obtain approvals and permits from federal and state agencies to conduct exploration, development and mining on its properties. Although the Company has applied for and has received, or anticipates receipt of, such approvals and permits for certain areas where the Company owns mineral rights, there is no assurance that the Company's rights under them will not be affected by legislation or amendment of regulations governing the approvals and permits, or that applicable government agencies will not seek to revoke or significantly alter the conditions of the applicable exploration and mining approvals or permits, or that they will not be challenged or impugned by third parties, resulting in delays.

Mineral resource and reserve estimates are inherently uncertain and may be inaccurate

Mineral Resources and Mineral Reserves figures disclosed or otherwise incorporated by reference in this Form 10-K are estimates only. Estimated tonnages and grades may not be achieved if the projects are brought into production; differences in grades and tonnage could be material; and, estimated levels of recovery may not be realized. The estimation of Mineral Resources and Mineral Reserves carries with it many inherent uncertainties, of which many are outside the control of the Company. Estimation is by its very nature a subjective process, which is based on the quality and quantity of available data, engineering assumptions, geological interpretation and judgments used in the engineering and estimation processes. Estimates may also need to be revised based on changes to underlying assumptions, such as commodity prices, drilling results, metallurgical testing, production, and changes to mine plans of operation. Any material decrease in estimates of Mineral Resources or Mineral Reserves, or an inability to extract Mineral Reserves could have a material adverse effect on the Company, its business, results of operations and financial position.

Any estimates of Inferred Mineral Resources included in or otherwise incorporated by reference in this Form 10-K are also subject to a high degree of uncertainty, and may require a significant amount of exploration work in order to determine if they can be upgraded to a higher category.

Opposition could lead to delays or prevent the Project from proceeding, impacting development

Thacker Pass, like many mining projects, may have opponents. Opponents of other mining projects have, in some cases, been successful in bringing public and political pressure against mining projects. Substantial opposition to the Company's mining project could result in delays to project development or business plans, or prevent the project from proceeding at all, despite the commercial viability of the project.

Risks Relating to Lithium Production and Operations

The Mineral exploration and development business has inherent health and safety risks, and non-compliance with related laws could lead to penalties and civil liability

The mineral exploration, development and processing business carries an inherent risk of liability related to worker health and safety, including the risk of government-imposed orders to remedy unsafe conditions, potential penalties for contravention of health and safety laws, requirements for permits and other regulatory approvals, and potential civil liability. Compliance with health and safety laws, and any changes to such laws, and the requirements of applicable permits and other regulatory requirements remains material to the Company's business. The Company may become subject to government orders, investigations, inquiries or other proceedings (including civil claims) relating to health and safety matters. The occurrence of any of these events or any changes, additions to or more rigorous enforcement of health and safety laws, permits or other approvals could have a significant impact on operations and result in additional costs or penalties. In turn, these could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects.

Failure to achieve production estimates for Thacker Pass, due to inaccuracies in assumptions or lower quality ore, could materially and adversely affect cash flows and profitability

This Form 10-K and the Reports contain estimates relating to future production and future production costs for Thacker Pass. No assurance can be given that production estimates will be achieved generally or at the stated costs. These production estimates are dependent on, among other things, the accuracy of mineral reserve estimates, the accuracy of assumptions regarding ore grades and recovery rates, ground conditions, physical conditions of ores, assumed metallurgical characteristics and the accuracy of estimated rates and costs of mining and processing. For Thacker Pass, ore grades or types may be lower quality than expected, which may result in levels lower than expected. The failure of the Company to achieve production estimates could have a material and adverse effect on any or all of its cash flows, profitability, results of operations and financial condition and prospects.

The novel process for producing lithium carbonate from Thacker Pass has not been demonstrated at commercial scale, posing risks of inefficiencies, unforeseen costs and delays

The processes contemplated by the Company for production of lithium carbonate from a sedimentary deposit such as that of Thacker Pass have not previously been demonstrated at commercial scale. To mitigate this risk, the Company developed the Lithium Technical Development Center in Reno, Nevada ("LiTDC"), a new integrated process testing facility in Reno, Nevada to test the process chemistry. The LiTDC continues to operate based on the Thacker Pass flowsheet processing raw ore to final battery-quality lithium carbonate to produce product samples for potential customers and partners. The results of ongoing test work to de-risk each step of the flowsheet continue to be in line with expectations. However, there are risks that the process chemistry will not be demonstrated at scale, efficiencies of recovery and throughput capacity will not be met, or that scaled production will not be cost effective or operate as expected. In addition, the novel nature of the deposit could result in unforeseen costs, additional changes to the process chemistry and engineering, and other unforeseen circumstances that could result in additional delays to develop the project or increased capital or operating costs from those estimated in the Reports, which could have a material adverse effect on the development of Thacker Pass.

Development of Thacker Pass is highly dependent on the projected demand for lithium-based products, and any failure in market growth or shifts in policies could negatively impact commercial viability

The development of lithium operations at Thacker Pass is highly dependent upon the currently projected demand for and uses of lithium-based end products. This includes lithium-ion batteries for electric vehicles and other large format batteries that currently have limited market share and whose projected adoption rates are not assured. To the extent that such markets do not develop in the manner contemplated by the Company, then the long-term growth in the market for lithium products will be adversely affected, which would inhibit the potential for development of Thacker Pass, its potential commercial viability and would otherwise have a negative effect on the business and financial condition of the Company. In addition, as a commodity, lithium market demand is subject to the substitution effect in which end-users adopt an alternate commodity as a response to supply constraints or increases in market pricing. To the extent that these factors arise in the market for lithium, it could have a negative impact on overall prospects for growth of the lithium market and pricing, which in turn could have a negative effect on the Company and its projects. Finally, policies towards promoting the use of products that rely on the lithium the Company produces may change from time to time.

The success of operations will be affected by the fluctuating market price of lithium products, and failure to meet battery-grade quality or customer specifications could reduce the prices the Company is able to realize for its products and its customer base

The ability to generate profitable operations on Thacker Pass, if and to the extent the project is developed and enters commercial operation, will be significantly affected by the market price of lithium-based end products, such as lithium carbonate and lithium hydroxide. The market price of these products fluctuates widely and is affected by numerous factors beyond the Company's control. Such external economic factors are influenced by changes in international investment patterns, various political developments and macro-economic circumstances. Furthermore, the price of lithium products is significantly affected by their purity and performance, and by the specifications of end-user battery manufacturers. If the products produced from the Company's projects do not meet battery-grade quality and/or do not meet customer specifications, pricing will be reduced from that expected for battery-grade products. In turn, the availability of customers may also decrease. The Company may not be able to effectively mitigate against pricing risks for its products. Depressed pricing for the Company's products will affect the level of revenues expected to be generated by the Company, which in turn could have a material adverse effect on the Company’s business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Actual costs and production may vary due to factors such as resource availability and inflation

Feasibility reports and other mining studies, including the Reports, are inherently subject to uncertainties. Capital costs, operating costs, production and economic returns, and other estimates may differ significantly from those anticipated by the Company's current estimates, and there can be no assurance that the Company's actual capital, operating and other costs will not be higher than currently anticipated. The Company's actual costs and production may vary from estimates for a variety of reasons, including, but not limited to: lack of availability of resources or necessary supplies or equipment; inflationary pressures flowing from global supply chain shortages and increased transportation costs and other international events, which in turn are causing increased costs for supplies and equipment; increasing labor and personnel costs; unexpected construction or operating problems; cost overruns; lower than expected realized lithium prices; lower than expected ore grades; revisions to construction plans; risks and hazards associated with construction, mineral production and chemical plant operations; natural phenomena such as floods, fires, droughts or water shortages; unexpected labor shortages or strikes; general inflationary pressures, tariffs and interest and currency exchange rates. Many of these factors are beyond the Company's control and could have a material effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations, and operating cash flow, including the Company's ability to service its indebtedness.

Operational risks such as equipment failures, natural disasters, and regulatory compliance could lead to disruptions and financial impacts despite comprehensive health and safety measures

The Company's operations are subject to all of the hazards and risks normally incidental to the exploration for, and the development and operation of, mineral properties and associated chemical plants, including an onsite sulfuric acid plant. The Company has implemented a comprehensive suite of health and safety measures designed to comply with government regulations and protect the health and safety of the Company's workforce in all areas of its business. The Company also strives to comply with environmental regulations in its operations. Nonetheless, mineral exploration, development and exploitation involves a high degree of risk, which even a combination of experience, knowledge and careful evaluation may not be able to overcome. Unusual or unexpected formations, formation pressures, fires, power outages, shutdowns due to equipment breakdown or failure, aging of equipment or facilities, unexpected maintenance and replacement expenditures, unexpected material handling problems, unexpected equipment capacity constraints, human error, labor disruptions or disputes, inclement weather, higher than forecast precipitation, flooding, shortages of water, explosions, releases of hazardous materials, deleterious elements materializing in mined resources, cave-ins, slope and embankment failures, landslides, earthquakes and industrial accidents, protests and other security issues, and the inability to obtain adequate machinery, equipment or labor due to shortages, strikes or public health issues such as pandemics, are some of the risks involved in mineral exploration and exploitation activities, which may, if as either a significant occurrence or a sustained occurrence over a significant period of time, result in a material adverse effect. The Company expects to rely on certain third-party owned infrastructure in order to successfully develop and operate its projects, such as power, utility and transportation infrastructure. Any failure of this infrastructure, or problems with achieving agreements that facilitate use of this infrastructure (if any are required), without adequate replacement or alternatives may also have a material impact on the Company.

Ore grade, composition or type at Thacker Pass may be lower quality than expected, which may result in actual production levels being lower than expected.

Thacker Pass could be affected by seasonal factors affecting the business including but not limited to the availability of power resources and water supply, which could be influenced by seasonal variability due to stresses on those resources. The lithium chemicals business also is subject to commercial business cycles and commodities price cycles. If commodity prices decline, a continuing period of lower prices could significantly affect the economic potential of the Company’s properties and result in the Company's decision to cease work at the property.

Negative cash flows from operations are expected until achievement of profitable production, so the Company is relying on generating profits or raising capital to meet obligations and liabilities.

The Company anticipates it will continue to have negative cash flow from operating activities in future periods until profitable commercial production is achieved at Thacker Pass. The Company’s ability to continue as a going concern will be dependent upon its ability to generate profits from its proposed operations, or to raise capital through equity or debt financing to continue to meet its obligations and repay its liabilities arising from normal business operations when they come due.

To date, the Company has not generated significant revenues from operations. The Company had negative operating cash flows for the years ended December 31, 2023 and December 31, 2024, and the Company is expected to continue to incur negative operating cash flows through the period of construction, commissioning and ramp-up.

Thacker Pass is the Company's sole material mining project, meaning failure to develop and operate it successfully could have a significant adverse impact on its business

The Company has only one material mining project, Thacker Pass. Unless it acquires other mineral properties or makes new discoveries for certain areas where the Company owns the mineral rights, the Company will be dependent on Thacker Pass being successfully developed and brought into production. Failure to successfully develop, bring into production and operate Thacker Pass would have a material adverse impact on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects. Until such time as the Company acquires or develops other significant assets, the Company will continue to be dependent on the success of its activities at Thacker Pass.

Any non-compliance with stringent environmental regulations could delay or increase the costs

The Company must comply with stringent environmental regulation in the United States. Such regulations relate to many aspects of the project operations for Thacker Pass, including but not limited to water usage and water quality, air quality and emissions, reclamation requirements, biodiversity such as impacts on flora and fauna, disposal of any hazardous substances and waste, tailings management and other environmental impacts associated with its development and proposed operating activities.

Environmental regulations are evolving in a manner that is expected to require stricter standards and enforcement, increased fines and penalties for non-compliance, more stringent environmental assessments of proposed projects and a heightened degree of responsibility for companies and their officers, directors and employees. Applicable environmental laws and regulations may require enhanced public disclosure and consultation. It is possible that a legal protest could be triggered through one of these requirements or processes that could delay development activities. Certain U.S. laws allow for third parties to petition regulators for designations that could have the potential of imposing additional mitigation or limitations at Thacker Pass or surrounding areas. The Company is aware of requests to list special status species and to designate traditional historic property in and around Thacker Pass. No assurance can be given that new environmental laws, regulations or actions will not be enacted or that existing environmental laws and regulations will not be applied in a manner that could limit or curtail the Company's development programs. Nor can any assurance be given that current environmental laws and regulations will not be modified, revoked or rescinded as a result of shifting or changing policies, including changes in presidential administrations. Such changes in environmental laws could delay and/or increase the cost of exploration and development of Thacker Pass.

Tailings are a potential environmental risk for the Company as it moves toward production. Tailings are the materials remaining after a target mineral, such as lithium, is extracted from the ore. Tailings management is subject to regulatory requirements and industry best practice standards, as there are a number of environmental risks and water usage requirements associated with them. Given the location of Thacker Pass, which is in an arid, generally flat and less populated region of Nevada, and the design of the mine plans and processes to manage waste and water for Thacker Pass, many of the risks associated with tailings management are expected to be mitigated for the project. Tailings generated at Thacker Pass will be filtered and stacked, which generally has fewer risks and environmental impacts than other tailings management methods. Nonetheless, risks associated with tailings cannot be eliminated. Certain risks such as the potential failure of water diversion and water impoundment structures and a weather event exceeding the design criteria of water diversion and water impoundment structures will continue to exist. The occurrence of any of these events, some of which are heightened risks given the potential effects of climate change, could result in significant impacts to property and the environment. This in turn could restrict operations, result in additional remediation and compliance costs, trigger investigations by regulatory authorities, and have a material adverse effect on the Company's planned operations and financial condition.

Increased focus on ESG matters could lead to higher costs, reduced profits and litigation risks

Increased attention to, and societal expectations on companies to address, climate change and other environmental and social impacts, investor, regulatory and societal expectations regarding voluntary and mandatory ESG-related disclosures may result in increased costs, reduced profits, increased investigations and litigation, negative impacts on stock price and reduced access to capital.

Moreover, while the Company may create and publish voluntary disclosures regarding ESG-related matters from time to time, many of the statements in those voluntary disclosures are based on expectations and assumptions or hypothetical scenarios that may or may not be representative of current or actual risks or events or forecasts of expected risks or events, including the costs associated therewith. Such expectations and assumptions or hypothetical scenarios are necessarily uncertain and may be prone to error or subject to misinterpretation given the long timelines involved and the lack of an established approach to identifying, measuring and reporting on many ESG matters. Additionally, voluntary disclosures regarding ESG matters, as well as any ESG disclosures mandated by law, could result in private litigation or government investigation or enforcement action regarding the sufficiency or validity of such disclosures. In addition, failure or a perception (whether or not valid) of failure to pursue or implement ESG strategies or achieve ESG goals or commitments, including any GHG reduction or neutralization goals or commitments, could result in private litigation and damage the Company's reputation, cause its investors or other stakeholders to lose confidence in the Company, or otherwise negatively impact its operations.

Furthermore, certain public statements with respect to ESG matters, such as emissions reduction goals, other environmental targets, or other commitments addressing certain social or governance issues, are becoming increasingly subject to heightened scrutiny from public and governmental authorities, as well as other parties, related to the risk of potential "greenwashing," (i.e., misleading information or false claims overstating potential ESG benefits). Claims have been filed against issuers under various securities and consumer protection laws alleging that certain ESG-statements, goals or standards were misleading, false or otherwise deceptive. Additionally, certain employment practices and social initiatives are the subject of scrutiny by both those calling for the continued advancement of such policies, as well as those who believe they should be curbed, including government actors, and the complex regulatory and legal frameworks applicable to such initiatives continue to evolve. The Company cannot be certain of the impact of such regulatory, legal and other developments on its business. More recent political developments could mean that the Company faces increasing criticism or litigation risks. Such sentiment may focus on the Company's environmental commitments (such as reducing GHG emissions) or its pursuit of certain employment practices or social initiatives that are alleged to be partisan in nature or are alleged to violate laws based, in part, on changing priorities of, or interpretations by, federal agencies or state governments. As a result, the Company may face increased litigation risks from private parties and governmental authorities related to its ESG efforts. In addition, any alleged claims of greenwashing against the Company or others in its industry may lead to further negative sentiment and diversion of investments. Additionally, the Company could face increasing costs as it attempt to comply with and navigate further regulatory ESG-related focus and scrutiny.

The lithium production industry is highly competitive, requiring significant capital and resources, and the Company may face challenges in securing financing, personnel, and equipment

The lithium production industry is competitive in all of its phases and requires significant capital, technical resources, personnel and operational experience to effectively compete. Because of the high costs associated with exploration and development, the expertise required to analyze a project's potential and the capital required to develop a mine, larger companies with significant resources may be in a position to compete for such resources and capital more effectively than the Company.

Competition is also intense for mining equipment, supplies, qualified service providers and personnel in all jurisdictions where the Company operates. If qualified expertise cannot be sourced and at cost effective rates in Canada and the United States, the Company may need to procure those services elsewhere, which could result in additional delays and higher costs to obtain work permits.

As a result of such competition, the Company may be unable to maintain or acquire financing, retain existing personnel or hire new personnel, or maintain or acquire technical or other resources, supplies or equipment, all on terms it considers acceptable to complete the development of its projects.

The Company also expects risks relating to market conditions including but not limited to potential variability in demand for lithium products and competition in the market by various producers. The strength of market demand for lithium product end-uses cannot be assured. Other developers and producers of lithium are currently active in the production and exploration of lithium resources and could impact the availability and pricing of lithium. Risks also relate to the Company's assumptions relating to the buildout of the downstream battery supply chain in North America and other countries. The development of such infrastructure may be impacted by various economic factors such as inflation, currency exchange rates, tariffs, availability of capital and financing. A lack of investment or decreased investment in the North American downstream battery supply chain could lead to adverse impacts to the Company's business, such as by affecting the prices at which the Company is able to sell its products and limiting the number of purchasers seeking to acquire lithium products.

Global economic and political uncertainties, including the Russian war in Ukraine, Middle East conflicts, inflation, and changes in government policies, may adversely affect the Company's business

The ongoing Russian war in Ukraine, conflict in the Middle East, inflation and other factors continue to impact global markets and cause general economic uncertainty, the impact of which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial position, results of operations and prospects.

The concerns over general global economic conditions, fluctuations in interest and foreign exchange rates, stock market volatility, geopolitical issues, Russia's war in Ukraine, conflict in the Middle East and inflation have contributed to increased economic uncertainty and diminished expectations for the global economy. These considerations and others could have impacts on potential inflation, deflation, currency exchange rates, interest rates and other general economic and stock market conditions, which could adversely impact the Company's business and financial condition.

Changes in governments (at both the federal and state level in the U.S.) and resulting changes in domestic and foreign policy in the jurisdictions in which the Company and its competitors operate, over the period that Thacker Pass is being developed and operated, may have an adverse impact on the Company's costs of construction and operations in the form of changes to import and export restrictions, tariffs, trade agreements and trade wars, among other impacts. These events have the potential to have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects.

Concerns over global economic and political conditions may also have the effect of heightening many of the other risks described herein, including, but not limited to, risks relating to: fluctuations in the market price of and demand for lithium-based products, the development of Thacker Pass, the terms and availability of financing, cost overruns, geopolitical concerns, and changes in law, policies or regulatory requirements.

Climate change may impact water availability, which could increase litigation, regulatory compliance costs, and physical climate risks could further affect operations and safety

Climate change may impact the sufficiency of water available to support planned Phase 1 operations for Thacker Pass, which may have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial position, results of operations and future prospects. Water management regulations are in place in Nevada where Thacker Pass is located. Water rights have been acquired that are expected to be sufficient to support all Phase 1 operations for Thacker Pass as contemplated by the Reports. However, given the unpredictable impact of climate change on the environment, water levels, weather conditions and weather events, such as drought, in the region where Thacker Pass is located, there is a risk that the aquifers in the watersheds where the Company has acquired water rights to date may not be able to provide enough water for planned operations for the estimated mine life set out in the plan of operations. To reduce the environmental footprint of Thacker Pass, and as a mitigation measure, the processing facility at Thacker Pass has been designed to limit water usage to the extent possible by incorporating recycling technologies. However, going forward, availability of water and water rights at cost effective pricing may become of increasing importance to the Company's operations and prospects, a risk that may be heightened by the potential effects of climate change and this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's operations and prospects.

Risks related to increasing climate change related litigation and regulations may also impact the Company's business and prospects, after production begins at Thacker Pass. The use of low carbon technologies may be more costly in certain instances than non-renewable options in the near-term, or may result in higher design costs, long-term maintenance costs or replacement costs. Additionally, the Company may face increasing operating costs at its projects to comply with increasingly changing climate change regulations.

Climate change risks also extend to the physical risks of climate change. These include risks of variable and extreme precipitation, reduction in water availability or water shortages, extreme weather events, changing temperatures, biodiversity impacts, wildfire, changing sea levels and shortages of resources. These physical risks of climate change could have a negative effect on the project site for Thacker Pass, access to local infrastructure and resources, and the health and safety of employees and contractors at the Company's operations. Although the Company has attempted to design project facilities to address certain climate-related risks, the potential exists for these measures to be insufficient in the face of unpredictable climate-related events. As such, climate-related events have the potential to have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Insurance may not protect against all risks associated with environmental and other incidents the Company may experience

In the course of exploration, development and production of mineral properties, certain risks, and in particular, risks related to operational and environmental incidents may occur. Although the Company maintains insurance to protect against certain risks associated with its business, insurance may not be available to insure against all such risks, or the costs of such insurance may be uneconomic. The Company may also elect not to obtain insurance for other reasons. Insurance policies maintained by the Company may not be adequate to cover the full costs of actual liabilities incurred by the Company or may not be continued by insurers for reasons beyond the Company's control. The Company maintains liability insurance in accordance with industry standards, and the anticipated costs of environmental reclamation are fully bonded by the Company through a third-party insurer. Reclamation cost estimates and bond submissions are reviewed and approved by the BLM, and the State of Nevada also approves the reclamation cost estimate. Nevertheless, losses from uninsured and underinsured liabilities have the potential to materially affect the Company's financial position, results of operations and prospects.

Risks Related to the Company’s Business and Securities

GM’s share ownership and rights may influence corporate actions and diverge from other shareholders’ interests, potentially affecting liquidity and market price, amount other areas

GM currently holds approximately 7% of the outstanding Common Shares and owns a 38% asset-level interest in Thacker Pass. Additionally, GM has a commercial relationship with the Company in respect of Thacker Pass under the Offtake Agreement and Phase 2 Offtake and possesses oversight and securities offering participation rights in respect of the Company pursuant to the Investor Rights Agreement (as defined below).

As a result of its current shareholdings and investor rights, GM may have the ability to influence the outcome of corporate actions requiring shareholder approval, including the election of directors of the Company and the approval of certain corporate transactions. There is a risk that the interests of GM may diverge from those of other shareholders and also discourage transactions involving a change of control, including transactions in which an investor, as a holder of the Company's securities, would otherwise receive a premium for the Company's securities over the then current market price. The holdings of GM could also create a risk that the Company's securities are less liquid and trade at a relative discount compared to circumstances where GM did not have the ability to influence or determine matters affecting the Company.

GM has significant influence over Thacker Pass’s development due to investor rights, its rights as a JV Partner and board representation at both the Company and Lithium Nevada Ventures, which may affect other securityholders and the Company’s actions, including the determination to make a FID in respect of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass

There can be no certainty that the potential benefits of the JV Transaction will be fully realized. In addition, in connection with the JV Transaction, GM received a set of investor rights, based upon certain ownership thresholds and production commitments with the Company, which may affect the rights and entitlements of other securityholders of the Company adversely and restrict certain actions of the Company, including with respect to board nomination rights, oversight, demand registration and piggy-back registration rights and participation in future equity issuances of the Company. GM also has a commercial relationship with the Company in respect of Thacker Pass and holds a 38% interest in Thacker Pass as of the date hereof.

In addition, pursuant to the terms of the JV Transaction, GM was granted the right to elect two of the five members of the JV's board of directors (the "JV Board"). GM was also granted customary minority approval rights with respect to the business and governance of the JV. GM's influence over the JV may impact the Company's ability to continue its development of Thacker Pass on terms previously announced, and, as a result of GM's membership on the JV Board, coupled with its various consent rights, GM may be able to exert significant influence over the results of Thacker Pass (whether through impacting construction, further development decisions, future planning or otherwise), including the determination to make a FID in respect of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass.

Upon conversion of the Orion Note, if issued, Orion may hold a substantial equity position in LAC's business and may thereafter exercise influence over the Company

Pursuant to its terms, the Orion Note, if issued, is convertible into a significant number of the Company's Common Shares. If Orion were to fully convert the Orion Note after issuance, or a significant portion thereof, it may receive an amount of the Company's Common Shares totaling (but in no event exceeding) 19.99% of LAC's outstanding Common Shares as of the date of the commitment of the Orion Investment. Consequently, Orion would be able to exercise a significant level of influence on the Company's policies and operations and impact the outcome of any matters requiring shareholder approval. The interests of Orion with respect to matters potentially or actually involving or affecting the Company and its other shareholders, such as future acquisitions, financings and other corporate opportunities, may deviate from or conflict with the interests of the Company's other shareholders.

The Company's debt agreements, including the DOE Loan and the Orion Note, if issued, contain restrictions that limit its flexibility in operating its business

The Company's debt agreements contain, and any future indebtedness it incur may contain, various covenants that limit the manner in which the Company operates its business and its ability to engage in specified types of transactions.

These covenants limit the Company's ability to, among other things:

- operate business outside of the ordinary course and enter into certain material contracts;
- incur liens and indebtedness or provide guarantees in respect of obligations of any other person;
- make loans and other investments and certain capital expenditures;
- freely issue equity securities for the Company's subsidiaries;
- engage in mergers, consolidations and asset dispositions; and
- engage in certain affiliate transactions.

A breach of any of these covenants could result in a default under one or more of these agreements and, such a default, if not waived, could result in acceleration of the Company's indebtedness, in which case the debt would become immediately due and payable. If this occurs, the Company may not be able to repay its debt or borrow sufficient funds to refinance it on terms acceptable to the Company, or at all, and its business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects could be materially and adversely affected. In addition, complying with these covenants may also cause the Company to take actions that are not favorable to shareholders and may make it more difficult for it to successfully execute its business strategy and compete against companies who are not subject to such restrictions.

The Company's share price may fluctuate due to factors beyond its control and may not reflect its operating performance, with no guarantee of a liquid market for reselling shares

The market price of the Company's securities may in the future be subject to significant fluctuations as a result of many factors, some of which are beyond the Company's control. Among the factors that could affect the Company's stock price are: quarterly variations in the Company's results of operations; changes in market valuations of similar companies and stock market price and volume fluctuations generally; changes in earnings estimates or the publication of research reports by analysts; speculation in the press or investment community about the Company's business or the mining industry generally; strategic actions by the Company or its competitors such as acquisitions or restructurings; a thin trading market for the Common Shares may develop, which could make the market somewhat illiquid; regulatory developments; additions or departures of key personnel; the selling price of lithium; general market conditions; and domestic and international economic, market and currency factors unrelated to the Company's performance.

The stock markets have experienced extreme volatility that has sometimes been unrelated to the operating performance of individual companies. These broad market fluctuations may adversely affect the trading price of the Common Shares.

Additionally, there is no guarantee of a continuing public market to resell the Common Shares. The Company cannot assure investors that an active and liquid public market for the Common Shares will develop or continue.

Future financings may dilute current shareholders' interests by issuing more shares or equity securities, reducing ownership percentages and potentially lowering share prices

The Company may issue additional Common Shares or other equity securities of equal or senior rank in the future in connection with, among other things, future exploration, development and acquisition plans, repayment of outstanding indebtedness or issuances and exercises under the Company's equity incentive plan, without shareholder approval, in a number of circumstances.

Issuance of additional Common Shares or other equity securities of equal or senior rank would have the following effects: existing shareholders' proportionate ownership interest in the Company will decrease; the amount of cash available for dividends payable on the Common Shares may decrease or be nil; the relative voting strength of each previously outstanding Common Share may be diminished; and the market price of the Common Shares may decline.

The Company may need to raise additional financing in the future, and such financing may be raised through the issuance of Common Shares, preferred shares, other equity securities or convertible debt securities, or by way of project level investments, offtake or royalty arrangements, debt instruments or other financing vehicles. If the Company raises additional funding through any of these means, such financings may substantially dilute the interests of shareholders of the Company and reduce the value of their investment and the value of the Company's securities.

Additionally, if issued, the full conversion of the Orion Note, or a significant portion thereof, would substantially dilute the ownership interests of the Company's existing shareholders. In connection with the Orion Investment, the Company also agree to enter into a registration rights agreement with Orion pursuant to which the Company will agree, among other things, to register for resale any shares issued upon conversion of the Orion Note. Any sales of such shares in the public market could negatively impact the prevailing market price of the Company's Common Shares.

Financing through capital markets could dilute shareholders' interests and impose restrictions

The Company has significant capital requirements associated with the development of Thacker Pass.

The Company may need to access the capital markets to obtain long-term and short-term financing. The Company may pursue additional equity or debt financing, which could have a dilutive effect on existing security holders if shares, options, warrants or other convertible securities are issued, or result in additional or more onerous restrictions on the Company's business, and substantial interest and capital payments if new debt financing is obtained. Under certain circumstances, the Company may issue its Common Shares to GM in connection with the JV, which could also have a dilutive effect on the Company's share of Thacker Pass.

The ability of the Company to arrange additional financing for Thacker Pass in the future will depend, in part, on prevailing capital market conditions as well as the business performance of the Company. Failure to obtain additional financing on a timely basis may cause the Company to postpone, abandon, reduce or terminate its operations, could have a dilutive effect on the Company's ownership interest in Thacker Pass, and could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

As of December 31, 2024, the Company had no long-term debt. Subject to the restrictions in the instruments governing the Company's outstanding indebtedness, it may incur substantial additional indebtedness (including secured indebtedness) in the future. Although the instruments governing the Company's outstanding indebtedness do contain restrictions on the incurrence of additional indebtedness, these restrictions will be subject to waiver and a number of significant qualifications and exceptions, and indebtedness incurred in compliance with these restrictions could be substantial.

The Company's current and future level of indebtedness could affect its operations in several ways, including the following: require the Company to dedicate a substantial portion of its cash flow from operations to service existing debt, thereby reducing the cash available to finance operations and other business activities; limit management's discretion in operating the business and flexibility in planning for, or reacting to, changes in the Company's business and the industry in which it operates; increase the Company's vulnerability to downturns and adverse developments in business and the economy generally; limit the Company's ability to access the capital markets to raise capital on favorable terms or to obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures, acquisitions, general corporate or other expenses or to refinance existing indebtedness; place restrictions on the Company's ability to obtain additional financing, make investments, lease equipment, sell assets and engage in business combinations; make the Company vulnerable to increases in interest rates as the rates applicable to outstanding indebtedness may vary with prevailing interest rates; place the Company at a competitive disadvantage relative to its competitors with lower levels of indebtedness in relation to their overall size or less restrictive terms governing their indebtedness; and make it more difficult for the Company to satisfy its obligations under its debt and increase the risk that it may default on its debt obligations.

The Company cannot generate earnings or pay dividends while Thacker Pass is in development, posing a risk to investors who may not see returns for the foreseeable future

No dividends on common shares were paid by Old LAC since incorporation to the date of the Separation, or by the Company after the Separation. The Company currently has no ability to generate earnings as Thacker Pass is in the development stage. If the development of Thacker Pass is successfully completed, the Company anticipates that it will retain its earnings and other cash resources for repayment of debt, future operations and the ongoing development of its business. As such, the Company does not intend to declare or pay any cash dividends in the foreseeable future. Payment of any future dividends is solely at the discretion of the Company's board of directors (the "Board"), which will consider many factors including the Company's operating results, financial condition and anticipated cash needs. For these reasons, the Company may never pay dividends. In addition, the Company's ability to pay dividends is, and may be in the future, limited by covenants contained in the DOE Loan and the JV Transaction documents, and if issued, the Orion Note, as well as other indebtedness it or its subsidiaries may incur in the future. Therefore, any return on investment in the Company's Common Shares is solely dependent upon the appreciation of the price of its Common Shares on the open market, which may not occur.

Challenges in securing intellectual property protection could leave the Company vulnerable to competition, potentially diminishing the commercial potential of its proprietary technologies

The Company's success relies in part on its ability to secure and maintain intellectual property protection for proprietary extraction processes. The Company strives to protect its intellectual property rights by taking steps to keep trade secrets and other material proprietary information confidential and, when appropriate, filing patent applications in key jurisdictions, including the U.S. The process of obtaining patents is expensive, time-consuming and uncertain. The Company may fail to identify patentable aspects of its innovations, or fail to do so in a timely manner, potentially missing opportunities to secure meaningful protection. Certain protections that the Company takes to secure its material proprietary information, such as contractual commitments, may not be adequate. Additionally, high costs, delays or changes in patent laws could limit the scope of protection, leaving the Company more vulnerable to competition and diminishing the commercial potential of its proprietary technologies.

The Company also licenses technology from third parties and has limited control over the protection and enforcement of such technology, including the preparation, filing, and enforcement of any associated patents. Furthermore, patent filings or enforcement actions in other jurisdictions could affect the validity or scope of the Company's intellectual property rights in primary markets, weakening its competitive position. Patent laws vary significantly across jurisdictions and international protections may differ from than those available in the U.S.

There is no assurance that the Company has adequately protected or will be able to adequately protect its valuable intellectual property rights, or will at all times have access to all intellectual property rights that are required to conduct its business or pursue its strategies, or that the Company will be able to adequately protect itself against any intellectual property infringement claims. If the Company fails to prosecute or defend any such claims, in addition to monetary damages, it may lose valuable intellectual property rights or valuable personnel. There is also a risk that the Company's competitors could independently develop similar technology, processes or know-how; that the Company's trade secrets could be revealed to third parties; that any current or future patents, pending or granted, will not be broad enough to protect the Company's intellectual property rights; or, that foreign intellectual property laws will not adequately protect such rights. Any actual or perceived failure to adequately secure or protect the Company's intellectual property, litigation regardless of outcome, or regulatory challenges, could result in damage to the Company's financial condition, operation, prospects or reputation, all of which could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business.

The Company's growth and operations rely heavily on retaining and attracting key personnel in a competitive market, and failure to do so could affect its business

The Company highly values the contributions of its key personnel. The future success of the Company will continue to depend largely upon the performance of key officers, employees and consultants who have advanced the Company's business to its current stage of development and contributed to its potential for future growth. The market for qualified talent has become increasingly competitive, with shortages of qualified talent relative to the number of available opportunities being experienced in all markets where the Company conducts its operations. At the operational level, full execution of construction and operating plans could be impacted by labor shortages in the Humboldt County area or the inability to attract and train personnel to the area. The ability to remain competitive by offering higher compensation packages and programs for growth and development of personnel, with a view to retaining existing talent and attracting new talent, has become increasingly important to the Company and its operations in the current climate. Any prolonged inability to retain key individuals, or to attract and retain new talent as the Company grows, could have a material adverse effect upon the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

Additionally, the Company has not purchased any "key-man" insurance for any of its directors, officers or key employees and currently has no plans to do so.

Relying on consultants for mineral exploration expertise carries the risk of delays or increased costs if their work is found to be incorrect or inadequate

The Company has relied on, and may continue to rely on, consultants and others for mineral exploration and exploitation expertise. The Company believes that those consultants are competent and that they have carried out their work in accordance with internationally recognized industry standards. However, if the work conducted by those consultants is ultimately found to be incorrect or inadequate in any material respect, the Company may experience delays or increased costs in developing its properties, either of which could adversely affect its business, financial condition or results of operations.

Compliance with regulatory requirements and potential litigation resulting therefrom could be costly, time-consuming and have a significant adverse impact on business and financial condition

The Company may be subject to a variety of regulatory requirements, and resulting investigations, claims, lawsuits and other proceedings in the ordinary course of its business, as a result of its status as a publicly traded company and because of its mining exploration and development business. Litigation related to environmental and climate change-related matters, and environmental, social and governance disclosure is also on the rise. The occurrence and outcome of any legal proceedings cannot be predicted with any reasonable degree of certainty due to the inherently uncertain nature of litigation, including the effects of discovery of new evidence or advancement of new legal theories, the difficulty of predicting decisions of judges and juries and the possibility that decisions may be reversed on appeal. Defense and settlement costs of legal claims can be substantial, even with respect to claims that are determined to have little or no merit.

Litigation may be costly and time-consuming, and can divert the attention of management and key personnel away from day-to-day business operations. The Company and its projects are, from time-to-time, subject to legal proceedings or the threat of legal proceedings. If the Company were to be unsuccessful in defending any material claims against it, or unable to settle such claims on a satisfactory basis, the Company may be faced with significant monetary damages, injunctive relief or other negative impacts that could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business and financial condition. To the extent the Company is involved in any active litigation, the outcome of such matters may not be determinable, and it may not be possible to accurately predict the outcome or quantum of any such proceedings at a given time.

Increased reliance on digital technologies and new information systems to support the growing business could increase costs and cybersecurity related threats

The Company is increasingly reliant on uninterrupted access to and use of digital technologies, including information systems, infrastructure and cloud applications and services, to conduct business operations. These technologies enable the Company to process and record financial and operational data, communicate with business partners and carry out other business activities. The Company's operations also depend on the information systems and infrastructure of third-party vendors, contractors and partners, some of which are outside the Company's direct control. These dependencies can create risks, such as system failures, security breaches and external attacks.

Threats to information technology ("IT") systems associated with cybersecurity risks and cyber incidents or attacks continue to grow and evolve in terms of severity and sophistication, particularly as a result of remote work. These threats include malicious software, phishing, credential theft, surveillance, social engineering, ransomware and other electronic security breaches, any of which could compromise the Company's business, financial and operational systems. A cybersecurity attack has the potential to compromise the business, financial and other systems of the Company, and could go unnoticed for some time. Risks associated with cybersecurity threats include, among other things, loss or improper disclosure of intellectual property, disruption of business operations and safety procedures, loss or damage to worksite data delivery systems, privacy and confidentiality breaches, and increased costs and time to prevent, respond to or mitigate cybersecurity incidents. While the Company maintains cyber insurance to help mitigate financial risks associated with cyber incidents, these policies have limitations and may not cover all potential losses, such as reputational damage or regulatory fines. As a result, the Company's cyber insurance may not fully protect it against all risks stemming from cyber incidents, which could materially impact its business, financial condition, operations and cash flows.

Additionally, while the Company implements commercially reasonable security controls, such as detection systems, regular assessments, employee training and an incident response plan, these measures cannot guarantee protection against cybersecurity threats. As threats become more sophisticated, the risk of breaches or disruptions remains, and the Company may need to invest additional resources to enhance its defenses or address vulnerabilities. Although the Company has not experienced significant losses from cybersecurity incidents to date, no security system offers complete protection. A cybersecurity incident could have a material adverse impact on the Company's business, resulting in prolonged operational disruptions, reputational damage, legal liabilities, regulatory scrutiny and potential penalties for non-compliance with evolving data privacy and cybersecurity regulations. The growing complexity of regulatory frameworks for data protection further compounds these risks, as compliance demands significant financial and operational resources. Failure to adhere to these requirements, whether real or perceived, could lead to significant legal, financial and reputational consequences for the Company.

The Company anticipates that the transition from an exploration company to a development company and then to an expected operating company will require upgraded and new information systems to support the higher volume of transactions and increased complexity, volume and frequency of reporting requirements. There are risks associated with implementation of new or upgraded software including amount other things, delays in or failure to achieve delivery of project deliverables, inability to secure consultants and employees with the necessary expertise or experience, disruption of business operations, loss or compromise of the Company's data including financial data, and increased costs to mitigate or resolve delays or issues in execution of implementation plans. Implementation of new and upgraded systems and software may require substantial investment to evaluate and hire third-party expert consultants, as well as significant attention from management across various functional areas to integrate consultants into the team. Substantial delays or failure to execute system implementations as planned could have a material adverse impact on the ability of the Company to generate timely and accurate financial and operating reports and results, disrupt critical business processes, hinder decision-making, impair regulatory compliance, expose the Company to cybersecurity vulnerabilities and result in reputational damage or lost business opportunities.

Incorporation in a jurisdiction outside the U.S. may make it difficult or impossible for U.S. investors to serve process for civil liabilities in the U.S.

The Company is incorporated in a jurisdiction outside the U.S. In addition, certain of the directors and officers are non-residents of the U.S., and all or a substantial portion of the assets of these non-residents will be located outside the U.S. As a result, it may be difficult or impossible for U.S. investors to serve process within the U.S. upon the Company or certain directors and officers or to enforce a judgment against the Company for civil liabilities in U.S. courts. In addition, investors should not assume that courts in the country in which the Company is incorporated (1) would enforce judgments of U.S. courts obtained in actions against the Company based upon the civil liability provisions of applicable U.S. federal and state securities laws or (2) would enforce, in original actions, liabilities against the Company based on those laws.

Loss of FPI status requires increased regulatory reporting requirements and associated costs

As an FPI, as such term is defined under the Exchange Act, the Company was exempt from certain of the provisions of U.S. federal securities laws until January 1, 2025. Unlike in prior years, the Company determined that, as of June 30, 2024, the Company no longer qualified as a “foreign private issuer” under the rules and regulations of the SEC and, as of January 1, 2025, the Company has generally become subject to additional regulatory and reporting requirements as a domestic filer in the United States. Compliance with these additional regulatory and reporting requirements under U.S. securities laws will likely result in increased expenses. Further, to the extent that the Company were to offer or sell securities outside of the United States, the Company would have to comply with the more restrictive Regulation S requirements that apply to U.S. domestic companies, and the Company will not be able to utilize FPI registration forms for registered offerings by Canadian companies in the United States, which could increase the costs of accessing capital markets. In addition, the Company may lose the ability to rely upon exemptions from NYSE corporate governance requirements that are available to FPIs, which may further increase the Company’s costs of compliance.

Certain other implications associated with loss of FPI status include that fact that, as an FPI, the Company was not required to file annual, quarterly and current reports and financial statements with the SEC as frequently or as promptly as U.S. companies registered under the Exchange Act. As a domestic U.S. filer, the Company is required, as of January 1, 2025, to file quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, current reports on Form 8-K and proxy statements under Section 14 of the Exchange Act. The Company is currently classified as a Smaller Reporting Company and an Emerging Growth Company, which impacts the content and timing of applicable public reporting. In addition, the Company is now required to prepare financial statements in accordance with US GAAP rather than IFRS. Further, beginning January 1, 2025, the Company’s “insiders” were and continue to be subject to the reporting and short-swing profit recovery provisions contained in Section 16 of the Exchange Act. The Company is also no longer exempt from the requirements of Regulation FD promulgated by the SEC under the Exchange Act.

As stated above, the regulatory and compliance costs associated with the reporting and governance requirements applicable to U.S. domestic issuers may be significantly higher than the costs previously incurred as an FPI. As a result, the Company expects that the loss of FPI status will increase legal and financial compliance costs, at least in the transition period. In addition, the Company will need to develop reporting and compliance infrastructure and may face challenges in complying with the new requirements.

If certain Canadian Tax requirements are not met, the Company and Lithium Argentina could be subject to substantial tax liabilities resulting from the Separation.

In connection with the Arrangement, Old LAC applied for and received certain advance income tax rulings in Canada and the United States (together, the "Tax Rulings"). The Canadian Tax Ruling requested from Canadian tax authorities and received on July 12, 2023 requires, among other things, that the transfer of LAC North America comply with all requirements of the public company "butterfly" rules in section 55 of the Income Tax Act (Canada) (the "Tax Act"). Although the Arrangement was structured to comply with these rules, there are certain requirements of these rules that depend on events occurring after the Arrangement was completed or that may not be within the control of the Company and/or Lithium Argentina. For example, under section 55 of the Tax Act, the Company and/or Lithium Argentina will recognize a taxable gain on the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America if: (i) a "specified shareholder" of the Company or of Lithium Argentina disposes of Company or Lithium Argentina shares (or property that derives 10% or more of its fair market value from such shares or property substituted therefor) to an unrelated person or partnership as part of the series of transactions which includes the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America, (ii) there is an acquisition of control of the Company or Lithium Argentina that is part of the series of transactions that includes the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America, (iii) a person unrelated to the Company acquires (generally otherwise than as a result of a disposition in the ordinary course of operations of the Company), as part of the series of transactions that includes the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America, property acquired by the Company on the Separation that has a fair market value greater than 10% of the fair market value of all property received by the Company on the Separation, (iv) a person unrelated to Lithium Argentina acquires (generally otherwise than as a result of a disposition in the ordinary course of operations of Lithium Argentina), as part of the series of transactions that includes the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America, property retained by Lithium Argentina on the Separation that has a fair market value greater than 10% of the fair market value of all property retained by Lithium Argentina on the Separation, or (v) certain persons acquire shares of Lithium Argentina (other than in specified permitted transactions) in contemplation of, and as part of the series of transactions that includes, the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America. If these requirements are not met, the Company and/or Lithium Argentina would recognize a taxable gain in respect of the transfer by Old LAC of LAC North America to the Company as part of the Separation. If incurred, these tax liabilities could be substantial and could have a material adverse effect on the financial position of the Company and/or Lithium Argentina. Under the terms of the Tax Indemnity and Cooperation Agreement (as defined below), the Company and Lithium Argentina would generally be required to indemnify the other party for any such tax if it is the result of the indemnifying party (or its affiliates) breaching its covenant not to take any action, omit to take any action or enter into a transaction that could cause the Arrangement or any related transaction to be treated in a manner inconsistent with the Canadian Tax Ruling.

Shareholders may face significant tax liabilities, impacting the intended tax-free status of the Common Shares received pursuant to the Arrangement.

In connection with the Arrangement, Old LAC received a U.S. Tax Ruling from the IRS on July 13, 2023 substantially to the effect that the receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders pursuant to the Arrangement will be tax-free for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 355(a) of the Code. The U.S. Tax Ruling relies on, among other things, certain facts and assumptions, as well as certain representations, statements and undertakings of Lithium Argentina and the Company (including those relating to the past and future conduct of Lithium Argentina and the Company). Notwithstanding the receipt of the U.S. Tax Ruling, the IRS could determine on audit that receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders was treated as a taxable transaction if the IRS determines that any of the facts, assumptions, representations, statements or undertakings upon which the U.S. Tax Ruling was based are inaccurate or have been violated. If the IRS were successful in taking this position, the receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders pursuant to the Arrangement may be treated as a taxable dividend from the Company or capital gain with respect to such shareholders' ownership of Common Shares for U.S. federal income tax purposes, in which case U.S. Shareholders may be subject to significant U.S. federal income tax liabilities. In addition, certain events that may or may not be within the control of the Company could cause the Arrangement to subsequently fail to qualify as generally tax-free for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 355 of the Code, resulting in the receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders pursuant to the Arrangement being taxable to U.S. Shareholders as described immediately above. Accordingly, the Company cannot provide assurance that the intended U.S. tax treatment will be achieved or that U.S. Shareholders will not incur substantial U.S. federal income tax liabilities from the receipt of Common Shares pursuant to the Arrangement.

The Company faces restrictions for three years to maintain tax-free status for shareholders, limiting its ability to pursue certain strategic transactions

As described above, pursuant to the U.S. Tax Ruling received from the IRS, it has been expected that the receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders pursuant to the Arrangement would be tax-free for U.S. federal income tax purposes under Section 355(a) of the Code. To preserve the intended U.S. federal income tax treatment of the receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders pursuant to the Arrangement, Lithium Argentina and the Company agreed in the Tax Indemnity and Cooperation Agreement to be restricted, except in specific circumstances, from taking or failing to take certain actions that could cause the receipt of Common Shares by the Company's shareholders pursuant to the Arrangement to be taxed in a manner that is inconsistent with the manner provided for in the U.S. Tax Ruling. These restrictions may limit the ability of the Company to pursue certain strategic transactions or other transactions that it believes to be in the best interests of its shareholders or that might increase the value of its business for three years following the completion of the Arrangement.

Changes in U.S. and Canadian tax laws could increase the Company's tax liabilities

The Company is subject to various complex and evolving U.S. and Canadian federal, state, local and provincial tax laws and other non-U.S. and non-Canadian tax laws. Changes to applicable tax laws and regulations or exposure to additional income tax liabilities (including the imposition of new or increased taxes) could adversely affect the Company's operating results and cash flows. U.S. and Canadian federal, state, local and provincial tax laws and other non-U.S. and non-Canadian tax laws, policies, statutes, rules, regulations or ordinances could be interpreted, changed, modified or applied adversely to the Company, in each case, possibly with retroactive effect. Any significant variance in the Company's interpretation of current tax laws or a successful challenge of one or more of the Company's tax positions by the IRS, Canada Revenue Agency ("CRA") or other tax authorities could increase the Company's future tax liabilities and adversely affect the Company's business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects.

In addition, the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, together with the G20 countries, has committed to reduce perceived abusive global tax avoidance, referred to as base erosion and profit shifting ("BEPS"). As part of this commitment, an action plan has been developed to address BEPS with the aim of securing revenue by realigning taxation with economic activities and value creation by creating a single set of consensus-based international tax rules dealing with various matters, such as the definition of permanent establishment and the taxation of hybrid instruments. As part of the BEPS project, a multilateral instrument ("MLI") intended to allow participating jurisdictions to swiftly modify their bilateral tax treaties to facilitate various BEPS initiatives has been ratified by a significant number of countries, including Canada. Also consistent with adoption of BEPS, Canada has enacted legislation (i) implementing excessive interest and financing expense limitation ("EIFEL") rules, which limit interest and financing expenses deductions in certain circumstances, (ii) addressing hybrid mismatch arrangements and (iii) implementing the Global Minimum Tax Act (the "GMTA"), which imposes a 15% global minimum tax on large multinational enterprise groups with global consolidated revenues over €750 million. If the Company is subject to the GMTA, the Company would be liable to pay a top-up tax when the effective tax rate in a jurisdiction is below the 15% minimum rate. The BEPS project (including the foregoing initiatives) and the MLI could have a material adverse impact on the taxation of the Company's operating results and cash flows and could also give rise to additional reporting and disclosure obligations.

Any indemnification claims may have a material adverse effect upon the Company

Pursuant to the Tax Indemnity and Cooperation Agreement, Lithium Argentina and the Company agreed to a number of representations, warranties and covenants, including agreeing to indemnify and hold harmless the other party against any loss suffered or incurred resulting from, or in connection with, a breach of certain tax-related covenants. Any indemnification claim against the Company could be substantial, may not be able to be satisfied and may have a material adverse effect upon the Company.

If classified as a PFIC, U.S. shareholders may face greater tax liabilities, interest charges and additional reporting obligations, impacting the overall tax situation

If the Company is classified as a "passive foreign investment company" ("PFIC") within the meaning of Section 1297 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") for U.S. federal income tax purposes, a U.S. shareholder who owns common shares could be subject to adverse tax consequences, including a greater tax liability than might otherwise apply, an interest charge on certain taxes deemed deferred and additional U.S. tax reporting obligations. In general, a non-U.S. corporation will be a PFIC during a taxable year if, after applying certain look-through rules, either (i) 75% or more of its gross income constitutes passive income or (ii) 50% or more of its assets produce, or are held for the production of, passive income. Passive income generally includes interest, dividends, and other investment income.

The Company may determine that is is a PFIC for the 2024 taxation year. The determination of whether the Company is a PFIC is a factual determination that depends upon the composition of its income, assets and operations and the fair market value of such assets over the course of each taxable year and, accordingly, can only be made as of the close of each taxable year. The PFIC determination also depends, in part, upon the application of complex U.S. federal income tax rules that are subject to varying or differing interpretations. Thus, there can be no assurance that the Company will not be classified as a PFIC for any taxable year, or that the United States Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") or a court will agree with the Company's determination as to its PFIC status.

Under the PFIC rules, unless a U.S. shareholder makes certain U.S. federal income tax elections (which elections could have adverse consequences), such U.S. shareholders would be liable to pay U.S. federal income tax at the then-prevailing income tax rates on ordinary income plus interest on excess distributions and on any gain from the disposition of the Company's common shares, as if the excess distribution or gain had been recognized ratably over the shareholder's holding period for the Company's common shares. Certain elections (such as a qualifying election fund ("QEF") election or "mark-to-market" election) may be available that would result in alternative treatments of the Common Shares. The U.S. federal income tax treatment of the Common Shares that a U.S. shareholder received pursuant to the Arrangement is not entirely clear for purposes of the PFIC rules. Because U.S. shareholders can be treated as holding stock of a PFIC in periods prior to the Arrangement, U.S. shareholders may not be able to make a timely pedigreed QEF election with respect to Common Shares received pursuant to the Arrangement and may be subject to the adverse U.S. tax treatment described above.

Current and prospective investors who are U.S. shareholders are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the application of the PFIC rules, including the related reporting requirements and the advisability of making any available election under the PFIC rules, with respect to their ownership and disposition of Common Shares, including any Common Shares received pursuant to the Arrangement.

Item 1C: Cybersecurity

Cybersecurity Risk Management and Strategy

The Company operates in an increasingly interconnected digital environment and recognizes the critical need to assess, identify and manage material risks associated with cybersecurity threats. As part of the Company's business operations, it may collect and store sensitive information, including proprietary and confidential business data, intellectual property, third-party information, employee details and other personal information. To manage this information, as well as key business processes such as inventory management, payment processing, cash collection, human capital management, financial operations and other essential procedures, the Company relies on both its internal information systems and third-party systems. The effective management of the Company's business depends on the reliability, security and capacity of these systems.

To mitigate these risks, the Company has developed and implemented a cybersecurity risk management program ("Cybersecurity Program") intended to protect the confidentiality, integrity and availability of the Company's critical systems and information, based on the Center for Internet Security ("CIS") Critical Security Controls ("CSC") v8.0 and the CIS Risk Assessment Method v2.1. The Company uses the CIS CSC v8.0 as a guide to help identify, assess, and manage cybersecurity risks relevant to its business. The Cybersecurity Program is aligned to the Company's business strategy and shares common methodologies, reporting channels and governance processes that apply to other areas of enterprise risk, including legal, compliance, strategic, operational and financial risk.

Key elements of the Company's cybersecurity risk management program include:

- annual risk assessments designed to help identify material cybersecurity risks to the Company's critical systems, information, products, services and broader enterprise IT environment;
- designation of resources responsible for managing the Company's cybersecurity risk assessment processes, security controls, and response to cybersecurity incidents;
- the use of external service providers, where appropriate, to assess, test or otherwise assist with aspects of security controls;
- monthly training and awareness programs for team members that include periodic and ongoing assessments to drive adoption and awareness of cybersecurity processes and controls; and
- a cybersecurity incident response plan that includes procedures for responding to cybersecurity incidents.

Since the Separation, the Company is not aware of any cybersecurity incidents that have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect its business strategy, results of operations or financial condition. However, the Company recognizes that cybersecurity threats are constantly evolving, and the potential for future cybersecurity incidents persists. The Company's IT Security Department is dedicated to monitoring and assessing these risks to ensure the security and continuity of operations. Despite the implementation of robust cybersecurity programs, no security measures can entirely eliminate the risk of a significant cyberattack. A successful breach of the Company's IT systems could have substantial consequences for its business. While the Company allocates considerable resources to safeguard its systems and information, these efforts cannot guarantee complete protection. For a discussion of whether and how any risks from cybersecurity threats, including as a result of any previous cybersecurity incidents, have materially affected or are reasonably likely to materially affect the Company, including its business strategy, results of operations or financial condition, refer to Part I - Item 1A: Risks Related to the Company's Business and Securities - Increased reliance on digital technologies and new information systems to support the growing business could increase costs and cybersecurity related threats.

Cybersecurity Governance

The Company's Audit and Risk ("A&R") Committee of the Board has specific responsibility for overseeing cybersecurity threats, among other things. The Company's Chief Financial Officer ("CFO") provides the A&R Committee periodic reports on the Company's cybersecurity risks and any material cybersecurity incidents, and the Board also receives quarterly cybersecurity reports.

The Company's Senior Technology Specialist, who has over 25 years of IT work experience across a range of sectors, has primary responsibility for overall cybersecurity risk management program and supervises both internal IT personnel and retained external cybersecurity consultants. The Senior Technology Specialist reports to the Company's Senior Vice President, Finance and Administration (who reports to the CFO). The IT department also monitors the prevention, detection, mitigation and remediation of cybersecurity risks and incidents through various means, which may include threat intelligence and other information obtained from governmental, public or private sources, including external consultants engaged, and alerts and reports produced by security tools deployed in the IT environment.

Technical Report

The primary purpose of the Reports was to provide an update of the Mineral Resource and Mineral Reserve estimates to incorporate data from 97 drills completed in 2023. The updated Mineral Reserve supported an expansion plan across five phases for total designed nominal capacity rate of approximately 160,000 t/y of lithium carbonate over an 85 year mine life. The Reports also included estimated capital costs, operating costs, reclamation and closure costs, royalties, taxes and economic analysis, as well as current status of the permits.

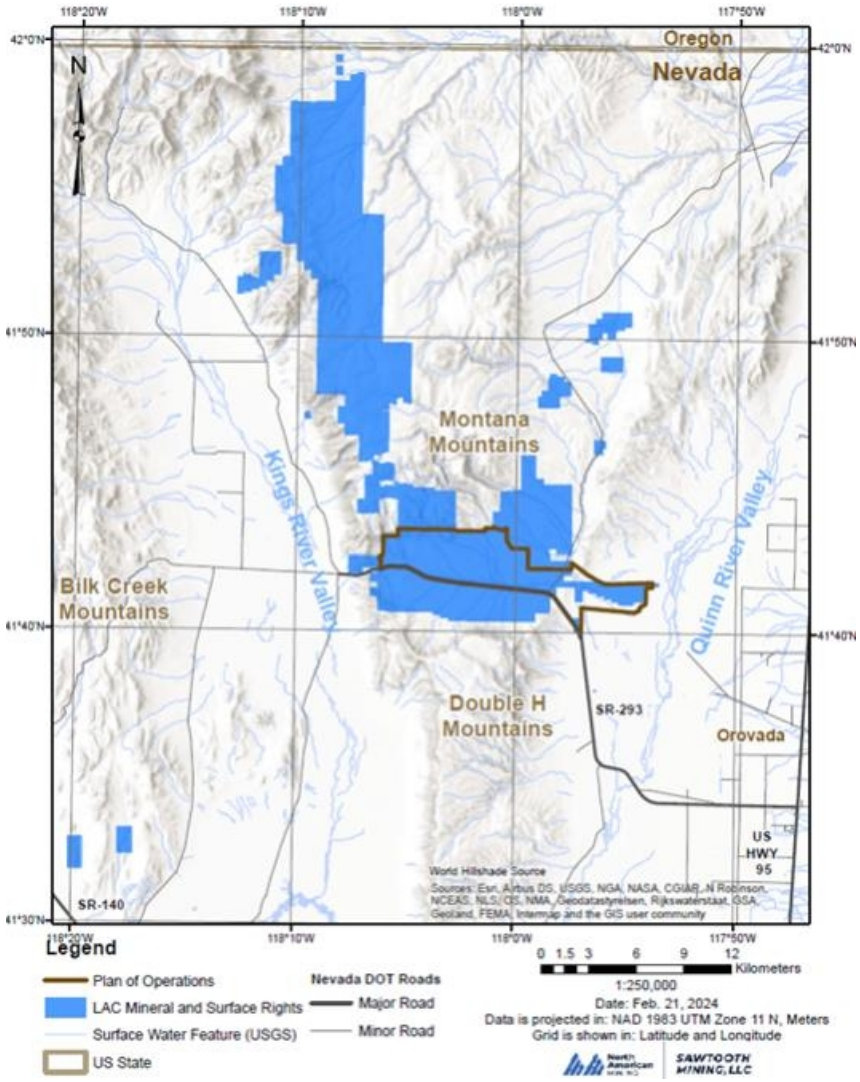
Property Description and Location

Thacker Pass is located in Humboldt County in northern Nevada, approximately 100 km north-northwest of Winnemucca, approximately 33 km west-northwest of Orovada, Nevada, and 33 km due south of the Oregon border. It is situated within Township 44 North (T44N), Range 34 East (R34E), and within portions of Sections 1 and 12; T44N, R35E within portions of Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, and 17; and T44N, R36E, within portions of Sections 7, 8, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, and 29. The Project area is located on the United States Geological Survey (USGS) Thacker Pass 7.5-minute quadrangle at an approximate elevation of 1,500 m. Entrance to the Project can be found at 41o 41’ 40.6” N 118o 02’ 4.3” W.

The Thacker Pass area encompasses approximately 7,900 ha and lies within and is surrounded by public lands administered by the BLM. The Thacker Pass mineral claims include the anticipated lithium claystone mining at the Thacker Pass deposit along with certain ancillary surface rights; the claims encompass an area previously referred to as the Stage I area of the Kings Valley Lithium Project. The surrounding area is sparsely populated and used primarily for ranching and farming.

Access to Thacker Pass is via the paved US Highway 95 and paved State Route 293; travel north on US-95 from Winnemucca, Nevada, for approximately 70 km to Orovada, Nevada and then travel west-northwest on State Route 293 for 33 km toward Thacker Pass to the Thacker Pass site entrance. Driving time is approximately one hour from Winnemucca, and 3.5 hours from Reno. On-site access is via several gravel and dirt roads established during the exploration and Phase 1 early works phase. The closest international airport is located in Reno, Nevada, approximately 370 km southwest of Thacker Pass. The nearest railroad access is in Winnemucca, Nevada.

As at December 31, 2024, the net book value for the Thacker Pass property was $379.0 million.



Mineral Tenure

Thacker Pass is comprised of 2,694 unpatented mining claims and 30 mill site claims (together, the "Thacker Mining Claims") owned or controlled by LN. LAC also owns 64.75 ha of private property in the Thacker Pass project area. LN is the record owner of the Thacker Mining Claims and LAC's unpatented mineral claims in the Montana Mountains.

Unpatented mining claims provide the holder with the rights to all locatable minerals on the relevant property, including lithium. The rights include the ability to use the claims for prospecting, mining or processing operations, and uses reasonably incident thereto, along with the right to use so much of the surface as may be necessary for such purposes or for access to adjacent land. This interest in the Thacker Mining Claims remains subject to the paramount title of the U.S. federal government. The holder of an unpatented mining claim maintains a perpetual entitlement to the claim, provided it meets the obligations for maintenance thereof as required by the Mining Act of the United States of America (the "Mining Act") and associated regulations. The holder of unpatented mining claims maintains the right to extract and sell locatable minerals, which includes lithium, subject to regulatory approvals required under Federal, State and local law. In Nevada, such approvals and permits include approval of a plan of operations by the BLM and environmental approvals.

At this time, the principal obligation imposed on LN in connection with holding the Thacker Mining Claims is to pay an annual maintenance fee, which represents payment in lieu of the assessment work required under the Mining Act, along with associated administrative filings. All obligations for the Thacker Mining Claims in Nevada, including annual fees for 2024-25 to the BLM and Humboldt County, have been fulfilled.

Royalties

Certain of the Thacker Mining Claims are subject to a 20% royalty payable to Cameco Global Exploration II Ltd. solely in respect of uranium (the "Uranium Royalty"). In addition to the Uranium Royalty, Thacker Pass is subject to a royalty on net revenue produced directly from ore, subject to a buy-down right. This royalty was granted to MF2, LLC ("MF2"), a subsidiary of Orion Mine Fine Finance (Master) Fund I LP (f/k/a RK Mine Finance (Master) Fund II L.P.) in 2013. MF2 subsequently transferred 60% of the royalty to Alnitak Holdings, LLC (together with MF2, the "Royalty Holders"). This royalty has been included in the economic model on the assumption that the Thacker Pass owner will exercise its buy-down right to reduce the royalty from 8.0% to 1.75% by making an upfront payment of $22 million in or prior to the first year of operations. Under the current lithium carbonate pricing assumption the ongoing annual royalty payments will average $422/t lithium carbonate sold over the 85-year LOM (base case).

Permitting and Reclamation Obligations

In 2021, BLM approved a reclamation cost estimate for the Thacker Pass plan of operations of $47.6 million. Financial assurance in the amount of $13.7 million for the initial work plan was placed with the agency in February 2023 prior to initiating construction with the remaining amount to be placed as construction activities progress. The NDEP-BMRR approved the PoO with the issuance of draft Reclamation Permit 0415. On February 25, 2022, the NDEP-BMRR and then issued the final Reclamation Permit 0415. On June 25, 2024, the BLM approved a modification to the PoO, which included an updated facility layout and the addition of the countercurrent decantation circuits. A modified Reclamation Permit was issued by NDEP-BMRR in Q4 2024. The BLM will require the placement of a financial guarantee (reclamation bond) to ensure that all disturbances from the mine and process site are reclaimed once mining concludes.

Thacker Pass is located on public lands administered by the U.S. Department of the Interior, BLM. Construction of Thacker Pass requires permits and approvals from various Federal, State, and local government agencies. All major federal, state and local permits and authorizations for Phase 1 have been achieved and there are no identified issues that would prevent LAC from achieving all permits and authorizations for Phase 1 and 2 of Thacker Pass. Additional analysis would be needed to determine any potential Federal, State or local regulatory or permitting issues for future phases of Thacker Pass.

From 2008 to 2023, the Company performed extensive exploration activities at the Thacker Pass site under existing approved agency permits. The Company has all necessary federal and state permits and approvals to conduct mineral exploration activities within active target areas of the Thacker Pass site.

The Company is approved by the BLM and the NDEP-BMRR to conduct mineral exploration and construction activities at Thacker Pass in accordance with Permit No. N98582.

There are no identified issues that would prevent the Company from achieving all permits and authorizations required to construct and operate Phase 1 and Phase 2 of Thacker Pass, or that may affect access, title or the right or ability to perform work on the property.

In 2024, there were no material environmental-related matters (e.g. spills, contaminations, etc.) at Thacker Pass.

History

In 1975, Chevron USA ("Chevron") began an exploration program for uranium in the sediments located throughout the McDermitt Caldera ("McDermitt Caldera"), a 40km x 30km geological formation straddling the Oregon-Nevada border, which includes Thacker Pass. Early in Chevron's program, the USGS (who had been investigating lithium sources) alerted Chevron to the presence of anomalous concentrations of lithium associated with the caldera. Though uranium remained the primary focus of exploration, Chevron added lithium to its assays in 1978 and 1979, began a clay analysis program and obtained samples for engineering work. Results supported the high lithium concentrations contained in clays. From 1980 to 1987, Chevron began a drilling program that focused on lithium targets and conducted extensive metallurgical testing of the clays to determine the viability of lithium extraction.

In 1991, Chevron sold its interest in the claims to Cyprus Gold Exploration Corporation who allowed the claims to lapse. Jim LaBret, a claim owner who received exploration data from Cypress Gold Exploration Corporattion, leased his claims in 2005 to Western Energy Development Corporation ("WEDC").

In 2007, WEDC leased the mining claims to Western Lithium Corporation ("WLC") for the purpose of lithium exploration and exploitation.

In 2016, WLC changed its name to Lithium Nevada Corp, a U.S. subsidiary of Lithium Americas.

In Q4 2024, LAC and GM established a joint venture for ownership of the Project. GM acquired a 38% asset-level ownership in Thacker Pass, with LAC retaining a 62% interest.

Prior owners and operators of the property did not conduct any commercial lithium production from Thacker Pass.

Geological Setting and Mineralization

Geological Setting

Thacker Pass is located within the McDermitt Volcanic Field, a volcanic complex with four large rhyolitic calderas that formed in the middle Miocene. Volcanic activity in the McDermitt Volcanic Field occurred simultaneously with voluminous outflow of the earliest stages of the approximately 16.6 million years ago ("Ma") to 15 Ma Columbia River flood basalt lavas. This volcanic activity was associated with impingement of the Yellowstone plume head on the continental crust. Plume head expansion underneath the lithosphere resulted in crustal melting and surficial volcanism along four distinct radial swarms centered around Steens Mountain, Oregon.

The McDermitt Volcanic Field is located within the southeastern-propagating swarm of volcanism from Steens Mountain into north-central Nevada. Thacker Pass is located within the largest and southeastern most caldera of the McDermitt Volcanic Field, the McDermitt Caldera.

Mineralization

The Thacker Pass deposit sits sub-horizontally beneath a thin alluvial cover at Thacker Pass and is partially exposed at the surface. The Thacker Pass deposit is the target of a multi-phase mining development of Thacker Pass. It lies at relatively low elevations (between 1,500 m and 1,300 m) in caldera lake sediments that have been separated from the topographically higher deposits to the north due to post-caldera resurgence and Basin and Range normal faulting. Exposures of the sedimentary rocks at Thacker Pass are limited to a few drainages and isolated road cuts. Therefore, the stratigraphic sequence in the deposit is primarily derived from core drilling.

The sedimentary section, which has a maximum drilled thickness of about 160 m, consists of alternating layers of claystone and volcanic ash. Basaltic lavas occur intermittently within the sedimentary sequence.

Clay in the Thacker Pass deposit includes two distinctly different mineral types, smectite and illite, based on chemistry and X-ray diffraction ("XRD") spectra.

Drilling

A total of 227 holes from the 2007-2010 campaigns, 135 holes from the 2017-2018 campaigns, and 94 holes from the 2023 campaign were used in the 2024 Mineral Resource estimate in the Reports.

Past and modern drilling results show lithium grade ranging from 2,000 ppm to 8,000 ppm lithium over great lateral extents among drill holes. There is a fairly continuous high-grade sub-horizontal clay horizon that exceeds 5,000 ppm lithium across the Thacker Pass area. This horizon averages 1.47 m thick with an average depth of 56 m down hole. The lithium grade for several meters above and below the high-grade horizon typically ranges from 3,000 ppm to 5,000 ppm lithium. The bottom of the deposit is well defined by a hydrothermally altered oxidized ash and sediments that contain less than 500 ppm lithium, and often sub-100 ppm lithium (HPZ). All drill holes, except six, are vertical which represent the down hole lithium grades as true-thickness and allows for accurate resource estimation.

Quality Control Measures and Data Verification Procedures

In 2010-2011, for every 34 half core samples, the Company randomly inserted two standard samples (3,000 ppm grade and 4,000 ppm Li grade), one duplicate sample and one blank sample. The 2017-2018 quality program was slightly modified to include a random blank or standard sample within every 30.5 m interval and taking a duplicate split of the core (1⁄4 core) every 30.5 m.

In 2023, LAC re-certified the 3,000 ppm grade standard, 4,000 ppm grade standard and purchased the OREAS 173 standard (1,000 ppm standard) for use in 2023 QA/QC program. In addition to the three standards, a blank standard and duplicates were also included in the 2023 QAQC program. Like the 2017-2018 program, a random blank or standard sample was included every 30.5 m interval and a duplicate split of the core (1⁄4 core) was taken every 30.5 m.

The total number of LAC blank, duplicate and standard samples analyzed by the laboratory during the Company's Thacker Pass drilling campaign from 2010-2011 was 9.5% of the total samples assayed. The Company's 2017-2018 drilling campaign averaged 11.1% quality control samples out of the total samples assayed. The Company's 2023 drilling campaign averaged 10.5% quality control samples out of the total samples assayed. Assaying for all drilling averaged 10.5% check samples. This does not include ALS Global of Reno, Nevada ("ALS") internal check and duplicate samples.

10. LAC owns 62% interest of Thacker Pass, including this mineral reserve estimate, with GM owning the remaining 38%.

The Mineral Reserves estimate is based on current knowledge, engineering constraints and land status. Large changes in the market pricing, commodity price assumptions, material density factor assumptions, future geotechnical evaluations, cost estimates or metallurgical recovery could affect the pit optimization parameters and therefore the cut-off grades and estimates of Mineral Reserves.

Changes of Mineral Estimates from 2024 and 2023

Except as specified below, the comparison of the mineral estimates are shown on a 100% project basis. In Q4 2024, LAC and GM entered into an investment agreement establishing a joint venture with ownership of Thacker Pass. LAC currently owns a 62% interest in Thacker Pass, including this mineral resource estimate, with GM owning the remaining 38%. At December 31, 2023, LAC owned a 100% interest of Thacker Pass.

Mineral Resources

The tables below show the reported mineral resource estimates for 2024 and 2023, the difference between estimates as well as the percent change. The major factors that attributed to this change include:

- Additional drill holes from the 2023 drilling campaign allowed for more Measured, Indicated and Inferred Mineral Resources in the southern and eastern portions of the property.
- Updating the domaining to include lithological domains has allowed for the grade interpretation to better align with mineralization. This has decreased the amount of grade smearing along the contacts between the various domains and subsequently increased the average lithium grade values and tonnages.
- Utilizing the non-declustered composite database in the Ordinary Kriging estimation has attributed to the increase in average lithium grade values and tonnages.
- An increase in the estimate lithium price from 2022 of $22,000 to 2024 of $29,000 has allowed for the cutoff grade to drop and for more tonnages to be included in 2024 Mineral Resource statement.
- Additional density sampling has allowed for a more robust determination of density for the Thacker Pass deposit.
- The decrease in Measured tonnage is due to the Mineral Reserves including more of the Measured blocks with the expanded pit in the 2024 estimate.

Mineral Reserves

The tables below show the reported mineral reserve estimates for 2024 and 2023, the difference between estimates as well as the percent change. The major factors that attributed to this change include:

- Additional drill holes from the 2023 drilling campaign allowed for more Measured and Indicated resources in the southern and eastern portions of the property. This has allowed for the Mineral Reserves to stretch into those areas as well.
- Updating the domaining to include lithological domains has allowed for the grade interpretation to better align with mineralization. This has decreased the amount of grade smearing along the contacts between the various domains and subsequently increased the average lithium grade values and tonnages.
- An increase in lithium price from $22,000 to $24,000 has allowed for more tonnage to be considered in the Mineral Reserve estimate.

Mining Methods

Thacker Pass is designed to be a surface mine, as the shallow and massive nature of the deposit makes it amenable to open-pit mining methods. The mining method assumes hydraulic excavators loading a fleet of end dump trucks. This truck/excavator fleet will develop several offset benches to maintain geotechnically stable highwall slopes. These benches will also enable the mine to have multiple grades of ore exposed at any given time, allowing flexibility to deliver and blend ore as needed.

The major change between the "Preliminary Feasibility Study S-K 1300 Technical Report Summary for the Thacker Pass Project Humboldt County, Nevada, USA," effective December 31, 2022, and the report entitled "Feasibility Study, National Instrument 43-101 Technical Report for the Thacker Pass Project, Humboldt County, Nevada, USA" effective as of November 2, 2022 (together, the "2022 Reports") and the Reports is the addition of phases and the overall size of the pit. The 2022 Reports had two plants, phase 1 and phase 2. The Reports contemplate additional phases 3, 4, and 5.

Processing and Recovery Methods

The Mineral Reserves are comprised of two main types of lithium-bearing clay, smectite and illite, with volcanic ash and other gangue minerals mixed throughout. Feed to the process plant is determined by a cutoff factor of extractable lithium per tonne clay. The extractable recoverable lithium is calculated based on correlations developed by LAC. Though both types of clay will be processed, most of the feed is illite clay type, averaging 96.6% over the life of mine ("LOM"). Run-of-mine ore will be delivered to the plants from stockpiles which have dedicated comminution and conveyor systems.

Thacker Pass will be constructed in five expansion phases. Lithium carbonate production from Phases 1 through 4 is designed for a nominal 40,000 t/y capacity per phase for a total nominal capacity of 160,000 t/y. Phase 5 expansion will be introduced at the time of Phase 4 expansion when mined ore grade decreases resulting in available capacity in the lithium carbonate crystallization circuits constructed during the initial four Phases. The process plant will operate 24 hours/day, 365 days/year with an overall availability of 88% and a mine life of 85 years. The total amount of ore processed from the mine plan is 1,057 Mt (dry).

The recovery process consists of the following primary circuits: (i) Beneficiation, including Comminution, Attrition Scrubbing, Classification, and Solid-Liquid Separation (Thickening and Dewatering); (ii) Leaching; (iii) Neutralization; (iv) Counter Current Decantation and Filtration; (v) Magnesium and Calcium Removal; (vi) Lithium Carbonate (Li_2CO_3) production, including 1st Stage Lithium Carbonate Crystallization, Bicarbonation, 2nd Stage Lithium Carbonate Crystallization, and Sodium Sulfate and Potassium Sulfate Crystallization (Zero Liquid Discharge ("ZLD")).

In beneficiation, ROM ore is crushed then mixed with water and fed to unit operations designed to liberate lithium bearing clay from gangue material. The clay is separated from coarse gangue in classification, with coarse gangue being stockpiled and eventually used as pit backfill material. The clay fines are then sent to the first dewatering stage (thickening) followed by decanter centrifuging.

The centrifuge discharge cake is repulped in recycled process solution then mixed with sulfuric acid ("H_2SO_4") from the acid plant, leaching lithium and other constituents into solution. Acid availability determines leach feed rates, which in turn determines ore mining rates. The free acid contained in the resultant leached residue is neutralized with both a slurry of ground limestone and a magnesium hydroxide slurry from the downstream magnesium precipitation circuit. The neutralized slurry is sent to a countercurrent decantation ("CCD") circuit to recover the lithium bearing solution from the solids with the washed solids then being fed to recessed chamber filter presses. The filter cake is then conveyed to the clay tailings filter stack ("CTFS") as waste material for storage while the filtrate is returned to the CCD circuit.

The lithium bearing solution recovered in CCD is sent to magnesium and calcium removal circuits where first the bulk of the magnesium is crystallized as hydrated magnesium sulfate ("$MgSO_4$") salts, removed via centrifugation, and conveyed to the CTFS. Any remaining magnesium in the brine is then precipitated with milk-of-lime and separated by recessed chamber filter presses. The precipitated solids are repulped and recycled back to neutralization (as stated above), eventually leaving the process with neutralized filter cake. The calcium in the liquor is removed via soda ash addition, and an ion exchange polishing step brings the divalent cation concentration to very low levels.

The second stage Li_2CO_3 crystal product is separated via centrifugation then sent to drying, cooling and packaging. Mother liquor from the Li_2CO_3 crystallizers is sent to the ZLD crystallizer to remove Na and K as sulfate salts. The salts are sent to the CTFS while lithium remaining in the concentrate is recycled back to the front of the Li_2CO_3 circuit and recovered.

Process design criteria were developed by LAC's process engineering group based on in-house and vendor test results that were incorporated into the process modelling software Aspen Plus® to generate a steady-state material and energy balance. The design basis for the beneficiation facility is to process an average ROM throughput rate for each Phase expansion of about 2.7 M dry tonnes per year, or 7,522 dry tonnes per day ("t/d") of feed, including an 88% plant annual overall availability. Throughput from the mine to the crushing plant is targeted based on an average coarse gangue rejection rate of about 42% of the ROM material. The design basis results in an estimated production rate of approximately 125 t/d (42,196 t/y) of battery grade lithium carbonate. For the purposes of this report each expansion from Phases 1 – 4 equates to a nominal production rate of 40,000 t/y lithium carbonate per phase.

Recovery of lithium carbonate equivalent from ore mined and processed to produce lithium carbonate, ranges from 75.2% to 83.7%. The weighted average recovery of lithium carbonate from lithium carbonate equivalent mined for the first 25 years and the 85-year life-of-mine plan is 82.1% and 80.4% respectively. The recovery ranges are realized from an average mined lithium grade of 2,538 ppm contained within an ore blend consisting of 96.6% illite and 3.4% smectite.

Infrastructure, Permitting and Compliance Activities

Infrastructure and Logistics

Thacker Pass has the potential to be constructed in five phases. Each expansion, if approved, would occur four years apart from each other with Phases 1, 2, 3 and 4 designed to produce a nominal 40,000 t/y of lithium carbonate from acid plants producing a nominal 2,250 t/d sulfuric acid. Phase 5 would occur at the same time as Phase 4 and is designed to include a 3,000 t/d sulfuric acid plant and a process plant to support higher leach feed rates through brine production only. Mined material and tailings will be moved by conveyors and trucks.

Process Plant General Arrangement

Lithium-rich clays are mined and transported via haul truck to the mineral beneficiation equipment at the processing plant. Raw water is sourced via aquifer-fed wells and pumped 7 miles east of the process area to dedicated raw water tanks located in the process plant areas. The processing plants are east of the mine open pit.

Generally, Phase 2 is a mirror of Phase 1. Phase 4 would be a mirror of Phase 3, and Phase 5 expansion would be a standalone development.

Reagents, Consumables and Shipping

Limestone, quicklime, flocculant, and soda ash reagents are delivered to each processing plant in solid form while liquid sulfur, propane, ferric sulfate, caustic soda, and hydrochloric acid are delivered as liquids. Based on current projections, over-highway trucking would be used during Phases 1 through 3; during Phase 4, a short-line railroad to the project would deliver most bulk raw materials directly to the project site for the duration of the LOM.

Delivery routes and offloading locations for raw materials are designed to limit potential incidents with other traffic, operations, and maintenance activities.

Ancillary Buildings

Ancillary buildings to support each phase of the project include: (i) Site security buildings and entrances; (ii) Administration office buildings; (iii) Plant maintenance and warehouse buildings; (iv) Packaging Warehouse building; (v) Laboratory and control room buildings; and (vi) Mine facilities area holding fuel, lubrication, wash bay, and maintenance workshop.

Roads

The planned traffic flow to the project will primarily come from Winnemucca Nevada along Highway 95 then onto State Route 293 ("SR-293"). Access improvements along SR-293 adjacent to the project site were completed in 2023 with Nevada Department of Transportation ("NDOT") oversight. Improvements included the development of three turn/deceleration lanes at the Phase 1 and 2 Process Plant Entrance, Construction Entrance, and Mine Entrance along with cattle guard improvements on the BLM Pole Creek Road. These entrances will support the construction and operations during Phase 1 and 2 developments. By year 40 of the mine plan a portion of SR-293 will need to be relocated outside of the open pit extents.

SR-293 passes through the Project proposed open pit mine and connects the Kings River Valley to U.S. Highway 95 in Orovada, Nevada. During years 39 and 40 SR-293 will be rerouted outside of the proposed open pit limits. The re-alignment will be 23.9 kilometers (14.9 miles) and will satisfy the Nevada Department of Transportation requirements.

Additionally, an intersection in the town of Orovada, NV at US-95/ SR-293 junction was improved in 2023 with NDOT oversight to accommodate additional traffic to the Thacker Pass site. All construction and operations traffic to the site will travel northbound on US-95 and turn west onto SR-293. The highway improvements included a deceleration lane for traffic to turn onto SR-293.

Power Supply

Electrical power for Thacker Pass will be supplied by on-site power generation and via grid power from the local electric utility cooperative, Harney Electric Cooperative ("HEC"). A 115 kV transmission network line crosses the project site. Thacker Pass will generate a portion of the steady-state power demand via Steam Turbine Generators driven by steam produced by the sulfuric acid plant. The rest of the steady-state loads and any peaks will be serviced by power purchased from HEC.

The 115 kV transmission line and fiber optic cable line pass through Thacker Pass proposed open pit mine and connects the Kings River Valley Substation. During the years 39 and 40 highway realignment, the overhead 115 kV transmission and fiber optic communication line to the Kings River Substation will also be relocated.

Sulfuric Acid Production

The sulfuric acid plants for Thacker Pass are Double Contact Double Absorption ("DCDA") sulfur burning sulfuric acid plants. Phase 1 through Phase 4 will each have a single sulfuric acid ("H_2SO_4") plant capable of producing nominal 2,250 t/d while Phase 5 will be 3,000 t/d (100 weight % H_2SO_4 basis) of sulfuric acid by burning liquid elemental sulfur. Sulfur is delivered to site and is unloaded by gravity into a Sulfur Unloading Pit which provides sulfur to the sulfuric acid plants. The sulfuric acid generated from each plant is used in the process plant for the chemical production of lithium carbonate. The total annual operating days are based upon expected scheduled and unscheduled maintenance. Acid production is a function of the plant's nominal capacity and production over Design Capacity with production efficiency of the equipment decreasing over a three-year period until scheduled maintenance occurs. Each sulfuric acid plant has two Liquid Sulfur Storage Tanks with a combined total storage capacity of 28 days (about 4 weeks). The sulfur is transferred from the tanks to the Sulfur Feed Pit and from there to the Sulfur Furnace.

Water Source

The existing Quinn Raw Water Well QRPW18-01 (Quinn Well 1) was drilled in September 2018 to a depth of 172.2 meters (about 564.96 ft) below the ground surface (bgs). The well has been tested and is able to sustain 908 m3/h (4,000 gpm), which satisfies the expected average demand servicing all potable, mining and process flow streams for Phase 1 of 380 m3/h and 760 m^3/h for Phase 2. Quinn Well 2 (QRPW23-01) is a backup well located 1.6 km (1 mile) west of QRPW18-01 that was drilled to a depth of 173.7 meters (bgs) in February 2023.

The hydraulic capacity of the pump and piping system from the production wells to the plant site is 908 m3/h (4,000 gpm). The Process Plant Raw/Fire Water Tank (35 m diameter) capacity is 7,059 m^3 (1.86 M gallons), storing 5,016 m3 (1.32 M gallons) for 6 hours make up water, above the fire water reserve.

Phases 3, 4 and 5 would require an additional raw water supply system to include production wells and raw water supply line. Two additional wells and a pipeline would be anticipated to be installed to provide an additional 908 m^3/h (4,000 gpm) per well.

Environmental Studies and Permitting

Refer to Part I – Item 1: Business – Regulatory and Permitting in this Form 10-K for a summary of permits required and a permitting history.

Capital and Operating Costs

Capital Cost Estimate

Development capital costs are divided across the five construction phases with additional LOM capital required to relocate state route and power line infrastructure. Though Phase 1 has been optimized to exclude most of Phase 2 pre-investment where possible, it inherently includes the majority of civil earth works and site infrastructure to support Phase 2. If approved, Phase 2, 3 and 4 would include the addition of acid plants and construction of mineral and chemical processing facilities to produce an additional nominal 40,000 t of lithium carbonate per year from each phase. Phase 5 expansion is contemplated to occur at the same time as the Phase 4 expansion and would include the addition of an acid plant capable of producing 3,000 t/d sulfuric acid. Phase 5 processing circuits would include beneficiation through magnesium sulfate. Due to excess capacity available in the purification circuits constructed from phases 1-4 the lithium extracted from Phase 5 will be introduced into the Phase 1-4 purification plants.

The total development capital includes a 15% contingency. Total development capital cost for Phase 1 through 5 plus additional LOM capital is $12,441 million, which includes Phase 1 at $2,930 million; Phase 2 at $2,328 million; Phase 3 at $2,754 million; Phase 4 and 5 at $4,315 million and an additional $114 million over the LOM. Due to rounding, some totals may not correspond with the sum of the separate figures.

Sustaining Capital Costs

Sustaining capital costs for the base case totaling $6,921 million have been estimated over the 85-year LOM. Capital costs are not included in sustaining costs but includes third party capital recovery for transload, mining and limestone quarry repayments.

Closure Costs

Closure costs are estimated based upon necessary reclamation, remediation and closure of the 85-year facility. These closure costs of $462 million will be updated as operations continue, and concurrent reclamation takes place. Site overhead during closure will be a corporate cost.

Operating Cost Estimate

The estimated average annual operating expenditures ("OPEX") over the 85-year mine life is $1,086 million, or $8,039/t of lithium carbonate produced, and for Years 1-25 of the 85 year mine life, estimated average annual OPEX is $779 million, or $6,238/t of lithium carbonate produced.

Economic Analysis

The only revenue stream is sales of lithium carbonate. Cost inputs into the model are based primarily on Q3 2024 pricing, and the discount period commences Q3 2023. Two scenarios were prepared: i) for the 85-year LOM ("Base Case") and ii) for Years 1-25 of the 85-year LOM ("Production Scenario").

Production and Revenues

Phases 1 through 4 are each designed for a nominal production rate of 40,000 t/y of lithium carbonate. The Phases will come online in years 1, 5, 9, and 13 respectively. A fifth phase will be constructed to produce brine only to feed the four previous phases. Actual production varies with the grade of ore mined and process chemistries in each year of the expected mine life of 85 years.

Product selling price has been forecasted over the study period at $24,000/t lithium carbonate. The annual average lithium carbonate production for the Base Case is 135,132 t/y (LOM total of 11,486,261 t/y) and the annual average revenue is $3,243 million per year (LOM total of $275,670 million). The annual average lithium carbonate production for the Production Scenario is 124,867 t/y (Years 1-25 total of 3,121,685 t/y) and the annual average revenue is $2,997 million per year (Years 1-25 total of $74,921 million).

Financial Model Results

Thacker Pass financial performance is measured through Net Present Value ("NPV"), Internal Rate of Return ("IRR") and Payback Period ("Payback").

The Project's estimated after-tax NPV at an 8% discount rate for the Production Scenario is $5.9 billion and for the Base Case is $8.7 billion. The Project's after-tax IRR for the Production Scenario is 19.6% and for the Base Case is 20.0%. The undiscounted Payback for both the Production Scenario and the Base Case is 8.7 years.

Sensitivity Analysis

A sensitivity analysis was performed on NPV at an 8% discount and IRR at a range of discount rates for three lithium carbonate product selling price cases for three scenarios -25% (downside), 0% (base-fixed) and +25% (high).

At the base-fixed scenario (average selling price of $24,000/t), NPV is $8.7 billion and IRR is 20.0%. In the downside scenario (-25% average selling price of $18,000/t), NPV is $3.4 billion and IRR is 12.8%. In the high scenario (+25% average price of $30,000/t), NPV is $13.6 billion and IRR is 26.5%.

A sensitivity analysis was performed on NPV at different discount rates for both the Base Case and Production Scenario. For the Base Case, the discount rates resulted in an NPV of $134.5 billion at 0% (undiscounted cash flow); $15.1 billion at 6%; $8.7 billion at 8%; $5.2 billion at 10%; $3.1 billion at 12%; and $0.9 billion at 16%. For the Production Scenario, the discount rates resulted in an NPV of $32.6 billion at 0% (undiscounted cash flow); $9.0 billion at 6%; $5.9 billion at 8%; $3.8 billion at 10%; $2.4 billion at 12%; and $0.7 billion at 16%.

Commercial Agreements

On February 16, 2023, as part of closing GM's Tranche 1 Investment, Old LAC entered into the Offtake Agreement with GM pursuant to which Old LAC agreed to supply GM with lithium carbonate production from Phase 1 of Thacker Pass. As part of the Arrangement, the Offtake Agreement was assigned by Old LAC to the Company. Concurrently with closing of the DOE Loan in October 2024, the Phase 1 Offtake Agreement was extended to 20 years. As part of closing the JV Transaction in December 2024, GM also entered into an additional 20-year offtake agreement for up to 38% of production volumes from Phase 2 of Thacker Pass and will retain its right of first offer on the remaining balance of Phase 2 volumes. The price under each Offtake Agreement is based on an agreed upon price formula linked to prevailing market prices. For additional details on the GM Transaction, see Part I – Item 1: Business – Organizational History and Recent Developments and Part I – Item 1: Business – GM Offtake.

