Actuant Announces Third Quarter Earnings Release; Revises Outlook

MILWAUKEE--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Actuant Corporation (NYSE:ATU) will release third quarter 2017 earnings at 7:00 am CT (8:00 am ET) on Wednesday, June 21, 2017. Later that day, Actuant will host a conference call and webcast at 10:00 am CT (11:00 am ET) to discuss these results.

The Company stated that total revenue and the core sales rate of change for the third fiscal quarter are anticipated to be in line with its previously provided guidance of $290-300 million and -2 to +1%, respectively. The Company experienced continued favorable market demand in the Industrial and Engineered Solutions segments with sales and margins at or above expectations. However, the Energy segment's customer maintenance activity and spending levels, as well as upstream offshore demand weakened significantly, resulting in operating margins well below expectations. The Company now expects third quarter adjusted EPS to be in the range of $0.30-0.33, down from the previously provided adjusted EPS guidance range of $0.38-0.43. The Company is currently evaluating its fourth quarter and full year guidance in light of this, and updated expectations and commentary will be provided in its third quarter earnings release and call.

Randy Baker, President and CEO stated, "While there is no doubt that delivering results below our earnings guidance is a setback in our timetable for establishing renewed credibility at Actuant, there is equally no doubt that we must focus on investing in the business from both a commercial and operational standpoint. These actions, combined with active portfolio management, will position the Company for long-term success regardless of market conditions."
