Boardwalk Completes Acquisition of Spire Marketing; Announces New Name, Boardwalk Continuum Marketing

2026-04-30

HOUSTON, April 30, 2026 /PRNewswire/ -- Boardwalk Pipelines, LP, today announced the completion of its acquisition of Spire Marketing Inc., a gas marketing business formerly owned by Spire Inc. (NYSE: SR). The business will operate under the name Boardwalk Continuum Marketing, LLC, reflecting its expanded role within Boardwalk's integrated natural gas platform.

The acquisition is expected to expand Boardwalk's overall footprint and broaden its reach into growing end-use markets, including LNG exports and gas-fired power generation. Combined with Boardwalk's pipeline and storage assets, this new platform is designed to create new opportunities for bundled supply, transportation and storage solutions to advance long-term growth.

The Boardwalk Continuum name symbolizes the continuous flow that characterizes an integrated natural gas platform: supply, demand, transportation, storage and marketing. It also reflects the ongoing partnership between the team and customers that Spire Marketing has built over time, whose work continues within Boardwalk with expanded reach across the value chain.

"Our future will be defined not just by the assets we own, but by how effectively we deliver a broad array of solutions to customers across the value chain," said Scott Hallam, president and chief executive officer of Boardwalk Pipelines. "Boardwalk Continuum Marketing strengthens our ability to offer differentiated, market-responsive services that help customers navigate an increasingly complex energy landscape."

Pat Strange, who served as president of Spire Marketing, will continue to lead the organization as president of Boardwalk Continuum Marketing.

"We are looking forward to beginning this next chapter as Boardwalk Continuum Marketing," said Strange.

"Boardwalk's vision recognizes the critical role of marketing and trading capabilities in today's energy market. Our customers can expect continuity of service, a seamless transition, and the added benefits of being part of a highly integrated natural gas platform."

Boardwalk Continuum Marketing is a North American Natural Gas marketer that focuses on the purchase and delivery of natural gas to its customers, including producers, midstream operators, pipelines, storage operators, load-serving entities, large industrials and selected retail accounts. As part of Boardwalk's natural gas platform and coupled with its existing network of storage and transportation capacity, Boardwalk Continuum has the necessary scale, market presence, and commercial capabilities to support customers across the natural gas value chain.