In 2019, LN entered into a mine design, consulting and mining operations agreement with Sawtooth Mining, LLC ("Sawtooth Mining"), a subsidiary of NACCO Industries Inc. and North American Coal. Sawtooth Mining has exclusive responsibility for the design, construction, operation, maintenance, and mining and mine closure services for Thacker Pass, which will supply all of LN's lithium-bearing ore requirements. Sawtooth Mining agreed to provide LN with the following (i) $3.5 million in seven consecutive equal quarterly instalments, with the final payment received in October 2020; and (ii) engineering services related primarily to mine design and permitting. During construction, Sawtooth Mining has agreed to provide initial funding for up to $50 million to procure all mobile mining equipment required for Phase 1 operations. Excluding these Sawtooth Mining investments, LN bears all costs of mining and mine closure. A one-time "success fee" payment milestone triggered on October 31, 2023 obligates LN to pay to Sawtooth Mining $4.7 million upon achieving commercial production, or accrue an 8% monthly interest on the "success fee" obligation thereafter if not paid in full. LN entered into master services agreements with EXP U.S. Services Inc. ("EXP"), ITAC Engineers, P.C. ("ITAC"), M3 Engineering & Technology Corp. ("M3") and EDG, Inc. ("EDG"). EXP was contracted to develop the design and costing of the acid plant. In 2020, LN entered into master services agreements with M3 and ITAC to work with Sawtooth Mining and LN personnel to advance analysis and engineering of Thacker Pass. Subsequently, in 2021, LN entered into a master services agreement with EDG to act as an owner's engineer and evaluate the quality and coordination of work among the various engineering firms. EDG's team augmented LN's staffing and supported M3 and ITAC to support and guide interfaces between the engineering teams, equipment vendors and validate quality of work against their extensive catalog of project work. In 2023, LN entered into a License Agreement with MECS, Inc. ("MECS") for the use of certain intellectual property relating to the design, operation and performance of MECS proprietary equipment relating to the acid plant. The agreement provides for a technology license in relation to the plant based on a one-time fully paid-up license fee (payable in four parts), as well as technical services to be provided by MECS.

In 2021, Aquatech International, LLC ("Aquatech") was contracted through a master services agreement to provide confirmation test work, equipment engineering, equipment manufacture and supply for purification and final product crystallization systems for the lithium carbonate production plant. Furthermore, and after a long and robust tender process, in November 2022, LN entered into an EPCM agreement with Bechtel, which, in conjunction with LN and its employees, will be a partner in the design, procurement and execution of Thacker Pass mining and production operations.

Item 3: Legal Proceedings

The Company is involved in various legal and administrative proceedings in the normal course of business, the ultimate resolutions of which, in the opinion of management, are not anticipated to have a material effect on the Company's results of operations, liquidity or financial condition.

The Company's application with the State of Nevada Division of Water Resources for the transfer of certain water rights for Phase 1 of Thacker Pass was approved by the State Engineer in February 2023. The State Engineer's Office issued the final water rights permits on June 30, 2023 and July 3, 2023, authorizing the Company to use its water production wells. In March 2023, the State Engineer's decision was appealed in state court by a local ranching company, and the case is currently pending. The Company has commenced using the water rights for construction activities at Thacker Pass in accordance with the State Engineer's authorization.

Item 4: Mine Safety Disclosures

In October 2023, the U.S. Department of Labor's Mine Safety & Health Administration ("MSHA") determined Thacker Pass was an operating mine.

Thacker Pass is owned by Lithium Nevada LLC ("LN"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC ("Lithium Nevada Ventures"), the joint venture ("JV") between General Motors Holdings LLC ("GM") and the Company (together, the "JV Partners"). The Company owns a 62% interest in Thacker Pass and will manage the Project (the "Manager"), and GM owns a 38% interest in Thacker Pass. The JV is consolidated in the consolidated financial statements of the Company.

The Company was incorporated on January 23, 2023 under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia). The Company's common shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") and on the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX") under the symbol "LAC." The Company accounts for the business in one segment and one geographical area.

The Company was initially formed for the sole purpose of acquiring ownership of the North American business assets and investments ("LAC North America") of Old LAC, which is now named Lithium Argentina AG (formerly Lithium Americas (Argentina) Corp.) ("Lithium Argentina"), pursuant to a separation transaction (the "Separation") that was undertaken on October 3, 2023. Upon consummation of the Separation, the Company changed its name from 1397468 B.C. Ltd to Lithium Americas Corp. Following the Separation, Lithium Argentina and the Company became independent public companies. The Separation was completed pursuant to an arrangement agreement between the Company and Old LAC. Upon completion of the Separation, Old LAC contributed to the Company, among other assets and liabilities, its interest in Thacker Pass, its investments in Green Technology Metals Limited ("GT1") and Ascend Elements Inc. ("Ascend Elements"), certain intellectual property rights, its loan to 1339480 B.C. Ltd., and cash of $275.5 million, including $75 million to establish sufficient working capital (non-GAAP). The Company then distributed its common shares to shareholders of Old LAC in a series of share exchanges. The Separation was pro rata to the shareholders of Old LAC, so that the holders maintained the same proportionate interest in Old LAC (upon the Separation, Lithium Argentina) and the Company both immediately before and immediately after the Separation.

The Company's head office and principal address is Suite 3260, 666 Burrard Street, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, V6C 2X8.

- Subsequent to Q4 2024 on March 6, 2025, the Company announced a strategic investment of $250 million from fund entities managed by Orion Resource Partners LP (collectively, "Orion"), for the development and construction of Phase 1 of the Thacker Pass ("Orion Investment"). Orion has committed to purchase senior unsecured convertible notes in the aggregate principal amount of $195 million and enter into a Production Payment Agreement ("PPA") whereby Orion will pay the Company $25 million in exchange for payments corresponding to the minerals processed and gross revenue generated by Thacker Pass. Orion has also committed, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent, to purchase an additional $30 million in aggregate principal amount of senior unsecured convertible notes during the next two years upon request by the Company.
- On October 28, 2024, the Company and the U.S. Department of Energy's ("DOE") Loan Programs Office ("LPO") closed a $2.26 billion loan under the Advanced Technology Vehicles Manufacturing ("ATVM") Loan Program (the "DOE Loan") for financing the construction of the processing facilities at Thacker Pass, to produce an initial 40,000 tonnes per annum of battery grade lithium carbonate ("Phase 1"). Closing of the DOE Loan follows receipt of a Conditional Commitment from the DOE on March 12, 2024.
- On October 15, 2024, the Company and GM entered into a new investment agreement ("Investment Agreement") to establish a joint venture ("JV") for the purpose of funding, developing, constructing and operating Thacker Pass ("JV Transaction"). GM acquired a 38% interest in Thacker Pass for $625 million in total committed cash and letters of credit, comprised of a $430 million commitment of direct cash funding to the JV to support the construction of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass and a $195 million letter of credit facility ("LC Facility") that can be used as collateral to support reserve account requirements under the DOE Loan. Lithium Americas owns a 62% interest in Thacker Pass and will manage the Project. On December 23, 2024, the Company announced the closing of the JV Transaction whereby GM contributed $330 million of cash into the JV alongside $138 million of cash funding from the Company. The remaining $100 million cash contribution from GM, and Lithium Americas' $192 million contribution, is to be contributed at FID for Phase 1. GM will post the LC Facility prior to first draw on the DOE Loan, which is expected to occur sometime in Q3 2025.

- In connection with the JV, GM's offtake agreement for up to 100% of production volumes from Phase 1 of Thacker Pass was extended to 20 years and GM entered into an additional offtake agreement for up to 38% of Phase 2 production for 20 years, and will retain its right of first offer on the remaining balance of Phase 2 production volumes.
- Together with the DOE Loan and the investments from both GM and Orion, the Company expects to achieve fully funded status at the project and corporate level for the development and construction of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass for the duration of construction.
- In the fourth quarter of 2024, the Company provided Bechtel and other major contractors with limited full notice to proceed ("FNTP") to de-risk the construction schedule and continue to target completion in late 2027. The Company continues to focus on de-risking project execution by advancing detailed engineering, project planning and procurement packages.
- In August 2024, the Company received approval for a $11.8 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense to support an upgrade of the local power infrastructure and to help build a transloading facility.

The net proceeds from the Offering of approximately $262 million are intended to fund the advancement of construction and development of Thacker Pass.

MATERIAL RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED AGREEMENTS

DOE ATVM Loan Program

On October 28, 2024, the Company closed the $2.26 billion DOE Loan from the U.S. DOE LPO under the ATVM Loan Program, for financing the construction of Phase 1 processing facilities at Thacker Pass. The $2.26 billion DOE Loan includes principal of $1.97 billion and capitalized interest during construction, which is estimated to be $290 million over a three-year period (based on an interest rate of 5.2%) The DOE Loan has a 24-year maturity (from the date of first draw on the DOE Loan) with interest rates fixed from the date of each monthly advance for the term of the loan at applicable U.S. Treasury rates, without any additional credit spread. Other key terms include customary covenants and events of default for a project finance loan facility and customary conditions precedent to loan effectiveness and advances for a project finance loan facility.

The Company currently expects to make the first draw on the DOE Loan sometime in the third quarter of 2025 ("Q3 2025"). Conditions precedent to first draw include project finance model bring down.

General Motors Equity Investment, Joint Venture and Offtake

Prior to the Separation, on January 30, 2023, Old LAC had entered into a purchase agreement with GM, pursuant to which GM agreed to make a $650 million equity investment (the "2023 Transaction"), the proceeds of which were to be used for the construction and development of Thacker Pass. The 2023 Transaction was comprised of two tranches, a first tranche investment of $320 million ("Tranche 1 Investment") a second tranche investment of up to $330 million (the "Tranche 2 Investment"). Tranche 1 closed and the Phase 1 offtake agreement was executed on February 16, 2023, when GM subscribed for 15,002,000 subscription receipts of Old LAC, which were automatically converted into 15,002,000 units comprising 15,002,000 shares and 11,891,000 warrants of Old LAC, which became 15,002,000 common shares of the Company post-Separation. The subscription proceeds were paid to Old LAC, and the remaining unspent proceeds were distributed to the Company on October 3, 2023, pursuant to the Arrangement.

On October 3, 2023, pursuant to the Separation, the full amount of the remaining unspent proceeds of Tranche 1 Investment were included in the net assets distributed by Old LAC to the Company.

As the Separation was completed before the closing of the Tranche 2 Investment, on October 3, 2023, the agreement for the Tranche 2 Investment in Old LAC was terminated and replaced by a corresponding subscription agreement between GM and the Company whereby the proceeds of the Tranche 2 Investment were to be received by the Company.

On October 15, 2024, the Company and GM entered into a new Investment Agreement to establish a JV for the purpose of funding, developing, constructing and operating Thacker Pass. Prior to closing the JV Transaction on December 23, 2024, the Company transferred its interest and certain other assets into Lithium Nevada Ventures. In connection with the JV Transaction, the Company also closed an amendment to the DOE Loan to accommodate changes relating to the JV Transaction.

Under the terms of the Investment Agreement, GM acquired a 38% asset-level ownership stake in Thacker Pass for $625 million in total cash and letters of credit, including $430 million of direct cash funding to the JV to support the construction of Phase 1 and a $195 million LC Facility that can be used as collateral to support reserve account requirements under the DOE Loan. The key terms of the JV Transaction are summarized below:

- Lithium Americas has a 62% interest in Thacker Pass and will manage the Project (the "Manager") on behalf of the JV Partners.
- GM has a 38% interest in Thacker Pass and has committed $625 million in cash and letters of credit to the JV:
  - $330 million cash was contributed to the JV upon closing of the JV on December 20, 2024;
  - $100 million cash is to be contributed to the JV at FID for Phase 1; and
- $195 million LC Facility to be posted by GM prior to first draw on the DOE Loan.
- Lithium Americas has contributed $330 million of cash to the JV for its 62% ownership in the Project:
  - $138 million was contributed to the JV upon closing of the JV on December 20, 2024; and
  - $192 million is to be contributed to the JV at FID for Phase 1.
- The LC Facility provided by GM to the JV as part of its consideration for its equity interest will have no interest and a maturity consistent with DOE Loan requirement that will be withdrawn once replaced with cash that is generated by Thacker Pass.
- A Board of Directors was established at the JV level to oversee the JV and approve the Project's budgets and business plans, and implement policies to align with GM's vendor requirements, including GM's Human Rights Policy.

As part of the Investment Arrangement, the agreement to supply GM with lithium carbonate production from Thacker Pass (the "Offtake Agreement") was assigned by Old LAC to the Company. GM agreed to extend its existing Offtake Agreement for up to 100% of production volumes from Phase 1 of Thacker Pass to 20 years to support the maturity of the DOE Loan. On closing of the JV Transaction, GM also entered into an additional 20-year offtake agreement for up to 38% of Phase 2 production volumes and will retain its existing right of first offer on the remaining Phase 2 production volumes.

The Company and GM terminated the Tranche 2 Investment subscription agreement concurrent with the execution of the JV Investment Agreement.

Orion Resource Partners

Subsequent to Q4 2024 on March 6, 2025, the Company announced a strategic investment of $250 million from fund entities managed by Orion, for the development and construction of Phase 1 of the Thacker Pass ("Orion Investment"). Orion has committed to purchase senior unsecured convertible notes in the aggregate principal amount of $195 million (the "Notes") and enter into a Production Payment Agreement ("PPA") whereby Orion will pay the Company $25 million in exchange for payments corresponding to the minerals processed and gross revenue generated by Thacker Pass (together, the Notes and PPA represent an aggregate initial investment of $220 million). Orion has committed, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent, to purchase an additional $30 million in aggregate principal amount Notes within two years (the "Delayed Draw Notes") upon request by the Company. Together, the Notes, PPA and Delayed Draw Notes represent an aggregate $250 million investment for the development and construction of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass.

The Notes will mature in 2030 and bear an initial conversion price of $3.78 per share, which represents a 43% premium to Lithium Americas' 5-day VWAP on the New York Stock Exchange ending on March 5, 2025. Lithium Americas will initially pay interest on the Notes in-kind or in cash at a rate of 9.875% per annum until the maturity of the Notes. Under the terms of the PPA, Orion will receive fixed payments of $128 per tonne ($152 per tonne assuming draw of the Delayed Draw Notes) of the total lithium produced each year at Thacker Pass for a period of 72 quarters after first production. Orion will receive additional variable payments of 0.96% of total gross revenue (1.14% of total gross revenue assuming draw of the Delayed Draw Notes) for the life of the mine. Both fixed and variable payments will only apply to the first 41,500 tonnes of lithium produced each year and are subject to certain adjustments relating to total Phase 1 project costs. The production payments are also subject to certain adjustments related to the tonnage of battery-grade lithium carbonate equivalent sold. The variable payments are also subject to certain adjustments related to the future price of lithium.

Lithium Americas has granted Orion the right to designate an Independent Engineer and an Independent Environmental and Social Consultant to a newly established technical committee of the Company's management team to monitor development.

Common Shares Offering

On April 22, 2024, the Company completed an underwritten Offering of 55 million Common Shares at an Issue Price of $5.00 per Common Share for aggregate gross proceeds to the Company of $275 million. The net proceeds from the Offering of approximately $262 million are intended to fund the advancement of construction and development of Thacker Pass.

Department of Defense Grant

In August 2024, the Company received approval for a $11.8 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense to support an upgrade of the local power infrastructure and to help build a transloading facility.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table provides a summary of the Company's consolidated results of operations for the years ended December 31, 2024, and December 31, 2023.

The selected consolidated financial information set out below has been derived from the Company's audited consolidated financial statements and should be read in conjunction with those consolidated financial statements and the related notes thereto.

Total assets	1,044.9	436.9	608.0
Total liabilities	99.6	52.0	47.6
Total long-term liabilities	41.3	27.4	13.9

Exploration expenditures decreased to $0.2 million for FY 2024 compared with $4.1 million for FY 2023 due to commencement of construction of Thacker Pass and capitalization of a majority of the project costs from February 1, 2023.

General and administrative expenses for FY 2024 increased to $28.1 million compared with $24.6 million in FY 2023, reflecting full expenses of the Company as a stand-alone entity post-Separation compared with the allocation of salaries and general administrative expenses used for FY 2023 prior to Separation and costs association with the transition from being a foreign private issuer to a domestic filer.

Transaction costs for FY 2024 increased to $22.2 million (2023 - $10.5 million) due to closing of the DOE Loan, JV Transaction and other financing activities in FY 2024 and the 2023 Transaction and the Separation in FY 2023. Loss on change in fair value of the investment in GT1 for FY 2024 decreased to $2.0 million (2023 - $4.9 million).

The gain/loss on investment includes the gain/loss on the Company's investment in GT1, Ascend Elements and, until October 15, 2024, the GM Tranche 2 liability. The loss on change in fair value of the investment in GT1 of $2.0 million for FY 2024 compared to the loss of $4.9 million for FY 2023, reflecting the publicly-listed share price at these respective dates. The gain on change in fair value of the GM Tranche 2 liability of $0.3 million for FY 2024 compared with a gain of $32.8 million for FY 2023, reflecting the decrease in the market value of the Company's share price and an increase in the volatility assumption. The loss on change in fair value of the investment in Ascend Elements for FY 2024 of $5.0 million compared with a gain of $3.6 million for FY 2023, reflecting the overall downturn of the battery recycling market in 2024.

The difference between other income (expense) of $14.5 million for FY 2024 compared with $3.0 million for FY 2023 was primarily due to interest earned on higher balances of cash on hand after the Separation and the Offering.

The increase in net loss of $42.6 million for FY 2024 compared with a net loss of $5.1 million for FY 2023 is primarily attributable to the changes in exploration expenses, general and administrative expenses, transaction costs, gain/loss on investments and other income (expense) explained above.

In 2024, total assets increased primarily due to the closing of the Offering and the JV Transaction. Mineral properties, plant and equipment increased due to the capitalization of Thacker Pass construction costs for the full year including engineering, earthworks and the shipping and delivery of the final Workforce Hub modules.

In 2024, total liabilities increased primarily due to the increase in accounts payable and accrued liabilities as a result of an increased level of expenditures, reflecting increased activity at Thacker Pass towards the end of 2024, as well as an increase in lease obligations related to equipment.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company has recurring net losses and negative operating cash flows and expects to continue to operate at a loss for the foreseeable future, which includes the period that Thacker Pass Phase 1 is under development. As the Company develops Thacker Pass, it will not generate revenues from operations and there is no expectation to generate any revenue from operations until Thacker Pass begins production. Thacker Pass is targeting completion in late 2027 with ramp up during 2028.

As at December 31, 2024, the Company had cash, cash equivalents and restricted cash of $594.2 million (December 31, 2023 - $195.5 million); and working capital (non-GAAP) of $543.9 million (December 31, 2023 - $181.3 million).

On October 28, 2024, the Company closed the $2.26 billion DOE Loan under the ATVM Loan Program, for financing the construction of Phase 1 processing facilities at Thacker Pass. The $2.26 billion DOE Loan, with a 24-year maturity, includes principal of $1.97 billion and capitalized interest during construction of $290 million, with interest rates fixed from the date of each monthly advance for the term of the loan at applicable U.S. Treasury rates, without any additional credit spread. Lithium Americas has guaranteed the full and timely payment of costs to complete the construction of Thacker Pass and has guaranteed payment of any amounts borrowed under the DOE Loan.

On October 15, 2024, the Company and GM entered into the Investment Agreement to establish the JV for the purpose of funding, developing, constructing and operating Thacker Pass. The JV Transaction delivers $625 million of cash and letters of credit from GM to Thacker Pass. Under the terms of the Investment Agreement, the Company and GM terminated the Tranche 2 subscription agreement and GM acquired a 38% asset-level ownership stake in Thacker Pass. Upon closing of the JV on December 20, 2024, GM contributed cash of $330 million to the JV and also entered into an additional 20-year offtake agreement for up to 38% of Phase 2 production volumes while retaining its existing right of first offer on the remaining Phase 2 production volumes.

On April 22, 2024, the Company completed the Offering for aggregate gross proceeds to the Company of $275 million or net proceeds of approximately $262 million after deducting fees and share issuance costs.

On March 6, 2025, the Company announced a strategic investment by Orion for $250 million in Notes and PPA. In addition, subject to certain conditions precedent, Orion agreed to purchase an additional $30 million in Notes within two years upon request by the Company.

At December 31, 2024, the Company's net assets of $945 million included $817 million held in the JV (inclusive of GM's non-controlling interest) and $368 million held by LN. The DOE Loan imposes certain restrictions on the transfer of assets from LN to the Company, including prohibitions on dividend payments and loans from LN to the Company, the making of other payments to the Company, and transfers of any assets comprising part of the collateral package. Exceptions to such restrictions are possible upon the satisfaction of certain conditions, including attainment of certain construction milestones. The DOE Loan also requires LN to maintain a certain amount of working capital sufficient to cover project-related costs. Under the terms of the JV there are certain additional restrictions on asset transfers from LN to the Company, including transfers of material assets outside of the ordinary course of business or transfers involving assets with a value of greater than $5 million (subject to certain exceptions, including for sales of lithium in the ordinary course of business or sales of non-productive assets with a value of less than $10 million).

The Company believes that it will have sufficient cash resources to carry out its business plans, including the currently planned development activities at Thacker Pass, for at least the next 12 months. Over the long-term, the Company expects to meet its obligations and fund the development of Thacker Pass through its financing plans described above; however, due to the conditions associated with such financings, there can be no assurance that the Company will successfully complete all of its contemplated financing plans. Except as disclosed, the Company does not know of any trends, demands, commitments, events or uncertainties that will result in, or that are reasonably likely to result in, its liquidity and capital resources either materially increasing or decreasing at present or in the foreseeable future. The Company does not engage in currency hedging to offset any risk of currency fluctuation.

The Company has entered into long-term purchase agreements related to long-lead equipment, infrastructure and services related to the construction of the processing plan as well as development and mining services at Thacker Pass. These agreements contain certain fixed and determinable cost components that are variable based on time and materials. There were no commitments under these agreements at December 31, 2024.

The Company's contractual obligations, commitments under long-term purchase agreements and other commitments as at December 31, 2024 are disclosed in notes 4, 12, 13 and 25 of the consolidated financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2024.

Operating Activities

Cash used in operating activities during the year ended December 31, 2024 was $13.0 million compared with $39.5 million during the year ended December 31, 2023. The decrease is primarily attributable to changes in working capital.

Investing Activities

Cash used in investing activities for the year ended December 31, 2024, was $177.7 million compared with $188.9 million for the year ended December 31, 2023, which reflects a reduced level of construction activity at Thacker Pass in FY 2024 compared with FY 2023. In FY 2024, the Company adjusted timing of construction spending until the DOE Loan closed on October 28, 2024. The Company commenced capitalization of construction costs for Thacker Pass on February 1, 2023.

Financing Activities

Prior to the Separation in FY2023, the Company was funded with $320.1 million in gross proceeds from the General Motors Tranche 1 Investment or capital contributions from Old LAC (recorded within Net former parent investment in equity in the consolidated financial statements). Net former parent investment in equity represents Old LAC's interest in the recorded net assets and the cumulative net equity investment in LAC North America during the period prior to the Separation on October 3, 2023. Subsequent to October 3, 2023, the impact of funding by parent of LAC North America eliminates on consolidation.

On April 22, 2024, the Company completed the Offering for gross proceeds to the Company of $275 million or net proceeds of $262.2 million after deducting fees and other share issuance costs of $12.8 million.

Cash provided by financing activities for the year ended December 31, 2024 was $589.1 compared with $423.6 million for the year ended December 31, 2023. During the year ended December 31, 2024, the Company closed the Offering for net proceeds of $262.2 million and GM contributed $330 million in net cash pursuant to its obligations upon closing of the Joint Venture on December 20, 2024. During the year ended December 31, 2023, the Company received the Tranche 1 Investment of $320.1 million in cash from GM and was allocated $75 million in working capital (non-GAAP) pursuant to the Separation.

On October 28, 2024, the Company closed a $2.26 billion DOE Loan for financing the construction of the Phase 1 processing facilities at Thacker Pass. The Company expects to first draw on the DOE Loan sometime in Q3 2025. The Company also announced on October 16, 2024 that it established a joint venture with GM for the purpose of funding, developing, constructing and operating Thacker Pass. As part of the closing of the JV Transaction, GM funded $330 million of cash into the JV. GM will make an additional $100 million cash contribution at FID for Phase 1 and will post a $195 million LC Facility prior to first draw on the DOE Loan, which is expected to occur sometime in Q3 2025.

OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENTS

As at December 31, 2024, the Company has no off-balance sheet arrangements that have or are reasonably likely to have a material effect on its financial condition, results of operations, or liquidity.

DECOMMISSIONING PROVISION AND RECLAMATION BOND

The carrying value of the liability for decommissioning that has arisen to date as a result of exploration and development activities at Thacker Pass as at December 31, 2024 is $0.3 million (December 31, 2023 - $0.1 million). The Company has a $1.7 million reclamation bond payable to the BLM guaranteed by a third-party insurance company. The current approved reclamation cost estimate for the Thacker Pass plan of operations is $47.6 million. Financial assurance of $13.7 million was placed with the agency in February 2023 prior to initiating construction with the remaining amount to be placed as construction activities progress.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES

The audited consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with US GAAP. The preparation of the consolidated financial statements requires management to make estimates that affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, and expenses. The Company bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that it believes are reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. While significant accounting policies are more fully described in the notes to the audited consolidated financial statements, the Company has included below the accounting policies and estimates critical to its business operations and understanding of its financial results.

Also included below are the key judgments and sources of estimation uncertainty that management has determined could have the most significant impact on the amounts recognized in the audited consolidated financial statements.

Accounting for the Agreements with General Motors

Accounting for the agreements with GM requires management to make judgments in determining that no portion of the investment proceeds by GM were attributable to the Offtake Agreements, which management concluded contained a market pricing structure. The Company's assessment was informed by a competitive process for the investment and offtake agreements on a combined basis.

The fair value of the Tranche 2 Investment Agreement with GM as of January 1, 2023 and December 31, 2023 involved estimation, which was determined using Monte Carlo simulation. The simulation of the fair value required significant assumptions, including expected volatility of the Company's share price, a risk- free rate and no expected dividends. On October 15, 2024, the Company and GM terminated the Tranche 2 subscription agreement concurrent with the execution of the JV Investment Agreement.

Commencement of Development of Thacker Pass

The Company determined that Thacker Pass has proven and probable reserves following the release of the Thacker Pass Feasibility Study on January 31, 2023, the receipt of the favorable ruling from the Federal Court for the issuance of the ROD, and the receipt of notice to proceed from BLM on February 7, 2023. The Company entered into an EPCM agreement and other construction-related contracts. Based on these circumstances, management determined that construction of Thacker Pass, including site preparation, geotechnical drilling, water pipeline development and associated infrastructure had commenced. Accordingly, the Company began to capitalize development costs starting February 1, 2023.

Assessment of Impairment of Thacker Pass

On June 30, 2024, the Company determined that an impairment indicator existed for Thacker Pass due to the decrease in market prices of lithium. A recoverability test was conducted by updating the mine model using estimates of long-term lithium pricing from analyst reports to determine whether an impairment existed. The undiscounted cash flows significantly exceeded the carrying value of Thacker Pass and no impairment was identified.

The Company reviews and evaluates its long-lived assets for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the related carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Once it is determined that impairment exists, an impairment loss is measured as the amount by which the asset carrying value exceeds its fair value. For asset groups where an impairment loss is determined using the discounted future net cash flows method, future cash flows are estimated based on quantities of recoverable mineralized material, expected lithium prices (considering current and historical prices, trends and related factors), production levels, operating costs, capital requirements and reclamation costs, all based on life-of-mine plans. The term "recoverable mineralized material" refers to the estimated amount of lithium or other commodities that will be obtained after considering losses during processing and treatment. The Company's estimates of future cash flows are based on numerous assumptions and uncertainties. It is possible that actual future cash flows will be significantly different than the estimates, as actual future quantities of recoverable minerals, lithium and other commodity prices, production levels and costs of capital are each subject to significant risks and uncertainties.

Accounting for Joint Venture with GM

The Company determined that the JV is a variable interest entity due to its reliance on additional financing to complete Phase 1 of the development of Thacker Pass. The Company has determined it is the primary beneficiary of the joint venture due to the relative decision-making power of the parties over the most significant activities of the joint venture. As a result, the Company has consolidated Lithium Nevada Ventures in its consolidated financial statements.

Royalties and Production Payments

Royalties on future production or sales are reported based on their underlying characteristics. When indicated by their terms, royalties and production payments are treated as financial liabilities, such as those subject to call options for a specified price or those sold on proven properties and settleable with cash flows in which the Company has significant continuing involvement.

Accounting Developments

For a discussion of Recently Adopted and Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements, refer to Note 2 to the Consolidated Financial Statements.

USE OF NON-GAAP FINANCIAL MEASURES AND RECONCILIATION

The Company makes reference to certain non-GAAP measures. These measures are not recognized measures under US GAAP, do not have a standardized meaning prescribed by US GAAP and, therefore, may not be comparable to similar measures presented by other companies. Rather, these measures are provided as additional information to complement those US GAAP measures by providing further understanding of the Company's liquidity from management's perspective. Accordingly, these measures are not intended to represent, and should not be considered as alternatives to other performance measures derived in accordance with US GAAP as measures of liquidity. In addition to results determined in accordance with US GAAP, the Company uses "working capital", a non-GAAP measure. This non-US GAAP measure is used to provide investors with a supplemental measure of the Company's liquidity and thus highlight trends in the core business that may not otherwise be apparent when relying solely on US GAAP measures.

(Expressed in US dollars, unless stated otherwise)

"Working capital" is the difference between current assets and current liabilities. It is a financial measure that has been derived from the Company's consolidated financial statements and applied on a consistent basis as appropriate. Various assets and liabilities fluctuate significantly from month to month depending on short term liquidity needs. The Company discloses this financial measure because it believes it assists readers in understanding the Company's financial position and provides further information about the Company's liquidity to investors.

Item 7A: Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company's Chief Financial Officer, with support from the Senior Vice President, Finance and Administration, leads the Company's overall financial management program and formal enterprise risk management ("ERM") system and processes that identify, evaluate, prioritize, mitigate and monitor risk. On a quarterly basis, the Company's leadership team reviews the enterprise risk register, and management presents updates and/or changes, including financial and market risks, to the Audit and Risk Committee and Board.

The Company's financial instruments are exposed to certain financial risks, including credit and interest rate risks.

Credit Risk

Credit risk exists with respect to the Company's cash and cash equivalents, term deposit investments and GM's LC Facility. All term deposits are held through Canadian chartered banks with high investment-grade ratings and have maturities of 90 days or less. The Company is subject to a concentration of credit risk by placing cash and cash equivalents primarily with one Canadian and one U.S. bank. The LC Facility from GM that will be used as collateral to support the reserve account requirements under the DOE Loan will have no interest and a maturity consistent with the DOE Loan that will be withdrawn once replaced with cash that is generated by Thacker Pass.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company's DOE Loan has a 24-year maturity with interest rates fixed from the date of each monthly advance for the term of the loan at applicable U.S. Treasury rates, without any additional credit spread. First draw on the DOE Loan is expected in Q3 2025.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will not be able to meet its financial obligations as they fall due. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to evaluate current and expected liquidity requirements under both normal and stressed conditions to estimate and maintain sufficient reserves of cash and cash equivalents to meet its liquidity requirements in the short and long term. The Company prepares annual budgets, which are regularly monitored and updated as considered necessary. The DOE Loan agreement contains conditions that are required to be met prior to the first and subsequent draws under the loan. GM made a cash contribution of $330 million to the JV upon its formation on December 20, 2024 and will contribute the remaining $100 million in cash upon FID. In addition, GM will post a $195 million letter of credit facility prior to first draw on the DOE Loan, which is expected to occur sometime in Q3 2025..

Commodity Price Risk

The Company's results of operation will be dependent upon the market prices of lithium products. These lithium products are not quoted on any major commodities market or exchange as these products' attributes vary and demand is currently constrained to a relatively limited number of purchasers. The market prices published for lithium products can be volatile and are influenced by numerous factors, including international, economic and political trends, expectations of inflation, currency exchange fluctuations, interest rates, global or regional consumptive patterns, speculative activities, increased production due to new extraction developments and improved extraction and production methods and technological changes in the markets for the end products.

Foreign Currency Exchange Rate Risk

The Company operates in both the U.S. and Canada, having employees and corporate offices in both the U.S. and Canada, and Thacker Pass is located in the U.S. Foreign currency exposures are related to buying, selling and financing in currencies other than the functional currencies of its operations. The Company raises funds in U.S. dollars and incurs expenditures substantially in U.S. dollars. At December 31, 2024, the Company's most significant foreign currency exposures were between the U.S. Dollar and the Canadian Dollar, primarily on corporate general and administrative costs incurred in Canada.

The accompanying notes are an integral part of the Consolidated Financial Statements.

1. BACKGROUND AND BASIS OF PREPARATION

Background and Nature of Operations

Lithium Americas Corp. (the "Company" or "New LAC") is principally focused on development of Thacker Pass ("Thacker Pass,") a sedimentary-based lithium project located in the McDermitt Caldera in Humboldt County in north-western Nevada, USA. The development of Thacker Pass is undertaken through a joint venture with General Motors Holdings LLC ("GM") (Note 4).

The Company was incorporated on January 23, 2023, under the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) in anticipation of separating the North American business ("LAC North America") from the Company's former parent, an entity then named Lithium Americas Corp. ("Old LAC," initially named Lithium Americas (Argentina) Corp. and now Lithium Argentina AG ("Lithium Argentina")). On October 3, 2023, upon completing the separation transaction (the "Separation"), the Company changed its name from 1397468 B.C. Ltd. to Lithium Americas Corp. The Separation was completed pursuant to a statutory plan of arrangement (the "Arrangement"). As a result, shareholders of the original company, Old LAC, retained their proportionate interests in both Old LAC and the newly formed entity, New LAC, before and after Separation. Following the Separation, Lithium Argentina and the Company became independent public companies. The Company's common shares are listed on the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") and on the Toronto Stock Exchange ("TSX") under the symbol "LAC."

To date, the Company has not generated revenues from operations and has relied on equity financings to fund operations. The underlying values of mineral properties, plant and equipment, including Thacker Pass, are dependent on the existence of economically recoverable reserves, maintaining title and beneficial interest in the properties, and the ability of the Company to draw upon debt financing arrangements and raise additional capital to complete development and to attain future profitable operations.

Basis of Presentation

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("U.S. GAAP") and applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") and are presented on a historical cost basis, except as otherwise disclosed. Previously, the Company prepared its consolidated financial statements under IFRS® Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board as permitted by securities regulators in Canada and in the United States for companies that meet the definition of a Foreign Private Issuer, as defined by the SEC. As of June 30, 2024, the Company determined that it no longer met the definition of a Foreign Private Issuer. As a result, beginning January 1, 2025, the Company is required to follow SEC reporting standards applicable to U.S. domestic issuers and transitioned its accounting from IFRS® Accounting Standards to U.S. GAAP. The transition was made retrospectively for all periods presented and included the adoption of any relevant U.S. GAAP accounting pronouncements.

These consolidated financial statements reflect (i) the activities of the Company from and after the Separation on October 3, 2023, and (ii) the activities of LAC North America on a "carve-out" basis prior to that date. Prior to Separation, LAC North America did not operate as a separate legal entity. The assets, liabilities, and results of operations prior to October 3, 2023 represent those specifically identifiable to LAC North America including assets, liabilities, and expenses relating to Thacker Pass, specified investments, transactions and balances arising from an original investment from General Motors, as well as an allocation of certain costs relating to the management of those relevant assets, liabilities, and results of operations. Such costs have been allocated from the shared corporate expenses of Old LAC based on the estimated level of involvement of Old LAC management and employees with LAC North America.

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared on the assumption that the Company is a going concern and will be able to realize its assets and discharge its liabilities and commitments in the normal course of business for the next 12 months.

2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Principles of Consolidation

These consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Lithium Americas Corp., its wholly owned subsidiaries, and a variable interest entity ("VIE") in which it is the primary beneficiary.

The Company consolidates entities that are VIEs when the Company determines it is the primary beneficiary. Generally, the primary beneficiary of a VIE is a reporting entity that has (a) the power (including relative power) to direct the activities that most significantly affect the VIE's economic performance, and (b) the obligation to absorb losses of, or the right to receive benefits from, the VIE that could potentially be significant to the VIE.

All intercompany balances and transactions between the Company and its subsidiaries have been eliminated on consolidation.

Use of Estimates

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the consolidated financial statements. The preparation of these estimates requires the use of judgments and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in these consolidated financial statements and accompanying notes.

The most significant areas requiring the use of management estimates and judgement relate to asset retirement obligations, assessments of impairment for Thacker Pass and the fair value of financial instruments including marketable and equity securities. The Company bases its estimates and assumptions on historical experience and other factors believed to be reasonable at the time the estimate was made. However, due to the inherent uncertainties in making estimates, actual results may differ from amounts estimated in these consolidated financial statements and such differences could be material and require adjustments to reported amounts in future periods.

Functional and Reporting Currency

The functional and reporting currency of the Company and each of its subsidiaries is the U.S. dollar. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the rates of exchange prevailing at the consolidated balance sheet dates. Transactions in currencies other than the functional currency are measured and recorded in the functional currency at the exchange rate prevailing on the transaction date, and exchange differences arising on remeasurement are recognized in the Consolidated Statements of Loss.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash held with banks and highly liquid short-term investments with original maturities of 90 days or less. Because of the short term to maturity of these investments, the carrying amounts approximate their fair value. Restricted cash is presented separately as Restricted cash in the Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Investments

The Company's investments in equity securities are measured at fair value at each period end with changes in fair value recognized in the Consolidated Statements of Loss.

Mineral Properties, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment (excluding mineral properties)

Property, plant and equipment ("PP&E") is recorded at cost, net of accumulated depreciation. Expenditures for new assets and expenditures that extend the useful lives of existing assets are capitalized. Depreciation of 'Machinery and equipment' is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful productive life of the assets, which ranges from 5 – 30 years. Leasehold improvements are amortized over the period of the lease or life of the asset, whichever is shorter. Amortization of right-of-use assets is included in depreciation expense.

The assets' residual values, useful lives, and depreciation methods are reviewed periodically and adjusted, if appropriate, when warranted. Gains or losses arising on the disposal of items of PP&E are determined as the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying amount of the assets and are recognized in the Consolidated Statements of Loss.

Mineral Properties

Mineral properties are recorded at cost at the acquisition date.

Prior to having proven and probable reserves and the right to exploit a mineral property, a mineral property is in the exploration stage. When the Company has obtained the rights to exploit a mineral property and the property has proven and probable reserves, as defined by S-K 1300, the project is in the development stage and capitalization of mine development project costs begins. Mineral reserves represent the estimate of ore that can be economically and legally extracted from the Company's mining properties.

Costs are capitalized for an ore body in the development stage where proven and probable reserves exist and the activities are directed at obtaining additional information on the ore body or converting additional resources to proven and probable reserves. Development costs capitalized in the development stage include engineering and metallurgical studies, drilling and other related costs to delineate an ore body and the removal of overburden to initially expose an ore body at open pit surface mines (pre-stripping).

Mineral properties in the exploration or development stage are not amortized until the underlying property is converted to the production stage, at which point the mineral property will be amortized using the units-of-production method based on the estimated recoverable reserves. The production phase of an open pit mine commences when saleable minerals, beyond a de minimis amount, are produced.

Thacker Pass Construction-in-process ("CIP") assets

The Company capitalizes costs related to the construction of processing and other facilities associated with specific mineral properties, once the associated mineral property has reached the development phase. CIP assets primarily consist of infrastructure development, camp and lodging expenditures, equipment purchases, salary, consulting and other directly attributable costs incurred during the construction phase. Depreciation related to assets used directly in construction is capitalized. Interest incurred during construction is capitalized. Upon completion of construction, CIP assets are reclassified to the appropriate property, plant and equipment categories and depreciated over their estimated useful lives using the units-of-production method or another appropriate depreciation method.

Impairment of Long-lived Assets

The Company reviews and evaluates its long-lived assets, which include property, plant and equipment, mineral properties, and CIP assets, for impairment when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the related carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Events or circumstances that could indicate impairment include, but are not limited to, significant decreases in the market price of the assets, adverse changes in legal factors or the business climate including changes in commodity prices, changes to the extent or manner in which the asset is being used or its physical condition, and costs significantly in excess of the amount originally expected.

In estimating future cash flows, assets are grouped at the lowest level for which there are identifiable cash flows that are largely independent of future cash flows from other asset groups. An impairment is determined to exist if the total undiscounted projected pre-tax future cash flows are less than the carrying amount of a long-lived asset or asset group. Once it is determined that an impairment exists, an impairment loss is measured and recorded based on the difference between the estimated fair value of the long-lived assets being tested for impairment and their carrying amounts. This process involves significant judgments and estimates including commodity prices, production costs, life of mine plans and discount rates.

On June 30, 2024, the Company determined that an impairment indicator existed for Thacker Pass due to the decrease in market prices of lithium. A recoverability test was conducted by updating the mine model using estimates of long-term lithium pricing from analyst reports to determine whether an impairment existed. The undiscounted cash flows significantly exceeded the carrying value of Thacker Pass and no impairment was identified.

No impairment loss was recognized during the years ended December 31, 2024, and 2023.

Leases

The Company leases office space, equipment, vehicles, and land.

At the inception of a contract, the Company assesses whether a contract is or contains a lease. A contract contains a lease if the contract conveys the right to control the use of an identified asset for a period of time in exchange for consideration. If the contract is determined to be a lease, they are classified as either operating or finance leases. Operating and finance lease right-of-use ("ROU") assets and lease liabilities are recognized at the lease commencement date based on the present value of the future lease payments over the lease term. When the rate implicit in the lease cannot be readily determined, the Company utilizes its incremental borrowing rate to determine the present value of future lease payments.

Operating lease ROU assets are included in Other assets, and lease obligations are included in Lease liabilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheets. Finance lease ROU assets are included in Mineral properties, plant and equipment, and lease obligations are included in Lease liabilities on the Consolidated Balance Sheets.

Operating lease costs are recognized on a straight-line basis over the lease term and are included in Operating expenses in the Consolidated Statements of Loss. Finance lease costs are recognized as interest costs based on the effective interest method for the lease liability and straight-line amortization of the ROU asset. Variable lease payments are recognized in the period in which they are incurred.

Leases with a term of one year or less are not recognized on the Consolidated Balance Sheets and are recognized on a straight-line basis. Additionally, the Company has elected the practical expedient to not separate lease and non-lease components.

Royalties and Production Payments

Royalties on future production or sales are reported based on their underlying characteristics. When indicated by their terms, royalties and production payments are treated as financial liabilities, such as those subject to call options for a specified price or those sold on proven properties and settleable with cash flows in which the Company has significant continuing involvement. The Company determines interest expense associated with such financial liabilities based on the amortized cost method using a retrospective approach. Under the retrospective approach, the carrying value of the liability is subsequently measured as the discounted present value of estimated remaining cash flows, using the current effective interest rate derived from the original proceeds, cash flows to date and the estimated remaining cash flows.

Reclamation Liabilities

Reclamation obligations are initially recognized when incurred and recorded as liabilities at their estimated fair value. The fair value of the liability is determined using expected future cash outflows, discounted to present value using a credit-adjusted risk-free rate. The estimated fair value reflects the cost of decommissioning and restoring the site at the end of the asset's useful life. The liability is subsequently accreted over time, based on the original discount rate. The corresponding asset retirement cost is capitalized as part of the asset's carrying value and amortized over the useful life of the related asset.

Reclamation obligations are periodically adjusted to reflect changes in the estimated present value resulting from the passage of time and revisions to the estimates of either the timing or amount of the reclamation costs. The estimated reclamation obligation is based on when spending for an existing disturbance is expected to occur. The Company reviews, on an annual basis, or more frequently if significant changes in estimates occur, the reclamation obligation for its project.

Non-controlling Interests in Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC

As at December 31, 2024, the Company owned a 62% interest in Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC ("Lithium Nevada Ventures") which holds a 100% interest in Thacker Pass. General Motors Holdings LLC owns the remaining 38% interest in Lithium Nevada Ventures. The Company allocates the equity and income of Lithium Nevada Ventures based on a hypothetical liquidation at book value method.

Income Taxes

The Company accounts for income taxes using an asset and liability approach, which results in the recognition of deferred tax assets and liabilities for the expected future tax benefits or consequences of temporary differences between the financial reporting basis and the tax basis of assets and liabilities, as well as operating loss and tax credit carryforwards, using enacted tax rates in effect in the years in which the differences are expected to reverse. Deferred tax liabilities are not provided on differences between the carrying value and tax basis of the net equity of foreign subsidiaries, including unremitted earnings when applicable, where such differences are indefinitely reinvested and not expected to reverse in the foreseeable future. A valuation allowance is provided for deferred tax assets if it is determined that the realization of a future tax benefit is not more likely than not.

Stock-Based Compensation

The Company's equity incentive plan allows for the grant of share options, restricted share units ("RSUs"), performance share units ("PSUs") and deferred share units ("DSUs"). The cost of equity-settled payment arrangements is recorded based on the estimated fair value at the grant date and charged to earnings over the vesting period.

Each tranche in an award is considered a separate award with its own vesting period and grant date fair value. The fair value of each tranche is measured at the date of grant using the appropriate pricing model, including Black-Scholes option model for options and Monte Carlo simulation methodology for performance share units including a market-related condition. Stock-based compensation expense is recognized over the tranche's vesting period based on the number of awards expected to vest. The number of awards expected to vest, and the estimated forfeiture rate is reviewed at least annually with any impact being recognized immediately.

Loss per Common Share

Basic loss per share is computed by dividing the net loss attributable to shareholders of the Company by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the reporting period. For periods presented on a "carve-out" basis, the number of shares issued and outstanding upon Separation is used as the denominator in the calculation of basic loss per share.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In December 2023, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Accounting Standards Update ("ASU") 2023-09 "Income Taxes (Topic 740): Improvements to Income Tax Disclosures." ASU 2023-09 requires disaggregated information about effective tax rate reconciliation and additional information on taxes paid that meet a qualitative threshold. The guidance is effective for the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2025, and subsequent interim periods, with early adoption permitted. The Company is currently evaluating the impact of the guidance on the consolidated financial statements.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements Adopted

In November 2023, the FASB issued ASU 2023-07 "Segment Reporting (Topic 280): Improvements to Reportable Segment Disclosures." ASU 2023-07 expands public entities' segment disclosures by requiring more detailed information about a reportable segment's profit or loss and assets. ASU 2023-07 applies to all public entities that are required to report segment information in accordance with ASC 280 "Segment Reporting" and was effective for the Company for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2024 and interim periods commencing in fiscal 2025. The adoption did not have a material impact on the consolidated financial statements or disclosures.

3. U.S. DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY LOAN FACILITY

The U.S. Department of Energy ("DOE") and the Company's subsidiary, Lithium Nevada LLC ("LN") executed a loan agreement on October 28, 2024, for a construction facility with a maximum borrowing of $1.97 billion plus up to $289.6 million of capitalized interest, provided under the Advanced Technology Vehicles Manufacturing ("ATVM") Loan Program (the "DOE Loan"), for financing the construction of the processing facilities at Thacker Pass, over the period from the first draw through no later than November 30, 2028. The DOE Loan agreement was amended on December 20, 2024 to give effect to formation of Lithium Nevada Ventures, a joint venture with GM on December 20, 2024 (Note 4) to own a 100% interest in LN, which owns Thacker Pass. Advances under the DOE Loan are subject to certain conditions precedent. As of this date, no amounts have been drawn under the DOE loan.

The DOE Loan agreement contains conditions that are required to be met prior to the first and subsequent draws under the loan, including among others the following conditions to the first draw (i) certifications by LN that project funding is sufficient to achieve project completion by October 31, 2029, (ii) that reserve accounts related to construction contingency and working capital for the production ramp-up period have been funded or collateralized by the GM letters of credit; (iii) that equity commitments provided by the Company and GM for Thacker Pass have been funded and spent on project costs or applied as otherwise permitted under the loan agreement; and (iv) that LN has issued a notice to commence construction under applicable construction contracts.

When drawn, the DOE Loan will bear interest at fixed rates equal to applicable U.S. Treasury rates at the date of each draw. The loan facility includes deferral of interest accrued during construction. Periodic repayments of principal and interest commence January 20, 2029 and include fixed payments and mandatory prepayments based on specified operational and other measures. The loan has a maturity date of October 20, 2048. LN may prepay the loan at any time, subject to certain conditions, by paying principal plus accrued interest on outstanding advances.

Under the terms of the DOE Loan, Lithium Americas Corp. has guaranteed the full and timely payment of costs to complete construction of Thacker Pass and has guaranteed payment of any amounts borrowed under the DOE Loan. As part of this guarantee, Lithium Americas Corp. is an additional primary obligator alongside LN.

The loan and guarantee are secured by, among other things, a pledge of all equity interests of LN, all assets of LN, and all tax credit proceeds received for monetization of tax credits generated by Thacker Pass. Advances under the DOE Loan, cash flows from Thacker Pass, and other amounts received by Lithium Nevada are required to be held in restricted cash accounts owned by LN and managed by a collateral agent. Initial collateral in support of construction contingency requirements and production ramp-up working capital may be provided through the GM letters of credit, rather than being cash-funded.

The Company's guarantee of the DOE Loan will remain in place until, among other things, (i) project completion has occurred; (ii) LN has paid at least four consecutive quarterly payments from operating revenues after project completion; and (iii) all reserve accounts are funded as required by the loan agreements.

The DOE loan contains a variety of financial and nonfinancial compliance covenants. In the event of noncompliance with certain covenants, the DOE has the right to terminate the facility and demand any outstanding amounts immediately due and payable.

Transaction costs, including legal, professional and advisory fees incurred related to the DOE Loan, were expensed prior to the closing of the DOE Loan on October 28, 2024. Subsequent to the closing, transaction costs of $11,529 have been deferred and will be amortized over the term of the DOE Loan.

4. TRANSACTIONS WITH GENERAL MOTORS HOLDINGS LLC

Joint Venture with GM

On October 15, 2024, the Company and GM entered into an investment agreement ("GM Investment Agreement") to establish a joint venture (the "JV") for the purpose of funding, developing, constructing and operating Thacker Pass. The GM Investment Agreement replaced the previous Tranche 2 Investment Agreement with GM. The transaction closed and the JV was formed on December 20, 2024. Prior to establishing the JV, the Company reorganized its holdings of Thacker Pass under a new subsidiary, Lithium Nevada Ventures, which became the joint venture entity. Lithium Nevada Ventures' wholly owned subsidiary LN directly owns the Thacker Pass assets and operations. The JV replaced the Previous GM Agreement and Tranche 2 Investment Agreement (see Previous GM Investment and Tranche 2 Investment Agreement section below).

As of closing of the JV on December 20, 2024, the Company owned a 62% majority equity interest in the JV and operates the joint venture through its majority voting rights and a management services agreement under which the Company provides executive level, administrative and other services to the JV. GM owns 38% interest in the joint venture. In exchange for a 38% membership interest in Lithium Nevada Ventures, GM contributed $330 million of cash and committed to provide a $195 million letter of credit facility to support collateral requirements under the DOE Loan. The Company contributed a further $138 million in cash to the JV and provided additional financial support in the form of a guarantee of the DOE loan and deferral of management fees and cost reimbursements. Upon reaching Final Investment Decision ("FID"), GM will contribute a further $100 million in cash.

In connection with the establishment of the JV, the Company and GM: (a) extended GM's offtake agreement for up to 100% of production volumes from Phase 1 of Thacker Pass to 20 years, to coincide with the expected maturity of the DOE Loan; and (b) entered into an additional offtake agreement for up to 38% of Phase 2 production. See GM Offtake Agreements below.

The Company and GM have provided additional financial support to the JV. The Company has guaranteed the timely payment of costs to complete construction and the full amount borrowed under the DOE Loan and is considered a co-borrower. In addition, the Company's entitlement to management fees and reimbursement of specified costs are deferred until the JV has generated sufficient funds to support distribution to the joint venture members. GM has committed to provide $195 million in letters of credit to support the collateral requirements of the DOE Loan, as described above. The Company and GM recover any amounts funded through the additional financial support as distributions from the joint venture. The additional financial support is eligible for gradual release, as construction of Thacker Pass is complete and the joint venture's operations are able to support the collateral requirements associated with the DOE Loan and make distributions to the joint venture members.

The Company has determined that the JV is a variable interest entity due to its reliance on additional financing to complete Phase 1 of the development of Thacker Pass. The Company has determined it is the primary beneficiary of the joint venture due to the relative decision-making power of the parties over the most significant activities of the joint venture. As a result, the Company has consolidated Lithium Nevada Ventures in these consolidated financial statements.

The net assets, respective interests and non-controlling interest of Lithium Nevada Ventures as of December 31, 2024, are as follows:

	December 31, 2024
Assets	$ 888,486
Liabilities	(71,813)
Net assets	$ 816,673
GM's non-controlling interest	$ 310,336
The Company's controlling interest	506,337
Net assets	$ 816,673
Non-controlling interest in Lithium Nevada Ventures
On initial recognition as at December 20, 2024	$ 310,441
Non-controlling interests share of loss	(105)
Balance at December 31, 2024	$ 310,336

The assets of the JV, including cash of $452,293 at December 31, 2024, can only be used to settle the obligations of the JV and are not available to the Company for general corporate purposes.

The Company's maximum exposure to loss includes (i) the carrying value of the Company's interest as shown above; (ii) upon funding of the DOE Loan, (a) all costs necessary to achieve completion of construction of Thacker Pass; and, (b) all outstanding borrowings and interest thereon under the $2.26 billion DOE loan ($nil outstanding at December 31, 2024); and (iii) costs associated with the management services agreement and incentive compensation for personnel involved in the JV, to the extent such amounts cannot be supported by the operations of the JV (negligible as at December 31, 2024).

The Company allocates income and net assets between the controlling and non-controlling interests based on a hypothetical liquidation at book value.

The JV agreement contains certain conditions which, if not met, could require the JV to repurchase GM's non-controlling interest. In the event the DOE loan is terminated prior to reaching a FID in relation to the Phase 1 of Thacker Pass, GM has the option to sell its equity back to the JV and receive a return of its capital contribution of $330 million, less $10 million. In addition, GM's investment is subject to ongoing covenants related to the JV's compliance with specified laws and regulations. In the event the JV or parties acting on its behalf (including employees, directors, officers, the Company and others) do not comply with these provisions and such noncompliance is not cured and corrected in all material respects within specified periods, GM may pursue any one, or a combination, of the following remedies: (a) sell all or a portion of its equity interest in the JV to a third party; (b) put all or a portion of its equity back to the JV for (i) $1, if the DOE loan is then in effect or (ii) if the DOE Loan has been terminated, at a price equal to the greater of the fair value, book value or the aggregate GM contribution of such equity on a per share basis, limited to the availability of funds in the JV in excess of those needed for the JV to continue as a going concern. As a result of these provisions, which are outside the Company's control, the non-controlling interest is presented as temporary equity. No adjustment has been made to the carrying value of non-controlling interest due to these provisions, as the Company has determined it is not probable at the balance sheet date that either of these put options will become exercisable.

(Expressed in thousands of U.S. dollars, except for per share amounts; shares and equity instruments in thousands)

GM Offtake Agreements

Pursuant to an offtake agreement, GM is required to purchase lithium production from Thacker Pass Phase 1, equal to 20% of GM's specific lithium requirements, up to 100% of Phase 1 production volume. The Company and GM have also entered into an offtake agreement pursuant to which GM is entitled to purchase up to 38% of Phase 2 production. Both offtake agreements include a price based on prevailing market conditions.

Previous GM Agreement and Tranche 2 Investment Agreement

Upon Separation from Old LAC, the Company succeeded to Old LAC's position in a $650 million investment agreement (the "Original GM Transaction") entered into on January 30, 2023 to partially fund the construction and development of Thacker Pass. The Original GM Transaction was comprised of two tranches, with GM having made a $320 million first tranche investment (the "Tranche 1 Investment") in the shares of Old LAC and a planned second tranche subscription agreement of up to $330 million (the "Tranche 2 Investment") to be made upon satisfaction of certain conditions including securing of sufficient funding to complete the development of Phase 1 of Thacker Pass. The net proceeds of the Tranche 1 Investment were recorded, net of $33,194 allocated to the Tranche 2 subscription agreement, as a contribution from Old LAC to LAC North America, net of allocated transaction costs of $15,217.

Upon Separation, GM became a shareholder in the Company. The GM Tranche 2 Investment agreement remained in effect until October 15, 2024, the date the GM Investment Agreement closed and pursuant to which the formation of the JV was agreed by the Company and GM.

The Tranche 2 Investment agreement, as amended, provided that GM would purchase common shares of New LAC by December 31, 2024, for an aggregate purchase price of up to $329,852, with the number of shares to be determined using a price equal to the lower of (a) the 5-day volume weighted average share price and (b) $17.36 per share.

GM's share subscription under the Tranche 2 Investment agreement was reported as a financial liability until its termination, because the agreement provided for the issuance of a variable number of shares for the fixed subscription price and was settleable through shares of the Company after Separation. The financial liability was initially and subsequently measured at fair value, with changes recorded in gain (loss) on financial instruments measured at fair value in the Consolidated Statements of Loss. Transaction costs of $1,760 allocated to the Tranche 2 Investment were expensed.

Changes in the fair value of the liability associated with the Tranche 2 Investment are summarized as follows (Note 24):

On initial recognition as at January 30, 2023	$	(33,194)
Gain on change in fair value		32,846

The Company has the option at any time to reduce the royalty to 1.75% through payment of $22,000. In connection with the completion of the Separation, the Company adopted an equity incentive plan (the "Equity Incentive Plan"), which includes stock options, RSUs, DSUs, and PSUs up to an aggregate total of 8.9% of the Company's issued and outstanding common stock. All instruments issued under the Equity Incentive Plan are classified as equity and presented in Common stock.

In connection with the Arrangement, holders of all awarded Old LAC RSUs, DSUs, and PSUs (collectively, the "Old LAC Units") received, in lieu of such outstanding Old LAC Units, equivalent incentive securities of the Company and of Lithium Argentina. On October 3, 2023, 2,171 RSUs, 225 DSUs, and 1,037 PSUs were issued in connection with the Arrangement. Restricted Share Units

The Company grants RSUs to executives and eligible employees with RSUs vesting either immediately or ratably over a three-year service period. The total estimated fair value of RSUs granted was $9,337 for the year ended December 31, 2024 (2023 - $4,878) based on the market value of the Company's common shares on the grant date with a weighted average fair value of $4.82 at December 31, 2024 (2023 – $7.29). As at December 31, 2024, there was $4,206 (2023 - $4,642) of total unrecognized stock-based compensation expense relating to unvested RSUs. At December 31, 2024, unrecognized compensation costs related to unvested RSUs is expected to be recognized over approximately 3 years. Performance Share Units

The Company grants PSUs to certain executives. PSUs generally vest after three years subject to performance conditions and/or multipliers. The fair value of PSUs granted is estimated using a valuation model based on a Monte Carlo simulation model, which calculates potential outcomes and the probability weighted average payout. The fair value is estimated using inputs including: (a) the share price at the valuation date in USD of the Company and peer companies; (b) the share volatility of the Company and peer companies over the vesting period; and (c) the risk-free rate based on U.S. Treasury yields matching the PSU vesting period. The total estimated fair value of the PSUs granted in 2024 was $2,793 (2023 -

(Expressed in thousands of U.S. dollars, except for per share amounts; shares and equity instruments in thousands)

$3,952 on a carve-out basis) based on a Monte Carlo simulation. The assumptions underlying these calculations are the closing share prices and volatility of the Company and its peer group, the risk-free rate derived from the U.S. Treasury curve, and a correlation matrix of share price returns calculated over a historical period of three years. PSUs vest and holders are entitled to them on the expiry of the applicable restricted period (vesting period) in the amount equal to the number granted multiplied by a final performance multiplier, which is determined based on the performance of the Company's share price relative to a selected group of peer companies.

As at December 31, 2024, unrecognized stock-based compensation expense related to unvested PSUs granted was $2,434 (2023 – $2,174). The fair value of PSUs granted by Old LAC pre-Separation was estimated based on a Monte Carlo simulation using relevant assumptions at the date of grant.

A summary of changes to the number of outstanding PSUs is as follows:

24. FAIR VALUES OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

(a) Financial instruments not measured at fair value

Except as disclosed below, the carrying value of the financial assets and liabilities, where the measurement basis is other than fair value, approximate their fair values due to the immediate or short-term nature of these instruments considering there have been no significant changes in credit and market interest rates since original date. Cash and cash equivalents, receivables, accounts payable and royalty obligations are measured at amortized cost.

(b) Measurement of fair value

Financial instruments recorded at fair value on the Consolidated Balance Sheets and presented in fair value disclosures are classified using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1 - Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets that are accessible at the measurement date for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2 - Inputs other than quoted prices within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly; and
- Level 3 – Inputs for assets and liabilities that are both significant to the fair value measurement and unobservable (supported by little or no market activity).

The fair value hierarchy requires the use of observable market inputs whenever such inputs exist. A financial instrument is classified in the lowest level of the hierarchy for which a significant input has been considered in measuring fair value.

The following table identifies the Company’s assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis by level within the fair value hierarchy. The carrying value is equal to the fair value at each date reported. At December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, there were no financial assets and financial liabilities measured and recognized at fair value on a non-recurring basis subsequent to initial recognition.

(Expressed in thousands of U.S. dollars, except for per share amounts; shares and equity instruments in thousands)

	Category	Fair Value at December 31, 2024	Fair Value at December 31, 2023
Financial assets
Investment in GT1 (Note 8)	Level 1	$ 537	$ 2,580
Investment in Ascend Elements (Note 8) [1]	Level 3	3,615	8,582
		$ 4,152	$ 11,162
Financial liabilities
GM Tranche 2 liability (Note 4) [2]	Level 2	$ -	$ 348

[1] The fair value was based on a review of Ascend Elements' business development, financings and trends in the share prices of other companies in the same industry sector.

[2] The fair value of the Tranche 2 Investment liability as at January 30, 2023, was determined using a Monte Carlo simulation with the following inputs and assumptions with respect to shares of Old LAC: expected volatility of 58.34%, share price of $21.99, risk-free rate of 4.77%, and no expected dividends. The fair value of the Tranche 2 Investment liability as of December 31, 2023, was estimated with the following inputs and assumptions with respect to shares of New LAC: expected volatility of 71.26%, share price of $6.40, risk-free rate of 5.54%, and no expected dividends. The gain on change in the fair value has been recognized in Gain (loss) on financial instruments measured at fair value under Other income (expense) in the Consolidated Statements of Loss.

The Company has, where appropriate, estimated the fair value of financial instruments for which the amortized cost carrying value may be significantly different than the fair value. As of December 31, 2024 and December 31, 2023, this includes the royalty obligation (Note 13). At December 31, 2024, the carrying value of the royalty obligation was $20,715 and the estimated fair value was $15,563. At December 31, 2023, the carrying value of the royalty obligation was $20,747 and the estimated fair value was $16,428. The estimated fair value involved Level 3 inputs and was determined using a discounted cash flow with a weighted average discount rate of 12.3% at December 31, 2024 (December 31, 2023 – 11.7%).

25. COMMITMENTS

The Company has entered into certain long-term purchase agreements related to long-lead equipment, infrastructure and services related to the construction of the processing plant as well as development and mining services at Thacker Pass. There were no commitments under these agreements at December 31, 2024.

Transload Terminal Services Agreement and U.S. Department of Defense Grant

LN is party to a Transload Terminal Services Agreement (the "Terminal Agreement") executed on October 28, 2024, to finance the construction of a railcar and truck terminal (the "Terminal") in Winnemucca, Nevada. The initial term of the Terminal Agreement is 10 years with two automatic extensions of 5 years each. A third-party developer has agreed to fund approximately $95 million to finance the construction of the Terminal through a finance lease to the Company. Under the terms of the lease, the Company expects lease payments to be approximately $20.5 million per year for each of the first 10 years and $6.7 million per year for each of the second 10 years, with an early buyout option to purchase the Terminal. The total amount funded by the third-party developer and the amount of the future lease payments will be determined upon commencement of the lease at a future date. The arrangement is a build-to-suit arrangement and the Company has been involved in the design and construction of the Terminal prior to the anticipated lease commencement. Accordingly, the Company has determined it controls the Terminal during the construction period and will record construction costs incurred during the construction period as a construction-in-process asset and a related financing obligation on the Company's Consolidated Balance Sheets. At December 31, 2024, construction of the Terminal had not commenced. The Company's interest in the Terminal Agreement serves as collateral under the DOE Loan (Note 3).

While not a commitment of the Company, on August 5, 2024, the Company received approval for a $11.8 million grant from the U.S. Department of Defense to support an upgrade of the local power infrastructure and to help build a transloading facility, which is part of the construction of the Terminal. The monies available under the grant will be available as costs are incurred.

26. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

On March 6, 2025, the Company announced a strategic investment of $250 million from fund entities managed by Orion Resource Partners LP (collectively, "Orion"), which is expected to achieve fully funded status at the project level and corporate level for the development and construction of Thacker Pass Phase 1 for the duration of construction.

Orion has committed to purchase senior unsecured convertible notes in the aggregate and principal amount of $195 million (the "Notes") and enter into a Production Payment Agreement ("PPA") whereby Orion will pay the Company $25 million in exchange for payments corresponding to the minerals processed and gross revenue generated by Thacker Pass (together, the Notes and PPA represent an aggregate initial investment of $220 million). Orion has committed, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions precedent, to purchase an additional $30 million in aggregate principal amount Notes within two years, upon request by the Company.

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting for the Company. Internal control over financial reporting is a process to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. Internal control over financial reporting includes maintaining records that in reasonable detail accurately and fairly reflect the Company's transactions; providing reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary for preparation of the Company's financial statements; providing reasonable assurance that receipts and expenditures of our assets are made in accordance with management's authorization; and providing reasonable assurance that unauthorized acquisition, use or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements would be prevented or detected on a timely basis. Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting is not intended to provide absolute assurance that a misstatement of the Company's financial statements would be prevented or detected.

Management conducted its evaluation of the effectiveness of the Company's internal controls over financial reporting based on criteria established in Internal Control-Integrated Framework (2013) issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission. Program Oversight and 2024 Highlights

The Compensation and Leadership ("C&L") Committee, on behalf of the Board, is responsible for overseeing the Company's executive compensation program. Highlights of the Company’s 2024 program are set out below.

2024 Executive Compensation Program Highlights
2024 Corporate Performance Scorecard	LAC developed a corporate scorecard in 2024 to set out the Company’s strategic priorities for the year, and which reflects corporate performance as an element of at-risk awards, in addition to individual performance.
Compensation Advisor	Compensation is benchmarked to the market based on a selection of peers from the lithium mining, diversified mining and chemical industries. Benchmarking allows us to provide competitive and fair compensation, and to retain and attract key talent in a competitive job market landscape.
2024 Compensation Benchmarking	The independent C&L Committee determines annual executive compensation adjustments based on peer benchmarking analysis and recommendations made by an independent compensation advisor. Executive compensation is reviewed annually, or more frequently, on a case-by-case basis, as appropriate.
At-Risk Pay	Short-term incentive (“STI”) and long-term incentive (“LTI”) awards are based on target percentage ranges of base salary under LAC’s performance management program, resulting in a significant component of at-risk pay for the Company’s executives.
Pay for Performance	The Company’s performance management program weighs corporate performance as a factor of STI awards. Individual performance is assessed annually through a combination of achieving individual and corporate goals and objectives. CEO and Executive Chair objectives are based 100% on corporate performance.
Management Compensation Committee	An internal Management Compensation Committee oversees compensation matters for employees below the executive level, led by the Company’s Vice President, Human Resources and including the CEO, CFO and Executive Vice President, Capital Projects.

Incentive Award Caps	The range for STI and LTI awards is a minimum of 0% of target to a cap of 200% of target under LAC's performance management program.
LTI Awards Vesting Period	The three-year vesting period of LTI awards aligns the interests of executives with the long-term risks and performance of the Company, while also promoting longer-term retention. For 2024, the Board approved: an LTI award mix for executives comprised of 50 percent restricted share units ("RSUs") and 50 percent performance share units ("PSUs"); RSUs vest annually over three years (1/3 each year); PSUs cliff vest after a three-year performance period based on the Company's relative total shareholder return ("TSR").
Robust Stock Ownership Guidelines	All executive officers and directors are subject to stock ownership requirements to align with the interests of the Company's shareholders. Pursuant to the Company's Share Ownership Policy: • LAC's CEO is required to hold Common Shares having a value equal to 5x the gross amount of the CEO's annual base salary • All other executive officers are required to hold Common Shares having a value equal to 3x the gross amount of their annual base salary • Non-executive directors of LAC are required to hold Common Shares having a value equal to 5x their annual cash retainer. Achievement of these levels of stock ownership must be met within five years from the date the executive officer or director was first elected or appointed.
Insider Trading Policy	The Company has a Securities Trading Policy designed to prevent insider trading while there is material information about LAC not yet publicly disclosed. LAC also implement routine blackout periods under the Securities Trading Policy during public reporting periods and non-routine blackout periods, as needed, including for transactions and other material events.
No Re-Pricing of Equity Incentive Awards	The Company does not reprice outstanding options or other equity incentive awards.
Clawback Policy	The Company may recoup incentive compensation erroneously awarded under LAC's Incentive Compensation Recovery (Clawback) Policy.
No Hedging or Pledging	Directors, executive officers, employees and internal consultants are prohibited from hedging or pledging Company securities.

Executive Compensation Philosophy

The Company's philosophy is to offer executive compensation that is competitive with the median range of a select group of industry peers, with the overall focus of the Company's program being to offer competitive base compensation and pay for strong performance through an annual performance management program. The goals of LAC's executive compensation program are:

- to attract, motivate and retain high performing executives through market competitive base salaries and employee benefits, which are offered throughout the organization;
- to pay for the performance of LAC's executives through the Company's performance management program, which includes performance reviews and awards based on the attainment of corporate and individual goals and objectives, thereby furthering the interests of LAC, and ensuring a substantial portion of executive compensation is at-risk;
- to recognize the contribution of LAC's executives to the Company's long-term growth through awards of short-term and long-term incentives based on individual and corporate performance; and
- to align the financial interests of executives with the interests of LAC's shareholders and the Company's overall performance, through equity awards that expose executives to the risks and rewards of ownership of LAC's Common Shares.

As a development stage lithium mining and processing company targeting near-term production of battery-grade lithium products, LAC is dependent on individuals with specialized skills and knowledge related to mining exploration and development, capital projects management, chemical processing for planned lithium products, corporate finance, legal, human resources, and other areas of business or management expertise. The Company operates in a region where competition for talent is increasingly competitive, the number of opportunities for job seekers is growing and where it is increasingly important for companies to have competitive compensation programs and practices in place to retain and attract talent.

Elements of Executive Compensation

The Company utilizes a combination of both fixed and variable compensation to motivate executives to achieve overall corporate and individualized goals. The Board, acting on the recommendation of the C&L Committee, has implemented a compensation structure intended to align the interests of the executive officers with those of the shareholders. The elements of the Company's executive compensation program are summarized in the table below.

Compensation Elements	Features	Objectives
Base Salary	Evaluated annually, based on competitive benchmarking data and consideration of cost-of-living adjustments.	Fixed compensation, recognizing individual experience, performance and responsibilities. Targeting salary to the median range of compensation peers promotes retention of talented individuals, and facilitates. recruitment of new talent in a competitive job market.
STI Awards	STI award = Base Salary x STI Target % x (Corporate Performance based on % weight by position + Individual Performance based on % weight by position) Paid 50% in cash + 50% RSUs vesting 60 days from date of grant	Rewards performance by executives for achieving annual individual goals and corporate strategic goals designed to motivate executives, recognize annual contributions by individuals and align executive performance with corporate strategic priorities.
LTI Awards	50% awarded in RSUs vesting annually over three years and 50% awarded in PSUs with three-year performance vesting conditions LTI = Base Salary x LTI Target x LTI retention factor	Promotes longer-term retention and aligns long-term interests of the Company's executives with those of shareholders. At risk award that links long-term equity plan payouts to relative TSR over a three-year period. Rewards executives for industry out-performance.
Retirement Savings Plan Contributions	Annual contribution matching by LAC to a retirement savings plan, up to 4% of base salary in 2024, subject to a contribution ceiling established annually (In 2024, the contribution ceilings were CDN$31,560 and US$23,000 for ages below 50; and US$30,500 for ages 50 and over)	Market competitive benefit. Encourages retirement savings.
Health, Wellness and Other Benefits	Health, dental, life, critical illness and disability insurance Health and wellness spending account	Market competitive benefits. Encourages and supports health and wellness.

The C&L Committee reviews each element of compensation for market competitiveness, and it may weigh a particular element more heavily based on the respective executive's role and responsibilities within the Company. The committee's focus is on remaining competitive in the market with respect to LAC's total compensation program, in addition to certain components of executive compensation such as base salary and the Company's performance-based compensation program.

During the year ended December 31, 2024, the STI awards for named executives were determined based on the 2024 scorecard (weighted in the range of 80% to 100% for named executives based on position level) and individual performance for the year (weighted in the range of 0% to 20% for named executives based on position level). Corporate goals and objectives were then cascaded down throughout the organization, after being approved by the C&L Committee.

Following the Separation, executive officers and director compensation was paid by LAC. In connection with the Separation, holders of all RSUs, PSUs and deferred share units ("DSUs") of Old LAC (the "Old LAC Units") received, in exchange for such outstanding Old LAC Units, equivalent incentive securities of LAC and Lithium Argentina (the "Lithium Argentina Units"). In order to compensate for adjustments made to the Lithium Argentina Units pursuant to the application of subsection 7(1.4) of the Tax Act, certain directors and executive officers of LAC were granted additional RSUs on October 24, 2023, which vested on January 1, 2024 unless such directors or executive officers opted to defer such vesting (the "Cutback Grant"), as more particularly described in the footnotes to the tables below. Although the Company has the discretion to award RSUs, PSUs and options to directors under LAC's Equity Incentive Plan (the "Plan"), the Cutback Grant was intended as a one-time grant to certain directors and executive officers to compensate for certain adjustments under the Tax Act. Going-forward, the Company generally intends to compensate directors with a combination of cash and DSUs, rather than RSUs, PSUs and/or options, pursuant to its director compensation program.

Compensation Governance

Compensation matters are overseen by the C&L Committee, which consists of Jinhee Magie (Chair), Yuan Gao and Philip Montgomery, each of whom is an independent director. The C&L Committee is responsible for (a) reviewing senior leadership development and succession planning for the Company; (b) discharging the Board's responsibilities relating to compensation and benefits of the executive officers and directors of the Company; and (c) developing and overseeing management's compensation policies and programs. The C&L Committee also has the authority to engage external advisors to support committee members in fulfilling the mandate of the committee.

Each of the C&L Committee members has served as a senior officer and/or as a director of public or private companies and has experience in executive and corporate compensation programs, providing them with an understanding of executive compensation policies and practices, along with practical experience as to the workings of such programs and policies. As such, each C&L Committee member has the necessary background and skills to provide effective oversight of executive and director compensation and ensure that sound risk management principles are being upheld to in order to align executives' and shareholders' interests. Refer to the profiles of each director who serves on the C&L Committee in the Item 10. Directors, Executive Officers and Corporate Governance – Director Disclosure – Director Nominees section.

Performance Evaluation and Compensation Process

The C&L Committee annually reviews the appropriateness of LAC's compensation policies, practices and pay components. At year-end, the C&L Committee assesses and reports, to the independent directors, the Executive Chair's and CEO's performance as measured against their goals and objectives and the performance of LAC overall, as well as oversees the performance and compensation of the other executive officers at LAC. The CEO is actively engaged in LAC's compensation programs, other than with respect to his own compensation. The CEO conducts an annual evaluation of each named executive's performance and recommends salary adjustments and individual performance scores to the C&L Committee. When determining levels of compensation, the C&L Committee considers the CEO's recommendations, performance, level of responsibility and relevant market data.

The Board reviews all recommendations of the C&L Committee before giving final approval. Any director who is also an executive of LAC is excused from the Board meeting during any discussion of their compensation.

The Board retains the discretion to make adjustments, upward or downward, to the formulaic results of LAC's compensation plan payouts based on broader performance, market conditions and shareholder experience. The Board considers that this informed judgment is important for establishing an alignment between overall pay and performance, and to ensure that incentive awards achieve the intended result and avoid unintended consequences. In determining whether exercising informed judgment is warranted, the Board considers each component of compensation, a named executive's total compensation, as well as the performance of the Company, business unit or individual, as applicable. The Board may exercise judgment in assessing corporate performance, and may alter, cancel or defer amounts payable under the STI program and LTI program to ensure the reasonableness of any incentive award.

The Company will generally engage an independent external compensation consultant to provide advice in connection with executive pay benchmarking, incentive plan design, compensation governance and pay for performance. The C&L Committee retains the independent consultant and receives recommendations from the consultant and determines if any changes are needed to the Company's executive compensation program and levels of compensation. Compensation Advisory Partners ("CAP") was engaged as the Company's independent compensation consultant in 2024. An internal management compensation committee oversees compensation matters for employees below the executive level, led by LAC's Vice President, Human Resources and including the CEO, CFO and Executive Vice President, Capital Projects.

Compensation Advisor and Peer Group Benchmarking Review

To continue to offer market-competitive levels of compensation, the Company engaged CAP to provide independent compensation advisory services to the C&L Committee and management. CAP was engaged to recommend executive compensation and performance peer groups for LAC, which were approved by the Board and are more particularly described in the Executive Compensation – Elements of Executive Compensation – PSU Performance and Peer Group section. CAP also provided the following services to the Company in 2024: executive compensation benchmarking, incentive plan design and non-employee director compensation benchmarking.

The 2024 benchmarking review completed by CAP, management and the C&L Committee involved the development of an executive compensation peer group comprised of public lithium mining companies, other diversified mining companies, and lithium and other specialty chemical producers located in Canada, the U.S. and Australia who publicly disclose their compensation practices. After developing the peer group, target compensation for the Company's executives was compared to peer group data and other industry survey data, reflecting positions with similar roles and scopes of responsibility. Executive compensation adjustments for 2024 were determined based on this review. Additionally, a new PSU performance peer group was established, taking effect in 2024.

Executive Compensation Peer Group

In advance of the Separation in 2023, LAC's executive compensation program was reviewed relative to competitive market data sourced from three peer groups:

1. 2023 Compensation Peer Group – 28 publicly traded companies from several industries including mining, construction, oil & gas exploration, drilling, chemicals and others.
2. 2023 Mining Peer Group – 23 publicly traded mining companies.
    - There was some overlap between this group and the compensation peer group.
3. 2023 Spin-off/IPO Peer Group – 18 publicly traded companies that recently underwent an IPO or spin-off transaction.

To establish executive compensation levels for 2024, the Board decided to reference executive pay levels among a subset of the 2023 compensation peer group, reflecting companies with market capitalization values less than $3 billion.

2023 Compensation Peer Group Subset[1]

Centerra Gold Inc.	Eldorado Gold Corporation	OceanaGold Corporation
Coeur Mining, Inc.	Equinox Gold Corp.	Piedmont Lithium Inc.
Core Lithium Ltd	IAMGOLD Corporation	Sayona Mining Limited

In November 2024, CAP conducted a comprehensive review of LAC's peer group based on the following criteria:

Peer Group Criteria

Public Companies	Publicly traded companies generally reflect the most relevant benchmarks, and provide an efficient source of executive compensation information
Company Size	Executive compensation levels are generally correlated with company size (e.g., market capitalization) and stage as public company
Operating/Business	Factors considered included geographic footprint, operating characteristics, corporate office location and stock price correlation

Based on CAP's review and recommendations, the Board approved the following 2024 Compensation Peer Group:

2024 Compensation Peer Group[1]

Centerra Gold Inc.	Lithium Americas (Argentina) Corp.	Sayona Mining Limited
Compass Minerals International, Inc.	McEwan Mining Inc.	SSR Mining Inc.
Ecovyst Inc.	MP Materials Corp.	Standard Lithium Ltd.
Ioneer Ltd.	Oceana Gold Corporation	TETRA Technologies, Inc.
Liontown Resources Limited	Sigma Lithium Corporation	Tronox Holdings plc

Notes:

(1) The companies included in the compensation peer groups are identified as they existed at the time the compensation peer groups were assembled and do not reflect any changes relating to such entities as a result of any subsequent corporate developments including name changes, mergers, acquisitions and other corporate transactions.

Performance Peer Group

The criteria set out below were applied to develop the following performance peer group for LAC, which was recommended by CAP and the C&L Committee, and approved by the Board. The performance peer group is used to determine LAC's relative TSR performance for PSUs granted to executives, as described in more detail below.

Criteria for Selection as Performance Peers

Industry	Public companies with comparable sectors to include mining – specifically lithium, then broader to other precious metals, and specialty chemicals companies with a focus on lithium mining.
Geographic Location	Companies operating in similar geographic locations, consideration of stock price correlation and performance among companies within the peer group.
Size	Comparable size to LAC based on market cap enterprise value, and level of assets.

Albemarle Corporation	Arcadium Lithium plc	Piedmont Lithium, Inc.
Mineral Resources Limited	TETRA Technologies, Inc.	Standard Lithium Ltd
Pilbara Minerals Limited	MP Materials Corp.	Ioneer Ltd.
Compass Minerals International, Inc.

Base Salary

Base salaries are set with the goal of being competitive with corporations of a comparable size and stage of development, thereby enabling the Company to compete for and retain executive officers critical to the Company's long-term success. The C&L Committee and the Board approve the salary ranges for executives based on the annual compensation benchmarking review. Salary determinations for executives are made with consideration of the following criteria, among others:

- the particular responsibilities related to the position;
- salaries paid by comparable businesses and factoring in market conditions for talent;
- the experience level of the executive; and
- the executive's overall performance or expected performance (in the case of a newly hired executive).

An assessment of these criteria is made by the C&L Committee for the CEO and Executive Chair. For other named executives excluding the CEO and Executive Chair, the assessment is made by management and a recommendation is made to the committee for feedback and recommendation to the Board. Final recommendations are then made to the Board to approve base salary adjustments.

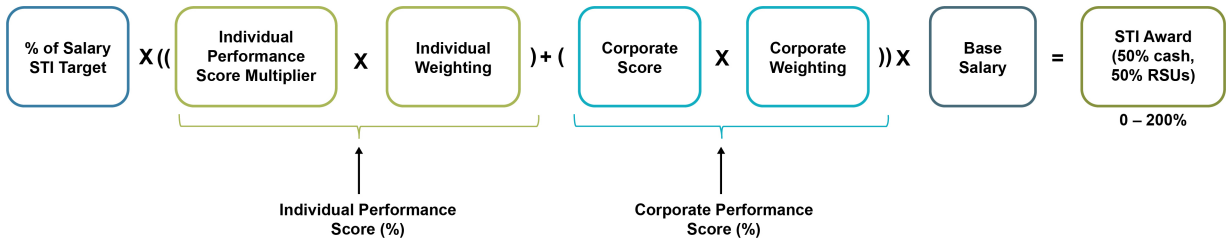
Short-Term Incentive Compensation

The Company awards annual STI compensation to executives based on the achievement of corporate and individual goals for the year. STI awards have the objective of motivating executives to achieve performance objectives that are aligned with the overall strategic objectives of the Company during the period.

A target range for an STI award as a percentage of salary is set for each executive position, ranging from 60% for certain executives up to 100% for the CEO and Executive Chair in 2024. Actual awards are subject to a multiplier ranging from 0 to 200%, depending on actual performance for the year. STI compensation is discretionary, and generally consists of a 50% cash payment and a 50% grant of RSUs. RSUs are awarded under the Plan.

STI awards are determined based on the corporate scorecard for the year and the individual performance of each executive. Recommendations are submitted by management to the C&L Committee for consideration and approval. The committee determines STI awards for the CEO and Executive Chair, while all other awards are recommended by management with the C&L Committee providing feedback as needed on the recommended amount of such awards. All grants of equity STI awards are approved by the Board.

The STI award calculation formula is as follows:



For 2024, the minimum payout, STI target and maximum payout opportunity for each named executive is set out below, as a percentage of base salary. STI awards may be revised above or below the target set for any of the Company's named executives or other senior management, including named executives, in the discretion of the Board on recommendation from the C&L Committee within the minimum and maximum ranges provided in the table. Mr. Mercado is not listed in the table below as he forfeited any rights to an STI award for 2024 upon his voluntary resignation.

Named Executive	Minimum % Payout	STI Target % of Salary	Maximum Payout % of STI Target	Maximum Payout % of Salary	Corporate Goals Weighting	Individual Goals Weighting
Jonathan Evans	0%	100%	200%	200%	100%	0%
Kelvin Dushnisky	0%	100%	200%	200%	100%	0%
Richard Gerspacher	0%	75%	200%	150%	80%	20%

2024 Corporate Performance

Long-Term Incentive Compensation

LTI compensation is another key component of the Company's executive compensation program. LTI compensation is awarded on the same basis as STI awards, to motivate performance by executives and promote retention, but with a stronger focus on long-term alignment of executives' interests with those of shareholders. Executives are also provided with an opportunity to share in the rewards of the Company's performance, together with the associated risks of ownership of the Company's securities.

PSUs and RSUs are generally awarded to executives as LTI awards under the Plan. PSUs generally have a three-year performance vesting cycle and are subject to performance vesting conditions based on relative TSR as described below. RSUs generally vest annually over a three-year period. The Company has the discretion to award options under the Plan as executive compensation; however, the Company generally intends to award PSUs and RSUs, rather than options, pursuant to its executive compensation program.

LTI awards for the CEO and Executive Chair are determined by the C&L Committee, and for other executives are determined by the CEO and reviewed by the Management Compensation Committee prior to their recommendation to the C&L Committee, with all awards being determined based on a combination of individual performance and consideration of long- term retention. The C&L Committee then makes a recommendation for Board approval of all LTI awards to be granted as equity compensation.

The minimum LTI target and maximum payout opportunity for each named executive for 2024 based on performance in 2023 is set out below, as a percentage of base salary. Similar to STI awards, a LTI award may be revised above or below the target set for any of the Company's named executives or other senior management, including named executives, in the discretion of the Board on recommendation from the C&L Committee within the minimum and maximum ranges provided in the table. Mr. Mercado is not listed in the table below as he forfeited any rights to an LTI award for 2024 upon his voluntary resignation.

Jonathan Evans	0%	125%	200%	250%
Kelvin Dushnisky	0%	100%	200%	200%
Richard Gerspacher	0%	75%	200%	150%

PSU Performance

PSUs will generally vest in full three years from the grant date and are payable in Common Shares. Performance is determined based on a comparison of TSR for LAC versus a performance peer group. The TSR for the three-year vesting period is calculated based on multiple cumulative measurement periods of equal weighting. The formula used to determine the payout factor for the 2024 PSUs is as follows:

Payout Calculation
Payout Factor =
1-Year Performance Multiplier x (1/3) + 2-Year Performance Multiplier x (1/3) + 3-Year Performance Multiplier x (1/3)

For each cumulative measurement period, LAC's TSR is ranked relative to the performance peer group and the performance multiplier is determined based on linear interpolation:

LAC's Percent Rank	Performance Multiplier
Below 25th Percentile	0x
25th Percentile	0.5x
50th Percentile	1.0x
75th Percentile and Above	2.0x

2024 Individual Performance and STI and LTI Awards

2024 STI awards for named executives based on their individual performance scorecards are set out in the table below. Mr. Mercado is not listed in the table below as he forfeited any rights to an STI award for 2024 upon his voluntary resignation.

Named Executive	2024 Annual Base Salary (US$)	STI Cash Awards (US$)	Number of RSUs Awarded as STI Award[(1)]	RSU STI Award Value (US$)
Jonathan Evans	650,000	416,000	-	416,000
Kelvin Dushnisky	590,000	377,600	-	377,600

Notes:

(1) Amounts in this column represent the STI awards for performance in 2024 determined based on actual achievement of the applicable performance metrics. Fifty percent of the amount was paid in cash in February 2025 and the remaining fifty percent are expected to be granted in April 2025, vesting 60 days from such grant date. See Executive Compensation – 2024 Individual Performance and STI and LTI awards.

The calculated 2024 LTI awards granted to named executives based on their individual performance scorecards, and adjusted for long-term retention purposes are set out in the table below. The Board approved the 2024 PSU awards on three-year vesting period in January 2024, and such 2024 PSU awards will be fully vested in February 2027. As the Company grants the LTI awards for 2024 performance in 2025, the value of such awards will be provided in the Summary Compensation Table for fiscal year 2025. Mr. Mercado is not listed in the table below as he forfeited any rights to an LTI award for 2024 performance upon his voluntary resignation.

Named Executive	2023 Annual Base Salary (US$)	LTI Award Value[(1)] (US$)	Number of PSUs Awarded as LTI Award	Number of RSUs Awarded as LTI Award
Kelvin Dushnisky[(3)]	590,000	590,000	15,292	15,292

Notes:

(1) The fair value of share-based LTI RSU and PSU awards was based on the five-day VWAP of US$4.8227 calculated as of the day prior to the grant date. Amounts in this column for each named executive's represent the aggregate grant date fair value of the RSUs and PSUs granted to each of the named executive's, calculated in accordance with FASB ASC Topic 718 and excluding the effect of estimated forfeitures. The FASB ASC Topic 718 grant date fair value of the PSUs was determined using a Monte Carlo simulation. The assumptions underlying these calculations are the closing share prices and volatility of the Company and its peer group, the risk-free rate derived from the US Treasury curve, and a correlation matrix of share price returns calculated over a historical period of three years. See Executive Compensation – Elements of Executive Compensation – PSU Performance and Peer Group for further details on how the Company determines the value of PSUs and PSU vesting.

(2) Mr. Evans' 2024 LTI awards were based on his base salary of $600,000 for the year ended December 31, 2023.

(3) Mr. Dushnisky was appointed to serve as Executive Chair of the Board effective October 3, 2023 at Separation. As such, his annual base of $590,000 was prorated to $147,500 for the period October 3 to December 31, 2023. His 2024 LTI awards were based on this prorated base salary of $590,000.

(4) Mr. Gerspacher's annual base salary from January 1 to October 2, 2023 was $420,000, and he received an increase to $465,000 effective October 3, 2023 at Separation. His 2024 LTI awards were based on this prorated base salary of $431,250.

Benefits

LAC provides a benefits program, including health, dental, life, critical illness and disability insurance, employee and family assistance program, and a health and wellness spending account to encourage a healthy lifestyle for the Company's employees, including named executives. LAC also offers annual retirement savings plan contribution matching, as further described in the table under Elements of Compensation.

Policies and Practices Related to the Grant of Certain Equity Awards in Relation to the Release of Material Non-Public Information

LAC does not currently grant stock options or option-like equity awards to the Company's executive officers, employees or directors, therefore LAC does not currently have a formal practice or policy with respect to the grant of stock options or option-like awards.

Other Compensation Objectives

Effective January 1, 2024, LAC updated its Share Ownership Policy, which requires, among other things, that (i) non-executive directors of LAC are required to hold Common Shares (including any grants of RSUs and DSUs) having a value equal to five times their annual cash retainer, and must achieve this level of share ownership within five years from the date they are first elected or appointed as a director of LAC; (ii) the CEO of LAC is required to hold Common Shares (including any grants of RSUs and PSUs) having a value equal to five times the gross amount of the CEO's annual base salary; and (iii) all other executives are required to hold Common Shares (including any grants of RSUs and PSUs) having a value equal to five times the gross amount of their salary. Executives who were executives as at January 1, 2024 are required to achieve the foregoing required levels of share ownership within five years following January 1, 2024, or if they were appointed subsequent to January 1, 2024, within five years from the date they are appointed as an executive of LAC.

Management of Risks

The C&L Committee and the Board periodically assess the implications of the risks associated with the Company's compensation policies and practices. The committee maintains sufficient discretion and flexibility in implementing compensation decisions such that unintended consequences in remuneration can be minimized, while still being responsive to market influences in a competitive environment. Through the committee's Charter, the C&L Committee has sole authority to retain consultants to assist it in the evaluation of compensation of the Company's named executives and other senior management as well as directors. The Company has policies in place to mitigate compensation policies and practices that could encourage executives to take inappropriate and excessive risk. All material contracts and agreements require approval of the Board. The Board also approves annual and capital budgets. LAC has implemented an Incentive Compensation Recovery (Clawback) Policy, which is filed as an exhibit to the Form 10-K and available on the Company's website. Pursuant to the Company's Incentive Compensation Recovery Policy, the G&N Committee is empowered to recoup incentive compensation, including RSUs, DSUs, PSUs and options, that were erroneously awarded in the event that the Company is required to prepare an accounting restatement due to material noncompliance of the Company with any financial reporting requirements under the federal securities laws or in the event of misconduct that has a material adverse effect on the Company's business.

The Company's Securities Trading Policy, which applies to (i) directors, executive officers and employees of LAC, (ii) the family members of those persons described in (i), and (iii) LAC contractors and consultants who have access to material nonpublic information concerning LAC (collectively, "Insiders"), prohibits Insiders from buying or selling LAC securities when in possession of material nonpublic information and during other closed periods. Any sale or purchase of Common Shares by directors, executive officers and all other senior leaders must be made during pre-established periods after receiving preclearance by LAC's CFO or General Counsel, or such other person as may be designated by LAC from time to time. Trading in LAC derivatives (i.e. puts or calls), engaging in short sales or otherwise engaging in hedging activities and pledging of LAC securities is prohibited for all Insiders. The Securities Trading Policy is filed as an exhibit to the Form 10-K and available on the Company's website.

Director Compensation

The Company's director compensation program has been designed to be competitive to market. LAC intends to review the program with the assistance of an independent compensation consultant every two years to allow LAC to attract and retain qualified directors to serve on the Board, and the first review is expected to occur in 2024. The compensation peer group for purposes of benchmarking director compensation is the same as that for the Company's executive compensation program. See Executive Compensation – Compensation Benchmarking for further details.

Item 13. Certain Relationships and Related Transactions, and Director Independence

Handling Conflicts of Interest and Related Party Transactions

LAC's Code of Conduct requires all of the Company's employees and directors to avoid any activity that is in conflict with LAC's business interests, and to disclose any actual or potential conflicts of interest to the Company. The Company's employees and directors must also annually certify their compliance with the Code of Conduct. Disclosures of an actual or potential conflict of interest are reviewed by the Company's General Counsel to ensure appropriate follow-up and reporting. Any waiver from the Code requires the approval of the CEO in consultation with the Governance and Nomination Committee. For senior executive officers and members of the Board, a waiver requires the express approval of the Company's Board and must be promptly disclosed as required by law and regulation. Since the beginning of 2024, there has been no waiver of any aspect of the Code Conduct.

If a director or officer has a material interest in a transaction or agreement involving the Company, or otherwise identifies a potential personal conflict, the director or officer must declare the conflict or potential conflict to the Board. A director who has a material interest, conflict or potential conflict must abstain from voting on the matter at any Board meeting where it is being discussed or considered.

The Board also forms special committees as needed, comprised of only independent directors, to evaluate proposed related party transactions and ensure that independent judgment is used to evaluate the transaction, free of any potential or actual conflict of interest, or for other purposes as needed and determined by the Board in its sole discretion. In addition, the Board considers related party transactions in conjunction with making director independence determinations. Completion of annual questionnaires by directors and officers of the Company assists in identifying possible related party transactions.

Since January 1, 2024, the Company has not been a party to any related party transactions. For purposes of the foregoing, a related party transaction includes transactions in which the Company was or is to be a participant and the amount involved exceeds US$120,000, and the related party has or will have a direct or indirect material interest. A related person consists of a shareholder, director, nominee director or executive officer of the Company beneficially owning more than five percent of the Company's voting securities, and the immediate family members of these individuals.

Independence

LAC believes that the majority of the Company's directors are independent in accordance with applicable Canadian legal requirements and guidelines and independence criteria of the regulations of the SEC and rules of the NYSE. The G&N Committee and the Board review the independence of each Board member and nominated director against these criteria at least once a year. Consistent with the laws and rules described above, the Board has reviewed all relationships between the Company and each director and director nominee and considered all relevant quantitative and qualitative criteria.

The Board has determined that the following five of the eight LAC directors qualify as independent: Yuan Gao, Michael Brown, Fabiana Chubbs, Jinhee Magie, and Phil Montgomery. The non-independent directors of the Company are Jonathan Evans, who is the President and CEO of the Company; Kelvin Dushnisky, who is the Executive Chair; and Zach Kirkman, who is a representative of GM, which has a commercial relationship with the Company. In addition, the Board has determined that all of the directors who currently serve on the A&R Committee and the C&L Committee are independent as required by NYSE and SEC criteria. The G&N Committee is also comprised entirely of independent directors, and the chairs of each of the Board committees are independent.

In recommending to the Board that it determine a director is independent, the G&N Committee considered whether there were any other facts or circumstances that might impair a director's independence. Generally, independence of a director means that the individual is not an employee or member of management of the Company or any subsidiary, receives no compensation from the Company or a subsidiary except compensation for serving as a director on the Board, and generally the individual has no conflicts of interest or other ties to management, the Company or a subsidiary that would lead to a determination that the individual is unable to exercise judgment independent of management. These same considerations extend to immediate family members of the individual.

As outlined above, Directors on the Board with an interest in a material transaction or agreement are required to declare their interest to the Board and refrain from voting on or consenting to the transaction or agreement at issue. The Board may also forms special committees as more particularly described above.

Dr. Gao has been appointed as the Lead Independent Director by the Board and is responsible for ensuring that the independent directors have regular opportunities to meet in executive sessions without the presence of executives and non-independent directors. Discussions among the independent directors will be led by the Lead Independent Director who will subsequently provide feedback to the Executive Chair. Independent directors have the opportunity to meet in camera at every Board and committee meeting.

Pre-Approval Policies and Procedures

All of the services and fees described under the categories of "Audit Fees," "Audit Related Fees," "Tax Fees" and "All Other Fees" above were reviewed and approved by the A&R Committee before the respective services were rendered. The Company is not relying upon a waiver pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (c)(7)(i)(C) of Rule 2-01 of Regulation S-X.

The A&R Committee has considered the nature and amount of the fees billed by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, Chartered Professional Accountants, and believes that the provision of the services for activities unrelated to the audit is compatible with maintaining the independence of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, Chartered Professional Accountants.

Time shall be of the essence of this Agreement.

9.4. Enurement

This Agreement shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the parties and their respective successors, permitted assigns and legal representatives.

9.5. Governing Law

9.6. Jurisdiction and Venue

Each of the parties hereto shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve any dispute among the parties that relates to this Agreement and to settle any such dispute through joint cooperation and consultation. Any dispute whatsoever among any of the parties hereto with respect to the interpretation of, or relating to any alleged breach of, this Agreement that the parties are unable to Any such arbitration shall be held in New York, New York unless another location is mutually agreed upon by the parties to such arbitration. Such arbitration shall be the exclusive remedy hereunder with respect to any dispute relating to this Agreement; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 9.6 shall limit any party's right to bring (a) post-arbitration actions seeking to enforce an arbitration award or (b) actions seeking emergency or temporary injunctive or other similar temporary relief (pending the resolution of the arbitration contemplated herein) in the event of a breach or threatened breach of any of the provisions of this Agreement. Each party hereto shall use best efforts to cause any proceeding conducted pursuant to this Section 9.6 to be held in confidence by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution, the arbitrators and each of the parties to such proceeding and their respective Affiliates, and all information relating to or disclosed by any party thereto in connection with such proceeding shall be treated by the parties thereto, their respective Affiliates and the arbitrators as confidential business information and no disclosure of such information shall be made by any party thereto, its Affiliates or the arbitrator without the prior written consent of the party thereto furnishing such information in connection with the arbitration proceeding, except as required by applicable law or to enforce any award of the arbitrators. The party whom the arbitrators determine is the prevailing party in such arbitration shall receive, in addition to any other award pursuant to such arbitration or associated judgment, reimbursement from the other party of all reasonable legal fees incurred with respect to such arbitration.

9.7. Severability

If any term or other provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced under any Applicable Law or as a matter of public policy, all other conditions and provisions of this Agreement shall nevertheless remain in full force and effect. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is invalid, illegal or incapable of being enforced, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible in a mutually acceptable manner in order that the transactions contemplated by this Agreement be consummated as originally contemplated to the greatest extent possible.

9.8. Entire Agreement

This Agreement, the provisions contained in this Agreement, and the agreements and other documents to be delivered pursuant to this Agreement, constitute the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter thereof and supersede all prior communications, proposals, representations and agreements, whether oral or written, with respect to the subject matter thereof.

ARTICLE 7
ADDITIONAL COVENANTS

7.1. Foreign Investment Review

(a) Prior to making, or accepting, any ownership investment after the date hereof, the Corporation shall, as applicable under the relevant laws and regulations, and unless the Investor has agreed otherwise, take such steps as are at that time available under the Investment Canada Act to obtain certainty prior to completion regarding the status of the investment under the national security review provisions of the Investment Canada Act.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything to the contrary set forth in this Agreement, the Corporation and its Subsidiaries agree to cooperate with any inquiry by CFIUS or Canadian Governmental Entities with respect to the Corporation's business (or that of its Subsidiaries) or any past or new investment the Corporation or its Subsidiaries have received or undertaken, or receive or undertake, including by providing any information and documentary material lawfully required or requested by CFIUS or Canadian Governmental Entities, after due discussion with CFIUS or Canadian Governmental Entities. Without limiting the foregoing, following the conclusion of any applicable appeal or review process, the Corporation and its Subsidiaries shall take any and all actions to comply with any valid order, writ, judgment, ruling, assessment, injunction, decree, stipulation, determination, undertaking, commitment, mitigation measure, agreement, or award entered by or with CFIUS or any Canadian Governmental Entity with respect to any such investment the Corporation or its Subsidiaries have received or undertaken, or receive or undertake.

(c) The Corporation and its Subsidiaries shall promptly inform the Investor of any such inquiry, and keep Investor reasonably informed regarding the existence of, and efforts to address and resolve, any action, investigation, review, or inquiry of any kind, including but not limited to formal, informal, written, or oral, involving the Corporation or its Subsidiaries relating to any developments in any regulatory process resulting from such inquiry.

(d) In the event that CFIUS requests that the Corporation or its Subsidiaries submit a joint voluntary notice ("Joint Notice") with respect to any previous investment they have received, the Corporation shall promptly inform the Investor, consult with the Investor regarding responding to CFIUS, and prepare and submit a Joint Notice to CFIUS, or take other necessary and appropriate action to respond to such request.

(e) In the event that CFIUS initiates a unilateral review of any previous investment the Corporation or its Subsidiaries have received, the Corporation shall promptly inform the Investor, consult with the Investor in connection with responding to such action by CFIUS, and take necessary and appropriate action in order to resolve CFIUS's concerns.

(f) As applicable under relevant law, the Corporation and its Subsidiaries shall provide or cause to be provided commercially reasonable assurances or agreements as required by CFIUS or the President of the United States, or the applicable Minister under the Investment Canada Act, including entering into a mitigation agreement, letter of assurance, national security agreement, or other similar arrangement or agreement; provided however, that such assurance or agreement does not have a material adverse effect on the Corporation or its Subsidiaries.

(g) The Corporation represents and warrants that it and its Subsidiaries have provided, and covenants to provide, to the best of its knowledge, truthful and complete information to CFIUS and Canadian Governmental Entities with respect to inquiries or requests that the Corporation or its Subsidiaries have received or may receive, as applicable.

(h) The Corporation and its Subsidiaries shall promptly advise the Investor of the receipt of any communication from CFIUS or a Canadian Governmental Entity relating to the Investor and shall consult with and obtain the consent of the Investor prior to communicating with CFIUS or a Canadian Governmental Entity relating to the Investor.

7.2. Restrictions on Transactions with FEOCs

For so long as the Investor meets the 5% Threshold, is a Member of the Company (as those terms are defined in the Joint Venture Agreement), or is an Offtaker, the Corporation shall not (a) enter into any agreement in respect of, or otherwise support or recommend, any Change of Control to a Sanctioned Person or a FEOC without the Investor's prior written consent, or (b) conduct any business transaction or activity to the extent such business transaction or activity would cause vehicles incorporating the offtake purchased from the Corporation to be ineligible for tax credits under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022, as amended.

8.1. Demand Registration Rights

(a) For so long as the Investor meets the 2.5% Threshold, the Investor may require the Corporation to register all or a portion of the Registrable Securities then held by the Investor and its Affiliates by filing a Registration Statement and a Prospectus and taking such other steps as may be necessary to facilitate a Distribution of all or any portion of the Registrable Securities held by the Investor or its Affiliates.

(b) Any such registration effected pursuant to this Section 8.1 is referred to herein as a "Demand Registration."

(c) Any such request shall be made by a notice in writing (a "Request") to the Corporation and shall specify the number and the class or classes of Registrable Securities to be sold (the "Designated Registrable Securities") by the Investor, the intended method of disposition, whether such offer and sale shall be made by an underwritten public offering and the jurisdiction(s) in which the filing is to be effected. The Corporation shall, subject to Applicable Securities Laws, use its commercially reasonable efforts to file within 30 days after receipt of the Request: (i) a Registration Statement in compliance with applicable U.S. Securities Laws and (ii) a Prospectus in compliance with applicable Canadian Securities Laws, in order to permit the Distribution of all of the Designated Registrable Securities of the Investor specified in a Request. The parties shall cooperate in a timely manner in connection with such Distribution and the procedures in Schedule A shall apply.

(d) The Corporation shall not be obliged to effect:

(i) more than two Demand Registrations in any twelve (12) month period; provided that for purposes of this Section 8.1, a Demand Registration pursuant to which the Designated Registrable Securities are to be sold shall not be considered as having been effected until (1) the Registration Statement has been declared effective by the SEC and (2) a receipt has been issued by the Canadian Securities Authorities for the Prospectus and has not been withdrawn or suspended; or

(ii) a Demand Registration in the event the Corporation determines in its good faith judgment, after consultation with its financial and legal advisors, that (A) either (I) the effect of the filing of a Registration Statement and Prospectus would have a material adverse effect on the Corporation because such action would materially interfere with a material acquisition, reorganization or similar material transaction involving the Corporation; or (II) there exists at the time material non-public information relating to the Corporation the disclosure of which would be materially adverse to the Corporation, and (B) that it is therefore in the best interests of the Corporation to defer the filing of a Registration Statement and Prospectus at such time, in which case the Corporation's obligations under this Section 8.1 shall be deferred for a period of not more than ninety (90) days from the date of receipt of the Request of the Investor (such 90-day period is referred to herein as a "Blackout Period"); provided, that after any initial Blackout Period, the Corporation may not invoke a subsequent Blackout Period until 12 months have elapsed from the end of any previous Blackout Period; provided, further, that the Corporation shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such 90-day period other than pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-8 or other registration solely relating to an offering or sale to employees or directors of the Corporation pursuant to any employee stock plan or other employee benefit arrangement.

(e) In the case of an underwritten public offering of Registrable Securities initiated pursuant to this Section 8.1, the Investor shall have the right to select the managing underwriter(s) or managing agent(s) and the counsel retained which shall perform such offering.

(f) The Investor shall have the right to withdraw its request for inclusion of its Registrable Securities in any Registration Statement and Prospectus pursuant to this Section 8.1 without incurring any liability to the Corporation or any other Person by giving written notice to the Corporation of its request to withdraw; provided, however, that:

(i) such request must be made in writing ten (10) Business Days prior to the execution of the underwriting agreement (or such other similar agreement) with respect to such offering; and

(g) For the avoidance of doubt, the registration rights granted pursuant to the provisions of this Section 8.1 shall be in addition to the registration rights granted pursuant to Section 8.2, below.

8.2. Piggyback and Shelf Registration Rights

(a) Piggyback Registration. Each time the Corporation elects to proceed with the preparation and filing of (i) a Registration Statement under any U.S. Securities Laws or (ii) a Prospectus under any Canadian Securities Laws, in each case in connection with a proposed Distribution of any of its securities, whether by the Corporation or any of its security holders, the Corporation shall give written notice thereof to the Investor as soon as practicable. In such event, the Investor shall be entitled, by notice in writing given to the Corporation within twenty (20) days (except in the case of a "bought deal" in which case the Investor shall have only twenty-four (24) hours) after the receipt of any such notice by the Investor, to require that the Corporation cause any or all of the Registrable Securities held by the Investor (the "Piggyback Registrable Securities") to be included in such Prospectus (such qualification being hereinafter referred to as a "Piggyback Registration"). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(i) in the event the lead underwriter or lead agent for the offering advises the Corporation and the Investor that in its good faith opinion, the inclusion of such Registrable Securities may materially and adversely affect the price or success of the offering, the Corporation shall include in such Registration, in the following priority: (i) first, such number of securities the Corporation proposes to sell; (ii) second, a number of Piggyback Registrable Securities requested by the Investor to be included in such Piggyback Registration to the extent that such lead underwriter or lead agent reasonably believes such securities may be included in the offering without materially and adversely affecting the price or success of the offering; and (iii) third, such number of other securities requested by any other shareholder of the Corporation to be included in such Piggyback Registration to the extent that such lead underwriter or lead agent reasonably believes such securities may be included in the offering without materially and adversely affecting the price or success of the offering;

(ii) the Corporation may at any time before the effective date of such Registration Statement, and without the consent of the Investor, abandon the proposed offering in which the Investor has requested to participate; and

(iii) the Investor shall have the right to withdraw its request for inclusion of its Piggyback Registrable Securities in any Registration Statement and Prospectus pursuant to this Section 8.2 without incurring any liability to the Corporation or any other Person by giving written notice to the Corporation of its request to withdraw; provided, however, that:

such request must be made in writing five (5) Business Days prior to the execution of the underwriting agreement (or such other similar agreement) with respect to such offering; and such withdrawal shall be irrevocable and, after making such withdrawal, the Investor shall no longer have any right to include its Piggyback Registrable Securities in the offering pertaining to which such withdrawal was made.

(b) Shelf Registration

(i) The Investor shall, subject to Section 8.1(d), have the right to require the Corporation at any time and from time to time to file a Registration Statement, including a Registration Statement covering the resale of all Registrable Securities on a delayed or continuous basis, pursuant to MJDS or on Form F-3 or Registration Statement that may be available at such time (a "Shelf Registration Statement"), and if necessary pursuant to the MJDS in connection therewith, to file a Canadian Prospectus pursuant to the provisions of National Instrument 44-102 - Shelf Distributions, which, for greater certainty, shall include BC Instrument 45-503 - Exemption from Certain Prospectus Requirements for Canadian Well-known Seasoned Issuers, and take such other steps as may be necessary to register the Distribution in the United States of all or any portion of the Registrable Securities held by the Investor (a "Shelf Registration"), by giving a notice with the information required in Section 8.1(c) to the Corporation.

(ii) Upon exercise of a Shelf Registration right as set forth in Section 8.2(b)(i), the Corporation shall, and subject to Applicable Securities Laws, use its commercially reasonable efforts to file within 30 days after receipt of the Request a Shelf Registration Statement relating to such Shelf Registration and cause such Shelf Registration Statement to become effective under the U.S. Securities Act, and, as required, prepare and file a preliminary Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus (if applicable) and a final Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus relating to such Shelf Registration and secure the issuance of a receipt for such preliminary Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus (if applicable) and final Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus, and promptly thereafter take such other steps as may be necessary in order to permit the Distribution in the United States of all or any portion of the Registrable Securities of the shareholders requested to be included in such Shelf Registration.

(iii) Upon filing any Shelf Registration Statement and, if required, a Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus, the Corporation shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to keep such Shelf Registration Statement effective with the SEC and, if required such Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus effective with the applicable Canadian Securities Authorities, respectively, at all times and to re-file such Shelf Registration Statement or renew such Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus upon its expiration by filing a preliminary Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus (if applicable) and final Canadian Base

Shelf Prospectus, and to cooperate in any shelf take-down, whether or not underwritten, by amending or supplementing any Shelf Registration Statement or Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus related to such Shelf Registration as may be reasonably requested by the Investor or as otherwise required, until such time as all Registrable Securities that could be sold pursuant to such Shelf Registration Statement have been sold, are no longer outstanding or otherwise cease to be "Registrable Securities".

(iv) For so long as the Investor meets the 2.5% Threshold, and at any time that a Shelf Registration Statement is effective, if the Investor delivers a notice to the Corporation stating that it intends to effect an underwritten public offering of all or part of the Registrable Securities included on the Shelf Registration Statement (a "Shelf Underwritten Offering"), then the Corporation shall file a prospectus supplement to the Shelf Registration Statement and any applicable Canadian Prospectus as may be necessary to enable such Registrable Securities to be distributed pursuant to the Shelf Underwritten Offering, which Shelf Underwritten Offering shall be deemed a "Demand Registration" for all purposes in this Agreement. Such notice shall include substantially the same information as required by Section 8.1(c) for a Request and shall be considered a "Request" for all purposes in this Agreement, to the extent the applicable as the context may require. The Investor's rights to request a Shelf Underwritten Offering under the Shelf Registration Statement with respect to the Registrable Securities held by the Investor shall be in addition to the other registration rights provided in this Article 8; provided that the Corporation shall not be obligated to effect any such Shelf Underwritten Offering for any of the reasons set forth in Section 8.1(d) for a Demand Registration, mutatis mutandis. In addition, the provisions of Section 8.1(e) shall apply to any Shelf Underwritten Offering, mutatis mutandis. The Corporation and the Investor shall cooperate in a timely manner in connection with any such Shelf Underwritten Offering and the procedures in Schedule A shall apply to such Shelf Underwritten Offering.

8.3. Expenses

All Registration Expenses incident to the performance of or compliance with this Article 8 by the parties shall be borne by the Corporation other than any and all commissions payable to any underwriter for an underwritten offering or agent for an agency offering that are attributable to the Registrable Securities to be sold by the Investor pursuant to any Demand Registration or Piggyback Registration, which commissions shall be borne by the Investor.

8.4. Other Sales

After receipt by the Corporation of a Request, the Corporation shall not, without the prior written consent of the Investor, authorize, issue or sell any Common Shares or Equity Securities in any jurisdiction or agree to do so or publicly announce any intention to do so (except for securities issued pursuant to any legal obligations in effect on the date of the Request or pursuant to any stock option plan or equity incentive plan) until the date which is the later of (a)(i) the date on which the Registration Statement has been declared effective by the SEC and (ii) the date on which a receipt or decision document is issued for the Prospectus filed in connection with such Demand Registration, and (b) the completion of the offering contemplated by the Demand Registration; provided, however, that the Corporation further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in connection with any underwritten offering effected pursuant to this Article 8, which agreements may subject the Corporation to a longer lock-up period.

8.5. Future Registration Rights

The Corporation shall not (a) grant any registration rights to third parties which are more favorable than or inconsistent with the rights granted to the Investor hereunder, or (b) enter into any agreement, take any action, or permit any change to occur, with respect to its securities that violates or subordinates the rights granted to the Investor hereunder.

8.6. Preparation; Reasonable Investigation

In connection with the preparation and filing of any Registration Statement or Prospectus as herein contemplated, the Corporation shall give the Investor, its underwriters for an underwritten offering or agents for an agency offering, and their respective counsel, auditors and other Representatives, the opportunity to participate in the preparation of such documents and each amendment thereof or supplement thereto, and shall insert therein such material, furnished to the Corporation in writing, which in the reasonable judgment of the Investor and its counsel should be included. The Corporation shall give the Investor and the underwriters or agents such reasonable and customary access to the books and records of the Corporation and its Subsidiaries and such reasonable and customary opportunities to discuss the business of the Corporation with its officers and auditors as shall be necessary in the reasonable opinion of the Investor, such underwriters or agents and their respective counsel. The Corporation shall cooperate with the Investor and its underwriters or agents in the conduct of all reasonable and customary due diligence which the Investor, such underwriters or agents and their respective counsel may reasonably require in order to conduct a reasonable investigation for purposes of establishing a due diligence defence as contemplated by the Applicable Securities Laws and in order to enable such underwriters or agents to execute any certificate required to be executed by them for inclusion in each such document.

8.7. Indemnification

(a) In connection with any Demand Registration, Piggyback Registration and Shelf Registration, the Corporation shall indemnify and hold harmless the Investor, each underwriter or agent involved in the Distribution of Registrable Securities thereunder, each of their respective members, directors, officers, employees and agents, and each Person, if any, who controls such Investor, underwriter or agent within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act or the U.S. Exchange Act against any losses, claims, damages or liabilities (including reasonable counsels' fees) ("Losses"), joint or several, to which the Investor, or such underwriter or agent or controlling Person or any of their directors, officers, employees or agents may become subject, insofar as such Losses, (or actions in respect thereof) (i) arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of any material fact contained in any Registration Statement or Prospectus, or any amendment or supplement thereof, (ii) or arise out of or are based upon the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading or (iii) arise out of or are based upon any violation or alleged violation by the Corporation (or any of its agents or Affiliates) of any Applicable Securities Law, and the Corporation will pay to each the Investor, underwriter, agent or controlling Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Losses may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the Corporation shall not be liable in any such case if and to the extent that any such Losses arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by the Investor, such underwriter or agent or such controlling Person expressly for use in connection with such registration; provided further, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 8.7(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Corporation, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(b) In connection with any Demand Registration, Piggyback Registration and Shelf Registration, the Investor shall indemnify and hold harmless the Corporation, its directors, each officer who has signed the Registration Statement, and each underwriter or agent involved in the Distribution of Registrable Securities thereunder, and each Person, if any, who controls such Investor, underwriter or agent within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act or the U.S. Exchange Act to the same extent as the indemnity referred to in clause (a) above from the Corporation to the Investor, but only to the extent that any such Losses arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by the Investor; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 8.7(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Investor, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; provided further, however, that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by the Investor by way of indemnity or contribution under Section 8.7(b) and 8.7(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by the Investor (net of any commissions paid by the Investor), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by the Investor.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Section 8.7 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Section 8.7, give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the reasonable fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the indemnified party under this Section 8.7, only to the extent that such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party's ability to defend such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party will not relieve it of any liability that it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under this Section 8.7.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the U.S. Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Section 8.7 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Section 8.7 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the U.S. Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Section 8.7, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) the Investor will not be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by the Investor pursuant to such Registration Statement or Prospectus, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the U.S. Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall the Investor's liability pursuant to this Section 8.7(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by the Investor pursuant to Section 8.7(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by the Investor (net of any commission paid by the Investor), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by the Investor.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control; provided, however, that any matter expressly provided for or addressed by the foregoing provisions that is not expressly provided for or addressed by the underwriting agreement shall be controlled by the foregoing provisions.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Corporation and the Investor under this Section 8.7 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Article 8, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement or any provision(s) of this Agreement.

8.8. Sale by Affiliates

If any Registrable Securities to be sold pursuant to any Demand Registration or Piggyback Registration are owned by an Affiliate of the Investor, all references to the Investor in this Article 8 and Schedule A shall be deemed, for the purpose of such Demand Registration or Piggyback Registration, to include both the Investor and/or the Affiliates.

8.9. Rule 144 and Regulation S

The Corporation shall use commercially reasonable efforts to file the reports required to be filed by it under the U.S. Securities Act and the U.S. Exchange Act and the rules and regulations adopted by the SEC thereunder (or, if the Corporation is not required to file such reports, it will, upon the request of the Investor, make publicly available such necessary information for so long as necessary to permit sales that would otherwise be permitted by this Agreement pursuant to Rule 144 or Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act, as such rules may be amended from time to time or any similar rule or regulation hereafter adopted by the SEC), and it will take such further action as the Investor may reasonably request, all to the extent required from time to time to enable the Investor to sell Registrable Securities without registration under the U.S. Securities Act in transactions that would otherwise be permitted by this Agreement and within the limitation of the exemptions provided by (i) Rule 144 or Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act, as such rules may be amended from time to time, or (ii) any similar rule or regulation hereafter adopted by the SEC. Upon the reasonable request of the Investor, the Corporation will deliver to the Investor a written statement as to whether it has complied with such requirements and, if not, the specifics thereof.

(c) Either party may at any time change its address for service from time to time by giving notice to the other party in accordance with this Section 9.1.

9.2. Changes in Capital of the Corporation or Reorganization of the Corporation

At all times after the occurrence of any event which results in a change to the Common Shares, this Agreement will forthwith be amended and modified as necessary in order that it will apply with full force and effect, with appropriate changes, to all new securities into which the Common Shares are so changed and the parties will execute and deliver a supplemental agreement giving effect to and evidencing such necessary amendments and modifications.

Concurrent with the consummation of any reorganization, spin-off, split-off, corporate rearrangement or other similar event involving the Corporation or a Subsidiary (a "Reorganization"), the Corporation shall, or shall cause its Subsidiary to, execute and deliver an agreement identical to this Agreement (other than changes necessary to reflect the parties and type of securities) to the Investor with respect to all securities received by the Investor in connection with such Reorganization.

9.3. Non-Circumvention

The Corporation shall not take any actions or do any things for the purpose of circumventing the rights of the Investor under Article 3, including by way of the issuance of a debt or equity interest in a Subsidiary or Affiliate for the purpose of avoiding the application of Article 3. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investor acknowledges and agrees that an issuance of a debt or equity interest in a Subsidiary or Affiliate of the Corporation may be undertaken for a valid business purpose and will not, in itself, be a circumvention of the Investor's rights hereunder.

9.4. Termination

This Agreement shall terminate and neither party shall have any further rights or obligations hereunder upon the later to occur of (a) the Lock-Up Outside Date and (b) the Investor ceasing to meet the 2.5% Threshold; provided that the rights and obligations of the parties under (x) Section 6.3 and Article 7 of this Agreement shall survive so long as Investor is an Offtaker or owns Common Shares (y) Section 6.4 of this Agreement shall survive so long as Investor is an Offtaker and holds any Common Shares, and (z) Section 4.4, Section 6.1 (as it relates to clauses (d) and (e) thereto) and Article 8 shall survive for the periods set forth therein.

9.5. Amendments and Waivers

No amendment or waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall be binding on either party unless consented to in writing by such party. No waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall constitute a waiver of any other provision, nor shall any waiver of any provision of this Agreement constitute a continuing waiver unless otherwise expressly provided.

9.6. Assignment

Neither party may assign any of its rights or benefits under this Agreement, or delegate any of its duties or obligations, except with the prior written consent of the other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investor may assign and transfer all of its rights, benefits, duties and obligations under this Agreement in their entirety, without the consent of the Corporation, to an Affiliate of the Investor, provided that (i) any such assignee shall, prior to any such transfer, agree to be bound by all of the covenants of the Investor contained herein and comply with the provisions of this Agreement, and shall deliver to the Corporation a duly executed undertaking to such effect in form and substance satisfactory to the Corporation, acting reasonably, and (ii) such assignment and transfer shall not release the Investor from liability for its obligations under this Agreement.

9.7. Successors and Assigns

This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and shall be binding on and enforceable by and against the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns. In the event any Person acquires the Corporation, whether by merger, consolidation, sale of all or substantially all of the Corporation's assets or similar business combination transaction and, as a result of such transaction, the Investor receives securities of the successor or acquiring Person (or one or more of its Affiliates), the successor or acquiring Person (or its applicable Affiliates) must, as a condition to the consummation of such transaction, agree in writing to assume the Corporation's rights and obligations under Section 6.1 (as it relates to clause (d) and (e) thereto) and Article 8 of this Agreement, mutatis mutandis.

9.8. No Third Party Beneficiaries

Except as provided in Section 2.4 and Section 2.5 (with respect to the Investor Nominee), this Agreement is solely for the benefit of the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or will confer on any other Person any legal or equitable right, benefit, or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

9.11. Amendment and Restatement of Original Investor Rights Agreement

9.12. Right to Injunctive Relief

The parties agree that any breach of the terms of this Agreement by either party would result in immediate and irreparable injury and damage to the other party which could not be adequately compensated by damages. The parties therefore also agree that in the event of any such breach or any anticipated or threatened breach by the defaulting party, the other party shall be entitled to equitable relief, including by way of temporary or permanent injunction or specific performance, without having to prove damages, in addition to any other remedies (including damages) to which such other party may be entitled at law or in equity.

9.13. Counterparts

This Agreement and all documents contemplated by or delivered under or in connection with this Agreement may be executed and delivered in any number of counterparts, with the same effect as if each party had signed and delivered the same document, and all counterparts shall be construed together to be an original and shall constitute one and the same agreement.

ARTICLE III

3.1. Initial Capital Contributions; Initial Unit Issuances.

(a) As of the Effective Date, each Member has made (or has been deemed to have made) the amount of Capital Contributions set forth opposite its name on Schedule "C" under the heading "Initial Capital Contributions" (each, an "Initial Capital Contribution"). Except as set forth in Section 3.2, no Member has any obligation to make any additional Capital Contribution to the Company.

(b) As set forth in Schedule "C", the Initial Capital Contributions made by LAC include a cash contribution equal to $300,000,000 less the LAC 2024 CapEx. The Initial Capital Contributions made by LAC in the form of cash consideration shall be subject to adjustment as set out in this Section 3.1(b):

(i) At least five (5) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, LAC provided GM with a written notice setting forth a good faith estimate of the amount of LAC 2024 CapEx (such estimate, the "Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx") together with sufficient supporting documentation.

(ii) As promptly as practicable and in any event within sixty (60) days after the Effective Date, LAC will prepare or cause to be prepared, and will provide to GM a written statement (the "CapEx Statement") setting forth in reasonable detail LAC's good faith determination of the amount of LAC 2024 CapEx together with sufficient supporting documentation.

(iii) The amount of LAC 2024 CapEx set forth in the CapEx Statement will be final, conclusive and binding on the Company and the Members and constitute the "Final LAC 2024 CapEx" unless GM provides a written notice (the "CapEx Dispute Notice") to LAC no later than thirty (30) days after LAC's delivery of the CapEx Statement setting forth in reasonable detail any item on the CapEx Statement that GM has not received sufficient documentation to confirm or that GM believes has not been prepared in accordance with this Agreement. In the event that a CapEx Dispute Notice is delivered, the Members shall attempt to resolve the dispute in good faith for a period of thirty (30) days following the delivery of the CapEx Dispute Notice. If the Members resolve such dispute during such thirty (30) day period, the amount so agreed shall be the "Final LAC 2024 CapEx". If the Members are unable to resolve any such dispute during such thirty (30) day period, the dispute shall be resolved pursuant to Section 13.10, and the amount determined by the Independent Expert shall be the "Final LAC 2024 CapEx".

(iv) At such time as the Final LAC 2024 CapEx is finally determined in accordance with this Section 3.1(b):

(A) if the Final LAC 2024 CapEx is greater than the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx, the Company shall promptly (and in any event within five (5) Business Days) pay to LAC by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount in cash equal to the amount by which the Final LAC 2024 CapEx exceeds the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx; and

(B) if the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx is greater than the Final LAC 2024 CapEx, LAC shall promptly (and in any event within five (5) Business Days) pay to the Company by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount in cash equal to the amount by which the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx exceeds the Final LAC 2024 CapEx.

(c) Concurrently with the Initial Capital Contributions of the Members, the Company shall issue [●] Units in the aggregate to the Members listed on Schedule "C" in the individual amounts specified under the heading "Units".

(d) The Units of the Members (as well as the Proportionate Interests) shall be adjusted (i) upon the funding of any incremental Capital Contributions as provided in Section 3.2 or 3.3 (including, with respect to Capital Contributions required to be made by such Member when required to do so pursuant to Sections 3.2(a) or the provision of the GM Letters of Credit when required pursuant to Section 3.2(b), the requisite adjustments set forth in the Dilution Model), and (ii) upon the Transfer by a Member of any Units under Article X.

(e) For the avoidance of doubt, all equity interests in the Company existing prior to the execution of this Agreement, and all agreements in connection therewith, are hereby automatically (and without action by any Person) forfeited or terminated, as the case may be, and of no further force or effect.

3.2. Additional Required Capital Contributions.

(a) At FID, each Member shall make the amount of Capital Contributions set forth opposite their name on Schedule "C" under the heading "FID Capital Contributions" (each, an "FID Capital Contribution"); provided that GM's obligation hereunder to make the FID Capital Contribution is subject to the following conditions (which conditions may be waived by GM in its sole discretion): (i) (A) the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement and the GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement shall remain in full force and effect; provided, that, a breach by GM of the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement and the GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement or any remedy exercised or action taken by LAC in response to such breach shall not be deemed to be a failure of this condition, and (B) each of LAC and the Company shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of its obligations, covenants and agreements under this Agreement, the Investor Rights Agreement, the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement and the GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement (as applicable) required to be performed or complied with prior to such contribution (other than failures to perform or comply that are curable and have been cured prior to FID), and (ii) (A) the DOE Loan shall remain in full force and effect, and (B) the Company and its Subsidiaries (as applicable) shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan required to be performed or complied with prior to FID (other than failures to perform or comply that are curable and have been cured prior to FID). On the Effective Date, each Member shall receive Units in respect of each FID Capital Contribution as if such FID Capital Contribution had been made on the Effective Date, all as set forth on Schedule "C".

(b) Promptly, and in any event at least sixty (60) days prior to the date the Company elects as the First Advance Date (as defined in the DOE Loan), the Company shall notify GM in writing of the First Advance Date. GM shall deliver the GM Letters of Credit, in support of its obligations under this Agreement to be posted against the Construction Contingency Reserve Account, the Ramp-Up Reserve Account, and the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account to the Company at least twenty-two (22) Business Days (a "Delivery Date") prior to (x) with respect to the Construction Contingency Reserve Account and the Ramp-Up Reserve Account, the First Advance Date and (y) with respect to the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account, the date of Total Plant Transfer (as defined in the DOE Loan); provided, that at and as of each Delivery Date, (i) the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect, and (ii) the Company Group shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, required to be performed or complied with prior to or at such Delivery Date. The Company shall be permitted to deliver the GM Letters of Credit that are to be posted against the Construction Contingency Reserve Account and the Ramp-Up Reserve Account to the DOE on the First Advance Date only if at and as of the First Advance Date (w) the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect, (x) the Company Group shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, required to be performed or complied with prior to or at such time of delivery, and (y) all other conditions precedent to the initial funding under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall have been satisfied or waived. The Company shall be permitted to deliver the GM Letter of Credit to be posted against the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account to the DOE at Total Plant Transfer only if at and as of the date of Total Plant Transfer (w) the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect, (x) the Company Group shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, required to be performed or complied with prior to or at such time of delivery, and (y) all other conditions precedent to Total Plant Transfer (as defined in the DOE Loan) under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall have been satisfied or waived. Except as otherwise set forth herein, GM shall be required to deliver and maintain each GM Letter of Credit posted (or to be posted) against (A) the Construction Contingency Reserve Account and the Ramp-Up Reserve Account from the First Advance Date until the Project Completion Date (as defined in the DOE Loan), (B) the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account from Total Plant Transfer until the Release Date (as defined in the DOE Loan), (C) the Debt Service Reserve Account from the earlier of (i) the Project Completion Date and (ii) the First Principal Payment Date, until the Release Date, and (D) the O&M Reserve Account from the Project Completion Date until the Release Date. Upon the Release Date, in the event there are still any outstanding GM Letters of Credit, the Company shall promptly, and in any event within two (2) Business Days of the Release Date, notify GM in writing. Unless earlier withdrawn as set forth herein (including pursuant to this Section 3.2(b), Section 3.8 or Section 10.6), upon the receipt of written notice of the Release Date, GM shall be entitled to withdraw the outstanding GM Letters of Credit, if any, and the Company shall cause the Subsidiary Borrower to withdraw such outstanding GM Letters of Credit in accordance with the terms and obligations set forth in the DOE Loan, the DOE ASA and the Accounts Agreement. Each beneficiary of any such GM Letter of Credit, as identified in such GM Letter of Credit, shall be permitted to seek recourse under such GM Letter of Credit.

(c) Attached hereto as Schedule "J" is an illustrative example of dilution (the "Dilution Model"). In the event that either Member fails to make the Capital Contributions required to be made by such Member when required to do so pursuant to Section 3.2(a) or GM fails to deliver the GM Letters of Credit when required to do so pursuant to Section 3.2(b), such Member shall forfeit the number of Units prescribed in the Dilution Model (and for the avoidance of doubt, shall not receive any consideration in exchange for such forfeited Units) and the other Member shall have the right to be a Contributing Member pursuant to Sections 3.4(a) and (b) based on the price per Unit as set forth in the Dilution Model.

3.3. Additional Incremental Capital Contributions.

At such time when the Board of Directors determines additional capital is needed for an Approved Program and Budget (in accordance with Sections 4.5(a) and/or 4.5(b), to the extent applicable, and subject to Section 7.6) or the Manager determines additional capital is needed for a Sustaining Expense in accordance with the Management Services Agreement, the Board of Directors or the Manager shall submit to each Member a notice setting forth the amount each Member should contribute, based on the Members' Proportionate Interests at such time, and the proposed Fair Market Value of a Unit for such Capital Contribution (a "Contribution Notice"). The Members shall have the right, but not the obligation, to contribute the amounts set forth in such notification within 15 Business Days after the later to occur of (i) the date such written notification is given and (ii) the determination of Final FMV of a Unit in respect of such Capital Contribution; provided that LAC and its Permitted Transferees shall be permitted to make such Capital Contributions in advance of the determination of Final FMV, and the other Members shall have the right to participate and make Capital Contributions on a pro rata basis promptly following the determination of Final FMV (and in any event, such Capital Contributions, if applicable, shall be made within five (5) Business Days of such determination). Each Member shall receive Units in respect of each additional Capital Contribution contemplated by this Section 3.3 based on the Final FMV of a Unit for such Capital Contribution.

3.4. Underfunding of Capital Contribution.

(a) If a Member fails to contribute the entire amount of capital such Member is required to contribute pursuant to Section 3.2(a), if GM fails to provide the GM Letters of Credit required to be provided pursuant to Section 3.2(b) or if a Member fails to contribute the entire amount of capital allocated to such Member as provided in a Contribution Notice delivered pursuant to Section 3.3, then such Member shall be a "Non-Contributing Member." The aggregate amount the Non-Contributing Members failed to contribute is referred to as the "Underfunded Amount". A member that contributed its proportionate share of the required capital pursuant to Section 3.2(a), the GM Letters of Credit pursuant to Section 3.2(b) or the capital call provided in its Contribution Notice delivered pursuant to Section 3.3, as applicable, shall be referred to as a "Contributing Member".

(b) The Manager shall deliver a notice to the Contributing Members the amount of the capital call which the Non-Contributing Members failed to contribute (a "Non-Contribution Notice"). A Contributing Member shall have the right (but not the obligation) to elect by notice to the Board of Directors delivered within 10 days after its receipt of the Non-Contribution Notice, to contribute an amount up to its respective Proportionate Interest (as between Contributing Members only) (an "Excess Contribution") of the Underfunded Amount. If a Contributing Member elects to make an Excess Contribution, then it shall be treated as a Capital Contribution, in which case the Contributing Member shall receive Units corresponding to the amount of such Excess Contribution based on the Dilution Model, in respect of contributions pursuant to Sections 3.2(a) or in substitution of the GM Letters of Credit, or the Final FMV of a Unit, in respect of a contribution pursuant to Section 3.3 (and the Proportionate Interests of the Members shall be adjusted accordingly).

3.5. Preemptive Rights.

(a) Except for any issuance pursuant to Sections 3.1, 3.2, 3.3 and 3.4, the Company shall not issue, sell or exchange, agree to issue, sell or exchange, or reserve or set aside for issuance, sale or exchange, (i) any Equity Securities of the Company to any Person (other than a Restricted Party) or (ii) any debt securities of the Company to any Member (collectively, the "Preemptive Securities") unless, in each case, the Company shall have first offered to sell to each Member who is a Non-Defaulting Member (each, a "Preemptive Holder") such Preemptive Holder's pro rata share of the Preemptive Securities, at a price and on such other terms as shall have been specified by the Company in writing delivered to each such Preemptive Holder (the "Preemptive Offer"), which Preemptive Offer shall by its terms remain open and irrevocable for a period of at least ten (10) calendar days from the date it is delivered by the Company (the "Preemptive Offer Period"). Each Preemptive Holder may elect to purchase all or any portion of such Preemptive Holder's pro rata share of the Preemptive Securities as specified in the Preemptive Offer at the price and upon the terms specified therein by delivering written notice of such election to the Company as soon as practical but in any event within the Preemptive Offer Period. Each Preemptive Holder's "pro rata share" of Preemptive Securities shall be determined as follows: the total number of Preemptive Securities, multiplied by its Proportionate Interest. To the extent a Preemptive Holder elects to purchase less than its full pro rata share of the Preemptive Securities, each other Preemptive Holder shall have an additional option to purchase all or any portion of the balance of any such remaining Preemptive Securities on the terms specified in the Preemptive Offer by delivering written notice to the Company within ten (10) calendar days of the expiration of the applicable Preemptive Offer Period of its election to exercise such option.

(b) In lieu of complying with the timing of the Preemptive Offer set forth in Section 3.5(a), the Company may elect to deliver a Preemptive Offer to each Preemptive Holder within thirty (30) days after the issuance of the Preemptive Securities if the proceeds of such issuance are, in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors, necessary to be raised prior to the completion of the process described in Section 3.5(a). Any such delayed Preemptive Offer shall also describe the type, price, and terms of the Preemptive Securities. Each Preemptive Holder shall have ten (10) calendar days from the date notice is given to elect to purchase up to the relevant percentage with respect to such issuance as provided in Section 3.5(a).

3.6. Loans by Members to the Company.

Any loan by a Member to the Company made with the required consent of the Board of Directors and/or Members shall be separately entered on the books of the Company as a loan to the Company and not as a Capital Contribution and shall be evidenced by appropriate documentation approved by the Members in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

3.7. Return of Contributions.

Except as expressly set forth herein, no Member shall be entitled to the return of any part of its Capital Contributions or to be paid interest on either its Capital Account or its Capital Contributions. No Capital Contribution that has not been returned shall constitute a liability of the Company or any Member. A Member is not required to contribute or to lend cash or property to the Company to enable the Company to return any Member's Capital Contributions.

3.8. Reserve Accounts; Withdrawal of GM Letters of Credit.

The Company shall cause its applicable Subsidiaries to comply with all of the terms and obligations under the DOE Loan, the Accounts Agreement, the DOE ASA and each other applicable Transaction Document (as defined in the DOE Loan). While any amount of the GM Letters of Credit remains outstanding, the Company shall cause the Subsidiary Borrower to fund the DOE Reserve Accounts with any of the cash of the Subsidiary Borrower available to be used for such purpose, including any of the cash in the Restricted Payment Suspense Account (as defined in the DOE Loan), so that the cash deposited in each of the applicable DOE Reserve Accounts that requires funding pursuant to the Accounts Agreement is equal to the Account Funding Requirement (as defined in the DOE Loan) for such DOE Reserve Account, until the face amount of the GM Letters of Credit is reduced to $0. On a quarterly basis (once applicable), the Company shall, and shall cause the Subsidiary Borrower to, where applicable, request that the DOE allow for the withdrawal of the GM Letters of Credit in accordance with Section 2.04(c) of the DOE ASA and Section 2.03(f) of the Accounts Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Company shall ensure that the Subsidiary Borrower does not distribute any cash to the Company, and the Company in turn does not make any distribution to Members pursuant to Sections 9.1 and 9.2, until all the GM Letters of Credit are completely withdrawn and the face amount of the GM Letters of Credit are reduced to $0. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the GM Letters of Credit shall be withdrawn no later than three (3) Business Days after notice of the Release Date, as set forth in Section 3.2(b). For the avoidance of doubt, once the face amount under any of the outstanding GM Letters of Credit is reduced, the face amount under the GM Letters of Credit shall not be increased.

ARTICLE IV
UNITS; MEMBERS

4.1. Units.

The Board of Directors shall have the authority to issue, on behalf of the Company, an unlimited number of Units, subject to compliance with Sections 3.3, 4.5(a) and 4.5(b). Units may be issued, and the Persons to whom such Units are issued, if not already Members, may be admitted as additional Members only after, in each case (a) Board Approval thereof, (b) Supermajority Approval and/or Specified Approval, if required pursuant to this Agreement, and (c) such Person executes a Joinder and any other agreements and instruments in form and substance as the Board of Directors may deem necessary or desirable to effect such admission. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Company may not issue Units or any Equity Securities of the Company to any Restricted Party.

4.2. Unit Certificates.

Units may be (but need not be) represented by certificates in such form as the Board of Directors shall from time to time approve, but shall be recorded in a register thereof maintained by the Company. If the Board of Directors elects to certificate the Units and a mutilated Unit certificate is surrendered to the Company or if a Member claims and submits an affidavit or other evidence, satisfactory to the Board of Directors, to the effect that the Unit certificate has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the Company shall issue a replacement Unit certificate if the requirements of the Board of Directors are met. If required by the Board of Directors, such Member must provide an indemnity bond, or other form of indemnity, sufficient in the judgment of the Board of Directors to protect the Company against any loss which may be suffered. The Company may charge such Member for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in replacing a Unit certificate which has been mutilated, lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken. Units issued as of the Effective Date are not certificated.

4.3. Limited Liability.

The liability of each Member shall be limited as provided by the Act. No Member shall be personally liable under any judgment of a court, or in any other manner, for any debt, obligation or liability of the Company, whether such debt, obligation or liability arises in contract, tort or otherwise, solely by reason of being a Member.

4.4. Meetings; Written Consent.

(a) Any Member may call a special meeting of the Members on not less than five (5) Business Days' notice to the other Member(s). In case of emergency, reasonable notice of a special meeting shall suffice. Meetings of the Members shall be held by teleconference or at the principal office of the Company or at such other location as agreed by the Members. The Members may hold meetings without complying with the above notice requirements if all Members are present at a meeting and waive the applicable notice requirements.

(b) There shall be a quorum at a Members' meeting if Members holding at least 75% of the outstanding Units are present at the meeting. If a quorum is not present within 30 minutes following the time at which the meeting is scheduled to take place, any Member present may adjourn the meeting to the same day in the immediately following week (or, if that day is not a Business Day, the next following Business Day) at the same time and place. The Member adjourning the meeting shall make a good faith effort to give notice to the other Member(s) of the rescheduled meeting but otherwise shall be under no obligation to give the other Member notice thereof. Only those items included on the agenda for the original meeting may be acted upon at such a rescheduled meeting, but any additional matters may be considered with the consent of all Members; provided, that no such items may include any matter set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) without Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable.

(c) A Member may, upon notice provided to the other Member(s), invite a reasonably limited number of other persons who have a reasonable business purpose for being present, to attend the relevant portion of any meeting of the Members; provided that each other Member consents, which consent need not be in writing, may be given by acquiescence and may not be unreasonably withheld. If personnel employed by the Company Group are required to attend a Member meeting, reasonable costs incurred in connection with such attendance shall be paid for by the Company. All other costs in respect of invited persons shall be paid for by the Member who extended the invitation.

(d) Each notice of a meeting shall include an itemized agenda prepared by the Member responsible for calling the meeting, but any additional matters may be considered with the consent of all Members; provided, that no matter set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may be considered without Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. The Manager shall prepare minutes of the applicable meeting, including a rescheduled meeting, and shall distribute a copy of such minutes to the Members within ten (10) days after the meeting. The minutes must be signed by the Members in attendance. The minutes shall be the official record of the decisions made by the Members and shall be binding on the Company, and the Members.

(e) Members may attend meetings of the Members by telephone or by video conference as long as all participants are able to hear and speak to each other and decisions are confirmed in writing by the Members. Meetings of the Members shall not be required for any purpose. Any action required or permitted to be taken by Members may be taken without a meeting if the action is evidenced by a written consent describing the action taken, signed by the requisite Members.

4.5. Matters Requiring Additional Approval.

(a) Supermajority Approval. The Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to) take any of the following actions unless Supermajority Approval is first obtained:

(i) effecting the sale and transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company (other than as part of a Drag-Along Sale);

(ii) effecting the surrender or abandonment of any material part or parts of the Properties, including the area contemplated by Phase 1 and Phase 2;

(iii) changing the business purpose of the Company;

(iv) electing to permanently terminate the operations of the Project or to suspend operations or place the Project on care and maintenance; and

(v) effecting any liquidation, insolvency, bankruptcy, creditors' protection or any other Insolvency Event.

(b) Specified Approval. The Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to) take any of the following actions unless Specified Approval is first obtained:

(i) changing the size or composition of the Board of Directors of the Company, subject to Sections 5.2(a)(i) and 5.2(a)(ii);

(ii) authorizing, creating or issuing any Units or other equity securities, or reclassifying any outstanding Units into any limited liability company interest or other equity security, that is in either case senior to the Units as to rights and privileges with respect to distributions, liquidation or redemption;

(iii) amending this Agreement, the Articles or any other organizational document of the Company;

(iv) any change in the production process that is reasonably likely to result in a change to the specifications of the lithium product produced by the Project and provided to GM under any Offtake Agreements, unless GM is no longer utilizing its offtake rights under the applicable agreement evidencing such rights;

(v) effecting the sale and transfer of assets of the Company Group having an aggregate value of greater than $5,000,000, other than (A) a Drag-Along Sale, (B) any sale of lithium in the ordinary course of business or (C) any sale of an asset that is a non-productive asset with a book value after reflecting depreciation of not greater than $10,000,000;

(vi) incurring debt for borrowed money (excluding the DOE Loan) by the Company Group in excess of $10,000,000 on an individual basis or $30,000,000 in the aggregate, or making any material and adverse change to the terms of any such borrowed money debt;

(vii) entering into or making material amendments to any Affiliate Contracts;

(viii) amending the distribution policy set forth in Section 9.1;

(ix) entering into or making any material amendments to any contract on behalf of the Company or Subsidiary which contemplates (i) aggregate payments or receipts in excess of $10,000,000 in any twelve (12) month period or (ii) a term greater than three (3) years, other than (A) any Specified Offtake Agreement, (B) any purchase order of lithium conducted on a spot basis, which, for avoidance of doubt, means at a single point in time such that only a single exchange of product takes place, so long as the price per unit within such purchase order is equal to or greater than market price, or (C) any contract in connection with a Drag-Along Sale;

(x) effecting the settlement of any material claim or dispute that involves payment of more than $1,000,000 or that would require Specified Approval in accordance with the Human Rights Plan;

(xi) electing to pursue the development and construction of Phase 2;

(xii) effecting the acquisition of a material business or assets outside of the ordinary course of business;

(xiii) effecting the approval or amendment of an Approved Program and Budget, in each case that would increase the expenses, in the aggregate, by more than 10% as compared to the expenses as set forth in the prior Approved Program and Budget;

(xiv) effecting the termination or cancellation of an Approved Program and Budget;

(xv) making any material amendment to the DOE Loan, including any amendment that increases the amounts required under the Construction Contingency Reserve Account or the Ramp-Up Reserve Account, reduces any of the information provided pursuant to Section 7.7(e) or requires consent for any matter or action otherwise contemplated by this Agreement;

(xvi) taking any action under the Employee Incentive Plan, including in relation to the economic terms thereof or the participants therein, if and to the extent such action would result in the Company being obligated to reimburse Incentive Plan Costs in any given year of an amount greater than the Incentive Plan Costs set forth in the then current Approved Program and Budget;

(xvii) any determination subject to Specified Approval as set forth in Schedule "E"; and

(xviii) making any expenditures that would result in the aggregate expenditures of the Company Group exceeding the aggregate expenditures set forth in the current Approved Program and Budget by more than 10% (other than Sustaining Expenses).

(c) GM Approval. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, for so long as GM and its Affiliates hold 10% or more of the issued and outstanding Units, the Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to), unless the written consent of GM is first obtained, (i) effect any material tax change that could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect in any material respect on GM or its Affiliates, (ii) eliminate the Human Rights Committee, (iii) alter the composition of the Human Rights Committee such that no GM Designee is a member, (iv) alter the general scope, objectives, or procedures of the Human Rights Committee, (v) amend the Human Rights Plan or (vi) permit any member of the Company Group to enter into any contract that would require the consent of a Third Party for the Transfer of any Units by GM or otherwise restrict any of GM's Transfer rights under this Agreement (including GM's put rights under Sections 7.9 and 10.6); provided, that, entering into any contract that contains a restriction on the change of Control of the Company shall not require GM's approval under this Section 4.5(c).

(d) LAC Approval. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, for so long as LAC and its Affiliates hold 10% or more of the issued and outstanding Units, the Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to) effect any material tax change that could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect in any material respect on LAC or its Affiliates unless the written consent of LAC is first obtained.

4.6. No Member Fees.

No Member shall be entitled to compensation for attendance at Member meetings or for time spent in its capacity as a Member.

4.7. No State Law Partnership.

The Members intend that the Company not be a partnership (including a limited partnership) or joint venture, and that no Member, Manager or Director be a partner or joint venturer of any other Member, Manager or Director or any purposes other than federal and state tax purposes, and this Agreement may not be construed to suggest otherwise.

4.8. Business Opportunities.

Each of the Company and the Members (in their own name and in the name and on behalf of the Company and its Subsidiaries) acknowledges and agrees that the Company (on behalf of itself and its Subsidiaries) hereby renounces any interest or expectancy in any business opportunity, transaction or other matter in which any of the Members participates or desires to participate and that involves any aspect related to the business or affairs of any of the Company and its Subsidiaries (each, a "Renounced Business Opportunity"). None of the Members shall have any obligation to communicate or offer any Renounced Business Opportunity to the Company, its Subsidiaries or any Member thereof and may pursue any Renounced Business Opportunity solely for its own account. Notwithstanding the foregoing, or anything to the contrary in this Agreement, LAC hereby covenants and agrees, and the Company hereby acknowledges and agrees, that any business opportunity, transaction or other matter in which LAC or any of its Affiliates participates or desires to participate that involves any aspect of the Business shall solely be conducted by and through the Company and its Subsidiaries, provided, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing herein shall restrict any financing or fundraising activities of LAC and its Affiliates (excluding the Company Group) that do not involve directly the conduct of the Business or otherwise seek to circumvent the protections set forth in this Section 4.8.

4.9. No Fiduciary Duties.

To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, a Member, in exercising any of its approval rights under this Agreement, shall (i) represent its own interests and (ii) be entitled to act or omit to act considering only such factors, including its own separate interests, as such Member chooses to consider. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, any action of a Member or failure to act, taken or omitted in good faith reliance on the foregoing provision shall not, as between the Company and the other Members, on the one hand, and such Member, on the other hand, constitute a breach of any duty (including any fiduciary or other similar duty, to the extent that such exists under the Act or any other applicable law, rule or regulation) on the part of such Member. To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, each Member, in its capacity as such, shall not owe any fiduciary duties to the Company or any of the other Members.

ARTICLE V
COMPANY MANAGEMENT

5.1. Management.

(a) The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by or under the direction of a board of directors (the "Board of Directors"), to whom, subject to the limitations set forth in this Agreement and as otherwise required by the Act, the Members hereby delegate, and in which is vested, the full, exclusive and complete power, authority and discretion to manage and control the administration, affairs and operations of the Company. Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, all actions, determinations, elections, judgments, approvals, considerations, amendments, calls or designations taken or omitted to be taken by the Board of Directors pursuant to this Agreement (whether to the Board of Directors' satisfaction, sole discretion or otherwise) shall be taken or omitted to be taken only with Board Approval and, to the extent applicable, Supermajority Approval and/or Specified Approval.

(b) To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, a Person, in performing their duties and obligations as a Director under this Agreement, shall (i) serve in such capacity to represent the interests of the Member that designated such Director and (ii) be entitled to act or omit to act at the direction of the Members that designated such Person to serve on the Board of Directors, considering only such factors, including the separate interests of the Member that designated such Director and factors specified by such Member, as such Director chooses to consider. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, any action of a Director or failure to act, taken or omitted in good faith reliance on the foregoing provision shall not, as between the Company and the other Members, on the one hand, and the Director or the Member designating such Director, on the other hand, constitute a breach of any duty (including any fiduciary or other similar duty, to the extent that such exists under the Act or any other applicable law, rule or regulation) on the part of such Director or such designating Member or any other Director or Member. To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, none of the Directors shall owe any fiduciary duties to the Company or any of the Members; provided, however, that the Board of Directors shall act in accordance with the implied contractual covenant of good faith and fair dealing consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

(c) Unless explicitly provided otherwise in this Agreement, including Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b), the Board of Directors shall have the power, right and authority on behalf and in the name of the Company and its Subsidiaries to carry out any and all of the objects and purposes of the Company and its Subsidiaries and to perform all acts which the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, may deem necessary or desirable.

(d) The Company is solely responsible for the operation, maintenance and control of the Company's assets and facilities. Nothing herein shall be taken to impose any duties, responsibilities or obligations, express or implied, on the Members or their respective Affiliates (other than the Company) in connection with, or relating to, compliance with, or liability under, applicable laws relating, in full or in part, to the protection of the environment, natural resources or human health or safety, including those laws relating to the storage, generation, use, handling, manufacture, processing, transportation, treatment, release and disposal of hazardous substances or petroleum or any fraction thereof. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager in its capacity as such shall have such duties, responsibilities and obligations as set forth in the Management Services Agreement.

(e) Pursuant to the Management Services Agreement, the Board of Directors and the Members have delegated to the Manager the authority to perform the Services (as defined in the Management Services Agreement) and, subject to the terms of the Management Services Agreement and this Agreement (including any matter requiring Board Approval, Supermajority Approval, or Specified Approval), no additional delegation of authority or approval of the Board of Directors, the Members, or any other Person shall be required for the Manager to perform the Services in the manner required or contemplated by the Management Services Agreement.

5.2. Board of Directors.

(a) Organization and Composition. The Board of Directors shall initially consist of five Directors, three of whom shall be appointed by LAC (the "LAC Designees") and two of whom shall be appointed by GM (the "GM Designees"), subject to adjustment as set forth pursuant to Sections 5.2(a)(i) and 5.2(a)(ii) below.

(i) For so long as any Member holds a majority of the Proportionate Interests, such Member shall be entitled to appoint such number of Directors that would result in the minimum number of Directors necessary for such Member to hold a majority of the Board of Directors. Neither LAC nor GM shall be entitled to appoint a Director if the aggregate of the Proportionate Interest held by such Member together with any of its Permitted Transferees is less than 10%.

(ii) Each Member admitted after the funding of the Initial Capital Contributions with a Proportionate Interest equal to or greater than 20% shall be entitled to appoint one Director. No such Member shall be entitled to appoint a Director if the aggregate of the Proportionate Interest held by such Member together with any of its Permitted Transferees is less than 20%.

(iii) If at any time a Member's Proportionate Interest decreases such that the number of such Member's appointees then in office as Directors exceeds the number of Directors that such Member is entitled to appoint, a sufficient number of Directors appointed by it shall be automatically removed as a Director so that the number of Directors appointed by that Member equals the number of Directors that such Member is entitled to appoint.

(iv) Each Member may remove any Director appointed by it at any time with or without cause, effective upon written notice to Company by the appointing Member and, following any such removal, the appointing Member may appoint another Director (to the extent such appointing Member is otherwise entitled to do so in accordance with this Section 5.2).

(v) The Company and Members may not appoint or remove Directors except in accordance with the appointment rights provided by this Section 5.2.

(vi) Each Director appointed pursuant to this Section shall be an individual who is an employee of its appointing Member or such Member's Controlled Affiliates and is qualified to act as a Director under all applicable Legal Requirements, but shall not be required to be a Member of the Company.

(vii) Each Director may provide its appointing Member with any information acquired by the Director in their capacity as a Director of the Company.

(b) Voting. For purposes of determining whether the voting thresholds referenced in this Agreement have been satisfied, (i) the vote of all Directors who were appointed by the same Member shall be cast in the same manner (either for or against a measure, or otherwise) and (ii) any single Director may exercise all of the voting power of the Directors appointed by the same Member. In the event that there are two Members, each Director shall have one vote. In the event that there are three or more Members, each Director shall have the number of votes equal to the Proportionate Interest of the Member who appointed such Director (and if a Member is entitled to appoint multiple Directors, then the collective vote of the Directors who were appointed by the same Member shall be equal to the Proportionate Interest of the Member who appointed such Directors as of the time of the applicable vote).

(c) Meetings. Meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at least quarterly, at such times and at such place outside of Canada as the Board of Directors shall determine. The Manager, on behalf of the Board of Directors, shall give not less than 10 Business Days' notice to the Directors of such regular meetings. In addition to regularly scheduled meetings, any Director may call a special meeting of the Board of Directors upon five Business Days' notice. In case of emergency, reasonable notice of a special meeting shall suffice. There shall be a quorum if at least one Director appointed by each designating Member is present; provided that a majority of Directors may constitute a quorum without at least one Director appointed by each Member if all Directors received proper notice of such meeting in accordance with this Section 5.2(c); provided further, that notwithstanding any such majority quorum, matters set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may not be considered without the presence of Directors that may provide Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. Each notice of a special meeting shall include an agenda or statement of the purpose of the meeting prepared by the Director calling the meeting, but any matters may be considered at the meeting; provided, matters set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may not be considered without the presence of Directors that may provide Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. If a quorum is not present within 30 minutes following the time at which the meeting is scheduled to take place, the meeting shall be adjourned to the same day in the immediately following week (or, if that day is not a Business Day, the next following Business Day) at the same time and place. The Manager, on behalf of the Board of Directors, shall give notice to the Directors of the rescheduled meeting. Only those items included on the agenda for the original meeting may be acted upon at such a rescheduled meeting, but any additional matters may be considered with the consent of all Directors; provided, matters set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may not be considered without the presence of Directors that may provide Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, in no event shall any matter requiring Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval be voted on at a meeting where the requisite Directors are not present. Attendance of a Director at any meeting of the Board of Directors (including by telephone) shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where such Director attends the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and notifies the other Directors at such meeting of such purpose.

(d) Reliance on Books, Reports and Records. Each Director shall, in the performance of their duties, be fully protected in relying in good faith upon the books of account or reports made to the Company by any of its Officers, the Manager, or by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser selected with reasonable care by the Board of Directors, or in relying in good faith upon other records of the Company. Furthermore, each Director (in such Person's capacity as a Director) may rely, and shall incur no liability in acting or refraining from acting, upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order, bond, debenture, paper, document, signature or writing reasonably believed by it to be genuine, and may rely on a certificate signed by an officer, agent or representative of any Person in order to ascertain any fact with respect to such Person or within such Person's knowledge, in each case unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such reliance, action or inaction, such Director engaged in bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing.

(e) Costs and Expenses. The Company shall pay or reimburse the reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of the Directors in connection with the participation of the Directors in meetings of the Board of Directors (and committees thereof).

(i) Meetings of the Board of Directors may be held by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all Persons participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in a meeting by such communications equipment shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

(ii) A Director may, upon notice provided to the other Directors, invite a reasonably limited number of other persons who have a reasonable business purpose for being present, to attend the relevant portion of any meeting of the Board of Directors; provided that the Director(s) representing the other Member(s) consent, which consent need not be in writing, may be given by acquiescence and may not be unreasonably withheld. If personnel employed by the Company Group are required to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors, reasonable costs incurred in connection with such attendance shall be paid for by the Company. All other costs in respect of invited persons shall be paid for by the Member whose appointed Director extended the invitation.

(g) Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting and without prior notice if the action is evidenced by a written consent describing the action taken and signed by Directors representing the requisite number of votes that would be required to take the applicable action at a meeting of the Board of Directors and, when so signed, such written consent shall constitute Board Approval, Supermajority Approval and/or Specified Approval, as applicable, of such action, and notice of any such action taken shall be provided to those Directors who have not consented in writing promptly following the taking of such action.

5.3. Officers.

The Board of Directors may appoint such officers of the Company, including the chief executive officer of the Company, as the Board of Directors may deem necessary or advisable (collectively, the "Officers"), and such Officers shall have the power, authority and duties delegated herein or otherwise in writing by the Board of Directors. Officers may be given titles or may be designated as "authorized persons." To the extent authorized by the Board of Directors, any Officer may act on behalf of, bind and execute and deliver documents in the name and on behalf of the Company and its Subsidiaries, in each case, consistent with Approved Program and Budget and subject to Section 4.5. Each Officer (in such Person's capacity as an Officer) shall have such fiduciary duties that an officer of the Company would have if the Company were a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware.

5.4. Related Party Matters.

(a) Related Party Matters. "Related Party Matters" shall include any member of the Company Group, on the one hand, entering into any Affiliate Contract with any Member or Affiliate of such Member (in its capacity as counterparty to the applicable Affiliate Contract, arrangement or dealing, a "Related Party", and any Member who is, or whose Affiliate is, the Related Party, the "Conflicted Member"), on the other hand, and any decision or action by a Company Group member to:

(i) amend any Affiliate Contract with any Related Party;

(ii) affirmatively waive or release any of its rights or remedies in respect of a breach of, or a failure by any Related Party to comply with the terms of such Affiliate Contract;

(iii) affirmatively waive or release any of its rights or remedies in respect of any liabilities owed to the Company Group under such Affiliate Contract;

(iv) declare a default or exercise remedies after a default under such Affiliate Contract or exercise remedies of the Company Group member under such Affiliate Contract, or terminate, give notice to terminate or extend any such Affiliate Contract;

(v) defend any claim brought against a Company Group member by a Related Party under any such Affiliate Contract; or

(vi) bring any claim in respect of a breach or otherwise against a Related Party under any such Affiliate Contract.

(b) Approval Required. Neither the Company nor any Subsidiary of the Company shall take any action in respect of, and neither the Board of Directors nor any Member shall approve, a Related Party Matter without the prior approval of each Member that is not a Conflicted Member (each, a "Non-Conflicted Member") and that holds, together with its Affiliates, a Proportionate Interest of at least 10%.

(c) Process in Respect of Related Party Matters.

(i) If this Agreement provides, or the Company Group (or any Member) identifies, that a Related Party Matter has arisen or a course of action with respect to a Related Party Matter needs to be decided upon, the Board of Directors (through the Manager, acting on behalf of the Company) or the relevant Member becoming aware of the same shall promptly give a notice in writing to the other Members. Any such notice shall identify and explain the nature of the Related Party Matter and the proposed course of action, together with reasonable supporting documents, materials or information to enable the Non-Conflicted Member(s) to develop an informed view of such Related Party Matter and a proposed course of action for such Related Party Matter.

(ii) The Members shall cooperate in good faith to agree on the course of action to be taken by the Company Group with respect to the relevant Related Party Matter no later than fifteen (15) Business Days after the date on which notice was served on the Members in accordance with Section 5.4(c)(i).

(iii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) any Related Party Matter shall not require the consent, authorization or approval of any Conflicted Member or the Board of Directors, and (ii) the Non-Conflicted Member(s) may conduct or cause to be conducted any such Related Party Matter on behalf of the Company; provided that the Non-Conflicted Member(s) act in good faith and in the best interest of the Company.

(iv) If there are two or more Non-Conflicted Members, and such Non-Conflicted Members are unable to agree on a course of action pursuant to Section 5.4(c)(ii) in a manner that would satisfy Section 5.4(b), then any Non-Conflicted Member may refer the matter to an Independent Expert. Each such Non-Conflicted Member shall propose a course of action (solely with respect to the Related Party Matter) to the Independent Expert, who shall determine which proposed course of action is in the best interests of the Company, and the Company shall implement such action or course of action.

(v) Prior to a Non-Conflicted Member exercising its rights under Section 5.4(c)(iii) with respect to any Related Party Matter, all Non-Conflicted Members must agree on the applicable action pursuant to Section 5.4(c)(ii) or such Non-Conflicted Member must follow the course of action determined by the Independent Expert in accordance with Section 5.4(c)(iv). Any Non-Conflicted Member so taking any action with respect to any Related Party Matter, such Non-Conflicted Member shall provide written notice to the Company, and the Company shall have ten (10) days to take, or cause the applicable Subsidiary to take, such action.

5.5. Company Employees. By no later than April 30, 2027, LAC shall, and shall cause the Company to, implement a roles and responsibilities organizational chart that has all employees of the Company Group reporting, directly or indirectly, to the General Manager.

ARTICLE VI
INDEMNIFICATION

6.1. Power to Indemnify in Actions, Suits or Proceedings.

The Company shall indemnify any Covered Person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative by reason of the fact that such Person is a Covered Person (each, a "Proceeding"), against any and all losses, claims, expenses (including attorneys' fees), costs, liabilities, damages, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such Covered Person in connection with such Proceeding; provided, however, that such Covered Person shall not be indemnified by the Company if there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of the matter for which such Covered Person is seeking indemnification hereunder, and taking into account the acknowledgments and agreements set forth in this Agreement, such Covered Person committed bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing or, in the case of an Officer (in such Person's capacity as such), such Officer did not meet the applicable standard of conduct under Section 6.8. Any indemnification provided hereunder shall be satisfied solely out of the assets of the Company (including available insurance coverage, if any), as an expense of the Company and, accordingly, no Covered Person shall be subject to personal liability by reason of these indemnification provisions.

Except as provided in Section 6.3, any indemnification under this Article VI (unless ordered by a court) shall be made by the Company only as authorized in the specific case upon a determination that indemnification of a Covered Person is proper in the circumstances because he or she has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 6.1. The determination of whether a Covered Person has met the standard of conduct that entitled it to indemnification hereunder shall be made by the Board of Directors. To the extent that a Covered Person has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any Proceeding referred to in Section 6.1, or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, he, she or it shall be indemnified against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by him, her or it in connection therewith, without the necessity of authorization in the specific case.

6.3. Expenses Payable in Advance.

Upon written request by a Covered Person, the Company shall pay reasonable expenses incurred (or reasonably expected to be incurred) by such Covered Person in defending or investigating a Proceeding in advance of (a) the final disposition of such Proceeding and (b) the determination of whether such Covered Person has met the standard of conduct that entitles such Covered Person to indemnification hereunder; provided, however, prior to payment (or advancement) by the Company of any such expenses, the Covered Person shall provide an unsecured undertaking to the Company to repay all such amounts if it shall ultimately be determined that such Covered Person is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company as authorized by this Article VI; provided, further, that in no event shall the Company be required to pay or advance to any Covered Person that is not an employee, director or officer of LAC or its Affiliates any amounts in connection with a Proceeding initiated by (i) such Covered Person or (ii) the Company or any of its Subsidiaries.

6.4. Non-Exclusivity of Indemnification and Advancement of Expenses.

The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by or granted pursuant to this Article VI shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses may be entitled under any agreement, contract, a vote of Members or Board of Directors or pursuant to the direction (howsoever embodied) of any court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise, both as to action in their official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office, it being the policy of the Company that indemnification of the Persons specified in Section 6.1 shall be made to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law. The provisions of this Article VI shall not be deemed to preclude the indemnification of any Person who is not specified in Section 6.1, but whom the Company has the power or obligation to indemnify under the provisions of the Act or otherwise.

6.5. Survival of Indemnification and Advancement of Expenses.

The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this Article VI shall, unless otherwise provided when authorized or ratified, inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of a Covered Person. Any amendment, modification or repeal of this Section 6.5 or any provision hereof shall be prospective only and shall not in any way affect the limitations on liability of the Covered Persons, or terminate, reduce or impair the right of any past, present or future Covered Person, under and in accordance with the provisions of this Article VI as in effect immediately prior to such amendment, modification or repeal with respect to claims arising from or relating to matters occurring, in whole or in part, prior to such amendment, modification or repeal, regardless of when such claims may arise or be asserted.

6.6. Indemnification of Employees and Agents.

The Company may, to the extent authorized from time to time by the Board of Directors, provide rights to indemnification and the advancement of expenses to employees and agents of the Company Group similar to those conferred in this Article VI to Covered Persons.

6.7. Severability.

The provisions of this Article VI are intended to comply with the Act. To the extent that any provision of this Article VI authorizes or requires indemnification or the advancement of expenses contrary to the Act or the Articles, the Company's power to indemnify or advance expenses under such provision shall be limited to that permitted by the Act and the Articles and any limitation required by the Act or the Articles shall not affect the validity of any other provision of this Article VI.

6.8. Limitation of Liability.

(a) Each Covered Person may rely, and shall incur no liability in acting or refraining from acting, upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order, bond, debenture, paper, document, signature or writing reasonably believed by it to be genuine, and may rely on a certificate signed by an officer, agent or representative of any Person in order to ascertain any fact with respect to such Person or within such Person's knowledge, in each case unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such reliance, action or inaction, such Covered Person committed bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Covered Person shall be liable to the Company or to any Member for losses sustained or liabilities incurred as a result of any act or omission (in relation to the Company, any transaction, any investment or any business decision or action, including for breach of duties including fiduciary duties) taken or omitted by such Covered Person, unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such act or omission, and taking into account the acknowledgments and agreements set forth in this Agreement, such Covered Person engaged in bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing.

(c) To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Officer (in such Person's capacity as such) shall be liable to the Company or to any Member for losses sustained or liabilities incurred as a result of any act or omission (in relation to the Company, any transaction, any investment or any business decision or action, including for breach of duties including fiduciary duties) taken or omitted by such Officer (in such Person's capacity as such), unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such act or omission, and taking into account the acknowledgments and agreements set forth in this Agreement, such Officer (in such Person's capacity as such) would have had such liability for such act or omission that an officer of the Company would have if the Company were a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware.

(d) NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING IN THIS AGREEMENT TO THE CONTRARY, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, NO MEMBER (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A MEMBER) OR DIRECTOR (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A DIRECTOR) SHALL BE LIABLE TO THE COMPANY, TO ANY MEMBER OR TO ANY OTHER PERSON MAKING CLAIMS ON BEHALF OF THE FOREGOING FOR CONSEQUENTIAL, EXEMPLARY, PUNITIVE, INCIDENTAL, INDIRECT OR SPECIAL DAMAGES, INCLUDING DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF PROFITS, LOSS OF USE OR REVENUE OR LOSSES BY REASON OF COST OF CAPITAL, ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY OR ANY OF ITS CONTROLLED AFFILIATES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER SUCH CLAIMS ARE BASED ON CONTRACT, TORT (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), STRICT LIABILITY, VIOLATION OF ANY APPLICABLE DECEPTIVE TRADE PRACTICES ACT OR SIMILAR LAW OR ANY OTHER LEGAL OR EQUITABLE DUTY OR PRINCIPLE, AND THE COMPANY AND EACH MEMBER HEREBY RELEASE EACH OTHER MEMBER (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A MEMBER) AND DIRECTOR (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A DIRECTOR) FOR ANY SUCH DAMAGES; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH IN THIS SECTION 6.8(D) SHALL NOT APPLY WITH RESPECT TO DAMAGES ARISING FROM ANY FAILURE BY A MEMBER TO MAKE ANY CAPITAL CONTRIBUTION REQUIRED TO BE MADE IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 3.2(a) OR SECTION 3.2(b).

(e) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Section 6.8 shall limit or waive any claims against, actions, rights to sue, other remedies or other recourse the Company, any Member or any other Person may have against any Member, Director or Officer for a breach of contract claim relating to any binding agreement, including this Agreement.

6.9. Indemnitor of First Resort.

As a result of agreements or obligations arising outside of this Agreement, it may be the case that certain of the Covered Persons have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance provided by a Member and/or certain of its Affiliates (collectively, the "Member Indemnitors"). However, regardless of whether or not there are any such rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance provided by any Member Indemnitor, (a) the Company is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., the Company's obligations to the Covered Persons are primary and any obligation of the Member Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by any Covered Persons are secondary), (b) the Company shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by the Covered Persons and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement (or any other agreement between the Company and the Covered Persons) and (c) the Company hereby irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases each of the Member Indemnitors from any and all claims against any of the Member Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. Regardless of any advancement or payment by the Member Indemnitors on behalf of any Covered Person with respect to any claim for which a Covered Person has sought indemnification from the Company, (i) the foregoing shall not be affected and (ii) the Member Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Covered Person against the Company.

ARTICLE VII
PROGRAMS AND BUDGETS; ADDITIONAL COVENANTS

7.1. Initial Approved Program and Budget.

The initial Approved Program and Budget set forth on Schedule "G" hereto and covering (a) the Budget Period from the Effective Date until December 31, 2024; provided, that, if the Effective Date is not on the first day of a calendar month, the Approved Program and Budget for the first calendar month shall be divided by the number of days in such calendar month, and such amount shall be multiplied by the number of remaining days in such calendar month; provided further that, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 7.1 shall impact the calculation of LAC 2024 CapEx, (b) the Budget Period from anticipated FID until Total Plant Transfer and (c) the Budget Period from Total Plant Transfer until 12 months thereafter is hereby approved for such applicable Budget Period (and solely for such Budget Period). For the avoidance of doubt, following the date the Total Plant Transfer occurs, only the Program and Budget set forth in Section 7.1(c) shall be considered the then Approved Program and Budget.

7.2. Operations Under Programs and Budgets.

Except as otherwise provided in Sections 7.4 and 7.6, the operations of the Company Group shall be conducted, expenses shall be incurred, and Assets shall be acquired consistent with Approved Programs and Budgets. For clarity, subject to Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b), the Board of Directors has sole and final approval of Programs and Budgets, and any such approved Program and Budget shall be deemed to be an "Approved Program and Budget" for the purposes of this Agreement. Each Program and Budget shall be for a Budget Period of a calendar year (other than prior to FID, in which case such Programs and Budgets shall include both an aggregated annual budget as well as detailed budgets for each month comprising such fiscal year) and shall provide for: (a) accrual of reasonably anticipated Environmental Compliance expenses for all Company Group operations contemplated under the Program and Budget; (b) in reasonable detail, the scope, direction and nature of Company Group operations to be undertaken in respect of such period; (c) payment of all obligations of the Company under Underlying Agreements; and (d) in reasonable detail, the coverage and terms of the applicable insurance policies for the Company Group. The Manager shall send to the Members each Approved Program and Budget. The Manager shall have the right to spend such amounts notwithstanding such Approved Program and Budget within the parameters provided for in Section 7.4 and Section 7.6.

7.3. Presentation of Proposed Programs and Budgets.

(a) Not later than 60 days (or, prior to FID, 30 days) before the expiration of the then current Approved Program and Budget, the Manager shall prepare a proposed Program and Budget for the succeeding calendar year or longer such period approved by the Board of Directors, and submit the proposed Program and Budget for such calendar year or other period to the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members, for review. The proposed Program and Budget shall be accompanied by a notice of the date and time of the meeting to be held by the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members to consider the proposed Program and Budget, which date shall not be less than 10 days after the submission of the proposed

Program and Budget to Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members. The Directors and, if applicable, the Members may approve the proposed Program and Budget, propose modifications to the proposed Program and Budget or reject the proposed Program and Budget. If the Board of Directors unanimously approves or the Members unanimously approve such proposed Program and Budget, then such proposed Program and Budget shall be the Approved Program and Budget for such period. If such proposed Program and Budget is not so unanimously approved, for the next following 10 days, the Manager shall negotiate in good faith with the Board of Directors to derive a revised Program and Budget. At the end of such negotiation period, the Manager shall submit a revised Program and Budget for such calendar year or other period to the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members for review. The revised Program and Budget shall be accompanied by a notice of the date and time of the meeting to be held by the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members to consider the proposed Program and Budget, which date shall not be less than 10 days after the submission of the proposed Program and Budget to Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members.

(b) In the event that Specified Approval is not obtained for any revised Program and Budget or any increase in the Management Fees (as defined in the Management Services Agreement) following the negotiation period set forth in Section 7.3(a), and the submission of such revised Program and Budget in accordance with Section 7.3(a), (i) with respect to all items other than the Management Fees, (A) if such revised Program and Budget would not increase the expenses, in the aggregate, by more than 10% as compared to the expenses as set forth in the prior Approved Program and Budget, the Board of Directors may approve such amended Program and Budget by Board Approval other than the Management Fees, and (B) if such revised Program and Budget would increase the expenses, in the aggregate, by more than 10% as compared to the expenses as set forth in the prior Approved Program and Budget, until the required Specified Approval is obtained, the Manager shall, and shall cause the Company Group to, continue to operate under the prior Approved Program and Budget (increased by CPI), which shall be deemed to be the Approved Program and Budget under this Agreement until a new Approved Program and Budget is adopted in accordance with this Agreement, and (ii) with respect to any increase in the Management Fees, until the required Specified Approval is obtained, the Manager shall, and shall cause the Company Group to, continue to operate under the prior Approved Program and Budget's Management Fees (increased by CPI), which shall be deemed to be the Approved Management Fee (as defined in the Management Services Agreement) under the Management Services Agreement until a new Approved Management Fee is adopted in accordance with this Agreement (it being understood and acknowledged that a modification of Incentive Plan Costs from a "non-cash" item in a Program and Budget to a "cash" item in a subsequent Program and Budget shall not be deemed to be an increase in expenses for the purposes of this Section 7.3(b), provided that any related payments are made in accordance with and subject to Section 7.14).

7.4. Sustaining Expense.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, the Manager shall be entitled to conduct such operations and to make such expenditures (on behalf of the Company) as are necessary, in the Manager's judgement, to (i) respond to an Emergency, (ii) comply with any change in Law or enforcement of such Law since the date of the last Approved Program and Budget, for which the Board of Directors reasonably determines spending cannot wait until completion of the amendment process set forth in Section 7.5 or the next budget approval process as set forth in Section 7.3 or (iii) make any indemnification payment required under any agreement that has been finally determined pursuant to such agreement (including, to the extent applicable, the receipt of Specified Approval for any applicable settlement) (x) to which the Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party and (y) is not an Affiliate Contract, in each case, so long as the Manager has acted in accordance with this Agreement and the Management Services Agreement (each of the foregoing, a "Sustaining Expense"). The Manager shall promptly notify the Board of Directors and the Members of each Sustaining Expense and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to continue to operate within the Approved Program and Budget, notwithstanding such Sustaining Expense, and to avoid issuing any Contribution Notice in respect of such Sustaining Expense.

7.5. Amendments.

During the applicable Budget Period, the Manager may propose amendments (the "Amendments") to any currently Approved Program and Budget from time to time. If applicable, at the meeting to vote on the Amendment (taking into account any revisions made by the Manager during the negotiation period), the Members shall vote to either accept or reject the revised Amendment in accordance with Section 4.5(b)(xiii).

7.6. Budget Overruns; Program Changes.

During the applicable Budget Period, the Manager shall immediately notify the Board of Directors of any actual or anticipated material departure from an Approved Program and Budget. If the actual or anticipated departure from the Approved Program and Budget (a) results in less than a 10% increase, in the aggregate, of the expenses as compared to the then-current Approved Program and Budget and (b) is not an increase of the Management Fees paid pursuant to the Management Services Agreement, the Manager can proceed with Board Approval and such budget overruns shall be charged to the Company. If the actual or anticipated departure from the Approved Program and Budget involves an increase (i) in the Management Fees paid pursuant to the Management Services Agreement or (ii) of more than 10%, in the aggregate, of the expenses as compared to the then-current Approved Program and Budget, the Manager can proceed with Specified Approval (as and to the extent set forth in such Specified Approval) and such budget overruns shall be charged to the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager shall be able to proceed with any overruns without approval to the extent such costs and expenses are directly caused by a Sustaining Expense.

7.7. Books, Records and Access.

(a) The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, prepare and maintain proper, accurate and complete books and records of accounts, taxes, financial information and all matters pertaining to the Company (and its Subsidiaries) including all costs and expenses incurred, all charges made, all credits made and received and all income derived in connection with the operations of the Company, in each case to the extent required in accordance with U.S. GAAP (other than with respect to the 2024 fiscal year, for which IFRS Accounting Standards shall be applied (the "IFRS Accounting Year")), and maintain a system of internal accounting controls over financial reporting which provides reasonable assurance that: (i) transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization; (ii) transactions are recorded as necessary to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP (other than with respect to the 2024 fiscal year, for which IFRS Accounting Standards shall be applied) and to maintain accountability for its assets; and (iii) none of the Company Group maintains off-the-books accounts. The consolidated financial statements of the Company and its Subsidiaries shall be audited annually by a reputable firm of independent certified public accountants as shall be appointed from time to time by the Board of Directors, including to determine compliance with applicable Laws. The fact that such independent certified public accountants may audit the financial statements of one or more of the Members or their Affiliates shall not disqualify such accountants from auditing the Company's and its Subsidiaries' financial statements. Any related costs incurred by an auditor (other than pursuant to Section 7.7(g)) shall be borne by the Company.

(b) At a minimum, the Company shall keep at its principal place of business the following records: (i) a current list of the full name and last known business, residence, or mailing address of each Member, Director and Officer (in each case both past and present); (ii) a copy of this Agreement, the organizational documents of the Company and each Subsidiary, and all amendments to any of the foregoing, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any such document has been executed; (iii) copies of the income tax returns and reports of the Company and each Subsidiary, and all supporting work papers, if any, for ten (10) years after the due date for filing (including extensions) the Company's or such Subsidiary's annual or short period tax returns (and the Company shall provide each Member with an opportunity, at the expense of such Member, to obtain a complete set of such tax returns, and supporting workpapers, prior to their destruction and upon the dissolution of the Company); (iv) copies of the currently effective written agreements of the Company and each Subsidiary and copies of books and records of account and any financial statements of the Company and each Subsidiary for ten (10) years after the due date for filing (including extensions) the Company's or such Subsidiary's related SEC filing and reports (and the Company shall provide each Member with an opportunity, at the expense of such Member, to obtain a complete set of such files and records prior to their destruction and upon the dissolution of the Company); (v) minutes of every meeting of the Members; (vi) minutes of every meeting of the Board of Directors; (vii) any written consents obtained from the Members or the Board of Directors for actions taken by the Members or the Board of Directors without a meeting; and (viii) such other books and records as may be required by applicable Law.

(c) The Members shall have the reasonable right (i) to consult from time to time with the Officers and the supervisors or independent certified public accountants of the Company (and its Subsidiaries) at their respective places of business regarding operating and financial matters and (ii) to visit and inspect any of the properties or assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (no more than quarterly). The requesting Member shall use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent any such inspections from unreasonably interfering with Operations or the other business and operations of the Company.

(d) The Company shall provide to each Member the following reports:

(i) (x) within 120 days of the year-end for the year ending December 31, 2024 and (y) within ninety (90) days of the year-end for each year thereafter, audited consolidated financial statements of the Company Group audited by and certified by the Company's independent certified public accountants, along with such auditor's report (the Annual Audited Financial Statements) including:

(A) the consolidated balance sheet of the Company Group as of the close of such year-end;

(B) a consolidated statement of income of the Company Group for such year-end;

(C) a consolidated statement of the Company Group's cash flows for such year-end; and

(D) a consolidated statement of the Company Group's shareholder's equity for such year-end; and

(E) a disclosure of such Member's Capital Account as of the close of such Fiscal Year, and changes therein during such year-end;

(ii) within sixty (60) days of the end of any fiscal quarter, quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements (balance sheets, statements of income, statement of cash flows, and statement of equity) of the Company Group for the previous quarter, certified by the Chief Financial Officer of the Company; provided, however, that in the event that, after the Commencement of Commercial Production (as defined in the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement), GM's investment in the Company is deemed to be a "material investment" (as determined by GM in good faith pursuant to its accounting practices) ("GM Material Investment Determination") and GM delivers written notice to the Company of such GM Material Investment Determination, then ninety (90) days after delivery of such written notice to the Company, (a) preliminary completed drafts of such quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements, subject to final adjustments and incorporating all financial data and records the Company is aware of at the time, shall be delivered within thirty (30) days of the end of any fiscal quarter, and (b) final quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements shall be delivered on the earlier of (x) promptly following the relevant information becoming available to the Company, and (y) prior to the applicable reporting deadline imposed on LAC under any applicable Securities Laws;

(iii) within sixty (60) days of the end of each fiscal quarter during the IFRS Accounting Year, and within ninety (90) days of the end of the IFRS Accounting Year, an unaudited reconciliation of the Company Group's quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements with respect to such fiscal quarter and an audited reconciliation of the Company Group's annually audited consolidated financial statements with respect to such fiscal year, in each case, to U.S. GAAP, if it was reasonably determined by GM in consultation with its auditor, that this information is necessary for GM financial reporting, accounting or tax purposes;

(iv) within forty-five (45) days of the end of each month, unaudited monthly financial statements (balance sheets, statements of income, and cash flows) of the Company Group for the previous month; provided, however, in the event of a GM Material Investment Determination and GM delivers written notice to the Company of such GM Material Investment Determination, then ninety (90) days after delivery of such written notice to the Company, such unaudited monthly financial statements shall be delivered on the earlier of (a) promptly following the relevant information becoming available to the Company and (b) thirty (30) days following the end of each month; and

(v) in the event of a GM Material Investment Determination and GM delivers written notice to the Company of such GM Material Investment Determination, then ninety (90) days after delivery of such written notice to the Company, no later than three (3) Business Days after the end of each quarter, an estimate of earnings of the Company Group in the form of a preliminary income statement.

(e) For so long as a Member Group holds at least 10% of the outstanding Units and the DOE Loan is outstanding, each Member in such Member Group shall have the right to receive:

(i) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(a) of the DOE Loan, the Omnibus Annual Report (as defined in the DOE Loan);

(ii) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(b) of the DOE Loan, each Quarterly Certificate (as defined in the DOE Loan);

(iii) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(c) of the DOE Loan, each Community Benefits Plan and Justice40 Annual Report (as defined in the DOE Loan);

(v) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE, each monthly report provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(d) of the DOE Loan;

(vi) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE, each monthly update and monthly performance report provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(e) of the DOE Loan;

(f) For so long as a Member Group holds at least 10% of the outstanding Units, each Member in such Member Group shall have the right to receive:

(i) if the DOE Loan is no longer outstanding, promptly following internal preparation thereof, any reports produced by, or on behalf of the Company Group, with substantially similar information previously provided under Section 7.7(e)(i) through Section 7.7(e)(vi) and, if no such reports are so produced, such Member shall discuss in good faith with the Company and agree on the information, form, and cadence of the reports to be delivered to such Member by the Company Group;

(ii) promptly upon request to the extent available, the then-current Approved Program and Budget;

(iii) promptly following receipt thereof, a copy of any notice, letter, correspondence or other communication from a Governmental Authority or any litigation proceedings or filings involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, in each case, in respect of the Company's potential, actual or alleged material violation of any and all Laws applicable to the business, affairs and operations of the Company and its Subsidiaries, and any responses by the Company; and

(iv) such other financial statements, information and reports at such times and in such forms as any such Member may reasonably request in order to enable such Member or any of its Affiliates to prepare financial or other reports required by applicable Law.

(g) For so long as a Member Group holds at least 10% of the outstanding Units, each Member in such Member Group shall have the right to visit the Properties, facilities, and Assets of the Company Group at its own expense and no more frequently than once during any calendar quarter, unless there has been an Emergency, then in such event, such Member in a Member Group shall have the additional right to visit the Properties, facilities, and Assets of the Company Group once for each Emergency during such calendar quarter, so long as the exercise of such right does not unreasonably interfere with the business and operations of the Company Group. In addition to the other rights specifically set forth in this Agreement, subject to Section 7.7(h) each such Member is entitled to, at its option and at its own expense, from time to time but no more frequently than once per calendar year, conduct internal audits of the books, records and accounts of the Company and the Subsidiaries, which audits may be conducted by employees or agents approved by the Board of Directors upon the reasonable request of any such Member at any reasonable time during normal business hours.

(h) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 7.7 to the contrary, the Company shall not be required to provide any Member with access to, or to disclose any information to, a Member if such disclosure would reasonably be expected to result in the sharing of pricing and key sales terms of any purchasers of the offtake of the Project; provided, that such restriction shall not restrict a Member from receiving aggregate, de-identified sales numbers and financial statements otherwise required to be provided in this Section 7.7.

(i) Provided that there is no conflict with any other agreement between the Company and any third Person, except to the extent set forth in Section 7.7(h), none of the Company, the Manager or the Board of Directors (on behalf of the Company) shall have the right to keep confidential from the Members any information that the Board of Directors would otherwise be permitted to keep confidential from the Members pursuant to Section 18-305(c) of the Act.

(j) The rights set forth in this Section 7.7 are intended to be the sole information rights of the Members as permitted by the Act.

7.8. Bank Accounts.

The Board of Directors shall cause the Company to establish and maintain one or more separate bank and investment accounts for Company funds in the Company's name with such financial institutions and firms as the Board of Directors may select and designate signatories thereon. The Company may not commingle the Company's funds with the funds of any other Person other than, as determined by the Board of Directors, the Company's Subsidiaries.

7.9. Compliance Covenants.

For so long as GM or an Affiliate thereof is a Member, the Company shall, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to, comply with each of the policies attached as Schedule "H" (the "Compliance Covenants"), the Compliance Covenants may not be amended without GM's consent. In the event of a breach by the Company of the Compliance Covenants that is not Cured or cannot be Cured and GM is not then a Defaulting Member, GM and its Affiliates shall have the right to, in its sole discretion, pursue one or more of the following remedies: (a) (i) for so long as the DOE Loan is outstanding, sell a portion or all of their Units to the Company (and the Company shall buy such Units) for an aggregate purchase price of up to $[], or (ii) if the DOE Loan has been terminated, sell a portion or all of their Units to the Company (and the Company shall buy such Units) for a purchase price per Unit (the "Compliance Put Purchase Price") equal to the highest of (1) the Fair Market Value of a Unit, (2) the book value of a Unit, and (3) the GM Aggregate Contribution Amount divided by the total number of Units held by GM and its transferees immediately prior to GM exercising any of its remedies under this Section 7.9, in each of clause (i) or (ii) by delivery of a written notice (the "Compliance Put Notice" and the date for such sale set forth therein the "Compliance Put Closing Date") to the Company requesting such sale (provided that such Compliance Put Notice is delivered within 120 days following the date on which GM notifies the Company of such breach); provided that if the Company, in good faith, demonstrates that it cannot pay such price out of funds available to the Company in excess of an amount sufficient for the Company to continue as a going concern, without raising additional funds through debt or equity financing or selling any assets ("Available Funds"), then the Compliance Put Purchase Price shall be reduced to the maximum amount the Company is able to pay at such time out of Available Funds (as agreed between the Company and GM), (b) Transfer its Units to any Third Party without being required to comply with any of the restrictions or limitations set forth in this Agreement other than Sections 10.1(c), 10.1(d), 10.1(g)(i), 10.1(g)(ii) and, only with respect to material Governmental Authorizations, 10.1(g)(iv); or (c) pursue any other remedy available to it pursuant to Section 13.11, and in each of clause (a) or (b) any outstanding and undrawn GM Letters of Credit shall be withdrawn. By way of example, GM may elect to put to the Company a portion of its Units and Transfer the remainder of GM's Units to a Third Party. The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, comply with the GM Supply Chain Policy, the Company shall incorporate, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to incorporate, and shall require each third-party service provider to incorporate, to the extent applicable, the GM Supply Chain Policy in its or its Subsidiaries' contract for goods or services, unless the Company determines in good faith, after receiving advice from counsel, that (x) a third-party service provider maintains its own code of conduct and/or other supply chain policy(s) and (y) such code and/or other policy(s) are substantially similar in all material respects to the applicable portions of the GM Supply Chain Policy.

7.10. GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement.

Upon the Effective Date, the Company and GM (or an Affiliate thereof) shall enter into an additional offtake agreement (or agreements) in substantially the form of Schedule "I" (the "GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement").

7.11. GM Life of Mine Rights.

Following the expiry of the (a) GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement, with respect to the volumes from Phase 1 of the Project, and (b) GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement, with respect to the volumes from Phase 2 of the Project, in each case, GM shall have life of mine offtake rights, at market price, for a percentage of all volumes from Phase 1 and Phase 2 of the Project, as applicable, equal to GM's Proportionate Interest as of the applicable date of determination in accordance with the process and procedures set forth on Schedule "K" ("Life-of-Mine Rights"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the DOE Loan is terminated prior to FID and GM exercises its rights under Section

10.6 and pursuant to a DOE Put Notice, GM shall have no further Life-of-Mine Rights, which shall be null and void. For the avoidance of doubt, the Life-of-Mine Rights shall be transferrable (in whole or in part) to any transferee of Units from GM and shall be exercisable by any such transferee.

7.12. Stakeholder Engagement.

As of the Effective Date, the Members have established a committee (the "Human Rights Committee"), which includes at least one GM Designee and one LAC Designee, to oversee the Company's engagement of relevant community stakeholders consistent with principles outlined in the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and associated applicable Laws. The Company and the Members shall also implement and execute the agreed-upon plan for stakeholder engagement consistent with principles outlined in the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and associated applicable Laws (the "Human Rights Plan").

7.13. Employee Non-Solicit.

Each Member (other than any Member that is an Affiliate of LAC) hereby agrees, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, that, without LAC's prior written consent, such Member and its Affiliates shall not, for so long as such Member is a member of the Company, directly or indirectly solicit for employment or engagement, or employe or engage, any employee of LAC or its Affiliates (including Manager) who provides services to the Company Group; provided, however, that such Member and its Affiliates shall not be prohibited from: (a) employing or engaging any such Person who contacts such Member or its Affiliates on his or her own initiative and without any direct or indirect solicitation by such Member or its Affiliates; (b) conducting generalized solicitations for employees (which solicitations are not specifically targeted at employees of LAC or its Affiliates (including Manager) and employing or engaging any Person that responds to such solicitations); (c) soliciting for employment or employing any Person who (i) has been terminated by LAC or its Affiliates and has not been solicited for employment in breach of this Section 7.13 by such Member or its Affiliates prior to such termination or (ii) has not been employed or engaged by LAC or its Affiliates sixty (60) consecutive days, or (d) soliciting for employment or engagement any employee of LAC or its Affiliates with the express consent of LAC.

7.14. Employee Incentive Plan.

(a) Following the Effective Date, LAC Parent may issue restricted stock units to employees of the Company Group (in addition to any such issuances that may exist as of the Effective Date) pursuant to the terms and conditions of its existing equity incentive plan, a copy of which is attached as Schedule "M" (the "Employee Incentive Plan"). Unless otherwise determined by LAC in its sole discretion, the Company shall reimburse LAC Parent for any costs of, and costs associated with, the issuance of restricted stock units under the Employee Incentive Plan to the extent recorded in the books and records of LAC Parent in accordance with U.S. GAAP (such costs, the "Incentive Plan Costs"); provided, that, any reductions to such costs associated with the termination of employees and the forfeiture of unvested restricted stock units (such reductions, "Incentive Plan Cost Reductions"), shall be offset against the Incentive Plan Costs incurred for that current calendar year (or if such Incentive Plan Cost Reduction happens in a subsequent calendar year, then shall reduce the Incentive Plan Costs for such calendar year).

(b) Prior to Production Commencement, the Company shall not reimburse LAC Parent for any Incentive Plan Costs incurred, but such costs shall accrue, as adjusted for any Incentive Plan Cost Reductions ("Accrued Incentive Plan Costs") and shall be paid in accordance with Section 9.1(a)(ii).

(c) In the event of a material change to LAC Parent that results in the restricted stock units of LAC Parent issued under the Employee Incentive Plan no longer being a directly aligned incentive for performance by the employees of the Company Group, GM shall have the right to request that the Company revisit, amend, and/or terminate issuances of restricted stock units to employees of the Company Group under the Employee Incentive Plan and adopt an alternative employee incentive plan implemented solely by the Company, which shall be subject to Specified Approval.

7.15. Management Fees.

(a) The Manager acknowledges and agrees that, (i) prior to Production Commencement, all Approved Management Fees and Approved Third Party Expenses (each as defined in the Management Services Agreement) shall not be paid in cash by the Company and (ii) in the event the Company does not have sufficient cash on hand to pay the Approved Management Fees or Approved Third Party Expenses as required under the Management Services Agreement, no Contribution Notice shall be submitted or delivered to the Members to request additional capital to be contributed to the Company in order to fund such costs, but, in each case, the Approved Management Fees or Approved Third Party Expenses shall instead accrue as an amount owed by the Company to the Manager (collectively, the "Accrued Management Costs") and shall be paid in accordance with Section 9.1(a)(ii); provided, however, that in the event a Contribution Notice is delivered to the Members (x) in accordance with Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15 and (y) after the second anniversary of the Effective Date, then (A) each Member that is not an Affiliate of the Manager shall fund an additional amount of the capital contribution requested in the Contribution Notice, up to a maximum of the total amount requested in the Contribution Notice, equal to the amount of the Accrued Management Costs that is attributable to such Member's Proportionate Interest ("Management Catch-up Amount"), and the Accrued Management Costs shall be decreased by an amount equal to the aggregate Management Catch-up Amount, divided by the percentage of the aggregate Proportionate Interests of the Members that are not an Affiliate of the Manager, and (B) the aggregate Management Catch-up Amount shall be deemed contributed by LAC (and for the avoidance of doubt, shall not be deemed contributed by the applicable Member making such contribution). As an illustrative example, if a Contribution Notice was properly delivered three (3) years after the Effective Date pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, with a request for $[]of capital contributions from the Members (with GM and LAC being the only Members), and the Accrued Management Costs was $[]in the aggregate, which would mean that GM's portion of the Accrued Management Costs was $[]and GM's Management Catch-up Amount was $[], then GM's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[] (assuming that GM's Proportionate Interest is 38% of the Company and with $[] of such amount being deemed as contributed by LAC) and LAC's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[], and after such capital contributions were completed, the Accrued Management Costs would be $[]. As an additional illustrative example, if a Contribution Notice was properly delivered three (3) years after the Effective Date pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, with a request for $[]of capital contributions from the Members (with GM and LAC being the only Members), and the Accrued Management Costs was $[]in the aggregate, which would mean that GM's portion of the Accrued Management Costs was $[]and GM's Management Catch-up Amount would be $[], then GM's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[] (assuming that GM's Proportionate Interest is 38% of the Company and $[]of such amount being deemed as contributed by LAC) and LAC's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[], and after such capital contributions were completed, the Accrued Management Costs would be decreased by $[]in connection with such Contribution Notice (as calculated by $[] divided by []), and the remaining Accrued Management Costs would be $[]. The calculations for such illustrative examples are set forth on Schedule "O" as Illustrative Examples #1 and #2.

(b) Subject to Section 7.15(c), in the event that, in connection with a Contribution Notice properly delivered pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, (i) the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager fail to fully contribute the aggregate Management Catch-up Amount and (ii) the Members that are the Manager or Affiliates of the Manager make a Capital Contribution equal to at least its Proportionate Interest of the Contribution Notice amount, then, in addition to the amount of the Capital Contribution made by the Members that are the Manager or Affiliates of the Manager, LAC shall also be deemed to have made an additional Capital Contribution equal to (x) the difference between the aggregate Management Catch-Up Amount and the portion of the aggregate Management Catch-Up Amount contributed by the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager, (y) divided by the percentage of the aggregate Proportionate Interests of the Members that are not an Affiliate of the Manager, and such deemed Capital Contribution shall be included for the purposes of acquiring Units in accordance with Section 3.3, and the Accrued Management Costs shall also be reduced by an amount equal to the aggregate Management Catch-Up Amount, divided by the percentage of the aggregate Proportionate Interests of the Members that are not an Affiliate of the Manager. Illustrative examples for such Capital Contributions are set forth in Schedule "O" as Illustrative Examples #3 through #6.

(c) In the event that, in connection with a Contribution Notice properly delivered pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, (i) the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager fail to fully contribute at least their collective Proportionate Interest of the Contribution Notice amount and (ii) subject to Section 7.15(d) the Members that are the Manager or Affiliates of the Manager do not make any Capital Contribution under the Contribution Notice, then (A) the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager shall be deemed to have contributed an amount equal to the actual amount contributed multiplied by their collective Proportionate Interest, (B) LAC shall be deemed to have contributed the difference between actual amount contributed by such other Members and the amount deemed contributed pursuant to clause (A), and (C) the Accrued Management Costs shall be reduced by an amount equal to (x) the amount deemed contributed pursuant to clause (B) divided by (y) the collective Proportionate Interest of the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager. Illustrative examples for such Capital Contributions are set forth in Schedule "O" as Illustrative Example #7.

(d) In the event that, in connection with a Contribution Notice properly delivered pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager fail to fully contribute at least their collective Proportionate Interest of the Contribution Notice amount, LAC shall have 5 Business Days to make a Capital Contribution following the deadline for such Capital Contribution set forth in such Contribution Notice.

7.16. Insurance.

The Company shall, directly or indirectly, maintain the appropriate insurance coverage as required under the DOE Loan during the term of the DOE Loan. Upon the termination of the DOE Loan, the Members shall discuss in good faith and agree upon the appropriate insurance coverage necessary for the Company moving forward, and the Company shall maintain such agreed upon insurance coverage as agreed upon by the Members.

ARTICLE VIII
DEFAULTS AND REMEDIES

8.1. Defaults.

The occurrence of any one or more of the following shall, so long as it subsists, constitute an "Event of Default" by a Member (the "Defaulting Member" and the other Member shall be referred to as a "Non-Defaulting Member"), but only it its capacity as a Member:

(a) a Member suffering an Insolvency Event;

(b) a Member failing to make FID Capital Contributions when required to do so pursuant to Section 3.2(a);

(c) any breach by a Member of Section 3.2(b);

(d) a Member breaching any of the Transfer restrictions set forth in Article IX; and

(e) a Member taking any action requiring Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval hereunder without such required approval that is not Cured or cannot be Cured; provided that any action taken by or at the express direction of the Manager shall be deemed to be an action taken by the Member that is an Affiliate of the Manager for purposes of this Section 8.1(e).

8.2. Notice of Default.

The Company shall give the Defaulting Member a written notice of default (a "Notice of Default"), which shall describe the default in reasonable detail.

8.3. Defaulting Member Right to Contest.

Contemporaneously with the delivery of the Notice of Default, the Non-Defaulting Member shall have the rights specified in Section 8.6. If the Defaulting Member in good faith contests whether the alleged default has in fact occurred, the Defaulting Member shall give notice thereof to the Non-Defaulting Member and the provisions of Section 13.2 shall then be applicable (except as otherwise provided herein) and pending such dispute resolution by agreement or a final ruling, Section 8.6 shall not be operative. If the ruling confirms that a default has occurred or there is agreement of the Parties, Section 8.6 shall be operative.

8.4. Rights Upon Default.

The Company, after providing a Notice of Default, shall have the right (but not the duty) to exercise any remedy available to it at law or equity.

8.5. No Penalty.

The Members acknowledge and agree that the rights and remedies conferred by this Article VIII do not constitute a penalty, unlawful forfeiture or penalty interest rates, and that such rights and remedies are necessary to ensure that the interests of the Members are appropriately balanced. Each Member covenants that it shall not raise any prohibition against penalty clauses as a defense to the dilution contemplated by Section 3.2.

8.6. Suspension of Rights While a Defaulting Member.

In addition to the remedies set forth above or available at applicable Law, if an Event of Default subject to the provisions of Section 8.3 occurs and is continuing, the Defaulting Member's:

(a) voting rights in the Company will be suspended and quorum for Member meetings will be adjusted to not require the attendance of the Defaulting Member;

(b) Directors designed by the Defaulting Member will not be entitled to vote and quorum and voting thresholds for meetings of the Board of Directors will be proportionally adjusted to not require attendance of such Directors;

(c) rights to Transfer its Units will be suspended; and

DISTRIBUTIONS

9.1. Distributions.

(a) Regular Distributions. Except with the Specified Approval of the Members or pursuant to Section 3.1(b), subject to Section 8.6(d) and Section 9.1(c), and in compliance with the terms of the DOE Loan, all Available Cash of the Company shall be distributed to the Members on a quarterly basis (within fifteen Business Days following the commencement of each calendar quarter), or at such additional time or times as the Board of Directors determines, as follows:

(i) first, in the event that any amount (A) under any GM Letter of Credit is drawn, to GM until such time as GM has received aggregate distributions equal to such drawn amount (and such distributions shall reduce the drawn amount thereunder) or (B) under any LAC Guarantee is called and paid by LAC, and (1) if no amount under any GM Letter of Credit has been drawn and remains outstanding, to LAC until such time as LAC has received aggregate distributions equal to (x) such called and paid amount, multiplied by (y) the Proportionate Interests of Members other than LAC and its Affiliates or (2) if both amounts under a LAC Guarantee have been called and paid and amounts under the GM Letter of Credit have been drawn and such amounts are outstanding, to LAC and GM pro rata in proportion to the amounts required to be paid to LAC and GM until such time as both LAC and GM have received aggregate distributions equal to such respective amounts (and with respect to such distributions to GM, shall reduce the drawn amount under the GM Letter of Credit);

(ii) second, to LAC until LAC has received an amount equal to the Accrued Incentive Plan Costs and Accrued Management Costs, if any;

(iii) third, only if such distribution is for the last calendar quarter of the calendar year, to LAC, an amount equal to the Net Incentive Plan Costs for such calendar year; provided, however, that in the event that there is not sufficient Available Cash to distribute an amount to LAC equal to the Net Incentive Plan Costs for such calendar year, the remainder of such Net Incentive Plan Costs shall be deemed to be Accrued Incentive Plan Costs in the immediately subsequent quarter for purposes of this Section 9.1(a); and

(iv) thereafter, any remaining amount of Available Cash shall be distributed pro rata in proportion to their respective Proportionate Interests.

(b) Tax Distributions. Subject to Section 9.1(a)(i) and 9.1(c), and in compliance with the terms of the DOE Loan, Available Cash shall be distributed to each Member with respect to each fiscal year in an amount equal to any federal, state or local income taxes payable by such Member (or the direct or indirect owners of such Member) with respect to the taxable income allocated by the Company to such Member for federal, state and local income tax purposes for such fiscal year (net of losses allocated by the Company to such Member for federal, state or local income tax purposes in prior fiscal years that have not been offset by prior allocations of taxable income, to the extent such prior losses would be available to offset such taxable income allocated to such Member in such fiscal year) pursuant to Section 3.3 and Section 3.4 of Schedule "E", assuming that the taxable income (and loss) allocated by the Company to such Member were the only items of taxable income and loss recognized by such Member and based on the highest applicable combined federal and state income tax rate applicable to a corporation resident in New York, New York (such amount, a Member's "Tax Distribution"); provided, that, in the event that any amount was paid by LAC under a LAC Guarantee or any amount was drawn on a GM Letter of Credit, all Available Cash shall be distributed to LAC and GM under Section 9.1(a)(i), until such time LAC and GM, as applicable, have received aggregate distributions equal to such respective amounts. The Company shall make quarterly distributions based on estimates of the required Tax Distribution to each Member in a manner sufficient to allow such Member to timely satisfy its quarterly estimated tax payment obligations, with a true-up to the amount of such Tax Distribution to be made to such Member on or before the due date for the payment of tax for such fiscal year. In the event the Company does not have sufficient Available Cash to make a Tax Distribution to a Member, the unpaid amount will be carried forward and added to the amount of Tax Distribution owed to such Member in the succeeding fiscal year. Any distributions made to a Member pursuant to this Section 9.1(b) shall be treated as an advance against, and shall reduce on a dollar-for-dollar basis, the next succeeding distribution otherwise payable by the Company to such Member pursuant to Section 9.1(a)(iv).

(c) No Distributions In Kind. During the existence of the Company, no Member shall be entitled or required to receive as distributions from the Company of any asset other than cash unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors.

9.2. Liquidating Distributions.

Upon the dissolution of the Company, sole and plenary authority to effectuate the liquidation of the assets of the Company shall be vested in the Board of Directors, who shall have full power and authority to sell, assign and encumber any and all of the Company's assets and to wind up and liquidate the affairs of the Company in an orderly and business-like manner. The proceeds of liquidation of the assets of the Company distributable upon a dissolution and winding up of the Company shall be applied in the following order of priority:

(a) first, to the creditors of the Company, including creditors who are Members, in the order of priority provided by applicable law, in satisfaction of all liabilities and obligations of the Company (of any nature whatsoever, including fixed or contingent, matured or unmatured, legal or equitable, secured or unsecured), whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof; and

TRANSFERS AND ENCUMBRANCES OF UNITS

10.1. Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) No Member shall, or shall permit their Affiliates to, and no Member shall Transfer, directly or indirectly, its Units except, subject to Section 7.9, in full compliance with the provisions of this Article X. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Members acknowledge and agree that an Indirect Transfer of an equity interest in a Member (including through any change of Control of such Member (including through any change of Control of any parent company of such Member) other than a Parent Change of Control) (the "Indirect Interest") is a Transfer and is subject to the provisions of this Article X. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Agreement restricts in any manner any Parent Change of Control.

(b) Any purported Transfer in violation of this Article X shall be void ab initio and of no force or effect.

(c) No Transfer shall be effective and no transferee of a Member's Units shall have the rights of such Member hereunder unless (i) the Transfer was completed in compliance herewith; (ii) the transferor Member has provided to the other Member a minimum of five (5) Business Days notice of such intended Transfer; and (iii) the transferee, as of the effective date of the Transfer, has executed a Joinder. With respect to an Indirect Transfer, the transferee shall confirm the Joinder.

(d) Except as set forth in Section 7.9, the transferor Member and the transferee of any Units (as well as any Indirect Interests) shall be responsible for payment of any taxes, fees, levies or other governmental charges payable under applicable Law in respect of the Transfer and shall indemnify and hold harmless the other Members and the Company in respect thereof.

(e) The Members agree to ensure that the Company will not cause or permit, and the Company agrees not to permit or effect, the Transfer of Units to be made on its books unless the Transfer is permitted or required by the provisions of this Agreement.

(f) The Members shall take, or shall cause the Company to take, any actions as may be required to approve any Transfers of Units that are authorized in accordance with Section 7.9 or the provisions of this Article X.

(g) Except as set forth in Section 7.9, no Member shall complete a Transfer (i) to a Restricted Party, (ii) that would violate or is prohibited (A) by any Law or (B) by the terms of any agreement or other instrument affecting the Company Group or the Assets (x) pursuant to Section 10.01 of the DOE Loan or (y) that was expressly approved by (A) Specified Approval, (B) GM pursuant to Section 4.5(c) or (C) prior written consent of GM pursuant to Section 6.2(e) of the Investment Agreement, (iii) that would result in the assignment or termination of a GM Letter of Credit, unless such transferee delivers one or more replacement letters of credit acceptable to the DOE and at no cost to the Company, (iv) that would result in the cancellation of any Governmental Authorization applicable to the Company or the Assets, (v) to any Person that is not Creditworthy or (vi) in the event that LAC is the transferor Member, unless (x) LAC continues to Control the Company or (y) the transferee of the Units is a Qualified Operator and such transferee, upon consummation of such Transfer, will Control the Company; provided, that if in connection with any such Transfer, the transferee or its Affiliate is bound by the Management Services Agreement, and such party is reasonably capable of performing the services contemplated thereby in substantially the same manner, and at substantially the same price, as during the preceding twelve (12) months, then such transferee shall be deemed to satisfy clauses (a) and (b) of the definition of Qualified Operator. For the avoidance of doubt, (A) GM and its Affiliates shall be permitted to Transfer to any GM Competitor and (B) LAC and its Affiliates shall be permitted to Transfer to any LAC Competitor.

10.2. Transfers to Affiliates.

Each Member may Transfer its Units to an Affiliate, provided that:

(a) such Affiliate is wholly owned by (i) such Member, (ii) in the case of GM, GM Parent or (iii) in the case of LAC, LAC Parent;

(b) such Affiliate shall assume the obligations of the Member and become a Party to this Agreement by signing a Joinder; and

(c) such Affiliate shall covenant and agree (A) to remain an Affiliate of the transferring Member for so long as it continues to hold any Units; and (B) that, prior to ceasing to be an Affiliate of such Member, it will Transfer all of its Units to the Member or another Affiliate of such transferring Member.

10.3. Right of First Offer.

(a) ROFO Offer. Subject to Section 10.1, if any Member (a "Selling Member") desires to Transfer all or a portion of its Units (the "Subject Units"), then the Selling Member shall first provide written notice to each other Member (the "ROFO Members") and the Company (such notice, a "ROFO Notice") of its intent to Transfer the Subject Units and specifying the amount of the Subject Units and the material terms and conditions pursuant to which the Selling Member proposes to Transfer the Subject Units, including the price at which the Selling Member is willing to Transfer the Subject Units (the "Seller's Price").

(b) Exercise. During the 45-day period following the receipt of a ROFO Notice by the Company and the ROFO Members (the "Offer Period"), each ROFO Member shall have the right, at its option and at any time prior to the expiration of the Offer Period, to deliver to the Selling Member an offer (a "Purchase Offer") to purchase for cash (payable at closing) all (but not less than all) of the Subject Units on the terms and conditions set forth in such Purchase Offer. The delivery of a Purchase Offer by a ROFO Member shall constitute an irrevocable commitment by such ROFO Member for a 30-day period (the "ROFO Period") to purchase the Subject Units on the terms and conditions set forth in such Purchase Offer upon acceptance by the Selling Member. Prior to the end of the ROFO Period, the Selling Member shall have the right to accept the offer set forth in a Purchase Offer by delivering written notice (the "Acceptance Notice") of such acceptance to the applicable ROFO Member; provided that, if two (2) or more ROFO Members deliver Purchase Offers, the Selling Member may only accept the offer with the greatest aggregate purchase price; provided further that, if two (2) or more ROFO Members deliver Purchase Offers offering the same aggregate purchase price and the Selling Member accepts such offer, the ROFO Members shall each be allocated their proportionate share of the Subject Units (calculated based on the number of Units owned by each such ROFO Member at the time of the proposed Transfer relative to the number of Units owned by all such ROFO Members who delivered Purchase Offers offering the same aggregate purchase price); provided further that, the Selling Member shall be required to accept any Purchase Offer at a price equal to or greater than the Seller's Price. The Selling Member and the applicable ROFO Members shall use commercially reasonable efforts to complete the Transfer within 30 days of delivery of the Acceptance Notice, subject to reasonable extension for the parties to obtain any regulatory approvals required in connection with such Transfer. If the Selling Member fails to elect to accept the offer set forth in any Purchase Offer within the applicable ROFO Period, such Selling Member shall be deemed to have declined such offer. If the Selling Member accepts a Purchase Offer, Selling Member and the applicable ROFO Members shall use commercially reasonable efforts to complete the Transfer within 30 days of delivery of the Acceptance Notice, subject to reasonable extension for the parties to obtain any regulatory approvals required in connection with such Transfer.

(c) Sale to a Third Party. If (i) no ROFO Member delivers a Purchase Offer within the Offer Period, or (ii) the Selling Member does not accept any of the offers set forth in the Purchase Offers within the ROFO Period, then, subject to Section 10.1 the Selling Member may Transfer the Subject Units to a Third Party (the "Third-Party Purchaser"); provided, however, that (w) such Transfer must be consummated within 3 months after the expiration of the Offer Period; (x) if a Purchase Offer was timely delivered, the aggregate purchase price at which the Subject Units are Transferred must be equal to at least the highest aggregate purchase price set forth in any Purchase Offer that was timely delivered; (y) if a Purchase Offer was not timely made, the aggregate purchase price at which the Subject Units are Transferred must be equal to at least the Seller's Price; and (z) the Transfer must be for cash and the other terms and conditions of such Transfer shall not be more favorable to the Third-Party Purchaser, taken as a whole, than the terms and conditions set forth in the ROFO Notice. If the Selling Member shall fail to complete a transaction with a Third-Party Purchaser within the time period set forth in this Section 10.3(c) above, the Selling Member shall again be required to comply with all the provisions of this Agreement, including Section 10.1 and this Section 10.3 with respect to any proposed Transfer; provided, that a Selling Member and its Affiliates shall not be permitted to deliver more than one (1) ROFO Notice in any six (6)-month period.

10.4. Drag-Along Right.

(a) Drag-Along Sale. If at any time, a Member Group holding an aggregate of 85% or more of the issued and outstanding Units receive a bona fide offer from a Third Party or group of Third Parties acting in concert (collectively, a "Drag-Along Transferee") to acquire all of the Units of the Members (or to acquire all or substantially all of the assets of the Company) (a "Drag-Along Sale"), then, subject to Board Approval, such Members (the "Initiating Drag Members") may require the Company to send a written notice to the other Members (the "Drag Along Right Exercise Notice") requiring each other Member (a "Drag-Along Member") to participate in such Drag-Along Sale in the manner set forth in this Section 10.4.

(b) Drag-Along Notice. The Drag Along Right Exercise Notice shall be delivered to each Drag-Along Member at least thirty (30) days prior to the date on which the Initiating Drag Members expect to consummate the Drag-Along Sale. The Drag Along Right Exercise Notice shall set forth: (i) the name of the Drag-Along Transferee, (ii) the proposed amount and form of consideration and material terms and conditions of payment offered by the Drag-Along Transferee in connection with the Drag-Along Sale, (iii) all other material terms of the Drag-Along Sale, including the expected closing date of the transaction, and (iv) a copy of any form of agreement proposed to be executed by the Company or the Drag-Along Members in connection with the Drag-Along Sale.

(c) Units to be Sold. Subject to Section 10.5(d):

(i) notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if the Drag-Along Sale requires Member approval or Board approval (including pursuant to Section 4.5), each Drag-Along Member shall, or shall cause its appointed Managers to, vote in favor of such Drag-Along Sale with respect to all Units that such Drag-Along Member owns and shall waive any dissenters' rights, appraisal rights or similar rights it may have in connection with such Drag-Along Sale;

(ii) each Drag-Along Member shall execute and deliver all related transaction agreements and take such other action in support of the Drag-Along Sale as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Initiating Drag Members in order to consummate such Drag-Along Sale in accordance with the terms, and subject to the conditions, set forth in this Section 10.4, including executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, and any similar or related documents.

(iii) Each Drag-Along Member agrees to refrain from asserting any claim or commencing any suit or other legal challenge with respect to such Drag-Along Sale or alleging any breach of fiduciary duty of the Initiating Drag Members or the Board of Directors in connection with the evaluation, negotiation, and entry into such Drag-Along Sale.

(d) Conditions of Sale. The consideration to be received by a Drag-Along Member shall be the same form and amount of consideration to be received by the Initiating Drag Members (or, if the Initiating Drag Members are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received, the same option shall be given) with the aggregate consideration payable in such Drag-Along Sale allocated among the Initiating Drag Members and the Drag-Along Members pro rata in proportion to the number of Units sold in such Drag-Along Sale by each such Member, and the terms and conditions of such sale shall, except as otherwise provided in the immediately succeeding sentence, be the same as those applicable to the Initiating Drag Members. Each Drag-Along Member shall make or provide the same representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements as the Initiating Drag Members make or provide in connection with the Drag-Along Sale (except that in the case of representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to an Initiating Drag Member, each Drag-Along Member shall make the comparable representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to itself); provided, that all representations, warranties, covenants, and indemnities shall be made by each Initiating Drag Members and each Drag-Along Member severally and not jointly and any indemnification obligation shall be pro rata based on the consideration received by each Initiating Drag Member and each Drag-Along Member (other than any indemnification obligation pertaining specifically to an Initiating Drag Member or a Drag-Along Member, which obligation shall be the sole obligation of such Initiating Drag Member or Drag-Along Member), in each case in an amount not to exceed the aggregate proceeds received by each such Initiating Drag Member and Drag-Along Member in connection with the Drag-Along Sale. Each Drag-Along Member shall not be required to agree to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Drag-Along Sale (including, without limitation, any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Drag-Along Sale) or any release of claims other than a release in customary form of claims arising solely in such Member's capacity as a member of the Company.

(e) GM Conditions of Sale. If GM is not an Initiating Drag Member, then as additional conditions to the Drag-Along Sale, (i) GM shall retain its right to receive the Life of Mine Rights equal to its ownership percentage immediately prior to the Drag-Along Sale and (ii) GM shall not be required to, in connection with its participation in the Drag-Along Sale, amend or terminate any existing offtake or similar agreement between GM or its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Company or its Affiliates, on the other hand.

(f) Expenses. The fees and expenses of the Initiating Drag Members incurred in connection with a Drag-Along Sale and for the benefit of all Members, to the extent not paid or reimbursed by the Company or the Drag-Along Transferee, shall be shared by the Initiating Drag Members on a pro rata basis, based on the consideration received by each such Initiating Drag Member.

(g) Cooperation. Each Member shall take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate the Drag-Along Sale, including entering into agreements and delivering certificates and instruments, in each case consistent with the agreements being entered into and the certificates being delivered by the Initiating Drag Members.

(h) Application of Transfer Restrictions. If the Initiating Drag Members exercise their rights under this Section 10.4, the Drag-Along Members shall not be entitled to exercise their rights under Section 10.5 with respect to such Drag-Along Sale.

10.5. Tag-Along Rights.

(a) Tag Along Sale. If, at any time, a Member Group, with an aggregate Proportionate Interest of 70% or more elects to, with respect to 70% or more of the outstanding Units held by such Member Group, Transfer such Units to any Third Party or any group of Third Parties acting in concert (collectively, a "Tag-Along Transferee") in a bona fide arm's-length transaction or series of related transactions (a "Tag-Along Sale"), then, subject to (i) the other provisions of this Section 10.5, and (ii) the Tag-Along Transferee's agreement to consummate such Tag-Along Sale, each other Member (each, a "Tag-Along Member") shall be entitled to Transfer all or any portion of its Units pursuant to such Tag-Along Sale in the manner set forth in this Section 10.5.

(b) Tag-Along Sale Notice. Prior to the consummation of any Tag-Along Sale, the Selling Member shall promptly give written notice of such Tag-Along Sale (the "Tag-Along Notice") to each Tag-Along Member at least thirty (30) days prior to the date on which the Selling Member expects to consummate the Tag-Along Sale. The Tag-Along Notice shall set forth: (i) the name of the Tag-Along Transferee, (ii) the number of Units to be sold by the Selling Member, (iii) the proposed amount and form of consideration and material terms and conditions of payment offered by the Tag-Along Transferee in connection with the Tag-Along Sale (the consideration per Unit being the "Tag-Along Unit Price"), (iv) all other material terms of the Tag-Along Sale, including the expected closing date of the transaction, and (v) a copy of any form of agreement to be executed by the Tag-Along Members in connection with the Tag-Along Sale.

(c) Exercise by Tag-Along Member. Each Tag-Along Member shall have the right to Transfer in a Tag-Along Sale all or any portion of its Units in connection with the Tag-Along Sale, exercisable by notice within thirty (30) days following its receipt of the Tag-Along Notice, to notify the Selling Member of its election to participate in such Tag-Along Sale (each such electing Tag-Along Member, a "Participating Tag-Along Member") and specifying the number of Units it desires to Transfer in such Tag-Along Sale. With respect to any Tag-Along Sale, each Participating Tag-Along Member shall Transfer its applicable Units in such Tag-Along Sale free and clear of all Encumbrances (other than those arising under applicable securities laws or this Agreement or those that will be released on or prior to consummation of the Tag-Along Sale). If any applicable Tag-Along Member fails to elect to participate in any Tag-Along Sale following receipt of a Tag-Along Notice within the applicable time period specified in this Section 10.5(c), such Tag-Along Member shall be deemed to have elected not to participate in such Tag-Along Sale.

(d) Conditions of Sale. The consideration to be received by a Participating Tag- Along Member shall be the same form and amount of consideration to be received by the Selling Member (or, if the Selling Member is given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received the same option shall be given) with the aggregate consideration payable in such Tag-Along Sale allocated among the Selling Member and the Participating Tag-Along Members pro rata in proportion to the number of Units sold in such Tag-Along Sale by each such Member, with the price per Unit received by the Selling Members and each Participating Tag-Along Member being no less than the Tag-Along Unit Price, and the terms and conditions of such sale shall, except as otherwise provided in the immediately succeeding sentence, be the same as those applicable to the Selling Member. Each Participating Tag-Along Member shall make or provide the same representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements as the Selling Member makes or provides in connection with the Tag-Along Sale (except that in the case of representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to the Selling Member, each Participating Tag-Along Member shall make the comparable representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to itself); provided, that all representations, warranties, covenants, and indemnities shall be made by the Selling Member and each Participating Tag-Along Member severally and not jointly and any indemnification obligation shall be pro rata based on the consideration received by the Selling Member and each Participating Tag-Along Member (other than any indemnification obligation pertaining specifically to the Selling Member or a Participating Tag-Along Member, which obligation shall be the sole obligation of the Selling Member or such Participating Tag-Along Member), in each case in an amount not to exceed the aggregate proceeds received by the Selling Member and each such Participating Tag-Along Member in connection with the Tag-Along Sale.

(e) GM Conditions of Sale. If GM is a Participating Tag-Along Member as additional conditions to such Tag-Along Sale, (i) if any other Member retains any offtake or similar rights in connection with a Tag-Along Sale, then GM shall be entitled to retain or receive, as applicable, a proportionate amount of substantially comparable offtake or similar rights as the rights retained by such other Member and (ii) GM shall not be required to, in connection with its participation in the Tag-Along Sale, amend or terminate any existing offtake or similar agreement between GM or its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Company or its Affiliates, on the other hand.

(f) Expenses. The fees and expenses of the Selling Member incurred in connection with a Tag-Along Sale and for the benefit of the Selling Member and all Participating Tag-Along Members, to the extent not paid or reimbursed by the Company or the Tag-Along Transferee, shall be shared by the Selling Member and all of the Participating Tag-Along Members on a pro rata basis, based on the consideration received by each such Member.

(g) Cooperation. The Selling Member and each Participating Tag-Along Member shall take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate the Tag-Along Sale, including entering into agreements and delivering certificates and instruments, in each case consistent with the agreements being entered into and the certificates being delivered by the Selling Member.

(h) Application of Transfer Restrictions. This Section 10.5 shall only apply to Transfers in which (i) the Members have not exercised their rights in full under Section 10.3 to purchase all of the Selling Member's Units, and (ii) the Selling Members have not, or are not able to, exercise their rights under Section 10.4.

10.6. DOE Put Right.

If the DOE Loan is terminated prior to FID and such termination is not caused, directly or indirectly, by GM or its Affiliates (including the failure to declare FID in accordance with this Agreement), then GM and its Affiliates shall have the option, in GM's sole discretion, to sell all, but not less than all, of their Units to the Company and the Company shall have the obligation to purchase all such Units exercisable by providing written notice to the Company (the "DOE Put Notice" and the date for such sale set forth therein the "DOE Put Closing Date"). The consideration to be received by GM and its Affiliates shall be an amount (the "DOE Put Purchase Price") equal to (a) all Capital Contributions made in respect of their Units prior to the Put Closing Date, less (b) ten million dollars ($10,000,000).

10.7. GM Put Rights.

Any purchase by the Company in relation to a GM Put Notice will be on an "as is, where is" basis (except that GM shall make customary title representations with the respect to the Units, including the absence of any encumbrances thereon), without any representations or warranties of any kind regarding the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and without any conditions to consummating such purchase and sale other than the receipt of (a) any material Governmental Authority approvals required under applicable Law to consummate such purchase and sale and (b) any contractual consent required by a material contract the was the subject of Specified Approval

On the Put Closing Date, (x) GM and its Affiliates shall assign to the Company all right, title and interest in their Units, free and clear of all encumbrances, by executing such documents as may be necessary to effect the sale, and (y) the Put Purchase Price shall be paid by the Company by wire transfer of immediately available funds. In addition, on the DOE Put Closing Date only, GM shall execute such documents as may be necessary to surrender its rights to Phase 2 offtake. Each Member and the Manager hereby agrees to cooperate with, to take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate and to not take any action that would reasonably be expected to delay, the closing of the sale.

13.5. Waiver.

Except for waivers specifically provided for in this Agreement, rights under this Agreement may not be waived except by an instrument in writing signed by the Member to be charged with the waiver. The failure of a Member to insist on the strict performance of any provision of this Agreement or to exercise any right, power or remedy upon a breach of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any provision of this Agreement or limit the Member's rights thereafter to enforce any provision or exercise any right.

13.6. Amendment.

Except for administrative updates to the Schedules by the Company to reflect the accurate nature of such Schedules, notwithstanding the definition of "limited liability company agreement" contained in the Act or any other contrary provision of the Act, no amendment, restatement, modification, or supplement of or to this Agreement shall be valid or shall constitute part of the "limited liability company agreement" of the Company unless it is made in a writing duly executed by each Member with Specified Approval, which writing specifically indicates that it is amending, restating, modifying or supplementing this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Agreement shall not be amended or modified in a manner that is disproportionate and adverse to a Member in its capacity as a holder of a class of Units relative to the other Members holding the same class of Units without the consent of the Member disproportionately and adversely affected (other than in connection with the issuance of additional Units approved in accordance with this Agreement).

13.7. Severability.

If at any time any covenant or provision contained in this Agreement is deemed in a final, non-appealable ruling of an arbitrator or to the extent applicable a court of competent jurisdiction, to be invalid or unenforceable, such covenant or provision shall be considered divisible and shall be deemed immediately amended and reformed to include only such portion of such covenant or provision as such arbitrator has held to be valid and enforceable. Such covenant or provision, as so amended and reformed, shall be valid and binding as though the invalid or unenforceable portion had not been included in this Agreement.

13.8. Rules of Construction.

Independent Expert for resolution in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, such Member shall give written notice to the other Members of such intention.

(b) Within thirty (30) days after a written notice has been served by any Member pursuant to Section 13.10(a) notifying the other Members of its decision to refer a matter to an Independent Expert, the Members shall use reasonable efforts to jointly select and retain an appropriate Independent Expert mutually acceptable to the Members.

(c) Each Member shall (A) reasonably cooperate with the Independent Expert, (B) have the opportunity to make presentations and provide supporting material to the Independent Expert in defense of its positions (which supporting material shall also be provided to the other Member), in a manner established by the Independent Expert in consultation with the Members, (C) subject to customary confidentiality and indemnity agreements, provide the Independent Expert with access to their (and their applicable Affiliates') respective, and cause the Company Group to provide access to their, books, records, and Representatives, and such other information, in each case as the Independent Expert may reasonably request in order to render its determination, and (D) not engage in ex parte communications with the Independent Expert. The Independent Expert shall be instructed to resolve any dispute within twenty (20) Business Days after its engagement on such dispute (provided that such twenty (20) Business Day period may be extended by the Independent Expert with the consent of the Members, and the failure of the Independent Expert to deliver its resolution of the dispute within a required period of time shall not be grounds to object to the confirmation or enforcement of such resolution).

(d) The resolution of any dispute by the Independent Expert (A) shall be set forth in writing and (B) shall be final and binding upon the Members, the Company and each Subsidiary of the Company, except in the case of fraud, bad faith, manifest error, or if it is later determined that the Independent Expert had a conflict of interest.

(f) For any disputes related to the determination of Fair Market Value and LAC 2024 CapEx, the disputing parties shall bear and pay the fees and expenses of the Independent Expert in inverse proportion as they may prevail on disputed matters resolved by the Independent Expert, which proportionate allocations shall be determined by the Independent Expert at the time the determination is rendered. For any disputes related to Related Party Matters, the Independent Expert shall apportion the fees and expenses among the disputing parties.

(g) All aspects of any dispute resolution conducted pursuant to this Section 13.10, including the underlying dispute, the existence of resolution proceedings with an Independent Expert, the merits of the resolution proceedings with the Independent Expert and the determination by the Independent Expert, shall, in each case, be considered Confidential Information. Any documentation or information provided to, or received by any Member from, the Independent Expert shall also be considered Confidential Information.

13.11. Arbitration of Disputes.

Each of the Members shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve any dispute among the Members that relates to this Agreement and to settle any such dispute through joint cooperation and consultation. Subject to Sections 13.10 (which shall apply to any dispute hereunder relating to Related Party Matters, LAC 2024 CapEx or Fair Market Value and this Section 13.11 shall not apply to such matters) and 13.18, any dispute whatsoever among any of the Members with respect to the interpretation of, or relating to any alleged breach of, this Agreement that the Members are unable to settle within thirty (30) days, as set forth in the preceding sentence, shall be resolved by final and binding arbitration administered by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution in accordance with its International Arbitration Rules, before a panel of three (3) arbitrators. Any such arbitration shall be held in New York, New York unless another location is mutually agreed upon by the parties to such arbitration. Such arbitration shall be the exclusive remedy hereunder with respect to any dispute relating to this Agreement; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 13.11 shall limit any Member's right to bring (a) post-arbitration actions seeking to enforce an arbitration award or (b) actions seeking emergency or temporary injunctive or other similar temporary relief (pending the resolution of the arbitration contemplated herein) in the event of a breach or threatened breach of any of the provisions of this Agreement. If this Section 13.11 is for any reason held to be invalid or otherwise inapplicable with respect to any dispute, then any action or proceeding brought with respect to any dispute arising under this Agreement, or to interpret or clarify any rights or obligations arising hereunder, shall be maintained solely and exclusively in the state or U.S. federal courts in the State of Delaware. With respect to any action or proceeding that a successful party to the arbitration may wish to bring to enforce any arbitral award or to seek injunctive or other similar relief in the event of the breach or threatened breach of this Agreement (or any other agreement contemplated hereby), each party irrevocably and unconditionally (and without limitation): (i) submits to and accepts, for itself and in respect of its assets, generally and unconditionally the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the United States and the State of Delaware; (ii) waives any objection it may have now or in the future that such action or proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum; (iii) agrees that in any such action or proceeding it will not raise, rely on or claim any immunity (including from suit, judgment, attachment before judgment or otherwise, execution or other enforcement); (iv) waives any right of immunity which it has or its assets may have at any time; and (v) consents generally to the giving of any relief or the issue of any process in connection with any such action or proceeding including the making, enforcement or execution of any order or judgment against any of its property. Each Member shall use best efforts to cause any proceeding conducted pursuant to this Section 13.11 to be held in confidence by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution, the arbitrators and each of the parties to such proceeding and their respective Affiliates, and all information relating to or disclosed by any party thereto in connection with such proceeding shall be treated by the parties thereto, their respective Affiliates and the arbitrators as confidential business information and no disclosure of such information shall be made by any party thereto, its Affiliates or the arbitrator without the prior written consent of the party thereto furnishing such information in connection with the arbitration proceeding, except as required by applicable law or to enforce any award of the arbitrators. The party whom the arbitrators determine is the prevailing party in such arbitration shall receive, in addition to any other award pursuant to such arbitration or associated judgment, reimbursement from the other party of all reasonable legal fees incurred with respect to such arbitration.

13.12. Waiver of Jury Trial.

EACH PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LITIGATION INVOLVING OR IN ANY WAY RELATING TO A DISPUTE ARISING HEREUNDER.

13.13. Further Assurances.

Each Member agrees to take from time to time such actions and execute such additional instruments as may be reasonably necessary or convenient to implement and carry out the intent and purpose of this Agreement.

13.14. Survival.

(a) Resignation, Relinquishment, Redemption and Transfer. After the resignation or deemed resignation of a Member, the relinquishment or redemption of a Member's Units, or the Transfer by a Member of all of its equity interests in the Company, such former Member shall have no further rights or obligations as a Member of the Company relating to periods after the date of the resignation, deemed resignation, relinquishment, redemption or Transfer; provided, that after such resignation, deemed resignation, relinquishment, redemption or Transfer, such former Member shall not be released, either in whole or in part, from any liability of such Member to the Company or the other Member under this Agreement or otherwise relating to periods through the date of such resignation, deemed resignation, relinquishment, redemption or Transfer, unless each other Member agrees in writing to any such release.

(b) Dissolution, Liquidation and Termination. After the dissolution, liquidation and termination of the Company, each Person that was a Member as of the date of the dissolution, liquidation or termination of the Company shall be entitled to copies of all information acquired by or on behalf of the Company on or before the date of dissolution, liquidation or termination and not previously furnished to such Person.

(c) Survival of Provisions. The provisions of this Agreement shall survive any event described in Section 13.14(a) and (b) to the fullest extent necessary for the enforcement of such provisions and the protection of the Members, the Manager or other Persons in whose favor such provisions run.

13.15. No Third Party Beneficiaries.

Except to the extent specifically provided in this Agreement with respect to Covered Persons (who are express third party beneficiaries of this Agreement solely to the extent provided in this Agreement), this Agreement is for the sole benefit of the Members and no other Person (including any creditor of the Company) is intended to be a beneficiary of this Agreement or shall have any rights under this Agreement. Except as specifically provided in this Agreement, no Person (including any named third-party beneficiary) shall have a right to approve any amendment or modification, or waiver under, this Agreement.

13.16. Entire Agreement.

This Agreement contains the entire understanding of the Members with respect to the Company and supersedes all prior agreements, understandings and negotiations relating to the subject matter of this Agreement.

13.17. Parties in Interest.

This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of the permitted successors and permitted assigns of the Members and shall be binding upon the successors and permitted assigns of the Members.

13.18. Specific Performance.

Each Member agrees that the other Members would be damaged irreparably and would have no adequate remedy at law in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, each Member shall be entitled to seek an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by the other Members and to enforce specifically this Agreement and the terms and provisions hereof, this being in addition to any other remedies to which such Member is entitled at law or in equity, without proof of actual damages or any obligation to post any bond or other security as a prerequisite to obtaining equitable relief. Each Member agrees not to dispute or resist any such application for relief on the basis that another Member has an adequate remedy at law or that damage arising from such non-performance or breach is not irreparable.

13.19. Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, including by electronic signature and all such counterparts taken together shall constitute the same document.

- LAC Management LLC, a corporation existing under the Laws of the State of Nevada ("Manager");

- Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC, a limited liability company existing under the Laws of the State of Delaware ("Company");

- Lithium Nevada LLC, a limited liability company existing under the Laws of the State of Nevada ("LNC"); and

- for purposes of Section 9, Lithium Americas Corp., a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the Province of British Columbia ("LAC").

WHEREAS Company and its subsidiaries, including LNC, are engaged in the business of the development, construction, start-up, financing, ownership, operation and monetization of the Thacker Pass lithium project (the "Project"); and

WHEREAS Company wishes to retain Manager and desires Manager to provide the Services (as hereinafter defined), and Manager is willing to perform such Services under the terms and subject to the conditions of this Agreement.

NOW THEREFORE in consideration of the mutual covenants and agreements herein contained, the parties hereto covenant and agree as follows:

1. Rules of Construction. The words "hereof," "herein" and "hereunder" and words of similar import when used in this Agreement shall refer to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular provision of this Agreement. All references herein to Sections, unless the context requires a different construction, shall be deemed to be references to the Sections of this Agreement. In this Agreement, unless a clear contrary intention appears, the word "including" (and with correlative meaning "include") means including, without limiting the generality of any description preceding such term. Words, terms and phrases used, but not specifically defined, in this Agreement shall have the meanings commonly ascribed to such words, terms or phrases. The headings of the various sections of this Agreement are for convenience only and shall not affect the meaning of the terms and conditions of this Agreement. No provision of this Agreement shall be interpreted or construed against any party solely because that party or its legal representative drafted such provision. Each reference in this Agreement to a party shall be construed to include its successors and permitted assigns. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meaning ascribed to such terms in the amended and restated limited liability company agreement of Company dated [●], 2024 (the "Company LLC Agreement").

2. Term and Termination.

2.1. The term of this Agreement shall commence as of the Effective Date and, unless terminated earlier pursuant to Section 2.2 or Section 2.3 or extended by mutual agreement by the parties, end on the earlier of (a) regulatory approval of final reclamation and closure of the Project in Humboldt County, Nevada and (b) the date when Manager ceases to, directly or indirectly, own any equity interests of Company (the "Term"), in each case, subject to Section 2.4.

2.2. Subject to Sections 2.3 and 2.4, this Agreement may only be terminated during the Term by mutual written agreement between the parties, other than as set forth below.

(a) Termination by Manager. Subject to Section 2.4, Manager may terminate this Agreement immediately upon written notice to Company in the event of any of the following trigger events by Company:

(i) Company fails to pay to Manager any amounts due under this Agreement (other than any amounts which are the subject of a bona fide dispute) for ninety (90) days or more after such payment is due; provided this termination right shall not be available to Manager unless Manager has provided Company with notice of such payment failure at least sixty (60) days prior to termination under this Section 2.2(a)(i);

(ii) a material default or material breach by Company under this Agreement that (A) is not reasonably curable or (B) if reasonably curable, is not cured by Company within sixty (60) days after written notice thereof from Manager to Company;

(iii) Manager and its Affiliates collectively hold Proportionate Interests of less than []% and Manager has provided Company with at least ten (10) business days' written notice of its intention to terminate this Agreement;

(iv) a dissolution, liquidation or winding up of Company;

(vi) Company files a petition, proposal or answer or consent seeking reorganization, readjustment, arrangement, composition or similar relief under any bankruptcy Law or makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors generally;

(vii) Company consents to the appointment of a receiver, liquidator, trustee or assignee in bankruptcy over all or substantially all of its assets;

(viii) any proceeding with respect to Company is commenced under Chapter 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code or similar legislation relating to a compromise or arrangement with creditors or claimants, and such proceeding has not been stayed or terminated prior to the expiry of thirty (30) days after such proceeding has been commenced; or

(ix) Company purports to assign or transfer this Agreement or any right or interest herein except in accordance with Section 16.

(b) Termination by Company. Subject to Section 2.4, Company may terminate this Agreement immediately upon written notice to Manager in the event of any of the following trigger events by Manager:

(i) a material default or material breach by Manager under this Agreement that (A) is not reasonably curable or (B) if reasonably curable, is not cured by Manager within sixty (60) days after written notice thereof from Company to Manager;

(ii) Manager and its Affiliates collectively hold Proportionate Interests of less than []% and Company has provided Manager with at least ten (10) business days' written notice of its intention to terminate this Agreement;

(iii) a dissolution, liquidation or winding up of Manager;

prior to the expiry of thirty (30) days after such proceeding has been commenced;

(viii) Manager's failure to comply with the compliance covenants set forth on Schedule B (the "Compliance Covenants"), to the extent such failure is not (1) cured or corrected in all material respects within 30 days of the earlier of Manager's receipt of notice or knowledge of same, or (2) if such incident of non-compliance (A) is not material, (B) is solely related to non-compliance with Section 1.1(c), Section 1.2(a)(ii) or Section 1.3(b) of the Compliance Covenants and (C) was not subject to a cure period under applicable Law but cannot be reasonably cured within such 30 day period, (x) the preparation and adoption by Manager of a bona fide plan within such 30 day period to cure such incident of non-compliance as soon as reasonably practicable and (y) the curing of such incident of non-compliance is within 60 days of the earlier of Manager's receipt of notice or knowledge of same;

(ix) a Parent Change of Control if it results in (A) the LAC Parent becoming a Sanctioned Person, FEOC or GM Competitor or (B) Manager not being reasonably capable of performing the Services contemplated hereby in substantially the same manner, and at substantially the same price, as during the twelve (12) months preceding such Parent Change of Control; or (x) Manager purports to assign or transfer this Agreement or any right or interest herein except in accordance with Section 16.

2.3. Any termination of this Agreement shall not affect any rights of any party that have accrued prior to the date of termination, nor relieve a party from any of its obligations or liabilities that have arisen hereunder prior to the date of termination, nor will it affect any obligations and rights contained in this Section 2.3 or in any of the other provisions of this Agreement that survive termination of this Agreement.

2.4. In the event of Manager's removal or resignation pursuant to Section 2.2(a)(iii) or Section 2.2(b), then notwithstanding the provisions thereof, this Agreement shall be extended for a period of time not to exceed six (6) months (any such extension, and the period of such extension, at the Company's sole discretion) (the "Transition Period"). During the Transition Period, and as part of the Services provided by Manager during the Transition Period in exchange for the Management Fee, Manager shall provide the Company Group and their respective designee(s) with reasonable transition services to facilitate an orderly transition from Manager's Services (the "Disengagement Services"), to the extent such Disengagement Services are reasonably requested by Company. The parties shall cooperate and use commercially reasonable efforts to effectuate a smooth transition throughout the Transition Period, and, to the extent reasonably practical, without any (unless pre-approved by the Company in writing, in its sole discretion): (a) interruption of Services; (b) adverse impact on the provision of Services; or (c) interruption of any Services provided by Service Providers.

3. Services.

3.1. During the Term of this Agreement and subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Manager shall provide LNC or the Company and its other wholly-owned subsidiaries (collectively, the "Company Group" and each, a "Company Group Member"), with the services described in Schedule A-1 (the "Services"). LNC hereby acknowledges that Manager is not in the business of providing such Services other than under this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing or anything herein to the contrary, the provision of the Services hereunder and the payment of any amounts by any Company Group Member to Manager hereunder shall be deemed to have been made in accordance with the Payment Principles attached as Schedule F.

3.2. Manager shall provide personnel reasonably required to staff and perform the Services which may be accomplished to the extent necessary by employees of Manager or its Affiliates ("Personnel"); provided, however, that the employees of Manager or its Affiliates utilized by Manager for the performance of the Services shall not be required to be dedicated solely to providing the Services and may, at the discretion of Manager, be employed by Manager or its Affiliates to perform duties unrelated to the Services.

3.3. Manager may have portions of the Services specifically identified on Schedule A-2, as amended from time to time pursuant to the terms set forth herein, performed by subcontractors pursuant to contracts for the provision of Services with Service Providers (such contracts, "Service Contracts") to the extent consistent with Approved Third-Party Expenses. Manager shall ensure that all Service Contracts that are entered into following the Effective Date are entered into directly with the Company Group, other than any Service Contracts that Manager determines in good faith would be more beneficial to the Company Group if entered into by the Manager and or any of its Affiliates because of a group or volume discount or similar benefit, or that are "enterprise-level" agreements, including software licenses or relating to cybersecurity incident response, that would otherwise be impractical to enter into on a standalone basis in respect of the Company Group. With respect to the Services set forth on Schedule A-2 (Third-Party Services) marked with an asterisk for which a Service Contract is already in effect as of the Effective Date, Manager shall either (a) arrange for the Service Contract to be assigned to the Company Group, (b) cause the Company Group to enter into a new Service Contract with the applicable Service Provider consistent with Approved Third-Party Expenses, or (c) ensure that such existing Service Contract names the Company as an intended third-party beneficiary with all rights of enforcement thereunder. Manager shall provide copies of all Service Contracts to the Company.

3.4. Manager shall oversee and review the performance of all contractors of Manager or its Affiliates and all other direct suppliers, vendors and any other counterparty to the Service Contracts (collectively, the "Service Providers", and each, a "Service Provider"). Manager shall incorporate, and require each Service Provider to incorporate, to the extent applicable any GM Supply Chain Policy in its contract for goods or services used in connection with this Agreement, unless Manager determines in good faith, after receiving advice from counsel, that (i) the Service Provider maintains its own code of conduct and/or other supply chain policy(s) and (ii) such code and/or other policy(s) are substantially similar in all material respects to the applicable portions of the GM Supply Chain Policies.

3.5. Manager shall cause the Services to be provided by Manager (i) in accordance with the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in Schedules A-1 and A-2 and this Agreement; (ii) in good faith and with the best interests of the Project and the Company Group, and in connection therewith shall exercise the standard and degree of care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent Person would exercise in comparable circumstances; (iii) in compliance in all material respects (and require such compliance of others doing work on behalf of Manager) with the requirements of all applicable Laws, rules, codes, regulations, ordinances, and other legal and governmental requirements of any local, provincial, territorial, federal or international jurisdiction in providing the Services (including any applicable professional licensing or permitting Laws), as well as in compliance with the Compliance Covenants; (iv) in compliance with good mining standards and practices within the North American mining industry, (v) in compliance with any Offtake Agreement with GM and (vi) in compliance with the policies set forth on, and attached to, Schedule E (the "GM Supply Chain Policies"). In the performance of this Agreement and the Services hereunder, Manager shall provide the Services as an independent contractor and shall have authority to select the means, methods and manner of performing the Services (in compliance with this Agreement).

3.6. During the Term, Manager will direct the Personnel on a "day-to-day" basis, and the Personnel shall be subject to, and be treated by Manager in compliance with, all of the local jurisdiction's rules and policies that apply to Manager. For greater certainty, and without limitation, (i) Manager will set overall policy and make all material decisions with respect to the Personnel providing the Services; (ii) Manager will retain ultimate authority over the Personnel during the Term; (iii) the Personnel will be under the exclusive supervision, direction and control of the board of directors of Manager; (iv) with respect to the performance of the Services, Manager will ensure that the Personnel complies with all requirements of the Company as set forth in the Company LLC Agreement and any Offtake Agreement with GM or with respect to any applicable GM Supply Chain Policy; and (v) the Company Group will not have or exercise any control or supervision over the Personnel providing the Services.

3.7. Subject to Section 3.2, neither party will make any changes to Schedule A-1 or Schedule A-2 except with the prior consent of the other party.

3.8. Manager shall be responsible for the maintenance of all required personnel records for the Personnel.

3.9. Unless expressly authorized by the Company in writing (pursuant to a Specified Approval) or pursuant to an Approved Third Party Expense, in performing the Services and within its scope of authority, Manager shall not act as the Company Group's agent. All Services provided by the Manager shall be for the account of the Company Group.

3.10. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary but subject to Section 3.11, Manager may not take any action in connection with the Services that would require approval of the Board of Directors of the Company, Specified Approval or Supermajority Approval pursuant to the Company LLC Agreement without obtaining the applicable required approval. Manager shall timely seek Company Consent from the Company as necessary to timely or properly perform its obligations hereunder. The Company shall review and promptly respond to all requests from Manager for the prior written consent of the Company for any required Board of Directors approval, Specified Approval or Supermajority Approval (the "Company Consent"). For the avoidance of doubt, Manager shall not seek Company Consent to add new Services under this Agreement other than in connection with the review and approval of the Programs and Budgets as set forth in Section 7.2 of the Company LLC Agreement.

3.11. In the event of an Emergency, Manager shall, subject to Section 3.10 but notwithstanding anything else in this Section 3 to the contrary, (i) take action to prevent or mitigate any actual or threatened damage, injury or loss arising out of such Emergency, and may commit funds and incur expenses that, in Manager's discretion, are required to respond to or otherwise address such Emergency, including the safeguarding of life and property, and to comply with applicable Law, and (ii) commence, or cause to be commenced, any required remediation, maintenance or repair work necessary to keep the Project operating safely (or to restore the Project to safe operating condition) and in compliance with all applicable Law ("Emergency Expenses"). Manager shall take reasonable steps to mitigate any and all Emergency Expenses.

3.12. During the Term, Manager shall keep in full force and effect and maintain at its sole cost and expense the policies of insurance covering the insurance categories set forth in Schedule C-1 (Manager-Only Insurance Requirements) in respect of the Manager, with the specified minimum limits of liability specified therein, and shall keep in full force and effect and maintain the policies of insurance covering the insurance categories set forth in Schedule C-2 (Shared Insurance Requirements) in respect of the Company Group (and such policies may also cover Manager and its Affiliates), with the specified minimum limits of liability specified therein, subject to the allocation of costs between Manager and the Company Group in accordance with Approved Third-Party Expenses. Manager shall ensure that all Service Providers are contractually obligated to Manager to maintain the applicable policies of insurance as required by industry best practices.

4. Relationship of the Parties. In the exercise of their respective rights and the performance of their respective obligations hereunder, the parties hereto are and shall remain independent parties. The parties are not and shall not be deemed to be partners or joint venturers with one another and nothing herein shall be construed so as to impose any liability as such on any of them. During the Term, all Personnel shall be employees of Manager and its Affiliates and shall not have any employment relationship with the Company Group while performing the Services (it being acknowledged that certain Personnel may serve as directors or officers of a Company Group Member). Subject to the terms of this Agreement, Manager shall be solely responsible for the performance of the Services. Manager shall be entirely and solely in control of its acts and the acts of its and its Affiliates' employees and agents while engaged in the performance of the Services. For purposes of this Agreement, "Affiliate" means with respect to a Person, any other Person that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, Controls, is Controlled by or is under common Control with, the subject Person. Notwithstanding the previous sentence, Manager shall not be considered an Affiliate of the Company Group Members (other than as used in Section 2.2).

5. Fees and Invoicing.

5.1. Company shall pay or cause to be paid to the Manager a fee of USD$[]per month for the Services performed by Manager hereunder (the "Management Fee"), which amount shall be adjusted annually with the Specified Approval of the Company (any such approved Management Fee, an "Approved Management Fee" and, together with the Management Fee, the "Management Fees"); provided that until the required Specified Approval of the Company is obtained for any revised Management Fee, the Company shall continue to pay or cause to be paid to the Manager the prior Approved Management Fee (increased by CPI), which shall be deemed to be the Approved Management Fee under this Agreement until a new Approved Management Fee is adopted in accordance with this Agreement. Manager shall not charge or collect any fees in excess of the Management Fee or, from and after approval thereof, an Approved Management Fee (it being understood that the Manager shall have no right to adjust the Management Fee pursuant to Section 7.6 of the Company LLC Agreement or otherwise), and the Manager acknowledges and agrees that in no event shall any Emergency Expense or Sustaining Expense adjustment constitute a portion of the Management Fee for the purposes of any CPI increases pursuant to this Section 5.1. The Manager acknowledges and agrees that (a) Approved Management Fees prior to Production Commencement shall not be paid in accordance with Section 5.3, and (b) in the event the Company does not have sufficient cash on hand to pay the Approved Management Fees, no Contribution Notice shall be submitted or delivered to the Members to request additional capital to be contributed to the Company in order to fund such Approved Management Fees, but instead, in each case, such amount shall be accrued by the Company and such accrued and unpaid Management Fees shall be subject to Sections 7.15 and 9.1(a)(ii) of the Company LLC Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, no payment is required for any Approved Management Fees under this Agreement if such Approved Management Fees are properly accrued in accordance with Section 7.15 of the Company LLC Agreement, and any Approved Management Fees that are deemed paid pursuant to Section 7.15 of the Company LLC Agreement shall be deemed paid pursuant to this Agreement.

5.2. In addition to the Management Fees, the Company will reimburse Manager for (a) Emergency Expenses and Sustaining Expenses, and (b) the amount of the Approved Third-Party Expenses incurred by Manager in connection with the Services performed by third-party Service Providers and consistent with the then Approved Third-Party Expenses. As of the Effective Date, the Approved Third-Party Expenses for the Services are set forth on Schedule A-2, and shall not exceed an aggregate amount of (a) for the period from the Effective Date through December 31, 2024, USD$[] divided by 365, then multiplied by the number of days between the Effective Date and December 31, 2024, and (b) for the period from January 1, 2025 through December 31, 2025, USD$[]. Subject to Section 3.3, Approved Third-Party Expenses may be incurred by Manager in the name of the Company Group or incurred in the name of Manager, and Company shall pay or reimburse such Approved Third-Party Expenses promptly after receiving an invoice therefore together with reasonable supporting documentation (including, if applicable, regarding allocation between the Manager and its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Company Group, on the other hand). "Approved Third-Party Expenses" means all amounts to be paid to third parties (including Governmental Authorities), including Service Providers, in connection with the provision of the Services that have been approved by the Company by Specified Approval or are set forth in an Approved Program and Budget. Manager acknowledges and agrees that to the extent any Approved Third-Party Expenses are not included in an Approved Program and Budget, such Approved Third-Party Expenses may not be incurred unless (and then only to the extent) expressly approved by Specified Approval. The Management Fee and detail of Approved Third-Party Expenses as of the Effective Date are set forth on Schedule D. In connection with seeking any approval of an Approved Program and Budget or other adjustment to the Management Fees or the Approved Third-Party Expenses, Manager shall provide to the Company such documentation as the Company may reasonably request. The Manager acknowledges and agrees that (a) Approved Third-Party Expenses prior to Production Commencement shall not be paid in accordance with Section 5.3 and (b) in the event the Company does not have sufficient cash on hand to pay the Approved Third-Party Expenses, no Contribution Notice shall be submitted or delivered to the Members to request additional capital to be contributed to the Company in order to fund such Approved Third-Party Expenses, but instead, in each case, such amount shall be accrued by the Company and such accrued and unpaid Approved Third-Party Expenses shall be subject to Sections 7.15 and 9.1(a)(ii) of the Company LLC Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, no payment is required for any Approved Third-Party Expenses under this Agreement if such Approved Third-Party Expenses are properly accrued in accordance with Section 7.15 of the Company LLC Agreement, and any Approved Third-Party Expenses that are deemed paid pursuant to Section 7.15 of the Company LLC Agreement shall be deemed paid pursuant to this Agreement.

5.3. Manager shall, within fifteen (15) days after the end of each month, invoice Company in U.S. dollars for outstanding Management Fees and Approved Third-Party Expenses due to Manager for the prior month, and Company shall pay each invoice in U.S. dollars within thirty (30) days of the date of invoice. All applicable sales, goods and services, harmonized sales and value-added taxes charged by Manager shall be separately identified on the invoice and such invoices shall contain all information required by applicable Law including any prescribed information. In the event a jurisdiction requires Company to withhold tax from a payment to Manager, Company shall provide Manager with appropriate documentation and shall apply the tax withholding as a payment.

5.4. Manager shall keep books of account and such other records as appropriate to accurately provide the Services (including as necessary for the Company to comply with its obligations under Section 7.7 of the Company LLC Agreement) and to record the Services and related costs provided pursuant to this Agreement and all costs and expenses incurred by Manager in connection therewith, including itemized lists of costs and expenses and allocation percentages with written description and justification of such allocations. Such books of account and other records shall be open to inspection by Company.

6. Intellectual Property.

6.1 Manager, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, hereby grants to the Company and each Company Group Member a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty free, irrevocable, non-transferable, non-sublicensable (except in connection with the receipt of the Services), limited license to use any Intellectual Property owned by Manager that is provided or otherwise made available by Manager to the Company or any other Company Group Member as part of the Services. Except as expressly set forth in this Section 6, nothing in this Agreement shall be construed to grant any Company Group Member or any other Person any rights in or to any Intellectual Property of Manager or its Affiliates. "Intellectual Property" means all (a) patents and pending patent applications, including provisionals, continuations, divisionals, continuations-in-part, reissues, or re-examinations thereof, (b) trademarks, (c) copyrights and works of authorship, (d) trade secrets, know-how, inventions, discoveries, formulae, practices, processes, procedures, ideas, specifications, engineering data, databases, and data collections, and (e) any other proprietary right, whether registered or unregistered.

6.2 During the Term, any Intellectual Property developed or conceived of by or for the Company Group, whether developed or conceived of solely by or for a Company Group Member or jointly by a Company Group Member with Manager or an Affiliate of Manager, including enhancements, modifications, derivatives, variants and improvements to any aspect of the Intellectual Property (collectively, "New IP"), will be considered to be a work made for hire or developed under a contract of services by Manager for the Company Group. Manager hereby assigns to Company, and shall cause any Affiliate to assign to Company, and Company shall own, all right, title and interest to all New IP. For clarity, Intellectual Property independently conceived of by Manager or any of its Affiliates, including any enhancements, modifications, derivatives, variants and improvements to Manager's Intellectual Property, shall not be considered New IP.

7. Ownership of Other Property. Except as otherwise contemplated by Section 6, all of the assets and properties owned, purchased, leased, developed, constructed and otherwise acquired or entered into in connection with the performance of the Services pursuant to this Agreement shall be and remain the sole property of the Company Group. During the term of this Agreement, Manager shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates to not, hold any such assets or properties in the name of the Manager or its Affiliates, it being understood that all such assets and properties shall be held in the name of a Company Group Member.

8. Indemnification.

8.1. Manager's Indemnity. Manager shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the Company Group and their respective successors and assigns and officers, directors, Affiliates, shareholders, partners, members, managers, representatives and agents (collectively, but excluding the Manager Indemnified Parties, the "Company Indemnified Parties") from and against any and all claims, losses, damages, charges, liabilities, obligations and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) (collectively, "Losses") against or incurred by a Company Indemnified Party directly attributable to the negligence, willful misconduct or fraud of Manager during the term of this Agreement; provided, however, that nothing contained herein shall be deemed to render Manager liable for, or obligated to indemnify any Company Indemnified Party against, any Losses to the extent attributable to or resulting from, the negligence or willful misconduct of any Company Indemnified Party or their respective agents or authorized representatives, Affiliates, subcontractors (other than Manager) and employees at any time during the term of this Agreement.

8.2. Company's Indemnity. The Company shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless Manager and its successors and assigns and officers, directors, Affiliates, shareholders, partners, members, managers, representatives and agents (collectively, but excluding the Company Indemnified Parties, the "Manager Indemnified Parties") from and against any and all Losses against or incurred by a Manager Indemnified Party arising in connection with this Agreement or in relation to the provision of the Services other than Losses for which the Manager is obligated to indemnify the Company Indemnified Parties pursuant to Section 8.1.

8.3. Procedures. If any claim is brought against a party hereto (the "Indemnified Party"), then the other party hereto (the "Indemnifying Party") shall be entitled to participate in, and, unless a conflict of interest between the parties may exist with respect to such claim, assume the defense of such claim, with counsel reasonably acceptable to Indemnified Party. If Indemnifying Party does not assume the defense of Indemnified Party, or if a conflict precludes counsel for Indemnifying Party from providing the defense, then Indemnifying Party shall reimburse Indemnified Party on a monthly basis for the reasonable cost of Indemnified Party's defense through separate counsel of Indemnified Party's choice. If Indemnifying Party assumes the defense of Indemnified Party with acceptable counsel, Indemnified Party, at its sole option and expense, may participate in the defense with counsel of its own choice without relieving Indemnifying Party of any of its obligations hereunder. Indemnifying Party shall not settle any claim without the prior written approval of Indemnified Party, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned.

8.4. Limitation of Liability. Except in the case of fraud, willful misconduct or negligence, neither party hereto shall be liable for any consequential, special, exemplary or indirect losses or damages whatsoever, whether based in contract, in tort (including negligence and strict liability) or on any other legal or equitable theory, except to the extent such damages (a) constitute direct damages or (b) are awarded in connection with a third-party claim.

8.5. Sole Remedy. The indemnities set forth in this Section 8 and any right to terminate this Agreement, constitute the Indemnified Parties' sole and exclusive remedies under or in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement (including for any breach of or failure to perform any covenant or agreement set forth in this Agreement or for any other reason and regardless of the theory upon which any claim may be based, whether contract, equity, tort, fraud, warranty, strict liability, or any other theory of liability). Any and all claims arising out of or in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement must be brought under and in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. To the extent that any Indemnified Party incurs any losses for which it would otherwise be entitled to assert any claim to indemnification, contribution, or recovery against the other party hereto or any of its Affiliates, or its and their respective shareholders, members, directors, managers, officers, employees, agents, advisors or representatives, in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, other than pursuant to the exclusive remedies described in this Section 8, such party hereby waives, releases, and agrees not to assert such claim, and such party agrees to cause each of its other Indemnified Parties, to waive, release, and agree not to assert such claim, in each case regardless of the theory upon which any claim may be based, whether contract, equity, tort, fraud, warranty, strict liability or any other theory of liability.

9. Guarantee.

9.1. LAC hereby, unconditionally and irrevocably, as primary obligator and not merely as surety, guarantees the full and timely performance of all obligations and liabilities of Manager (including any obligation or liability resulting from any indemnification, dispute resolution, mediation or arbitration) under this Agreement (the "Obligations").

9.2. In furtherance of the foregoing, if at any time Manager fails, neglects or refuses to timely or fully perform any of the Obligations in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement, then upon receipt of written notice from Company or any member of the Company Group with a claim or demand (any such Person, a "Claimant"), specifying the failure, LAC shall perform, or cause to be performed, any such obligation, responsibility, or undertaking as required pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including all payment obligations of the Manager under this Agreement. LAC acknowledges that the Company may, in its sole discretion, and including on behalf of any other Company Group Member, bring and prosecute a separate action or actions against LAC in respect of any or all of the Obligations, regardless of whether action is brought against Manager or whether Manager is joined in any such action or actions (but, for the avoidance of doubt, without any right to duplicative recovery). Subject to the immediately preceding sentence, with respect to any claim, action or proceeding against LAC in connection with this Section 9, LAC shall be entitled to assert only those defenses which Manager would be able to assert if such claim, action or proceeding were to be asserted or instituted against Manager.

9.3. Except as to applicable statutes of limitations, the Obligations of LAC shall not be released or discharged, in whole or in part, or otherwise affected by (i) the failure of any Claimant to assert any claim or demand or to enforce any right or remedy against Manager, (ii) any rescission, waiver, compromise, consolidation or other amendment or modification of any of the terms or provisions of this Agreement (other than in connection with an assignment permitted by Section 16 or an amendment of this Section 9 in accordance with Section 21), (iii) any change in the organizational existence, structure or ownership of Manager or LAC, (iv) any insolvency, bankruptcy, reorganization or other similar proceeding affecting Manager or LAC, (v) the existence of any claim, set-off or other right which Manager or LAC may have at any time against any Claimant, whether in connection with the Obligations or otherwise, (vi) the value, genuineness, validity or enforceability of this Agreement or (vii) any other act or omission that may in any manner or to any extent vary the risk of or to LAC or otherwise operate as a discharge of LAC as a matter of law or equity; provided that LAC shall be entitled to assert, as a defense to any payment or performance by LAC under this Agreement, any contractual claim or defense that Manager could assert against the Claimant under the terms of, or with respect to, this Agreement to the extent that such claim or defense would, under the terms of this Agreement, relieve LAC of the applicable Obligations.

9.4. To the fullest extent permitted by Law, LAC hereby expressly waives any and all rights or defenses arising by reason of any Law which would otherwise require any election of remedies by any Claimant, including any right to require any Claimant to proceed against any additional or substitute obligors or guarantors or to pursue or exhaust any other remedy available to any Claimant. LAC waives diligence, all defenses which may be available by virtue of any valuation, stay, moratorium Law or other similar Law now or hereinafter in effect, any right to require the marshalling of any assets and all suretyship defenses generally. LAC acknowledges that it has and will continue to receive substantial direct and indirect benefits from the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and that the waivers set forth in this Section 9.4 are knowingly made in contemplation of such benefits.

9.5. No delay on the part of any Claimant in the exercise of any right or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof, and no single exercise by any Claimant of any right or remedy shall preclude other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right or remedy; nor can any modification or waiver of any provision of this Section 9 be binding upon any Claimant (other than any amendment in accordance with Section 21). Each and every right, remedy and power hereby granted to any Claimant or allowed it by Law or other agreement shall be cumulative and not exclusive of any other, and may be exercised by such Claimant at any time or from time to time.

10. Confidentiality. All non-public, confidential or proprietary information of Company ("Confidential Information"), including, but not limited to, specifications, samples, patterns, designs, plans, drawings, documents, data, business operations, lists, pricing, discounts or rebates disclosed by Company to Manager, whether disclosed orally or disclosed or accessed in written, electronic or other form or media, and whether or not marked, designated or otherwise identified as "confidential," in connection with this Agreement is confidential, solely for Manager's use in performing this Agreement and may not be disclosed or copied unless authorized by Company in writing. Confidential Information does not include any information that: (a) is or becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of Manager's breach of this Agreement; (b) is obtained by Manager on a non-confidential basis from a third party that was not legally or contractually restricted from disclosing such information; or (c) Manager establishes by documentary evidence was in Manager's possession prior to Company's disclosure hereunder. Manager shall use the same degree of care, but no less than reasonable care, to protect the Company's Confidential Information as it uses to protect its own Confidential Information. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Confidential Information may be disclosed by the Manager in accordance with Section 13.1(b) of the Company LLC Agreement, mutatis mutandis. Upon Company request, Manager shall promptly return all documents and other materials received from the disclosing party. Company shall be entitled to injunctive relief for any violation of this Section 9.

11. Compliance with Law. Manager shall comply with all applicable Laws, regulations and ordinances in all material respects. Manager has and shall maintain in effect all licenses, permissions, authorizations, consents and permits that it needs to carry out its obligations under this Agreement.

12. Force Majeure. In the event Manager is rendered unable, wholly or in part, by Force Majeure to carry out its obligations under this Agreement, Manager shall give notice in writing to the Company promptly after the occurrence of such event, setting out the extent to which the ability of Manager to perform the Services has been affected by such Force Majeure, and the obligations of Manager, so far as and to the extent that they are affected by such Force Majeure, shall be suspended during the continuance of any inability so caused. As soon as practicable, Manager shall send Company a report on the actions needed to be taken to overcome the effects of the Force Majeure and estimates of the costs entailed in and time required for overcoming the effects of the event of Force Majeure. "Force Majeure" means any cause or causes not reasonably within the control of Manager, and which, by the exercise of reasonable diligence, Manager is unable to prevent or overcome, including, in each case, to the extent satisfying the foregoing, strikes; lockouts or other industrial disturbances; acts of the public enemy; acts of terror; sabotage; wars; blockades; military action; insurrections; riots; epidemics; pandemics; landslides; lighting; earthquakes; fires; storms; floods; washouts; civil disturbances; explosions or other casualty events; breakage or accident to, or partial or total failure of, machinery or equipment; the necessity for testing, inspections or making repairs or alterations to machinery or equipment; act action or restraint by any Governmental Authority; and any changes in applicable Law imposed after the Effective Date.

13. Entire Agreement. This Agreement, including and together with any related schedules, attachments and appendices, constitutes the sole and entire agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter contained herein, and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous understandings, agreements, representations and warranties, both written and oral, regarding such subject matter.

14. Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement is invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any jurisdiction, such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability shall not affect any other term or provision of this Agreement or invalidate or render unenforceable such term or provision in any other jurisdiction.

15. Waiver. No waiver by any party of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be effective unless explicitly set forth in writing and signed by the party so waiving. Except as otherwise set forth in this Agreement, no failure to exercise, or delay in exercising, any right, remedy, power or privilege arising from this Agreement shall operate or be construed as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any right, remedy, power or privilege hereunder preclude any other or further exercise thereof or the exercise of any other right, remedy, power or privilege.

16. Assignment. No party may assign any or all of their rights, benefits and obligations under this Agreement to any other person without the prior written consent of the other party hereto and provided that such assigning party remains liable to observe and perform all of its obligations and covenants hereunder and such assignee agrees in writing with the other party to be bound by the terms and provisions of this Agreement; provided, that, the Company may assign this Agreement without the consent of Manager to a third party purchaser of all or substantially all of the Company's assets. Manager shall not, without the prior written consent of the Company, permit, directly or indirectly, a (a) change of Control (other than a Parent Change of Control) or (b) transfer of any direct Equity Securities of Manager to (i) a Sanctioned Person, (ii) a FEOC or (iii) a GM Competitor. In the event there is a change of Control of Company resulting from a transfer pursuant to the requirements set forth in the Company LLC Agreement, in connection with the consummation of the applicable transfer, Manager shall assign all of its rights, benefits and obligations under this Agreement to the transferee (or an Affiliate) and shall ensure that an entity with the appropriate financial wherewithal assumes the guarantee obligations of LAC set forth in Section 9.

17. No Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement benefits solely the parties to this Agreement and their respective permitted successors and assigns and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, confers on any other person any legal or equitable right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

18. No Set Off. Regardless of any other rights under any agreements, neither Manager nor Company shall have the right to set-off the amount of any claim it may have under this Agreement, whether contingent or otherwise, against any amount owed by such party to the other party, whether under this Agreement or otherwise.

19. Survival. The terms and provisions of the obligations or agreements of the parties hereto under Section 1, Section 6 and Sections 8 through 25 shall survive any termination of this Agreement and will be construed as agreements independent of any other provisions of this Agreement.

20. Notice. Any notices required or permitted under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to have been duly given when delivered or sent if delivered in person or sent by facsimile or electronic transmission (provided confirmation is obtained), on the third business day after dispatch by registered or certified mail, or on the next business day if transmitted by national overnight courier, in each case as follows: (a) if to Manager: LAC Management LLC, 5310 Kietzke Lane, Suite 200, Reno, Nevada 89511, Attention: General Counsel, Email: []; and (b) if to Company: HoldCo 1 LLC, 5310 Kietzke Lane, Suite 200, Reno, Nevada 89511, Attention: General Manager, Email: [].

21. Amendment of Agreement. No modification, amendment or waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement shall be effective unless it is in writing and signed by the parties hereto.

22. Governing Law. This Agreement, and the rights and liabilities of the parties hereto under this Agreement, shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the Laws of the State of Nevada, except for its rules as to conflicts of laws that would apply the Laws of another state.

23. Arbitration. Each of the parties hereto shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve any dispute among them that relates to this Agreement and to settle any such dispute through joint cooperation and consultation. Any dispute whatsoever among any of the parties with respect to the interpretation of, or relating to any alleged breach of, this Agreement that the parties are unable to settle within thirty (30) days, as set forth in the preceding sentence, shall be resolved by final and binding arbitration administered by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution in accordance with its International Arbitration Rules, before a panel of three (3) arbitrators. Any such arbitration shall be held in New York, New York unless another location is mutually agreed upon by the parties to such arbitration. Such arbitration shall be the exclusive remedy hereunder with respect to any dispute relating to this Agreement; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 23 shall limit any party's right to bring (a) post-arbitration actions seeking to enforce an arbitration award or (b) actions seeking emergency or temporary injunctive or other similar temporary relief (pending the resolution of the arbitration contemplated herein) in the event of a breach or threatened breach of any of the provisions of this Agreement. If this Section 23 is for any reason held to be invalid or otherwise inapplicable with respect to any dispute, then any action or proceeding brought with respect to any dispute arising under this Agreement, or to interpret or clarify any rights or obligations arising hereunder, shall be maintained solely and exclusively in the state or U.S. federal courts in the State of Nevada. With respect to any action or proceeding that a successful party to the arbitration may wish to bring to enforce any arbitral award or to seek injunctive or other similar relief in the event of the breach or threatened breach of this Agreement (or any other agreement contemplated hereby), each party irrevocably and unconditionally (and without limitation): (i) submits to and accepts, for itself and in respect of its assets, generally and unconditionally the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the United States and the State of Nevada; (ii) waives any objection it may have now or in the future that such action or proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum; (iii) agrees that in any such action or proceeding it will not raise, rely on or claim any immunity (including from suit, judgment, attachment before judgment or otherwise, execution or other enforcement); (iv) waives any right of immunity which it has or its assets may have at any time; and (v) consents generally to the giving of any relief or the issue of any process in connection with any such action or proceeding including the making, enforcement or execution of any order or judgment against any of its property. Each party shall use best efforts to cause any proceeding conducted pursuant to this Section 23 to be held in confidence by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution, the arbitrators and each of the parties to such proceeding and their respective Affiliates, and all information relating to or disclosed by any party thereto in connection with such proceeding shall be treated by the parties thereto, their respective Affiliates and the arbitrators as confidential business information and no disclosure of such information shall be made by any party thereto, its Affiliates or the arbitrator without the prior written consent of the party thereto furnishing such information in connection with the arbitration proceeding, except as required by applicable law or to enforce any award of the arbitrators. The party whom the arbitrators determines is the prevailing party in such arbitration shall receive, in addition to any other award pursuant to such arbitration or associated judgment, reimbursement from the other party of all reasonable legal fees incurred with respect to such arbitration.

24. Waiver of Jury Trial. EACH PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT HEREBY KNOWINGLY AND VOLUNTARILY WAIVES ITS RIGHTS TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LITIGATION INVOLVING OR IN ANY WAY RELATING TO A DISPUTE ARISING HEREUNDER.

25. No Recourse. No Person who is not a named party to this Agreement, including without limitation any director, officer, employee, incorporator, member, partner, stockholder, Affiliate, financing source, attorney or representative of any named party to this Agreement ("Non-Party Affiliates") shall have any liability (whether in contract or in tort, in law or in equity, or based upon any theory that seeks to impose liability of an entity party against its owners or affiliates) for any obligations or liabilities arising under, in connection with or related to this Agreement or for any claim based on, in respect of, or by reason of this Agreement or its negotiation or execution; and each party hereto waives and releases all such liabilities, claims and obligations against any such Non-Party Affiliates.

26. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, and all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument. Any such counterpart may be delivered by electronic mail and each party waives any defense that delivery by electronic mail affects the enforceability of this Agreement.

Any waiver hereunder shall be effective only for the specific purpose for which it is given and for the specific time period, if any, contemplated in such waiver. LITHIUM OFFTAKE AGREEMENT (PHASE TWO)

LITHIUM NEVADA LLC

LITHIUM AMERICAS CORP.

and

LITHIUM OFFTAKE AGREEMENT (PHASE TWO)

This Lithium Offtake Agreement (Phase Two) (this "Agreement") is dated [ ], 202[ ] (the "Execution Date") and is among General Motors Holdings LLC ("GM"), Lithium Americas Corp. ("LAC Parent"), and Lithium Nevada LLC ("Supplier"). GM, LAC Parent and Supplier are sometimes referred to in this Agreement individually as a "Party" or collectively as the "Parties".

RECITALS

A. LAC Parent is developing a lithium mine at the Thacker Pass lithium project in Thacker Pass, Nevada, (the "Project") the initial phase ("Phase One") of which is expected to, at optimal anticipated production capacity, have an output of approximately 40,000 tonnes of lithium product per year and GM, Supplier and LAC Parent have entered into that certain Lithium Offtake Agreement dated February 16, 2023, for the Product produced at Phase One (the "Phase One Product"), which was assigned by LAC Parent to Supplier and was amended (as such agreement may be further amended, assigned or supplemented from time to time, the "Phase One Offtake Agreement").

B. Supplier is developing an expansion phase at the Project which is anticipated to be a second production facility on or around the site of Phase One, such expansion is currently contemplated to have an optimal anticipated production capacity of approximately an additional 40,000 tonnes of lithium product per year ("Phase Two").

C. GM desires to, directly and indirectly through its Designated Purchasers (as defined below), purchase lithium carbonate ("Product") from Phase Two of the Project (the "Phase Two Product") from Supplier.

D. The Parties desire to establish and structure a supply relationship such that GM and/or its Designated Purchasers will purchase from Supplier, and Supplier will produce, sell, and deliver to GM and/or its Designated Purchasers, the Product, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and all exhibits hereto including, but not limited to, the General Terms and Conditions attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "General Terms").

E. LAC Parent or one of its subsidiaries and GM are joint venture participants in the Supplier pursuant to that certain limited liability company agreement of Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC (the "JV Agreement").

F. LAC Parent and Supplier are collectively referred to herein as the "LAC Parties".

G. The Supplier has obtained debt financing in connection with developing Phase One pursuant to a Loan and Reimbursement Agreement dated [ ], 2024 (the "DOE Loan"), obtained from the Advanced Technology Vehicles Manufacturing Loan Program administered by the Loan Programs Office of the Department of Energy ("DOE").

BASED UPON THE FOREGOING RECITALS and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Term and conditions precedent.

The effective date of this Agreement shall be the Execution Date. The commercial terms of purchase and sale set forth in this Agreement shall become operative as of the Phase Two Effective Date (as defined below), provided that:

1.1. Phase Two Share; Adjustment based on Incremental Funding Obligation. GM shall be entitled to thirty-eight percent (38%) of the Phase Two Product, unless (a) LAC Parent or one of its subsidiaries has not completed its FID Capital Contribution (as defined in the JV Agreement) by the date that is the nine (9) month anniversary of the Execution Date or (b) immediately after such FID Capital Contribution, LAC Parent does not hold at least $51,000,000 of cash net of any financing fees required to be paid by LAC or any of its affiliates, in which case GM shall be entitled to forty-eight percent (48%) of the Phase Two Product (the "Phase Two Share").

1.2. Definition of Commencement of Commercial Production. "Commencement of Commercial Production" means and shall be deemed to have been achieved on the day on which the production facility to be developed for Phase Two (the "Production Facility") has operated for a period of thirty (30) consecutive days at an annualized rate during such period of at least 80% of its final anticipated nameplate capacity per year, as agreed by the Parties at the time of the final investment decision with respect to Phase Two (the "Minimum Annualized Production Rate").

1.3. Phase Two Effective Date. The Phase Two effective date shall commence on the date of the Commencement of Commercial Production (the "Phase Two Effective Date") and shall continue for twenty (20) years after the Phase Two Effective Date (the "Phase Two Term"); provided, however, that, other than with respect to the Stub Period (as defined below), the Phase Two Term shall be extended by an equivalent amount of time for each calendar year in which the Annual Production Forecast (as defined below) (the "MAPR Extension") is less than the Minimum Annualized Production Rate. If there is an MAPR Extension, references to the Phase Two Term shall be to the Phase Two Term as extended by the MAPR Extension (if any).

1.4. [reserved].

1.5. Progress Updates. Supplier will provide to GM written notice of the projected Commencement of Commercial Production at least one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, and thereafter will provide monthly progress updates including any revisions to the projected Commencement of Commercial Production. Supplier shall provide GM with written notice of the Commencement of Commercial Production within five (5) Business Days thereof. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day that is not a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which national banks in New York, New York, are authorized or required by law to remain closed.

1.6. Purchase Prior to Commencement of Commercial Production. Provided that (a) the Phase One Offtake Agreement has not terminated and (b) GM's currently binding Annual Purchase Forecast for Phase One is equal to the then-binding Annual Production Forecast for Phase One (subsections (a) and (b) together are referred to as the "Phase One Volume Requirement"), GM (for itself or through a Designated Purchaser) shall have the right to purchase up to its full Phase Two Share of all Phase Two Product prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement but based upon such minimum aggregate shipment quantities and such shipment delivery schedules as well as provisions as to chemical specifications as Supplier and GM shall reasonably agree. Commencing two (2) calendar months prior to the first month in which Supplier reasonably expects the Commencement of Commercial Production for Phase Two Product to occur, by no later than the fifth Business Day of such calendar month and each calendar month thereafter prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, Supplier will provide to GM a production forecast (the "Monthly Production Forecast") for the second succeeding calendar month (the "Relevant Month"), which identifies, among other things, Supplier's total forecast production of the aggregate quantity of Product expected to be produced in the Relevant Month and the shipping schedule for the Relevant Month (the "Monthly Shipping Schedule"). Within thirty (30) Business Days after receipt of the Monthly Production Forecast, GM must notify Supplier in the form agreed by the Parties from time to time, as to the amount of the consolidated quantity of the Product all GM Buyers elect to acquire in the Relevant Month and confirm the Monthly Shipping Schedule for the Relevant Month and provide Supplier with the amount of Product to be shipped to each GM Buyer. If GM does not give notice within the timeframe specified above, GM, for and on behalf of itself and all of the GM Buyers, shall be deemed to have declined to purchase the Product during the Relevant Month. If GM and/or its Designated Purchasers decline (or have been deemed to decline) to purchase all or any portion of its Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product produced prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, Supplier shall be entitled (but not obligated), in its discretion, to sell such Product to any Person. The ROFO Provisions set forth in Section 3 are not applicable to any sales described in this Section 1.6.

1.7. Evaluation of Lithium Hydroxide. The Parties will evaluate the technical and financial feasibility for Supplier to conduct operations to further process the Product to produce lithium hydroxide. If the Parties agree to the development of a lithium hydroxide production facility, the Parties will amend this Agreement to establish mutually agreed upon terms for the purchase and sale of lithium hydroxide. In the event the Parties are unable to reach agreement on such amended terms to be made to this Agreement, the Parties agree to resolve any differences in accordance with the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 18 of the General Terms.

1.8. Operational Details. The Parties will also work together throughout the Phase Two Term, each acting in good faith to agree on, as needed, further operational details regarding, among other things, the purchase process, logistics, sampling, transportation and delivery of the Product; provided, however, that any such additional details shall not supersede the terms of this Agreement unless agreed by the Parties in writing.

2. Volumes.

2.1. GM Buyers.

(A) Supplier shall sell the Phase Two Share to GM or any purchaser (for the avoidance of doubt, which may include GM affiliates or tiered suppliers) designated by GM and pre-approved in writing by Supplier (such approved purchasers, the "Designated Purchasers" and, collectively with GM, the "GM Buyers" or each a "GM Buyer").

(B) Supplier shall not unreasonably refuse or delay approval of a Designated Purchaser designated by GM. For clarity, if Supplier has terminated a Designated Purchaser Agreement (as defined below) as a result of a default of the applicable Designated Purchaser, such Designated Purchaser will no longer be deemed to be a Designated Purchaser that has received the approval of Supplier, and Supplier will provide GM with written notice thereof. If GM determines that a Designated Purchaser shall no longer be a Designated Purchaser pursuant to this Agreement, GM will provide notice of such termination to Designated Purchaser and Supplier.

2.2. Option Phase Two Volume. For each year during the Term that GM is satisfying any then applicable Phase One Volume Requirement, Supplier grants to GM an option for GM Buyers to purchase up to its Phase Two Share of all Product that Supplier produces for the Phase Two Production Facility (the "Phase Two Volume"). It is understood and agreed by GM that during any period that GM purchases Phase Two Volume pursuant to this Agreement, GM will purchase a minimum volume of Product equal to the lesser of: (i) the lithium carbonate equivalent of [] percent of GM's requirements for lithium that is necessary for use in the production of battery cells manufactured by GM or its affiliates, subsidiaries, or joint venture partners in North America ([] percent is an aggregated figure under this Agreement and the Phase One Offtake Agreement); or (ii) [] percent of the Phase Two Volume. For clarity, upon termination of the Phase One Offtake Agreement, the Phase One Volume Requirement will be zero when considering if GM is eligible to exercise its option to the Phase Two Volume and if GM exercises such option, each reference to [] percent in clause (i) above will be [] percent such that GM's minimum purchase obligation will be [] of GM's requirements for lithium that is necessary for use in the production of battery cells manufactured by GM or its affiliates, subsidiaries, or joint venture partners in North America.

2.3. Annual Production Forecast. If GM exercises its option consistent with the requirements of Section 2.2 above, Supplier will, not later than ninety (90) days prior to the Phase Two Effective Date (with respect to the period of time from the Phase Two Effective Date through December 31 of the year in which the Phase Two Effective Date occurs (the "Stub Period")); and thereafter by July 31 of each year of the Phase Two Term, provide to GM the estimated total Phase Two Volume multiplied by the Phase Two Share for the following [] calendar years (the "Annual Production Forecast"). The [] of each Annual Production Forecast shall represent the binding forecast from Supplier for the subsequent [], which shall be delivered to GM in accordance with the Shipping Schedule (as defined below) set forth in Section 2.5 below. The [] of each Annual Production Forecast is non-binding. Reference is made to Exhibit G for a summary of the provisions of Sections 2.3 through 2.7 (although such Exhibit G does not modify such Sections but is merely intended to be a shorthand summary for ease of reference purposes).

2.4. Annual Purchase Forecast. GM will, not later than: (i) forty-five (45) days after receipt of the Annual Production Forecast (with respect to the Stub Period); or (ii) August 31 of each year of the Phase Two Term, notify Supplier of the quantity of Product which GM Buyers will purchase in each quarter of the Stub Period or the subsequent [] calendar years, as applicable (the "Annual Purchase Forecast"). The [] of each Annual Purchase Forecast shall constitute a firm obligation of GM to (directly or in combination with the Designated Purchasers) purchase that quantity of Product during the applicable [] (the "Annual Quantity"). The [] of each Annual Production Forecast shall not constitute a firm obligation of GM to purchase that quantity of Product.

2.5. Seller Quarterly Production Forecast. Supplier will, no later than the fifth Business Day of each calendar quarter (each, a "Quarter"), provide to GM a rolling twelve (12)-month production forecast (the "Seller Quarterly Production Forecast") that is consistent with the Annual Production Forecast and identifies, among other things: (A) Supplier's total forecast production of the aggregate quantity of Product expected to be produced for the next four (4) Quarters multiplied by the Phase Two Share; and (B) the shipping schedule for the next Quarter. The shipping schedule will identify each relevant GM Buyer based on the prior Quarter's Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast provided by GM under Section 2.6 ("Shipping Schedule"). In no event shall the Shipping Schedule for the first Quarter provide for a shortfall of more than []% from the quantity set forth in any Seller Quarterly Production Forecast and a shortfall of more than []% from the quantity in Quarters two, three and four of the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast (each, the "Permitted Variance"). Reference is made to Exhibit E for an example of a Seller Quarterly Production Forecast. Any shortfall in a Shipping Schedule shall not reduce the binding annual quantity of Product set forth in an Annual Production Forecast and Annual Purchase Forecast, and any such shortfall in one Quarter shall be made up by Supplier in a subsequent Quarter.

2.6. Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast. GM must, within twenty (20) Business Days after receipt of the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast: (A) notify Supplier in the form agreed by the Parties from time to time, as to the amount of the consolidated quantity of the Product all GM Buyers elect to acquire in each Quarter identified in the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast (the "Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast"); and (B) confirm (or, in accordance with Section 2.7, request changes to) the Shipping Schedule for the next Quarter and provide Supplier with the amount of Product to be shipped to each GM Buyer. Reference is made to Exhibit E for an example of a Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast. If GM does not give notice within the timeframe specified above, GM, for and on behalf of itself and all of the GM Buyers, is deemed to have elected to exercise its option to purchase the same proportion of its Phase Two Share of the available Product that was exercised by all GM Buyers in the prior Quarter and to accept the Shipping Schedule for the next Quarter.

2.7. Modifications to Quantity of Product. Supplier will have five (5) Business Days following receipt of each Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast in which to notify Buyer that Supplier confirms, or proposes modifications to, the quantity of Product set out for the first Quarter in each Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast based upon operational timelines at the Production Facility. Any modifications proposed by Supplier shall be set out in such notice. If Supplier so confirms, or does not give any such notice within such five (5) Business Day period, the quantity of Product set out for the first Quarter in such Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast will constitute the firm order quantity of Product to be shipped during that Quarter (the quantities for the other four (4) Quarters being estimates only) (the "Quarterly Delivery Quantity"). If Supplier has notified GM within the above five (5) Business Day period of proposed modifications to the Quarterly Delivery Quantity, the Parties shall promptly discuss and resolve any such proposed quantity modifications.

2.8. Unallocated Phase Two Product. Supplier agrees that all Product produced from the Supplier's Phase Two Production Facility at the Project during the Phase Two Term shall be allocated and sold pursuant to this Agreement. If GM declines (or is not eligible to exercise due to a failure to purchase the Phase One Volume Requirement) its option to purchase any of the Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product in accordance with this Agreement (or is deemed to have done so), Supplier shall have the full and unrestricted right to sell all or part of such Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product to other purchaser(s) on any terms that Supplier is able to negotiate. For the avoidance of doubt, GM declining to purchase its Phase Two Share of any specific Phase Two Product shall have no impact on GM's option to purchase its subsequent Phase Two Share of available Phase Two Product, and Supplier shall not have the full and unrestricted right to sell the Phase Two Share of any Phase Two Product to other purchaser(s) until GM declines its option to purchase its Phase Two Share of such specific Phase Two Product. The ROFO

Provisions set forth in Section 3 are not applicable to any sales described in this Section 2.8.

2.9. Purchase Orders. With respect to all purchases of Product by GM Buyers pursuant to this Agreement:

(A) The GM Buyer will issue to Supplier, and Supplier will accept, one or more blanket purchase orders for purchase of the Product pursuant to which Supplier will produce and deliver Product in accordance with the firm portion of the Annual Purchase Forecast and the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast and releases to be communicated to Supplier setting forth the quantities of Product to be delivered and the delivery dates in accordance with the Shipping Schedule and subject to the Permitted Variance in Quarterly Shipping Schedules set forth in Section 2.5 (all such purchase orders, together with any related releases or agreements, each a "Purchase Contract"). Such Purchase Contract will be made pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Agreement including the General Terms and shall not modify the terms of this Agreement.

(B) Payment terms for each release of Product under a Purchase Contract shall be net [] days following the GM Buyer's receipt of the Product at the GM Buyer's facility but not later than [] days after first loading of the Product at the Project or the Alternate Location (as defined in the General Terms).

2.10. Designated Purchasers.

(A) For the avoidance of doubt, the volumes of Product in this Agreement are in the aggregate and apply to all purchases made under this Agreement, whether by GM or any other Designated Purchaser.

(B) A GM Buyer that is identified in the Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast will be responsible for issuing Purchase Orders, making payment and receiving Product, all subject to the terms of this Agreement with respect to GM or the Designated Purchaser Agreement with respect to any Designated Purchaser. GM will provide any Designated Purchaser written notice of the price to be paid by Designated Purchaser to Supplier for the Product pursuant to this Agreement, with a copy of such notice to be provided by GM to Supplier.

(C) Following the notification by GM to Supplier of any Designated Purchaser: (i) sales to such Designated Purchaser will be subject to the Designated Purchaser entering into a direct agreement with Supplier substantially in the form attached to this Agreement as Exhibit B (the "Designated Purchaser Agreement"), which such Designated Purchaser Agreement may be modified prior to its execution by mutual agreement by Supplier and GM.

(D) Any Purchase Contract or order placed by a Designated Purchaser shall create an independent contractor relationship between Supplier and such Designated Purchaser, and GM shall not guaranty any obligations of any Designated Purchaser and Supplier's sole remedy for any breach of a Designated Purchaser Agreement by a Designated Purchaser shall be to enforce Supplier's rights against a Designated Purchaser pursuant to such Designated Purchaser Agreement and under applicable law.

(E) In the event that Supplier assigns its rights under this Agreement as contemplated by Section 16.7, Supplier will provide notice of such assignment within five (5) Business Days to all Designated Purchasers with whom Supplier has executed a Designated Purchaser Agreement, and shall contemporaneously provide a written copy of such notice to GM.

2.11. Right to Phase Two Product. In the event that Supplier or any affiliate sells any Phase Two Product to another Person other than GM and/or its Designated Purchasers in accordance with this Agreement, and Supplier is unable to provide GM and/or its Designated Purchasers with the quantity of Product set forth in the Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast—whether due to a force majeure event (as defined in the General Terms) or otherwise—Supplier and its affiliates shall allocate any Phase Two Product such that GM receives not less than its pro rata share of actually produced Phase Two Product; provided that, if GM and/or its Designated Purchasers have purchased lithium carbonate from one or more third parties to replace undelivered Product under this Agreement during a force majeure event impacting Supplier, this Section 2.11 shall not apply to the extent of such purchases from third parties.

3. Right of First Offer for Phase Two Product.

3.1. Certain Defined Terms. For the purposes of this Section 3: (i) "Trigger Point" is the date upon which Supplier reasonably anticipates is 16 months prior to the final investment decision with respect to Phase Two and provides GM with written confirmation of its development plan for Phase Two; and (ii) "ROFO Provisions" are the provisions of this Section 3 pursuant to which Supplier grants to GM a right of first offer with respect to the remaining Phase Two Product not covered by GM's Phase Two Share.

3.2. Notice of Trigger Point. Supplier agrees to send a written notice to GM advising of the Trigger Point as and when the same has been reasonably ascertained. If the Trigger Point is subject to change, Supplier shall promptly send one or more written notices to GM updating the Trigger Point.

3.3. Compliance with ROFO Provisions. During any period that GM is in compliance with the Phase One Volume Requirement and additionally GM has committed in the then-binding Annual Purchase Forecast to purchase the entire Phase Two Share identified in the binding Annual Production Forecast of the Phase Two Product, Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) cannot offer to sell the remaining Phase

Two Product not covered by GM's Phase Two Share to a third Person (a "Phase Two Product Transaction") unless and until Supplier has first complied with the provisions of this Section 3. For clarity, without the prior written consent of GM, Supplier cannot implement the ROFO Provisions or enter into a Phase Two Product Transaction prior to the Trigger Point.

3.4. ROFO Notice. If, after the Trigger Point, Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) desires to enter into a Phase Two Product Transaction, Supplier shall first deliver a notice in writing (the "ROFO Notice") to GM whereby the Supplier offers to enter into a Phase Two Product Transaction with GM on the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice (the "Sale Terms").

3.5. Sale Terms. The Sale Terms shall include, to the extent applicable, the price for the Phase Two Product as well as any attendant investment in and/or provision of capital or other consideration to either Supplier and/or the Project as well as all other material terms and conditions in reasonable detail.

3.6. Evaluation Period. For a period of twenty (20) Business Days after receipt of the ROFO Notice (the "Evaluation Period"), GM shall have the right to send a written notice to Supplier (the "Offer Response"). If, during the Evaluation Period, Supplier amends or modifies the terms and conditions set forth in the ROFO Notice prior to receiving the Offer Response from GM, the Evaluation Period shall reset. The Offer Response shall set out whether: (i) GM is not interested in pursuing the Phase Two Product Transaction; (ii) GM is willing to pursue the Phase Two Product Transaction on the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including without limitation, the Sale Terms; or (iii) GM is willing to pursue the Phase Two Product Transaction, but with alterations/amendments/revisions to the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including without limitation, the Sale Terms (the "Suggested Revised Terms"). If no Offer Response is sent by GM to Supplier within the Evaluation Period, then GM is deemed to have elected the option described in Subsection 3.6(i).

3.7. Non Response – Offeree Commercial Agreement. If the Offer Response is as set out in Subsection 3.6(i) or is deemed to be as set out in Subsection 3.6(i), Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) shall have a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after the receipt (or non-receipt) of such Offer Response to negotiate with a third Person (the "Offeree") a Phase Two Product Transaction and to enter into a binding agreement of purchase and sale or other form of commercial agreement, as the case may be (the "Commercial Agreement") with the Offeree, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent. If the Commercial Agreement is not executed and delivered within such time frame then the ROFO Provisions shall reset and again be applicable to any subsequent contemplated Phase Two Product Transaction.

3.8. Standard ROFO Negotiation Period. If the Offer Response is as set out in Subsection 3.6(ii), Supplier and GM shall, each acting in good faith, for a period of a further one hundred sixty (160) days (the "Standard ROFO Negotiation Period") negotiate the binding Commercial Agreement, based on the Sale Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent.

3.9. End of Standard ROFO Negotiation Period – Offeree Commercial Agreement. If, by the end of the Standard ROFO Negotiation Period, Supplier and GM have not executed and delivered a binding Commercial Agreement based on the Sale Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent, then Supplier shall have a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after the last day of the Standard ROFO Negotiation Period, to negotiate with an Offeree a Phase Two Product Transaction on terms and conditions that are materially better (considered as a whole package) to Supplier than those set out in the ROFO Notice and to enter into a binding Commercial Agreement with the Offeree, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent. Supplier shall not disclose to an Offeree any of the information provided by GM to Supplier in the Offer Response or during the Standard ROFO Negotiation Period. In considering whether the terms and conditions are materially better, the Parties shall take into consideration, among other things, the offtake price, volume, investment quantum, form of investment, timing, execution risk, and government relations. If the Commercial Agreement is not executed and delivered within such time frame, then the ROFO Provisions shall reset and again be applicable to any subsequent contemplated Phase Two Product Transaction.

3.10. Revised ROFO Negotiation Period. If the Offer Response is as set out in Subsection 3.6(iii), Supplier and GM shall, each acting in good faith, for a period of a further one hundred sixty (160) days (the "Revised ROFO Negotiation Period") negotiate mutually acceptable alterations/amendments/revisions to the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including without limitation, the Sale Terms (the "Revised Terms") as well as, to the extent applicable, the binding Commercial Agreement, based on such mutually acceptable Revised Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent.

3.11. End of Revised ROFO Negotiation Period – Offeree Commercial Agreement. If by the end of the Revised ROFO Negotiation Period, Supplier and GM have not negotiated mutually acceptable alterations/amendments/revisions to the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including, without limitation, mutually acceptable Revised Terms, or, have not executed and delivered a binding Commercial Agreement based on the mutually acceptable Revised Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent, then Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) shall have a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after the last day of the Revised ROFO Negotiation Period, to negotiate with an Offeree a Phase Two Product Transaction on terms and conditions that are materially better (considered as a whole package) to Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) than the Suggested Revised Terms set out in the Offeree Notice and to enter into a binding Commercial Agreement with the Offeree, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent. Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) shall not disclose to an Offeree any of the information provided by GM to Supplier in the Offer Response or during the Revised ROFO Negotiation Period. In considering whether the terms and conditions are materially better, the Parties shall take into consideration, among other things, the offtake price, volume, investment quantum, form of investment, timing, execution risk, and government relations. If the Commercial Agreement is not executed and delivered within such time frame then the ROFO Provisions shall reset and again be applicable.

3.12. Clarification as to Due Diligence. For clarity, it is understood and agreed that the fact that an Offeree may have a right to conduct a due diligence investigation of the Supplier (and/or its applicable affiliates) and/or the Project and to receive customary representations and warranties and indemnities from Supplier shall not be considered for purposes of determining whether the terms are materially better (considered as a whole package) to Supplier.

3.13. Limitation on Term of Commercial Agreement with Third-Party. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if, consistent with the ROFO Provisions set forth above, Supplier enters into a Commercial Agreement with an Offeree for Product beginning prior to or at the Effective Date, the term of such Commercial Agreement shall not exceed (i) twelve (12) years if such Commercial Agreement is entered into in connection with the financing or funding for Phase Two or (ii) five (5) years if not required to support the financing or funding for Phase Two. For Commercial Agreements with an Offeree entered into after the Effective Date, the term of such Commercial Agreement shall not, without GM consent, exceed three (3) years from the date that GM declines (or is deemed to decline or not entitled) to exercise the ROFO.

4. Pricing.

4.1. Quarterly Price. Pricing for the Phase Two Product, including any Phase Two Product produced at the Production Facility prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, will be set Quarterly (the "Quarterly Price"), as set forth in Section 4.2. Once the Quarterly Price is established, such price will be fixed for the duration of the relevant Quarter, and GM will communicate the Quarterly Price in writing to all GM Buyers purchasing Product during such Quarter, and shall provide a copy of such notice to Supplier. The Quarterly Price shall not include duties, tariffs, taxes, or other government-imposed charges applied to the sale of the Product hereunder, all of which will be invoiced by Supplier and paid by GM or the Designated Purchaser, as applicable.

4.2. Fastmarkets MB Price. The Quarterly Price will be the average Fastmarkets MB Price (the "Fastmarkets MB Price") price per tonne for lithium carbonate, averaged over the prior Quarter (the "Reference Price"), less a discount as calculated in accordance with Section 4.3 (the "Discount"). The Fastmarkets MB Price shall be the average of the daily average price published by Fastmarkets MB LI-0029: Lithium Carbonate 99.5% Li2CO3 min, Battery Grade Spot Price CIF China, Japan and Korea Index ($ per kg) during the applicable reference period. Supplier shall convert the $ per kg reported by Fastmarkets MB to $ per tonne. In the event that (a) the Fastmarkets MB Price ceases to be published, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of either GM or Supplier (i) the Fastmarkets MB Price (or individual transactions within the index) cease to represent, or (ii) an alternative index becomes commercially available that more accurately represents an appropriate arms' length price for the sale and purchase of lithium carbonate of similar quality and in a similar location as the Product, GM and Supplier will negotiate and agree in good faith to a replacement index, the exclusion of certain transactions for a relevant period, or other mutually acceptable means of objectively determining an arms' length basis for pricing of the Product. The Phase Two Product will not have a floor price.

4.3. Discount. The Discount will be calculated using a weighted average cumulative tiered structure based on the following.

Reference Price (US $/t)	Discount
$15,000 - $24,999	[]%
$25,000 - $34,999	[]%
> $35,000	[]%

For illustration purposes only, if the Reference Price for Product for the prior calendar quarter was $37,500 per tonne, the Discount would be calculated as follows:

Discount = (24,999-15,000)[]% + (34,999-25,000)[]% + (37,500-35,000)*[]% = $[] or []%

Discount selling price = $37,500 - $[] = $[] per tonne

4.4. Renegotiate Pricing. GM and Supplier shall meet periodically in good faith to discuss and potentially renegotiate the pricing structure set forth in this Section 4 (upward or downward) based on Supplier's actual operating results and reasonable transparency, with consideration to global inflation, operational and investment efficiencies, and other relevant factors over time.

5. Delivery Location, Title, and Incoterms. Product shall be delivered in accordance with Section 2 of the General Terms. If and only if GM and Supplier agree to an Alternate Location (as defined in the General Terms), GM will provide written notice of such Alternate Location to any Designated Purchaser and will provide a copy of such written notice to Supplier.

6. Product Specification.

6.1. Chemical Specifications. The initial specification, packaging, and concentration requirements for the Product are set forth in Exhibit C (collectively, the "Specifications"). Final chemical specifications, including inert chemical specifications, will be provided by the GM Buyer no later than twelve (12) months before the Commencement of Commercial Production. Supplier will provide a Certificate of Analysis ("COA") with all deliveries of Product to GM Buyers. The required contents of the COA will be defined in the Specifications, including the results of any required chemical, physical or other performance testing.

6.2. Changes to Specifications. Following the final investment decision with respect to Phase Two, GM and Supplier shall discuss on an annual basis any proposed changes to the Specifications for the following year, in all cases upon at least twelve (12) months' prior written notice. Any changes to the Specifications and timing of implementation of such changes shall be as agreed in writing by the Parties. Any additional processing costs arising from changes to the Specifications requested by GM shall be paid by GM or the Designated Purchaser.

7. Confidentiality.

7.1. Non-Agreement Information. GM does not expect to receive any confidential technical or related information (the "Non-Agreement Information") from Supplier or LAC Parent, and GM will not be subject to confidentiality or nondisclosure obligations with respect to any such Non-Agreement Information (including Section 15 of the General Terms) unless Supplier and LAC Parent on the first hand and GM on the second hand have agreed to confidentiality and nondisclosure obligations in a writing signed by their respective authorized representatives that expressly applies to such Non-Agreement Information (a "Standalone CA"). Supplier and LAC Parent agree not to assert any claim (other than for breach of a Standalone CA) with respect to any Non-Agreement Information that Supplier or LAC Parent has disclosed or may hereafter disclose to GM, the Designated Purchasers, or their respective affiliates and subsidiaries.

7.2. GM Information. Supplier and LAC Parent shall not, and shall ensure that their respective affiliates shall not, publicly disclose any information regarding GM or any of its affiliates, GM's purchase of its Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product under this Agreement, or the Designated Purchasers under the Designated Purchaser Agreements (collectively, "GM Information") without the prior written consent of GM, provided, that no consent of GM shall be required for Supplier or LAC Parent to disclose GM Information if such disclosure is required: (i) by applicable securities laws, including, for greater certainty, the rules of any stock exchange upon which securities of Supplier or LAC Parent or any of their respective affiliates are traded; or (ii) to the extent necessary to enforce this Agreement including without limitation for the purposes of dispute resolution as set forth in Section 18 of the General Terms; provided that Supplier or LAC Parent, as the case may be shall (x) to the extent feasible in accordance with the requirements of applicable law, give prior written notice to GM and an opportunity for GM to review and comment on the requisite disclosure before it is made, including an opportunity for GM to prevent such disclosure and (y) use commercially reasonable efforts to incorporate GM's comments or limit such disclosure, by seeking confidential treatment or otherwise. Any disclosures made by Supplier or LAC Parent pursuant to Section 15 of the General Terms shall comply with the terms of this Section 7.2. This Section 7.2 shall survive for a period of two years following the expiration or termination of this Agreement.

7.3. Notice to Designated Purchaser. Any notice required to be provided by Supplier to a Designated Purchaser pursuant to Section 15 of the General Terms (as will be incorporated into the General Terms attached to any Designated Purchaser Agreement) will contemporaneously be provided by Supplier to GM, and GM shall have all of the same rights as the Designated Purchaser with respect to the disclosure of such confidential information.

8. Sampling and Testing; Material Origin; Special Warnings and Instructions.

8.1. Responsible and Ethical. Supplier represents and warrants that the lithium material mined and supplied to GM will be sourced in a responsible and ethical manner. Supplier will undergo a third party Environmental Social, and Governance ("ESG") independent assessment at Supplier's mining facility pursuant to one of the following two approved responsible sourcing frameworks: (i) the Responsible Minerals Initiative: The Responsible Minerals Assurance Process ("RMAP"); or (ii) the Initiative for Responsible Mining Assurance ("IRMA") Standard for Responsible Mining. In the event that (a) the RMAP or IRMA assessments are no longer available, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of either GM or Supplier (i) the RMAP or IRMA assessment ceases to be a credible independent assessor of responsible sourcing framework, or (ii) another independent, credible assessor becomes available, GM and Supplier will discuss in good faith and may agree in writing to an alternative third party ESG assessment/protocol of Supplier.

8.2. RMAP Assessment. If Supplier selects the RMAP assessment for their mining facility/operations, Supplier will schedule the assessment within six (6) months from the Phase Two Effective Date and begin that assessment within one (1) year from the Phase Two Effective Date. Supplier shall be fully conformant or carry an active status to this framework throughout the Phase Two Term starting one (1) year after the Phase Two Effective Date. In each RMAP assessment, Supplier shall incorporate the Responsible Minerals Initiative Environmental, Social and Governance add-on assessment. The results of this ESG assessment will be shared with GM, and GM and Supplier will mutually agree upon any necessary corrective action plan (including timing) to address gaps identified during such assessment.

8.3. IRMA Engagement. If Supplier selects the IRMA Standard for Responsible Mining for its mining facility/operations, the IRMA engagement must include a completed IRMA approved independent third-party audit at Supplier's mine site. This audit shall be completed by eighteen (18) months from the Phase Two Effective Date. Following this independent third-party audit, Supplier shall share with GM the results (audit report) of their IRMA audit. GM and Supplier shall mutually agree upon a timeline for resolving (i.e., corrective action plan) any critical requirements that were not fully met during the audit to ensure continuous ESG improvement at the mine site during the Phase Two Term.

8.4. Feedstock Supplemented. If, during the Phase Two Term, the mine source (feedstock) changes from the initial mine site, or if the initial mine source (feedstock) is supplemented with another mine site, Supplier shall notify GM immediately and shall work with GM to ensure that the responsible sourcing standards set forth in this Section 8 are incorporated at all additional mine site(s).

9. Audit.

9.1. Responsible and Ethical. Supplier represents and warrants that the Product will be processed in a responsible and ethical manner throughout the term of this Agreement. Supplier agrees that its mineral processing facility will be conformant and actively engaged to one of the following two approved independent third party responsible sourcing (i.e., ESG) frameworks (i.e., Standards): (i) the RMAP by the Responsible Minerals Initiative ("RMI"); or (ii) the IRMA Mineral Processing Standard by the Initiative for Responsible Mining Assurance. In the event that (a) the RMAP or IRMA assessments are no longer available, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of either GM or Supplier (i) the RMAP or IRMA assessment ceases to be a credible independent assessor of responsible sourcing framework, or (ii) another independent, credible assessor becomes available, GM and Supplier will discuss in good faith and may agree in writing to an alternative third party ESG assessment/protocol of Supplier.

9.2. Responsible Sourcing. If Supplier elects to satisfy its commitment to responsible sourcing at its mineral processing facility through the RMI framework, Supplier agrees to meet the obligations set forth by the RMI to be conformant or active to the RMAP. Thus, on an annual basis, Supplier agrees to procure an independent third-party responsible sourcing assessment (i.e., audit) at Supplier's mineral processing (i.e., smelting/refining) facility, that will demonstrate to GM that Supplier's management systems and sourcing practices are in conformance with the RMAP standards. The approved responsible sourcing assessment is conducted by the RMI. Through successful completion (conformant or active status) of this assessment, the Supplier will demonstrate alignment to the OECD Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Supply Chains of Minerals from Conflict Affected and High-Risk Areas ("OECD Guidance") and the commitments adopted by the RMI in the RMI's Global Responsible Sourcing Due Diligence Standard for Mineral Supply Chains All Minerals, and be assessed by an independent, RMI-approved third-party auditor.Supplier agrees that its processing facility shall be fully conformant or carry an active status to this framework throughout the term of this Agreement starting one (1) year after the Execution Date.

9.3. RMI ESG Add On Assessment. In each RMAP assessment, Supplier also agrees to incorporate at its mineral processing facility the RMI ESG add-on assessment. The results of this ESG assessment will be shared with GM, and GM and Supplier will mutually agree upon any necessary corrective action plan (including timing) to address gaps identified during such assessment.

9.4. Engagement with IRMA. If Supplier chooses to satisfy its commitment to responsible sourcing at its mineral processing facility through active engagement with the IRMA Mineral Processing Standard, such commitment shall require completion of IRMA's Mineral Processing Standard by an independent third-party auditor (i.e., not a self-assessment) at Supplier's mineral ore processing facility. This audit shall be completed by eighteen (18) months after the Phase Two Effective Date. Following this third-party audit, Supplier shall share with GM the results (audit report) of the IRMA audit. GM and Supplier shall mutually agree upon a timeline for resolving (i.e., corrective action plan) any critical requirements that were not fully met during the audit to ensure continuous ESG improvement at the mineral processing facility over the term of this Agreement.

9.5. Artisanal or Small Scale Mining. Supplier will: (a) promptly notify GM if Supplier becomes aware of any instance of artisanal or small-scale mining lithium or lithium-containing product entering Supplier's operations or supply chain related to this Agreement; (b) promptly notify GM if Supplier becomes aware of any instance of a subcontractor of Supplier providing any materials or services related to this Agreement failing to comply with any material provision of Supplier's standards; (c) promptly notify GM of the occurrence of any event where Supplier's compliance officer is notified of any event that is likely to negatively affect people, environment or company reputation relating to this Agreement together with an explanation of Supplier's prevention and mitigation plan for same; and (d) promptly notify GM of any NGO or media requests relating to Supplier's supply of Product to GM, and will fully cooperate with GM in preparing a response thereto.

9.6. Media Requests. If GM notifies Supplier of any NGO or media requests relating to Supplier's supply of Product to GM, Supplier will fully cooperate with providing to GM such information as GM reasonably requests for GM's use in preparing a response thereto. The Parties will mutually agree on any information provided by Supplier in accordance with this provision prior to disclosure of such information.

10. Inflation Reduction Act Considerations.

10.1. Lithium Processing Location. Supplier acknowledges that the Product will be used to manufacture or assemble Lithium-Ion Batteries that will ultimately be incorporated by GM into vehicles that may be eligible for a "Clean Vehicle Credit" under Section 30D of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). The lithium is processed into carbonate in Thacker Pass, Nevada. Supplier will not change the lithium processing location without first obtaining GM's advance written consent which shall not be unreasonably delayed or withheld. The Parties agree that GM may reasonably consider such alternate location's impact on the GM vehicles into which the Product is incorporated qualifying for the Clean Vehicle Credit. For clarity, written consent to relocate the lithium carbonate processing must be obtained directly from GM notwithstanding any agreement(s) pursuant to which a Designated Purchaser actually purchases the Product. Supplier covenants and agrees that the Product will not be extracted, processed or recycled by a foreign entity of concern, as described in Section 30D of the Code. Supplier agrees to provide GM with information and detail as is reasonably requested by GM to support GM's calculations and certifications in order for GM to maximize the Clean Vehicle Credits under Section 30D of the Code. Supplier further agrees to exercise reasonable effort in good faith to enable GM to maximize the Clean Vehicle Credits under Section 30D of the Code.

10.2. Lithium Extraction Attestations.

Supplier covenants and agrees that no portion of the lithium will be extracted, processed or recycled by a foreign entity of concern, as such term is defined in Section 30D of the Code. Supplier will provide attestations, signed by an officer of Supplier, that such lithium was not extracted, processed or recycled by a foreign entity of concern under Section 30D of the Code. Such attestation shall be in form and substance acceptable to GM and consistent to satisfy GM's obligations under Section 30D of the Code, including any regulations, notices or guidance thereunder.

11. Access to Information, ESG Committee and Annual Review.

11.1. Access to Information.

GM will have access and information rights to Supplier's Phase Two Production Facility and mine location and Supplier will permit GM and the Designated Purchasers a minimum of four (4) aggregated and a maximum of eight (8) aggregated site visits to the Phase Two Production Facility (only) per year. GM will comply with all health and safety regulations of Supplier. Such site visits will be at the sole risk, cost and expense of GM. GM shall give Supplier a minimum of 72 hours prior written notice in advance of each site visit. Each such site visit shall not interfere with the operations of Supplier. To the extent Supplier changes or adds a new lithium processing location in accordance with Section 10.1 of this Agreement, GM's rights pursuant to this Section 11.1 shall also apply to such additional locations. These access and information rights shall include access to Supplier's premises and books and records for the purpose of auditing Supplier's compliance with the terms of this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement (including, without limitation, charges under this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement) or inspecting or conducting an inventory of finished Products, work-in-process, raw materials, and all work or other items to be provided pursuant to this Agreement located at Supplier's premises. Supplier will cooperate with GM and the Designated Purchasers so as to facilitate such audit, including, without limitation, by segregating and promptly producing such records as GM and any Designated Purchaser may reasonably request, and otherwise making records and other materials accessible to GM and any Designated Purchaser. Supplier will preserve all records pertinent to this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement, and Supplier's performance under this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement, for a period of not less than one year after any GM Buyer's final payment to Supplier under this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement. Any such audit or inspection conducted by GM and any Designated Purchaser or their representatives will not constitute acceptance of any Products (whether in progress or finished), relieve Supplier of any liability under this Agreement or any Designated Purchaser Agreement or prejudice any rights or remedies available to GM.

11.2. ESG Committee.

GM and Supplier will establish an ESG committee (the "ESG Committee") to collaborate on key initiatives such as responsible sourcing. The ESG Committee will meet at least once per Quarter, unless otherwise mutually agreed by the Parties.

11.3. Annual Review Meetings.

The Supplier and GM shall meet at least once per calendar year during the Phase Two Term as reasonably appropriate on a date and location mutually agreeable to the Supplier and GM (each a "Review Meeting"). At each Review Meeting the Supplier and GM shall seek to address and discuss any outstanding issues under this Agreement, including without limitation, the reconciliation of purchase orders with respect to the then current Annual Quantity.

12. Compliance Obligations.

Supplier will use all reasonable endeavors to at all times comply with GM's Supplier Code of Conduct, GM's Human Rights Policy and GM's Responsible Minerals Sourcing Policy, attached to this Agreement as Exhibit D. Supplier also agrees to trace the source and origin of all components of the Product, and to provide to GM all information and documentation reasonably requested by GM resulting from such supply chain mapping.

13. Order of Precedence.

To the extent of any inconsistency between this Agreement, the Designated Purchaser Agreements, and the General Terms, such agreements will have the following order of precedence: (i) first, this Agreement, (ii) second, the General Terms, and (iii) third, the Designated Purchaser Agreements.

14. Termination.

14.1. Termination for Cause. The occurrence of any one or more of the following events will be an "Event of Default" upon the defaulting Party's receipt of written notice of the occurrence of such event from another Party and the expiration of any applicable cure period provided below.

(A) Events of Default as set forth in Section 17 of the General Terms.

(B) Supplier fails to comply with any of its obligations set forth in Section 8 or Section 9 of this Agreement and such failure continues for at least thirty (30) Business Days and, if Supplier is diligently pursuing such a cure at the expiration of such thirty (30) Business Day period, Supplier shall be granted an additional thirty (30) Business Day period to effect such cure.

(C) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control of any LAC Party to a Restricted Person which occurs without the consent of GM. To the extent that the foregoing occurs without the prior written consent of GM, GM shall have thirty (30) Business Days from the date GM becomes aware of the foregoing to provide the LAC Parties with notice of termination pursuant to this Section 14.1(C).

Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default by a Party, the non-defaulting Party (i.e. the Parties for the purposes of this Section, being the LAC Parties on the first hand and GM on the second hand) may elect to terminate this Agreement, for cause, in whole or in part, by notice of termination to the defaulting Party.

14.2. [Reserved].

15. Default By Designated Purchaser.

Any Event of Default by a Designated Purchaser pursuant to the terms of a Designated Purchaser Agreement shall not constitute a default by GM under this Agreement, and shall not constitute grounds for Supplier to terminate this Agreement.

16. General Terms.

16.1. Interpretation. All references to dates or time of day are references to the date or time of day in New York, New York. "Dollars" and "$" means United States Dollars.

16.2. Notices. All notices, requests, and other communications that are required or may be given under this Agreement must be in writing by electronic transmission and will be deemed received as of the date following the day the electronic transmission is dispatched. Any addresses set forth in this Section may be changed, from time to time, by notice given in the manner provided in this Section.

16.3. Entire Agreement. This Agreement and any schedules, exhibits, or other documents executed in connection with this Agreement, together with any agreements expressly incorporated into this Agreement and all recitals in this Agreement (which recitals are incorporated as covenants of the Parties), constitute the entire understanding of the Parties in connection with the subject matter of this Agreement and supersedes all prior proposals, negotiations, representations, understandings, commitments, and agreements, whether oral or written, with regard to the subject matter and provisions of this Agreement.

16.4. Modification. This Agreement may not be modified, altered, or amended except by an agreement in writing signed by all Parties.

16.5. Authority. Each of the representatives executing this Agreement on behalf of the Parties represents and warrants that he or she possesses the corporate power and authority to execute this Agreement on behalf of the respective Parties and that this Agreement has been duly authorized by the Parties. Each of the Parties represents and warrants that the execution and delivery by that Party of this Agreement, or compliance or performance by that Party with any of the provisions of this Agreement will not conflict with, or result in any violation or breach of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under any provision of the certificate of incorporation and by-laws or comparable organizational documents of that Party, any material contract of that Party, any judicial order applicable to that Party, or any applicable law, in each case, in existence as of the Execution Date.

16.6. No Contra Proferentem. The Parties are competent and experienced in business, and have negotiated and reviewed this Agreement with their counsel. Any ambiguous language in this Agreement should therefore not be construed against any Party as the drafter of that language.

ARTICLE III

3.1. Initial Capital Contributions; Initial Unit Issuances.

(a) As of the Effective Date, each Member has made (or has been deemed to have made) the amount of Capital Contributions set forth opposite its name on Schedule "C" under the heading "Initial Capital Contributions" (each, an "Initial Capital Contribution"). Except as set forth in Section 3.2, no Member has any obligation to make any additional Capital Contribution to the Company.

(b) As set forth in Schedule "C", the Initial Capital Contributions made by LAC include a cash contribution equal to $300,000,000 less the LAC 2024 CapEx. The Initial Capital Contributions made by LAC in the form of cash consideration shall be subject to adjustment as set out in this Section 3.1(b):

(i) At least five (5) Business Days prior to the Effective Date, LAC provided GM with a written notice setting forth a good faith estimate of the amount of LAC 2024 CapEx (such estimate, the "Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx") together with sufficient supporting documentation.

(ii) As promptly as practicable and in any event within sixty (60) days after the Effective Date, LAC will prepare or cause to be prepared, and will provide to GM a written statement (the "CapEx Statement") setting forth in reasonable detail LAC's good faith determination of the amount of LAC 2024 CapEx together with sufficient supporting documentation.

(iii) The amount of LAC 2024 CapEx set forth in the CapEx Statement will be final, conclusive and binding on the Company and the Members and constitute the "Final LAC 2024 CapEx" unless GM provides a written notice (the "CapEx Dispute Notice") to LAC no later than thirty (30) days after LAC's delivery of the CapEx Statement setting forth in reasonable detail any item on the CapEx Statement that GM has not received sufficient documentation to confirm or that GM believes has not been prepared in accordance with this Agreement. In the event that a CapEx Dispute Notice is delivered, the Members shall attempt to resolve the dispute in good faith for a period of thirty (30) days following the delivery of the CapEx Dispute Notice. If the Members resolve such dispute during such thirty (30) day period, the amount so agreed shall be the "Final LAC 2024 CapEx". If the Members are unable to resolve any such dispute during such thirty (30) day period, the dispute shall be resolved pursuant to Section 13.10, and the amount determined by the Independent Expert shall be the "Final LAC 2024 CapEx".

(iv) At such time as the Final LAC 2024 CapEx is finally determined in accordance with this Section 3.1(b):

(A) if the Final LAC 2024 CapEx is greater than the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx, the Company shall promptly (and in any event within five (5) Business Days) pay to LAC by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount in cash equal to the amount by which the Final LAC 2024 CapEx exceeds the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx; and

(B) if the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx is greater than the Final LAC 2024 CapEx, LAC shall promptly (and in any event within five (5) Business Days) pay to the Company by wire transfer of immediately available funds, an amount in cash equal to the amount by which the Estimated LAC 2024 CapEx exceeds the Final LAC 2024 CapEx.

(v) Any payments made by or to LAC pursuant to this Section 3.1(b) shall not result in any adjustments to the Units or Proportionate Interests issued to LAC on the Effective Date pursuant to its Initial Capital Contributions; provided, that the failure of LAC to make any payment required pursuant to this Section 3.1(b) shall result in an adjustment to the Units and Proportionate Interests in accordance with the Dilution Model.

(c) Concurrently with the Initial Capital Contributions of the Members, the Company shall issue 164,473,684,211 Units in the aggregate to the Members listed on Schedule "C" in the individual amounts specified under the heading "Units".

(d) The Units of the Members (as well as the Proportionate Interests) shall be adjusted (i) upon the funding of any incremental Capital Contributions as provided in Section 3.2 or 3.3 (including, with respect to Capital Contributions required to be made by such Member when required to do so pursuant to Sections 3.2(a) or the provision of the GM Letters of Credit when required pursuant to Section 3.2(b), the requisite adjustments set forth in the Dilution Model), and (ii) upon the Transfer by a Member of any Units under Article X.

(e) For the avoidance of doubt, all equity interests in the Company existing prior to the execution of this Agreement, and all agreements in connection therewith, are hereby automatically (and without action by any Person) forfeited or terminated, as the case may be, and of no further force or effect.

3.2. Additional Required Capital Contributions.

(a) At FID, each Member shall make the amount of Capital Contributions set forth opposite their name on Schedule "C" under the heading "FID Capital Contributions" (each, an "FID Capital Contribution"); provided that GM's obligation hereunder to make the FID Capital Contribution is subject to the following conditions (which conditions may be waived by GM in its sole discretion): (i) (A) the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement and the GM Phase 2 Offtake

Agreement shall remain in full force and effect; provided, that, a breach by GM of the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement and the GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement or any remedy exercised or action taken by LAC in response to such breach shall not be deemed to be a failure of this condition, and (B) each of LAC and the Company shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of its obligations, covenants and agreements under this Agreement, the Investor Rights Agreement, the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement and the GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement (as applicable) required to be performed or complied with prior to such contribution (other than failures to perform or comply that are curable and have been cured prior to FID), and (ii) (A) the DOE Loan shall remain in full force and effect, and (B) the Company and its Subsidiaries (as applicable) shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan required to be performed or complied with prior to FID (other than failures to perform or comply that are curable and have been cured prior to FID). On the Effective Date, each Member shall receive Units in respect of each FID Capital Contribution as if such FID Capital Contribution had been made on the Effective Date, all as set forth on Schedule "C".

(b) Promptly, and in any event at least sixty (60) days prior to the date the Company elects as the First Advance Date (as defined in the DOE Loan), the Company shall notify GM in writing of the First Advance Date. GM shall deliver the GM Letters of Credit, in support of its obligations under this Agreement to be posted against the Construction Contingency Reserve Account, the Ramp-Up Reserve Account, and the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account to the Company at least twenty-two (22) Business Days (a "Delivery Date") prior to (x) with respect to the Construction Contingency Reserve Account and the Ramp-Up Reserve Account, the First Advance Date and (y) with respect to the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account, the date of Total Plant Transfer (as defined in the DOE Loan); provided, that at and as of each Delivery Date, (i) the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect, and (ii) the Company Group shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, required to be performed or complied with prior to or at such Delivery Date. The Company shall be permitted to deliver the GM Letters of Credit that are to be posted against the Construction Contingency Reserve Account and the Ramp-Up Reserve Account to the DOE on the First Advance Date only if at and as of the First Advance Date (w) the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect, (x) the Company Group shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, required to be performed or complied with prior to or at such time of delivery, and (y) all other conditions precedent to the initial funding under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall have been satisfied or waived. The Company shall be permitted to deliver the GM Letter of Credit to be posted against the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account to the DOE at Total Plant Transfer only if at and as of the date of Total Plant Transfer (w) the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall remain in full force and effect, (x) the Company

Group shall have performed or complied with, in all respects, all of their respective obligations, covenants and agreements under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, required to be performed or complied with prior to or at such time of delivery, and (y) all other conditions precedent to Total Plant Transfer (as defined in the DOE Loan) under the DOE Loan, as amended by the DOE Loan Amendment, shall have been satisfied or waived. Except as otherwise set forth herein, GM shall be required to deliver and maintain each GM Letter of Credit posted (or to be posted) against (A) the Construction Contingency Reserve Account and the Ramp-Up Reserve Account from the First Advance Date until the Project Completion Date (as defined in the DOE Loan), (B) the Sustaining Capex Reserve Account from Total Plant Transfer until the Release Date (as defined in the DOE Loan), (C) the Debt Service Reserve Account from the earlier of (i) the Project Completion Date and (ii) the First Principal Payment Date, until the Release Date, and (D) the O&M Reserve Account from the Project Completion Date until the Release Date. Upon the Release Date, in the event there are still any outstanding GM Letters of Credit, the Company shall promptly, and in any event within two (2) Business Days of the Release Date, notify GM in writing. Unless earlier withdrawn as set forth herein (including pursuant to this Section 3.2(b), Section 3.8 or Section 10.6), upon the receipt of written notice of the Release Date, GM shall be entitled to withdraw the outstanding GM Letters of Credit, if any, and the Company shall cause the Subsidiary Borrower to withdraw such outstanding GM Letters of Credit in accordance with the terms and obligations set forth in the DOE Loan, the DOE ASA and the Accounts Agreement. Each beneficiary of any such GM Letter of Credit, as identified in such GM Letter of Credit, shall be permitted to seek recourse under such GM Letter of Credit.

(c) Attached hereto as Schedule "J" is an illustrative example of dilution (the "Dilution Model"). In the event that either Member fails to make the Capital Contributions required to be made by such Member when required to do so pursuant to Section 3.2(a) or GM fails to deliver the GM Letters of Credit when required to do so pursuant to Section 3.2(b), such Member shall forfeit the number of Units prescribed in the Dilution Model (and for the avoidance of doubt, shall not receive any consideration in exchange for such forfeited Units) and the other Member shall have the right to be a Contributing Member pursuant to Sections 3.4(a) and (b) based on the price per Unit as set forth in the Dilution Model.

3.3. Additional Incremental Capital Contributions.

At such time when the Board of Directors determines additional capital is needed for an Approved Program and Budget (in accordance with Sections 4.5(a) and/or 4.5(b), to the extent applicable, and subject to Section 7.6) or the Manager determines additional capital is needed for a Sustaining Expense in accordance with the Management Services Agreement, the Board of Directors or the Manager shall submit to each Member a notice setting forth the amount each Member should contribute, based on the Members' Proportionate Interests at such time, and the proposed Fair Market Value of a Unit for such Capital Contribution (a "Contribution Notice"). The Members shall have the right, but not the obligation, to contribute the amounts set forth in such notification within fifteen (15) Business Days after the later to occur of (i) the date such written notification is given and (ii) the determination of Final FMV of a Unit in respect of such Capital Contribution; provided that LAC and its Permitted Transferees shall be permitted to make such Capital Contributions in advance of the determination of Final FMV, and the other Members shall have the right to participate and make Capital Contributions on a pro rata basis promptly following the determination of Final FMV (and in any event, such Capital Contributions, if applicable, shall be made within five (5) Business Days of such determination). Each Member shall receive Units in respect of each additional Capital Contribution contemplated by this Section 3.3 based on the Final FMV of a Unit for such Capital Contribution.

3.4. Underfunding of Capital Contribution.

(a) If a Member fails to contribute the entire amount of capital such Member is required to contribute pursuant to Section 3.2(a), if GM fails to provide the GM Letters of Credit required to be provided pursuant to Section 3.2(b) or if a Member fails to contribute the entire amount of capital allocated to such Member as provided in a Contribution Notice delivered pursuant to Section 3.3, then such Member shall be a "Non-Contributing Member". The aggregate amount the Non-Contributing Members failed to contribute is referred to as the "Underfunded Amount". A member that contributed its proportionate share of the required capital pursuant to Section 3.2(a), the GM Letters of Credit pursuant to Section 3.2(b) or the capital call provided in its Contribution Notice delivered pursuant to Section 3.3, as applicable, shall be referred to as a "Contributing Member".

(b) The Manager shall deliver a notice to the Contributing Members the amount of the capital call which the Non-Contributing Members failed to contribute (a "Non-Contribution Notice"). A Contributing Member shall have the right (but not the obligation) to elect by notice to the Board of Directors delivered within ten (10) days after its receipt of the Non-Contribution Notice, to contribute an amount up to its respective Proportionate Interest (as between Contributing Members only) (an "Excess Contribution") of the Underfunded Amount. If a Contributing Member elects to make an Excess Contribution, then it shall be treated as a Capital Contribution, in which case the Contributing Member shall receive Units corresponding to the amount of such Excess Contribution based on the Dilution Model, in respect of contributions pursuant to Sections 3.2(a) or in substitution of the GM Letters of Credit, or the Final FMV of a Unit, in respect of a contribution pursuant to Section 3.3 (and the Proportionate Interests of the Members shall be adjusted accordingly).

3.5. Preemptive Rights.

(a) Except for any issuance pursuant to Sections 3.1, 3.2, 3.3 and 3.4, the Company shall not issue, sell or exchange, agree to issue, sell or exchange, or reserve or set aside for issuance, sale or exchange, (i) any Equity Securities of the Company to any Person (other than a Restricted Party) or (ii) any debt securities of the Company to any Member (collectively, the "Preemptive Securities") unless, in each case, the Company shall have first offered to sell to each Member who is a Non-Defaulting Member (each, a "Preemptive Holder") such Preemptive Holder's pro rata share of the Preemptive Securities, at a price and on such other terms as shall have been specified by the Company in writing delivered to each such Preemptive Holder (the "Preemptive Offer"), which Preemptive Offer shall by its terms remain open and irrevocable for a period of at least ten (10) calendar days from the date it is delivered by the Company (the "Preemptive Offer Period"). Each Preemptive Holder may elect to purchase all or any portion of such Preemptive Holder's pro rata share of the Preemptive Securities as specified in the Preemptive Offer at the price and upon the terms specified therein by delivering written notice of such election to the Company as soon as practical but in any event within the Preemptive Offer Period. Each Preemptive Holder's "pro rata share" of Preemptive Securities shall be determined as follows: the total number of Preemptive Securities, multiplied by its Proportionate Interest. To the extent a Preemptive Holder elects to purchase less than its full pro rata share of the Preemptive Securities, each other Preemptive Holder shall have an additional option to purchase all or any portion of the balance of any such remaining Preemptive Securities on the terms specified in the Preemptive Offer by delivering written notice to the Company within ten (10) calendar days of the expiration of the applicable Preemptive Offer Period of its election to exercise such option.

(b) In lieu of complying with the timing of the Preemptive Offer set forth in Section 3.5(a), the Company may elect to deliver a Preemptive Offer to each Preemptive Holder within thirty (30) days after the issuance of the Preemptive Securities if the proceeds of such issuance are, in the reasonable determination of the Board of Directors, necessary to be raised prior to the completion of the process described in Section 3.5(a). Any such delayed Preemptive Offer shall also describe the type, price, and terms of the Preemptive Securities. Each Preemptive Holder shall have ten (10) calendar days from the date notice is given to elect to purchase up to the relevant percentage with respect to such issuance as provided in Section 3.5(a).

3.6. Loans by Members to the Company.

Any loan by a Member to the Company made with the required consent of the Board of Directors and/or Members shall be separately entered on the books of the Company as a loan to the Company and not as a Capital Contribution and shall be evidenced by appropriate documentation approved by the Members in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement.

3.7. Return of Contributions.

Except as expressly set forth herein, no Member shall be entitled to the return of any part of its Capital Contributions or to be paid interest on either its Capital Account or its Capital Contributions. No Capital Contribution that has not been returned shall constitute a liability of the Company or any Member. A Member is not required to contribute or to lend cash or property to the Company to enable the Company to return any Member's Capital Contributions.

3.8. Reserve Accounts; Withdrawal of GM Letters of Credit.

The Company shall cause its applicable Subsidiaries to comply with all of the terms and obligations under the DOE Loan, the Accounts Agreement, the DOE ASA and each other applicable Transaction Document (as defined in the DOE Loan). While any amount of the GM Letters of Credit remains outstanding, the Company shall cause the Subsidiary Borrower to fund the DOE Reserve Accounts with any of the cash of the Subsidiary Borrower available to be used for such purpose, including any of the cash in the Restricted Payment Suspense Account (as defined in the DOE Loan), so that the cash deposited in each of the applicable DOE Reserve Accounts that requires funding pursuant to the Accounts Agreement is equal to the Reserve Account Requirement (as defined in the DOE Loan) for such DOE Reserve Account, until the face amount of the GM Letters of Credit is reduced to $0. On a quarterly basis (once applicable), the Company shall, and shall cause the Subsidiary Borrower to, where applicable, request that the DOE allow for the withdrawal of the GM Letters of Credit in accordance with Section 2.04(c) of the DOE ASA and Section 2.03(f) of the Accounts Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, the Company shall ensure that the Subsidiary Borrower does not distribute any cash to the Company, and the Company in turn does not make any distribution to Members pursuant to Sections 9.1 and 9.2, until all the GM Letters of Credit are completely withdrawn and the face amount of the GM Letters of Credit are reduced to $0. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the GM Letters of Credit shall be withdrawn no later than three (3) Business Days after notice of the Release Date, as set forth in Section 3.2(b). For the avoidance of doubt, once the face amount under any of the outstanding GM Letters of Credit is reduced, the face amount under the GM Letters of Credit shall not be increased.

ARTICLE IV
UNITS; MEMBERS

4.1. Units.

The Board of Directors shall have the authority to issue, on behalf of the Company, an unlimited number of Units, subject to compliance with Sections 3.3, 4.5(a) and 4.5(b). Units may be issued, and the Persons to whom such Units are issued, if not already Members, may be admitted as additional Members only after, in each case (a) Board Approval thereof, (b) Supermajority Approval and/or Specified Approval, if required pursuant to this Agreement, and (c) such Person executes a Joinder and any other agreements and instruments in form and substance as the Board of Directors may deem necessary or desirable to effect such admission. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, the Company may not issue Units or any Equity Securities of the Company to any Restricted Party.

4.2. Unit Certificates.

Units may be (but need not be) represented by certificates in such form as the Board of Directors shall from time to time approve, but shall be recorded in a register thereof maintained by the Company. If the Board of Directors elects to certificate the Units and a mutilated Unit certificate is surrendered to the Company or if a Member claims and submits an affidavit or other evidence, satisfactory to the Board of Directors, to the effect that the Unit certificate has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the Company shall issue a replacement Unit certificate if the requirements of the Board of Directors are met. If required by the Board of Directors, such Member must provide an indemnity bond, or other form of indemnity, sufficient in the judgment of the Board of Directors to protect the Company against any loss which may be suffered. The Company may charge such Member for its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in replacing a Unit certificate which has been mutilated, lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken. Units issued as of the Effective Date are not certificated.

4.3. Limited Liability.

The liability of each Member shall be limited as provided by the Act. No Member shall be personally liable under any judgment of a court, or in any other manner, for any debt, obligation or liability of the Company, whether such debt, obligation or liability arises in contract, tort or otherwise, solely by reason of being a Member.

4.4. Meetings; Written Consent.

(a) Any Member may call a special meeting of the Members on not less than five (5) Business Days' notice to the other Member(s). In case of emergency, reasonable notice of a special meeting shall suffice. Meetings of the Members shall be held by teleconference or at the principal office of the Company or at such other location as agreed by the Members. The Members may hold meetings without complying with the above notice requirements if all Members are present at a meeting and waive the applicable notice requirements.

(b) There shall be a quorum at a Members' meeting if Members holding at least 75% of the outstanding Units are present at the meeting. If a quorum is not present within 30 minutes following the time at which the meeting is scheduled to take place, any Member present may adjourn the meeting to the same day in the immediately following week (or, if that day is not a Business Day, the next following Business Day) at the same time and place. The Member adjourning the meeting shall make a good faith effort to give notice to the other Member(s) of the rescheduled meeting but otherwise shall be under no obligation to give the other Member notice thereof. Only those items included on the agenda for the original meeting may be acted upon at such a rescheduled meeting, but any additional matters may be considered with the consent of all Members; provided, that no such items may include any matter set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) without Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable.

(c) A Member may, upon notice provided to the other Member(s), invite a reasonably limited number of other persons who have a reasonable business purpose for being present, to attend the relevant portion of any meeting of the Members; provided that each other Member consents, which consent need not be in writing, may be given by acquiescence and may not be unreasonably withheld. If personnel employed by the Company Group are required to attend a Member meeting, reasonable costs incurred in connection with such attendance shall be paid for by the Company. All other costs in respect of invited persons shall be paid for by the Member who extended the invitation.

(d) Each notice of a meeting shall include an itemized agenda prepared by the Member responsible for calling the meeting, but any additional matters may be considered with the consent of all Members; provided, that no matter set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may be considered without Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. The Manager shall prepare minutes of the applicable meeting, including a rescheduled meeting, and shall distribute a copy of such minutes to the Members within ten (10) days after the meeting. The minutes must be signed by the Members in attendance. The minutes shall be the official record of the decisions made by the Members and shall be binding on the Company, and the Members.

(e) Members may attend meetings of the Members by telephone or by video conference as long as all participants are able to hear and speak to each other and decisions are confirmed in writing by the Members. Meetings of the Members shall not be required for any purpose. Any action required or permitted to be taken by Members may be taken without a meeting if the action is evidenced by a written consent describing the action taken, signed by the requisite Members.

4.5. Matters Requiring Additional Approval.

(a) Supermajority Approval. The Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to) take any of the following actions unless Supermajority Approval is first obtained:

(i) effecting the sale and transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company (other than as part of a Drag-Along Sale);

(ii) effecting the surrender or abandonment of any material part or parts of the Properties, including the area contemplated by Phase 1 and Phase 2;

(iii) changing the business purpose of the Company;

(iv) electing to permanently terminate the operations of the Project or to suspend operations or place the Project on care and maintenance; and

(v) effecting any liquidation, insolvency, bankruptcy, creditors' protection or any other Insolvency Event.

(b) Specified Approval. The Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to) take any of the following actions unless Specified Approval is first obtained:

(i) changing the size or composition of the Board of Directors of the Company, subject to Sections 5.2(a)(i) and 5.2(a)(ii);

(ii) authorizing, creating or issuing any Units or other equity securities, or reclassifying any outstanding Units into any limited liability company interest or other equity security, that is in either case senior to the Units as to rights and privileges with respect to distributions, liquidation or redemption;

(iii) amending this Agreement, the Articles or any other organizational document of the Company;

(iv) any change in the production process that is reasonably likely to result in a change to the specifications of the lithium product produced by the Project and provided to GM under any Offtake Agreements, unless GM is no longer utilizing its offtake rights under the applicable agreement evidencing such rights;

(v) effecting the sale and transfer of assets of the Company Group having an aggregate value of greater than $5,000,000, other than (A) a Drag-Along Sale, (B) any sale of lithium in the ordinary course of business or (C) any sale of an asset that is a non-productive asset with a book value after reflecting depreciation of not greater than $10,000,000;

(vi) incurring debt for borrowed money (excluding the DOE Loan) by the Company Group in excess of $10,000,000 on an individual basis or $30,000,000 in the aggregate, or making any material and adverse change to the terms of any such borrowed money debt;

(vii) entering into or making material amendments to any Affiliate Contracts;

(viii) amending the distribution policy set forth in Section 9.1;

(ix) entering into or making any material amendments to any contract on behalf of the Company or Subsidiary which contemplates (i) aggregate payments or receipts in excess of $10,000,000 in any twelve (12) month period or (ii) a term greater than three (3) years, other than (A) any Specified Offtake Agreement, (B) any purchase order of lithium conducted on a spot basis, which, for avoidance of doubt, means at a single point in time such that only a single exchange of product takes place, so long as the price per unit within such purchase order is equal to or greater than market price, or (C) any contract in connection with a Drag-Along Sale;

(x) effecting the settlement of any material claim or dispute that involves payment of more than $1,000,000 or that would require Specified Approval in accordance with the Human Rights Plan;

(xi) electing to pursue the development and construction of Phase 2;

(xii) effecting the acquisition of a material business or assets outside of the ordinary course of business;

(xiii) effecting the approval or amendment of an Approved Program and Budget, in each case that would increase the expenses, in the aggregate, by more than 10% as compared to the expenses as set forth in the prior Approved Program and Budget;

(xiv) effecting the termination or cancellation of an Approved Program and Budget;

(xv) making any material amendment to the DOE Loan, including any amendment that increases the amounts required under the Construction Contingency Reserve Account or the Ramp-Up Reserve Account, reduces any of the information provided pursuant to Section 7.7(e) or requires consent for any matter or action otherwise contemplated by this Agreement;

(xvi) taking any action under the Employee Incentive Plan, including in relation to the economic terms thereof or the participants therein, if and to the extent such action would result in the Company being obligated to reimburse Incentive Plan Costs in any given year of an amount greater than the Incentive Plan Costs set forth in the then current Approved Program and Budget;

(xvii) any determination subject to Specified Approval as set forth in Schedule "E"; and

(xviii) making any expenditures that would result in the aggregate expenditures of the Company Group exceeding the aggregate expenditures set forth in the current Approved Program and Budget by more than 10% (other than Sustaining Expenses).

(c) GM Approval. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, for so long as GM and its Affiliates hold 10% or more of the issued and outstanding Units, the Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to), unless the written consent of GM is first obtained, (i) effect any material tax change that could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect in any material respect on GM or its Affiliates, (ii) eliminate the Human Rights Committee, (iii) alter the composition of the Human Rights Committee such that no GM Designee is a member, (iv) alter the general scope, objectives, or procedures of the Human Rights Committee, (v) amend the Human Rights Plan or (vi) permit any member of the Company Group to enter into any contract that would require the consent of a Third Party for the Transfer of any Units by GM or otherwise restrict any of GM's Transfer rights under this Agreement (including GM's put rights under Sections 7.9 and 10.6); provided, that, entering into any contract that contains a restriction on the change of Control of the Company shall not require GM's approval under this Section 4.5(c).

(d) LAC Approval. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, for so long as LAC and its Affiliates hold 10% or more of the issued and outstanding Units, the Company, the Manager and the Board of Directors shall not (and shall cause the Company's Subsidiaries not to) effect any material tax change that could reasonably be expected to have an adverse effect in any material respect on LAC or its Affiliates unless the written consent of LAC is first obtained.

4.6. No Member Fees.

No Member shall be entitled to compensation for attendance at Member meetings or for time spent in its capacity as a Member.

4.7. No State Law Partnership.

The Members intend that the Company not be a partnership (including a limited partnership) or joint venture, and that no Member, Manager or Director be a partner or joint venturer of any other Member, Manager or Director or any purposes other than federal and state tax purposes, and this Agreement may not be construed to suggest otherwise.

4.8. Business Opportunities.

Each of the Company and the Members (in their own name and in the name and on behalf of the Company and its Subsidiaries) acknowledges and agrees that the Company (on behalf of itself and its Subsidiaries) hereby renounces any interest or expectancy in any business opportunity, transaction or other matter in which any of the Members participates or desires to participate and that involves any aspect related to the business or affairs of any of the Company and its Subsidiaries (each, a "Renounced Business Opportunity"). None of the Members shall have any obligation to communicate or offer any Renounced Business Opportunity to the Company, its Subsidiaries or any Member thereof and may pursue any Renounced Business Opportunity solely for its own account. Notwithstanding the foregoing, or anything to the contrary in this Agreement, LAC hereby covenants and agrees, and the Company hereby acknowledges and agrees, that any business opportunity, transaction or other matter in which LAC or any of its Affiliates participates or desires to participate that involves any aspect of the Business shall solely be conducted by and through the Company and its Subsidiaries, provided, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing herein shall restrict any financing or fundraising activities of LAC and its Affiliates (excluding the Company Group) that do not involve directly the conduct of the Business or otherwise seek to circumvent the protections set forth in this Section 4.8.

4.9. No Fiduciary Duties.

To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, a Member, in exercising any of its approval rights under this Agreement, shall (i) represent its own interests and (ii) be entitled to act or omit to act considering only such factors, including its own separate interests, as such Member chooses to consider. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, any action of a Member or failure to act, taken or omitted in good faith reliance on the foregoing provision shall not, as between the Company and the other Members, on the one hand, and such Member, on the other hand, constitute a breach of any duty (including any fiduciary or other similar duty, to the extent that such exists under the Act or any other applicable law, rule or regulation) on the part of such Member. To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, each Member, in its capacity as such, shall not owe any fiduciary duties to the Company or any of the other Members.

ARTICLE V

5.1. Management.

(a) The business and affairs of the Company shall be managed by or under the direction of a board of directors (the "Board of Directors"), to whom, subject to the limitations set forth in this Agreement and as otherwise required by the Act, the Members hereby delegate, and in which is vested, the full, exclusive and complete power, authority and discretion to manage and control the administration, affairs and operations of the Company. Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, all actions, determinations, elections, judgments, approvals, considerations, amendments, calls or designations taken or omitted to be taken by the Board of Directors pursuant to this Agreement (whether to the Board of Directors' satisfaction, sole discretion or otherwise) shall be taken or omitted to be taken only with Board Approval and, to the extent applicable, Supermajority Approval and/or Specified Approval.

(b) To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, a Person, in performing their duties and obligations as a Director under this Agreement, shall (i) serve in such capacity to represent the interests of the Member that designated such Director and (ii) be entitled to act or omit to act at the direction of the Members that designated such Person to serve on the Board of Directors, considering only such factors, including the separate interests of the Member that designated such Director and factors specified by such Member, as such Director chooses to consider. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary, any action of a Director or failure to act, taken or omitted in good faith reliance on the foregoing provision shall not, as between the Company and the other Members, on the one hand, and the Director or the Member designating such Director, on the other hand, constitute a breach of any duty (including any fiduciary or other similar duty, to the extent that such exists under the Act or any other applicable law, rule or regulation) on the part of such Director or such designating Member or any other Director or Member. To the fullest extent permitted by the Act, none of the Directors shall owe any fiduciary duties to the Company or any of the Members; provided, however, that the Board of Directors shall act in accordance with the implied contractual covenant of good faith and fair dealing consistent with the terms of this Agreement.

(c) Unless explicitly provided otherwise in this Agreement, including Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b), the Board of Directors shall have the power, right and authority on behalf and in the name of the Company and its Subsidiaries to carry out any and all of the objects and purposes of the Company and its Subsidiaries and to perform all acts which the Board of Directors, in its sole discretion, may deem necessary or desirable.

(d) The Company is solely responsible for the operation, maintenance and control of the Company's assets and facilities. Nothing herein shall be taken to impose any duties, responsibilities or obligations, express or implied, on the Members or their respective Affiliates (other than the Company) in connection with, or relating to, compliance with, or liability under, applicable laws relating, in full or in part, to the protection of the environment, natural resources or human health or safety, including those laws relating to the storage, generation, use, handling, manufacture, processing, transportation, treatment, release and disposal of hazardous substances or petroleum or any fraction thereof. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager in its capacity as such shall have such duties, responsibilities and obligations as set forth in the Management Services Agreement.

(e) Pursuant to the Management Services Agreement, the Board of Directors and the Members have delegated to the Manager the authority to perform the Services (as defined in the Management Services Agreement) and, subject to the terms of the Management Services Agreement and this Agreement (including any matter requiring Board Approval, Supermajority Approval, or Specified Approval), no additional delegation of authority or approval of the Board of Directors, the Members, or any other Person shall be required for the Manager to perform the Services in the manner required or contemplated by the Management Services Agreement.

5.2. Board of Directors.

(a) Organization and Composition. The Board of Directors shall initially consist of five Directors, three of whom shall be appointed by LAC (the "LAC Designees") and two of whom shall be appointed by GM (the "GM Designees"), subject to adjustment as set forth pursuant to Sections 5.2(a)(i) and 5.2(a)(ii) below.

(i) For so long as any Member holds a majority of the Proportionate Interests, such Member shall be entitled to appoint such number of Directors that would result in the minimum number of Directors necessary for such Member to hold a majority of the Board of Directors. Neither LAC nor GM shall be entitled to appoint a Director if the aggregate of the Proportionate Interest held by such Member together with any of its Permitted Transferees is less than 10%.

(ii) Each Member admitted after the funding of the Initial Capital Contributions with a Proportionate Interest equal to or greater than 20% shall be entitled to appoint one Director. No such Member shall be entitled to appoint a Director if the aggregate of the Proportionate Interest held by such Member together with any of its Permitted Transferees is less than 20%.

(iii) If at any time a Member's Proportionate Interest decreases such that the number of such Member's appointees then in office as Directors exceeds the number of Directors that such Member is entitled to appoint, a sufficient number of Directors appointed by it shall be automatically removed as a Director so that the number of Directors appointed by that Member equals the number of Directors that such Member is entitled to appoint.

(iv) Each Member may remove any Director appointed by it at any time with or without cause, effective upon written notice to Company by the appointing Member and, following any such removal, the appointing Member may appoint another Director (to the extent such appointing Member is otherwise entitled to do so in accordance with this Section 5.2).

(v) The Company and Members may not appoint or remove Directors except in accordance with the appointment rights provided by this Section 5.2.

(vi) Each Director appointed pursuant to this Section shall be an individual who is an employee of its appointing Member or such Member's Controlled Affiliates and is qualified to act as a Director under all applicable Legal Requirements, but shall not be required to be a Member of the Company.

(vii) Each Director may provide its appointing Member with any information acquired by the Director in their capacity as a Director of the Company.

(b) Voting. For purposes of determining whether the voting thresholds referenced in this Agreement have been satisfied, (i) the vote of all Directors who were appointed by the same Member shall be cast in the same manner (either for or against a measure, or otherwise) and (ii) any single Director may exercise all of the voting power of the Directors appointed by the same Member. In the event that there are two Members, each Director shall have one vote. In the event that there are three or more Members, each Director shall have the number of votes equal to the Proportionate Interest of the Member who appointed such Director (and if a Member is entitled to appoint multiple Directors, then the collective vote of the Directors who were appointed by the same Member shall be equal to the Proportionate Interest of the Member who appointed such Directors as of the time of the applicable vote).

(c) Meetings. Meetings of the Board of Directors shall be held at least quarterly, at such times and at such place outside of Canada as the Board of Directors shall determine. The Manager, on behalf of the Board of Directors, shall give not less than ten (10) Business Days' notice to the Directors of such regular meetings. In addition to regularly scheduled meetings, any Director may call a special meeting of the Board of Directors upon five (5) Business Days' notice. In case of emergency, reasonable notice of a special meeting shall suffice. There shall be a quorum if at least one Director appointed by each designating Member is present; provided that a majority of Directors may constitute a quorum without at least one Director appointed by each Member if all Directors received proper notice of such meeting in accordance with this Section 5.2(c); provided further, that notwithstanding any such majority quorum, matters set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may not be considered without the presence of Directors that may provide Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. Each notice of a special meeting shall include an agenda or statement of the purpose of the meeting prepared by the Director calling the meeting, but any matters may be considered at the meeting; provided, matters set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may not be considered without the presence of Directors that may provide Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. If a quorum is not present within 30 minutes following the time at which the meeting is scheduled to take place, the meeting shall be adjourned to the same day in the immediately following week (or, if that day is not a Business Day, the next following Business Day) at the same time and place. The Manager, on behalf of the Board of Directors, shall give notice to the Directors of the rescheduled meeting. Only those items included on the agenda for the original meeting may be acted upon at such a rescheduled meeting, but any additional matters may be considered with the consent of all Directors; provided, matters set forth in Section 4.5(a) or 4.5(b) may not be considered without the presence of Directors that may provide Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval, as applicable. For the avoidance of doubt, in no event shall any matter requiring Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval be voted on at a meeting where the requisite Directors are not present. Attendance of a Director at any meeting of the Board of Directors (including by telephone) shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where such Director attends the meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business on the ground that the meeting is not lawfully called or convened and notifies the other Directors at such meeting of such purpose.

(d) Reliance on Books, Reports and Records. Each Director shall, in the performance of their duties, be fully protected in relying in good faith upon the books of account or reports made to the Company by any of its Officers, the Manager, or by an independent certified public accountant or by an appraiser selected with reasonable care by the Board of Directors, or in relying in good faith upon other records of the Company. Furthermore, each Director (in such Person's capacity as a Director) may rely, and shall incur no liability in acting or refraining from acting, upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order, bond, debenture, paper, document, signature or writing reasonably believed by it to be genuine, and may rely on a certificate signed by an officer, agent or representative of any Person in order to ascertain any fact with respect to such Person or within such Person's knowledge, in each case unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such reliance, action or inaction, such Director engaged in bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing.

(e) Costs and Expenses. The Company shall pay or reimburse the reasonable and documented out-of-pocket expenses of the Directors in connection with the participation of the Directors in meetings of the Board of Directors (and committees thereof).

(i) Meetings of the Board of Directors may be held by means of conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all Persons participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in a meeting by such communications equipment shall constitute presence in person at the meeting.

(ii) A Director may, upon notice provided to the other Directors, invite a reasonably limited number of other persons who have a reasonable business purpose for being present, to attend the relevant portion of any meeting of the Board of Directors; provided that the Director(s) representing the other Member(s) consent, which consent need not be in writing, may be given by acquiescence and may not be unreasonably withheld. If personnel employed by the Company Group are required to attend a meeting of the Board of Directors, reasonable costs incurred in connection with such attendance shall be paid for by the Company. All other costs in respect of invited persons shall be paid for by the Member whose appointed Director extended the invitation.

(g) Action Without a Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors may be taken without a meeting and without prior notice if the action is evidenced by a written consent describing the action taken and signed by Directors representing the requisite number of votes that would be required to take the applicable action at a meeting of the Board of Directors and, when so signed, such written consent shall constitute Board Approval, Supermajority Approval and/or Specified Approval, as applicable, of such action, and notice of any such action taken shall be provided to those Directors who have not consented in writing promptly following the taking of such action.

5.3. Officers.

The Board of Directors may appoint such officers of the Company, including the chief executive officer of the Company, as the Board of Directors may deem necessary or advisable (collectively, the "Officers"), and such Officers shall have the power, authority and duties delegated herein or otherwise in writing by the Board of Directors. Officers may be given titles or may be designated as "authorized persons." To the extent authorized by the Board of Directors, any Officer may act on behalf of, bind and execute and deliver documents in the name and on behalf of the Company and its Subsidiaries, in each case, consistent with Approved Program and Budget and subject to Section 4.5. Each Officer (in such Person's capacity as an Officer) shall have such fiduciary duties that an officer of the Company would have if the Company were a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware.

5.4. Related Party Matters.

(a) Related Party Matters. "Related Party Matters" shall include any member of the Company Group, on the one hand, entering into any Affiliate Contract with any Member or Affiliate of such Member (in its capacity as counterparty to the applicable Affiliate Contract, arrangement or dealing, a "Related Party", and any Member who is, or whose Affiliate is, the Related Party, the "Conflicted Member"), on the other hand, and any decision or action by a Company Group member to:

(i) amend any Affiliate Contract with any Related Party;

(ii) affirmatively waive or release any of its rights or remedies in respect of a breach of, or a failure by any Related Party to comply with the terms of such Affiliate Contract;

(iii) affirmatively waive or release any of its rights or remedies in respect of any liabilities owed to the Company Group under such Affiliate Contract;

(iv) declare a default or exercise remedies after a default under such Affiliate Contract or exercise remedies of the Company Group member under such Affiliate Contract, or terminate, give notice to terminate or extend any such Affiliate Contract;

(v) defend any claim brought against a Company Group member by a Related Party under any such Affiliate Contract; or

(vi) bring any claim in respect of a breach or otherwise against a Related Party under any such Affiliate Contract.

(b) Approval Required. Neither the Company nor any Subsidiary of the Company shall take any action in respect of, and neither the Board of Directors nor any Member shall approve, a Related Party Matter without the prior approval of each Member that is not a Conflicted Member (each, a "Non-Conflicted Member") and that holds, together with its Affiliates, a Proportionate Interest of at least 10%.

(c) Process in Respect of Related Party Matters.

(i) If this Agreement provides, or the Company Group (or any Member) identifies, that a Related Party Matter has arisen or a course of action with respect to a Related Party Matter needs to be decided upon, the Board of Directors (through the Manager, acting on behalf of the Company) or the relevant Member becoming aware of the same shall promptly give a notice in writing to the other Members. Any such notice shall identify and explain the nature of the Related Party Matter and the proposed course of action, together with reasonable supporting documents, materials or information to enable the Non-Conflicted Member(s) to develop an informed view of such Related Party Matter and a proposed course of action for such Related Party Matter.

(ii) The Members shall cooperate in good faith to agree on the course of action to be taken by the Company Group with respect to the relevant Related Party Matter no later than fifteen (15) Business Days after the date on which notice was served on the Members in accordance with Section 5.4(c)(i).

(iii) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, (i) any Related Party Matter shall not require the consent, authorization or approval of any Conflicted Member or the Board of Directors, and (ii) the Non-Conflicted Member(s) may conduct or cause to be conducted any such Related Party Matter on behalf of the Company; provided that the Non-Conflicted Member(s) act in good faith and in the best interest of the Company.

(iv) If there are two or more Non-Conflicted Members, and such Non-Conflicted Members are unable to agree on a course of action pursuant to Section 5.4(c)(ii) in a manner that would satisfy Section 5.4(b), then any Non-Conflicted Member may refer the matter to an Independent Expert. Each such Non-Conflicted Member shall propose a course of action (solely with respect to the Related Party Matter) to the Independent Expert, who shall determine which proposed course of action is in the best interests of the Company, and the Company shall implement such action or course of action.

(v) Prior to a Non-Conflicted Member exercising its rights under Section 5.4(c)(iii) with respect to any Related Party Matter, all Non-Conflicted Members must agree on the applicable action pursuant to Section 5.4(c)(ii) or such Non-Conflicted Member must follow the course of action determined by the Independent Expert in accordance with Section 5.4(c)(iv). Any Non-Conflicted Member so taking any action with respect to any Related Party Matter, such Non-Conflicted Member shall provide written notice to the Company, and the Company shall have ten (10) days to take, or cause the applicable Subsidiary to take, such action.

5.5. Company Employees. By no later than April 30, 2027, LAC shall, and shall cause the Company to, implement a roles and responsibilities organizational chart that has all employees of the Company Group reporting, directly or indirectly, to the General Manager.

INDEMNIFICATION

6.1. Power to Indemnify in Actions, Suits or Proceedings.

The Company shall indemnify any Covered Person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative by reason of the fact that such Person is a Covered Person (each, a "Proceeding"), against any and all losses, claims, expenses (including attorneys' fees), costs, liabilities, damages, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such Covered Person in connection with such Proceeding; provided, however, that such Covered Person shall not be indemnified by the Company if there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of the matter for which such Covered Person is seeking indemnification hereunder, and taking into account the acknowledgments and agreements set forth in this Agreement, such Covered Person committed bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing or, in the case of an Officer (in such Person's capacity as such), such Officer did not meet the applicable standard of conduct under Section 6.8. Any indemnification provided hereunder shall be satisfied solely out of the assets of the Company (including available insurance coverage, if any), as an expense of the Company and, accordingly, no Covered Person shall be subject to personal liability by reason of these indemnification provisions.

6.2. Authorization of Indemnification.

Except as provided in Section 6.3, any indemnification under this Article VI (unless ordered by a court) shall be made by the Company only as authorized in the specific case upon a determination that indemnification of a Covered Person is proper in the circumstances because he or she has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 6.1. The determination of whether a Covered Person has met the standard of conduct that entitled it to indemnification hereunder shall be made by the Board of Directors. To the extent that a Covered Person has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any Proceeding referred to in Section 6.1, or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, he, she or it shall be indemnified against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by him, her or it in connection therewith, without the necessity of authorization in the specific case.

6.3. Expenses Payable in Advance.

Upon written request by a Covered Person, the Company shall pay reasonable expenses incurred (or reasonably expected to be incurred) by such Covered Person in defending or investigating a Proceeding in advance of (a) the final disposition of such Proceeding and (b) the determination of whether such Covered Person has met the standard of conduct that entitles such Covered Person to indemnification hereunder; provided, however, prior to payment (or advancement) by the Company of any such expenses, the Covered Person shall provide an unsecured undertaking to the Company to repay all such amounts if it shall ultimately be determined that such Covered Person is not entitled to be indemnified by the Company as authorized by this Article VI; provided, further, that in no event shall the Company be required to pay or advance to any Covered Person that is not an employee, director or officer of LAC or its Affiliates any amounts in connection with a Proceeding initiated by (i) such Covered Person or (ii) the Company or any of its Subsidiaries.

6.4. Non-Exclusivity of Indemnification and Advancement of Expenses.

The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by or granted pursuant to this Article VI shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses may be entitled under any agreement, contract, a vote of Members or Board of Directors or pursuant to the direction (howsoever embodied) of any court of competent jurisdiction or otherwise, both as to action in their official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office, it being the policy of the Company that indemnification of the Persons specified in Section 6.1 shall be made to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law. The provisions of this Article VI shall not be deemed to preclude the indemnification of any Person who is not specified in Section 6.1, but whom the Company has the power or obligation to indemnify under the provisions of the Act or otherwise.

6.5. Survival of Indemnification and Advancement of Expenses.

The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, this Article VI shall, unless otherwise provided when authorized or ratified, inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of a Covered Person. Any amendment, modification or repeal of this Section 6.5 or any provision hereof shall be prospective only and shall not in any way affect the limitations on liability of the Covered Persons, or terminate, reduce or impair the right of any past, present or future Covered Person, under and in accordance with the provisions of this Article VI as in effect immediately prior to such amendment, modification or repeal with respect to claims arising from or relating to matters occurring, in whole or in part, prior to such amendment, modification or repeal, regardless of when such claims may arise or be asserted.

6.6. Indemnification of Employees and Agents.

The Company may, to the extent authorized from time to time by the Board of Directors, provide rights to indemnification and the advancement of expenses to employees and agents of the Company Group similar to those conferred in this Article VI to Covered Persons.

6.7. Severability.

The provisions of this Article VI are intended to comply with the Act. To the extent that any provision of this Article VI authorizes or requires indemnification or the advancement of expenses contrary to the Act or the Articles, the Company's power to indemnify or advance expenses under such provision shall be limited to that permitted by the Act and the Articles and any limitation required by the Act or the Articles shall not affect the validity of any other provision of this Article VI.

6.8. Limitation of Liability.

(a) Each Covered Person may rely, and shall incur no liability in acting or refraining from acting, upon any resolution, certificate, statement, instrument, opinion, report, notice, request, consent, order, bond, debenture, paper, document, signature or writing reasonably believed by it to be genuine, and may rely on a certificate signed by an officer, agent or representative of any Person in order to ascertain any fact with respect to such Person or within such Person's knowledge, in each case unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such reliance, action or inaction, such Covered Person committed bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing.

(b) To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Covered Person shall be liable to the Company or to any Member for losses sustained or liabilities incurred as a result of any act or omission (in relation to the Company, any transaction, any investment or any business decision or action, including for breach of duties including fiduciary duties) taken or omitted by such Covered Person, unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such act or omission, and taking into account the acknowledgments and agreements set forth in this Agreement, such Covered Person engaged in bad faith, fraud or willful or intentional misconduct or criminal wrongdoing.

(c) To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, no Officer (in such Person's capacity as such) shall be liable to the Company or to any Member for losses sustained or liabilities incurred as a result of any act or omission (in relation to the Company, any transaction, any investment or any business decision or action, including for breach of duties including fiduciary duties) taken or omitted by such Officer (in such Person's capacity as such), unless there has been a final and non-appealable judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction determining that, in respect of such act or omission, and taking into account the acknowledgments and agreements set forth in this Agreement, such Officer (in such Person's capacity as such) would have had such liability for such act or omission that an officer of the Company would have if the Company were a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware.

(d) NOTWITHSTANDING ANYTHING IN THIS AGREEMENT TO THE CONTRARY, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, NO MEMBER (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A MEMBER) OR DIRECTOR (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A DIRECTOR) SHALL BE LIABLE TO THE COMPANY, TO ANY MEMBER OR TO ANY OTHER PERSON MAKING CLAIMS ON BEHALF OF THE FOREGOING FOR CONSEQUENTIAL, EXEMPLARY, PUNITIVE, INCIDENTAL, INDIRECT OR SPECIAL DAMAGES, INCLUDING DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF PROFITS, LOSS OF USE OR REVENUE OR LOSSES BY REASON OF COST OF CAPITAL, ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS AGREEMENT, THE BUSINESS OF THE COMPANY OR ANY OF ITS CONTROLLED AFFILIATES, REGARDLESS OF WHETHER SUCH CLAIMS ARE BASED ON CONTRACT, TORT (INCLUDING NEGLIGENCE), STRICT LIABILITY, VIOLATION OF ANY APPLICABLE DECEPTIVE TRADE PRACTICES ACT OR SIMILAR LAW OR ANY OTHER LEGAL OR EQUITABLE DUTY OR PRINCIPLE, AND THE COMPANY AND EACH MEMBER HEREBY RELEASE EACH OTHER MEMBER (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A MEMBER) AND DIRECTOR (IN THEIR CAPACITY AS A DIRECTOR) FOR ANY SUCH DAMAGES; PROVIDED, HOWEVER, THAT THE LIMITATIONS SET FORTH IN THIS SECTION 6.8(D) SHALL NOT APPLY WITH RESPECT TO DAMAGES ARISING FROM ANY FAILURE BY A MEMBER TO MAKE ANY CAPITAL CONTRIBUTION REQUIRED TO BE MADE IN ACCORDANCE WITH SECTION 3.2(a) OR SECTION 3.2(b).

(e) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, nothing in this Section 6.8 shall limit or waive any claims against, actions, rights to sue, other remedies or other recourse the Company, any Member or any other Person may have against any Member, Director or Officer for a breach of contract claim relating to any binding agreement, including this Agreement.

6.9. Indemnitor of First Resort.

As a result of agreements or obligations arising outside of this Agreement, it may be the case that certain of the Covered Persons have certain rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance provided by a Member and/or certain of its Affiliates (collectively, the "Member Indemnitors"). However, regardless of whether or not there are any such rights to indemnification, advancement of expenses or insurance provided by any Member Indemnitor, (a) the Company is the indemnitor of first resort (i.e., the Company's obligations to the Covered Persons are primary and any obligation of the Member Indemnitors to advance expenses or to provide indemnification for the same expenses or liabilities incurred by any Covered Persons are secondary), (b) the Company shall be required to advance the full amount of expenses incurred by the Covered Persons and shall be liable for the full amount of all expenses, judgments, penalties, fines and amounts paid in settlement to the extent legally permitted and as required by the terms of this Agreement (or any other agreement between the Company and the Covered Persons) and (c) the Company hereby irrevocably waives, relinquishes and releases each of the Member Indemnitors from any and all claims against any of the Member Indemnitors for contribution, subrogation or any other recovery of any kind in respect thereof. Regardless of any advancement or payment by the Member Indemnitors on behalf of any Covered Person with respect to any claim for which a Covered Person has sought indemnification from the Company, (i) the foregoing shall not be affected and (ii) the Member Indemnitors shall have a right of contribution and/or be subrogated to the extent of such advancement or payment to all of the rights of recovery of such Covered Person against the Company.

ARTICLE VII
PROGRAMS AND BUDGETS; ADDITIONAL COVENANTS

7.1. Initial Approved Program and Budget.

The initial Approved Program and Budget set forth on Schedule "G" hereto and covering (a) the Budget Period from the Effective Date until December 31, 2024; provided, that, if the Effective Date is not on the first day of a calendar month, the Approved Program and Budget for the first calendar month shall be divided by the number of days in such calendar month, and such amount shall be multiplied by the number of remaining days in such calendar month; provided further that, for the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 7.1 shall impact the calculation of LAC 2024 CapEx, (b) the Budget Period from anticipated FID until Total Plant Transfer and (c) the Budget Period from Total Plant Transfer until 12 months thereafter is hereby approved for such applicable Budget Period (and solely for such Budget Period). For the avoidance of doubt, following the date the Total Plant Transfer occurs, only the Program and Budget set forth in Section 7.1(c) shall be considered the then Approved Program and Budget.

7.2. Operations Under Programs and Budgets.

Except as otherwise provided in Sections 7.4 and 7.6, the operations of the Company Group shall be conducted, expenses shall be incurred, and Assets shall be acquired consistent with Approved Programs and Budgets. For clarity, subject to Sections 4.5(a) and 4.5(b), the Board of Directors has sole and final approval of Programs and Budgets, and any such approved Program and Budget shall be deemed to be an "Approved Program and Budget" for the purposes of this Agreement. Each Program and Budget shall be for a Budget Period of a calendar year (other than prior to FID, in which case such Programs and Budgets shall include both an aggregated annual budget as well as detailed budgets for each month comprising such fiscal year) and shall provide for: (a) accrual of reasonably anticipated Environmental Compliance expenses for all Company Group operations contemplated under the Program and Budget; (b) in reasonable detail, the scope, direction and nature of Company Group operations to be undertaken in respect of such period; (c) payment of all obligations of the Company under Underlying Agreements; and (d) in reasonable detail, the coverage and terms of the applicable insurance policies for the Company Group. The Manager shall send to the Members each Approved Program and Budget. The Manager shall have the right to spend such amounts notwithstanding such Approved Program and Budget within the parameters provided for in Section 7.4 and Section 7.6.

7.3. Presentation of Proposed Programs and Budgets.

(a) Not later than sixty (60) days (or, prior to FID, thirty (30) days) before the expiration of the then current Approved Program and Budget, the Manager shall prepare a proposed Program and Budget for the succeeding calendar year or longer such period approved by the Board of Directors, and submit the proposed Program and Budget for such calendar year or other period to the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members, for review. The proposed Program and Budget shall be accompanied by a notice of the date and time of the meeting to be held by the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members to consider the proposed Program and Budget, which date shall not be less than ten (10) days after the submission of the proposed Program and Budget to Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members. The Directors and, if applicable, the Members may approve the proposed Program and Budget, propose modifications to the proposed Program and Budget or reject the proposed Program and Budget. If the Board of Directors unanimously approves or the Members unanimously approve such proposed Program and Budget, then such proposed Program and Budget shall be the Approved Program and Budget for such period. If such proposed Program and Budget is not so unanimously approved, for the next following ten (10) days, the Manager shall negotiate in good faith with the Board of Directors to derive a revised Program and Budget. At the end of such negotiation period, the Manager shall submit a revised Program and Budget for such calendar year or other period to the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members for review. The revised Program and Budget shall be accompanied by a notice of the date and time of the meeting to be held by the Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members to consider the proposed Program and Budget, which date shall not be less than ten (10) days after the submission of the proposed Program and Budget to Board of Directors and, if applicable, the Members.

(b) In the event that Specified Approval is not obtained for any revised Program and Budget or any increase in the Management Fees (as defined in the Management Services Agreement) following the negotiation period set forth in Section 7.3(a), and the submission of such revised Program and Budget in accordance with Section 7.3(a), (i) with respect to all items other than the Management Fees, (A) if such revised Program and Budget would not increase the expenses, in the aggregate, by more than 10% as compared to the expenses as set forth in the prior Approved Program and Budget, the Board of Directors may approve such amended Program and Budget by Board Approval other than the Management Fees, and (B) if such revised Program and Budget would increase the expenses, in the aggregate, by more than 10% as compared to the expenses as set forth in the prior Approved Program and Budget, until the required Specified Approval is obtained, the Manager shall, and shall cause the Company Group to, continue to operate under the prior Approved Program and Budget (increased by CPI), which shall be deemed to be the Approved Program and Budget under this Agreement until a new Approved Program and Budget is adopted in accordance with this Agreement, and (ii) with respect to any increase in the Management Fees, until the required Specified Approval is obtained, the Manager shall, and shall cause the Company Group to, continue to operate under the prior Approved Program and Budget's Management Fees (increased by CPI), which shall be deemed to be the Approved Management Fee (as defined in the Management Services Agreement) under the Management Services Agreement until a new Approved Management Fee is adopted in accordance with this Agreement (it being understood and acknowledged that a modification of Incentive Plan Costs from a "non-cash" item in a Program and Budget to a "cash" item in a subsequent Program and Budget shall not be deemed to be an increase in expenses for the purposes of this Section 7.3(b), provided that any related payments are made in accordance with and subject to Section 7.14).

7.4. Sustaining Expense.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, the Manager shall be entitled to conduct such operations and to make such expenditures (on behalf of the Company) as are necessary, in the Manager's judgement, to (i) respond to an Emergency, (ii) comply with any change in Law or enforcement of such Law since the date of the last Approved Program and Budget, for which the Board of Directors reasonably determines spending cannot wait until completion of the amendment process set forth in Section 7.5 or the next budget approval process as set forth in Section 7.3 or (iii) make any indemnification payment required under any agreement that has been finally determined pursuant to such agreement (including, to the extent applicable, the receipt of Specified Approval for any applicable settlement) (x) to which the Company or any of its subsidiaries is a party and (y) is not an Affiliate Contract, in each case, so long as the Manager has acted in accordance with this Agreement and the Management Services Agreement (each of the foregoing, a "Sustaining Expense"). The Manager shall promptly notify the Board of Directors and the Members of each Sustaining Expense and shall use commercially reasonable efforts to continue to operate within the Approved Program and Budget, notwithstanding such Sustaining Expense, and to avoid issuing any Contribution Notice in respect of such Sustaining Expense.

7.5. Amendments.

During the applicable Budget Period, the Manager may propose amendments (the "Amendments") to any currently Approved Program and Budget from time to time. If applicable, at the meeting to vote on the Amendment (taking into account any revisions made by the Manager during the negotiation period), the Members shall vote to either accept or reject the revised Amendment in accordance with Section 4.5(b)(xiii).

7.6. Budget Overruns; Program Changes.

During the applicable Budget Period, the Manager shall immediately notify the Board of Directors of any actual or anticipated material departure from an Approved Program and Budget. If the actual or anticipated departure from the Approved Program and Budget (a) results in less than a 10% increase, in the aggregate, of the expenses as compared to the then-current Approved Program and Budget and (b) is not an increase of the Management Fees paid pursuant to the Management Services Agreement, the Manager can proceed with Board Approval and such budget overruns shall be charged to the Company. If the actual or anticipated departure from the Approved Program and Budget involves an increase (i) in the Management Fees paid pursuant to the Management Services Agreement or (ii) of more than 10%, in the aggregate, of the expenses as compared to the then-current Approved Program and Budget, the Manager can proceed with Specified Approval (as and to the extent set forth in such Specified Approval) and such budget overruns shall be charged to the Company. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Manager shall be able to proceed with any overruns without approval to the extent such costs and expenses are directly caused by a Sustaining Expense.

7.7. Books, Records and Access.

(a) The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, prepare and maintain proper, accurate and complete books and records of accounts, taxes, financial information and all matters pertaining to the Company (and its Subsidiaries) including all costs and expenses incurred, all charges made, all credits made and received and all income derived in connection with the operations of the Company, in each case to the extent required in accordance with U.S. GAAP (other than with respect to the 2024 fiscal year, for which IFRS Accounting Standards shall be applied (the "IFRS Accounting Year")), and maintain a system of internal accounting controls over financial reporting which provides reasonable assurance that: (i) transactions are executed in accordance with management's authorization; (ii) transactions are recorded as necessary to permit the preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP (other than with respect to the 2024 fiscal year, for which IFRS Accounting Standards shall be applied) and to maintain accountability for its assets; and (iii) none of the Company Group maintains off-the-books accounts. The consolidated financial statements of the Company and its Subsidiaries shall be audited annually by a reputable firm of independent certified public accountants as shall be appointed from time to time by the Board of Directors, including to determine compliance with applicable Laws. The fact that such independent certified public accountants may audit the financial statements of one or more of the Members or their Affiliates shall not disqualify such accountants from auditing the Company's and its Subsidiaries' financial statements. Any related costs incurred by an auditor (other than pursuant to Section 7.7(g)) shall be borne by the Company.

(b) At a minimum, the Company shall keep at its principal place of business the following records: (i) a current list of the full name and last known business, residence, or mailing address of each Member, Director and Officer (in each case both past and present); (ii) a copy of this Agreement, the organizational documents of the Company and each Subsidiary, and all amendments to any of the foregoing, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any such document has been executed; (iii) copies of the income tax returns and reports of the Company and each Subsidiary, and all supporting work papers, if any, for ten (10) years after the due date for filing (including extensions) the Company's or such Subsidiary's annual or short period tax returns (and the Company shall provide each Member with an opportunity, at the expense of such Member, to obtain a complete set of such tax returns, and supporting workpapers, prior to their destruction and upon the dissolution of the Company); (iv) copies of the currently effective written agreements of the Company and each Subsidiary and copies of books and records of account and any financial statements of the Company and each Subsidiary for ten (10) years after the due date for filing (including extensions) the Company's or such Subsidiary's related SEC filing and reports (and the Company shall provide each Member with an opportunity, at the expense of such Member, to obtain a complete set of such files and records prior to their destruction and upon the dissolution of the Company); (v) minutes of every meeting of the Members; (vi) minutes of every meeting of the Board of Directors; (vii) any written consents obtained from the Members or the Board of Directors for actions taken by the Members or the Board of Directors without a meeting; and (viii) such other books and records as may be required by applicable Law.

(c) The Members shall have the reasonable right (i) to consult from time to time with the Officers and the supervisors or independent certified public accountants of the Company (and its Subsidiaries) at their respective places of business regarding operating and financial matters and (ii) to visit and inspect any of the properties or assets of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries (no more than quarterly). The requesting Member shall use commercially reasonable efforts to prevent any such inspections from unreasonably interfering with Operations or the other business and operations of the Company.

(d) The Company shall provide to each Member the following reports:

(i) within 120 days of the year-end for the year ending December 31, 2024 and (y) within ninety (90) days of the year-end for each year thereafter, audited consolidated financial statements of the Company Group audited by and certified by the Company's independent certified public accountants, along with such auditor's report (the Annual Audited Financial Statements) including:

(A) the consolidated balance sheet of the Company Group as of the close of such year-end;

(B) a consolidated statement of income of the Company Group for such year-end;

(C) a consolidated statement of the Company Group's cash flows for such year-end; and

(D) a consolidated statement of the Company Group's shareholder's equity for such year-end; and

(E) a disclosure of such Member's Capital Account as of the close of such Fiscal Year, and changes therein during such year-end;

(ii) within sixty (60) days of the end of any fiscal quarter, quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements (balance sheets, statements of income, statement of cash flows, and statement of equity) of the Company Group for the previous quarter, certified by the Chief Financial Officer of the Company; provided, however, that in the event that, after the Commencement of Commercial Production (as defined in the GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement), GM's investment in the Company is deemed to be a "material investment" (as determined by GM in good faith pursuant to its accounting practices) ("GM Material Investment Determination") and GM delivers written notice to the Company of such GM Material Investment Determination, then ninety (90) days after delivery of such written notice to the Company, (a) preliminary completed drafts of such quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements, subject to final adjustments and incorporating all financial data and records the Company is aware of at the time, shall be delivered within thirty (30) days of the end of any fiscal quarter, and (b) final quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements shall be delivered on the earlier of (x) promptly following the relevant information becoming available to the Company, and (y) prior to the applicable reporting deadline imposed on LAC under any applicable Securities Laws;

(iii) within sixty (60) days of the end of each fiscal quarter during the IFRS Accounting Year, and within ninety (90) days of the end of the IFRS Accounting Year, an unaudited reconciliation of the Company Group's quarterly unaudited consolidated financial statements with respect to such fiscal quarter and an audited reconciliation of the Company Group's annually audited consolidated financial statements with respect to such fiscal year, in each case, to U.S. GAAP, if it was reasonably determined by GM in consultation with its auditor, that this information is necessary for GM financial reporting, accounting or tax purposes;

(iv) within forty-five (45) days of the end of each month, unaudited monthly financial statements (balance sheets, statements of income, and cash flows) of the Company Group for the previous month; provided, however, in the event of a GM Material Investment Determination and GM delivers written notice to the Company of such GM Material Investment Determination, then ninety (90) days after delivery of such written notice to the Company, such unaudited monthly financial statements shall be delivered on the earlier of (a) promptly following the relevant information becoming available to the Company and (b) thirty (30) days following the end of each month; and

(v) in the event of a GM Material Investment Determination and GM delivers written notice to the Company of such GM Material Investment Determination, then ninety (90) days after delivery of such written notice to the Company, no later than three (3) Business Days after the end of each quarter, an estimate of earnings of the Company Group in the form of a preliminary income statement.

(e) For so long as a Member Group holds at least 10% of the outstanding Units and the DOE Loan is outstanding, each Member in such Member Group shall have the right to receive:

(i) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(a) of the DOE Loan, the Omnibus Annual Report (as defined in the DOE Loan);

(ii) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(b) of the DOE Loan, each Quarterly Certificate (as defined in the DOE Loan);

(iii) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(c) of the DOE Loan, each Community Benefits Plan and Justice40 Annual Report (as defined in the DOE Loan);

(iv) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE, each environmental report provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(f) of the DOE Loan;

(v) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE, each monthly report provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(d) of the DOE Loan;

(vi) within five (5) days after the same is provided to the DOE, each monthly update and monthly performance report provided to the DOE pursuant to Section 8.02(e) of the DOE Loan;

(f) For so long as a Member Group holds at least 10% of the outstanding Units, each Member in such Member Group shall have the right to receive:

(i) if the DOE Loan is no longer outstanding, promptly following internal preparation thereof, any reports produced by, or on behalf of the Company Group, with substantially similar information previously provided under Section 7.7(e)(i) through Section 7.7(e)(vi) and, if no such reports are so produced, such Member shall discuss in good faith with the Company and agree on the information, form, and cadence of the reports to be delivered to such Member by the Company Group;

(ii) promptly upon request to the extent available, the then-current Approved Program and Budget;

(iii) promptly following receipt thereof, a copy of any notice, letter, correspondence or other communication from a Governmental Authority or any litigation proceedings or filings involving the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, in each case, in respect of the Company's potential, actual or alleged material violation of any and all Laws applicable to the business, affairs and operations of the Company and its Subsidiaries, and any responses by the Company; and

(iv) such other financial statements, information and reports at such times and in such forms as any such Member may reasonably request in order to enable such Member or any of its Affiliates to prepare financial or other reports required by applicable Law.

(g) For so long as a Member Group holds at least 10% of the outstanding Units, each Member in such Member Group shall have the right to visit the Properties, facilities, and Assets of the Company Group at its own expense and no more frequently than once during any calendar quarter, unless there has been an Emergency, then in such event, such Member in a Member Group shall have the additional right to visit the Properties, facilities, and Assets of the Company Group once for each Emergency during such calendar quarter, so long as the exercise of such right does not unreasonably interfere with the business and operations of the Company Group. In addition to the other rights specifically set forth in this Agreement, subject to Section 7.7(h) each such Member is entitled to, at its option and at its own expense, from time to time but no more frequently than once per calendar year, conduct internal audits of the books, records and accounts of the Company and the Subsidiaries, which audits may be conducted by employees or agents approved by the Board of Directors upon the reasonable request of any such Member at any reasonable time during normal business hours.

(h) Notwithstanding anything in this Section 7.7 to the contrary, the Company shall not be required to provide any Member with access to, or to disclose any information to, a Member if such disclosure would reasonably be expected to result in the sharing of pricing and key sales terms of any purchasers of the offtake of the Project; provided, that such restriction shall not restrict a Member from receiving aggregate, de-identified sales numbers and financial statements otherwise required to be provided in this Section 7.7.

(i) Provided that there is no conflict with any other agreement between the Company and any third Person, except to the extent set forth in Section 7.7(h), none of the Company, the Manager or the Board of Directors (on behalf of the Company) shall have the right to keep confidential from the Members any information that the Board of Directors would otherwise be permitted to keep confidential from the Members pursuant to Section 18-305(c) of the Act.

(j) The rights set forth in this Section 7.7 are intended to be the sole information rights of the Members as permitted by the Act.

7.8. Bank Accounts.

The Board of Directors shall cause the Company to establish and maintain one or more separate bank and investment accounts for Company funds in the Company's name with such financial institutions and firms as the Board of Directors may select and designate signatories thereon. The Company may not commingle the Company's funds with the funds of any other Person other than, as determined by the Board of Directors, the Company's Subsidiaries.

7.9. Compliance Covenants.

For so long as GM or an Affiliate thereof is a Member, the Company shall, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to, comply with each of the policies attached as Schedule "H" (the "Compliance Covenants"), the Compliance Covenants may not be amended without GM's consent. In the event of a breach by the Company of the Compliance Covenants that is not Cured or cannot be Cured and GM is not then a Defaulting Member, GM and its Affiliates shall have the right to, in its sole discretion, pursue one or more of the following remedies: (a) (i) for so long as the DOE Loan is outstanding, sell a portion or all of their Units to the Company (and the Company shall buy such Units) for an aggregate purchase price of up to $[], or (ii) if the DOE Loan has been terminated, sell a portion or all of their Units to the Company (and the Company shall buy such Units) for a purchase price per Unit (the "Compliance Put Purchase Price") equal to the highest of (1) the Fair Market Value of a Unit, (2) the book value of a Unit, and (3) the GM Aggregate Contribution Amount divided by the total number of Units held by GM and its transferees immediately prior to GM exercising any of its remedies under this Section 7.9, in each of clause (i) or (ii) by delivery of a written notice (the "Compliance Put Notice" and the date for such sale set forth therein the "Compliance Put Closing Date") to the Company requesting such sale (provided that such Compliance Put Notice is delivered within 120 days following the date on which GM notifies the Company of such breach); provided that if the Company, in good faith, demonstrates that it cannot pay such price out of funds available to the Company in excess of an amount sufficient for the Company to continue as a going concern, without raising additional funds through debt or equity financing or selling any assets ("Available Funds"), then the Compliance Put Purchase Price shall be reduced to the maximum amount the Company is able to pay at such time out of Available Funds (as agreed between the Company and GM), (b) Transfer its Units to any Third Party without being required to comply with any of the restrictions or limitations set forth in this Agreement other than Sections 10.1(c), 10.1(d), 10.1(g)(i), 10.1(g)(ii) and, only with respect to material Governmental Authorizations, 10.1(g)(iv); or (c) pursue any other remedy available to it pursuant to Section 13.11, and in each of clause (a) or (b) any outstanding and undrawn GM Letters of Credit shall be withdrawn. By way of example, GM may elect to put to the Company a portion of its Units and Transfer the remainder of GM's Units to a Third Party. The Company shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to, comply with the GM Supply Chain Policy, the Company shall incorporate, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to incorporate, and shall require each third-party service provider to incorporate, to the extent applicable, the GM Supply Chain Policy in its or its Subsidiaries' contract for goods or services, unless the Company determines in good faith, after receiving advice from counsel, that (x) a third-party service provider maintains its own code of conduct and/or other supply chain policy(s) and (y) such code and/or other policy(s) are substantially similar in all material respects to the applicable portions of the GM Supply Chain Policy.

7.10. GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement.

Upon the Effective Date, the Company and GM (or an Affiliate thereof) shall enter into an additional offtake agreement (or agreements) in substantially the form of Schedule "I" (the "GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement").

7.11. GM Life of Mine Rights.

Following the expiry of the (a) GM Phase 1 Offtake Agreement, with respect to the volumes from Phase 1 of the Project, and (b) GM Phase 2 Offtake Agreement, with respect to the volumes from Phase 2 of the Project, in each case, GM shall have life of mine offtake rights, at market price, for a percentage of all volumes from Phase 1 and Phase 2 of the Project, as applicable, equal to GM's Proportionate Interest as of the applicable date of determination in accordance with the process and procedures set forth on Schedule "K" ("Life-of-Mine Rights"). Notwithstanding the foregoing, if the DOE Loan is terminated prior to FID and GM exercises its rights under Section

10.6 and pursuant to a DOE Put Notice, GM shall have no further Life-of-Mine Rights, which shall be null and void. For the avoidance of doubt, the Life-of-Mine Rights shall be transferrable (in whole or in part) to any transferee of Units from GM and shall be exercisable by any such transferee.

7.12. Stakeholder Engagement.

As of the Effective Date, the Members have established a committee (the "Human Rights Committee"), which includes at least one GM Designee and one LAC Designee, to oversee the Company's engagement of relevant community stakeholders consistent with principles outlined in the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and associated applicable Laws. The Company and the Members shall also implement and execute the agreed-upon plan for stakeholder engagement consistent with principles outlined in the United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples, and associated applicable Laws (the "Human Rights Plan").

7.13. Employee Non-Solicit.

Each Member (other than any Member that is an Affiliate of LAC) hereby agrees, on behalf of itself and its Affiliates, that, without LAC's prior written consent, such Member and its Affiliates shall not, for so long as such Member is a member of the Company, directly or indirectly solicit for employment or engagement, or employe or engage, any employee of LAC or its Affiliates (including Manager) who provides services to the Company Group; provided, however, that such Member and its Affiliates shall not be prohibited from: (a) employing or engaging any such Person who contacts such Member or its Affiliates on his or her own initiative and without any direct or indirect solicitation by such Member or its Affiliates; (b) conducting generalized solicitations for employees (which solicitations are not specifically targeted at employees of LAC or its Affiliates (including Manager) and employing or engaging any Person that responds to such solicitations); (c) soliciting for employment or employing any Person who (i) has been terminated by LAC or its Affiliates and has not been solicited for employment in breach of this Section 7.13 by such Member or its Affiliates prior to such termination or (ii) has not been employed or engaged by LAC or its Affiliates sixty (60) consecutive days, or (d) soliciting for employment or engagement any employee of LAC or its Affiliates with the express consent of LAC.

7.14. Employee Incentive Plan.

(a) Following the Effective Date, LAC Parent may issue restricted stock units to employees of the Company Group (in addition to any such issuances that may exist as of the Effective Date) pursuant to the terms and conditions of its existing equity incentive plan, a copy of which is attached as Schedule "M" (the "Employee Incentive Plan"). Unless otherwise determined by LAC in its sole discretion, the Company shall reimburse LAC Parent for any costs of, and costs associated with, the issuance of restricted stock units under the Employee Incentive Plan to the extent recorded in the books and records of LAC Parent in accordance with U.S. GAAP (such costs, the "Incentive Plan Costs"); provided, that, any reductions to such costs associated with the termination of employees and the forfeiture of unvested restricted stock units (such reductions, "Incentive Plan Cost Reductions"), shall be offset against the Incentive Plan Costs incurred for that current calendar year (or if such Incentive Plan Cost Reduction happens in a subsequent calendar year, then shall reduce the Incentive Plan Costs for such calendar year).

(b) Prior to Production Commencement, the Company shall not reimburse LAC Parent for any Incentive Plan Costs incurred, but such costs shall accrue, as adjusted for any Incentive Plan Cost Reductions ("Accrued Incentive Plan Costs") and shall be paid in accordance with Section 9.1(a)(ii).

(c) In the event of a material change to LAC Parent that results in the restricted stock units of LAC Parent issued under the Employee Incentive Plan no longer being a directly aligned incentive for performance by the employees of the Company Group, GM shall have the right to request that the Company revisit, amend, and/or terminate issuances of restricted stock units to employees of the Company Group under the Employee Incentive Plan and adopt an alternative employee incentive plan implemented solely by the Company, which shall be subject to Specified Approval.

7.15. Management Fees.

(a) The Manager acknowledges and agrees that, (i) prior to Production Commencement, all Approved Management Fees and Approved Third Party Expenses (each as defined in the Management Services Agreement) shall not be paid in cash by the Company and (ii) in the event the Company does not have sufficient cash on hand to pay the Approved Management Fees or Approved Third Party Expenses as required under the Management Services Agreement, no Contribution Notice shall be submitted or delivered to the Members to request additional capital to be contributed to the Company in order to fund such costs, but, in each case, the Approved Management Fees or Approved Third Party Expenses shall instead accrue as an amount owed by the Company to the Manager (collectively, the "Accrued Management Costs") and shall be paid in accordance with Section 9.1(a)(ii); provided, however, that in the event a Contribution Notice is delivered to the Members (x) in accordance with Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15 and (y) after the second anniversary of the Effective Date, then (A) each Member that is not an Affiliate of the Manager shall fund an additional amount of the capital contribution requested in the Contribution Notice, up to a maximum of the total amount requested in the Contribution Notice, equal to the amount of the Accrued Management Costs that is attributable to such Member's Proportionate Interest ("Management Catch-up Amount"), and the Accrued Management Costs shall be decreased by an amount equal to the aggregate Management Catch-up Amount, divided by the percentage of the aggregate Proportionate Interests of the Members that are not an Affiliate of the Manager, and (B) the aggregate Management Catch-up Amount shall be deemed contributed by LAC (and for the avoidance of doubt, shall not be deemed contributed by the applicable Member making such contribution). As an illustrative example, if a Contribution Notice was properly delivered three (3) years after the Effective Date pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, with a request for $[]of capital contributions from the Members (with GM and LAC being the only Members), and the Accrued Management Costs was $[]in the aggregate, which would mean that GM's portion of the Accrued Management Costs was $[] and GM's Management Catch-up Amount was $[], then GM's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[] (assuming that GM's Proportionate Interest is 38% of the Company and with []$of such amount being deemed as contributed by LAC) and LAC's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[], and after such capital contributions were completed, the Accrued Management Costs would be $[]. As an additional illustrative example, if a Contribution Notice was properly delivered three (3) years after the Effective Date pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, with a request for $[]of capital contributions from the Members (with GM and LAC being the only Members), and the Accrued Management Costs was $[]in the aggregate, which would mean that GM's portion of the Accrued Management Costs was $[]and GM's Management Catch-up Amount would be $[], then GM's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $[] (assuming that GM's Proportionate Interest is 38% of the Company and $[] of such amount being deemed as contributed by LAC) and LAC's capital contribution under such Contribution Notice would be $0, and after such capital contributions were completed, the Accrued Management Costs would be decreased by $[] in connection with such Contribution Notice (as calculated by $[] divided by 0.38), and the remaining Accrued Management Costs would be $[]. The calculations for such illustrative examples are set forth on Schedule "O" as Illustrative Examples #1 and #2.

(b) Subject to Section 7.15(c), in the event that, in connection with a Contribution Notice properly delivered pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, (i) the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager fail to fully contribute the aggregate Management Catch-up Amount and (ii) the Members that are the Manager or Affiliates of the Manager make a Capital Contribution equal to at least its Proportionate Interest of the Contribution Notice amount, then, in addition to the amount of the Capital Contribution made by the Members that are the Manager or Affiliates of the Manager, LAC shall also be deemed to have made an additional Capital Contribution equal to (x) the difference between the aggregate Management Catch-Up Amount and the portion of the aggregate Management Catch-Up Amount contributed by the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager, (y) divided by the percentage of the aggregate Proportionate Interests of the Members that are not an Affiliate of the Manager, and such deemed Capital Contribution shall be included for the purposes of acquiring Units in accordance with Section 3.3, and the Accrued Management Costs shall also be reduced by an amount equal to the aggregate Management Catch-Up Amount, divided by the percentage of the aggregate Proportionate Interests of the Members that are not an Affiliate of the Manager. Illustrative examples for such Capital Contributions are set forth in Schedule "O" as Illustrative Examples #3 through #6.

(c) In the event that, in connection with a Contribution Notice properly delivered pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, (i) the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager fail to fully contribute at least their collective Proportionate Interest of the Contribution Notice amount and (ii) subject to Section 7.15(d) the Members that are the Manager or Affiliates of the Manager do not make any Capital Contribution under the Contribution Notice, then (A) the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager shall be deemed to have contributed an amount equal to the actual amount contributed multiplied by their collective Proportionate Interest, (B) LAC shall be deemed to have contributed the difference between actual amount contributed by such other Members and the amount deemed contributed pursuant to clause (A), and (C) the Accrued Management Costs shall be reduced by an amount equal to (x) the amount deemed contributed pursuant to clause (B) divided by (y) the collective Proportionate Interest of the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager. Illustrative examples for such Capital Contributions are set forth in Schedule "O" as Illustrative Example #7.

(d) In the event that, in connection with a Contribution Notice properly delivered pursuant to Section 3.3 and this Section 7.15, the Members that are not Affiliates of the Manager fail to fully contribute at least their collective Proportionate Interest of the Contribution Notice amount, LAC shall have five (5) Business Days to make a Capital Contribution following the deadline for such Capital Contribution set forth in such Contribution Notice.

7.16. Insurance.

The Company shall, directly or indirectly, maintain the appropriate insurance coverage as required under the DOE Loan during the term of the DOE Loan. Upon the termination of the DOE Loan, the Members shall discuss in good faith and agree upon the appropriate insurance coverage necessary for the Company moving forward, and the Company shall maintain such agreed upon insurance coverage as agreed upon by the Members.

ARTICLE VIII

8.1. Defaults.

The occurrence of any one or more of the following shall, so long as it subsists, constitute an "Event of Default" by a Member (the "Defaulting Member" and the other Member shall be referred to as a "Non-Defaulting Member"), but only it its capacity as a Member:

(a) a Member suffering an Insolvency Event;

(b) a Member failing to make FID Capital Contributions when required to do so pursuant to Section 3.2(a);

(c) any breach by a Member of Section 3.2(b);

(d) a Member breaching any of the Transfer restrictions set forth in Article IX; and

(e) a Member taking any action requiring Supermajority Approval or Specified Approval hereunder without such required approval that is not Cured or cannot be Cured; provided that any action taken by or at the express direction of the Manager shall be deemed to be an action taken by the Member that is an Affiliate of the Manager for purposes of this Section 8.1(e).

8.2. Notice of Default.

The Company shall give the Defaulting Member a written notice of default (a "Notice of Default"), which shall describe the default in reasonable detail.

8.3. Defaulting Member Right to Contest.

Contemporaneously with the delivery of the Notice of Default, the Non-Defaulting Member shall have the rights specified in Section 8.6. If the Defaulting Member in good faith contests whether the alleged default has in fact occurred, the Defaulting Member shall give notice thereof to the Non-Defaulting Member and the provisions of Section 13.2 shall then be applicable (except as otherwise provided herein) and pending such dispute resolution by agreement or a final ruling, Section 8.6 shall not be operative. If the ruling confirms that a default has occurred or there is agreement of the Parties, Section 8.6 shall be operative.

8.4. Rights Upon Default.

The Company, after providing a Notice of Default, shall have the right (but not the duty) to exercise any remedy available to it at law or equity.

8.5. No Penalty.

The Members acknowledge and agree that the rights and remedies conferred by this Article VIII do not constitute a penalty, unlawful forfeiture or penalty interest rates, and that such rights and remedies are necessary to ensure that the interests of the Members are appropriately balanced. Each Member covenants that it shall not raise any prohibition against penalty clauses as a defense to the dilution contemplated by Section 3.2.

8.6. Suspension of Rights While a Defaulting Member.

In addition to the remedies set forth above or available at applicable Law, if an Event of Default subject to the provisions of Section 8.3 occurs and is continuing, the Defaulting Member's:

(a) voting rights in the Company will be suspended and quorum for Member meetings will be adjusted to not require the attendance of the Defaulting Member;

(b) Directors designed by the Defaulting Member will not be entitled to vote and quorum and voting thresholds for meetings of the Board of Directors will be proportionally adjusted to not require attendance of such Directors;

(c) rights to Transfer its Units will be suspended; and

DISTRIBUTIONS

9.1. Distributions.

(a) Regular Distributions. Except with the Specified Approval of the Members or pursuant to Section 3.1(b), subject to Section 8.6(d) and Section 9.1(c), and in compliance with the terms of the DOE Loan, all Available Cash of the Company shall be distributed to the Members on a quarterly basis (within fifteen (15) Business Days following the commencement of each calendar quarter), or at such additional time or times as the Board of Directors determines, as follows:

(i) first, in the event that any amount (A) under any GM Letter of Credit is drawn, to GM until such time as GM has received aggregate distributions equal to such drawn amount (and such distributions shall reduce the drawn amount thereunder) or (B) under any LAC Guarantee is called and paid by LAC, and (1) if no amount under any GM Letter of Credit has been drawn and remains outstanding, to LAC until such time as LAC has received aggregate distributions equal to (x) such called and paid amount, multiplied by (y) the Proportionate Interests of Members other than LAC and its Affiliates or (2) if both amounts under a LAC Guarantee have been called and paid and amounts under the GM Letter of Credit have been drawn and such amounts are outstanding, to LAC and GM pro rata in proportion to the amounts required to be paid to LAC and GM until such time as both LAC and GM have received aggregate distributions equal to such respective amounts (and with respect to such distributions to GM, shall reduce the drawn amount under the GM Letter of Credit);

(ii) second, to LAC until LAC has received an amount equal to the Accrued Incentive Plan Costs and Accrued Management Costs, if any;

(iii) third, only if such distribution is for the last calendar quarter of the calendar year, to LAC, an amount equal to the Net Incentive Plan Costs for such calendar year; provided, however, that in the event that there is not sufficient Available Cash to distribute an amount to LAC equal to the Net Incentive Plan Costs for such calendar year, the remainder of such Net Incentive Plan Costs shall be deemed to be Accrued Incentive Plan Costs in the immediately subsequent quarter for purposes of this Section 9.1(a); and

(iv) thereafter, any remaining amount of Available Cash shall be distributed pro rata in proportion to their respective Proportionate Interests.

(b) Tax Distributions. Subject to Section 9.1(a)(i) and 9.1(c), and in compliance with the terms of the DOE Loan, Available Cash shall be distributed to each Member with respect to each fiscal year in an amount equal to any federal, state or local income taxes payable by such Member (or the direct or indirect owners of such Member) with respect to the taxable income allocated by the Company to such Member for federal, state and local income tax purposes for such fiscal year (net of losses allocated by the Company to such Member for federal, state or local income tax purposes in prior fiscal years that have not been offset by prior allocations of taxable income, to the extent such prior losses would be available to offset such taxable income allocated to such Member in such fiscal year) pursuant to Section 3.3 and Section 3.4 of Schedule "E", assuming that the taxable income (and loss) allocated by the Company to such Member were the only items of taxable income and loss recognized by such Member and based on the highest applicable combined federal and state income tax rate applicable to a corporation resident in New York, New York (such amount, a Member's "Tax Distribution"); provided, that, in the event that any amount was paid by LAC under a LAC Guarantee or any amount was drawn on a GM Letter of Credit, all Available Cash shall be distributed to LAC and GM under Section 9.1(a)(i), until such time LAC and GM, as applicable, have received aggregate distributions equal to such respective amounts. The Company shall make quarterly distributions based on estimates of the required Tax Distribution to each Member in a manner sufficient to allow such Member to timely satisfy its quarterly estimated tax payment obligations, with a true-up to the amount of such Tax Distribution to be made to such Member on or before the due date for the payment of tax for such fiscal year. In the event the Company does not have sufficient Available Cash to make a Tax Distribution to a Member, the unpaid amount will be carried forward and added to the amount of Tax Distribution owed to such Member in the succeeding fiscal year. Any distributions made to a Member pursuant to this Section 9.1(b) shall be treated as an advance against, and shall reduce on a dollar-for-dollar basis, the next succeeding distribution otherwise payable by the Company to such Member pursuant to Section 9.1(a)(iv).

(c) No Distributions In Kind. During the existence of the Company, no Member shall be entitled or required to receive as distributions from the Company of any asset other than cash unless otherwise determined by the Board of Directors.

9.2. Liquidating Distributions.

Upon the dissolution of the Company, sole and plenary authority to effectuate the liquidation of the assets of the Company shall be vested in the Board of Directors, who shall have full power and authority to sell, assign and encumber any and all of the Company's assets and to wind up and liquidate the affairs of the Company in an orderly and business-like manner. The proceeds of liquidation of the assets of the Company distributable upon a dissolution and winding up of the Company shall be applied in the following order of priority:

(a) first, to the creditors of the Company, including creditors who are Members, in the order of priority provided by applicable law, in satisfaction of all liabilities and obligations of the Company (of any nature whatsoever, including fixed or contingent, matured or unmatured, legal or equitable, secured or unsecured), whether by payment or the making of reasonable provision for payment thereof; and

10.1. Restrictions on Transfer.

(a) No Member shall, or shall permit their Affiliates to, and no Member shall Transfer, directly or indirectly, its Units except, subject to Section 7.9, in full compliance with the provisions of this Article X. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Members acknowledge and agree that an Indirect Transfer of an equity interest in a Member (including through any change of Control of such Member (including through any change of Control of any parent company of such Member) other than a Parent Change of Control) (the "Indirect Interest") is a Transfer and is subject to the provisions of this Article X. For the avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Agreement restricts in any manner any Parent Change of Control.

(b) Any purported Transfer in violation of this Article X shall be void ab initio and of no force or effect.

(c) No Transfer shall be effective and no transferee of a Member's Units shall have the rights of such Member hereunder unless (i) the Transfer was completed in compliance herewith; (ii) the transferor Member has provided to the other Member a minimum of five (5) Business Days notice of such intended Transfer; and (iii) the transferee, as of the effective date of the Transfer, has executed a Joinder. With respect to an Indirect Transfer, the transferee shall confirm the Joinder.

(d) Except as set forth in Section 7.9, the transferor Member and the transferee of any Units (as well as any Indirect Interests) shall be responsible for payment of any taxes, fees, levies or other governmental charges payable under applicable Law in respect of the Transfer and shall indemnify and hold harmless the other Members and the Company in respect thereof.

(e) The Members agree to ensure that the Company will not cause or permit, and the Company agrees not to permit or effect, the Transfer of Units to be made on its books unless the Transfer is permitted or required by the provisions of this Agreement.

(f) The Members shall take, or shall cause the Company to take, any actions as may be required to approve any Transfers of Units that are authorized in accordance with Section 7.9 or the provisions of this Article X.

(g) Except as set forth in Section 7.9, no Member shall complete a Transfer (i) to a Restricted Party, (ii) that would violate or is prohibited (A) by any Law or (B) by the terms of any agreement or other instrument affecting the Company Group or the Assets (x) pursuant to Section 10.01 of the DOE Loan or (y) that was expressly approved by (A) Specified Approval, (B) GM pursuant to Section 4.5(c) or (C) prior written consent of GM pursuant to Section 6.2(e) of the Investment Agreement, (iii) that would result in the assignment or termination of a GM Letter of Credit, unless such transferee delivers one or more replacement letters of credit acceptable to the DOE and at no cost to the Company, (iv) that would result in the cancellation of any Governmental Authorization applicable to the Company or the Assets, (v) to any Person that is not Creditworthy or (vi) in the event that LAC is the transferor Member, unless (x) LAC continues to Control the Company or (y) the transferee of the Units is a Qualified Operator and such transferee, upon consummation of such Transfer, will Control the Company; provided, that if in connection with any such Transfer, the transferee or its Affiliate is bound by the Management Services Agreement, and such party is reasonably capable of performing the services contemplated thereby in substantially the same manner, and at substantially the same price, as during the preceding twelve (12) months, then such transferee shall be deemed to satisfy clauses (a) and (b) of the definition of Qualified Operator. For the avoidance of doubt, (A) GM and its Affiliates shall be permitted to Transfer to any GM Competitor and (B) LAC and its Affiliates shall be permitted to Transfer to any LAC Competitor.

10.2. Transfers to Affiliates.

Each Member may Transfer its Units to an Affiliate, provided that:

(a) such Affiliate is wholly owned by (i) such Member, (ii) in the case of GM, GM Parent or (iii) in the case of LAC, LAC Parent;

(b) such Affiliate shall assume the obligations of the Member and become a Party to this Agreement by signing a Joinder; and

(c) such Affiliate shall covenant and agree (A) to remain an Affiliate of the transferring Member for so long as it continues to hold any Units; and (B) that, prior to ceasing to be an Affiliate of such Member, it will Transfer all of its Units to the Member or another Affiliate of such transferring Member.

10.3. Right of First Offer.

(a) ROFO Offer. Subject to Section 10.1, if any Member (a "Selling Member") desires to Transfer all or a portion of its Units (the "Subject Units"), then the Selling Member shall first provide written notice to each other Member (the "ROFO Members") and the Company (such notice, a "ROFO Notice") of its intent to Transfer the Subject Units and specifying the amount of the Subject Units and the material terms and conditions pursuant to which the Selling Member proposes to Transfer the Subject Units, including the price at which the Selling Member is willing to Transfer the Subject Units (the "Seller's Price").

(b) Exercise. During the 45-day period following the receipt of a ROFO Notice by the Company and the ROFO Members (the "Offer Period"), each ROFO Member shall have the right, at its option and at any time prior to the expiration of the Offer Period, to deliver to the Selling Member an offer (a "Purchase Offer") to purchase for cash (payable at closing) all (but not less than all) of the Subject Units on the terms and conditions set forth in such Purchase Offer. The delivery of a Purchase Offer by a ROFO Member shall constitute an irrevocable commitment by such ROFO Member for a 30-day period (the "ROFO Period") to purchase the Subject Units on the terms and conditions set forth in such Purchase Offer upon acceptance by the Selling Member. Prior to the end of the ROFO Period, the Selling Member shall have the right to accept the offer set forth in a Purchase Offer by delivering written notice (the "Acceptance Notice") of such acceptance to the applicable ROFO Member; provided that, if two (2) or more ROFO Members deliver Purchase Offers, the Selling Member may only accept the offer with the greatest aggregate purchase price; provided further that, if two (2) or more ROFO Members deliver Purchase Offers offering the same aggregate purchase price and the Selling Member accepts such offer, the ROFO Members shall each be allocated their proportionate share of the Subject Units (calculated based on the number of Units owned by each such ROFO Member at the time of the proposed Transfer relative to the number of Units owned by all such ROFO Members who delivered Purchase Offers offering the same aggregate purchase price); provided further that, the Selling Member shall be required to accept any Purchase Offer at a price equal to or greater than the Seller's Price. The Selling Member and the applicable ROFO Members shall use commercially reasonable efforts to complete the Transfer within thirty (30) days of delivery of the Acceptance Notice, subject to reasonable extension for the parties to obtain any regulatory approvals required in connection with such Transfer. If the Selling Member fails to elect to accept the offer set forth in any Purchase Offer within the applicable ROFO Period, such Selling Member shall be deemed to have declined such offer. If the Selling Member accepts a Purchase Offer, Selling Member and the applicable ROFO Members shall use commercially reasonable efforts to complete the Transfer within thirty (30) days of delivery of the Acceptance Notice, subject to reasonable extension for the parties to obtain any regulatory approvals required in connection with such Transfer.

(c) Sale to a Third Party. If (i) no ROFO Member delivers a Purchase Offer within the Offer Period, or (ii) the Selling Member does not accept any of the offers set forth in the Purchase Offers within the ROFO Period, then, subject to Section 10.1 the Selling Member may Transfer the Subject Units to a Third Party (the "Third-Party Purchaser"); provided, however, that (w) such Transfer must be consummated within 3 months after the expiration of the Offer Period; (x) if a Purchase Offer was timely delivered, the aggregate purchase price at which the Subject Units are Transferred must be equal to at least the highest aggregate purchase price set forth in any Purchase Offer that was timely delivered; (y) if a Purchase Offer was not timely made, the aggregate purchase price at which the Subject Units are Transferred must be equal to at least the Seller's Price; and (z) the Transfer must be for cash and the other terms and conditions of such Transfer shall not be more favorable to the Third-Party Purchaser, taken as a whole, than the terms and conditions set forth in the ROFO Notice. If the Selling Member shall fail to complete a transaction with a Third-Party Purchaser within the time period set forth in this Section 10.3(c) above, the Selling Member shall again be required to comply with all the provisions of this Agreement, including Section 10.1 and this Section 10.3 with respect to any proposed Transfer; provided, that a Selling Member and its Affiliates shall not be permitted to deliver more than one (1) ROFO Notice in any six (6)-month period.

10.4. Drag-Along Right.

(a) Drag-Along Sale. If at any time, a Member Group holding an aggregate of 85% or more of the issued and outstanding Units receive a bona fide offer from a Third Party or group of Third Parties acting in concert (collectively, a "Drag-Along Transferee") to acquire all of the Units of the Members (or to acquire all or substantially all of the assets of the Company) (a "Drag-Along Sale"), then, subject to Board Approval, such Members (the "Initiating Drag Members") may require the Company to send a written notice to the other Members (the "Drag Along Right Exercise Notice") requiring each other Member (a "Drag-Along Member") to participate in such Drag-Along Sale in the manner set forth in this Section 10.4.

(b) Drag-Along Notice. The Drag Along Right Exercise Notice shall be delivered to each Drag-Along Member at least thirty (30) days prior to the date on which the Initiating Drag Members expect to consummate the Drag-Along Sale. The Drag Along Right Exercise Notice shall set forth: (i) the name of the Drag-Along Transferee, (ii) the proposed amount and form of consideration and material terms and conditions of payment offered by the Drag-Along Transferee in connection with the Drag-Along Sale, (iii) all other material terms of the Drag-Along Sale, including the expected closing date of the transaction, and (iv) a copy of any form of agreement proposed to be executed by the Company or the Drag-Along Members in connection with the Drag-Along Sale.

(c) Units to be Sold. Subject to Section 10.5(d):

(i) notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if the Drag-Along Sale requires Member approval or Board approval (including pursuant to Section 4.5), each Drag-Along Member shall, or shall cause its appointed Managers to, vote in favor of such Drag-Along Sale with respect to all Units that such Drag-Along Member owns and shall waive any dissenters' rights, appraisal rights or similar rights it may have in connection with such Drag-Along Sale;

(ii) each Drag-Along Member shall execute and deliver all related transaction agreements and take such other action in support of the Drag-Along Sale as shall reasonably be requested by the Company or the Initiating Drag Members in order to consummate such Drag-Along Sale in accordance with the terms, and subject to the conditions, set forth in this Section 10.4, including executing and delivering instruments of conveyance and transfer, and any purchase agreement, merger agreement, any associated indemnity agreement, or escrow agreement, any associated voting, support, or joinder agreement, consent, waiver, governmental filing, and any similar or related documents.

(iii) Each Drag-Along Member agrees to refrain from asserting any claim or commencing any suit or other legal challenge with respect to such Drag-Along Sale or alleging any breach of fiduciary duty of the Initiating Drag Members or the Board of Directors in connection with the evaluation, negotiation, and entry into such Drag-Along Sale.

(d) Conditions of Sale. The consideration to be received by a Drag-Along Member shall be the same form and amount of consideration to be received by the Initiating Drag Members (or, if the Initiating Drag Members are given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received, the same option shall be given) with the aggregate consideration payable in such Drag-Along Sale allocated among the Initiating Drag Members and the Drag-Along Members pro rata in proportion to the number of Units sold in such Drag-Along Sale by each such Member, and the terms and conditions of such sale shall, except as otherwise provided in the immediately succeeding sentence, be the same as those applicable to the Initiating Drag Members. Each Drag-Along Member shall make or provide the same representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements as the Initiating Drag Members make or provide in connection with the Drag-Along Sale (except that in the case of representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to an Initiating Drag Member, each Drag-Along Member shall make the comparable representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to itself); provided, that all representations, warranties, covenants, and indemnities shall be made by each Initiating Drag Members and each Drag-Along Member severally and not jointly and any indemnification obligation shall be pro rata based on the consideration received by each Initiating Drag Member and each Drag-Along Member (other than any indemnification obligation pertaining specifically to an Initiating Drag Member or a Drag-Along Member, which obligation shall be the sole obligation of such Initiating Drag Member or Drag-Along Member), in each case in an amount not to exceed the aggregate proceeds received by each such Initiating Drag Member and Drag-Along Member in connection with the Drag-Along Sale. Each Drag-Along Member shall not be required to agree to any restrictive covenant in connection with the Drag-Along Sale (including, without limitation, any covenant not to compete or covenant not to solicit customers, employees or suppliers of any party to the Drag-Along Sale) or any release of claims other than a release in customary form of claims arising solely in such Member's capacity as a member of the Company.

(e) GM Conditions of Sale. If GM is not an Initiating Drag Member, then as additional conditions to the Drag-Along Sale, (i) GM shall retain its right to receive the Life of Mine Rights equal to its ownership percentage immediately prior to the Drag-Along Sale and (ii) GM shall not be required to, in connection with its participation in the Drag-Along Sale, amend or terminate any existing offtake or similar agreement between GM or its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Company or its Affiliates, on the other hand.

(f) Expenses. The fees and expenses of the Initiating Drag Members incurred in connection with a Drag-Along Sale and for the benefit of all Members, to the extent not paid or reimbursed by the Company or the Drag-Along Transferee, shall be shared by the Initiating Drag Members on a pro rata basis, based on the consideration received by each such Initiating Drag Member.

(g) Cooperation. Each Member shall take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate the Drag-Along Sale, including entering into agreements and delivering certificates and instruments, in each case consistent with the agreements being entered into and the certificates being delivered by the Initiating Drag Members.

(h) Application of Transfer Restrictions. If the Initiating Drag Members exercise their rights under this Section 10.4, the Drag-Along Members shall not be entitled to exercise their rights under Section 10.5 with respect to such Drag-Along Sale.

10.5. Tag-Along Rights.

(a) Tag Along Sale. If, at any time, a Member Group, with an aggregate Proportionate Interest of 70% or more elects to, with respect to 70% or more of the outstanding Units held by such Member Group, Transfer such Units to any Third Party or any group of Third Parties acting in concert (collectively, a "Tag-Along Transferee") in a bona fide arm's-length transaction or series of related transactions (a "Tag-Along Sale"), then, subject to (i) the other provisions of this Section 10.5, and (ii) the Tag-Along Transferee's agreement to consummate such Tag-Along Sale, each other Member (each, a "Tag-Along Member") shall be entitled to Transfer all or any portion of its Units pursuant to such Tag-Along Sale in the manner set forth in this Section 10.5.

(b) Tag-Along Sale Notice. Prior to the consummation of any Tag-Along Sale, the Selling Member shall promptly give written notice of such Tag-Along Sale (the "Tag-Along Notice") to each Tag-Along Member at least thirty (30) days prior to the date on which the Selling Member expects to consummate the Tag-Along Sale. The Tag-Along Notice shall set forth: (i) the name of the Tag-Along Transferee, (ii) the number of Units to be sold by the Selling Member, (iii) the proposed amount and form of consideration and material terms and conditions of payment offered by the Tag-Along Transferee in connection with the Tag-Along Sale (the consideration per Unit being the "Tag-Along Unit Price"), (iv) all other material terms of the Tag-Along Sale, including the expected closing date of the transaction, and (v) a copy of any form of agreement to be executed by the Tag-Along Members in connection with the Tag-Along Sale.

(c) Exercise by Tag-Along Member. Each Tag-Along Member shall have the right to Transfer in a Tag-Along Sale all or any portion of its Units in connection with the Tag-Along Sale, exercisable by notice within thirty (30) days following its receipt of the Tag-Along Notice, to notify the Selling Member of its election to participate in such Tag-Along Sale (each such electing Tag-Along Member, a "Participating Tag-Along Member") and specifying the number of Units it desires to Transfer in such Tag-Along Sale. With respect to any Tag-Along Sale, each Participating Tag-Along Member shall Transfer its applicable Units in such Tag-Along Sale free and clear of all Encumbrances (other than those arising under applicable securities laws or this Agreement or those that will be released on or prior to consummation of the Tag-Along Sale). If any applicable Tag-Along Member fails to elect to participate in any Tag-Along Sale following receipt of a Tag-Along Notice within the applicable time period specified in this Section 10.5(c), such Tag-Along Member shall be deemed to have elected not to participate in such Tag-Along Sale.

(d) Conditions of Sale. The consideration to be received by a Participating Tag- Along Member shall be the same form and amount of consideration to be received by the Selling Member (or, if the Selling Member is given an option as to the form and amount of consideration to be received the same option shall be given) with the aggregate consideration payable in such Tag-Along Sale allocated among the Selling Member and the Participating Tag-Along Members pro rata in proportion to the number of Units sold in such Tag-Along Sale by each such Member, with the price per Unit received by the Selling Members and each Participating Tag-Along Member being no less than the Tag-Along Unit Price, and the terms and conditions of such sale shall, except as otherwise provided in the immediately succeeding sentence, be the same as those applicable to the Selling Member. Each Participating Tag-Along Member shall make or provide the same representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements as the Selling Member makes or provides in connection with the Tag-Along Sale (except that in the case of representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to the Selling Member, each Participating Tag-Along Member shall make the comparable representations, warranties, covenants, indemnities, and agreements pertaining specifically to itself); provided, that all representations, warranties, covenants, and indemnities shall be made by the Selling Member and each Participating Tag-Along Member severally and not jointly and any indemnification obligation shall be pro rata based on the consideration received by the Selling Member and each Participating Tag-Along Member (other than any indemnification obligation pertaining specifically to the Selling Member or a Participating Tag-Along Member, which obligation shall be the sole obligation of the Selling Member or such Participating Tag-Along Member), in each case in an amount not to exceed the aggregate proceeds received by the Selling Member and each such Participating Tag-Along Member in connection with the Tag-Along Sale.

(e) GM Conditions of Sale. If GM is a Participating Tag-Along Member as additional conditions to such Tag-Along Sale, (i) if any other Member retains any offtake or similar rights in connection with a Tag-Along Sale, then GM shall be entitled to retain or receive, as applicable, a proportionate amount of substantially comparable offtake or similar rights as the rights retained by such other Member and (ii) GM shall not be required to, in connection with its participation in the Tag-Along Sale, amend or terminate any existing offtake or similar agreement between GM or its Affiliates, on the one hand, and the Company or its Affiliates, on the other hand.

(f) Expenses. The fees and expenses of the Selling Member incurred in connection with a Tag-Along Sale and for the benefit of the Selling Member and all Participating Tag-Along Members, to the extent not paid or reimbursed by the Company or the Tag-Along Transferee, shall be shared by the Selling Member and all of the Participating Tag-Along Members on a pro rata basis, based on the consideration received by each such Member.

(g) Cooperation. The Selling Member and each Participating Tag-Along Member shall take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate the Tag-Along Sale, including entering into agreements and delivering certificates and instruments, in each case consistent with the agreements being entered into and the certificates being delivered by the Selling Member.

(h) Application of Transfer Restrictions. This Section 10.5 shall only apply to Transfers in which (i) the Members have not exercised their rights in full under Section 10.3 to purchase all of the Selling Member's Units, and (ii) the Selling Members have not, or are not able to, exercise their rights under Section 10.4.

10.6. DOE Put Right.

If the DOE Loan is terminated prior to FID and such termination is not caused, directly or indirectly, by GM or its Affiliates (including the failure to declare FID in accordance with this Agreement), then GM and its Affiliates shall have the option, in GM's sole discretion, to sell all, but not less than all, of their Units to the Company and the Company shall have the obligation to purchase all such Units exercisable by providing written notice to the Company (the "DOE Put Notice" and the date for such sale set forth therein the "DOE Put Closing Date"). The consideration to be received by GM and its Affiliates shall be an amount (the "DOE Put Purchase Price") equal to (a) all Capital Contributions made in respect of their Units prior to the Put Closing Date, less (b) $10,000,000.

10.7. GM Put Rights.

Any purchase by the Company in relation to a GM Put Notice will be on an "as is, where is" basis (except that GM shall make customary title representations with the respect to the Units, including the absence of any encumbrances thereon), without any representations or warranties of any kind regarding the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and without any conditions to consummating such purchase and sale other than the receipt of (a) any material Governmental Authority approvals required under applicable Law to consummate such purchase and sale and (b) any contractual consent required by a material contract the was the subject of Specified Approval or was entered into when GM or its Affiliate Controlled the Company, or (c) as otherwise required pursuant to Section 7.9. The Put Closing Date shall be extended to the extent necessary for the Company to secure any material Governmental Authority approval or consent required to consummate such purchase and sale to a date five (5) days following receipt of such approval or consent so long as such the Company is using commercially reasonable efforts to pursue the approval or consent and every thirty (30) days during the extension delivers to the other Member a certificate that such approval is being so pursued. On the Put Closing Date, (x) GM and its Affiliates shall assign to the Company all right, title and interest in their Units, free and clear of all encumbrances, by executing such documents as may be necessary to effect the sale, and (y) the Put Purchase Price shall be paid by the Company by wire transfer of immediately available funds. In addition, on the DOE Put Closing Date only, GM shall execute such documents as may be necessary to surrender its rights to Phase 2 offtake. Each Member and the Manager hereby agrees to cooperate with, to take all actions as may be reasonably necessary to consummate and to not take any action that would reasonably be expected to delay, the closing of the sale.

(d) A Member shall continue to be bound by this Section 13.1 until the earlier of the date that is 2 years after the resignation or deemed resignation of such Member or the Transfer by such Member of all of its Units, provided that with respect to any Confidential Information that constitutes "trade secrets" or a Member of the Company under the Uniform Trade Secrets Act or similar applicable Laws, the provisions of this Section 13.1 shall survive indefinitely.

13.2. Public Announcements.

No Member shall, alone or in concert with others, without the prior written consent of the Company or as otherwise expressly permitted under this Agreement, make, publish, issue or release (and each Member shall procure that none of its relevant Affiliates and use reasonable best efforts to procure that none of its or such Affiliates' Representatives shall make, publish, issue or release) any press release or other similar public announcement in connection with this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby, except as may be required by applicable Law or pursuant to any stock exchange or securities commission rule or disclosure requirement of the SEC (based upon the reasonable advice of counsel), court process or by obligations pursuant to any listing agreement with any securities exchange or securities quotation system; provided that, the disclosing Person shall provide prior notice to each Member of any public disclosure that it proposes to make which includes the name of the Company, such Member or any of its Affiliates, together with a draft copy of such disclosure; provided further that, except as required by applicable Law (based upon the reasonable advice of counsel), in no circumstances shall any public disclosure of the Company or any of its Affiliates include the name of a Member or any of its Affiliates without such Member's prior written consent, in its sole discretion. The restrictions contained in this Section 13.2 shall survive any termination of the membership of any Member in the Company or of this Agreement. Each Member acknowledges that damages may not be an adequate remedy for breach of this Section 13.2 and that injunctive relief may be an appropriate remedy.

13.3. Notices.

Any notice or other communication that is required or permitted to be given hereunder shall be sent to or made at the Company's principal office or the addresses set forth in Schedule "C". All notices shall be in writing and shall be given (i) by personal delivery or overnight courier, (ii) by electronic communication; or (iii) by registered mail. All notices shall be effective and shall be deemed delivered (a) if by personal delivery or by overnight courier, on the date of delivery if delivered before 5:00 p.m. local destination time on a Business Day, otherwise on the next Business Day after delivery, (b) if by electronic communication on the Business Day after receipt of the electronic communication, and (c) if solely by registered mail, on the Business Day after actual receipt. A Member may change its address by written notice to the other Members.

13.4. Headings.

The subject headings of the Articles, Sections and subsections of this Agreement and the Schedules to this Agreement are included for purposes of convenience only, and shall not affect the construction or interpretation of any of their provisions.

13.5. Waiver.

Except for waivers specifically provided for in this Agreement, rights under this Agreement may not be waived except by an instrument in writing signed by the Member to be charged with the waiver. The failure of a Member to insist on the strict performance of any provision of this Agreement or to exercise any right, power or remedy upon a breach of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any provision of this Agreement or limit the Member's rights thereafter to enforce any provision or exercise any right.

13.6. Amendment.

Except for administrative updates to the Schedules by the Company to reflect the accurate nature of such Schedules, notwithstanding the definition of "limited liability company agreement" contained in the Act or any other contrary provision of the Act, no amendment, restatement, modification, or supplement of or to this Agreement shall be valid or shall constitute part of the "limited liability company agreement" of the Company unless it is made in a writing duly executed by each Member with Specified Approval, which writing specifically indicates that it is amending, restating, modifying or supplementing this Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, this Agreement shall not be amended or modified in a manner that is disproportionate and adverse to a Member in its capacity as a holder of a class of Units relative to the other Members holding the same class of Units without the consent of the Member disproportionately and adversely affected (other than in connection with the issuance of additional Units approved in accordance with this Agreement).

13.7. Severability.

If at any time any covenant or provision contained in this Agreement is deemed in a final, non-appealable ruling of an arbitrator or to the extent applicable a court of competent jurisdiction, to be invalid or unenforceable, such covenant or provision shall be considered divisible and shall be deemed immediately amended and reformed to include only such portion of such covenant or provision as such arbitrator has held to be valid and enforceable. Such covenant or provision, as so amended and reformed, shall be valid and binding as though the invalid or unenforceable portion had not been included in this Agreement.

13.8. Rules of Construction.

Each Member acknowledges that it has been represented by counsel during the negotiation, preparation and execution of this Agreement or the acquisition of its Units or other interest in the Company. Each Member therefore waives the application of any Law or rule of construction providing that ambiguities in an agreement or other document shall be construed against the drafter of the agreement or document.

13.9. Governing Law.

This Agreement, and the rights and liabilities of the Members under this Agreement, shall be governed by and interpreted in accordance with the Laws of the State of Delaware, except for its rules as to conflicts of Laws that would apply the Laws of another state.

13.10. Independent Expert.

(a) Disputes with respect to Fair Market Value, LAC 2024 CapEx, and any matter described in Section 5.4(c)(iv) shall be referred to an Independent Expert for resolution. If a Member wishes to refer any of the foregoing matters to an Independent Expert for resolution in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, such Member shall give written notice to the other Members of such intention.

(b) Within thirty (30) days after a written notice has been served by any Member pursuant to Section 13.10(a) notifying the other Members of its decision to refer a matter to an Independent Expert, the Members shall use reasonable efforts to jointly select and retain an appropriate Independent Expert mutually acceptable to the Members.

(c) Each Member shall (A) reasonably cooperate with the Independent Expert, (B) have the opportunity to make presentations and provide supporting material to the Independent Expert in defense of its positions (which supporting material shall also be provided to the other Member), in a manner established by the Independent Expert in consultation with the Members, (C) subject to customary confidentiality and indemnity agreements, provide the Independent Expert with access to their (and their applicable Affiliates') respective, and cause the Company Group to provide access to their, books, records, and Representatives, and such other information, in each case as the Independent Expert may reasonably request in order to render its determination, and (D) not engage in ex parte communications with the Independent Expert. The Independent Expert shall be instructed to resolve any dispute within twenty (20) Business Days after its engagement on such dispute (provided that such twenty (20) Business Day period may be extended by the Independent Expert with the consent of the Members, and the failure of the Independent Expert to deliver its resolution of the dispute within a required period of time shall not be grounds to object to the confirmation or enforcement of such resolution).

(d) The resolution of any dispute by the Independent Expert (A) shall be set forth in writing and (B) shall be final and binding upon the Members, the Company and each Subsidiary of the Company, except in the case of fraud, bad faith, manifest error, or if it is later determined that the Independent Expert had a conflict of interest.

(f) For any disputes related to the determination of Fair Market Value and LAC 2024 CapEx, the disputing parties shall bear and pay the fees and expenses of the Independent Expert in inverse proportion as they may prevail on disputed matters resolved by the Independent Expert, which proportionate allocations shall be determined by the Independent Expert at the time the determination is rendered. For any disputes related to Related Party Matters, the Independent Expert shall apportion the fees and expenses among the disputing parties.

(g) All aspects of any dispute resolution conducted pursuant to this Section 13.10, including the underlying dispute, the existence of resolution proceedings with an Independent Expert, the merits of the resolution proceedings with the Independent Expert and the determination by the Independent Expert, shall, in each case, be considered Confidential Information. Any documentation or information provided to, or received by any Member from, the Independent Expert shall also be considered Confidential Information.

13.11. Arbitration of Disputes.

Each of the Members shall use commercially reasonable efforts to resolve any dispute among the Members that relates to this Agreement and to settle any such dispute through joint cooperation and consultation. Subject to Sections 13.10 (which shall apply to any dispute hereunder relating to Related Party Matters, LAC 2024 CapEx or Fair Market Value and this Section 13.11 shall not apply to such matters) and 13.18, any dispute whatsoever among any of the Members with respect to the interpretation of, or relating to any alleged breach of, this Agreement that the Members are unable to settle within thirty (30) days, as set forth in the preceding sentence, shall be resolved by final and binding arbitration administered by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution in accordance with its International Arbitration Rules, before a panel of three (3) arbitrators. Any such arbitration shall be held in New York, New York unless another location is mutually agreed upon by the parties to such arbitration. Such arbitration shall be the exclusive remedy hereunder with respect to any dispute relating to this Agreement; provided, however, that nothing contained in this Section 13.11 shall limit any Member's right to bring (a) post-arbitration actions seeking to enforce an arbitration award or (b) actions seeking emergency or temporary injunctive or other similar temporary relief (pending the resolution of the arbitration contemplated herein) in the event of a breach or threatened breach of any of the provisions of this Agreement. If this Section 13.11 is for any reason held to be invalid or otherwise inapplicable with respect to any dispute, then any action or proceeding brought with respect to any dispute arising under this Agreement, or to interpret or clarify any rights or obligations arising hereunder, shall be maintained solely and exclusively in the state or U.S. federal courts in the State of Delaware. With respect to any action or proceeding that a successful party to the arbitration may wish to bring to enforce any arbitral award or to seek injunctive or other similar relief in the event of the breach or threatened breach of this Agreement (or any other agreement contemplated hereby), each party irrevocably and unconditionally (and without limitation): (i) submits to and accepts, for itself and in respect of its assets, generally and unconditionally the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the United States and the State of Delaware; (ii) waives any objection it may have now or in the future that such action or proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum; (iii) agrees that in any such action or proceeding it will not raise, rely on or claim any immunity (including from suit, judgment, attachment before judgment or otherwise, execution or other enforcement); (iv) waives any right of immunity which it has or its assets may have at any time; and (v) consents generally to the giving of any relief or the issue of any process in connection with any such action or proceeding including the making, enforcement or execution of any order or judgment against any of its property. Each Member shall use best efforts to cause any proceeding conducted pursuant to this Section 13.11 to be held in confidence by the International Centre for Dispute Resolution, the arbitrators and each of the parties to such proceeding and their respective Affiliates, and all information relating to or disclosed by any party thereto in connection with such proceeding shall be treated by the parties thereto, their respective Affiliates and the arbitrators as confidential business information and no disclosure of such information shall be made by any party thereto, its Affiliates or the arbitrator without the prior written consent of the party thereto furnishing such information in connection with the arbitration proceeding, except as required by applicable law or to enforce any award of the arbitrators. The party whom the arbitrators determine is the prevailing party in such arbitration shall receive, in addition to any other award pursuant to such arbitration or associated judgment, reimbursement from the other party of all reasonable legal fees incurred with respect to such arbitration.

13.12. Waiver of Jury Trial.

13.13. Further Assurances.

Each Member agrees to take from time to time such actions and execute such additional instruments as may be reasonably necessary or convenient to implement and carry out the intent and purpose of this Agreement.

13.14. Survival.

(a) Resignation, Relinquishment, Redemption and Transfer. After the resignation or deemed resignation of a Member, the relinquishment or redemption of a Member's Units, or the Transfer by a Member of all of its equity interests in the Company, such former Member shall have no further rights or obligations as a Member of the Company relating to periods after the date of the resignation, deemed resignation, relinquishment, redemption or Transfer; provided, that after such resignation, deemed resignation, relinquishment, redemption or Transfer, such former Member shall not be released, either in whole or in part, from any liability of such Member to the Company or the other Member under this Agreement or otherwise relating to periods through the date of such resignation, deemed resignation, relinquishment, redemption or Transfer, unless each other Member agrees in writing to any such release.

(b) Dissolution, Liquidation and Termination. After the dissolution, liquidation and termination of the Company, each Person that was a Member as of the date of the dissolution, liquidation or termination of the Company shall be entitled to copies of all information acquired by or on behalf of the Company on or before the date of dissolution, liquidation or termination and not previously furnished to such Person.

(c) Survival of Provisions. The provisions of this Agreement shall survive any event described in Section 13.14(a) and (b) to the fullest extent necessary for the enforcement of such provisions and the protection of the Members, the Manager or other Persons in whose favor such provisions run.

13.15. No Third Party Beneficiaries.

Except to the extent specifically provided in this Agreement with respect to Covered Persons (who are express third party beneficiaries of this Agreement solely to the extent provided in this Agreement), this Agreement is for the sole benefit of the Members and no other Person (including any creditor of the Company) is intended to be a beneficiary of this Agreement or shall have any rights under this Agreement. Except as specifically provided in this Agreement, no Person (including any named third-party beneficiary) shall have a right to approve any amendment or modification, or waiver under, this Agreement.

13.16. Entire Agreement.

This Agreement contains the entire understanding of the Members with respect to the Company and supersedes all prior agreements, understandings and negotiations relating to the subject matter of this Agreement.

13.17. Parties in Interest.

This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of the permitted successors and permitted assigns of the Members and shall be binding upon the successors and permitted assigns of the Members.

13.18. Specific Performance.

Each Member agrees that the other Members would be damaged irreparably and would have no adequate remedy at law in the event that any of the provisions of this Agreement are not performed in accordance with their specific terms or are otherwise breached. Accordingly, each Member shall be entitled to seek an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of this Agreement by the other Members and to enforce specifically this Agreement and the terms and provisions hereof, this being in addition to any other remedies to which such Member is entitled at law or in equity, without proof of actual damages or any obligation to post any bond or other security as a prerequisite to obtaining equitable relief. Each Member agrees not to dispute or resist any such application for relief on the basis that another Member has an adequate remedy at law or that damage arising from such non-performance or breach is not irreparable.

13.19. Counterparts.

This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, including by electronic signature and all such counterparts taken together shall constitute the same document.

This Section 3.2(d) is intended to constitute a partner nonrecourse debt minimum gain chargeback under Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-2(i)(4) and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

(e) Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary except Sections 3.2(a) and 3.2(b), no Losses or other items of loss or expense shall be allocated to any Member to the extent that such allocation would cause such Member to have a deficit balance in its Adjusted Capital Account (or increase any existing deficit balance in its Adjusted Capital Account) at the end of such Allocation Period. All Losses and other items of loss and expense in excess of the limitation set forth in this Section 3.2(e) shall be allocated to the Members who do not have a deficit balance in their Adjusted Capital Accounts in proportion to their relative positive Adjusted Capital Accounts but only to the extent that such Losses and other items of loss and expense do not cause any such Member to have a deficit in its Adjusted Capital Account.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision hereof to the contrary except Sections 3.2(c) and 3.2(d), a Member who unexpectedly receives an adjustment, allocation or distribution described in Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d)(4), (5) or (6) shall be allocated items of income and gain (consisting of a pro rata portion of each item of income, including gross income, and gain for the Allocation Period) in an amount and manner sufficient to eliminate any deficit balance in such Member's Adjusted Capital Account as quickly as possible; provided, however, that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.2(f) shall be made only if and to the extent that such Member would have a deficit Adjusted Capital Account balance after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if this Section 3.2(f) were not in this Agreement. This Section 3.2(f) is intended to constitute a qualified income offset under Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(ii)(d) and shall be interpreted consistently therewith.

(g) In the event that any Member has a deficit balance in its Adjusted Capital Account at the end of any Allocation Period, such Member shall be allocated items of Company gross income and gain in the amount of such deficit as quickly as possible; provided, however, that an allocation pursuant to this Section 3.2(g) shall be made only if and to the extent that such Member would have a deficit balance in its Adjusted Capital Account after all other allocations provided for in this Article III have been tentatively made as if Section 3.2(f) and this Section 3.2(g) were not in this Schedule "E".

(h) To the extent an adjustment to the adjusted tax basis of any Company properties pursuant to Code Section 734(b) (including any such adjustments pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.734-2(b)(1)) is required pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(2) or 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(4) to be taken into account in determining Capital Accounts as the result of a distribution to any Member in complete liquidation of such Member's Units, the amount of such adjustment to Capital Accounts shall be treated as an item of gain (if the adjustment increases the basis of the asset) or loss (if the adjustment decreases such basis) and such gain or loss shall be allocated to the Members in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(2) if such Treasury Regulation section applies, or to the Member to whom such distribution was made if Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(m)(4) applies.

(i) Items of income, gain, loss, expense or credit resulting from a covered audit adjustment resulting in an "imputed underpayment" as described in Section 6225(b) of the Code or any analogous provision of state or local law shall be allocated to the Members in accordance with the applicable provisions of Sections 6221 through 6241 of the Code (together with any final or temporary Treasury Regulations, Revenue Rulings, and case law interpreting such sections of the Code and any analogous provision of state, local or non-U.S. law).

3.3. Income Tax Allocations.

(a) All items of income, gain, loss and deduction for U.S. federal income tax purposes shall be allocated in the same manner as the corresponding item is allocated pursuant to Section 3.1 or 3.2, except as otherwise provided in this Section 3.3 or Section 3.4.

(b) In accordance with the principles of Code Section 704(c) and the Treasury Regulations thereunder (including the Treasury Regulations applying the principles of Code Section 704(c) to changes in Book Values), income, gain, deduction and loss with respect to any Company property having a Book Value that differs from such property's adjusted U.S. federal income tax basis shall, solely for U.S. federal income tax purposes, be allocated among the Members in order to account for any such difference using the "traditional method" under Treasury Regulations Section 1.704-3(b) or such other method or methods as determined by the Board of Directors to be appropriate and in accordance with the applicable Treasury Regulations.

(c) Any (i) recapture of depreciation or any other item of deduction (including, to the extent applicable, recapture of exploration expenses under Section 617(b)(1)(A) of the Code and any disallowance of depletion under Section 617(b)(1)(B) of the Code) shall be allocated, in accordance with Treasury Regulation Sections 1.1245-1(e) and 1.1254-5, to the Members who received the benefit of such deductions and (ii) recapture of grants or credits shall be allocated to the Members in accordance with applicable law.

(d) Tax credits of the Company shall be allocated among the Members as provided in Treasury Regulation Sections 1.704-1(b)(4)(ii) and 1.704-1(b)(4)(viii).

(e) Allocations pursuant to this Section 3.3 are solely for purposes of U.S. federal, state and local taxes and, except as otherwise specifically provided, shall not affect, or in any way be taken into account in computing, any Member's Capital Account or share of Profits, Losses, other items or distributions pursuant to any provision of this Agreement.

(f) If, as a result of an exercise of a non-compensatory option to acquire an interest in the Company, a Capital Account reallocation is required under Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(2)(iv)(s)(3), the Company shall make corrective allocations pursuant to Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(x).

3.4. Depletion Deductions. Excess percentage depletion deductions with respect to depletable property shall be allocated to the Members in accordance with the allocation of gross income from the property (as determined under Section 613(c) of the Code) from which such deductions are derived in accordance with Treasury Regulation Section 1.704-1(b)(4)(iii). The term "excess percentage depletion" shall mean the excess, if any, of deductions for percentage depletion as determined under Section 613 of the Code over the adjusted tax basis of the depletable property.

ARTICLE IV

(c) No Obligation to Restore. Except as otherwise required by applicable law, no Member shall have any liability to restore all or any portion of a deficit balance in such Member's Capital Account.

4.2. Fair Market Values. For purposes of this Schedule "E", the fair market values of any Assets as of the time of determination shall be determined by the Board of Directors after consulting the Company's independent certified public accountants or other valuation experts as chosen in the discretion of the Board of Directors.

4.3. Modifications. The Company shall (and shall cause its Subsidiaries) to comply with the terms and obligations of any Credit Transfer Preliminary Agreement or Credit Transfer Document.

(f) Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary and subject to Section 5.1(i), in connection with the matters described in Section 5.1(c) and Section 5.1(d), the Credit Transfer Member shall have the authority to bind the Company (and to cause the Company to bind any Subsidiary) in making contracts and incurring obligations in the name of the Company or any Subsidiary, as applicable, without the need for approval by or any other consent from any other Member, or the Board of Directors or Partnership Representative. The Credit Transfer Member shall reimburse the Company or any Subsidiary, as applicable, for reasonable and documented costs and expenses incurred in connection with the matters described in Section 5.1(c) or Section 5.1(d).

(g) Subject to Section 5.1(i), immediately upon receipt, (i) all Credit Transfer Proceeds from a GM Credit Transfer Transaction shall be deposited into the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account and (ii) all Credit Transfer Proceeds from a LAC Credit Transfer Transaction shall be deposited into the LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account. All funds in the PTC Proceeds Escrow Accounts shall be distributed in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(i) or treated as an offset to a capital call obligation in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(ii).

(h) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

(i) Subject to Section 5.1(i), no Credit Transfer Proceeds may be used by the Company for any purpose other than for distribution to the Members in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(i) or for treatment as an offset to a capital call obligation by a member in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(ii). For the avoidance of doubt, except as provided in Section 5.1(i), no provisions of this Agreement that limit the ability of the Company to distribute certain amounts to one or more Members shall apply to the distribution of Credit Transfer Proceeds.

(ii) Until the Release Date, if the Company receives any indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) that compensate for the loss of any Credit Transfer Proceeds from a Credit Transfer Transaction and that are not otherwise payable to the Credit Transferee, such indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) shall be deposited into the Revenue Account, and the provisions of Section 5.1(i) shall apply to such amount. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, (A) if the Company receives any indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) that compensate for the loss of any Credit Transfer Proceeds from a GM Credit Transfer Transaction, such indemnity proceeds or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) shall be deposited into the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account, and the provisions of this Section 5.1(h) and Section 5.3 shall apply to such amount, and (B) if the Company receives any indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) that compensate for the loss of any Credit Transfer Proceeds from a LAC Credit Transfer Transaction, such indemnity proceeds or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) shall be deposited into the LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account, and the provisions of this Section 5.1(h) and Section 5.3 shall apply to such amount.

(iii) All costs incurred by the Company in connection with a Credit Transfer Transaction (including any costs incurred in indemnifying any Credit Transferee), whether related to an "excessive credit transfer" (as defined in Section 6418(g)(2)(C) of the Code) or otherwise, and all related reporting and administration costs (including all costs pursuant to the Company's obligations under Section 5.1(d)), shall be reimbursed by (A) GM, to the extent such costs were incurred with respect to a GM Credit Transfer Transaction or (B) LAC, to the extent such costs were incurred with respect to an LAC Credit Transfer Transaction, within twenty (20) Business Days of written notice to GM or LAC, as applicable, of the costs incurred by the Company or any Subsidiary and each Credit Transfer Member shall indemnify and hold harmless the Company, any Subsidiary, and the other Member for any losses, liabilities, costs or expenses incurred in connection with such Credit Transfer Member's Credit Transfer Transaction.

(i) Until the Release Date and subject to and in compliance with the terms of the DOE Loan, all PTCs will be monetized by the Company either pursuant to a Direct Pay Election or a Credit Transfer Transaction, and neither GM nor LAC will be permitted to specify any amount of PTCs to be retained by the Company and allocated to such Member. All amounts received with respect to any such PTC monetization transaction from the Effective Date until the Release Date will promptly be deposited into the Revenue Account. Any transfers from the Revenue Account will be distributed pursuant to Section 9.1(a) of this Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, until the Release Date, the provisions of Section 5.3 of this Agreement shall not be applicable.

(j) For each taxable year for which a Direct Pay Election has not been determined to be made or is no longer in effect for a particular facility pursuant to Section 5.2(a), GM and LAC will consider jointly marketing the PTCs to maximize Credit Transfer Proceeds on the most favorable terms and conditions. Subject to Section 5.1(i), if GM and LAC cannot reach agreement on a joint marketing approach, GM will be permitted separately transact with respect to GM's Eligible Credit Amount and LAC will be permitted to separately transact with respect to LAC's Eligible Credit Amount.

5.2. Direct Pay.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, for each taxable year, with Specified Approval, the Company (acting through the Partnership Representative, if required) shall make or forego making any election under Section 6417 of the Code or the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, including any Direct Pay Election or any Revocation Election as so directed by such Specified Approval. Further, the applicable Members shall provide the written consent and direction pursuant to this Section 5.2(a) by April 30 of each taxable year. The Members acknowledge and agree that any determination to forego making a Direct Pay Election, or the absence of a determination to make a Direct Pay Election by April 30 of a taxable year, constitutes a determination by the Members, subject to Section 5.1(i), to pursue credit transfers or allocations in accordance with Section 5.1 with respect to such taxable year.

(b) Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary but consistent with the direction set forth in Section 5.2(a), the Partnership Representative, at the Company's expense, shall have the authority to act on behalf of the Company and bind the Company (and cause the Company to bind any Subsidiary), without the need for approval by or consent from any other Member, or the Board of Directors, with respect to all matters related to a Direct Pay Election or a Revocation Election, including: (i) the obtainment of any tax opinion from counsel in connection with such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election; (ii) the procurement of tax insurance coverage in favor of GM, LAC or the Company in connection with such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election; and (iii) defending against any claims asserted against the Company or any Subsidiary arising from such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election; provided, however, that (y) any Person whose consent would be required in connection with a Specified Approval shall be given a reasonable opportunity to review such tax opinion or insurance coverage prior to delivery or obtainment thereof, as applicable, and reasonably discuss such tax opinion or insurance policy, or any questions arising therefrom, with the counsel selected by the Partnership Representative to provide such opinion or review and present comments at the Company's expense; and (z) the Company shall not, and shall cause any Subsidiary not to, settle, compromise, discharge, or withdraw any such claim without the prior written consent of any Person whose consent would be required in connection with a Specified Approval (not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed).

(c) Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, the Company (acting through the Partnership Representative, as required) shall take the following actions related to a Direct Pay Election or a Revocation Election, in accordance with and consistent with the approval or consent of the Members: (i) completing pre-filing registration in accordance with the requirements set forth in Treasury Regulation Section 1.6417-5; (ii) making any elections under Section 6417 of the Code and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder (to the extent otherwise consistent with Section 5.2(a)); (iii) preparing and submitting all filings of any nature made to any Governmental Authority in connection with such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election (to the extent otherwise consistent with Section 5.2(a)); (iv) keeping all records and documentation related to such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election; (v) providing all information reasonably requested by GM or LAC that is relevant to a potential or actual Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election; (vi) maintaining tax insurance coverage in favor of GM, LAC, or the Company in connection with such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election (to the extent otherwise consistent with Section 5.2(a)); and (vii) ensuring the compliance of the Company and each Subsidiary with the terms and conditions of such Direct Pay Election or Revocation Election. The Company shall provide to each Member a copy of any filings made hereunder, including but not limited to the declared documentations such as Direct Pay Election and Revocation Election.

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of this Agreement to the contrary, neither the Company nor the Partnership Representative may take any action relating to the matters described in Section 5.2(b) or Section 5.2(c) on behalf of the Company (and shall not cause any Subsidiary to take any action relating to such matters) without the direction or express approval of any Person whose consent would be required in connection with a Specified Approval.

(e) Subject to Section 5.1(i), immediately upon receipt of Direct Pay Proceeds, the Direct Pay Distribution Amount shall be deposited into the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account and the LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account pro rata in accordance with such Member's interest in the Company, taking into account as appropriate any variations in such Member's interest in the Company for the year in which the PTCs were generated to which the Direct Pay Proceeds relate. All funds in the PTC Proceeds Escrow Accounts shall be distributed in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(i) or treated as an offset to a capital call obligation in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(ii).

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

(i) Subject to Section 5.1(i), no Direct Pay Proceeds may be used by the Company for any purpose other than for distribution to the Members in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(i) or for treatment as an offset to a capital call obligation by a Member in accordance with Section 5.3(b)(ii). For the avoidance of doubt, except as provided in Section 5.1(i), no provisions of this Agreement that limit the ability of the Company to distribute certain amounts to one or Members shall apply to the distribution of Direct Pay Proceeds.

(ii) Until the Release Date, if the Company receives any indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) that compensate for the loss of any Direct Pay Proceeds and that are not otherwise payable to the IRS, such proceeds shall be deposited in the Revenue Account, and the provisions of Section 5.1(i) shall apply to such amount. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, if the Company receives any indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up) that compensate for the loss of any Direct Pay Proceeds, such proceeds shall (A) first be deposited into the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account or LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account, as applicable, in proportion to the relevant Member's tax liability (including penalties and interest) relating to the event giving rise to such indemnity payments or insurance proceeds (including any tax gross-up), but only to the extent of such tax liability, and (B) thereafter, pro rata in accordance with such Member's interest in the Company, taking into account as appropriate any variations in such Member's interest in the Company for the year in which the PTCs were generated to which the Direct Pay Proceeds relate, and the provisions of this Section 5.2(f) and Section 5.3 shall apply to such amounts.

(iii) For the avoidance of doubt, any Direct Pay Election made pursuant to this Section 5.2 with respect to any facility will apply to both GM's Eligible Credit Amount and LAC's Eligible Credit Amount arising from such facility and no elections shall be made pursuant to Section 5.1 with respect to either GM's Eligible Credit Amount and LAC's Eligible Credit Amount arising from such facility for any periods in which a Direct Pay Election is in effect with respect to that facility.

5.3. PTC Proceeds Escrow Accounts.

(a) After the Release Date, prior to any subsequent GM Credit Transfer Transaction or any Direct Pay Election, the Company shall establish an escrow account with terms and conditions (including with respect to the release of funds) satisfactory to GM in its sole discretion (the "GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account"). After the Release Date, prior to any subsequent LAC Credit Transfer Transaction or any Direct Pay Election, the Company shall establish an escrow account with terms and conditions (including with respect to the release of funds) satisfactory to LAC in its sole discretion (the "LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account" and, together with the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account, the "PTC Proceeds Escrow Accounts").

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

(i) At the direction of GM, the Company shall distribute to GM any portion of the funds then available in the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account, retain any portion of such funds, or use such funds in the manner described in Section 5.3(b)(ii). At the direction of LAC, the Company shall distribute to LAC any portion of the funds then available in the LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account, retain any portion of such funds, or use such funds in the manner described in Section 5.3(b)(ii).

(ii) At the direction of GM, and in GM's sole discretion, the Company shall treat any portion of the funds then available in the GM PTC Proceeds Escrow Account as an offset to an obligation for GM to make a Capital Contribution upon a capital call. For purposes of Section 3.2 or Section 3.3 of the Agreement, such amount shall be deemed contributed by GM. At the direction of LAC, and in LAC's sole discretion, the Company shall treat any portion of the funds then available in the LAC PTC Proceeds Escrow Account as an offset to an obligation for LAC to make a Capital Contribution upon a capital call. For purposes of Section 3.2 or Section 3.3 of the Agreement, such amount shall be deemed contributed by LAC. For the avoidance of doubt, any amount distributed to a Credit Transfer Member pursuant to Section 5.3(b)(i) shall not be eligible to offset a capital call obligation pursuant to this Section 5.3(b)(ii). If a Member desires to distribute the PTCs by any other method, the Members shall discuss in good faith and not unreasonably withhold consent.

(b) As of the date of this Agreement:

(i) neither the Company, nor any of its Subsidiaries, or its or their respective employees, directors or officers conducts any business transaction or activity with a Sanctioned Person or Sanctioned Territory; and

(ii) neither the Company, nor any of its Subsidiaries or their respective directors, officers, or employees, nor any direct or, to the knowledge of the Company, indirect owner of one percent (1%) or more interest in the Company as of the date of this Agreement, or any direct or, to the knowledge of the Company, indirect owner that may acquire five percent (5%) or more interest in the Company after the date of this Agreement: (i) is a Sanctioned Person; or (ii) to the best knowledge of the Company, acts under the direction of, on behalf of, or for the benefit of a Sanctioned Person.

(c) This Section 6.2 shall not be interpreted or applied in relation to the Company to the extent that the representations made under this Section 6.2 violate, or would result in a breach of the Foreign Extraterritorial Measures Act (Canada).

1.3. Anti-Money Laundering Compliance

For so long as GM or an Affiliate thereof is a Member, and in connection with the Company carrying out its related responsibilities:

(a) the Company shall cause its employees, directors, officers, and to the best of its ability its agents, and any Person acting on its behalf to comply with all applicable Anti-Money Laundering Laws; and

(b) the Company shall as soon as practicable (and in any event no later than January 1, 2025) institute and maintain policies, procedures, and internal controls designed to ensure compliance with any applicable Anti-Money Laundering Laws by itself, its Subsidiaries' and each of their respective directors, officers, and employees, and any other Person acting on their respective behalf.

1.4. Restrictions on Transactions with an FEOC.

For so long as GM or an Affiliate thereof is a Member, the Company shall not, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to not, and each other Member shall not, and shall cause each of its Affiliates to not, without GM's prior written consent:

(a) enter into any agreement in respect of, or otherwise support or recommend, a direct or indirect equity investment in the Company from, or any change of control to, a Sanctioned Person or a FEOC;

(b) conduct any business transaction or activity with a FEOC to the extent such business transaction or activity would disqualify vehicles incorporating the offtake purchased by GM from the Company from being eligible for tax credits under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022, as amended;

(c) enter into any agreement in respect of, or otherwise support or recommend, any of the following transactions with a Sanctioned Person or FEOC:

(iii) the acquisition, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management or policies of the Project.

LITHIUM OFFTAKE AGREEMENT (PHASE TWO)

by and between

and

GENERAL MOTORS HOLDINGS LLC

LITHIUM OFFTAKE AGREEMENT (PHASE TWO)

This Lithium Offtake Agreement (Phase Two) (this "Agreement") is dated as of December 20, 2024 (the "Execution Date") and is among General Motors Holdings LLC ("GM"), Lithium Americas Corp. ("LAC Parent"), and Lithium Nevada LLC ("Supplier"). GM, LAC Parent and Supplier are sometimes referred to in this Agreement individually as a "Party" or collectively as the "Parties".

RECITALS

A. LAC Parent is developing a lithium mine at the Thacker Pass lithium project in Thacker Pass, Nevada, (the "Project") the initial phase ("Phase One") of which is expected to, at optimal anticipated production capacity, have an output of approximately 40,000 tonnes of lithium product per year and GM, Supplier and LAC Parent have entered into that certain Lithium Offtake Agreement dated February 16, 2023, for the Product produced at Phase One, which was assigned by LAC Parent to Supplier and was amended (as such agreement may be further amended, assigned or supplemented from time to time, the "Phase One Offtake Agreement").

B. Supplier is developing an expansion phase at the Project which is anticipated to be a second production facility on or around the site of Phase One, such expansion is currently contemplated to have an optimal anticipated production capacity of approximately an additional 40,000 tonnes of lithium product per year ("Phase Two").

C. GM desires to, directly and indirectly through its Designated Purchasers (as defined below), purchase lithium carbonate ("Product") from Phase Two of the Project (the "Phase Two Product") from Supplier.

D. The Parties desire to establish and structure a supply relationship such that GM and/or its Designated Purchasers will purchase from Supplier, and Supplier will produce, sell, and deliver to GM and/or its Designated Purchasers, the Product, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and all exhibits hereto including, but not limited to, the General Terms and Conditions attached hereto as Exhibit A (the "General Terms").

E. LAC Parent or one of its subsidiaries and GM are joint venture participants in the Supplier pursuant to that certain limited liability company agreement of Lithium Nevada Ventures LLC (the "JV Agreement").

F. LAC Parent and Supplier are collectively referred to herein as the "LAC Parties".

G. The Supplier has obtained debt financing in connection with developing Phase One pursuant to a Loan and Reimbursement Agreement dated October 28, 2024, obtained from the Advanced Technology Vehicles Manufacturing Loan Program administered by the Loan Programs Office of the Department of Energy.

BASED UPON THE FOREGOING RECITALS and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy of which are acknowledged, the Parties agree as follows:

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

1. Term and conditions precedent.

The effective date of this Agreement shall be the Execution Date. The commercial terms of purchase and sale set forth in this Agreement shall become operative as of the Phase Two Effective Date (as defined below), provided that:

1.1. Phase Two Share; Adjustment based on Incremental Funding Obligation. GM shall be entitled to thirty-eight percent (38%) of the Phase Two Product, unless (a) LAC Parent or one of its subsidiaries has not completed its FID Capital Contribution (as defined in the JV Agreement) by the date that is the nine (9) month anniversary of the Execution Date or (b) immediately after such FID Capital Contribution, LAC Parent does not hold at least $51,000,000 of cash net of any financing fees required to be paid by LAC or any of its affiliates, in which case GM shall be entitled to forty-eight percent (48%) of the Phase Two Product (the "Phase Two Share").

1.2. Definition of Commencement of Commercial Production. "Commencement of Commercial Production" means and shall be deemed to have been achieved on the day on which the production facility to be developed for Phase Two (the "Production Facility") has operated for a period of thirty (30) consecutive days at an annualized rate during such period of at least 80% of its final anticipated nameplate capacity per year, as agreed by the Parties at the time of the final investment decision with respect to Phase Two (the "Minimum Annualized Production Rate").

1.3. Phase Two Effective Date. The Phase Two effective date shall commence on the date of the Commencement of Commercial Production (the "Phase Two Effective Date") and shall continue for twenty (20) years after the Phase Two Effective Date (the "Phase Two Term"); provided, however, that, other than with respect to the Stub Period (as defined below), the Phase Two Term shall be extended by an equivalent amount of time for each calendar year in which the Annual Production Forecast (as defined below) (the "MAPR Extension") is less than the Minimum Annualized Production Rate. If there is an MAPR Extension, references to the Phase Two Term shall be to the Phase Two Term as extended by the MAPR Extension (if any).

1.4. [reserved].

1.5. Progress Updates. Supplier will provide to GM written notice of the projected Commencement of Commercial Production at least one hundred eighty (180) days prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, and thereafter will provide monthly progress updates including any revisions to the projected Commencement of Commercial Production. Supplier shall provide GM with written notice of the Commencement of Commercial Production within five (5) Business Days thereof. For purposes of this Agreement, "Business Day" means any day that is not a Saturday, Sunday or other day on which national banks in New York, New York, are authorized or required by law to remain closed.

1.6. Purchase Prior to Commencement of Commercial Production. Provided that (a) the Phase One Offtake Agreement has not terminated and (b) GM's currently binding Annual Purchase Forecast for Phase One is equal to the then-binding Annual Production Forecast for Phase One (subsections (a) and (b) together are referred to as the "Phase One Volume Requirement"), GM (for itself or through a Designated Purchaser) shall have the right to purchase up to its full Phase Two Share of all Phase Two Product prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, in accordance with the provisions of this Agreement but based upon such minimum aggregate shipment quantities and such shipment delivery schedules as well as provisions as to chemical specifications as Supplier and GM shall reasonably agree. Commencing two (2) calendar months prior to the first month in which Supplier reasonably expects the Commencement of Commercial Production for Phase Two Product to occur, by no later than the fifth Business Day of such calendar month and each calendar month thereafter prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, Supplier will provide to GM a production forecast (the "Monthly Production Forecast") for the second succeeding calendar month (the "Relevant Month"), which identifies, among other things, Supplier's total forecast production of the aggregate quantity of Product expected to be produced in the Relevant Month and the shipping schedule for the Relevant Month (the "Monthly Shipping Schedule"). Within thirty (30) Business Days after receipt of the Monthly Production Forecast, GM must notify Supplier in the form agreed by the Parties from time to time, as to the amount of the consolidated quantity of the Product all GM Buyers elect to acquire in the Relevant Month and confirm the Monthly Shipping Schedule for the Relevant Month and provide Supplier with the amount of Product to be shipped to each GM Buyer. If GM does not give notice within the timeframe specified above, GM, for and on behalf of itself and all of the GM Buyers, shall be deemed to have declined to purchase the Product during the Relevant Month. If GM and/or its Designated Purchasers decline (or have been deemed to decline) to purchase all or any portion of its Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product produced prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, Supplier shall be entitled (but not obligated), in its discretion, to sell such Product to any Person. The ROFO Provisions set forth in Section 3 are not applicable to any sales described in this Section 1.6.

1.7. Evaluation of Lithium Hydroxide. The Parties will evaluate the technical and financial feasibility for Supplier to conduct operations to further process the Product to produce lithium hydroxide. If the Parties agree to the development of a lithium hydroxide production facility, the Parties will amend this Agreement to establish mutually agreed upon terms for the purchase and sale of lithium hydroxide. In the event the Parties are unable to reach agreement on such amended terms to be made to this Agreement, the Parties agree to resolve any differences in accordance with the dispute resolution procedures set forth in Section 18 of the General Terms.

1.8. Operational Details. The Parties will also work together throughout the Phase Two Term, each acting in good faith to agree on, as needed, further operational details regarding, among other things, the purchase process, logistics, sampling, transportation and delivery of the Product; provided, however, that any such additional details shall not supersede the terms of this Agreement unless agreed by the Parties in writing.

2. Volumes.

2.1. GM Buyers.

(A) Supplier shall sell the Phase Two Share to GM or any purchaser (for the avoidance of doubt, which may include GM affiliates or tiered suppliers) designated by GM and pre-approved in writing by Supplier (such approved purchasers, the "Designated Purchasers" and, collectively with GM, the "GM Buyers" or each a "GM Buyer").

(B) Supplier shall not unreasonably refuse or delay approval of a Designated Purchaser designated by GM. For clarity, if Supplier has terminated a Designated Purchaser Agreement (as defined below) as a result of a default of the applicable Designated Purchaser, such Designated Purchaser will no longer be deemed to be a Designated Purchaser that has received the approval of Supplier, and Supplier will provide GM with written notice thereof. If GM determines that a Designated Purchaser shall no longer be a Designated Purchaser pursuant to this Agreement, GM will provide notice of such termination to Designated Purchaser and Supplier.

2.2. Option Phase Two Volume. For each year during the Term that GM is satisfying any then applicable Phase One Volume Requirement, Supplier grants to GM an option for GM Buyers to purchase up to its Phase Two Share of all Product that Supplier produces for the Phase Two Production Facility (the "Phase Two Volume"). It is understood and agreed by GM that during any period that GM purchases Phase Two Volume pursuant to this Agreement, GM will purchase a minimum volume of Product equal to the lesser of: (i) the lithium carbonate equivalent of [] percent of GM's requirements for lithium that is necessary for use in the production of battery cells manufactured by GM or its affiliates, subsidiaries, or joint venture partners in North America ([] percent is an aggregated figure under this Agreement and the Phase One Offtake Agreement); or (ii) [] percent of the Phase Two Volume. For clarity, upon termination of the Phase One Offtake Agreement, the Phase One Volume Requirement will be zero when considering if GM is eligible to exercise its option to the Phase Two Volume and if GM exercises such option, each reference to [] percent in clause (i) above will be [] percent such that GM's minimum purchase obligation will be [] of GM's requirements for lithium that is necessary for use in the production of battery cells manufactured by GM or its affiliates, subsidiaries, or joint venture partners in North America.

2.3. Annual Production Forecast. If GM exercises its option consistent with the requirements of Section 2.2 above, Supplier will, not later than ninety (90) days prior to the Phase Two Effective Date (with respect to the period of time from the Phase Two Effective Date through December 31 of the year in which the Phase Two Effective Date occurs (the "Stub Period")); and thereafter by July 31 of each year of the Phase Two Term, provide to GM the estimated total Phase Two Volume multiplied by the Phase Two Share for the following [] calendar years (the "Annual Production Forecast"). The [] of each Annual Production Forecast shall represent the binding forecast from Supplier for the subsequent [], which shall be delivered to GM in accordance with the Shipping Schedule (as defined below) set forth in Section 2.5 below. The [] of each Annual Production Forecast is non-binding. Reference is made to Exhibit G for a summary of the provisions of Sections 2.3 through 2.7 (although such Exhibit G does not modify such Sections but is merely intended to be a shorthand summary for ease of reference purposes).

2.4. Annual Purchase Forecast. GM will, not later than: (i) forty-five (45) days after receipt of the Annual Production Forecast (with respect to the Stub Period); or (ii) August 31 of each year of the Phase Two Term, notify Supplier of the quantity of Product which GM Buyers will purchase in each quarter of the Stub Period or the subsequent [] calendar years, as applicable (the "Annual Purchase Forecast"). The [] of each Annual Purchase Forecast shall constitute a firm obligation of GM to (directly or in combination with the Designated Purchasers) purchase that quantity of Product during the applicable [] (the "Annual Quantity"). The [] of each Annual Production Forecast shall not constitute a firm obligation of GM to purchase that quantity of Product.

2.5. Seller Quarterly Production Forecast. Supplier will, no later than the fifth Business Day of each calendar quarter (each, a "Quarter"), provide to GM a rolling twelve (12)-month production forecast (the "Seller Quarterly Production Forecast") that is consistent with the Annual Production Forecast and identifies, among other things: (A) Supplier's total forecast production of the aggregate quantity of Product expected to be produced for the next four (4) Quarters multiplied by the Phase Two Share; and (B) the shipping schedule for the next Quarter. The shipping schedule will identify each relevant GM Buyer based on the prior Quarter's Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast provided by GM under Section 2.6 ("Shipping Schedule"). In no event shall the Shipping Schedule for the first Quarter provide for a shortfall of more than []% from the quantity set forth in any Seller Quarterly Production Forecast and a shortfall of more than []% from the quantity in Quarters two, three and four of the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast (each, the "Permitted Variance"). Reference is made to Exhibit E for an example of a Seller Quarterly Production Forecast. Any shortfall in a Shipping Schedule shall not reduce the binding annual quantity of Product set forth in an Annual Production Forecast and Annual Purchase Forecast, and any such shortfall in one Quarter shall be made up by Supplier in a subsequent Quarter.

2.6. Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast. GM must, within twenty (20) Business Days after receipt of the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast: (A) notify Supplier in the form agreed by the Parties from time to time, as to the amount of the consolidated quantity of the Product all GM Buyers elect to acquire in each Quarter identified in the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast (the "Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast"); and (B) confirm (or, in accordance with Section 2.7, request changes to) the Shipping Schedule for the next Quarter and provide Supplier with the amount of Product to be shipped to each GM Buyer. Reference is made to Exhibit E for an example of a Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast. If GM does not give notice within the timeframe specified above, GM, for and on behalf of itself and all of the GM Buyers, is deemed to have elected to exercise its option to purchase the same proportion of its Phase Two Share of the available Product that was exercised by all GM Buyers in the prior Quarter and to accept the Shipping Schedule for the next Quarter.

2.7. Modifications to Quantity of Product. Supplier will have five (5) Business Days following receipt of each Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast in which to notify Buyer that Supplier confirms, or proposes modifications to, the quantity of Product set out for the first Quarter in each Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast based upon operational timelines at the Production Facility. Any modifications proposed by Supplier shall be set out in such notice. If Supplier so confirms, or does not give any such notice within such five (5) Business Day period, the quantity of Product set out for the first Quarter in such Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast will constitute the firm order quantity of Product to be shipped during that Quarter (the quantities for the other four (4) Quarters being estimates only) (the "Quarterly Delivery Quantity"). If Supplier has notified GM within the above five (5) Business Day period of proposed modifications to the Quarterly Delivery Quantity, the Parties shall promptly discuss and resolve any such proposed quantity modifications.

2.8. Unallocated Phase Two Product. Supplier agrees that all Product produced from the Supplier's Phase Two Production Facility at the Project during the Phase Two Term shall be allocated and sold pursuant to this Agreement. If GM declines (or is not eligible to exercise due to a failure to purchase the Phase One Volume Requirement) its option to purchase any of the Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product in accordance with this Agreement (or is deemed to have done so), Supplier shall have the full and unrestricted right to sell all or part of such Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product to other purchaser(s) on any terms that Supplier is able to negotiate. For the avoidance of doubt, GM declining to purchase its Phase Two Share of any specific Phase Two Product shall have no impact on GM's option to purchase its subsequent Phase Two Share of available Phase Two Product, and Supplier shall not have the full and unrestricted right to sell the Phase Two Share of any Phase Two Product to other purchaser(s) until GM declines its option to purchase its Phase Two Share of such specific Phase Two Product. The ROFO Provisions set forth in Section 3 are not applicable to any sales described in this Section 2.8.

2.9. Purchase Orders. With respect to all purchases of Product by GM Buyers pursuant to this Agreement:

(A) The GM Buyer will issue to Supplier, and Supplier will accept, one or more blanket purchase orders for purchase of the Product pursuant to which Supplier will produce and deliver Product in accordance with the firm portion of the Annual Purchase Forecast and the Seller Quarterly Production Forecast and releases to be communicated to Supplier setting forth the quantities of Product to be delivered and the delivery dates in accordance with the Shipping Schedule and subject to the Permitted Variance in Quarterly Shipping Schedules set forth in Section 2.5 (all such purchase orders, together with any related releases or agreements, each a "Purchase Contract"). Such Purchase Contract will be made pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Agreement including the General Terms and shall not modify the terms of this Agreement.

(B) Payment terms for each release of Product under a Purchase Contract shall be net thirty (30) days following the GM Buyer's receipt of the Product at the GM Buyer's facility but not later than ninety (90) days after first loading of the Product at the Project or the Alternate Location (as defined in the General Terms).

2.10. Designated Purchasers.

(A) For the avoidance of doubt, the volumes of Product in this Agreement are in the aggregate and apply to all purchases made under this Agreement, whether by GM or any other Designated Purchaser.

(B) A GM Buyer that is identified in the Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast will be responsible for issuing Purchase Orders, making payment and receiving Product, all subject to the terms of this Agreement with respect to GM or the Designated Purchaser Agreement with respect to any Designated Purchaser. GM will provide any Designated Purchaser written notice of the price to be paid by Designated Purchaser to Supplier for the Product pursuant to this Agreement, with a copy of such notice to be provided by GM to Supplier.

(C) Following the notification by GM to Supplier of any Designated Purchaser: (i) sales to such Designated Purchaser will be subject to the Designated Purchaser entering into a direct agreement with Supplier substantially in the form attached to this Agreement as Exhibit B (the "Designated Purchaser Agreement"), which such Designated Purchaser Agreement may be modified prior to its execution by mutual agreement by Supplier and GM.

(D) Any Purchase Contract or order placed by a Designated Purchaser shall create an independent contractor relationship between Supplier and such Designated Purchaser, and GM shall not guaranty any obligations of any Designated Purchaser and Supplier's sole remedy for any breach of a Designated Purchaser Agreement by a Designated Purchaser shall be to enforce Supplier's rights against a Designated Purchaser pursuant to such Designated Purchaser Agreement and under applicable law.

(E) In the event that Supplier assigns its rights under this Agreement as contemplated by Section 16.7, Supplier will provide notice of such assignment within five (5) Business Days to all Designated Purchasers with whom Supplier has executed a Designated Purchaser Agreement, and shall contemporaneously provide a written copy of such notice to GM.

2.11. Right to Phase Two Product. In the event that Supplier or any affiliate sells any Phase Two Product to another Person other than GM and/or its Designated Purchasers in accordance with this Agreement, and Supplier is unable to provide GM and/or its Designated Purchasers with the quantity of Product set forth in the Buyer Quarterly Purchase Forecast—whether due to a force majeure event (as defined in the General Terms) or otherwise—Supplier and its affiliates shall allocate any Phase Two Product such that GM receives not less than its pro rata share of actually produced Phase Two Product; provided that, if GM and/or its Designated Purchasers have purchased lithium carbonate from one or more third parties to replace undelivered Product under this Agreement during a force majeure event impacting Supplier, this Section 2.11 shall not apply to the extent of such purchases from third parties.

3. Right of First Offer for Phase Two Product.

3.1. Certain Defined Terms. For the purposes of this Section 3: (i) "Trigger Point" is the date upon which Supplier reasonably anticipates is 16 months prior to the final investment decision with respect to Phase Two and provides GM with written confirmation of its development plan for Phase Two; and (ii) "ROFO Provisions" are the provisions of this Section 3 pursuant to which Supplier grants to GM a right of first offer with respect to the remaining Phase Two Product not covered by GM's Phase Two Share.

3.2. Notice of Trigger Point. Supplier agrees to send a written notice to GM advising of the Trigger Point as and when the same has been reasonably ascertained. If the Trigger Point is subject to change, Supplier shall promptly send one or more written notices to GM updating the Trigger Point.

3.3. Compliance with ROFO Provisions. During any period that GM is in compliance with the Phase One Volume Requirement and additionally GM has committed in the then-binding Annual Purchase Forecast to purchase the entire Phase Two Share identified in the binding Annual Production Forecast of the Phase Two Product, Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) cannot offer to sell the remaining Phase Two Product not covered by GM's Phase Two Share to a third Person (a "Phase Two Product Transaction") unless and until Supplier has first complied with the provisions of this Section 3. For clarity, without the prior written consent of GM, Supplier cannot implement the ROFO Provisions or enter into a Phase Two Product Transaction prior to the Trigger Point.

3.4. ROFO Notice. If, after the Trigger Point, Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) desires to enter into a Phase Two Product Transaction, Supplier shall first deliver a notice in writing (the "ROFO Notice") to GM whereby the Supplier offers to enter into a Phase Two Product Transaction with GM on the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice (the "Sale Terms").

3.5. Sale Terms. The Sale Terms shall include, to the extent applicable, the price for the Phase Two Product as well as any attendant investment in and/or provision of capital or other consideration to either Supplier and/or the Project as well as all other material terms and conditions in reasonable detail.

3.6. Evaluation Period. For a period of twenty (20) Business Days after receipt of the ROFO Notice (the "Evaluation Period"), GM shall have the right to send a written notice to Supplier (the "Offer Response"). If, during the Evaluation Period, Supplier amends or modifies the terms and conditions set forth in the ROFO Notice prior to receiving the Offer Response from GM, the Evaluation Period shall reset. The Offer Response shall set out whether: (i) GM is not interested in pursuing the Phase Two Product Transaction; (ii) GM is willing to pursue the Phase Two Product Transaction on the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including without limitation, the Sale Terms; or (iii) GM is willing to pursue the Phase Two Product Transaction, but with alterations/amendments/revisions to the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including without limitation, the Sale Terms (the "Suggested Revised Terms"). If no Offer Response is sent by GM to Supplier within the Evaluation Period, then GM is deemed to have elected the option described in Subsection 3.6(i).

3.7. Non Response – Offeree Commercial Agreement. If the Offer Response is as set out in Subsection 3.6(i) or is deemed to be as set out in Subsection 3.6(i), Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) shall have a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after the receipt (or non-receipt) of such Offer Response to negotiate with a third Person (the "Offeree") a Phase Two Product Transaction and to enter into a binding agreement of purchase and sale or other form of commercial agreement, as the case may be (the "Commercial Agreement") with the Offeree, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent. If the Commercial Agreement is not executed and delivered within such time frame then the ROFO Provisions shall reset and again be applicable to any subsequent contemplated Phase Two Product Transaction.

3.8. Standard ROFO Negotiation Period. If the Offer Response is as set out in Subsection 3.6(ii), Supplier and GM shall, each acting in good faith, for a period of a further one hundred sixty (160) days (the "Standard ROFO Negotiation Period") negotiate the binding Commercial Agreement, based on the Sale Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent.

3.9. End of Standard ROFO Negotiation Period – Offeree Commercial Agreement. If, by the end of the Standard ROFO Negotiation Period, Supplier and GM have not executed and delivered a binding Commercial Agreement based on the Sale Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent, then Supplier shall have a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after the last day of the Standard ROFO Negotiation Period, to negotiate with an Offeree a Phase Two Product Transaction on terms and conditions that are materially better (considered as a whole package) to Supplier than those set out in the ROFO Notice and to enter into a binding Commercial Agreement with the Offeree, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent. Supplier shall not disclose to an Offeree any of the information provided by GM to Supplier in the Offer Response or during the Standard ROFO Negotiation Period. In considering whether the terms and conditions are materially better, the Parties shall take into consideration, among other things, the offtake price, volume, investment quantum, form of investment, timing, execution risk, and government relations. If the Commercial Agreement is not executed and delivered within such time frame, then the ROFO Provisions shall reset and again be applicable to any subsequent contemplated Phase Two Product Transaction.

3.10. Revised ROFO Negotiation Period. If the Offer Response is as set out in Subsection 3.6(iii), Supplier and GM shall, each acting in good faith, for a period of a further one hundred sixty (160) days (the "Revised ROFO Negotiation Period") negotiate mutually acceptable alterations/amendments/revisions to the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including without limitation, the Sale Terms (the "Revised Terms") as well as, to the extent applicable, the binding Commercial Agreement, based on such mutually acceptable Revised Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent.

3.11. End of Revised ROFO Negotiation Period – Offeree Commercial Agreement. If by the end of the Revised ROFO Negotiation Period, Supplier and GM have not negotiated mutually acceptable alterations/amendments/revisions to the terms and conditions set out in the ROFO Notice, including, without limitation, mutually acceptable Revised Terms, or, have not executed and delivered a binding Commercial Agreement based on the mutually acceptable Revised Terms, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent, then Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) shall have a period of one hundred eighty (180) days after the last day of the Revised ROFO Negotiation Period, to negotiate with an Offeree a Phase Two Product Transaction on terms and conditions that are materially better (considered as a whole package) to Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) than the Suggested Revised Terms set out in the Offeree Notice and to enter into a binding Commercial Agreement with the Offeree, which binding Commercial Agreement, for clarity, may provide that closing is conditional upon the satisfaction of conditions precedent. Supplier (directly or through an affiliate) shall not disclose to an Offeree any of the information provided by GM to Supplier in the Offer Response or during the Revised ROFO Negotiation Period. In considering whether the terms and conditions are materially better, the Parties shall take into consideration, among other things, the offtake price, volume, investment quantum, form of investment, timing, execution risk, and government relations. If the Commercial Agreement is not executed and delivered within such time frame then the ROFO Provisions shall reset and again be applicable.

3.12. Clarification as to Due Diligence. For clarity, it is understood and agreed that the fact that an Offeree may have a right to conduct a due diligence investigation of the Supplier (and/or its applicable affiliates) and/or the Project and to receive customary representations and warranties and indemnities from Supplier shall not be considered for purposes of determining whether the terms are materially better (considered as a whole package) to Supplier.

3.13. Limitation on Term of Commercial Agreement with Third-Party. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, if, consistent with the ROFO Provisions set forth above, Supplier enters into a Commercial Agreement with an Offeree for Product beginning prior to or at the Effective Date, the term of such Commercial Agreement shall not exceed (i) twelve (12) years if such Commercial Agreement is entered into in connection with the financing or funding for Phase Two or (ii) five (5) years if not required to support the financing or funding for Phase Two. For Commercial Agreements with an Offeree entered into after the Effective Date, the term of such Commercial Agreement shall not, without GM consent, exceed three (3) years from the date that GM declines (or is deemed to decline or not entitled) to exercise the ROFO.

4. Pricing.

4.1. Quarterly Price. Pricing for the Phase Two Product, including any Phase Two Product produced at the Production Facility prior to the Commencement of Commercial Production, will be set Quarterly (the "Quarterly Price"), as set forth in Section 4.2. Once the Quarterly Price is established, such price will be fixed for the duration of the relevant Quarter, and GM will communicate the Quarterly Price in writing to all GM Buyers purchasing Product during such Quarter, and shall provide a copy of such notice to Supplier. The Quarterly Price shall not include duties, tariffs, taxes, or other government-imposed charges applied to the sale of the Product hereunder, all of which will be invoiced by Supplier and paid by GM or the Designated Purchaser, as applicable.

4.2. Fastmarkets MB Price. The Quarterly Price will be the average Fastmarkets MB Price (the "Fastmarkets MB Price") price per tonne for lithium carbonate, averaged over the prior Quarter (the "Reference Price"), less a discount as calculated in accordance with Section 4.3 (the "Discount"). The Fastmarkets MB Price shall be the average of the daily average price published by Fastmarkets MB LI-0029: Lithium Carbonate 99.5% Li2CO3 min, Battery Grade Spot Price CIF China, Japan and Korea Index ($ per kg) during the applicable reference period. Supplier shall convert the $ per kg reported by Fastmarkets MB to $ per tonne. In the event that (a) the Fastmarkets MB Price ceases to be published, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of either GM or Supplier (i) the Fastmarkets MB Price (or individual transactions within the index) cease to represent, or (ii) an alternative index becomes commercially available that more accurately represents an appropriate arms' length price for the sale and purchase of lithium carbonate of similar quality and in a similar location as the Product, GM and Supplier will negotiate and agree in good faith to a replacement index, the exclusion of certain transactions for a relevant period, or other mutually acceptable means of objectively determining an arms' length basis for pricing of the Product. The Phase Two Product will not have a floor price.

4.3. Discount. The Discount will be calculated using a weighted average cumulative tiered structure based on the following.

Reference Price (US $/t)	Discount
$15,000 - $24,999	[]%
$25,000 - $34,999	[]%
> $35,000	[]%

For illustration purposes only, if the Reference Price for Product for the prior calendar quarter was $37,500 per tonne, the Discount would be calculated as follows:

Discount = (24,999-15,000)[]% + (34,999-25,000)[]% + (37,500-35,000)*[]% = $[] or []%
Discount selling price = $37,500 - $[] = $[] per tonne

4.4. Renegotiate Pricing. GM and Supplier shall meet periodically in good faith to discuss and potentially renegotiate the pricing structure set forth in this Section 4 (upward or downward) based on Supplier's actual operating results and reasonable transparency, with consideration to global inflation, operational and investment efficiencies, and other relevant factors over time.

5. Delivery Location, Title, and Incoterms. Product shall be delivered in accordance with Section 2 of the General Terms. If and only if GM and Supplier agree to an Alternate Location (as defined in the General Terms), GM will provide written notice of such Alternate Location to any Designated Purchaser and will provide a copy of such written notice to Supplier.

6. Product Specification.

6.1. Chemical Specifications. The initial specification, packaging, and concentration requirements for the Product are set forth in Exhibit C (collectively, the "Specifications"). Final chemical specifications, including inert chemical specifications, will be provided by the GM Buyer no later than twelve (12) months before the Commencement of Commercial Production. Supplier will provide a Certificate of Analysis ("COA") with all deliveries of Product to GM Buyers. The required contents of the COA will be defined in the Specifications, including the results of any required chemical, physical or other performance testing.

6.2. Changes to Specifications. Following the final investment decision with respect to Phase Two, GM and Supplier shall discuss on an annual basis any proposed changes to the Specifications for the following year, in all cases upon at least twelve (12) months' prior written notice. Any changes to the Specifications and timing of implementation of such changes shall be as agreed in writing by the Parties. Any additional processing costs arising from changes to the Specifications requested by GM shall be paid by GM or the Designated Purchaser.

7. Confidentiality.

7.1. Non-Agreement Information. GM does not expect to receive any confidential technical or related information (the "Non-Agreement Information") from Supplier or LAC Parent, and GM will not be subject to confidentiality or nondisclosure obligations with respect to any such Non-Agreement Information (including Section 15 of the General Terms) unless Supplier and LAC Parent on the first hand and GM on the second hand have agreed to confidentiality and nondisclosure obligations in a writing signed by their respective authorized representatives that expressly applies to such Non-Agreement Information (a "Standalone CA"). Supplier and LAC Parent agree not to assert any claim (other than for breach of a Standalone CA) with respect to any Non-Agreement Information that Supplier or LAC Parent has disclosed or may hereafter disclose to GM, the Designated Purchasers, or their respective affiliates and subsidiaries.

7.2. GM Information. Supplier and LAC Parent shall not, and shall ensure that their respective affiliates shall not, publicly disclose any information regarding GM or any of its affiliates, GM's purchase of its Phase Two Share of the Phase Two Product under this Agreement, or the Designated Purchasers under the Designated Purchaser Agreements (collectively, "GM Information") without the prior written consent of GM, provided, that no consent of GM shall be required for Supplier or LAC Parent to disclose GM Information if such disclosure is required: (i) by applicable securities laws, including, for greater certainty, the rules of any stock exchange upon which securities of Supplier or LAC Parent or any of their respective affiliates are traded; or (ii) to the extent necessary to enforce this Agreement including without limitation for the purposes of dispute resolution as set forth in Section 18 of the General Terms; provided that Supplier or LAC Parent, as the case may be shall (x) to the extent feasible in accordance with the requirements of applicable law, give prior written notice to GM and an opportunity for GM to review and comment on the requisite disclosure before it is made, including an opportunity for GM to prevent such disclosure and (y) use commercially reasonable efforts to incorporate GM's comments or limit such disclosure, by seeking confidential treatment or otherwise. Any disclosures made by Supplier or LAC Parent pursuant to Section 15 of the General Terms shall comply with the terms of this Section 7.2. This Section 7.2 shall survive for a period of two years following the expiration or termination of this Agreement.

7.3. Notice to Designated Purchaser. Any notice required to be provided by Supplier to a Designated Purchaser pursuant to Section 15 of the General Terms (as will be incorporated into the General Terms attached to any Designated Purchaser Agreement) will contemporaneously be provided by Supplier to GM, and GM shall have all of the same rights as the Designated Purchaser with respect to the disclosure of such confidential information.

8. Sampling and Testing; Material Origin; Special Warnings and Instructions.

8.1. Responsible and Ethical. Supplier represents and warrants that the lithium material mined and supplied to GM will be sourced in a responsible and ethical manner. Supplier will undergo a third party Environmental Social, and Governance ("ESG") independent assessment at Supplier's mining facility pursuant to one of the following two approved responsible sourcing frameworks: (i) the Responsible Minerals Initiative: The Responsible Minerals Assurance Process ("RMAP"); or (ii) the Initiative for Responsible Mining Assurance ("IRMA") Standard for Responsible Mining. In the event that (a) the RMAP or IRMA assessments are no longer available, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of either GM or Supplier (i) the RMAP or IRMA assessment ceases to be a credible independent assessor of responsible sourcing framework, or (ii) another independent, credible assessor becomes available, GM and Supplier will discuss in good faith and may agree in writing to an alternative third party ESG assessment/protocol of Supplier.

8.2. RMAP Assessment. If Supplier selects the RMAP assessment for their mining facility/operations, Supplier will schedule the assessment within six (6) months from the Phase Two Effective Date and begin that assessment within one (1) year from the Phase Two Effective Date. Supplier shall be fully conformant or carry an active status to this framework throughout the Phase Two Term starting one (1) year after the Phase Two Effective Date. In each RMAP assessment, Supplier shall incorporate the Responsible Minerals Initiative Environmental, Social and Governance add-on assessment. The results of this ESG assessment will be shared with GM, and GM and Supplier will mutually agree upon any necessary corrective action plan (including timing) to address gaps identified during such assessment.

8.3. IRMA Engagement. If Supplier selects the IRMA Standard for Responsible Mining for its mining facility/operations, the IRMA engagement must include a completed IRMA approved independent third-party audit at Supplier's mine site. This audit shall be completed by eighteen (18) months from the Phase Two Effective Date. Following this independent third-party audit, Supplier shall share with GM the results (audit report) of their IRMA audit. GM and Supplier shall mutually agree upon a timeline for resolving (i.e., corrective action plan) any critical requirements that were not fully met during the audit to ensure continuous ESG improvement at the mine site during the Phase Two Term.

8.4. Feedstock Supplemented. If, during the Phase Two Term, the mine source (feedstock) changes from the initial mine site, or if the initial mine source (feedstock) is supplemented with another mine site, Supplier shall notify GM immediately and shall work with GM to ensure that the responsible sourcing standards set forth in this Section 8 are incorporated at all additional mine site(s).

9. Audit.

9.1. Responsible and Ethical. Supplier represents and warrants that the Product will be processed in a responsible and ethical manner throughout the term of this Agreement. Supplier agrees that its mineral processing facility will be conformant and actively engaged to one of the following two approved independent third party responsible sourcing (i.e., ESG) frameworks (i.e., Standards): (i) the RMAP by the Responsible Minerals Initiative ("RMI"); or (ii) the IRMA Mineral Processing Standard by the Initiative for Responsible Mining Assurance. In the event that (a) the RMAP or IRMA assessments are no longer available, or (b) in the reasonable opinion of either GM or Supplier (i) the RMAP or IRMA assessment ceases to be a credible independent assessor of responsible sourcing framework, or (ii) another independent, credible assessor becomes available, GM and Supplier will discuss in good faith and may agree in writing to an alternative third party ESG assessment/protocol of Supplier.

9.2. Responsible Sourcing. If Supplier elects to satisfy its commitment to responsible sourcing at its mineral processing facility through the RMI framework, Supplier agrees to meet the obligations set forth by the RMI to be conformant or active to the RMAP. Thus, on an annual basis, Supplier agrees to procure an independent third-party responsible sourcing assessment (i.e., audit) at Supplier's mineral processing (i.e., smelting/refining) facility, that will demonstrate to GM that Supplier's management systems and sourcing practices are in conformance with the RMAP standards. The approved responsible sourcing assessment is conducted by the RMI. Through successful completion (conformant or active status) of this assessment, the Supplier will demonstrate alignment to the OECD Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Supply Chains of Minerals from Conflict Affected and High-Risk Areas and the commitments adopted by the RMI in the RMI's Global Responsible Sourcing Due Diligence Standard for Mineral Supply Chains All Minerals, and be assessed by an independent, RMI-approved third-party auditor. Supplier agrees that its processing facility shall be fully conformant or carry an active status to this framework throughout the term of this Agreement starting one (1) year after the Execution Date.

9.3. RMI ESG Add On Assessment. In each RMAP assessment, Supplier also agrees to incorporate at its mineral processing facility the RMI ESG add-on assessment. The results of this ESG assessment will be shared with GM, and GM and Supplier will mutually agree upon any necessary corrective action plan (including timing) to address gaps identified during such assessment.

9.4. Engagement with IRMA. If Supplier chooses to satisfy its commitment to responsible sourcing at its mineral processing facility through active engagement with the IRMA Mineral Processing Standard, such commitment shall require completion of IRMA's Mineral Processing Standard by an independent third-party auditor (i.e., not a self-assessment) at Supplier's mineral ore processing facility. This audit shall be completed by eighteen (18) months after the Phase Two Effective Date. Following this third-party audit, Supplier shall share with GM the results (audit report) of the IRMA audit. GM and Supplier shall mutually agree upon a timeline for resolving (i.e., corrective action plan) any critical requirements that were not fully met during the audit to ensure continuous ESG improvement at the mineral processing facility over the term of this Agreement.

9.5. Artisanal or Small Scale Mining. Supplier will: (a) promptly notify GM if Supplier becomes aware of any instance of artisanal or small-scale mining lithium or lithium-containing product entering Supplier's operations or supply chain related to this Agreement; (b) promptly notify GM if Supplier becomes aware of any instance of a subcontractor of Supplier providing any materials or services related to this Agreement failing to comply with any material provision of Supplier's standards; (c) promptly notify GM of the occurrence of any event where Supplier's compliance officer is notified of any event that is likely to negatively affect people, environment or company reputation relating to this Agreement together with an explanation of Supplier's prevention and mitigation plan for same; and (d) promptly notify GM of any NGO or media requests relating to Supplier's supply of Product to GM, and will fully cooperate with GM in preparing a response thereto.

9.6. Media Requests. If GM notifies Supplier of any NGO or media requests relating to Supplier's supply of Product to GM, Supplier will fully cooperate with providing to GM such information as GM reasonably requests for GM's use in preparing a response thereto. The Parties will mutually agree on any information provided by Supplier in accordance with this provision prior to disclosure of such information.

10. Inflation Reduction Act Considerations.

10.1. Lithium Processing Location. Supplier acknowledges that the Product will be used to manufacture or assemble Lithium-Ion Batteries that will ultimately be incorporated by GM into vehicles that may be eligible for a "Clean Vehicle Credit" under Section 30D of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). The lithium is processed into carbonate in Thacker Pass, Nevada. Supplier will not change the lithium processing location without first obtaining GM's advance written consent which shall not be unreasonably delayed or withheld. The Parties agree that GM may reasonably consider such alternate location's impact on the GM vehicles into which the Product is incorporated qualifying for the Clean Vehicle Credit. For clarity, written consent to relocate the lithium carbonate processing must be obtained directly from GM notwithstanding any agreement(s) pursuant to which a Designated Purchaser actually purchases the Product. Supplier covenants and agrees that the Product will not be extracted, processed or recycled by a foreign entity of concern, as described in Section 30D of the Code. Supplier agrees to provide GM with information and detail as is reasonably requested by GM to support GM's calculations and certifications in order for GM to maximize the Clean Vehicle Credits under Section 30D of the Code. Supplier further agrees to exercise reasonable effort in good faith to enable GM to maximize the Clean Vehicle Credits under Section 30D of the Code.

10.2. Lithium Extraction Attestations.

Supplier covenants and agrees that no portion of the lithium will be extracted, processed or recycled by a foreign entity of concern, as such term is defined in Section 30D of the Code. Supplier will provide attestations, signed by an officer of Supplier, that such lithium was not extracted, processed or recycled by a foreign entity of concern under Section 30D of the Code. Such attestation shall be in form and substance acceptable to GM and consistent to satisfy GM's obligations under Section 30D of the Code, including any regulations, notices or guidance thereunder.

11. Access to Information, ESG Committee and Annual Review.

11.1. Access to Information.

GM will have access and information rights to Supplier's Phase Two Production Facility and mine location and Supplier will permit GM and the Designated Purchasers a minimum of four (4) aggregated and a maximum of eight (8) aggregated site visits to the Phase Two Production Facility (only) per year. GM will comply with all health and safety regulations of Supplier. Such site visits will be at the sole risk, cost and expense of GM. GM shall give Supplier a minimum of 72 hours prior written notice in advance of each site visit. Each such site visit shall not interfere with the operations of Supplier. To the extent Supplier changes or adds a new lithium processing location in accordance with Section 10.1 of this Agreement, GM's rights pursuant to this Section 11.1 shall also apply to such additional locations. These access and information rights shall include access to Supplier's premises and books and records for the purpose of auditing Supplier's compliance with the terms of this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement (including, without limitation, charges under this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement) or inspecting or conducting an inventory of finished Products, work-in-process, raw materials, and all work or other items to be provided pursuant to this Agreement located at Supplier's premises. Supplier will cooperate with GM and the Designated Purchasers so as to facilitate such audit, including, without limitation, by segregating and promptly producing such records as GM and any Designated Purchaser may reasonably request, and otherwise making records and other materials accessible to GM and any Designated Purchaser. Supplier will preserve all records pertinent to this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement, and Supplier's performance under this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement, for a period of not less than one year after any GM Buyer's final payment to Supplier under this Agreement and any Designated Purchaser Agreement. Any such audit or inspection conducted by GM and any Designated Purchaser or their representatives will not constitute acceptance of any Products (whether in progress or finished), relieve Supplier of any liability under this Agreement or any Designated Purchaser Agreement or prejudice any rights or remedies available to GM.

11.2. ESG Committee.

GM and Supplier will establish an ESG committee (the "ESG Committee") to collaborate on key initiatives such as responsible sourcing. The ESG Committee will meet at least once per Quarter, unless otherwise mutually agreed by the Parties.

11.3. Annual Review Meetings.

The Supplier and GM shall meet at least once per calendar year during the Phase Two Term as reasonably appropriate on a date and location mutually agreeable to the Supplier and GM (each a "Review Meeting"). At each Review Meeting the Supplier and GM shall seek to address and discuss any outstanding issues under this Agreement, including without limitation, the reconciliation of purchase orders with respect to the then current Annual Quantity.

12. Compliance Obligations.

Supplier will use all reasonable endeavors to at all times comply with GM's Supplier Code of Conduct, GM's Human Rights Policy and GM's Responsible Minerals Sourcing Policy, attached to this Agreement as Exhibit D. Supplier also agrees to trace the source and origin of all components of the Product, and to provide to GM all information and documentation reasonably requested by GM resulting from such supply chain mapping.

13. Order of Precedence.

To the extent of any inconsistency between this Agreement, the Designated Purchaser Agreements, and the General Terms, such agreements will have the following order of precedence: (i) first, this Agreement, (ii) second, the General Terms, and (iii) third, the Designated Purchaser Agreements.

14. Termination.

14.1. Termination for Cause. The occurrence of any one or more of the following events will be an "Event of Default" upon the defaulting Party's receipt of written notice of the occurrence of such event from another Party and the expiration of any applicable cure period provided below.

(B) Supplier fails to comply with any of its obligations set forth in Section 8 or Section 9 of this Agreement and such failure continues for at least thirty (30) Business Days and, if Supplier is diligently pursuing such a cure at the expiration of such thirty (30) Business Day period, Supplier shall be granted an additional thirty (30) Business Day period to effect such cure.

(C) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control of any LAC Party to a Restricted Person which occurs without the consent of GM. To the extent that the foregoing occurs without the prior written consent of GM, GM shall have thirty (30) Business Days from the date GM becomes aware of the foregoing to provide the LAC Parties with notice of termination pursuant to this Section 14.1(C).

Upon the occurrence of an Event of Default by a Party, the non-defaulting Party (i.e. the Parties for the purposes of this Section, being the LAC Parties on the first hand and GM on the second hand) may elect to terminate this Agreement, for cause, in whole or in part, by notice of termination to the defaulting Party.

14.2. [Reserved].

15. Default By Designated Purchaser.

Any Event of Default by a Designated Purchaser pursuant to the terms of a Designated Purchaser Agreement shall not constitute a default by GM under this Agreement, and shall not constitute grounds for Supplier to terminate this Agreement.

16. General Terms.

16.1. Interpretation. All references to dates or time of day are references to the date or time of day in New York, New York. "Dollars" and "$" means United States Dollars.

16.2. Notices. All notices, requests, and other communications that are required or may be given under this Agreement must be in writing by electronic transmission and will be deemed received as of the date following the day the electronic transmission is dispatched. Any addresses set forth in this Section may be changed, from time to time, by notice given in the manner provided in this Section.

16.3. Entire Agreement. This Agreement and any schedules, exhibits, or other documents executed in connection with this Agreement, together with any agreements expressly incorporated into this Agreement and all recitals in this Agreement (which recitals are incorporated as covenants of the Parties), constitute the entire understanding of the Parties in connection with the subject matter of this Agreement and supersedes all prior proposals, negotiations, representations, understandings, commitments, and agreements, whether oral or written, with regard to the subject matter and provisions of this Agreement.

16.4. Modification. This Agreement may not be modified, altered, or amended except by an agreement in writing signed by all Parties.

16.5. Authority. Each of the representatives executing this Agreement on behalf of the Parties represents and warrants that he or she possesses the corporate power and authority to execute this Agreement on behalf of the respective Parties and that this Agreement has been duly authorized by the Parties. Each of the Parties represents and warrants that the execution and delivery by that Party of this Agreement, or compliance or performance by that Party with any of the provisions of this Agreement will not conflict with, or result in any violation or breach of, or default (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) under any provision of the certificate of incorporation and by-laws or comparable organizational documents of that Party, any material contract of that Party, any judicial order applicable to that Party, or any applicable law, in each case, in existence as of the Execution Date.

16.6. No Contra Proferentem. The Parties are competent and experienced in business, and have negotiated and reviewed this Agreement with their counsel. Any ambiguous language in this Agreement should therefore not be construed against any Party as the drafter of that language.

However, for clarity

if a transfer or assignment is not expressed as being specifically prohibited pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, then it is not prohibited hereunder.

(C) GM shall not have the right to sell, assign or transfer, directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, its rights and obligations under this Agreement, other than to a Designated Purchaser as provided herein.

(D) Save and except as expressly permitted by the provisions of Section 14.1, Supplier shall not have the right to sell, assign or transfer, directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, its rights and obligations under this Agreement.

(G) Injunctive Relief. Supplier and LAC Parent acknowledge and agree that money damages will not be a sufficient remedy for any actual or threatened breach of this Section 16.7 by Supplier or LAC Parent and that, in addition to all other rights and remedies that GM may have, GM will be entitled to specific performance and temporary, preliminary and permanent injunctive relief in connection with any action to enforce this Section 16.7, without any requirement of a bond or other security to be provided by GM.

16.8. No Third-Party Beneficiaries. Except as otherwise provided herein, the Parties agree that this Agreement is intended to benefit solely the Parties to this Agreement and is not intended for the benefit of any third parties.

16.9. No Waiver. The failure of a Party at any time to require performance by another Party of any provision of this Agreement will in no way affect the right to require such performance at any time thereafter, nor will the waiver of a Party of a breach of any provision of this Agreement constitute a waiver of any succeeding breach of the same or any other provision.

16.10. Cumulative Remedies. The rights and remedies specified in this Agreement are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies that a Party would otherwise have.

16.11. Survival. Any Sections that expressly or by their nature survive expiration or termination shall survive the expiration or termination of this Agreement.

16.12. Severability. If any term of this Agreement is invalid or unenforceable under applicable law or regulation, such term will be deemed reformed or deleted, as the case may be, but only to the extent necessary to comply with such applicable law or regulation, and the remaining provisions of this Agreement will remain in full force and effect.

16.13. No Agency. Supplier on the one hand and GM on the other hand are independent contracting parties and nothing in this Agreement will make either such Party the agent or legal representative of the other for any purpose whatsoever, nor does it grant either such Party any authority to assume or to create any obligation on behalf of or in the name of the other.

16.14. Cooperation. Each of the Parties agrees to reasonably cooperate with the other Parties and to take all additional actions that may be reasonably necessary to give full force and effect to this Agreement.

16.15. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of duplicate originals or counterparts, and each duplicate original or counterpart will be deemed an original and taken together will be one and the same instrument. The Parties agree that their respective signatures may be electronically delivered, and that such electronic transmissions will be treated as originals for all purposes.

References in the General Terms to "Buyer" shall mean the applicable GM Buyer. Capitalized terms used in the General Terms but not defined therein shall have the meanings given to such terms in this Agreement.

16.17. Traceability. Supplier must trace the source and origin of all goods and materials to be used in connection with this Agreement and make such information available to GM for prior written approval before any such direct or indirect supplier may be used in connection with this Agreement (the "Supply Chain Map"). Supplier will not change the source or origin of any goods or materials identified in the Supply Chain Map without first obtaining GM's advance written consent. For clarity, written consent to change the source or origin of any goods or materials identified in the Supply Chain Map must be obtained directly from GM.

Supplier will put policies and process in place to obtain sourcing and origin information from sub-tier suppliers and include all such information in the Supply Chain Map upon receipt. Supplier will proactively, and on an ongoing basis, monitor the source and origin of all goods and material used in connection with this Agreement. Supplier must obtain GM's prior written consent to the procurement of any goods or materials used in connection with this Agreement that originate or are otherwise extracted, processed, recycled, manufactured or assembled, in whole or in part:

(i) by an FEOC; or

(ii) in a territory identified in Country Group D, Supplement No. 1 to 15 C.F.R. Part 740: (see https://www.bis.doc.gov/index.php/documents/regulation-docs/2255-supplement-no-1-to-part-740-country-groups-1/file). Egypt, Israel, United Arab Emirates, Uzbekistan and Vietnam are excluded from the Country Group D supplement. GM may, in its discretion, authorize purchases from such other Group D territories for which a risk mitigation plan is approved by GM.

Supplier will comply with all applicable GM policies, as amended, relating to supply chain resiliency and compliance. Supplier will incorporate, and require its subcontractors at all tiers to incorporate, these terms and any applicable GM policy in its contract for goods or materials used in connection with this Agreement.

17. REPRESENTATIONS. THE PARTIES ACKNOWLEDGE THAT THEY HAVE BEEN GIVEN THE OPPORTUNITY TO CONSULT WITH COUNSEL OF THEIR CHOICE BEFORE EXECUTING THIS AGREEMENT AND ARE DOING SO WITHOUT DURESS, INTIMIDATION, OR COERCION AND WITHOUT RELIANCE UPON ANY REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, OR COMMITMENTS OTHER THAN THOSE REPRESENTATIONS, WARRANTIES, OR COMMITMENTS SET FORTH IN THIS AGREEMENT.

3.1. Participation

The Company may from time to time grant Options to Participants pursuant to this Plan.

3.2. Price

The exercise price per Share of any Option shall be not less than one hundred per cent (100%) of the Fair Market Value of the Share on the date of grant.

3.3. Grant of Options

The Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, may at any time authorize the granting of Options to such Participants as it may select for the number of Shares that it shall designate, subject to the provisions of this Plan. The Board may also, by way of Board resolution, delegate to the CEO the authority to grant any of a designated number of Options (such number to be specified by the Board in the aforementioned resolution) to Eligible Employees, other than Eligible Employees who are officers or directors of the Company (such Options, the "Delegated Options"). The date of grant of an Option shall be (i) the date such grant was approved by the Committee for recommendation to the Board, provided the Board approves such grant; or (ii) for a grant of an Option not approved by the Committee for recommendation to the Board, the date such grant was approved by the Board; or (iii) in respect of Delegated Options, the date such grant is made by the CEO. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board may authorize the grant of Options at any time with such grant to be effective at a later date and the corresponding determination of the exercise price to be done at such date to accommodate any Blackout Period or such other circumstances where such delayed grant is deemed appropriate, and the date of grant of such Options shall then be the effective date of the grant.

Each Option granted to a Participant shall be evidenced by a stock option grant letter or agreement with terms and conditions consistent with this Plan and as approved by the Board on the recommendation of the Committee, or, in respect of Delegated Options, by the CEO (and in all cases which terms and conditions need not be the same in each case and may be changed from time to time, subject to Section 7.8 of this Plan, and the approval of any material changes by the Toronto Stock Exchange or such other exchange or exchanges on which the Shares are then traded).

3.4. Terms of Options

The Option Period shall be five (5) years from the date such Option is granted, or such greater or lesser duration as the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, or in the case of Delegated Options, the CEO, may determine at the date of grant, and may thereafter be reduced with respect to any such Option as provided in Section 3.6 hereof covering termination of employment or death of the Optionee; provided, however, that at any time the expiry date of the Option Period in respect of any outstanding Option under this Plan should be determined to occur either during a Blackout

Period or within ten (10) business days following the expiry of the Blackout Period, the expiry date of such Option Period shall be deemed to be the date that is the tenth (10th) business day following the expiry of the Blackout Period.

Unless otherwise determined from time to time by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, or, in respect of Delegated Options, by the CEO, Options shall vest and may be exercised (in each case to the nearest full Share) during the Option Period as follows:

(a) at any time during the first six (6) months of the Option Period, the Optionee may purchase up to 25% of the total number of Shares reserved for issuance pursuant to his or her Option; and

(b) at any time during each additional six (6) month period of the Option Period the Optionee may purchase an additional 25% of the total number of Shares reserved for issuance pursuant to his or her Option plus any Shares not purchased in accordance with the preceding subsection (a) and this subsection (b) until, after the 18th month of the Option Period, 100% of the Option will be exercisable.

Except as set forth in Section 3.6, no Option may be exercised unless the Optionee is at the time of such exercise:

(a) in the case of an Eligible Employee, in the employ (or retained as a Service Provider) of the Company or a Designated Affiliate and shall have been continuously so employed or retained since the grant of the Option; or

(b) in the case of an Eligible Director, a director of the Company or a Designated Affiliate and shall have been such a director continuously since the grant of the Option.

The exercise of any Option will be contingent upon the Optionee having entered into an Option agreement with the Company on such terms and conditions as have been approved by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, or, in respect of the Delegated Options, by the CEO, and which in any case incorporates by reference the terms of this Plan. The exercise of any Option will, subject to Section 3.5, also be contingent upon receipt by the Company of cash payment of the full purchase price of the Shares being purchased.

3.5. Cashless Surrender Right

Participants have the right (the "Cashless Surrender Right"), in lieu of the right to exercise an Option, to surrender such Option in whole or in part by notice in writing delivered by the Participant to the Company electing to the Cashless Surrender Right and, in lieu of receiving the number of Shares (the "Option Shares") to which such surrendered Option (or portion thereof) relates, to receive the number of Shares, disregarding fractions, which is equal to the quotient obtained by:

(a) subtracting the applicable Option exercise price per Share from the Fair Market Value per Share on the business day immediately prior to the exercise of the

Cashless Surrender Right and multiplying the remainder by the number of Option Shares; and

(b) dividing the product obtained under subsection 3.5(a) by the Fair Market Value per Share on the business day immediately prior to the exercise of the Cashless Surrender Right.

If a Participant exercises a Cashless Surrender Right in connection with an Option, it is exercisable only to the extent and on the same conditions that the related Option is exercisable under this Plan.

3.6. Effect of Termination of Employment or Death

If an Optionee:

(a) dies while employed by, a Service Provider to, or while a director of, the Company or a Designated Affiliate, any Option held by him or her at the date of death shall become exercisable in whole or in part, but only by the person or persons to whom the Optionee's rights under the Option shall pass by the Optionee's will or applicable laws of descent and distribution. Unless otherwise determined by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, all such Options shall be exercisable only to the extent that the Optionee was entitled to exercise the Option at the date of his or her death and only for 12 months after the date of death or prior to the expiration of the Option Period in respect thereof, whichever is sooner; and

(b) ceases to be employed by, a Service Provider to, or act as a director of, the Company or a Designated Affiliate for cause, no Option held by such Optionee will, unless otherwise determined by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, be exercisable following the date on which such Optionee ceases to be so engaged. If an Optionee ceases to be employed by, a Service Provider to, or act as a director of, the Company or a Designated Affiliate for any reason other than cause then, unless otherwise determined by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, any Option held by such Optionee at the effective date thereof shall become exercisable for a period of up to 12 months thereafter or prior to the expiration of the Option Period in respect thereof, whichever is sooner.

3.7. Effect of Change of Control

If a Triggering Event occurs within the 12-month period immediately following a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(A), (B), (D) or (E), all outstanding Options shall vest immediately and become exercisable on the date of such Triggering Event.

In the event of a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(C), all Options outstanding shall immediately vest and become exercisable on the date of such Change of Control.

The provisions of this Section 3.7 shall be subject to the terms of any employment agreement between the Participant and the Company.

3.8. Effect of Amalgamation or Merger

Subject to Section 3.7, if the Company amalgamates or otherwise completes a plan of arrangement or merges with or into another corporation, any Shares receivable on the exercise of an Option shall be converted into the securities, property or cash which the Participant would have received upon such amalgamation, arrangement or merger if the Participant had exercised his or her Option immediately prior to the record date applicable to such amalgamation, arrangement or merger, and the option price shall be adjusted appropriately by the Board and such adjustment shall be binding for all purposes of this Plan.

RESTRICTED SHARE RIGHTS AND PERFORMANCE SHARE UNITS

4.1. Participants

The Board has the right to grant, in its sole and absolute discretion, to any Participant, rights to receive any number of fully paid and non-assessable Shares ("Restricted Share Rights" or "Restricted Share Unit") as a discretionary payment in consideration of past services to the Company or as an incentive for future services, subject to this Plan and with such additional provisions and restrictions as the Board may determine. Restricted Share Rights may be granted subject to performance conditions and/or performance multipliers, in which case such Restricted Share Rights may be designated as "Performance Share Units".

4.2. Restricted Share Right Grant Letter

Each grant of a Restricted Share Right under this Plan shall be evidenced by a grant letter or agreement (a "Restricted Share Right Grant Letter") issued to the Participant by the Company. Such Restricted Share Right Grant Letter shall be subject to all applicable terms and conditions of this Plan and may be subject to any other terms and conditions which are not inconsistent with this Plan and which the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, deems appropriate for inclusion in a Restricted Share Right Grant Letter. The provisions of the various Restricted Share Right Grant Letters issued under this Plan need not be identical.

4.3. Restricted Period

Concurrent with the determination to grant Restricted Share Rights to a Participant, the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, shall determine the Restricted Period and vesting requirements applicable to such Restricted Share Rights. Vesting of a Restricted Share Right shall be determined at the sole discretion of the Board at the time of grant and shall be specified in the Restricted Share Right Grant Letter. Vesting requirements may be based upon the continued employment or other service of a Participant, and/or to performance conditions to be achieved by the Company or a class of Participants or by a particular Participant on an individual basis, within a Restricted Period, for such Restricted Share Rights to entitle the holder thereof to receive the underlying Shares (and the number of underlying Shares that may be received may be subject to performance multipliers). Upon expiry of the applicable Restricted Period (or on the Deferred Payment Date, as applicable), a Restricted Share Right shall be automatically settled, and without the payment of additional consideration or any other further action on the part of the holder of the Restricted Share Right, the underlying Shares shall be issued to the holder of such Restricted Share Rights, which Restricted Share Rights shall then be cancelled.

4.4. Deferred Payment Date

Participants who are residents of Canada for the purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada), or who are residents of Argentina, and not, in either case, a US Taxpayer, may elect to defer receipt of all or any part of the Shares underlying Restricted Share Rights until one or more Deferred Payment Dates. Any other Participants may not elect a Deferred Payment Date.

4.5. Prior Notice of Deferred Payment Date

Participants who elect to set a Deferred Payment Date must, in respect of each such Deferred Payment Date, give the Company written notice of the Deferred Payment Date(s) not later than thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the applicable Restricted Period. For certainty, Participants shall not be permitted to give any such notice after the day which is thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period and a notice once given may not be changed or revoked. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing shall not prevent a Participant from electing an additional Deferred Payment Date, provided, however that notice of such election is given by the Participant to the Company not later than thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the subject Restricted Period.

4.6. Retirement or Termination during Restricted Period

Subject to the terms of any employment agreement or Award agreement between the Company and the Participant, in the event and to the extent of the Retirement or Termination and/or, as applicable, the Director Retirement or Director Termination of a Participant from all such roles with the Company during the Restricted Period, any Restricted Share Rights held by the Participant shall immediately terminate and be of no further force or effect; provided, however, that the Board shall have the absolute discretion to modify the Restricted Share Rights, including to provide that the Restricted Period shall terminate immediately prior to the date of such occurrence or allow the Restricted Share Rights to continue in accordance with their original Restricted Periods.

4.7. Retirement or Termination after Restricted Period

In the event and to the extent of the Retirement or Termination and/or, as applicable, the Director Retirement or Director Termination of the Participant from all such roles with the Company following the Restricted Period and prior to a Deferred Payment Date, the Participant shall be entitled to receive, and the Company shall issue forthwith, Shares in satisfaction of the Restricted Share Rights then held by the Participant.

4.8. Death or Disability of Participant

In the event of the death or total disability of a Participant, any Shares represented by Restricted Share Rights held by the Participant shall be immediately issued by the Company to the Participant or legal representative of the Participant.

4.9. Payment of Dividends

Subject to the absolute discretion of the Board, in the event that a dividend (other than a stock dividend) is declared and paid by the Company on the Shares, a Participant may be credited with additional Restricted Share Rights. The number of such additional Restricted Share Rights, if any, will be calculated by dividing (a) the total amount of the dividends that would have been paid to the Participant if the Restricted Share Rights (including Restricted Share Rights in which the Restricted Period has expired but the Shares have not been issued due to a Deferred Payment Date) in the Participant's account on the dividend record date had been outstanding Shares (and the Participant held no other Shares) by (b) the Fair Market Value of the Shares on the date on which such dividends were paid. If the foregoing results in a fractional Restricted Share Right, the fraction shall be disregarded. Any additional Restricted Share Rights awarded pursuant to this Section will be subject to the same terms, including the time of settlement, as the Restricted Share Rights to which they relate.

4.10. Change of Control

If a Triggering Event occurs within the 12-month period immediately following a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(A), (B), (D) or (E) all outstanding Restricted Share Rights shall vest immediately and be settled by the issuance of Shares notwithstanding the Restricted Period and any Deferred Payment Date.
In the event of a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(C), all Restricted Shares Rights outstanding shall immediately vest and be settled by the issuance of Shares notwithstanding the Restricted Period and any Deferred Payment Date.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Plan, in the event of a Change of Control, all Arrangement Restricted Share Rights outstanding held by Arrangement Departing Participants shall vest immediately and be settled by the issuance of Shares notwithstanding the Restricted Period and any Deferred Payment Date.

The provisions of this Section 4.10 shall be subject to the terms of any employment agreement between the Participant and the Company.

4.11. Settlement Basis for Performance Share Units

In respect of Performance Share Units that are accelerated as a result of a Change of Control or the total disability or death of a Participant, unless the Board determines otherwise and subject to any employment agreement or Award agreement between the Company and the Participant, (i) in respect of any performance measurement periods that are completed on or prior to the Change of Control, total disability or death of a Participant, the proportion of Performance Share Units equivalent to the performance measurement periods completed shall be settled by applying a performance multiplier calculated based on the actual performance in respect to such completed periods, and (ii) in respect of any performance measurement periods that are not completed on or prior to the Change of Control, total disability or death of a Participant, the equivalent proportion of Performance Share Units in respect to such periods shall be settled by applying a performance multiplier of one Share for each Performance Share Unit.

DEFERRED SHARE UNITS

5.1. Deferred Share Unit Grants

The Board may from time to time determine to grant Deferred Share Units to one or more Eligible Directors in a lump sum amount or on regular intervals, based on such formulas or criteria as the Board may from time to time determine. Deferred Share Units will be credited to the Eligible Director's account when designated by the Board.

5.2. Deferred Share Unit Grant Letter

Each grant of a Deferred Share Unit under this Plan shall be evidenced by a grant letter or agreement (a "Deferred Share Unit Grant Letter") issued to the Eligible Director by the Company. Such Deferred Share Unit Grant Letter shall be subject to all applicable terms and conditions of this Plan and may be subject to any other terms and conditions which are not inconsistent with this Plan and which the Board deems appropriate for inclusion in a Deferred Share Unit Grant Letter. The provisions of Deferred Share Unit Grant Letters issued under this Plan need not be identical.

5.3. Redemption of Deferred Share Units and Issuance of Deferred Shares

The Deferred Share Units held by each Eligible Director who is not a US Taxpayer shall be redeemed automatically and with no further action by the Eligible Director on the 20th business day following the Separation Date for that Eligible Director. For US Taxpayers, Deferred Share Units held by an Eligible Director who is a Specified Employee will be automatically redeemed with no further action by the Eligible Director on the date that is six (6) months following the Separation Date for the Eligible Director, or if earlier, upon such Eligible Director's death. Upon redemption, the former Eligible Director shall be entitled to receive and the Company shall issue, subject to the limitations set forth in Section 7.1 of this Plan, the number of Shares issued from treasury equal to the number of Deferred Share Units in the Eligible Director's account, subject to any applicable deductions and withholdings. In the event a Separation Date occurs during a year and Deferred Share Units have been granted to such Eligible Director for that entire year, the Eligible Director will only be entitled to a pro-rated Deferred Share Unit Payment in respect of such Deferred Share Units based on the number of days that he or she was an Eligible Director in such year.

No amount will be paid to, or in respect of, an Eligible Director under this Plan or pursuant to any other arrangement, and no other additional Deferred Share Units will be granted to compensate for a downward fluctuation in the value of the Shares of the Company nor will any other benefit be conferred upon, or in respect of, an Eligible Director for such purpose.

5.4. Death of Participant

In the event of the death of an Eligible Director, the Deferred Share Units shall be redeemed automatically and with no further action on the 20th business day following the death of an Eligible Director.

5.5. Payment of Dividends

Subject to the absolute discretion of the Board, in the event that a dividend (other than a stock dividend) is declared and paid by the Company on the Shares, an Eligible Director may be credited with additional Deferred Share Units. The number of such additional Deferred Share Units, if any, will be calculated by dividing (a) the total amount of the dividends that would have been paid to the Eligible Director if the Deferred Share Units in the Eligible Director's account on the dividend record date had been outstanding Shares (and the Eligible Director held no other Shares), by (b) the Fair Market Value of the Shares on the date on which such dividends were paid. If the foregoing results in a fractional Deferred Share Unit, the fraction shall be disregarded. Any additional Deferred Share Units awarded pursuant to this Section will be subject to the same terms, including the time of settlement, as the Deferred Share Units to which they relate.

PART 6
WITHHOLDING TAXES

6.1. Withholding Taxes

The Company or any Designated Affiliate may take such steps as are considered necessary or appropriate for the withholding of any taxes or other amounts which the Company or any Designated Affiliate is required by any law or regulation of any governmental authority whatsoever to withhold in connection with any Award including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the withholding of all or any portion of any payment or the withholding of the issue of any Shares to be issued under this Plan, until such time as the Participant has paid the Company or any Designated Affiliate for any amount which the Company or Designated Affiliate is required to withhold by law with respect to such taxes or other amounts. Without limitation to the foregoing, the Board may adopt administrative rules under this Plan, which provide for the automatic sale of Shares (or a portion thereof) in the market upon the issuance of such Shares under this Plan on behalf of the Participant to satisfy withholding obligations under an Award.

GENERAL

7.1. Number of Shares

The aggregate number of Shares that may be issued under this Plan (together with any other securities-based compensation arrangements of the Company in effect from time to time) shall not exceed 14,400,737 Shares, such Shares to be allocated among Awards and Participants in amounts and at such times as may be determined by the Board from time to time. In addition, the aggregate number of Shares that may be issued and issuable under this Plan (when combined with all of the Company's other security-based compensation arrangements, as applicable),

(a) to Insiders shall not exceed 10% of the Company's outstanding issue from time to time;

(b) to Insiders within any one-year period shall not exceed 10% of the Company's outstanding issue from time to time; and

(c) to any one Insider and his or her associates or Affiliates within any one-year period shall not exceed 5% of the Company's outstanding issue from time to time.

In no event will the number of Shares that may be issued to any one Participant pursuant to Awards under this Plan (when combined with all of the Company's other security-based compensation arrangement, as applicable) exceed 5% of the Company's outstanding issue from time to time.

The aggregate number of Options that may be granted under this Plan to any one non-employee director of the Company within any one-year period shall not exceed a maximum value of C$100,000 worth of securities, and together with any Restricted Share Rights and Deferred Share Units granted under this Plan and any securities granted under all other securities-based compensation arrangements, such aggregate value shall not exceed C$150,000 in any one-year period. The calculation of this limitation shall not include however: (i) the initial securities granted under securities-based compensation arrangements to a person who was not previously a director of the Company, upon such person becoming or agreeing to become a director of the Company (however, the aggregate number of securities granted under all securities-based compensation arrangements in this initial grant to any one non-employee director shall not exceed the foregoing maximum values of securities); (ii) the securities granted under securities-based compensation arrangements to a director of the Company who was also an officer of the Company at the time of grant but who subsequently became a non-employee director; and (iii) any securities granted to a non-employee director that is granted in lieu of any director cash fee provided the value of the security awarded has the same value as the cash fee given up in exchange for such security. For greater clarity, in this Plan, securities-based compensation arrangements include securities issued under this Plan and any other compensation arrangements implemented by the Company including stock options, other stock option plans, employee stock purchase plans, stock appreciation right plans, deferred share unit plans, performance share unit plans, restricted share unit plans or any other compensation or incentive mechanism involving the issuance or potential issuance of Shares from treasury, but excludes any compensation arrangement that does not involve the issuance of Shares from treasury and any other compensation arrangements assumed or inherited by the Company in connection with the acquisition of another entity.

For the purposes of this Section 7.1, "outstanding issue" means the total number of Shares, on a non-diluted basis, that are issued and outstanding immediately prior to the date that any Shares are issued or reserved for issuance pursuant to an Award.

For greater clarity, the issuance of Arrangement Restricted Share Rights and Arrangement Deferred Share Units shall not be treated as a new grant of Restricted Share Rights and Deferred Share Units, respectively.

7.2. Lapsed Awards

If Awards are surrendered, terminated or expire without being exercised in whole or in part, new Awards may be granted covering the Shares not issued under such lapsed Awards, subject to any restrictions that may be imposed by the Toronto Stock Exchange.

7.3. Adjustment in Shares Subject to this Plan

If there is any change in the Shares through the declaration of stock dividends of Shares, through any consolidations, subdivisions or reclassification of Shares, or otherwise, the number of Shares available under this Plan, the Shares subject to any Award, and the exercise price of any Option shall be adjusted as determined to be appropriate by the Board, and such adjustment shall be effective and binding for all purposes of this Plan.

7.4. Transferability

Any Awards accruing to any Participant in accordance with the terms and conditions of this Plan shall not be transferable unless specifically provided herein. During the lifetime of a Participant all Awards may only be exercised by the Participant. Awards are non-transferable except by will or by the laws of descent and distribution.

7.5. Employment

Nothing contained in this Plan shall confer upon any Participant any right with respect to employment or continuance of employment with the Company or any Affiliate, or interfere in any way with the right of the Company or any Affiliate to terminate the Participant's employment at any time. Participation in this Plan by a Participant is voluntary.

7.6. Record Keeping

The Company shall maintain a register in which shall be recorded:

(a) the name and address of each Participant;

(b) the number of Awards granted to each Participant and relevant details regarding such Awards; and

(c) such other information as the Board may determine.

7.7. Necessary Approvals

(a) such amendment, suspension or termination is in accordance with applicable laws and the rules of any stock exchange on which the Shares are listed;

(b) no amendment to this Plan or to an Award granted hereunder will have the effect of impairing, derogating from or otherwise adversely affecting the terms of an Award which is outstanding at the time of such amendment without the written consent of the holder of such Award;

(c) the expiry date of an Option Period in respect of an Option shall not be more than ten (10) years from the date of grant of an Option except as expressly provided in Section 3.4;

(d) the Directors shall obtain shareholder approval of:

(i) any amendment to the number of Shares specified in Section 7.1;

(ii) any amendment to the limitations on Shares that may be reserved for issuance, or issued, to Insiders, or remove participation limits on non-employee directors or increase the amounts of participation limits on non-employee directors;

(iii) any amendment that would reduce the exercise price of an outstanding Option other than pursuant to Section 7.3 or permits the cancellation and re-issuance of Options;

(iv) any amendment that would extend the expiry date of the Option Period in respect of any Option granted under this Plan except as expressly contemplated in Section 3.4;

(v) any amendment to permit Options to be transferred other than for normal estate settlement purposes; or

(vi) any amendment to reduce the range of amendments requiring shareholder approval contemplated in this Section.

If this Plan is terminated, the provisions of this Plan and any administrative guidelines and other rules and regulations adopted by the Board and in force on the date of termination will continue in effect as long as any Award or any rights pursuant thereto remain outstanding and, notwithstanding the termination of this Plan, the Board shall remain able to make such amendments to this Plan or the Award as they would have been entitled to make if this Plan were still in effect.

7.9. No Representation or Warranty

The Company makes no representation or warranty as to the future market value of any Shares issued in accordance with the provisions of this Plan.

7.10. Section 409A

It is intended that any payments under the Plan to US Taxpayers shall be exempt from or comply with Section 409A of the Code, and all provisions of the Plan shall be construed and interpreted in a manner consistent with the requirements for avoiding taxes and penalties under Section 409A of the Code.

7.11. Compliance with Applicable Law, etc.

If any provision of this Plan or any agreement entered into pursuant to this Plan contravenes any law or any order, policy, by-law or regulation of any regulatory body or stock exchange having authority over the Company or this Plan, then such provision shall be deemed to be amended to the extent required to bring such provision into compliance therewith.

All Awards and securities which may be acquired pursuant to the exercise of the Awards to be issued pursuant to the Plan will be issued pursuant to the registration requirements of the U.S. Securities Act and applicable state securities laws or an exemption or exclusion from such registration requirements.

7.12. Clawback and Recoupment

All Awards under this Plan shall be subject to forfeiture or other penalties pursuant to any Company clawback policy, as may be adopted or amended from time to time, and such forfeiture and/or penalty conditions or provisions as determined by the Committee.

7.13. Term of the Plan

Once effective in accordance with Section 7.7, this Plan shall remain in effect until it is terminated by the Board.

PART 8

(b) The Committee shall have the power, where consistent with the general purpose and intent of this Plan and subject to the specific provisions of this Plan, to:

The interpretation and construction of the provisions of this Plan and related agreements by the Committee shall be final and conclusive. The Committee may correct any defect or supply any omission or reconcile any inconsistency in this Plan or in any related agreement in the manner and to the extent it shall deem expedient to carry this Plan into effect and it shall be the sole and final judge of such expediency; and

(d) With respect to Arrangement Restricted Share Rights issued to an Arrangement Departing Participant that are not immediately vested, upon such Arrangement Departing Participant ceasing to be a director, officer or employee of Remainco or any Remainco Designated Affiliates, or a Remainco Service Provider, as applicable, such Arrangement Departing Participant shall be treated for the purposes of this Plan as having ceased to be so employed with the Company and its Designated Affiliates and such Arrangement Departing Participant's Arrangement Restricted Share Rights shall be dealt with in accordance with Section 4.6 of this Plan.

SCHEDULE "N"

GM SUPPLY CHAIN POLICY

SUPPLIER CODE OF CONDUCT

This Supplier Code of Conduct ("Code") articulates General Motors Company's ("GM") expectations of the conduct of suppliers and business partners doing business with GM ("suppliers"). This Code is based on our corporate values for responsible and sustainable products and operations and aligns with the ten principles of the United Nations Global Compact, of which, GM is a signatory. Suppliers are expected to understand and act consistent with GM's approach to integrity, responsible sourcing, and supply chain management. GM expects suppliers will cascade similar expectations through their own supply chains.

GM endeavors to do business with suppliers that meet our standards and behave consistently with, and positively reflect, GM's values throughout the supply chain. GM expects that suppliers will satisfy contractual requirements, comply with laws, regulations, and GM policies and act consistently with the principles and values of our GM Code of Conduct, Winning with Integrity, and this Code.

HUMAN RIGHTS

GM expects all suppliers to have processes in place to prevent, mitigate, and take effective measures to remediate adverse human rights impacts. Suppliers are expected and required to adhere to and cascade GM's Human Rights Policy or equivalent expectations throughout their supply chain.

The United Nations Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights serve as a guiding framework for GM's work related to human rights. GM is also committed, and expects suppliers to commit, to the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises; the International Labor Organization's (ILO) Declaration on Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work; the International Bill of Human Rights; the Universal Declaration of Human Rights; and the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights. Suppliers are expected to comply with these internationally recognized standards.

Freely Chosen Employment

Suppliers and their employment agencies will not use slave, forced prisoner, bonded, indentured, or any other form of forced or involuntary labor. Suppliers will also not engage, directly or indirectly, in human trafficking. Suppliers will provide all workers with a written employment agreement or notification that contains a description of terms and conditions of employment as part of the hiring process, and foreign migrant workers will receive the employment agreement prior to the worker departing from their country of origin with no substitution or change(s) upon arrival in the receiving country except as required to meet local law. Employees must be free to terminate their employment without penalty.

Freedom of Movement

Suppliers and their employment agencies will not impose restrictions on entering or exiting company-provided facilities including, if applicable, workers' dormitories or living quarters, except when lawful and necessary for safety or security purposes. Suppliers will refrain from restricting workers' movement through the retention of bank payment cards or similar arrangements for accessing wages. Suppliers will also refrain from requiring workers to use company-provided accommodation. Suppliers and their employment agencies, will not destroy, withhold, or conceal identity or immigration documents, such as government-issued identification, passports, or work permits.

Child Labor

Suppliers and their employment agencies will not use child labor. GM has a zero-tolerance policy regarding the use of child labor. Suppliers will implement an appropriate mechanism to verify that the age of workers and workers recruited comply with the ILO Minimum Age Convention (No. 138) and will provide substantiation of this verification upon request. If child labor is discovered in its supply chain, suppliers will cease employment of the child/children and take reasonable measures to enroll the child/children in a remediation/education program. Suppliers will not use workers under the age of 18 ("young workers") to perform work that is likely to jeopardize their health or safety. If young workers are found to be involved in work that is likely to jeopardize their health or safety, suppliers will take reasonable measures to immediately remove the young workers from the situation and provide alternative work that is age appropriate.

Working Hours

Suppliers will comply with local laws and collective bargaining agreements (where applicable) regarding working hours. Working hours must not exceed the maximum set by local law.

Wages and Benefits

Suppliers and their employment agencies will pay wages and provide benefits and compensation to workers that comply with all applicable wage laws and regulations, including those relating to minimum wages, overtime hours, medical leave, and legally mandated benefits, and in line with Article 7 of the International Covenant on Economic, Social and Cultural Rights. Suppliers will refrain from making any deductions from wages as a disciplinary measure or imposing any financial burdens on workers related to recruitment costs. For each pay period, suppliers will provide workers with a timely and understandable written wage statement that includes sufficient information to verify accurate compensation for work performed. Workers shall receive equal pay for equal work, including paying a fair wage that meets or exceeds legal minimum standards. All use of temporary, dispatch and outsourced labor shall be within the limits of the local law. In the absence of local law, the wage rate for student workers, interns, and apprentices should be at least a substantially similar wage rate as other entry-level workers performing equal or similar tasks. Workers must be paid directly, in a timely fashion, and in recognized currency. Suppliers will keep records of worker hours and wage documentation in accordance with local law.

Humane Treatment

Suppliers will not engage in harsh or inhumane treatment including violence, gender-based violence, sexual harassment, sexual abuse, corporal punishment, mental or physical coercion, bullying, public shaming, or verbal abuse of workers; nor is there to be the threat of any such treatment. Suppliers will have disciplinary policies and procedures in place for any violations of these requirements that are clearly defined and communicated to workers.

Recruitment Practices

Suppliers will not require workers to pay suppliers' agents' or sub-agents' recruitment fees or other related fees for their employment. Suppliers will provide full reimbursement to job seekers and workers if they have been required to pay any such fees or related costs. If necessary for a supplier to use a labor broker, the supplier will only use brokers that employ ethical recruitment practices, comply with applicable laws, and do not withhold identity documents.

Non-Discrimination/Non-Harassment

Suppliers will be committed to a workplace free of harassment and unlawful discrimination. Suppliers will not engage in discrimination, harassment, intimidation, violence, or other adverse actions to employees based on race, color, age, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, ethnicity or national origin, disability, pregnancy, religion, political affiliation, union membership, covered veteran status, protected genetic information, marital status or any other basis prohibited by law including in hiring and employment practices such as wages, promotions, rewards, and access to training.

Suppliers will avoid any form of threats, intimidation, physical or legal attacks against stakeholders, including union members and union representatives, exercising their legal rights to freedom of expression, association, and peaceful assembly.

Vulnerable Groups

Suppliers will commit to protect the rights of vulnerable groups within their businesses and supply chains, particularly the rights of women, indigenous peoples, children, and migrant workers. Suppliers will develop and implement internal measures to provide equal pay and opportunities throughout all levels of employment. Suppliers will also implement measures to address health and safety concerns that are particularly prevalent among women workers, including, but not limited to, preventing sexual harassment, offering physical security, and providing reasonable accommodation for nursing mothers.

Human Rights Defenders

Human rights defenders are individuals or groups who act to promote and protect human rights and fundamental freedoms through peaceful means. Suppliers will commit to neither tolerate nor contribute to threats, intimidation, or attacks against human rights defenders in relation to their operations to create safe and enabling environments for civic engagement and human rights at local, national, or international levels.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

GM encourages suppliers to develop and promote inclusive cultures where diversity is valued and celebrated and everyone is able to contribute fully and reach their full potential. Suppliers should encourage diversity in all levels of their workforce and leadership, including boards of directors.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Suppliers will provide clean, healthy, and safe working environments for their personnel that meet or exceed legal standards. Suppliers will have safety procedures for their employees and tracking tools that drive to a goal of zero workplace safety incidents. Supplier employees will have the right to refuse work and report any conditions that do not meet these criteria. Suppliers will also properly manage the health and safety of contractors performing work on supplier's premises.

Suppliers will provide ongoing occupational health and safety training, including prior to the beginning of work. Health and safety related information shall be clearly posted in the facility or placed in a location identifiable and accessible by workers. Where hazards cannot be adequately controlled by these means, suppliers will provide workers with appropriate, well-maintained, personal protective equipment (PPE) and associated training on how and when it needs to be applied. Suppliers will also provide communication and training to their workforce regarding the risks to them associated with these hazards.

Emergency Preparedness

Suppliers will work to actively identify and assess potential emergency situations and events and minimize their impact by implementing emergency plans and response procedures including emergency reporting, employee notification and evacuation procedures, worker training, and drills. Suppliers will execute emergency drills at least annually or as required by local law. Emergency plans should include appropriate fire detection and suppression equipment, clear and unobstructed egress, adequate exit facilities, contact information for emergency responders, and recovery plans.

Physically Demanding Work

Suppliers will identify, evaluate, and control worker exposure to the hazards of physically demanding tasks, including manual material handling and heavy or repetitive lifting, prolonged standing, and highly repetitive or forceful assembly tasks.

Machine Safeguarding

Suppliers will evaluate production and other machinery for safety hazards. Physical guards, safeguarding devices, and barriers must be provided and properly maintained where machinery presents an injury hazard to workers.

Sanitation, Food, and Housing

Suppliers will take reasonable measures to provide workers with ready access to clean toilet facilities, potable water, and sanitary eating facilities. Any worker dormitories or living quarters provided by suppliers should also be maintained to be clean and safe, and provided with appropriate emergency egress, hot water for bathing and showering, adequate lighting and heat and ventilation, and individually secured accommodations for storing personal and valuable items.

Occupational Injury and Illness

Suppliers will have procedures and systems to prevent, investigate, root cause, manage, track, and report occupational injury and illness, including provisions to encourage worker reporting, classify and record injury and illness cases, provide necessary medical treatment, investigate cases, and implement corrective actions to eliminate their causes, and facilitate the return of workers to work.

Product Safety

Suppliers and contractors will promptly communicate any safety concern related to GM vehicles. "Speak Up for Safety" is a program that suppliers and contractors working on behalf of GM can use to report vehicle safety concerns and make suggestions to improve safety. Safety concerns or suggestions can be made at any time through the GM Awareline.

ENVIRONMENT

Responsible Stewardship

Suppliers will continually strive to protect the communities and environment that surround them. Suppliers will also continually strive to conserve natural resources including water, fossil fuels, minerals, and virgin forest products by practices such as modifying production, maintenance and facility processes, materials substitution, re-use, conservation, recycling, or other means. Suppliers should promote circularity and closed loop systems by supporting the use of sustainable, renewable natural resources while reducing emissions, pollution, and waste.

Environmental Permits and Reporting

Suppliers will follow applicable local, national, and international environmental laws. Suppliers will obtain and keep current all required environmental permits, approvals, and registrations, follow their operational and reporting requirements, and will provide said documentation to GM upon request. GM encourages all suppliers to be bold and go beyond compliance obligations to integrate additional environmentally sustainable practices throughout the company.

Pollution Prevention

Suppliers will minimize or eliminate emissions and discharges of pollutants and generation of waste at the source or by practices such as adding pollution control equipment, modifying production, maintenance, and facility processes, or by other means. Suppliers will routinely monitor and disclose, appropriately control, minimize, and strive to eliminate contributing to pollution, as required by and in accordance with applicable law. Suppliers should assess cumulative impacts of pollution sources at their facilities.

Greenhouse Gas Emissions

Suppliers will continually strive to reduce greenhouse gas emissions. Suppliers will track Scope 1, 2, and 3 greenhouse gas emissions. Upon request, suppliers will share Scope 1, 2, and 3 greenhouse gas emissions data with GM, and/or publish that data through GM's preferred third-party. Suppliers shall establish time-bound emission reduction goals and shall strive to obtain approved science-based targets that are at a minimum aligned with GM's Supplier Sustainability Partnership Pledge.

Ozone depleting substances must be effectively managed in accordance with the Montreal Protocol and applicable regulations. Suppliers will conduct routine monitoring of the performance of their air emission control systems. Hazardous air emissions shall be characterized, monitored, and controlled as required by permits and local, national, or international regulation. Suppliers will monitor performance of air emission control systems for effectiveness.

Hazardous Substances

Suppliers will identify, label, store, and manage chemicals, waste, and other materials posing a hazard to human health or the environment and will use safe handling, movement, storage, use, recycling or reuse, and disposal in compliance with GM requirements and international, national, and local laws. Suppliers will look for ways to reduce the use of hazardous materials and substances of concern within products and their manufacturing processes.

Materials Restrictions

Suppliers will adhere to all applicable laws, regulations and GM requirements regarding restrictions and prohibitions of specific substances in products and manufacturing including labeling and disposal. If requested, suppliers will provide information or reports of the composition of all substances or materials supplied to GM.

Solid Waste

Suppliers will implement a systematic approach to identify, manage, reduce, and responsibly dispose of or recycle solid waste (non-hazardous).

Water Management

Suppliers will implement a water management program that documents, characterizes, and monitors water sources, use, and discharge; seeks opportunities to conserve water; and controls channels of contamination. Wastewater must be characterized, monitored, controlled, and treated as required prior to discharge or disposal. Suppliers will conduct routine monitoring of their wastewater treatment and containment systems for optimal performance and to meet regulatory compliance. Suppliers should effectively reuse and recycle water. Supplier should prevent unpermitted discharges and mitigate the potential impacts of such discharges and from flooding caused by rainwater run-off.

Animal Welfare

Suppliers will respect the welfare of animals and provide humane treatment in line with the five animal freedoms formalized by the World Organization for Animal Health (OIE) concerning animal welfare which include: freedom from hunger, thirst and malnutrition; freedom from fear and distress; freedom from physical and thermal discomfort; freedom from pain, injury and disease; and freedom to express normal patterns of behavior. No animal should be raised and killed for the single purpose of being used in automotive products.

GM does not conduct or commission the use of animals in tests for research purposes or in the development of our vehicles, either directly or indirectly. Suppliers will not supply any raw materials, components, parts or assemblies to GM that involved testing on animals in its research or development.

Continuous Improvement

Suppliers will take measures to increase innovation and efficiency throughout their companies and reduce their carbon footprint, energy use, water use, material use, wastes, and other emissions. Suppliers should have a sustainable procurement policy in place to communicate sustainability expectations through the supply chain. Suppliers will set sustainability goals, accurately track results, and report on progress.

RESPONSIBLE SOURCING

Due Diligence

Suppliers will implement a policy committing to the responsible sourcing of all minerals and materials in line with GM's Conflict Minerals Policy and Responsible Minerals Sourcing Policy. These policies require conducting due diligence in accordance with the OECD Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Supply Chains of Minerals from Conflict-Affected and High-Risk Areas, including its current supplements on tin, tantalum, tungsten and gold (3TG). Suppliers will disclose to GM, as necessary, updated smelter/refiner information for any 3TG mineral used in the production of its parts, materials, components, and products. Suppliers will also engage with sub-tier suppliers to conduct due diligence by providing reporting templates or other information upon request.

Suppliers will require that their employees avoid and disclose situations where their financial or other interests conflict with job responsibilities, or situations giving any appearance of impropriety.

Grievance Mechanisms and Non-Retaliation

Suppliers will provide a clearly communicated grievance mechanism, in local languages, for workers to utilize to report integrity concerns, human rights concerns, safety issues, and misconduct without fear of reprisal. Subject to any restrictions imposed by law, suppliers will provide workers with a safe, confidential, and anonymous environment to provide grievance and feedback and will reasonably protect whistleblower confidentiality. Suppliers will also have a process in place for subcontractors and the community associated with the supplier's operations to raise concerns to the supplier. When creating such mechanisms, suppliers should consult potential or actual users on the design, implementation, or performance of the mechanism. Suppliers should periodically assess their grievance mechanism against the UN Guiding Principles' effectiveness criteria. Suppliers will prohibit all forms of retaliation against those who raise concerns in good faith. Suppliers will also appropriately investigate reports and take corrective action, if needed. Suppliers will cascade these expectations through their own supply chain.

Reporting Concerns to GM

Subject to any restriction posed by law, suppliers will promptly inform GM of any concern related to issues governed by this Code and collaborate with GM in subsequent investigations. GM policy prohibits retaliation against any person reporting such a concern. To report a concern, suppliers can always speak directly to their GM Global Purchasing and Supply Chain representative. In addition, the GM Awareline allows employees, contractors, suppliers, and others to report concerns of misconduct affecting GM. Individuals can file a report 24 hours a day, 7 days a week by phone, web, or email. Individuals filing reports on the GM Awareline can remain anonymous, as permitted by law. The link to access information for GM's Awareline is located here.

Addressing Impacts

When potential adverse impacts are discovered, suppliers will investigate, and where appropriate, will engage with potentially affected stakeholders and/or their representatives with the aim of identifying mutually agreeable solutions or remedies and providing for or cooperating in their remediation through legitimate processes. Suppliers will cascade this expectation through their own supply chains.

MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS

Suppliers will develop and implement an appropriate internal management system to comply with applicable law and the content of this Code. Suppliers will be able to demonstrate compliance with this Code upon GM's request and will take any action to correct any noncompliance. If requested, suppliers will complete questionnaires or participate in on-site assessment or audits.

The management system should contain the following elements:

Leadership Commitment

Suppliers will clearly identify senior executives and company representatives responsible for ensuring implementation of the management system and associated programs. Senior management should review the status of the management systems on a regular basis.

Stakeholder Engagement

Suppliers will continuously improve their sustainability and stakeholder engagement progress. GM also encourages suppliers to work closely with local communities to implement projects and strategies that improve the community and those who live there.

Risk Assessment and Management

Suppliers will have processes and strategies in place to identify and control business risk, legal compliance, environmental, health and safety, and labor practices and ethics risks associated with the supplier's operations. Suppliers should determine the relative significance for each risk and implement appropriate procedural and physical controls to control the identified risks and meet regulatory compliance. Suppliers will continually monitor and enforce these standards in their operations and supply chain including subcontractors.

Improvement Objectives

Suppliers should conduct a periodic self-assessment, preferably administered through a third party, regarding conformity to legal and regulatory requirements, the content of this Code, and customer contractual requirements related to social and environmental responsibility. Suppliers will also have a process for timely correction of deficiencies identified by internal or external assessments, inspections, investigations, and reviews.

Training

Suppliers will have programs for new and ongoing training of managers and workers to implement their policies, procedures, and improvement objectives and to meet applicable legal and regulatory requirements and comply with this Code and GM's policies.

Communication and Documentation

Suppliers will have a process for communicating clear and accurate information about their policies, practices, expectations, and performance to workers, suppliers, and customers. Suppliers will also create and maintain documents and records to meet regulatory compliance and conformity to company requirements along with appropriate confidentiality to protect privacy.

Supplier Responsibility

Suppliers will have a process to communicate these Code requirements through their supply chain and to require suppliers to adopt management systems and practices for compliance with this Code or requirements materially consistent with this Code. Upon request, suppliers will provide evidence of efforts to cascade this Code or requirements materially consistent with this Code through their supply chains.

5.4 Signing of Instrument of Transfer

If a shareholder, or his or her duly authorized attorney, signs an instrument of transfer in respect of shares registered in the name of the shareholder, the signed instrument of transfer constitutes a complete and sufficient authority to the Company and its directors, officers and agents to register the number of shares specified in the instrument of transfer or specified in any other manner, or, if no number is specified, all the shares represented by the share certificates or set out in the written acknowledgments deposited with the instrument of transfer:

6.2 Rights of Legal Personal Representative

The legal personal representative of a shareholder has the rights, privileges and obligations that attach to the shares held by the shareholder, including the right to transfer the shares in accordance with these Articles, the Business Corporations Act and applicable securities legislation, if appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency within the meaning of the Securities Transfer Act has been deposited with the Company. 7.3 Sale and Voting of Purchased Shares

9. ALTERATIONS

9.1 Alteration of Authorized Share Structure

Subject to Article 9.2 and the Business Corporations Act, the Company may by ordinary resolution or resolution by the board of directors:

10. MEETINGS OF SHAREHOLDERS

10.2 Resolution Instead of Annual General Meeting

If all the shareholders who are entitled to vote at an annual general meeting consent by a unanimous resolution under the Business Corporations Act to all of the business that is required to be transacted at that annual general meeting, the annual general meeting is deemed to have been held on the date of the unanimous resolution. The shareholders must, in any unanimous resolution passed under this Article 10.2, select as the Company's annual reference date a date that would be appropriate for the holding of the applicable annual general meeting.

10.3 Calling of Meetings of Shareholders

The directors may, at any time, call a meeting of shareholders, to be held at such time and place, whether in or outside of British Columbia, whether as an electronic or partially electronic or in-

If no record date is set, the record date is 5 p.m. on the day immediately preceding the first date on which the notice is sent or, if no notice is sent, the beginning of the meeting.

10.7 Failure to Give Notice and Waiver of Notice

The accidental omission to send notice of any meeting to, or the non-receipt of any notice by, any of the persons entitled to notice does not invalidate any proceedings at that meeting. Any person entitled to notice of a meeting of shareholders may, in writing or otherwise, waive or reduce the period of notice of such meeting.

10.8 Notice of Special Business at Meetings of Shareholders

If a meeting of shareholders is to consider special business within the meaning of Article 11.1, the notice of meeting must:

(1) state the general nature of the special business; and

11.4 One Shareholder May Constitute Quorum

If there is only one shareholder entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders:

(1) the quorum is one person who is, or who represents by proxy, that shareholder, and

(2) that shareholder, present in person or by proxy, may constitute the meeting.

11.5 Other Persons May Attend

The directors, the president (if any), the secretary (if any), the assistant secretary (if any), any lawyer for the Company, the auditor of the Company and any other persons invited by the directors are entitled to attend any meeting of shareholders, but if any of those persons does attend a meeting of shareholders, that person is not to be counted in the quorum and is not entitled to vote at the meeting unless that person is a shareholder or proxy holder entitled to vote at the meeting.

11.6 Requirement of Quorum

No business, other than the election of a chair of the meeting and the adjournment of the meeting, may be transacted at any meeting of shareholders unless a quorum of shareholders entitled to vote is present at the commencement of the meeting, but such quorum need not be present throughout the meeting.

11.7 Lack of Quorum

If, within one-half hour from the time set for the holding of a meeting of shareholders, a quorum is not present:

11.8 Lack of Quorum at Succeeding Meeting

If, at the meeting to which the meeting referred to in Article 11.7(2) was adjourned, a quorum is not present within one-half hour from the time set for the holding of the meeting, the person or persons present and being, or representing by proxy, one or more shareholders entitled to attend and vote at the meeting constitute a quorum.

If, at any meeting of shareholders, there is no chair of the board or president present within 15 minutes after the time set for holding the meeting, or if the chair of the board and the president are unwilling to act as chair of the meeting, or if the chair of the board and the president have advised the secretary, if any, or any director present at the meeting, that they will not be present at the meeting, the directors present must choose one of their number to be chair of the meeting or if all of the directors present decline to take the chair or fail to so choose or if no director is present, the shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting who are present in person or by proxy may choose any person present at the meeting to chair the meeting.

11.11 Adjournments

The chair of a meeting of shareholders may, and if so directed by the meeting must, adjourn the meeting from time to time and from place to place, but no business may be transacted at any adjourned meeting other than the business left unfinished at the meeting from which the adjournment took place.

11.12 Notice of Adjourned Meeting

It is not necessary to give any notice of an adjourned meeting or of the business to be transacted at an adjourned meeting of shareholders except that, when a meeting is adjourned for 30 days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting must be given as in the case of the original meeting.

11.13 Decisions by Show of Hands or Poll

Subject to the Business Corporations Act, every motion put to a vote at a meeting of shareholders will be decided on a show of hands unless a poll, before or on the declaration of the result of the vote by show of hands, is directed by the chair or demanded by at least one shareholder entitled to vote who is present in person or by proxy.

11.14 Declaration of Result

The chair of a meeting of shareholders must declare to the meeting the decision on every question in accordance with the result of the show of hands or the poll, as the case may be, and that decision must be entered in the minutes of the meeting. A declaration of the chair that a resolution is carried by the necessary majority or is defeated is, unless a poll is directed by the chair or demanded under Article 11.13, conclusive evidence without proof of the number or proportion of the votes recorded in favour of or against the resolution.

11.15 Motion Need Not be Seconded

No motion proposed at a meeting of shareholders need be seconded unless the chair of the meeting rules otherwise, and the chair of any meeting of shareholders is entitled to propose or second a motion.

11.16 Casting Vote

In case of an equality of votes, the chair of a meeting of shareholders does not, either on a show of hands or on a poll, have a second or casting vote in addition to the vote or votes to which the chair may be entitled as a shareholder.

11.17 Manner of Taking Poll

Subject to Article 11.18, if a poll is duly demanded at a meeting of shareholders:

(1) the poll must be taken:

(a) at the meeting, or within seven days after the date of the meeting, as the chair of the meeting directs; and

(b) in the manner, at the time and at the place that the chair of the meeting directs;

(2) the result of the poll is deemed to be the decision of the meeting at which the poll is demanded; and

11.18 Demand for Poll on Adjournment

A poll demanded at a meeting of shareholders on a question of adjournment must be taken immediately at the meeting.

11.19 Chair Must Resolve Dispute

In the case of any dispute as to the admission or rejection of a vote given on a poll, the chair of the meeting must determine the dispute, and his or her determination made in good faith is final and conclusive.

11.20 Casting of Votes

On a poll, a shareholder entitled to more than one vote need not cast all the votes in the same way.

11.21 Demand for Poll

No poll may be demanded in respect of the vote by which a chair of a meeting of shareholders is elected.

11.22 Demand for Poll Not to Prevent Continuance of Meeting

The demand for a poll at a meeting of shareholders does not, unless the chair of the meeting so rules, prevent the continuation of a meeting for the transaction of any business other than the question on which a poll has been demanded.

11.23 Retention of Ballots and Proxies

The Company must, for at least three months after a meeting of shareholders, keep each ballot cast on a poll and each proxy voted at the meeting, and, during that period, make them available for inspection during normal business hours by any shareholder or proxyholder entitled to vote at the meeting. At the end of such three month period, the Company may destroy such ballots and proxies.

12. VOTES OF SHAREHOLDERS

12.1 Number of Votes by Shareholder or by Shares

Subject to any special rights or restrictions attached to any shares and to the restrictions imposed on joint shareholders under Article 12.3:

(1) on a vote by show of hands, every person present who is a shareholder or proxy holder and entitled to vote on the matter has one vote; and

(2) on a poll, every shareholder entitled to vote on the matter has one vote in respect of each share entitled to be voted on the matter and held by that shareholder and may exercise that vote either in person or by proxy.

12.2 Votes of Persons in Representative Capacity

A person who is not a shareholder may vote at a meeting of shareholders, whether on a show of hands or on a poll, and may appoint a proxy holder to act at the meeting, if, before doing so, the person satisfies the chair of the meeting, or the directors, that the person is a legal personal representative or a trustee in bankruptcy for a shareholder who is entitled to vote at the meeting.

12.3 Votes by Joint Holders

If there are joint shareholders registered in respect of any share:

(1) any one of the joint shareholders may vote at any meeting, either personally or by proxy, in respect of the share as if that joint shareholder were solely entitled to it; or

(2) if more than one of the joint shareholders is present at any meeting, personally or by proxy, and more than one of them votes in respect of that share, then only the vote of the joint shareholder present whose name stands first on the central securities register in respect of the share will be counted.

12.4 Legal Personal Representatives as Joint Shareholders

Two or more legal personal representatives of a shareholder in whose sole name any share is registered are, for the purposes of Article 12.3, deemed to be joint shareholders.

12.5 Representative of a Corporate Shareholder

If a corporation, that is not a subsidiary of the Company, is a shareholder, that corporation may appoint a person to act as its representative at any meeting of shareholders of the Company, and:

(1) for that purpose, the instrument appointing a representative must:

(a) be received at the registered office of the Company or at any other place specified, in the notice calling the meeting, for the receipt of proxies, at least the number of business days specified in the notice for the receipt of proxies, or if no number of days is specified, two business days before the day set for the holding of the meeting; or

(b) be provided, at the meeting, to the chair of the meeting or to a person designated by the chair of the meeting;

(2) if a representative is appointed under this Article 12.5:

(a) the representative is entitled to exercise in respect of and at that meeting the same rights on behalf of the corporation that the representative represents as that corporation could exercise if it were a shareholder who is an individual, including, without limitation, the right to appoint a proxy holder; and

(b) the representative, if present at the meeting, is to be counted for the purpose of forming a quorum and is deemed to be a shareholder present in person at the meeting.

Evidence of the appointment of any such representative may be sent to the Company by written instrument, fax or any other method of transmitting legibly recorded messages.

12.6 Proxy Provisions Do Not Apply to All Companies

If and for so long as the Company is a public company or a pre-existing reporting company which has the Statutory Reporting Company Provisions as part of its Articles or to which the Statutory Reporting Company Provisions apply, Articles 12.7 to 12.14 apply only insofar as they are not inconsistent with any securities legislation in any province or territory of Canada or in the federal jurisdiction of the United States or in any states of the United States that is applicable to the Company and insofar as they are not inconsistent with the regulations and rules made and promulgated under that legislation and all administrative policy statements, blanket orders and rulings, notices and other administrative directions issued by securities commission or similar authorities appointed under that legislation.

12.7 Appointment of Proxy Holders

Every shareholder of the Company, including a corporation that is a shareholder but not a subsidiary of the Company, entitled to vote at a meeting of shareholders of the Company may, by proxy, appoint one or more (but not more than five) proxy holders to attend and act at the meeting in the manner, to the extent and with the powers conferred by the proxy.

12.8 Alternate Proxy Holders

A shareholder may appoint one or more alternate proxy holders who need not be shareholders to act in the place of an absent proxy holder.

12.9 Deposit of Proxy

A proxy for a meeting of shareholders must:

(1) be received at the registered office of the Company or at any other place specified, in the notice calling the meeting, for the receipt of proxies, at least the number of business days specified in the notice, or if no number of days is specified, two business days before the day set for the holding of the meeting; or

(2) unless the notice provides otherwise, be provided, at the meeting, to the chair of the meeting or to a person designated by the chair of the meeting.

A proxy may be sent to the Company by written instrument, fax or any other method of transmitting legibly recorded messages.

12.10 Validity of Proxy Vote

A vote given in accordance with the terms of a proxy is valid notwithstanding the death or incapacity of the shareholder giving the proxy and despite the revocation of the proxy or the revocation of the authority under which the proxy is given, unless notice in writing of that death, incapacity or revocation is received:

(1) at the registered office of the Company, at any time up to and including the last business day before the day set for the holding of the meeting at which the proxy is to be used; or

12.11 Form of Proxy

A proxy, whether for a specified meeting or otherwise, must be either in the following form or in any other form approved by the directors or the chair of the meeting:

[name of company]

(the “Company”)

> The undersigned, being a shareholder of the Company, hereby appoints [name] or, failing that person, [name], as proxy holder for the undersigned to attend, act and vote for and on behalf of the undersigned at the meeting of shareholders of the Company to be held on [month, day, year] and at any adjournment of that meeting.

Number of shares in respect of which this proxy is given (if no number is specified, then this proxy if given in respect of all shares registered in the name of the shareholder):

[Signature of shareholder]

[Name of shareholder—printed]

12.12 Revocation of Proxy

Subject to Article 12.14, every proxy may be revoked by an instrument in writing that is:

(1) received at the registered office of the Company at any time up to and including the last business day before the day set for the holding of the meeting at which the proxy is to be used; or

12.13 Revocation of Proxy Must Be Signed

An instrument referred to in Article 12.13 must be signed as follows:

(1) if the shareholder for whom the proxy holder is appointed is an individual, the instrument must be signed by the shareholder or his or her legal personal representative or trustee in bankruptcy;

(2) if the shareholder for whom the proxy holder is appointed is a corporation, the instrument must be signed by the corporation or by a representative appointed for the corporation under Article 12.5.

12.14 Production of Evidence of Authority to Vote

The chair of any meeting of shareholders may, but need not, inquire into the authority of any person to vote at the meeting and may, but need not, demand from that person production of evidence as to the existence of the authority to vote.

13. DIRECTORS

13.1 First Directors; Number of Directors

The first directors are the persons designated as directors of the Company in the Notice of Articles that applies to the Company when it is recognized under the Business Corporations Act. The number of directors, excluding additional directors appointed under Article 14.8, is set at:

(1) subject to paragraphs (2) and (3), the number of directors that is equal to the number of the Company's first directors;

(2) if the Company is a public company, the greater of three and the most recently set of:

(a) the number of directors set by ordinary resolution (whether or not previous notice of the resolution was given); and

(b) the number of directors set under Article 14.4;

(3) if the Company is not a public company, the most recently set of:

(a) the number of directors set by ordinary resolution (whether or not previous notice of the resolution was given); and

(b) the number of directors set under Article 14.4.

13.2 Change in Number of Directors

If the number of directors is set under Articles 13.1(2)(a) or 13.1(3)(a):

(1) the shareholders may elect or appoint the directors needed to fill any vacancies in the board of directors up to that number;

(2) if the shareholders do not elect or appoint the directors needed to fill any vacancies in the board of directors up to that number contemporaneously with the setting of that number, then the directors may appoint, or the shareholders may elect or appoint, directors to fill those vacancies.

13.3 Directors' Acts Valid Despite Vacancy

An act or proceeding of the directors is not invalid merely because fewer than the number of directors set or otherwise required under these Articles is in office.

13.4 Qualifications of Directors

A director is not required to hold a share in the capital of the Company as qualification for his or her office but must be qualified as required by the Business Corporations Act to become, act or continue to act as a director.

13.5 Remuneration of Directors

The directors are entitled to the remuneration for acting as directors, if any, as the directors may from time to time determine. If the directors so decide, the remuneration of the directors, if any, will be determined by the shareholders. That remuneration may be in addition to any salary or other remuneration paid to any officer or employee of the Company as such, who is also a director.

13.6 Reimbursement of Expenses of Directors

The Company must reimburse each director for the reasonable expenses that he or she may incur in and about the business of the Company.

13.7 Special Remuneration for Directors

If any director performs any professional or other services for the Company that in the opinion of the directors are outside the ordinary duties of a director, or if any director is otherwise specially occupied in or about the Company's business, he or she may be paid remuneration fixed by the directors, or, at the option of that director, fixed by ordinary resolution, and such remuneration may be either in addition to, or in substitution for, any other remuneration that he or she may be entitled to receive.

13.8 Gratuity, Pension or Allowance on Retirement of Director

Unless otherwise determined by ordinary resolution, the directors on behalf of the Company may pay a gratuity or pension or allowance on retirement to any director who has held any salaried office or place of profit with the Company or to his or her spouse or dependants and may make contributions to any fund and pay premiums for the purchase or provision of any such gratuity, pension or allowance.

14. ELECTION AND REMOVAL OF DIRECTORS

14.1 Election at Annual General Meeting

At every annual general meeting and in every unanimous resolution contemplated by Article 10.2:

(1) the shareholders entitled to vote at the annual general meeting for the election of directors must elect, or in the unanimous resolution appoint, a board of directors consisting of the number of directors for the time being set under these Articles; and

(2) all the directors cease to hold office immediately before the election or appointment of directors under paragraph (1), but are eligible for re-election or re-appointment.

14.2 Consent to be a Director

No election, appointment or designation of an individual as a director is valid unless:

(1) that individual consents to be a director in the manner provided for in the Business Corporations Act;

(2) that individual is elected or appointed at a meeting at which the individual is present and the individual does not refuse, at the meeting, to be a director; or

(3) with respect to first directors, the designation is otherwise valid under the Business Corporations Act.

14.3 Failure to Elect or Appoint Directors

If:

(1) the Company fails to hold an annual general meeting, and all the shareholders who are entitled to vote at an annual general meeting fail to pass the unanimous resolution contemplated by Article 10.2, on or before the date by which the annual general meeting is required to be held under the Business Corporations Act; or

(2) the shareholders fail, at the annual general meeting or in the unanimous resolution contemplated by Article 10.2, to elect or appoint any directors; then each director then in office continues to hold office until the earlier of:

(3) the date on which his or her successor is elected or appointed; and

(4) the date on which he or she otherwise ceases to hold office under the Business Corporations Act or these Articles.

14.4 Places of Retiring Directors Not Filled

If, at any meeting of shareholders at which there should be an election of directors, the places of any of the retiring directors are not filled by that election, those retiring directors who are not re-elected and who are asked by the newly elected directors to continue in office will, if willing to do so, continue in office to complete the number of directors for the time being set pursuant to these Articles until further new directors are elected at a meeting of shareholders convened for that purpose. If any such election or continuance of directors does not result in the election or continuance of the number of directors for the time being set pursuant to these Articles, the number of directors of the Company is deemed to be set at the number of directors actually elected or continued in office.

14.5 Directors May Fill Casual Vacancies

Any casual vacancy occurring in the board of directors may be filled by the directors.

14.6 Remaining Directors Power to Act

The directors may act notwithstanding any vacancy in the board of directors but, if the Company has fewer directors in office than the number set pursuant to these Articles as the quorum of directors, the directors may only act for the purposes of appointing directors up to that number, summoning a meeting of shareholders for the purpose of filling any vacancies on the board of directors, or, subject to the Business Corporations Act, for any other purpose.

14.7 Shareholders May Fill Vacancies

If the Company has no directors or fewer directors in office than the number set pursuant to these Articles as the quorum of directors, the shareholders may elect or appoint directors to fill any vacancies on the board of directors.

14.8 Additional Directors

Notwithstanding Articles 13.1 and 13.2, between annual general meetings or unanimous resolutions contemplated by Article 10.2, the directors may appoint one or more additional directors, but the number of additional directors appointed under this Article 14.8 must not at any time exceed:

(1) one-third of the number of first directors, if, at the time of the appointments, one or more of the first directors have not yet completed their first term of office; or

(2) in any other case, one-third of the number of the current directors who were elected or appointed as directors other than under this Article 14.8.

Any director so appointed ceases to hold office immediately before the next election or appointment of directors under Article 14.1(1), but is eligible for re-election or re-appointment.

14.9 Ceasing to be a Director

A director ceases to be a director when:

(1) the term of office of the director expires;

(2) the director dies;

(3) the director resigns as a director by notice in writing provided to the Company or a lawyer for the Company; or

14.10 Removal of Director by Shareholders

The Company may remove any director before the expiration of his or her term of office by special resolution. In that event, the shareholders may elect, or appoint by ordinary resolution, a director to fill the resulting vacancy. If the shareholders do not elect or appoint a director to fill the resulting vacancy contemporaneously with the removal, then the directors may appoint or the shareholders may elect, or appoint by ordinary resolution, a director to fill that vacancy.

14.11 Removal of Director by Directors

The directors may remove any director before the expiration of his or her term of office if the director is convicted of an indictable offence, or if the director ceases to be qualified to act as a director of a company and does not promptly resign, and the directors may appoint a director to fill the resulting vacancy.

15.1 Powers of Management

The directors must, subject to the Business Corporations Act and these Articles, manage or supervise the management of the business and affairs of the Company and have the authority to exercise all such powers of the Company as are not, by the Business Corporations Act or by these Articles, required to be exercised by the shareholders of the Company.

17.7 When Notice Not Required

It is not necessary to give notice of a meeting of the directors to a director or an alternate director if:

(1) the meeting is to be held immediately following a meeting of shareholders at which that director was elected or appointed, or is the meeting of the directors at which that director is appointed; or

(2) the director or alternate director, as the case may be, has waived notice of the meeting.

17.8 Meeting Valid Despite Failure to Give Notice

(h) The Corporation and its Subsidiaries shall promptly advise the Investor of the receipt of any communication from CFIUS or a Canadian Governmental Entity relating to the Investor and shall consult with and obtain the consent of the Investor prior to communicating with CFIUS or a Canadian Governmental Entity relating to the Investor.

7.2. Restrictions on Transactions with FEOCs

For so long as the Investor meets the 5% Threshold, is a Member of the Company (as those terms are defined in the Joint Venture Agreement), or is an Offtaker, the Corporation shall not (a) enter into any agreement in respect of, or otherwise support or recommend, any Change of Control to a Sanctioned Person or a FEOC without the Investor's prior written consent, or (b) conduct any business transaction or activity to the extent such business transaction or activity would cause vehicles incorporating the offtake purchased from the Corporation to be ineligible for tax credits under the Inflation Reduction Act of 2022, as amended.

ARTICLE 8

8.1. Demand Registration Rights

(a) For so long as the Investor meets the 2.5% Threshold, the Investor may require the Corporation to register all or a portion of the Registrable Securities then held by the Investor and its Affiliates by filing a Registration Statement and a Prospectus and taking such other steps as may be necessary to facilitate a Distribution of all or any portion of the Registrable Securities held by the Investor or its Affiliates.

(b) Any such registration effected pursuant to this Section 8.1 is referred to herein as a "Demand Registration."

(c) Any such request shall be made by a notice in writing (a "Request") to the Corporation and shall specify the number and the class or classes of Registrable Securities to be sold (the "Designated Registrable Securities") by the Investor, the intended method of disposition, whether such offer and sale shall be made by an underwritten public offering and the jurisdiction(s) in which the filing is to be effected. The Corporation shall, subject to Applicable Securities Laws, use its commercially reasonable efforts to file within 30 days after receipt of the Request: (i) a Registration Statement in compliance with applicable U.S. Securities Laws and (ii) a Prospectus in compliance with applicable Canadian Securities Laws, in order to permit the Distribution of all of the Designated Registrable Securities of the Investor specified in a Request. The parties shall cooperate in a timely manner in connection with such Distribution and the procedures in Schedule A shall apply.

(d) The Corporation shall not be obliged to effect:

(i) more than two Demand Registrations in any twelve (12) month period; provided that for purposes of this Section 8.1, a Demand Registration pursuant to which the Designated Registrable Securities are to be sold shall not be considered as having been effected until (1) the Registration Statement has been declared effective by the SEC and (2) a receipt has been issued by the Canadian Securities Authorities for the Prospectus and has not been withdrawn or suspended; or

(ii) a Demand Registration in the event the Corporation determines in its good faith judgment, after consultation with its financial and legal advisors, that (A) either (I) the effect of the filing of a Registration Statement and Prospectus would have a material adverse effect on the Corporation because such action would materially interfere with a material acquisition, reorganization or similar material transaction involving the Corporation; or (II) there exists at the time material non-public information relating to the Corporation the disclosure of which would be materially adverse to the Corporation, and (B) that it is therefore in the best interests of the Corporation to defer the filing of a Registration Statement and Prospectus at such time, in which case the Corporation's obligations under this Section 8.1 shall be deferred for a period of not more than ninety (90) days from the date of receipt of the Request of the Investor (such 90-day period is referred to herein as a "Blackout Period"); provided, that after any initial Blackout Period, the Corporation may not invoke a subsequent Blackout Period until 12 months have elapsed from the end of any previous Blackout Period; provided, further, that the Corporation shall not register any securities for its own account or that of any other stockholder during such 90-day period other than pursuant to a Registration Statement on Form S-8 or other registration solely relating to an offering or sale to employees or directors of the Corporation pursuant to any employee stock plan or other employee benefit arrangement.

(e) In the case of an underwritten public offering of Registrable Securities initiated pursuant to this Section 8.1, the Investor shall have the right to select the managing underwriter(s) or managing agent(s) and the counsel retained which shall perform such offering.

(f) The Investor shall have the right to withdraw its request for inclusion of its Registrable Securities in any Registration Statement and Prospectus pursuant to this Section 8.1 without incurring any liability to the Corporation or any other Person by giving written notice to the Corporation of its request to withdraw; provided, however, that:

(i) such request must be made in writing ten (10) Business Days prior to the execution of the underwriting agreement (or such other similar agreement) with respect to such offering; and

(g) For the avoidance of doubt, the registration rights granted pursuant to the provisions of this Section 8.1 shall be in addition to the registration rights granted pursuant to Section 8.2, below.

8.2. Piggyback and Shelf Registration Rights

(a) Piggyback Registration. Each time the Corporation elects to proceed with the preparation and filing of (i) a Registration Statement under any U.S. Securities Laws or (ii) a Prospectus under any Canadian Securities Laws, in each case in connection with a proposed Distribution of any of its securities, whether by the Corporation or any of its security holders, the Corporation shall give written notice thereof to the Investor as soon as practicable. In such event, the Investor shall be entitled, by notice in writing given to the Corporation within twenty (20) days (except in the case of a "bought deal" in which case the Investor shall have only twenty-four (24) hours) after the receipt of any such notice by the Investor, to require that the Corporation cause any or all of the Registrable Securities held by the Investor (the "Piggyback Registrable Securities") to be included in such Prospectus (such qualification being hereinafter referred to as a "Piggyback Registration"). Notwithstanding the foregoing:

(i) in the event the lead underwriter or lead agent for the offering advises the Corporation and the Investor that in its good faith opinion, the inclusion of such Registrable Securities may materially and adversely affect the price or success of the offering, the Corporation shall include in such Registration, in the following priority: (i) first, such number of securities the Corporation proposes to sell; (ii) second, a number of Piggyback Registrable Securities requested by the Investor to be included in such Piggyback Registration to the extent that such lead underwriter or lead agent reasonably believes such securities may be included in the offering without materially and adversely affecting the price or success of the offering; and (iii) third, such number of other securities requested by any other shareholder of the Corporation to be included in such Piggyback Registration to the extent that such lead underwriter or lead agent reasonably believes such securities may be included in the offering without materially and adversely affecting the price or success of the offering;

(ii) the Corporation may at any time before the effective date of such Registration Statement, and without the consent of the Investor, abandon the proposed offering in which the Investor has requested to participate; and

(iii) the Investor shall have the right to withdraw its request for inclusion of its Piggyback Registrable Securities in any Registration Statement and Prospectus pursuant to this Section 8.2 without incurring any liability to the Corporation or any other Person by giving written notice to the Corporation of its request to withdraw; provided, however, that:

such request must be made in writing five (5) Business Days prior to the execution of the underwriting agreement (or such other similar agreement) with respect to such offering; and such withdrawal shall be irrevocable and, after making such withdrawal, the Investor shall no longer have any right to include its Piggyback Registrable Securities in the offering pertaining to which such withdrawal was made.

(b) Shelf Registration

(i) The Investor shall, subject to Section 8.1(d), have the right to require the Corporation at any time and from time to time to file a Registration Statement, including a Registration Statement covering the resale of all Registrable Securities on a delayed or continuous basis, pursuant to MJDS or on Form F-3 or Registration Statement that may be available at such time (a "Shelf Registration Statement"), and if necessary pursuant to the MJDS in connection therewith, to file a Canadian Prospectus pursuant to the provisions of National Instrument 44-102 - Shelf Distributions, which, for greater certainty, shall include BC Instrument 45-503 - Exemption from Certain Prospectus Requirements for Canadian Well-known Seasoned Issuers, and take such other steps as may be necessary to register the Distribution in the United States of all or any portion of the Registrable Securities held by the Investor (a "Shelf Registration"), by giving a notice with the information required in Section 8.1(c) to the Corporation.

(ii) Upon exercise of a Shelf Registration right as set forth in Section 8.2(b)(i), the Corporation shall, and subject to Applicable Securities Laws, use its commercially reasonable efforts to file within 30 days after receipt of the Request a Shelf Registration Statement relating to such Shelf Registration and cause such Shelf Registration Statement to become effective under the U.S. Securities Act, and, as required, prepare and file a preliminary Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus (if applicable) and a final Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus relating to such Shelf Registration and secure the issuance of a receipt for such preliminary Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus (if applicable) and final Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus, and promptly thereafter take such other steps as may be necessary in order to permit the Distribution in the United States of all or any portion of the Registrable Securities of the shareholders requested to be included in such Shelf Registration.

(iii) Upon filing any Shelf Registration Statement and, if required, a Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus, the Corporation shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to keep such Shelf Registration Statement effective with the SEC and, if required such Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus effective with the applicable Canadian Securities Authorities, respectively, at all times and to re-file such Shelf Registration Statement or renew such Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus upon its expiration by filing a preliminary Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus (if applicable) and final Canadian Base

Shelf Prospectus, and to cooperate in any shelf take-down, whether or not underwritten, by amending or supplementing any Shelf Registration Statement or Canadian Base Shelf Prospectus related to such Shelf Registration as may be reasonably requested by the Investor or as otherwise required, until such time as all Registrable Securities that could be sold pursuant to such Shelf Registration Statement have been sold, are no longer outstanding or otherwise cease to be "Registrable Securities".

(iv) For so long as the Investor meets the 2.5% Threshold, and at any time that a Shelf Registration Statement is effective, if the Investor delivers a notice to the Corporation stating that it intends to effect an underwritten public offering of all or part of the Registrable Securities included on the Shelf Registration Statement (a "Shelf Underwritten Offering"), then the Corporation shall file a prospectus supplement to the Shelf Registration Statement and any applicable Canadian Prospectus as may be necessary to enable such Registrable Securities to be distributed pursuant to the Shelf Underwritten Offering, which Shelf Underwritten Offering shall be deemed a "Demand Registration" for all purposes in this Agreement. Such notice shall include substantially the same information as required by Section 8.1(c) for a Request and shall be considered a "Request" for all purposes in this Agreement, to the extent the applicable as the context may require. The Investor's rights to request a Shelf Underwritten Offering under the Shelf Registration Statement with respect to the Registrable Securities held by the Investor shall be in addition to the other registration rights provided in this Article 8; provided that the Corporation shall not be obligated to effect any such Shelf Underwritten Offering for any of the reasons set forth in Section 8.1(d) for a Demand Registration, mutatis mutandis. In addition, the provisions of Section 8.1(e) shall apply to any Shelf Underwritten Offering, mutatis mutandis. The Corporation and the Investor shall cooperate in a timely manner in connection with any such Shelf Underwritten Offering and the procedures in Schedule A shall apply to such Shelf Underwritten Offering.

8.3. Expenses

All Registration Expenses incident to the performance of or compliance with this Article 8 by the parties shall be borne by the Corporation other than any and all commissions payable to any underwriter for an underwritten offering or agent for an agency offering that are attributable to the Registrable Securities to be sold by the Investor pursuant to any Demand Registration or Piggyback Registration, which commissions shall be borne by the Investor.

8.4. Other Sales

After receipt by the Corporation of a Request, the Corporation shall not, without the prior written consent of the Investor, authorize, issue or sell any Common Shares or Equity Securities in any jurisdiction or agree to do so or publicly announce any intention to do so (except for securities issued pursuant to any legal obligations in effect on the date of the Request or pursuant to any stock option plan or equity incentive plan) until the date which is the later of (a)(i) the date on which the Registration Statement has been declared effective by the SEC and (ii) the date on which a receipt or decision document is issued for the Prospectus filed in connection with such Demand Registration, and (b) the completion of the offering contemplated by the Demand Registration; provided, however, that the Corporation further agrees to execute such agreements as may be reasonably requested by the underwriters in connection with any underwritten offering effected pursuant to this Article 8, which agreements may subject the Corporation to a longer lock-up period.

8.5. Future Registration Rights

The Corporation shall not (a) grant any registration rights to third parties which are more favorable than or inconsistent with the rights granted to the Investor hereunder, or (b) enter into any agreement, take any action, or permit any change to occur, with respect to its securities that violates or subordinates the rights granted to the Investor hereunder.

8.6. Preparation; Reasonable Investigation

In connection with the preparation and filing of any Registration Statement or Prospectus as herein contemplated, the Corporation shall give the Investor, its underwriters for an underwritten offering or agents for an agency offering, and their respective counsel, auditors and other Representatives, the opportunity to participate in the preparation of such documents and each amendment thereof or supplement thereto, and shall insert therein such material, furnished to the Corporation in writing, which in the reasonable judgment of the Investor and its counsel should be included. The Corporation shall give the Investor and the underwriters or agents such reasonable and customary access to the books and records of the Corporation and its Subsidiaries and such reasonable and customary opportunities to discuss the business of the Corporation with its officers and auditors as shall be necessary in the reasonable opinion of the Investor, such underwriters or agents and their respective counsel. The Corporation shall cooperate with the Investor and its underwriters or agents in the conduct of all reasonable and customary due diligence which the Investor, such underwriters or agents and their respective counsel may reasonably require in order to conduct a reasonable investigation for purposes of establishing a due diligence defence as contemplated by the Applicable Securities Laws and in order to enable such underwriters or agents to execute any certificate required to be executed by them for inclusion in each such document.

8.7. Indemnification

(a) In connection with any Demand Registration, Piggyback Registration and Shelf Registration, the Corporation shall indemnify and hold harmless the Investor, each underwriter or agent involved in the Distribution of Registrable Securities thereunder, each of their respective members, directors, officers, employees and agents, and each Person, if any, who controls such Investor, underwriter or agent within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act or the U.S. Exchange Act against any losses, claims, damages or liabilities (including reasonable counsels' fees) ("Losses"), joint or several, to which the Investor, or such underwriter or agent or controlling Person or any of their directors, officers, employees or agents may become subject, insofar as such Losses, (or actions in respect thereof) (i) arise out of or are based upon any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of any material fact contained in any Registration Statement or Prospectus, or any amendment or supplement thereof, (ii) or arise out of or are based upon the omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading or (iii) arise out of or are based upon any violation or alleged violation by the Corporation (or any of its agents or Affiliates) of any Applicable Securities Law, and the Corporation will pay to each the Investor, underwriter, agent or controlling Person any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred thereby in connection with investigating or defending any claim or proceeding from which Losses may result, as such expenses are incurred; provided, however, that the Corporation shall not be liable in any such case if and to the extent that any such Losses arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by the Investor, such underwriter or agent or such controlling Person expressly for use in connection with such registration; provided further, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 8.7(a) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Corporation, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

(b) In connection with any Demand Registration, Piggyback Registration and Shelf Registration, the Investor shall indemnify and hold harmless the Corporation, its directors, each officer who has signed the Registration Statement, and each underwriter or agent involved in the Distribution of Registrable Securities thereunder, and each Person, if any, who controls such Investor, underwriter or agent within the meaning of the U.S. Securities Act or the U.S. Exchange Act to the same extent as the indemnity referred to in clause (a) above from the Corporation to the Investor, but only to the extent that any such Losses arise out of or are based upon actions or omissions made in reliance upon and in conformity with written information furnished by the Investor; provided, however, that the indemnity agreement contained in this Section 8.7(b) shall not apply to amounts paid in settlement of any such claim or proceeding if such settlement is effected without the consent of the Investor, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld; provided further, however, that in no event shall the aggregate amounts payable by the Investor by way of indemnity or contribution under Section 8.7(b) and 8.7(d) exceed the proceeds from the offering received by the Investor (net of any commissions paid by the Investor), except in the case of fraud or willful misconduct by the Investor.

(c) Promptly after receipt by an indemnified party under this Section 8.7 of notice of the commencement of any action (including any governmental action) for which a party may be entitled to indemnification hereunder, such indemnified party will, if a claim in respect thereof is to be made against any indemnifying party under this Section 8.7, give the indemnifying party notice of the commencement thereof. The indemnifying party shall have the right to participate in such action and, to the extent the indemnifying party so desires, participate jointly with any other indemnifying party to which notice has been given, and to assume the defense thereof with counsel mutually satisfactory to the parties; provided, however, that an indemnified party (together with all other indemnified parties that may be represented without conflict by one counsel) shall have the right to retain one separate counsel, with the reasonable fees and expenses to be paid by the indemnifying party, if representation of such indemnified party by the counsel retained by the indemnifying party would be inappropriate due to actual or potential differing interests between such indemnified party and any other party represented by such counsel in such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party within a reasonable time of the commencement of any such action shall relieve such indemnifying party of any liability to the indemnified party under this Section 8.7, only to the extent that such failure materially prejudices the indemnifying party's ability to defend such action. The failure to give notice to the indemnifying party will not relieve it of any liability that it may have to any indemnified party otherwise than under this Section 8.7.

(d) To provide for just and equitable contribution to joint liability under the U.S. Securities Act in any case in which either: (i) any party otherwise entitled to indemnification hereunder makes a claim for indemnification pursuant to this Section 8.7 but it is judicially determined (by the entry of a final judgment or decree by a court of competent jurisdiction and the expiration of time to appeal or the denial of the last right of appeal) that such indemnification may not be enforced in such case, notwithstanding the fact that this Section 8.7 provides for indemnification in such case, or (ii) contribution under the U.S. Securities Act may be required on the part of any party hereto for which indemnification is provided under this Section 8.7, then, and in each such case, such parties will contribute to the aggregate losses, claims, damages, liabilities, or expenses to which they may be subject (after contribution from others) in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of each of the indemnifying party and the indemnified party in connection with the statements, omissions, or other actions that resulted in such loss, claim, damage, liability, or expense, as well as to reflect any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the indemnifying party and of the indemnified party shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or allegedly untrue statement of a material fact, or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact, relates to information supplied by the indemnifying party or by the indemnified party and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information, and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission; provided, however, that, in any such case (x) the Investor will not be required to contribute any amount in excess of the public offering price of all such Registrable Securities offered and sold by the Investor pursuant to such Registration Statement or Prospectus, and (y) no Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the U.S. Securities Act) will be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation; and provided further that in no event shall the Investor's liability pursuant to this Section 8.7(d), when combined with the amounts paid or payable by the Investor pursuant to Section 8.7(b), exceed the proceeds from the offering received by the Investor (net of any commission paid by the Investor), except in the case of willful misconduct or fraud by the Investor.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that the provisions on indemnification and contribution contained in the underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering are in conflict with the foregoing provisions, the provisions in the underwriting agreement shall control; provided, however, that any matter expressly provided for or addressed by the foregoing provisions that is not expressly provided for or addressed by the underwriting agreement shall be controlled by the foregoing provisions.

(f) Unless otherwise superseded by an underwriting agreement entered into in connection with the underwritten public offering, the obligations of the Corporation and the Investor under this Section 8.7 shall survive the completion of any offering of Registrable Securities in a registration under this Article 8, and otherwise shall survive the termination of this Agreement or any provision(s) of this Agreement.

8.8. Sale by Affiliates

If any Registrable Securities to be sold pursuant to any Demand Registration or Piggyback Registration are owned by an Affiliate of the Investor, all references to the Investor in this Article 8 and Schedule A shall be deemed, for the purpose of such Demand Registration or Piggyback Registration, to include both the Investor and/or the Affiliates.

8.9. Rule 144 and Regulation S

The Corporation shall use commercially reasonable efforts to file the reports required to be filed by it under the U.S. Securities Act and the U.S. Exchange Act and the rules and regulations adopted by the SEC thereunder (or, if the Corporation is not required to file such reports, it will, upon the request of the Investor, make publicly available such necessary information for so long as necessary to permit sales that would otherwise be permitted by this Agreement pursuant to Rule 144 or Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act, as such rules may be amended from time to time or any similar rule or regulation hereafter adopted by the SEC), and it will take such further action as the Investor may reasonably request, all to the extent required from time to time to enable the Investor to sell Registrable Securities without registration under the U.S. Securities Act in transactions that would otherwise be permitted by this Agreement and within the limitation of the exemptions provided by (i) Rule 144 or Regulation S under the U.S. Securities Act, as such rules may be amended from time to time, or (ii) any similar rule or regulation hereafter adopted by the SEC. Upon the reasonable request of the Investor, the Corporation will deliver to the Investor a written statement as to whether it has complied with such requirements and, if not, the specifics thereof.

(c) Either party may at any time change its address for service from time to time by giving notice to the other party in accordance with this Section 9.1.

9.2. Changes in Capital of the Corporation or Reorganization of the Corporation

At all times after the occurrence of any event which results in a change to the Common Shares, this Agreement will forthwith be amended and modified as necessary in order that it will apply with full force and effect, with appropriate changes, to all new securities into which the Common Shares are so changed and the parties will execute and deliver a supplemental agreement giving effect to and evidencing such necessary amendments and modifications.

Concurrent with the consummation of any reorganization, spin-off, split-off, corporate rearrangement or other similar event involving the Corporation or a Subsidiary (a "Reorganization"), the Corporation shall, or shall cause its Subsidiary to, execute and deliver an agreement identical to this Agreement (other than changes necessary to reflect the parties and type of securities) to the Investor with respect to all securities received by the Investor in connection with such Reorganization.

9.3. Non-Circumvention

The Corporation shall not take any actions or do any things for the purpose of circumventing the rights of the Investor under Article 3, including by way of the issuance of a debt or equity interest in a Subsidiary or Affiliate for the purpose of avoiding the application of Article 3. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investor acknowledges and agrees that an issuance of a debt or equity interest in a Subsidiary or Affiliate of the Corporation may be undertaken for a valid business purpose and will not, in itself, be a circumvention of the Investor's rights hereunder.

9.4. Termination

This Agreement shall terminate and neither party shall have any further rights or obligations hereunder upon the later to occur of (a) the Lock-Up Outside Date and (b) the Investor ceasing to meet the 2.5% Threshold; provided that the rights and obligations of the parties under (x) Section 6.3 and Article 7 of this Agreement shall survive so long as Investor is an Offtaker or owns Common Shares (y) Section 6.4 of this Agreement shall survive so long as Investor is an Offtaker and holds any Common Shares, and (z) Section 4.4, Section 6.1 (as it relates to clauses (d) and (e) thereto) and Article 8 shall survive for the periods set forth therein.

9.5. Amendments and Waivers

No amendment or waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall be binding on either party unless consented to in writing by such party. No waiver of any provision of this Agreement shall constitute a waiver of any other provision, nor shall any waiver of any provision of this Agreement constitute a continuing waiver unless otherwise expressly provided.

9.6. Assignment

Neither party may assign any of its rights or benefits under this Agreement, or delegate any of its duties or obligations, except with the prior written consent of the other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Investor may assign and transfer all of its rights, benefits, duties and obligations under this Agreement in their entirety, without the consent of the Corporation, to an Affiliate of the Investor, provided that (i) any such assignee shall, prior to any such transfer, agree to be bound by all of the covenants of the Investor contained herein and comply with the provisions of this Agreement, and shall deliver to the Corporation a duly executed undertaking to such effect in form and substance satisfactory to the Corporation, acting reasonably, and (ii) such assignment and transfer shall not release the Investor from liability for its obligations under this Agreement.

9.7. Successors and Assigns

This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and shall be binding on and enforceable by and against the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns. In the event any Person acquires the Corporation, whether by merger, consolidation, sale of all or substantially all of the Corporation's assets or similar business combination transaction and, as a result of such transaction, the Investor receives securities of the successor or acquiring Person (or one or more of its Affiliates), the successor or acquiring Person (or its applicable Affiliates) must, as a condition to the consummation of such transaction, agree in writing to assume the Corporation's rights and obligations under Section 6.1 (as it relates to clause (d) and (e) thereto) and Article 8 of this Agreement, mutatis mutandis.

9.8. No Third Party Beneficiaries

Except as provided in Section 2.4 and Section 2.5 (with respect to the Investor Nominee), this Agreement is solely for the benefit of the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or will confer on any other Person any legal or equitable right, benefit, or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

9.9. Expenses

9.12. Right to Injunctive Relief

The parties agree that any breach of the terms of this Agreement by either party would result in immediate and irreparable injury and damage to the other party which could not be adequately compensated by damages. The parties therefore also agree that in the event of any such breach or any anticipated or threatened breach by the defaulting party, the other party shall be entitled to equitable relief, including by way of temporary or permanent injunction or specific performance, without having to prove damages, in addition to any other remedies (including damages) to which such other party may be entitled at law or in equity.

9.13. Counterparts

This Agreement and all documents contemplated by or delivered under or in connection with this Agreement may be executed and delivered in any number of counterparts, with the same effect as if each party had signed and delivered the same document, and all counterparts shall be construed together to be an original and shall constitute one and the same agreement.

If a trailing policy is not available at a reasonable cost, LAC will maintain in effect without any reduction in scope or coverage for seven years from the Effective Date customary policies of directors' and officers' liability insurance providing protection no less favourable than the protection provided by the policies maintained by LAC which are in effect immediately before the Effective Date and providing protection in respect of claims arising from facts or events which occurred on or before the Effective Date;

(g) LAC will honour all rights to indemnification or exculpation now existing in favour of directors and officers of LAC who cease to be directors and/or officers of LAC to become directors and/or officers of Spinco in connection with the Arrangement, and acknowledges that such rights will survive the completion of the Plan of Arrangement and will continue in full force and effect for a period of not less than seven years from the Effective Date. For avoidance of doubt, nothing in this Section 4.2(g) shall be interpreted as reducing or shortening in any way the length or duration of indemnification obligations of LAC pursuant to any indemnification agreement or indemnification covenant pursuant to any written agreement that LAC and any of the foregoing directors and/or officer of LAC are parties to prior to the Effective Date or entered into thereafter; and

(h) following the name changes of Spinco and LAC, as applicable, pursuant to the Plan of Arrangement or as otherwise agreed by the Parties, LAC will assist Spinco and its Affiliates with all extra-provincial and other registrations necessary or ancillary to such name change.

4.3 Covenants of Spinco

Spinco covenants and agrees that it will (and will cause each of its Affiliates, as applicable, to):

(a) not perform any act or enter into any transaction that could interfere or could be inconsistent with the completion of the Arrangement or the grant of the Tax Rulings or their effective application to the Arrangement, except as provided in Section 4.3(b);

(b) perform the obligations required to be performed by Spinco under the Plan of Arrangement and do all such other acts and things as may be necessary or desirable and are within its power and control in order to carry out and give effect to the Arrangement and any transactions necessary for obtaining the Tax Rulings;

(c) obtain the consent of LAC prior to issuing any press releases or otherwise making public statements or communications with respect to this Agreement or the consummation of the Arrangement;

(d) not issue shares in Spinco's capital stock prior to the Effective Time and issue such initial Spinco shares only in accordance with and subject to the terms of the Plan of Arrangement;

(e) on or before the Effective Date, assist and cooperate in the preparation and filing with all applicable securities commissions or similar regulatory authorities in Canada and the United States all necessary prospectuses, registration statements and similar requirements, or applications to seek exemptions, if applicable, from the prospectus, registration and other requirements, under the applicable securities laws in Canada and the United States for the issue of post-Arrangement Common Shares and Spinco Common Shares, and any other filings or exemptions that are necessary or desirable in connection with the Arrangement;

(f) on or before the Effective Date, assist and cooperate in obtaining confirmation from the TSX and the NYSE of the continued listing of the post-Arrangement Common Shares (including the post-Arrangement Common Shares which, as a result of the Arrangement, are issuable upon the settlement of Lithium Argentina Equity Awards) and making applications to list the Spinco Common Shares issuable pursuant to the Arrangement and issuable under the Spinco Equity Incentive Plan, on the TSX and the NYSE;

(g) until the Effective Date, not issue any securities, acquire any assets or incur any liabilities or other obligations, except as contemplated pursuant to this Agreement or the Plan of Arrangement; and

(h) from the Effective Time until the last day on which any Arrangement Equity Awards are outstanding that are held by an "Arrangement Departing Participant" (as defined in the LAC Equity Incentive Plan), unless prohibited by Applicable Law, notify LAC as soon as practicable after any such Arrangement Departing Participant ceases to be a director or officer or full time employee of Spinco or one of its "Affiliates" (as defined in the LAC Equity Incentive Plan). Such notice shall specify the relevant termination provisions of the LAC Equity Incentive Plan to be applied to the Arrangement Equity Awards of the applicable Arrangement Departing Participant. For purposes of this clause, references to the "LAC Equity Incentive Plan" shall be deemed to be references to such plan as amended pursuant to the Plan of Arrangement.

4.4 Pre-Arrangement Reorganization

The Parties acknowledge and agree that, in contemplation of the Arrangement, upon the exclusive determination of LAC, they will and will cause each of their respective subsidiaries to implement any reorganizations of the business, operations or assets of LAC or its Affiliates and such other transactions as LAC may request, including for greater certainty in response to any requirements associated with obtaining the Tax Rulings, any change in Applicable Laws or in order to improve the financial, tax and/or operational efficiencies of the Argentinian Business or the North American Business following the Effective Time, and the Parties will take all commercially reasonable steps necessary to effect any such pre-Arrangement reorganization; provided, however, that any such pre-Arrangement reorganization will not reduce the value of the consideration payable to LAC Shareholders pursuant to this Agreement and the Plan of Arrangement. Spinco will not undertake any pre-Arrangement reorganization of itself or any of its subsidiaries without the prior written consent of LAC, in its exclusive determination.

The foregoing conditions are for the sole benefit of LAC and may be waived, in whole or in part, by LAC at any time. These conditions will not give rise to or create any duty on the part of LAC or the Board to waive or not to waive such conditions and will not in any way limit LAC's right to terminate this Agreement as set forth in Section 7.2 or alter the consequences of any such termination from those specified in Article 7. Any determination made by LAC prior to the Arrangement concerning the satisfaction and waiver of any or all of the conditions set forth in this Section 5.1 will be final and conclusive, and neither LAC nor any of its Affiliates or Representatives shall have any liability as a result of any such determination.

5.2 Conditions to Obligations of Each Party

The obligation of each Party to complete the transactions contemplated by this Agreement is further subject to the conditions (which may be waived, in whole or in part, by such Party without prejudice to its right to rely on any other condition in its favour) that (i) the covenants of each other Party to be performed on or before the Effective Date pursuant to the terms of this Agreement will have been duly performed in all material respects and (ii) except as set forth in this Agreement, the representations and warranties of each other Party will be true and correct in all material respects as at the Effective Date, with the same effect as if such representations and warranties had been made at, and as of, such time.

INDEMNITIES

6.1 Indemnity by LAC

Subject to Section 8.11, LAC will indemnify and hold harmless Spinco and its Representatives against any Loss suffered or incurred by any such Indemnified Person resulting from:

(a) a breach of a representation or warranty herein or pursuant hereto by LAC; and

(b) a breach of a covenant herein or pursuant hereto by LAC;

6.2 Indemnity by Spinco

Subject to Section 8.11, Spinco will indemnify and hold harmless LAC and its Representatives against any Loss suffered or incurred by any such Indemnified Person resulting from:

(a) a breach of a representation or warranty herein or pursuant hereto by Spinco; and

(b) a breach of a covenant herein or pursuant hereto by Spinco, to the extent such breach occurs at or after the Effective Time;

6.3 Notice of Third Party Claims

(a) If an Indemnified Person receives notice of the commencement or assertion of any Third Party Claim, the Indemnified Person must notify the Indemnifier as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter, but in any event, no later than 30 days after receipt of such notice of such Third Party Claim. Such notice to the Indemnifier must describe the Third Party Claim in reasonable detail and indicate, to the extent reasonably practicable, the estimated amount of the Loss that has been or may be sustained by the Indemnified Person. The Indemnifier will then have a period of 30 days (the "Notice Period") within which to satisfy such Third Party Claim or, failing that, to give notice to the Indemnified Person that it intends to dispute such Third Party Claim and participate in or assume the defence thereof (a "Dispute Notice"), which notice must be accompanied by reasonable particulars in writing of the basis of such dispute.

(b) If an Indemnified Person has reason to believe that a Person may be investigating the possibility of asserting a Third Party Claim, it must notify the Indemnifier as soon as reasonably practicable, but in any event, no later than 30 days after discovery of such possible Third Party Claim, and provide reasonable details of the circumstances thereof. The Indemnified Person and the Indemnifier will cooperate with each other with a view to satisfying the Person who may assert the Third Party Claim that there is no reasonable basis therefor.

6.4 Defence of Third Party Claims

If an Indemnifier elects to assume the defence of any Third Party Claim, the Indemnifier must at all times act reasonably and in good faith in pursuing such defence, keep the Indemnified Persons reasonably informed as to the progress and status of such defence of the Third Party Claim and provide copies to the Indemnified Persons of all material documents, records and other materials relating to such defence of the Third Party Claim. The Indemnifier must provide the Indemnified Persons with drafts of documents that the Indemnifier proposes to send or file in advance of the sending of or filing of the same and the Indemnified Persons will have the reasonable opportunity to provide comments thereon to the Indemnifier; provided, however, that it will not result in any undue delays. The Indemnifier agrees to pay all of its own expenses of participating in or assuming such defence. The Indemnified Persons will cooperate in good faith in the defence of each Third Party Claim, even if the defence has been assumed by the Indemnifier, and may participate in such defence assisted by counsel of its choice and at its own expense, except in those circumstances in which the Indemnified Person believes in good faith that there are material conflict issues between the Indemnifier and the Indemnified Persons or there are defences available to the Indemnified Persons that are not available to the Indemnifier, in either of which cases the Indemnified Persons may participate in such defence assisted by counsel of its choice at the expense of the Indemnifier to the extent such expenses are reasonable. Neither the Indemnifier nor the Indemnified Persons will enter into any compromise or settlement of any Third Party Claim without obtaining the prior written consent of the other of them, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed; provided, however, that: (1) if the Indemnifier wishes to settle a Third Party Claim in an amount acceptable to the third party claimant, but the Indemnified Persons do not wish so to settle, the Indemnifier will be required to indemnify the Indemnified Persons only up to the lesser of the amount for which the Indemnifier would have settled the Third Party Claim and the amount which the Indemnified Persons were or will be required to pay such third party in connection with such Third Party Claim and (2) if the Indemnified Persons have not received a Dispute Notice within the Notice Period confirming the intent of the Indemnifier in respect of a Third Party Claim or if the Indemnifier, having elected to assume the defence of any Third Party Claim, fails to take reasonable steps necessary to defend diligently such Third Party Claim within 30 days after receiving notice from the Indemnified Persons that the Indemnified Person bona fide believes on reasonable grounds that the Indemnifier has failed to take such steps (with such grounds to be specified in reasonable detail), the Indemnified Persons may, at their option, elect to settle or compromise the Third Party Claim or assume such defence, assisted by counsel of their choosing, and the Indemnifier will be liable for all reasonable costs and expenses paid or incurred in connection therewith and any Loss suffered or incurred by the Indemnified Persons with respect to such Third Party Claim.

6.5 Direct Claims

Any Direct Claim must be asserted by providing notice to the Indemnifier within a reasonable time after the Indemnified Person becomes aware of such Direct Claim, but in any event not later than 60 days after the Indemnified Person becomes aware of such Direct Claim. Such notice to the Indemnifier must describe the Direct Claim in reasonable detail and indicate, to the extent reasonably practicable, the estimated amount of the Loss that has been or may be sustained by the Indemnified Person. The Indemnifier will then have a period of 30 days within which to satisfy such Direct Claim or, failing that, to give notice to the Indemnified Person that it intends to dispute such Direct Claim, which notice must be accompanied by reasonable particulars in writing of the basis of such dispute.

6.6 Failure to Give Timely Notice

The failure to give timely notice as provided in this Article 6 will not affect the rights or obligations of any Party except and only to the extent that, as a result of such failure, the Party that was entitled to receive such notice suffered damage or was otherwise prejudiced.

6.7 Reduction in Subrogation

If at any time subsequent to the making of any Indemnity Payment, the amount of the indemnified loss is reduced pursuant to any claim, recovery, settlement or payment by or against any other Person (a "Recovery"), such that, taking the Recovery into account, the amount of the Indemnity Payment in respect of the Loss exceeds the amount of the Loss, the Indemnified Person must promptly repay to the Indemnifier the amount of the excess (the "Excess") (less any costs, expenses (including Taxes) or premiums incurred in connection therewith) together with interest (a) from the date of payment of the Indemnity Payment in respect of which the repayment is being made to but excluding the earlier of the date of repayment of the Excess and the date that is 60 days after the Excess arises, but only to the extent that the Recovery giving rise to the Excess included interest, at the rate applied to the amount of the Recovery and (b) from and including the date that is 60 days after the Excess arises to but excluding the date of repayment of the Excess, at the Prime Rate. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.7, no payment must be made hereunder to the extent the Indemnified Person is entitled to an Indemnity Payment hereunder that remains unpaid. Upon making a full Indemnity Payment, the Indemnifier will, to the extent of such Indemnity Payment, be subrogated to all rights of the Indemnified Person against any third party in respect of the Loss to which the Indemnity Payment relates. Until the Indemnified Person recovers full payment of its Loss, any and all claims of the Indemnifier against such third party on account of such Indemnity Payment will be postponed and subordinated in right of payment to the Indemnified Person's rights against such third party.

6.8 Tax Effect

If any Indemnity Payment received by an Indemnified Person would constitute income for tax purposes to such Indemnified Person, the Indemnifier will pay a Tax Gross-Up to the Indemnified Person at the same time and on the same terms, as to interest and otherwise, as the Indemnity Payment. The amount of any Loss for which indemnification is provided will be adjusted to take into account any tax benefit realizable by the Indemnified Person or any of its Affiliates by reason of the Loss for which indemnification is so provided or the circumstances giving rise to such Loss. For purposes of this Section 6.8, any tax benefit will be taken into account at such time as it is received by the Indemnified Person or its Affiliate. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.8, if an Indemnity Payment would otherwise be included in the Indemnified Person's income, the Indemnified Person covenants and agrees to make all such elections and take such actions as are available, acting reasonably, to minimize or eliminate Taxes with respect to the Indemnity Payment.

6.9 Payment and Interest

All Losses (other than Taxes) will bear interest at a rate per annum, calculated and payable monthly, equal to the Prime Rate per annum from and including the date the Indemnified Person disbursed funds or suffered or incurred a Loss to but excluding the day of payment by the Indemnifier to the Indemnified Person, with interest on overdue interest at the same rate. All Losses that are Taxes will bear interest at a rate per annum, calculated and payable monthly, equal to the Prime Rate from and including the date the Indemnified Person paid such Taxes to but excluding the day of payment by the Indemnifier to the Indemnified Person of the Indemnity Payment in respect of such Taxes, with interest on overdue interest at the same rate.

6.10 Judgment Currency

(a) If for the purpose of obtaining or enforcing judgment against the Indemnifier in any court in any jurisdiction, it becomes necessary to convert into any other currency (the "Judgment Currency") an amount due in Canadian dollars under this Agreement, the conversion will be made at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Business Day immediately preceding:

(i) the date of actual payment of the amount due, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of the Province of British Columbia or in the courts of any other jurisdiction that will give effect to such conversion being made on such date; or

(ii) the date on which the judgment is given, in the case of any proceeding in the courts of any other jurisdiction (the "Judgment Conversion Date").

(b) If, in the case of any proceeding in the court of any jurisdiction referred to in Section 6.10(a)(ii), there is a change in the rate of exchange prevailing between the Judgment Conversion Date and the date of actual payment of the amount due, the Indemnifier must pay such additional amount (if any, but in any event not a lesser amount) as may be necessary to ensure that the amount paid in the Judgment Currency, when converted at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of payment, will produce the amount of Canadian dollars, which could have been purchased with the amount of Judgment Currency stipulated in the judgment or judicial order at the rate of exchange prevailing on the Judgment Conversion Date.

6.11 Exclusive Remedy

Subject to Section 8.11 and except for remedies for injunctive relief or equitable relief, claims for fraud or intentional misrepresentation or as otherwise expressly provided in this Agreement, the indemnification rights set forth in this Article 6 will be the sole and exclusive remedy for any Direct Claim or any Third Party Claim arising out of this Agreement by LAC or Spinco.

6.12 Mitigation

Nothing in this Agreement will in any way restrict or limit the general obligation at law of an Indemnified Person to mitigate any Loss which it may suffer or incur by reason of the breach by an Indemnifier of any representation, warranty, covenant, obligation or agreement of the Indemnifier hereunder. If any such Loss can be reduced by any Recovery (including under or pursuant to any insurance coverage), the Indemnified Person will take all appropriate and reasonable steps to enforce such Recovery. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Indemnified Person will have any obligation to mitigate any Loss prior to or in connection with any application of remedies for injunctive or equitable relief.

6.13 Superseding Indemnity

Notwithstanding anything else contained herein, concurrently with the execution and delivery of the Tax Indemnity and Cooperation Agreement and the Transitional Services Agreement, as applicable, the indemnity provisions contained therein will supersede and replace this Article 6 if and to the extent such agreements govern the indemnification rights and obligations of either Party over matters that would otherwise be covered by those set out in this Article 6. Any Direct Claim or Third Party Claim advanced or right to advance a Direct Claim or Third Party Claim under this Article 6 prior to the Effective Date may, to the extent governed by the Tax Indemnity and Cooperation Agreement or the Transitional Services Agreement, as applicable, be continued or advanced under such agreements and the provisions of such agreements will apply mutatis mutandis with respect to any such claim or right.

ARTICLE 7
AMENDMENT AND TERMINATION

7.1 Amendment

(a) Subject to Applicable Law, this Agreement, the Tax Rulings and the Plan of Arrangement may, at any time and from time to time before and after the holding of the Meeting but not later than the Effective Date, be amended by written agreement of the Parties, without further notice to or authorization on the part of the LAC Shareholders or the holders of the Old LAC Equity Awards. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, any such amendment may: (i) change the time for performance of any of the obligations or acts of LAC and Spinco; (ii) waive any inaccuracies or modify any representation or warranty contained herein or in any document to be delivered pursuant hereto; (iii) waive compliance with or modify any of the covenants contained herein or waive or modify performance of any of the obligations of LAC or Spinco; (iv) waive or modify, in whole or in part, any conditions contained in this Agreement; or (v) make such alterations, modifications, amendments or supplements to this Agreement as LAC or Spinco may consider necessary or desirable in connection with any pre-Arrangement reorganization, the Tax Rulings, the Arrangement, the Interim Order or the Final Order.

(b) Notwithstanding the foregoing, LAC reserves the right in its sole and absolute discretion, without notice to or the approval of Spinco, the LAC Shareholders or the holders of the Old LAC Equity Awards, to at any time and from time to prior to the Effective Date, amend (i) the Tax Rulings and/or the Plan of Arrangement so long as such amendment(s) is not, in the opinion of LAC (acting reasonably), materially adverse to Spinco; and (ii) this Agreement to the extent LAC may reasonably consider such amendment necessary or desirable due to the Tax Rulings, any pre-Arrangement reorganization, the Interim Order or the Final Order.

(c) None of the Parties (or their respective Affiliates or Representatives) will have any liability to the LAC Shareholders, the other Party, as applicable, or any other Person for any amendment made pursuant to this Section 7.1.

(d) It is understood and agreed by the Parties that information in Section 2.3 paragraphs (l), (m) and (n) of the Plan of Arrangement with respect to the number of directors and the specific identities of the directors to be appointed to the board of directors of each of LAC and Spinco, as well as the corporate name for each entity, in each case upon the Plan of Arrangement becoming effective, may need to be revised. If necessary, the Parties hereby agree that they will revise the foregoing information (and make applicable ancillary amendments in the Plan of Arrangement) prior to making an application pursuant to Part 9, Division 5 of the BCBCA for the Interim Order or at such later time as determined by the Parties as may be permissible by law and the Interim Order, and will amend the Plan of Arrangement and/or their constating documents and/or take all other necessary steps to give effect to such revisions and amend other terms as may be necessary.

7.2 Termination

This Agreement may, at any time before or after the holding of the Meeting but prior to the filing of the Arrangement Filings giving effect to the Arrangement, be unilaterally terminated by LAC, in its sole and absolute discretion, at any time without notice to or the approval of Spinco or the LAC Shareholders and without liability to any Person except as provided in Section 8.1.

7.3 Effect of Termination

Upon the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 7.2 hereof, no Party will have any liability or further obligation to the other Party hereto or any other Person.

7.4 Survival

If this Agreement is not terminated pursuant to the provisions of Section 7.2, this Agreement (excluding the conditions referred to in Section 5.3) will continue in effect for a period of one year after the Effective Date except that:

(a) the provisions of Section 2.6 will continue in effect until such time as the obligations thereunder have been satisfied;

(b) the provisions of Sections 4.2(e) to 4.2(h), inclusive, and Section 4.3(h) will continue in effect for the respective periods referred to therein;

(c) the provisions of Sections 6.1(a) and 6.2(a) (and, in each case, the associated provisions of this Agreement) will continue in effect for a period of six years after the Effective Date; and

(d) the provisions of Article 8 (and the associated provisions of this Agreement) will continue indefinitely.

GENERAL

8.1 Expenses

The Parties agree that all Transaction Costs will be the responsibility of, and will be paid for by, LAC; provided, however, that Spinco will be solely responsible for, and will pay, the fees, costs and expenses in connection with: (i) arranging any credit facilities or other financing for Spinco or Thacker Pass Co as part of, or following, the Arrangement, and (ii) listing the Spinco Common Shares (and any associated rights) on the TSX and/or the NYSE and settling and delivering the Spinco Common Shares on completion of the Arrangement (including the fees for obtaining a CUSIP for such shares), including the associated fees and expenses of the transfer agent and rights agent of Spinco and the lenders under the aforementioned credit facilities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Spinco will be solely responsible for, and will pay, the fees and expenses of any advisors retained directly by Spinco or any of its Affiliates.

Date of receipt of any such notice will be deemed to be the date of actual delivery thereof or, if given by e-mail, on the day of transmittal thereof if given (with confirmation of delivery) prior to 5:00 p.m. (recipient's local time) and on the next Business Day if so given after such time.

8.3 Cooperation with Respect to Government Reports and Filings; Further Assurances

(a) Except as may otherwise be required by Applicable Law or the terms of any applicable agreement or arrangement with a third party who provided or has the ability to control the applicable information, LAC, on the one hand, and Spinco, on the other hand, will, and will cause its respective Affiliates, to use commercially reasonable efforts to provide the other Party (or its respective Affiliates or Representatives) with such cooperation as may be reasonably requested by such other Party in connection with the preparation and/or filing of any report or filing required by any Governmental Authority (or as required by applicable securities laws) contemplated by this Agreement or relating to or in connection with the operation by such Party of its Separated Business prior to the Effective Time or the relationship between such Parties on or prior to the Effective Date, including any financial statements or continuous disclosure filings. Except as provided in paragraph (b) below, the Party providing cooperation (and its Affiliates and Representatives) pursuant to this paragraph (a) will not be responsible for any Loss suffered by the Party requesting such cooperation as a result of such cooperation unless its results from the negligence or wilful misconduct of the providing Party.

(b) Each of the Parties will from time to time execute and deliver all such further documents and instruments and do all acts and things as any other Party may, either before, on or after the Effective Date, reasonably require to effectively carry out or better evidence or perfect the full intent and meaning of this Agreement.

8.4 Assignment

No Party may assign its rights or obligations under this Agreement or the Arrangement without the prior written consent of the other Party, provided that no such consent will be required for any Party to assign its rights and obligations under this Agreement and the Arrangement to a corporate successor to such Party or to a purchaser of all or substantially all of the assets of such Party, provided further that any such successor or purchaser of the rights or obligations a Party will have executed and delivered to the other Party an agreement in writing to be bound by and to perform, satisfy and assume all of the provisions of this Agreement and the Arrangement as if an original party hereto, in form and substance satisfactory to the other Party, acting reasonably.

8.5 Binding Effect

This Agreement will be binding upon and enure to the benefit of the Parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns and specific references to "successors" elsewhere in this Agreement will not be construed to be in derogation of the foregoing. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended or will be construed to confer upon any person other than the Parties and other Indemnified Persons and their successors and permitted assigns any right, remedy or claim under or by reason of this Agreement.

8.6 Waiver

Any waiver or release of any of the provisions of this Agreement, to be effective, must be in writing executed by the Party granting the same. No waiver of any of the provisions of this Agreement will constitute a waiver of any other provision (whether or not similar). A Party's failure or delay in exercising any right under this Agreement will not operate as a waiver of that right. A single or partial exercise of any right will not preclude a Party from any other or further exercise of that right or the exercise of any other right.

8.7 Entire Agreement

This Agreement together with the agreements and other documents herein or therein referred to constitute (or will constitute, once entered into) the entire agreement between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede all prior agreements, understandings, negotiations and discussions, whether oral or written, between the Parties with respect thereto. There are no representations, warranties, covenants, conditions or other agreements, express or implied, collateral, statutory or otherwise, between the Parties in connection with the subject matter of this Agreement, except as set forth in this Agreement.

8.8 Governing Law; Attornment

This Agreement will be governed by and construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the Province of British Columbia and the laws of Canada applicable therein and will be treated in all respects as a British Columbia contract. For the purpose of all legal proceedings this Agreement will be deemed to have been performed in the Province of British Columbia and the courts of the Province of British Columbia will have non-exclusive jurisdiction to entertain any action arising under this Agreement. Each Party hereby irrevocably attorns and submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the Province of British Columbia.

8.9 Confidentiality

(a) Each Party hereby acknowledges and agrees that the other Party and its Affiliates have a proprietary (or will have following the Effective Date in respect to Spinco) interest in the Restricted Information of such Party and the same is of value to such other Party and its Affiliates and that the use or disclosure of the Restricted Information of such other Party contrary to the terms of this Agreement would cause irreparable harm to such other Party and its Affiliates. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (d) of this Section 8.9, each of LAC, on the one hand, and Spinco, on the other hand, agree to hold, and to cause its respective Affiliates and its respective Representatives to hold, in strict confidence, with at least the same degree of care that applies to LAC's Confidential Information pursuant to policies in effect as of the Effective Date, all Restricted Information of the other Party, and will not use, and will cause its respective Affiliates and its respective Representatives not to use, any such Restricted Information other than for such purposes as are expressly contemplated hereunder or under the transactions or other agreements contemplated hereby. Each such Party further agrees to, and to cause their respective Affiliates and Representatives to, only use the Shared Information in the normal course of their respective businesses for their own internal purposes and not divulge or communicate to any third party any Shared Information (except that the Parties will be permitted to disclose such information, to the extent necessary in connection with their normal business activities, on a confidential basis, to their consultants, contractors, customers, partners, suppliers and Representatives who have a need to know the information); provided, however, that where an obligation is owed to a third party in respect of such Shared Information, the Parties covenant and agree to use such information only in a manner consistent with such obligation.

(b) The Parties acknowledge that they each have the non-exclusive right to use Industry Know-How and that each of them may use, divulge, communicate and in any other way exploit Industry Know-How in an unrestricted manner and without obligation or confidence. No Party will restrict or attempt to restrict the other Party with respect to their past, present or use or other dealing of Industry Know-How.

(c) For purposes of this Agreement, Confidential Information, Restricted Information and Shared Information will not include information that is now or subsequently becomes generally available to the public other than as a result of a breach of this Agreement or any other agreement relating to confidentiality between or among the Parties and/or their respective Affiliates or Representatives. In addition, information will not constitute Confidential Information of the second Party if such information was (i) lawfully acquired by the first Party and/or any of its Affiliates or Representatives from a third party not bound by a confidentiality obligation, or (ii) independently generated or developed by one or more Representatives of the first Party and/or any of its Affiliates without reference to Restricted Information of the second Party.

(d) In the event that a Party and/or its Affiliates or Representatives determines that it is required to disclose any Confidential Information (the "Disclosing Party") pursuant to Applicable Law or receives any demand under lawful process or from a Governmental Authority to disclose or provide Confidential Information, and such disclosure or provision of the Confidential Information would be in breach of this Section 8.9, the Disclosing Party will, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, promptly notify the other Party so that the other Party has a reasonable opportunity to seek a protective arrangement and/or waive compliance with the applicable provisions of this Section 8.9 prior to the Disclosing Party disclosing or providing such Confidential Information, and the Party that received such request will cooperate, at the expense of the requesting Party, in seeking any such protective arrangements requested by such requesting Party. Subject to the foregoing, the Disclosing Party may thereafter disclose or provide such Confidential Information to the extent required by such Applicable Law (as so advised by legal counsel) or by lawful process or by such Governmental Authority and will, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, promptly provide the other Party with a copy of the Confidential Information so disclosed together with a list of all Persons to whom such Confidential Information was disclosed. In any such event, the Disclosing Party will also use reasonable commercial efforts to ensure that all Confidential Information that is so disclosed will be afforded confidential treatment by the recipient. In addition, notwithstanding the foregoing or any other provision of this Agreement, a Party may disclose any Confidential Information (x) to its Representatives, provided they are under obligations in respect of limited use, limited disclosure and confidentiality in respect of such Confidential Information no less stringent than the obligations set forth herein, on a "need-to know" basis, (y) in connection with disputes or litigation between the Parties that relates to such Confidential Information, provided that each Party will endeavour to limit disclosure for that purposes, or (z) in connection with the exercise of any rights granted hereunder.

8.10 Waiver of Conflict

The Parties acknowledge that each of LAC and Spinco, and their respective Affiliates, are currently represented by legal counsel retained by LAC in connection with the preparation and finalization of this Agreement. Each of LAC and Spinco, on behalf of itself and its respective Affiliates, waives any conflict with respect to such common representation that may arise before, at or after the date of this Agreement.

8.11 Limitation on Liability

No Representative of a Party will have any personal liability whatsoever on behalf of such Party (or any of its Affiliates) to any other Party under this Agreement or the Arrangement or any other transactions entered into, or documents delivered, in connection with any of the foregoing. This Agreement is solely for the benefit of, and is not intended to confer any rights or remedies on any Person other than the Parties (and their respective successors and permitted assigns) except for the indemnification rights provided for in Sections 6.1 and 6.2 which are intended for the benefit of, in addition to the Parties hereto, the Representatives of Spinco and LAC, respectively, as and to the extent applicable in accordance with their terms, and will be enforceable, as applicable, by each of such Representatives and his or her heirs, executors, administrators and other legal representatives (collectively, the "Third Party Beneficiaries"). Spinco will hold the rights and benefits of Section 6.1 in trust for and on behalf of its applicable Third Party Beneficiaries and LAC will hold the rights and benefits of Section 6.2 in trust for and on behalf of its applicable Third Party Beneficiaries. Each of LAC and Spinco hereby accepts such trust and agrees to hold the benefit of and enforce performance of such covenants on behalf of its applicable Third Party Beneficiaries as directed by such Third Party Beneficiaries. Except as otherwise expressly provided in this Section 8.12, this Agreement will not provide any Person (including any LAC Shareholder) with any remedy, claim, liability, reimbursement, claim of action or other right in excess of those existing without reference to this Agreement. Subject to Section 7.1, the Parties reserve their right to vary or rescind the rights at any time and in any way whatsoever, if any, granted by or under this Agreement to any Person who is not a Party, without notice to or consent of that Person, including any Third Party Beneficiaries.

8.13 Severability

If any provision of this Agreement is determined to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable by an arbitrator or any court of competent jurisdiction, that provision will be severed from this Agreement and the remaining provisions will remain in full force and effect. Upon such determination that any term or other provision is illegal, invalid or incapable of being enforced, the Parties will negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the Parties as closely as possible in an acceptable manner to the end that the transactions contemplated hereby and in the Plan of Arrangement are fulfilled to the fullest extent possible.

formula) that is not higher than the net fair market value of the consideration for which such Preference Share is issued.

29.6 Cancellation

Any Preference Shares that are redeemed by the Company pursuant to any of the provisions of these Articles will for all purposes be considered to have been redeemed on, and will be cancelled concurrently with, the payment by the Company to or to the benefit of the holder thereof of the Redemption Amount.

29.7 Participation upon Liquidation, Dissolution or Winding Up

In the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Company or other distribution of property or assets of the Company among its shareholders for the purpose of winding up its affairs, each holder of a Preference Share will be entitled in respect of each such share to receive from the property and assets of the Company an amount equal to the Redemption Amount in respect of that share before any amount will be paid or any property or asset of the Company distributed to the holders of the Common Shares and the Class A Common Shares, following which payment the holders of the Preference Shares will not be entitled to share any further in the distribution of the property or assets of the Company.

29.8 Voting Rights

The holders of the Preference Shares will not be entitled to receive notice of or to attend or vote at any meetings of the shareholders of the Company and will not have any voting rights, except as required by applicable law.

29.9 No Dilution

For so long as any Preference Shares are outstanding, the Company will not (i) declare or pay any dividend on the Class A Common Shares, (ii) redeem or purchase for cancellation or otherwise any of the Class A Common Shares, (iii) declare or pay any dividend on the Common Shares, or (iv) redeem or purchase for cancellation or otherwise any of the Common shares."

PART 3
STOCK OPTIONS

3.1 Participation

The Company may from time-to-time grant Options to Participants pursuant to this Plan.

3.2 Price

The exercise price per Share of any Option shall be not less than one hundred per cent (100%) of the Fair Market Value of the Share on the date of grant.

3.3 Grant of Options

The Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, may at any time authorize the granting of Options to such Participants as it may select for the number of Shares that it shall designate, subject to the provisions of this Plan. The Board may also, by way of Board resolution, delegate to the CEO the authority to grant any of a designated number of Options (such number to be specified by the Board in the aforementioned resolution) to Eligible Employees, other than Eligible Employees who are officers or directors of the Company (such Options, the "Delegated Options"). The date of grant of an Option shall be (i) the date such grant was approved by the Committee for recommendation to the Board, provided the Board approves such grant; or (ii) for a grant of an Option not approved by the Committee for recommendation to the Board, the date such grant was approved by the Board; or (iii) in respect of Delegated Options, the date such grant is made by the CEO. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Board may authorize the grant of Options at any time with such grant to be effective at a later date and the corresponding determination of the exercise price to be done at such date to accommodate any Blackout Period or such other circumstances where such delayed grant is deemed appropriate, and the date of grant of such Options shall then be the effective date of the grant.

Each Option granted to a Participant shall be evidenced by a stock option grant letter or agreement with terms and conditions consistent with this Plan and as approved by the Board on the recommendation of the Committee, or, in respect of Delegated Options, by the CEO (and in all cases which terms and conditions need not be the same in each case and may be changed from time to time, subject to Section 7.8 of this Plan, and the approval of any material changes by the Toronto Stock Exchange or such other exchange or exchanges on which the Shares are then traded).

3.4 Terms of Options

The Option Period shall be five (5) years from the date such Option is granted, or such greater or lesser duration as the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, or in the case of Delegated Options, the CEO, may determine at the date of grant, and may thereafter be reduced with respect to any such Option as provided in Section 3.6 hereof covering termination of employment or death of the Optionee; provided, however, that at any time the expiry date of the Option Period in respect of any outstanding Option under this Plan should be determined to occur either during a Blackout Period or within ten (10) business days following the expiry of the Blackout Period, the expiry date of such Option Period shall be deemed to be the date that is the tenth (10^{th}) business day following the expiry of the Blackout Period.

Unless otherwise determined from time to time by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, or, in respect of Delegated Options, by the CEO, Options shall vest and may be exercised (in each case to the nearest full Share) during the Option Period as follows:

(a) at any time during the first six (6) months of the Option Period, the Optionee may purchase up to 25% of the total number of Shares reserved for issuance pursuant to his or her Option; and

(b) at any time during each additional six (6) month period of the Option Period the Optionee may purchase an additional 25% of the total number of Shares reserved for issuance pursuant to his or her Option plus any Shares not purchased in accordance with the preceding subsection (a) and this subsection (b) until, after the 18^{th} month of the Option Period, 100% of the Option will be exercisable.

Except as set forth in Section 3.6, no Option may be exercised unless the Optionee is at the time of such exercise:

(a) in the case of an Eligible Employee, in the employ (or retained as a Service Provider) of the Company or a Designated Affiliate and shall have been continuously so employed or retained since the grant of the Option; or

(b) in the case of an Eligible Director, a director of the Company or a Designated Affiliate and shall have been such a director continuously since the grant of the Option.

The exercise of any Option will be contingent upon the Optionee having entered into an Option agreement with the Company on such terms and conditions as have been approved by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, or, in respect of the Delegated Options, by the CEO, and which in any case incorporates by reference the terms of this Plan. The exercise of any Option will, subject to Section 3.5, also be contingent upon receipt by the Company of cash payment of the full purchase price of the Shares being purchased.

3.5 Cashless Surrender Right

Participants have the right (the "Cashless Surrender Right"), in lieu of the right to exercise an Option, to surrender such Option in whole or in part by notice in writing delivered by the Participant to the Company electing to exercise the Cashless Surrender Right, and, in lieu of receiving the full number of Shares (the "Option Shares") to which such surrendered Option (or portion thereof) relates, to receive the number of Shares, disregarding fractions, which is equal to the quotient obtained by:

(a) subtracting the applicable Option exercise price per Share from the Fair Market Value per Share on the business day immediately prior to the exercise of the Cashless Surrender Right and multiplying the remainder by the number of Option Shares; and

(b) dividing the product obtained under subsection 3.5(a) by the Fair Market Value per Share on the business day immediately prior to the exercise of the Cashless Surrender Right.

If a Participant exercises a Cashless Surrender Right in connection with an Option, it is exercisable only to the extent and on the same conditions that the related Option is exercisable under this Plan.

3.6 Effect of Termination of Employment or Death

If an Optionee:

(a) dies while employed by a Service Provider to, or while a director of, the Company or a Designated Affiliate, any Option held by him or her at the date of death shall become exercisable in whole or in part, but only by the person or persons to whom the Optionee's rights under the Option shall pass by the Optionee's will or applicable laws of descent and distribution. Unless otherwise determined by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, all such Options shall be exercisable only to the extent that the Optionee was entitled to exercise the Option at the date of his or her death and only for 12 months after the date of death or prior to the expiration of the Option Period in respect thereof, whichever is sooner; and

(b) ceases to be employed by a Service Provider to, or act as a director of, the Company or a Designated Affiliate for cause, no Option held by such Optionee will, unless otherwise determined by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, be exercisable following the date on which such Optionee ceases to be so engaged. If an Optionee ceases to be employed by, a Service Provider to, or act as a director of, the Company or a Designated Affiliate for any reason other than cause then, unless otherwise determined by the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, any Option held by such Optionee at the effective date thereof shall become exercisable for a period of up to 12 months thereafter or prior to the expiration of the Option Period in respect thereof, whichever is sooner.

3.7 Effect of Change of Control

If a Triggering Event occurs within the 12-month period immediately following a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(A), (B), (D) or (E), all outstanding Options shall vest immediately and become exercisable on the date of such Triggering Event.

In the event of a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(C), all Options outstanding shall immediately vest and become exercisable on the date of such Change of Control.

The provisions of this Section 3.7 shall be subject to the terms of any employment agreement between the Participant and the Company.

3.8 Effect of Amalgamation or Merger

Subject to Section 3.7, if the Company amalgamates or otherwise completes a plan of arrangement or merges with or into another corporation, any Shares receivable on the exercise of an Option shall be converted into the securities, property or cash which the Participant would have received upon such amalgamation, arrangement or merger if the Participant had exercised his or her Option immediately prior to the record date applicable to such amalgamation, arrangement or merger, and the option price shall be adjusted appropriately by the Board and such adjustment shall be binding for all purposes of this Plan.

PART 4
RESTRICTED SHARE RIGHTS AND PERFORMANCE SHARE UNITS

4.1 Participants

The Board has the right to grant, in its sole and absolute discretion, to any Participant, rights to receive any number of fully paid and non-assessable Shares ("Restricted Share Rights" or "Restricted Share Units") as a discretionary payment in consideration of past services to the Company or as an incentive for future services, subject to this Plan and with such additional provisions and restrictions as the Board may determine. Restricted Share Rights may be granted subject to performance conditions and/or performance multipliers, in which case such Restricted Share Rights may be designated as "Performance Share Units".

4.2 Restricted Share Right Grant Letter

Each grant of a Restricted Share Right under this Plan shall be evidenced by a grant letter or agreement (a "Restricted Share Right Grant Letter") issued to the Participant by the Company. Such Restricted Share Right Grant Letter shall be subject to all applicable terms and conditions of this Plan and may be subject to any other terms and conditions which are not inconsistent with this Plan and which the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, deems appropriate for inclusion in a Restricted Share Right Grant Letter. The provisions of the various Restricted Share Right Grant Letters issued under this Plan need not be identical.

4.3 Restricted Period

Concurrent with the determination to grant Restricted Share Rights to a Participant, the Board, on the recommendation of the Committee, shall determine the Restricted Period and vesting requirements applicable to such Restricted Share Rights. Vesting of a Restricted Share Right shall be determined at the sole discretion of the Board at the time of grant and shall be specified in the Restricted Share Right Grant Letter. Vesting requirements may be based upon the continued employment or other service of a Participant, and/or to performance conditions to be achieved by the Company or a class of Participants or by a particular Participant on an individual basis, within a Restricted Period, for such Restricted Share Rights to entitle the holder thereof to receive the underlying Shares (and the number of underlying Shares that may be received may be subject to performance multipliers). Upon expiry of the applicable Restricted Period (or on the Deferred Payment Date, as applicable), a Restricted Share Right shall be automatically settled, and without the payment of additional consideration or any other further action on the part of the holder of the Restricted Share Right, the underlying Shares shall be issued to the holder of such Restricted Share Rights, which Restricted Share Rights shall then be cancelled.

4.4 Deferred Payment Date

Participants who are residents of Canada for the purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada), or who are residents of Argentina, and not, in either case, a US Taxpayer, may elect to defer to receive all or any part of the Shares underlying Restricted Share Rights until one or more Deferred Payment Dates. Any other Participants may not elect a Deferred Payment Date.

4.5 Prior Notice of Deferred Payment Date

Participants who elect to set a Deferred Payment Date must, in respect of each such Deferred Payment Date, give the Company written notice of the Deferred Payment Date(s) not later than thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the applicable Restricted Period. For certainty, Participants shall not be permitted to give any such notice after the day which is thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period and a notice once given may not be changed or revoked. For the avoidance of doubt, the foregoing shall not prevent a Participant from electing an additional Deferred Payment Date, provided, however that notice of such election is given by the Participant to the Company not later than thirty (30) days prior to the expiration of the subject Restricted Period.

4.6 Retirement or Termination during Restricted Period

Subject to the terms of any employment agreement or Award agreement between the Company and the Participant, in the event and to the extent of the Retirement or Termination and/or, as applicable, the Director Retirement or Director Termination of a Participant from all such roles with the Company during the Restricted Period, any Restricted Share Rights held by the Participant shall immediately terminate and be of no further force or effect; provided, however, that the Board shall have the absolute discretion to modify the Restricted Share Rights, including to provide that the Restricted Period shall terminate immediately prior to the date of such occurrence or allow the Restricted Share Rights to continue in accordance with their original Restricted Periods.

4.7 Retirement or Termination after Restricted Period

In the event and to the extent of the Retirement or Termination and/or, as applicable, the Director Retirement or Director Termination of the Participant from all such roles with the Company following the Restricted Period and prior to a Deferred Payment Date, the Participant shall be entitled to receive, and the Company shall issue forthwith, Shares in satisfaction of the Restricted Share Rights then held by the Participant.

4.8 Death or Disability of Participant

In the event of the death or total disability of a Participant, any Shares represented by Restricted Share Rights held by the Participant shall be immediately issued by the Company to the Participant or legal representative of the Participant.

4.9 Payment of Dividends

Subject to the absolute discretion of the Board, in the event that a dividend (other than a stock dividend) is declared and paid by the Company on the Shares, a Participant may be credited with additional Restricted Share Rights. The number of such additional Restricted Share Rights, if any, will be calculated by dividing (a) the total amount of the dividends that would have been paid to the Participant if the Restricted Share Rights (including Restricted Share Rights in which the Restricted Period has expired but the Shares have not been issued due to a Deferred Payment Date) in the Participant's account on the dividend record date had been outstanding Shares (and the Participant held no other Shares) by (b) the Fair Market Value of the Shares on the date on which such dividends were paid. If the foregoing results in a fractional Restricted Share Right, the fraction shall be disregarded. Any additional Restricted Share Rights awarded pursuant to this Section will be subject to the same terms, including the time of settlement, as the Restricted Share Rights to which they relate.

4.10 Change of Control

If a Triggering Event occurs within the 12-month period immediately following a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(A), (B), (D) or (E), all outstanding Restricted Share Right Rights shall vest immediately and be settled by the issuance of Shares notwithstanding the Restricted Period and any Deferred Payment Date.

In the event of a Change of Control pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.1(m)(C), all Restricted Shares Rights outstanding shall immediately vest and be settled by the issuance of Shares notwithstanding the Restricted Period and any Deferred Payment Date.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Plan, in the event of a Change of Control, all Arrangement Restricted Share Rights outstanding held by Arrangement Departing Participants shall vest immediately and be settled by the issuance of Shares notwithstanding the Restricted Period and any Deferred Payment Date.

The provisions of this Section 4.10 shall be subject to the terms of any employment agreement between the Participant and the Company.

4.11 Settlement Basis for Performance Share Units

In respect of Performance Share Units that are accelerated as a result of a Change of Control or the total disability or death of a Participant, unless the Board determines otherwise and subject to any employment agreement or Award agreement between the Company and the Participant, (i) in respect of any performance measurement periods that are completed on or prior to the Change of Control, total disability or death of a Participant, the proportion of Performance Share Units equivalent to the performance measurement periods completed shall be settled by applying a performance multiplier calculated based on the actual performance in respect to such completed periods, and (ii) in respect of any performance measurement periods that are not completed on or prior to the Change of Control, total disability or death of a Participant, the equivalent proportion of Performance Share Units in respect to such periods shall be settled by applying a performance multiplier of one Share for each Performance Share Unit.

DEFERRED SHARE UNITS

5.1 Deferred Share Unit Grants

The Board may from time to time determine to grant Deferred Share Units to one or more Eligible Directors in a lump sum amount or on regular intervals, based on such formulas or criteria as the Board may from time to time determine. Deferred Share Units will be credited to the Eligible Director's account when designated by the Board.

5.2 Deferred Share Unit Grant Letter
